This steel & coal-mining center, also known for pottery & glass, claims to be pioneer city of Ohio valley because a little settlement, La Belle, probably survived burning of Ft. Steuben in 1790. The fort, named for Prussian officer who aided Washington, was erected in 1786, thus antedating Marietta (see below). PTS. OF INT.: High & Adams Sts., Site of Ft. Marietta is an enchanting city at meeting of Muskingum & Ohio Rs. Shady streets climb the hills & graceful bridges conn. E. & W. Marietta & carry US21 over the Ohio to Parkersburg, W. Va. Modern Marietta, seat of Marietta College, is the prosperous, but still peaceful, shipping pt. & trade center for large farm area; with various industries based on oil, sandstone & other natural resources. The 1st organized town in N.W. Terr. was started Ap. 7, 1788, when Gen Rufus Putnam & 48 pioneers landed the "Union Galley" below Ft. Harmar & were towed up the Muskingum. During N.W. Terr. Celebration, 150 yrs. later, the long journey from Ipswich, Mass., was re-enacted by 48 men, who traveled with ox-teams & Conestoga wagons to Yougiogheny R. in Pa.; then in flatboats down the Ohio to Marietta, arriving Ap. 7, 1938. The colony, named after Marie Antoinette, was successful from the start. From this port were launched hundreds of sailing vessels & steamboats, incl. the "John Farnum," which carried corn to starving Ireland in 1847. In 1940's the shipyards turned out landing craft. From the days of the Coonskin Lib. (in St. Hist. Mus., Columbus), paid for with pelts in 1804, Marietta has been a center of cultural life.

Sec. 2: MARIETTA to CHESAPEAKE. 110. St.7

St.7 travels a narrowing valley on Ohio side. 13. BELPRE (see US50). Along curving shores on both sides are favorite stopping-places for shanty-boaters. For hundreds of miles, these ark-like boats drift on the slow-flowing river, getting fuel & food from the banks.

Near Belpre (S) is Capt. Jonathan Stone H. (1799). 14.5. ROCKLAND CH. J. with dirt Rd. leading to Rockland Cemetery from which may be seen Blennerhassett I. Harman Blennerhassett, Irish aristocrat, eloped from Isle of Man with his niece, Margaret Agnew &, to escape social ostracism, came to New York &, in 1797, to Marietta. Ohio society was delighted by the beautiful & talented Margaret & her scholarly husband, who bought the willow-fringed isle & created a "terrestrial paradise" around his gleaming white mansion. In 1805, Aaron Burr visited here & interested the imaginative Irishman in his Western empire. Blennerhassett mortgaged his home & resources & began to build a fleet of boats on Muskingum R. When Pres. Jefferson proclaimed Burr's enterprise unlawful, Blennerhassett escaped to a rendezvous with Burr at mouth of Cumberland R. & was joined later by his family. He was caught & taken to Richmond for trial but, after Burr's acquittal, released. Meanwhile, militiamen had ravaged the house & grounds. Floods swept over it the next spring &, in 1811, the ruins burned to the ground. Blennerhassett died on Isle of Guernsey in 1831. Margaret came to America to plead with Congress for an indemnity. She died in poverty, at 75 Greenwich St., N.Y., in 1842. 21. LITTLE HOCKING. Just (S) is J. with St.124.

McIntyre & birthpl. of his wife. Late in 1788, Joel Barlow & Wm. Playfair, agents of Scioto Land Co., went to Paris brandishing a map & description of a perfect land. After fall of Bastille, it was easy to sell 150,000 as. in a country where, they said, candles & custard grew on trees, 80-lb. catfish swam the rivers; cotton, tobacco & wheat produced abundant crops, while hogs fattened on wilderness pastures. A group of 500 Parisian hairdressers, craftsmen, jewellers, gourmets, gilders, watch & carriage-makers arrived at Alexandria, Va., in May, 1790. Their tract proved to be on Ohio Land Co.'s lands, but Scioto Land Co. brought them down the Ohio. A town of 80 cabins, with slight protection against Inds., had been prepared by Rufus Putnam, of Ohio Land Co. Here the French were abandoned to their fate, & Scioto Co. went into bankruptcy. The bitter winters annihilated large numbers through hunger, massacre, exposure & cholera. In 1795, the Gov. set aside the Fr. Grant in Scioto Cty. for a few survivors. Gallipolis became important river town after settlement by Virginians & New Englanders.

Sandusky, at mouth of Sandusky Bay, is one of loveliest of Ohio cities. Bay is almost completely enclosed bet. mainland & Marblehead Peninsula, conn. by Sandusky Bay Bridge. On L. Erie's most spacious harbor, the port ranks among 10 largest on Gt. Ls. & is 2nd largest shipper of coal. Mechanical loaders are busy night & day pouring millions of tons into holds of lake steamers. Excursion boats puff out from the piers to Cedar Pt. & island resorts. E. of piers are markets & wineries that make Sandusky an outstanding fresh-water fish. & wine center. Ivy-colored, blue-limestone (local) churches & houses add to city's charm. In 17th cent., Iroquoian tribes were in "San-doo-tee" (cool water) area, in which they had annihilated the Erie & Neutral nations. White settlement began after Commodore Perry's victory at Put-in-Bay (see below), & Irish & German settlers followed the founding New Englanders. In cholera epidemic, 1849, nearly 400 died. Toledo spreads for 15 miles along both sides of Maumee R., which flows (NE) into Maumee Bay, inlet of L. Erie. City is 2nd only to Duluth-Superior as Great Ls.' port & ranks 3rd in tonnage among U.S. ports; world leader in shipping of soft coal, also ranking RR. center. W. & E. Toledo are conn. by high-level Anthony Wayne Bridge & 6 other bridges. On riverfront is Site of Ft. Industry, built by Anthony Wayne (1794), prophetically named beginning for a city of more than 650 different enterprises, producer or distributor of coal, iron & steel, glass, chemicals, petroleum, automobiles, machine tools, furnaces & processed foods. Whole Maumee valley was fought over by Brit. & Amer. forces (Anthony Wayne Trl.). Toledo was inc. in 1837, at conclusion of bloodless Toledo War (see Mich.). From a settlement in a swamp, the port grew rapidly after Wabash & Erie Canal to Cincinnati. Gas & petroleum fields (S) brought oil-refining, then glass. With development of Libbey-Owens-Ford Co., Toledo became the "Glass Capital." Pop. is more than 90% native born, but its inheritance is unusually cosmopolitan. Large German, Polish, Can., Hungarian, Eng. & Irish groups have characteristic churches, restaurants & festivals. Nearly 21,000 Negroes live in neighborhood of Brand Whitlock Homes & other areas. Mun. gov. is founded on traditions of "Golden Rule" Jones & 4-term Brand Whitlock. Oldest newspaper is "Toledo Blade."

Canton (sett.1806), home of Pres. McKinley, is one of Ohio's 8 largest cities & center of many industries, with world's largest plants making roller bearings (Timken), paving bricks, rubber gloves & electric cleaners. Steel in various forms is a leading product. Town itself is informal with air of neatness due in part to Swiss & German watchmakers who came in late 19th cent. In 1898, Henry H. Timken, carriage manufacturer, developed his patent for roller bearings. In Canton, in 1918, Eugene V. Debs made speech that led to his arrest. PTS. Akron, Ohio's 5th city & rubber capital of the world, has nervous tempo of all industrial centers that have grown big within very few years. Added to this is an enthusiasm—pervasive as the smell of rubber—for technological research. The Univ. takes vital part in city's material development. The main street follows Ohio Canal to Little Cuyahoga R., which winds across town, & (N) the Great Cuyahoga rushes through a rocky gorge, arched by High Level Bridge to Cuyahoga Falls. Akron, named for its "high place" on watershed bet. Gt. Ls. & Miss. R., was laid out as canal town in 1825 by Gen. Simon Perkins, & in 1850's John Brown, the "angry man of God," was Perkins' partner in the wool business. A cereal mill (now Quaker Oats) was built in 1865. In 1870, the rubber industry began in Dr. Benj. Franklin Goodrich's plant. As automobiles rolled out of Detroit on their rubber tires, Akron began to boom & the "Rubber Rush" brought thousands of workers. During World War I, facils. were developed for building big dirigibles & balloons. In 1935-36, sit-down strikes involved the 3 giant rubber companies. During 1940's many millions were spent on modern research labs., & engineering college of Univ. took outstanding position. To offset factory routine, Akron has good pub. school & pk. system, Pub. Lib., Art Institute, Symphony Orchestra, the Rubber Bowl & Derby Downs.

US40 follows Zane's Trace & Nat. Rd., over which an endless cavalcade streamed westward—white-hooded wagons carrying thousands of emigrants. Stone bridges over which they crossed broad streams are still standing, as are many taverns that sprang up in wake of the roadbuilders. The restless, cheerful spirit of the pioneers sings in the names of coaches & taverns. Pocahontas, Gentle Annie, Henry Clay & Rough & Ready were gaily colored Concord coaches, & favorite taverns were the Buck, Golden Ram, Orange Tree, the Hope & Anchor.

This hist. city at meeting of Muskingum & Licking Rs. is noted for its faience & ceramic tile dishes, bowls, vases & art objects. Y Bridge, at foot of Main St., uniting 3 secs. of city, is 3rd on this site since 1814 & 1 of 3 in the world. Pottery-making began in early 1800's & early Zanesville goblets & pitchers are collectors' items. In 1769, Ebenezer Zane, with his 2 brothers, founded Wheeling. Then, during Rev. War, Col. Zane was practically in charge of defense of Ft. Henry (see). In 1797-98, with permission of Congress, Zane hacked the Trace from his Wheeling empire to Maysville, Ky., a narrow road walled by firs. & ribbed by roots of ancient trees, dusty in summer & muddy in spring. By 1830, more than 70 taverns had opened along route. In payment, Zane received tracts at 3 important river crossings (Zanesville, Lancaster & Chillicothe). The Muskingum site was given to Jonathan Zane & John McIntire, who created Zanesville, even had it designated St. capital (1810-12).

Springfield, in Mad R. valley, Ohio's 9th city, seat of Wittenberg College, is industrial & trade center for rich farm territory; home of Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. It is known also for its many roses. Narrow streets & massive 19th cent. brick & stone bldgs. give older part a somber, crowded appearance, but downtown bldgs. & fine homes on the slopes indicate a prosperous modern town. In (SW) sec. are the homes, mostly nondescript, of large Negro pop. Chief manufactures are diesel & gas engines, agric. & other heavy machinery, motor trucks & auto parts; extensive nurseries. In 1798, the Kentuckian, Jas. Demint, built cabin on Buck Cr. In 1830's, Springfield was terminus of Nat. Pike, the jumping-off place into the wilderness. Crowell-Collier is development of "Farm & Fireside," house organ of P. P. Mast's Cultivator Plant in 1870's. At that time, Springfield was also concerned with Wm. Chillicothe, 1st capital of Northwest & of Ohio, was perhaps also capital city of prehist. people who built mounds on which it stands. Sett. 1796, it is now important farm market & industrial center, situated bet. Scioto R. & Paint Cr., with Mt. Logan standing sentinel to the N. The aristocratic tradition lingers, & along the main streets are many elegant Gr. Rev. mansions. In 1782, Nath. Massie surveyed site, but settlement was not begun until 1796. Chillicothe became capital of N.W. Terr. in 1800 & st. capital in 1803 (1803-10 & 1812-16). Paper-making, still a leading industry, began in 1812. Dayton, Ohio's 6th big city, home of Wright Brothers & Paul Laurence Dunbar, poet, is also home of cash register & city manager plan, of Air Material Command & Miami Conservancy Project. It is nat. aviation center & noted for diversity of its other industries. It is also a beautiful city in a beautiful setting. City plan allows a spacious downtown dist. in loop of the Miami, & throughout city are riverside pks., drives & many bridges. There is a minimum of smoke & noise, since there is no "factory dist." & because plants are mainly of light-industry type.

Site of Dayton was happy hunting ground for Inds. for many yrs. Then it was crossed by frontiersmen & soldiers & desperate bands of the dispossessed. In 1793 Jonathan Dayton purchased land here, & town was inc. in 1805. In 1840 some 70,000 crowded to the little town (6,000 pop.) to hail "Tippecanoe and Tyler too!" In 1879 the citizens laughed at James Ritty's "mechanical money drawer"; but in 1884 John Patterson took it over & brought precision workmen to his "daylight factory." Wilbur & Orville Wright were working on their flying machine near close of cent., & Barney Oldfield's racing career began. Chas. F. Kettering opened the laboratories that became Delco. In 1913 flood, approx. 400 died & damage rose above $100,000,-000. Dayton's answer was Miami Conservancy Dist., est. in 1915, at cost of $31,- 000,000. Indirectly, flood brought the city manager plan, adopted to meet crisis. During 2 world wars, Dayton became nat. aviation center.

Cincinnati, 2nd largest city, is still "a queen among cities" as Longfellow named it, & Cincinnatians are "courteous & agreeable" as Dickens found them in 1842. City rises on low terraces dominated by Carew Tower & Union Central Bldg., & then its suburbs spread back & high among the hills. Price Hill & Mt. Adams face each other across the Basin. Shut off from N. Ohio by rugged ranges, Cincinnati has always looked to the S., while Ohio R. has linked it with E. & W. So, today, it is cultural & econ. center for immense area. Nationally known centers of music, art & education have grown up here—Univ. of Cincinnati, Xavier Univ., Our Lady of Cincinnati & Hebrew Union colleges; Symphony Orchestra & outstanding Art. Mus. Industrial products incl. soap, radios, watches, plastics, playing cards & machine tools; also meat-packing plants, steel works & breweries. Kroger Stores & Fleischmann's Yeast began here. Once victim of boss rule, Cincinnati later won title of "best governed city."

In 1786, Benj. Stites, a trader, crossed from Ky. in pursuit of Ind. horse thieves. Impressed by the country, he carried E. a glowing report to Congressman J. C. Symmes, who promptly purchased 2,000,000 as. of land bet. Little & Big Miami Rrs. In 1788, Stites & some Ky. settlers founded Columbia, & another group settled Losantiville downstream. In 1789 Symmes founded N. Bend. Terr. Gov. Art. St. Clair came to Ft. Washington, at Losantiville, in 1790, & changed name of village to Cincinnati, in honor of society org. by Continental Army officers. After War of 1812, town boomed with river commerce, becoming shipbuilding center & focus of westward immigration. With completion of Miami & Erie Canal, its flour mills, meatpacking plants & distilleries flourished. In 1830's liberal Germans came & made famous the Over-the-Rhine sec. of Vine St. After potato famine in 1848, hundreds of Irish joined Cincinnati's native-born Virginians, New Englanders & Kentuckians. Before Civil War, Cincinnati was a metropolis. During Gilded Age, Geo. Cox became city's boss, & vice flourished for nearly 40 yrs. Cth. Riot of 1884 grew out of public anger against political corruption. Finally in 1925, the reform charter group brought in a clean election & city manager system. During the yrs. that followed, Cincinnati was transformed. Now, city planners are at work on slum-clearance, riverfront development & over-all street pattern that will link scattered communities.

PTS. OF INT. DOWNTOWN: (1) Front St., Pub. Landing, granite-paved area where settlers landed. Greene Line Wharf for modern "Delta Queen" & "Gordon C. Secs. of it, known as the Levee, Rat Row & Sausage Row, were notorious. (2) Pearl St., (N) 2 blocks, is still the marketplace, with famous Pearl St. Growers Market (1816). Cleveland, largest city in Ohio & 6th largest in U.S., is greatest L. Erie port & one of world's greatest iron & steel centers, extending nearly 30 miles along shore. Through center of city is wide valley of Cuyahoga R., & here on the Flats are steel mills, oil refineries, factories & lumber yards. Commercial & residential dists. rise on either side on higher level of old lakebed. On the Heights & in Chagrin valley are suburbs of notable beauty, incl. romantic Gates Mills, with Hunt Club & Polo Field. From High Level Bridge, the city plan is seen to be simple & orderly, with all aves. leading to Pub. Sq., above which rises the Terminal Tower, tallest bldg. in U.S. outside of N.Y.C. More than half the people are of foreign birth or parentage, representing nearly 50 nationalities. Most of the Negro citizens (8 per cent of total) live around edge of downtown dist., where housing projects are replacing slums. Chief industries are shipping & processing of iron & steel & manufacture of machine tools, automotive & aviation parts, textiles, electrical products & chemicals. Cleveland has always been model of civic enterprise, with excellent Welfare Federation & Community Fund. Townsend Plan has hqs. here. Western Reserve Univ., Case Institute of Technology, John Carroll Univ., Penn College & Ursuline College for Women are outstanding institutions, & Cleveland's Symphony Orchestra & Play House are nationally known. 1st white settlement at mouth of Cuyahoga R. was trading post, est. in 1747 by the Irishman, Geo. Croghan, 1st Brit. agent in area. When N.W. Terr. was org. (1787), Conn. was allowed to keep part of land held by grant from Charles II, from Pa. Line (W) to the "South Sea." This Western Reserve, extending 120 miles, was bought & surveyed by Conn. Land Co., led by Gen. Moses Cleaveland. The Firelands, 500,000 as., about 50 miles (W), were reserved by Conn. to repay citizens for damage during Rev. Instructed to found "a capital town," Cleaveland laid out 2 main streets (Superior & Ontario) as broad as they are today. The 49 settlers endured winter of 1796 & then forsook their capital by the frozen lake. When the "Walk-in-the-Water" steamed into L. Erie in 1818, Cleveland was smallest of 14 towns in Western Reserve. Then, in 1832, the Ohio & Erie Canal was completed with Cleveland as terminal, & in 1836 the city inc. with 5,000 citizens. Mid-century, the RRs. brought 1st loads of L. Superior ore & of bituminous coal from the E.

Cleveland was already a big city when Rockefeller & Hanna families settled here. In Civil War period, it was a vital sta. on Underground Railroad. Then came tremendous development. J. D. Rockefeller org. Standard Oil in 1870; Mark Hanna made fortune in coal & shipping, & Jephtha H. Wade in the telegraph & real estate. White Mfg. Co. made sewing machines; Sherwin Williams Paint & Otis Steel (1st open hearth) were est. Charles F. Brush lighted Pub. Sq. with carbon arc lamps; & America's 1st electric streetcars appeared in the "Forest City" (1884). Cleveland's wealthy men began to look around. J. H. Wade gave land for 1st city pk. The Opera House & "The Plain Dealer" were founded. Through series of consolidations, the industrial giants of era created some of America's notorious trusts in Cleveland. Mark Hanna, maker of Presidents, met opposition at last in Thos. L. Johnson, who was fought by Hanna but held office of mayor for 5 terms. Under him & his successor, Newton D. Baker, city politics were given a thorough cleaning. Labor, in 1880's, had fought through several widespread strikes to official recognition. Cleveland Fed. of Labor was org. in 1910. During World War I, Cleveland profited financially & in return gave 1st Red Cross unit & 1st Community Chest to the country. The Symphony Orchestra was org. in 1918, & Mus. of Art built in 1916. The Van Sweringen brothers created their famous empire, developing beautiful Shaker Heights, acquiring Nickel Plate RR. & building Terminal Tower group & Union Sta. before their financial structure collapsed. The pop. had completely changed with expanding labor market & because of this, Cleveland's interest in art, music & drama was intensified, & its Play House & Gilpin Players, a Negro theater, became nationally famous.

COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS

E. High St., Union RR. Sta. E. Town St. bet. High & 3rd Sts., Union Bus Sta. Airport, (E) at Port Columbus. Excellent accoms. & recr. facils. Theaters (stage & screen); concerts; plays, lectures at univs. & colleges. Info.: 30 E. Broad St., C. of C. Farmers' Wk. (Feb.); St. Fair (Aug.-Sept.), Ohio Watercolor Show.

Capital & 3rd largest city, Columbus is important educational, industrial & commercial, as well as political center & convention city. Spreads over 40 sq. miles in fertile valley of Scioto & Olentangy Rs. The beautiful Civic Center rises on great bend of the Scioto & illuminated tip of Leveque-Lincoln Tower can be seen miles away. Outstanding institutions are Ohio State, Franklin & Capital Univs., St. Mary of the Springs & St. Charles Barromeo colleges; Gallery of Fine Arts, Philharmonic Symphony & Battelle Mem. Institute.

In 1812, the Legislature decided to build a statehouse & penitentiary "on the high bank east of the Scioto R. directly opp. town of Franklinton." As site for a permanent capital, a syndicate had offered a chunk of wilderness in which it would raise a capitol. Franklinton had put in a bid, but the syndicate won, & town was named for the great navigator, on Feb. 22, 1813. Mills, breweries & other industries began to flourish, but the settlement was endangered by cholera & fever until swamps were cleared. A feeder to Ohio & Erie Canal (1831) & the Nat. Rd. (1833) soon made the capital a busy shipping & trans. center. By 1900, industry was well advanced, & Columbus, founded on U.S. Military Lands, had become what it still is, a military concentration pt. Civic Center was built along the riverbank following destructive flood of 1913. Pop. is more than 96 per cent native-born, of whom some 11 per cent are Negro. Hanford & Urbancrest (S.4^m) are attractive Negro suburbs.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) St. Capitol (1839-61), built by convict & private labor, is splendid example of Doric style, its massive simplicity adorned by fine colonnades. McKinley Mem. (1906, by H.A. From settlement around RR. sta., Muncie became peaceful rural center & college town, & then highly industrialized city with considerable interest in the arts. Because it seemed to them a typical Amer. town, Rbt. & Helen Lynd chose Muncie for "Middletown." White R. moves in succession of broad loops across N. sec., & along the drive are large pks. & residential areas. Cth. & business dist. are (S) of R. & a short distance beyond, the RR. tracks cross middle of city. Farther (S) are many industrial plants, surrounded by homes of workmen. Munseytown, platted in 1827, named for Munsee Inds., was inc. as Muncie in 1847. Gas was discovered in 1870's & during 20-yr. boom, more than 40 factories were built. Then gas supply suddenly ended, but town had gained a sizable pop., mainly native white (as it is today) & several large companies had become solidly established. Most important is Ball Bros., known throughout U.S. for their glass fruit jars. To this family, Muncie owes its Ball Mem. Hosp. & various gifts to Ball Teachers College. City has numerous musical & dramatic clubs & choral groups & valuable art coll.

PTS. OF INT.: Bet. McKinley Ave. & Riverside Dr., Ball St. Teachers College. In 1917, the St. accepted from Ball family the gift of defunct Muncie Normal Institute bldgs. & 70-a. campus for a division of Ind. St. Normal School (see Terre Haute). Terre Haute, on high plateau along Wabash R., commercial, cultural & banking center for large mining & agric. area, is Indiana's most exciting city with gaudiest & wildest past. Also it was home of some of st.'s most notable men & women, incl. Eugene Debs, Theodore Dreiser, Paul Dresser, Rose Melville, who created "Sis Hopkins" role, Lyman Abbott, Dan. Voorhees, Gilbert Wilson, painter, & Max Eastman, founder of "The Masses," whose "Enjoyment of Living" (1948) relates to his Ind. boyhood. Predominantly a coal town, city also has brick & tile, paint & varnish, canned goods & other industries. Seat of Ind. St. Teachers College, Rose Polytechnic Institute & St. Mary-of-the-Woods College (in vic.). U.S. Penitentiary is (S) 3m on St.63, a model prison farm (1939-40). In 1811 Gen. Harrison built Ft. Harrison on Wabash R.; town was platted in 1816. With flatboats & steamboats arriving at the landing, frequently the terminal, the little town grew rapidly. In 1838, the Nat. Rd. was completed to Terre Haute, & in 1849 the W. & E. Canal, soon to be lined with factories, mills, foundries & tanneries. Coal mines were developed to feed the locomotives, & Vigo Cty. became a leader in coal production.

Labor in Terre Haute has always been an active element, 1st under Knights of Labor & then through United Mine Workers. One of most publicized strikes began in July, 1935, in behalf of employees of a stamping company. It developed into effective general strike (3rd in U.S.) when company imported professional strikebreakers & ignored warnings of some 50 A. F. of L. unions. Gov. Paul V. McNutt sent in the militia, pickets were dispersed & strike was soon called off, but the ban was not lifted until Feb. 1936. (1) 451 N. 8th St., H. of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader; fought against bitter opposition for many social principles later embodied in nat. legislation. Debs, born in 1855, was a locomotive fireman at 16 &, in 1880, secy.-treas. of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & editor of its newspaper. In 1893 he org. & was made pres. of Amer. Ry. Union, the 1st industrial, rather than craft, union. In 1895 he was a leader in famous Pullman Strike & served his 1st prison sentence. On basis of Social Democratic party, which Debs founded in 1898, the Socialist Party of U.S. was org. in Indianapolis in 1900, with Debs as U.S. Pres. candidate. In 1904, 1908, 1912, & 1920, he was again candidate, polling nearly a million votes in last election, although serving 10-yr. sentence in Fed. prison. Because of speech in Canton, O., early in 1918, protesting Gov. prosecutions for sedition, he had been convicted under Espionage Act. In Oct. 1921, Pres. Harding had him released, without citizenship. He died in 1926. Martin (in "Indiana") calls him "most effective of the many protestants who have raged through Indiana history." (2) Bet. ST. 46—INDIANA

J. WITH US52 (3^m from W. Harrison, at Ohio Line) (W) to TERRE HAUTE. 168. St.46

Via: Batesville, Greensburg, Columbus, Graw Bone, Nashville, Bloomington, Spencer, Riley. Accoms. in larger centers; camp sites.

Midway on route is Indiana's scenic reg. in Brown, Monroe & Owen Counties, with many as. reserved in St. Fors. & Pks. St.46 crosses Whitewater Cr. & cont. directly (W). At 8. J. with St.1, cross-state (N-S) route along E. border. 24. BATESVILLE, attractive settlement of German & other craftsmen employed in large furniture factories. 39. GREENSBURG, at J. of Penn. & C.C.C. & St.L. RRs.; in natural gas belt. A curiosity of town is Tree on Cth. Tower. J. with St.29 (see Indianapolis Trip III). 67. COLUMBUS. J. with US31 (see). 82. GNAW BONE, crossroads village in beautiful, sparsely settled wilderness. Some farming is done between the hills, & tourist trade is good. 84. Rd., across creek, to Brown Cty. St. Pk. (f.h.swim.lodge, cottages.camp.recr.facils.guides), largest & most scenic in st., covering 16,700 as. (incl. game preserve). Miles of trls. & drives around Ls., over ridges & through deep-cut valleys. Many artists have painted these woods in autumn color or in early spring. Archery Area, Wildlife Exhibit, Game Sanctuary, Observ. Tower. Along one of highest ridges is Swallow Trl. Lafe Bud Trl. leads up Weedpatch Hill (airport & fire tower). Pk. is mem. to Frank McKinney (Kin) Hubbard (1868-1930), whose "Abe Martin," rustic philosopher of Brown Cty., is comm. by Abe Martin Lodge, near entrance.

87. NASHVILLE, among Cumberland Hills, is favorite tourist stop well-known for colony of Hoosier artists. Art Gallery (sm.fee), exhibits work of Brown Cty. Vaughn Moody (1869-1910), author of "The Great Divide." Here also was home of Wm. Herschell (1873-1939), who wrote "Ain't God Good to Indiana?" Log Courth. (1820). 138. BOWLING GREEN (1825). Old Settlers Reunion in the fall. St.46 crosses Eel R., dear to the Delaware Inds. for the abundant

"snakefish." 157. RILEY. Near here are stretches of W. & E. Canal & Canal Reservoir. 168. TERRE HAUTE (see). J. with US40 (see) & US41 (see).

US 50—INDIANA

IND.-OHIO LINE (18^m from Cincinnati, Ohio) (W) to IND.-ILL. LINE (8^m from Lawrenceville, Ill.). 173. US50

Via: Lawrenceburg, Aurora, Versailles, N. Vernon, Seymour, Brownstown, Bedford, Shoals, Washington, Vincennes. Paralleled roughly by B. & O. RR. US150 is alternate route, uniting with US50 about midway.

US50 enters characteristic Hoosier country. Hillsides in spring bloom with lupine, violets & flowering shrubs, & in hazy Indian summer, goldenrod, wild aster & gentian border the roadsides. Along center of route, limestone cliffs rise from placid farmlands. Reforestation & recr. projects, incl. units of Hoosier Nat. For., occupy thousands of as. of worn-out land. Bet. forks of White R. is fertile valley producing st.'s major crop—corn; around Vincennes are spreading peach & apple orchards.

0. Stone marker (1838) on Ohio-Ind. Line. 3.5. GREENDALE. Aroma of fermenting mash for whiskey has been familiar here for more than 100 yrs. On Brown St., (R) from intersec. with US50, is Old Quaker Plant (O.appl.tours), on site of 1st distillery (1809). James Walsh & Co. Distillery (O.appl.tours). J. E. Seagram Plant (O.appl.tours), largest in city. 5. LAWRENCEBURG (sett.1801). Ferry. Scattered through town are evidences of its hist. as popular port in steamboat days. Flood of 1937 destroyed thousands of homes behind city's broken levee. In Beecher Presb. Ch., the 24-yr.-old Henry Ward Beecher had his 1st pastorate in 1837. Vance-Tousey H. (O.wks.1818) was one of finest mansions along R. 9. AURORA. Many fine Hs. here also belong to the past. Favorite landing for shantyboaters, who divide their days between hill & river. J. with St.56 (see Ohio R. Tour). 20. DILLSBORO, mineral spa. 30. VERSAILLES ST. PK. (f.camp.group camp.pic.riding); nearly 5,400-as. acquired from Nat. Pk. Serv. in 1943. Pub. hunting ground for archers. Semi-annual field trials for hunting dogs (horses for rent) has made pk. widely known for its excellent running grounds. At VERSAILLES the big event is Pumpkin Show & Farmers' Fair (Oct.). Aluminum spire of ultra-modern Tyson Temple (1937) rises above 19th cent. Hs. & modest business bldgs. Morgan Raid Marker, on Ripley County Cth. (1852) lawn, tells of hasty looting by Confed. soldiers in 1863.

53. NORTH VERNON, platted in 1834; RR. center. On St.7 (S) is small but lovely Muscatatuck St. Pk. (cottages.pic.f.). Muscatatuck Inn. 65. J. with US31 (see). 68. SEYMOUR, modern factory & RR. town. Swope Mem. Art Gallery (O.wks.). 78. BROWNSTOWN (sett.1816), typical Hoosier farm town. J. with St.39 & St.135. SIDE TRIPS: (A) On St.39 (SE) 2^m to Jackson City. St. For. (f.pic.). (B) On St.135 (SW) 3.5^m to Ft. Vallonia (1805). Near-by (S) is large Driftwood St. Fish Hatchery (O).

104. BEDFORD, attractive city with many stone Hs. & neat streets; center of St.'s limestone industry. Bedford stone was used in Empire State & many other notable bldgs. Indiana Limestone Corp. Mills & Quarries (O.appl.). On St.158 (W) is Moses Fell Annex Farm (O.guides) of Purdue Univ. (see). J. with St.54, which leads (NW) 6^m to Avoca St. Fish Hatchery (O). In Bedford are Hqs. of Hoosier Nat. For. Purchase Unit (see). US50 unites with St.37 beyond White R. Bridge, 107., then winds gradually (W) through rocky country & thick hardwood for.

SIDE TRIP: On St.37 (S) 6^m from bridge to Mitchell; (E) on St.60 to Spring Mill St. Pk. (sm.fee.f.swim.boat.hotels.cottages.camp.pic.), where is authentic restoration of Spring Mill Village, founded in 1815 in hidden valley. Other features are 100 as. of virgin timber; Donaldson's Cave (boat trips), through which winds underground R. famous for its blind fish; Twin Caves (boat trips). Spring Mill Village began with gristmill & limestone quarry opened by Sam. Jackson, ensign under Perry at Put-in-Bay (see Ohio). The properties changed hands several times but, by 1850, an elegant village & stagecoach stop surrounded a great gristmill built in 1816-17. Ox-drawn wagon fleets traveled to distant markets, & barges floated lumber, flour & whiskey down to faraway New Orleans. When the RRs. shied away from the rock-walled valley, the village began to decline. Meanwhile George Donaldson, eccentric Scotsman, had bought a cave & some land extending across valley's only outlet, & he wanted his retreat left in its natural state. Spring Mill died & weeds & grass were rank in the streets when Donaldson went home to Scotland to die (1897). A few yrs. later, Dr. Carl H. Eigenmann, Indiana Univ., discovered in Donaldson's Cave the rare blind fish he had sought in many parts of the world. His "Cave Vertebrates of America" (1909) incl. study of these "dim-eyed" fish. When St. Pk. system was begun in 1920's under Col. Richard Lieber, Lawrence Cty. offered the Donaldson tract. Col. Lieber found that Lehigh Portland Cement Co. owned the crumbling ruins in the valley but would give site to the St. if he would fulfill his dream of a restoration. Spring Village was brought completely to life. The gristmill, with orig. burrs & stones & wheels, was rebuilt. Big logs pass under the saw in the slash mill, pioneer Hs. stand in gray-walled gardens, & along main street are still-house, tavern, hat & cobbler shops, loom house & pottery plant.

124. MARTIN CTY. ST. FOR. (pic.motor rd.), replanted with pine by CCC. Beyond, in rocky valley of White R., the Knights of the Golden Circle brooded over dreams of a southwestern empire; & during prohibition era, moonshiners & racketeers sheltered in the hills. 128. SHOALS. J. with US150, which unites with US50 to state line. A short distance from Shoals (N) are the fantastic Jug Rock (pic.) & McBrides Bluffs, characteristic formations of Indiana's highlands. Along White R. are numerous caves, crystal springs & small waterfalls. Bet. forks of White R. are thousands of fertile as., incl. farms of the industrious Amish. 152. WASHINGTON, on site of Ft. Flora (1805). Van Trees H. (1843.Gr.Rev.) has Doric columns hand-carved from tree trunks. 172.5. VINCENNES (see), in the orchard country of Wabash Valley. 173. US50 crosses Lincoln Mem. Bridge at ILL.-IND. LINE.

58. VINCENNES

Washington & Wabash Aves., Union RR. Sta. 429 Main St., Bus Terminal. Good accoms. & recr. facils. Info.: C. of C., in City Hall.

Vincennes, once capital of Northwest Terr. & (for a few months) of Louisiana Purchase as well, is full of the whole Amer. past. It is built on site of Chippecoke, capital city of Ind. tribe, & in encircling hills are mounds of prehist. Americans. Bet. pylons of Lincoln Mem. Bridge, a hy., (US50), runs (W) to Lincoln country & the Great West. Clark's taking of Brit. Ft. Sackville at Vincennes in 1779 was a decisive victory, & Gen. Harrison was hero of later battles that won the Ind. lands. Vincennes is also a modern industrial city & market for wide area incl. Knox Cty., which is 2nd in st. in diversified agriculture, 1st in peach & apple orchards & in acreage in cantaloupes, watermelons & wheat & a leader in production of coal. In late 17th cent., a trading post was est. on riverbank. In 1732, François Morgane de Vincennes was in command of Fr. fort on this site, & his name was given to settlement in 1736, the yr. in which he was burned at the stake by the Chickasaw. After 1763 post became Ft. Sackville, one of principal Brit. forts. In summer of 1778, Geo. Rogers Clark sent Father Gibault from Kaskaskia (see Ill.) to persuade the Creole villagers at Vincennes to take Amer. side. When Gen. Hamilton, Brit. "hair buyer" from Detroit, took over the ft., a wealthy Ital. trader, Francis Vigo, took the news to Clark & gave financial support to attacking expedition. Ft. Sackville was surrendered Feb. 25, 1779. Neither Father Gibault nor Vigo was ever properly rewarded by Gov. The Fr. & Creole (Fr.-Ind.) settlers of Vincennes were a gay & carefree people. Thea in 1840's, a thrifty German Cath. colony built up the "Dutch Flats" & gradually beyond the R. (N) became characteristically Amer. with community of mixed stock. Probably best way to see Vincennes is to start with Mem. Bridge, within a half-mile radius of which are all hist. sites of vanished "French-town." Beyond business dist. are residential areas bordered by exclusive Burnett Heights & (E) & (N) by homes of working people.

Sec. 1: OHIO LINE to NEW ALBANY. 116. US50, St.56, St.156, St.62

Tour follows 1st channel of migration into the West. Shores are lined with old towns & landings, & ferries at intervals unite Ind. with Ohio & Ky. rivertowns. In some places, valley is spread with orchards & farmlands; at other pts., hy. follows rocky bluffs along shore.

US50 (see) crosses st. line a few miles (N) of R. into area long known for its distilleries. 9. AURORA. Shantyboaters, fishermen & houseboats make lively stir up & down R. (ferry to Petersburg, O.). J. with St.56, on which tour cont. (S) along R., then cuts across rugged country. 11. LAUGHERY CR., where Col. Lochry Mon. marks site of Ind. massacre in 1781. 17. RISING SUN (ferry.airport), founded in 1814. Ohio County Cth. (1845). 20. Tour turns on St.156, close to shore where long stretches are broken only by river signals & clumps of willows & sycamores. 48. VEVAY. Early Hs. & sites are marked by Hist. Soc. of Switzerland Cty. which was sett. at end of 18th cent. by Swiss immigrants who named city after Vevey on L. of Geneva. Became prosperous steamboat town, known for excellent wine. Birthpl. of Edw. Eggleston (1837-1902), whose "Hoosier School Master" is one of earliest creative treatments of pioneer material. Swiss Inn (1823). Near County Cth. is Carnegie Lib., housing Clementi piano brought from London in 1717. Once a week Mary Wright, in court dress & jewels, played for settlers in her father's cabin. From Vevay, tour turns (W) on St.56 again, shadowed by cliffs. 68.5. MADISON (sett.1805), seat of tobacco-raising Jefferson Cty., has Southern flavor, particularly in antebellum Hs. near river front. Around Central & West Sts. are large tobacco warehouses, & shipyards from 1830's stand along R. Madison then was largest city in Ind. (2,000 pop.). PTS. OF INT.: (1) 1st St. bet. On campus, 400' above R., are new (1947) Georg. Col. bldgs. incl. Classic Hall; Auditorium; Science Hall, housing laboratory science depts. in which Hanover was a pioneer. Thos. A. Hendricks Lib., comm. U.S. Vice Pres., class of 1841.

From Hanover, tour follows St.62 (S) & (W) while St.56 roughly parallels route of US50 (see).

SIDE TRIP: On St.56 (W) to Salem. At 16^m Scottsburg, J. with US31 (see). 24^m where The Knobs begin, rounded tree-covered hills running (S) to Ohio R. 45^m Salem (sett.1814), cheerful Quaker town on many hills. Birthpl. of John Hay (1838-1905), statesman & writer, Secy. of State, Brit. Ambassador. Morgan Raid Marker. 48^m Rd. leads (S) to Beck's Mills (1809), Hist. Mus.

St.62 swings (S), no longer in sight of R. In Indiana's southern hills, the pop. is widely scattered, & life in some secs. is as primitive as when Lincoln family settled there. 97. CHARLESTOWN, small town bridging present & past. At outskirts are E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., smokeless powder factory, & Good-year Tire & Rubber Co.; while at N. edge of town is 1st Meth. Ch. in Ind. (1807) &, in cemetery near-by, Grave of Jon. Jennings, 1st Ind. Gov. 110. JEFFERSONVILLE (bridge to Louisville, Ky.), one of oldest towns in st.; founded in 1786 by Geo. Rogers Clark & platted in 1802 by Wm. H. Harrison, with advice of Thos. Jefferson. Howard Shipyards (closed), on Front St., built many Mississippi packets & steamers. In 1937, Jeffersonville was probably most seriously damaged of all the flooded rivertowns. At 10th St. & Meigs Ave., U.S. Quartermaster Depot, one of largest in country. On Clark Blvd., Oldest St. Prison in Ind. (1821.remod.). Across Mun. Bridge is CLARKSVILLE, founded by Clark in 1784 on part of 150,000-a. grant made by Va. Rest of grant was divided among his men. The settlements languished & Clark died, poor & discredited by his country, in 1818. J. with US31 (see).

Evansville, seat of Evansville College, has fine harbor on narrow loop of Ohio R. It is 5th largest city in st. & only metropolitan center within radius of 100 miles. Main St. runs (NE) from Dress Plaza, city's front on R., & Evansville-Henderson Bridge (free) links the states. Pop. is almost wholly native born. A small village grew up here around Col. Hugh McGary's log cabin (1812) & ferry. In 1818, Gen. Rbt. Evans bought a section, & Evans' Town was platted. River traffic grew enormously, & soon shipyards, foundries, sawmills, flour mills & other industries came. Successive floods, cholera epidemics & financial panics brought death & disaster, but city struggled through bad periods & rebuilt. Gov.-sponsored levee has lessened danger from R., & city ranks high in pub. health. Besides being nat. refrigeration center, Evansville has some 200 industries, incl. metal-working, plastics, food & textiles.

146.5. NEW HARMONY, changeless town on Wabash, famous for 2 communal experiments: Rappite (1815-25) & Owen Community (1925-27). Hundreds of golden rain trees, planted more than cent. ago, fill the air in June with drifting yellow petals. In 1815, followers of George Rapp came from Pa. & built "Harmonie" on 30,000 ac. The Rappites, who came from Germany in 1805, believed in celibacy & communal ownership. They cleared for., drained swamps & planted fields & vineyards. In 1825, their leaders sold Harmonie to Rbt. Owen (1771-1858), Welsh humanitarian, author of "A New View of Society" (1816). Harmonie seemed ideal place for a "New Moral World" (title of his journal), based on cooperative effort & advanced educational facils. One of most influential of the early teachers was Wm. Maclure, later 1st pres. of Phila. Academy of Natural Science & "father of American geology." The colony failed (1827), but New Harmony became cultural center, & many liberal colonies derived from it.

Bridge crosses Wabash R., IND.-ILL. LINE.

CITIES OF THE CALUMET—INDIANA

The Calumet (Gary, Hammond, East Chicago & Whiting), a physical & industrial unit massed against L. Mich., is most concentrated industrial development in the world. This "smoke-blinded, taut, metallic jungle" (Gunther in "Inside U.S.A.") is crowded with factories, forges, mills, refineries, steel towers & bridges, docks & RR. tracks. It is considered part of Greater Chicago, & city planning is done in cooperation with that city's Planning Commission. The name derives from Fr. word for "reed" & pipes made by Potawatomi from reeds growing along R. were later called "calumets."

Gary, 3rd among Ind. cities, home of main plant of U.S. Steel, has grown in less than 50 yrs. from group of tar-papered shacks to metropolis with planned residential dists. & school system of nat. note. Business sec. around J. of Broadway & 5th Ave. has been built up largely since 1921. Along 9th Ave., S. of Wabash RR. tracks, are neighborhood centers of many foreign-born groups & large Negro pop. Larger industrial plants are separated from rest of city by Calumet R. In 1905, Judge Elbert H. Gary chose duneland site for U.S. Steel plant, & soon sand mts. were being levelled, river rechanneled, & site for plant raised 15 feet. A city of bleak shacks on narrow, sandy streets housed thousands of workers. In 1921 even the more substantial bldgs. were razed & a planned city created. Labor relations also have developed from early paternalism to union contract; outstanding events were A.F. of L. steel strike in 1919 & reorganization under C.I.O. in 1937. Work-study-play school system was begun by the late Dr. Wm. Wirt.

Hammond, next in size to Gary, is a strange-looking town, cut (E-W) by Calumet R. & its downtown crossed by network of RR. tracks. It was the big town in 1900 & a leading meat-packing center. In 1869, Geo. H. Hammond came from Mich. to est. a slaughter house in the settlement, bringing with him the idea of a refrigerator car invented in Detroit for shipment of fish. A few mos. later, an iced car packed with dressed beef arrived in Boston, the beginning of present-day shipping methods. With development of Calumet dist., other industries were est. here, incl. printing & book-binding & manufacture of corn syrup, RR. equipment, surgical supplies & steel products. PTS. East Chicago, incl. Indiana Harbor, is almost wholly given over to industry, the sky being blood-red at night & the air in the daytime gray with smoke & strong with smell of gas & oil. Steel works, rolling mills, refineries, RR. car shops, blast furnaces, packing plants & plate mills reach down from the L. & line Calumet R. Pop. is about 75% native-born, incl. thousands of Negroes. City has good sch. & lib. system, many churches & theaters, & some 350 clubs. E. Chicago was inc. in 1889, when Standard Oil Co. built world's largest oil refinery in adj. Whiting, extended later into E. Chicago. 1st steel mill was built in 1901, & work began almost immediately on Indiana Harbor & Ship Canal, which receives both ocean & L. vessels at 5^m stretch of wharves. PTS. Fort Wayne (inc. 1829), st.'s 2nd city, is on site of capital city of the Miami & of 1st ft. in Ind., an active factor in development of Northwest. City's importance derives from strategic position at meeting of St. Joseph & St. Mary's Rs. to form the Maumee. A 7^m portage at this pt. once linked Great Ls. & Miss. R. Also it is center of a rich agric. & industrial area, a few hrs. from Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit & Toledo. Downtown dist., with Calhoun its main st., is just (S) of confluence of Rs. Clinton St. (US27-US33) runs N-S through city, & Washington St. (US30-US21) is main E-W artery. On the 3 waterways, bridged at many pts., are pub. pks. & residential secs.; Foster Pk. Dr., along St. Mary's R., broadening into Foster Pk., is one of most attractive roads. Pop. is predominantly native-born. City has country's largest gasoline pump & tank plants; other products are electrical equipment, wire coils & truck bodies. Ft. Wayne is known as one of most solidly unionized cities in Ind.

Probably La Salle portaged here in 1669. Ft. Miami, est. on St. Mary's R. in late 17th cent., was a principal trading post for 100 yrs. Ft. was surrendered to Brit. in 1760, taken by Pontiac but soon retaken by Brit. After Rev., Gen. Jos. Harmar est. another post at Miami Town, but the forces of Little Turtle were too strong for him & later, for Gen. St. Clair. Then, in 1794, Anthony Wayne built a stockade across R. & made a treaty with Inds. Capt. Wm. Wells, Ind. agent, & the intelligent Little Turtle kept Miami out of Tecumseh's confederacy. Ft. was evacuated in 1819, & shortly afterward Judge Sam. Hanna & Jas. Barnett set up post & gristmill. Settlement was rapid. Tanneries, mills, distilleries & boatyards flourished. The Miami were removed to Kansas in 1846, but their leader, Fr.-Ind. Jean Baptiste Richardville, who had persuaded them to cede lands, remained in brick house given him by Gov. Chief Francis La Fontaine (see), his son-in-law, led his tribesmen out of the valley. Ft. Wayne was important Underground Sta.

Indianapolis is country's largest city not on navigable water & 2nd-largest St. capital city (Boston 1st). It is also St.'s RR., hy. & banking center & leading market for corn, grain & livestock; hqs. of Bobbs-Merrill Co., publishers. Atmosphere & tempo, however, are much the same as in other Hoosier towns, partly because it has expanded gradually over level plain, its industrial plants are scattered & labor supply comes from rural communities. Less than 3% of pop. is foreign born. Cultural institutions are Butler Univ., Ind. Cent. College, 4 Schs. of Ind. Univ., Arthur Jordan Conserv. of Music, John Herron Art Sch., Symphony Orchestra & Civic Theater. When capital site was chosen in 1821, a few cabins & Ind. villages made up the Fall Cr. settlement. Alex. Ralston, assistant to L'Enfant in planning Washington, D. C., plotted orig. "mile square" around Governor's Circle (now Mon. Circle), with main aves. radiating from it. Washington St. (E-W) is business thoroughfare. Meridian St. (S-N), with slum dist. at lower end, broadens into residential ave. Only a few tall structures stand out among downtown gov. & business bldgs. To (N) are Butler Univ., Fall Cr. Pky. & numerous pks., playgrounds & residential areas. Indiana Ave. leads (W) to crowded Negro sec. (more than 11% of pop.). In 1830 the Nat. Rd. crossed Indianapolis, & in 1853 the 1st union RR. sta. in U.S. was built. The rustic capital boomed with the Civil War & sank with the 1873 depression, but industrialization had begun. 1st convention of Greenback party was held here in 1874. It was leading automotive center until giant corporations developed on natural waterways. During 20th cent., city became important meat-packing & market center & seat of some 900 industrial plants. It was an "open shop" town until late in 1930's. Probably greatest "Konklave" of Ku Klux Klan was held in Indianapolis on July 4, 1923. In 1928, "Indianapolis Times" received Pulitzer Prize for exposure of corruption in St.

Jane Addams, founder of Hull H., received 1st degree conferred. Middle (1852) & Linden (1854) Halls & Chapel (1866.now Talcott) are in midst of some 30 modern bldgs.

SIDE TRIP: On St.2 (SW) 42m over Black Hawk Trl. along Rock R. to Dixon. Markedly beautiful valley was home of Sauk & Fox Inds. Black Hawk refused to leave Ill. under terms of treaty made in 1804 (some historians agree with his interpretation), but in 1831 he was induced to sign treaty permitting removal. The following spring, his followers began to harry border settlements. He says in his autobiography, "My reason tells me that land cannot be sold." His forces were gradually destroyed, & he himself was captured in Wis. by the Winnebago, who turned him over to Gov. He died in Iowa in 1838. At 15m Byron, sett. by New Englanders in 1830's. Near Stillman Valley, (E) 5m on St.72, is Ill. Soldiers' Mon. comm. 1st battle in Black Hawk War. At c.23m Black Hawk Mon. (1911.by Lorado Taft), gift of sculptor; on high bluff on E. bank in Lowden Hist. Pk. (f.pic.camp.refreshments.). 26m Oregon. In Pub. Lib. are sculptures & paintings of Eagle Nest Art Colony, founded by Taft & other artists in 1898. White Pines For. St. Pk. (f.pic.camp.lodge.cabins), 8m (W) from Oregon. 36m Grand Detour, old village on deep bow of R. John Deere opened plow factory here in 1841. Trl. crosses R. to Dixon (see US30), 42m.

US20 cont. (W) in valley of Pecatonica R. Stephenson & Jo Daviess counties were untouched by glaciers, & here primeval rock has been eroded into irregular bluffs, terraces & canyons. Many settlements along route were begun by returning prospectors after rush to Galena (see below) lead mines in 1820's. Tourist accoms. at frequent intervals. 134. FREEPORT (through RR. & bus conns. accoms.), fair-sized farm center, known nationally for Structo & Arcade toy-making factories, also has large Kraft-Phoenix Cheese Corp. plant. Among early settlers were many Pa. Germans attracted to lead mines. Notable gardens (O.appl.). N. State Ave. & E. Douglas St., Site of 2nd Lincoln-Douglas Debate, 1858, during which Douglas formulated "Freeport doctrine" that a territory had right to exclude slavery.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On St.26 (N) 5m to Cedarville. (NW) 6m from here to Birthpl. of Jane Addams; grave in burial plot on grounds.

(B) On St.26 (S) 14m to Forreston, scene of annual Sauerkraut Festival (Sept free).

155. STOCKTON. 157. J. with Rd. that leads (N) 5m to Apple R. Canyon St. Pk. (f.pic.camp.). From bluffs along R. is view (W) of Charles Mound (1,241'), highest pt. in Ill. 169. Hy. crosses Apple R. J. with St.80 (see Miss. R. Tour).

184. GALENA (through RR. & bus conns.hotels & tourist accoms.recr.facils.). City lies in valley against semicircle of bluffs cut by Galena R. It was 1st important lead-mining center in Old N.W. Along sts. & stairways climbing the hills are Gr. Rev. mansions built in 1840's & 50's when Galena was big town of booming area extending into Wis. When Gov. took over the lands, & steamboats began to come up Miss. R., thousands of prospectors rushed to Middle Border. At its peak, Galena dist. produced 85 per cent of lead mined in U.S., then world's leading producer. Taverns were busy, circus & traveling players entertained, whiskey flowed, & wolf & cock fights were popular. Lead industry began to decline when Ill. Cent. RR. made Du-buque its terminus. Also, the shallower diggings were exhausted. In Ap. 1860, U. S. Grant came to clerk in his father's store, & a yr. later he departed quietly for Springfield to be made colonel in Union Army. In Aug., 1865, he returned in triumph.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Hill & Prospect St., Grace Episc. Ch. (1847.Tudor). (2) Bouthillier St., U. S. Grant H. (O.1857), gift from city, was showplace of Galena. Joliet, named for explorer, is notable for its fine homes, schs. & chs., modern bus. dist. & beautiful pk. system. It is one of leading industrial cities of Ill., a RR. & trade center, crossed by Gt. Ls.-Gulf Waterway (see). From time of settlement in 1833, rich natural resources & potential water power have made it a key city. Among its 150 or more plants are 8 mills producing more than half nation's supply of wall paper. Other products are steel rods & tanks, wire, furnaces, chemicals & fire brick. PTS. Fox R., dividing line bet. metropolitan area & prairies, runs through heart of Aurora. On largest of many ls. is city center, incl. City Hall, Lib. & P.O. Several bridges carry (E-W) aves. over R., & at N. end is Mem. Bridge (1931, by E.P. Seidel). After Black Hawk War, Jos. McCarty, from N.Y., chose site occupied by Potawatomi village, & town was platted in 1836. Two communities developed along R., & even after city was inc. in 1857, bitter battles were fought. City center, on Stolp I. in middle of R., was the happy solution. Name "Aurora" honors local Ind. chief, Wabonsie ("morning light"). Burlington RR. shops gave Aurora its biggest impetus to industrialization. Cultural institutions incl. Aurora College, Toenniges Conservatory of Music, & Marmion Military Academy.

PTS. OF INT.: Oak Ave. & Cedar St., Hist. H. (1837, O.Wed.Fri.Sun.aft.). On exhibit is 9'-high Blanford Clock, completed around 1913 by Wm. Blanford; shows time of day, phases of moon & calendar day, month & yr. Oak Ave. & Cedar St., Hist. Soc. Bldg. (O.1857); pioneer furniture. Gladstone Ave., Aurora College, founded by Advent Christian Ch. in 1893 in Mendota; evening courses in labor management & other fields. Along US30 from Parker Ave., Phillips Pk. Mus. & Zoo. Burlington Shops (O.appl.).

Beyond Aurora begin the grasslands that gave Ill. name of Prairie State, "as green & as wild & as wide as the sea," according to pioneer poet. At harvest time, modern machinery reaps the harvest from great acreages of corn & grain; many large dairy farms. 75. J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIP: On St.23 (N) 10m to De Kalb, center of barbed-wire industry. Inventor, Jos. Glidden, & Jacob Haish, holder of patent for mfg. process, had long legal battle over rights. At 1719 S. 1st St. is Glidden Hospital, & on Oak & N. 3rd Sts., Haish Mem. Lib. On wooded campus along Kishewauke R. are bldgs. of N. Ill. St. Teachers College (1895). US 34—ILLINOIS

CHICAGO (W) to ILL.-IOWA LINE (Burlington, Ia.). 231. US34

Via: La Grange, Oswego, Sandwich, Mendota, La Moille, Princeton, Sheffield, Kewanee, Galva, Galesburg, Monmouth, Biggsville.

0. CHICAGO (see). US34 crosses metropolitan area & zigzags diagonally across dairy country & prodigious fields of corn & grain. Along route are several college towns but few industrial centers. 29. Hy. by-passes NAPERVILLE (see Chicago Trip III). 38. J. with US30, (S) 4m from AURORA (see US30). 53. PLANO. Grain elevators along C.B. & Q. RR. tower above strikingly level fields. Town was sett. in 1830's by Quakers from Norway. 77. EARLVILLE. J. with Rd. which leads (SE) 6m to Shabbona Statue Mon. (pic.camp.), comm. friendly Ind. chief. 89. In E. part of town is former Home of Owen Lovejoy (1811-64), abolitionist leader & brother of Elijah Lovejoy (see E. St. Louis Trip IV). At 1518 S. Main St., Bryant H. (1850's), where John Bryant, brother of poet, lived; friend of Lincoln &

one of founders of Republican party. J. with US6, with which US34 unites for a few miles. 120. WYANET, on Ill. & Miss. Canal. St. Fish Hatchery. 128. SHEP-FIELD. US34 turns (S) here.

143. KEWANEE, on W. Fork of Spoon R.; one of largest industrial towns on route. Kewanee steam boilers & workmen's gloves are known throughout country, & Walworth Mfg. Plant, pioneer industry, is one of country's largest makers of fittings & valves. Wethersfield, older part of town & wholly residential, was sett. by Conn. (Prot.) Assoc. in 1836. Forerunner of Kewanee Boiler Co. was founded in 1850's. 155. GALVA, Swedish settlement (1854) that grew out of Bishop Hill colony. 159. J. with Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On Rd. (N) 2.5m to Bishop Hill St. Pk., site of Swedish communal religious colony est. by Eric Janson in 1846; acquired by st. in 1945. Hist. of colony follows classic pattern of many attempts at the good life. Janson was a man of extraordinary fascination & vitality. After denouncing corruption of Luth. Ch. of Sweden, he was forced to find refuge from persecution, & he escaped from Sweden on skus & disguised as a woman. With his followers, he crossed the ocean & came by Gt. Ls. & canal to Henry Cty., Ill., where community lived in dugouts the 1st winter. Nearly 100 died of Asiatic cholera & are buried in Bishop Hill Cemetery. Janson lived a life of fleshly comfort & later, as dictator, became reckless in his demands. Whatever the cause, he was shot in 1850. Settlement had become prosperous but, after loss of their leader, it was disrupted by factionalism, religious differences & financial mismanagement. State is restoring Bishop Hill as example of pioneer life. Old Colony Ch. (1848) has coll. of paintings of scenes at Bishop Hill, done by Olof Krans, blacksmith. Other bldgs. are Schoolh., Storeh., Hospital, Cheese Factory & Bakery.

182. GALESBURG, birthpl. of Carl Sandburg & seat of Knox College. Town was planned as religious & educational center by its founder, Geo. Washington Gale, Presb. minister, before he left Mohawk Valley parish (see New York) in 1835. A group of Oneida families came to selected site in 1836-37, & city was laid out in orderly fashion. Knox Manual Labor College was opened in 1838 in town meetingh., & scholarships were given with farm lots. The RRs. in 1854 were resented by the settlers but brought new life to the college. Galesburg was important sta. on Underground Railroad. City is now one of largest divisional hqs. of C.B. & Q. RR. & important livestock market. Knox College is coed. (since 1849) liberal arts college, with roster of noted alumni, incl. Carl Sandburg, Don Marquis & Eugene Field (of Lombard College, united with Knox in 1930). Old Main was scene of 5th Lincoln-Douglas Debate. E. of Galesburg is Rice L., resort center. 198. MONMOUTH, named (1831) for Rev. War battle in N.J., is seat of city, named for Maj. Gen. Jos. Warren, hero of Bunker Hill. On E. Broadway is shady 30-a. campus of Monmouth College, founded by Presb. Ch. in 1853. Wallace Hall, named for 1st pres., & Science Hall (1910). Lib. (1907) has art coll., gift of Carnegie Foundation. Monmouth is center of level corn belt where cattle are fattened for the stockyards. US34 tends steadily (S), paralleling roughly C.B. & Q. RR. 212. BIGGSVILLE. 217. J. with St.164.

SIDE TRIP: On St.164 (N) 1.5m to Gladstone. On R. (NW) is Lock & Dam No. 18. At 3m is Henderson Cr. & near-by Covered Bridge (pic.), more than 100 yrs. old. 6m Oquawka, once a trading post, keeps busy getting button pearls from mussels. Good sand beaches (camp.cabins) along Miss. R.

230.5. GULFPORT. US34 crosses Burlington (toll) Bridge, to Burlington, Ia. 231. Miss. R. here is ILL.-IA. LINE.

ILLINOIS WATERWAY TOUR

CHICAGO (W) & (S) to MISS. R. (at Grafton, Ill.). 339. ST.4A, US6, ST.29, US24, St.100

Via: Summit, Lockport, Joliet, Morris, Ottawa, La Salle, Peru, Spring Valley, Henry, Chillicothe, Peoria, Orchard Mines, (Pekin), Beardstown, Bluffs, Milton, Kampsville, Hardin. Tour by boat would follow Chicago R., Sanitary Ship Canal (or Ill. & Mich. Canal by canoe), Des Plaines R. & Ill. R. No charge for use of waterway or locks. Knowledge of rules & regulations is of special importance, as channel draught varies bet. 9' & 20', & locks & numerous bridges of varying clearance are along route. Info. & strip maps avail. from U.S. Engineer's Office, Room 520, Merchandise Mart, Chicago.

Tour follows part of Great Ls. to Gulf Waterway along commercially important, hist. int. & naturally beautiful route (well-developed st. pks.; good h. & f. grounds). Steep bluffs, marshy bottomlands & lush valleys, rivertowns & industrial centers give extraordinary variety. Chicago Harbor Controlling Locks (N. of Loop) stand where Chicago R. once sluggishly entered L. Mich. Michigan Ave. Link Bridge over main channel extends from Site of Ft. Dearborn (S) to Site of 1st Settlement (N). Near Locks are Navy Pier (amusement) & N. Terminal Pier. Originally the S. Branch crept (N) out of Mud L. & united with N. Branch to form main channel. Outlet was often choked with sand, but during spring freshets Mud L. spread over area, draining into both S. Branch & across continental divide into Des Plaines R. Pere Marquette noted "River of the Portage" in 1673, & Jolliet saw feasibility of canal to link Niagara R. & Gulf of Mex. The Chicago Portage was key pt. in exploration, trade & settlement. Since completion of Drainage Canal (1892-1900), R. flows backward, & blue L. waters pour into its channel. Survey for canal was made in 1830, & squatter settlement was inc. 3 yrs. later. In 1835 a shockingly high death rate called attention to need for sewerage, & pipes were laid to carry waste into L. & R., which became a stream of filth. In 1871 R. was diverted into S. Branch, with no better result. Finally in 1900 the Drainage Canal was completed, & R. flow was reversed so that its load emptied into Ill. R. across old portage. Subsidiary canals relieved Chicago of sewage problem, but downriver cities were wrathful. Proposal to sluice away impurities by inflow from L. Mich. was accepted after yrs. of nat. & internat. argument. Later the Drainage Canal was taken over by Fed. Gov., improved & re-named Sanitary & Ship Canal. Amount of diversion, est. by U.S. Supreme Court, is controlled by Army engineers.

Sec. 1: CHICAGO to PEORIA. 169. St.4A, US6 & St.29

From Loop, tour follows Cermak Rd. (W) to J. with St.4A (Archer Ave.), which roughly parallels waterway (US66 parallels route on N. side). Hy. crosses S. Branch, a few blocks N. of Union Stockyards, to J. with Ashland Ave. Beyond J. is mouth of abandoned Ill. & Mich. Canal (1848-1933), & a half-mile farther on, waterway enters Sanitary & Ship Canal. At c.13. SUMMIT, on crest of continental divide. LYONS, across waterway, stands on edge of Chicago Portage. Just W. of Summit, the Des Plaines R. swerves into valley & parallels canal to LOCKPORT, 34., where it becomes a link in the waterway. Lockport Dam & Lock, where intake is measured & controlled. St.4A & US66 enter JOLIET (see) at 39. J. with US30 (see). Brandon Rd. Lock & Dam. The 2,000'-long retaining wall around Brandon Rd. Pool incl. moss-covered lock of I. & M. Canal. J. with US6, on which tour cont. along best-developed areas of Ill. & Mich. Canal Pky. (pic.boat docks.good auto rd.). 50. CHANNAHON, where Du Page R. joins the Des Plaines. A few miles W., the Kankakee enters from the S., & then, as the Ill. R., the united waters flow W. through rocky gorge cut by glaciers. Along Kankakee R. is McKinley Woods Cty. Pk. 62. MORRIS. Adj. is small Gebhard Woods St. Pk. (pic.camp.f. & game preserve). 81. MARSEILLES. On S. riverbank is Illini St. Pk. (pic.camp.dining room.f.recr.facils.). Near-by Marseilles Lock lifts traffic over the rapids. 85. J. with St.71, scenic route (W) through St. Pks. (see below).

SIDE TRIP: On St.71 (NE) to Norwegian Settlers' Mon., at Norway, small village on site of 1st permanent Norweg. colony in Amer. Bronze plaque (1934) comm. Cleng Peerson, who est. at least 30 settlements in Miss. valley.

87. OTTAWA, on wooded terraces overlooking R., was laid out as canal town in 1830 & sett. largely by New Englanders. Largest industry is Libby-Owens-Ford Glass Plant, but making of agric. implements & colored marbles & other toys is important. PTS. OF INT.: In Washington Pk., Site of 1st Lincoln-Douglas Debate. Columbus & Lafayette Sts., Appellate Cth. (Gr.Rev.). Gaton Hill Rd., Gen. W. H. L. Wallace H. (1860), St. mem. to Union officer killed at Shiloh; coll. of furniture, paintings & flags. On N. bank of R. (W) 4^m is Buffalo Rock St. Pk. (f.pic.camp).

SIDE TRIP: On St.71 (S) & (W) 6^m to Starved Rock St. Pk. (camp.pic.lodge.cabins.play fields.f.), st.'s oldest & one of best-developed recr. areas. Boat trips daily. Trls. to Skeleton Cave, Tonti Canyon, Eagle Cliff, Lost L., Hennepin Canyon. Starved Rock (125') is circular mass of sandstone with flat summit. Across R. was Kaskaskia, Ind. village where Marquette & Jolliet, in 1673, were received by the charming, unreliable Illini. Marquette est. mission in 1675, & 1st Mass was celebrated on open prairie for more than 2,000 Inds. In 1679, La Salle & Tonti, his lieutenant with the iron hand, & the boastful Father Hennepin came to same spot. Ft. St. Louis du Rocher was erected on Starved Rock as part of La Salle's dream of colonizing Miss. valley. Ft. Crève Coeur, near site of Peoria (see US24), was left in charge of Tonti when La Salle went back to Frontenac for equipment. Deserted by his rebellious followers, Tonti came to Starved Rock with a few faithful missionaries & men to await La Salle. Then the Iroquois came down upon the village & a confused slaughter began. Only 1 Frenchman was killed, but the Iroquois ruthlessly pursued the Illinois wrecked the town & even dragged dead bodies from their graves. Tontu's party escaped & made their way to Green Bay. When La Salle returned in high hope, he found only the dead around the ruined village & fortress. At Crève Coeur also he found the ruins of his ft. & an unfinished boat on which 1 of his men had written "Nous sommes tous sauvages." In 1682 he returned to est. fort on Starved Rock, which Tontu maintained for some yrs after La Salle's death in 1687 (at hands of his own men). It was abandoned in 1702 & burned by Inds. in 1721.

97. On US6, J. with St.178 (S. 1^m on St.178 is Utica, a supply center). 103. LA SALLE, canal town founded in 1827. Coal deposits & water power attracted several industries, chief of which now are the zinc works. Locks, towpath & old warehouses near hy. J. with US51 (see). 105. PERU, home of Big Ben Clocks, made by Western Clock Factory (O.appl.). Peru was 1st terminus of Canal, but La Salle built steamboat basin & outstripped the other town. Spanning R. is Wooden Bridge (1869). 109. SPRING VALLEY. J. with St.29, over which tour cont. around Gt. Bend & close to riverbanks through primitive country where landings & scattered cottages are outposts of half-hidden hamlets. Below Gt. Bend is entrance to Ill. & Miss. Canal (good f.), opened in 1907.

Character of valley changes remarkably downstream. Instead of relatively strong current, R. is much shallower & flows lazily through marshland (f.h.) & around innumerable islets. Valley is broad instead of gorgelike, extending sometimes over several miles bet. steep walls of rock. 134. HENRY, at mouth of Senachwine L., in old riverbed paralleling main channel for 5^m. Henry Lock (unused). J. with St.18, which crosses R. to J. with Rd. that follows E. shore to Sparland F. & H. Grounds.

142. Village of SPARLAND (f. & h.info.). Near CHILLICOTHE, 150., on an island, are Woodford Cty. H. & F. Grounds. Peoria & Goose Pond Ls. are (S). Lights & other navigation aids are numerous in this part of R. because of sandbars & stumps. 169. PEORIA (see US24). J. with US24 & US150.

Sec. 2: PEORIA to GRAFTON. 170. US24, St.78, St.10, St.100

0. PEORIA. Tour cont. along W. side of R. on US24. St.29 crosses R. here (E) to E. Peoria & Crève Coeur St. Pk. (see US24).

SIDE TRIP: On St.29 (S) from E. Peoria. At 10^m Pekin, favorite stopping place for Lincoln & others on 8th Circuit. 14^m J. with St.122; (E) 5^m on St.122 to Delavan (RR. conns.), charming town on "High Prairie" in fertile cornbelt; Delavan Assoc. was org. to promote temperance colony, & 50 R.I. & Mass. families arrived in May, 1837. Daniel Cheever H., depot on Underground Railroad. Straut's Store, oldest bldg. Prairie Rest, org. cemetery. Civil War Mon.

Innumerable small Ls. reach into marshlands E. of R., & Is. of varying size interrupt its easy flow. 33. US24 unites with St.78. 36. Tour turns S. with St.78. 42. W. HAVANA, near mouth of Spoon R. (see). Rd. leads (NW) here to Dickson Mounds St. Pk. (see). Across Ill. R. is Havana, center of duckhunting area. Tour turns (W) on US24 to J. with St.100 at 45., then (S) on St.100, which winds back & forth across R. Downriver is Grand I., splitting R. into narrow channels. 77. St.100 crosses C.B. & Q. RR. Bridge (toll) to BEARDSTOWN, rural trade center lying low in the valley & washed by many floods. 91. (W) J. with St.104.

SIDE TRIP: On St.104 (W) 3^m to Meredosia (corruption of Fr., "marais d'osier"), where st.'s 1st RR. ended in 1837, a strap-iron Rd., 24^m long, intended as part of Rd. to link Cairo & Helena.

92. (E) J. with St.104.

SIDE TRIP: On St.104 (E) 17^m to Jacksonville (Wabash, C.B. & Q., & Alton RRs.; Greyhound & other busses), one of prettiest Ill. cities & cultural center for 120 yrs. Founded as seat of Morgan Cty. in 1825 & sett. 1st by Southerners, it became within a few yrs. virtually a New England community, which it resembles today. It was important Underground RR. Sta. Stephen A. Douglas & Wm. J. Bryan both practiced law here. In Jacksonville are Ill. & MacMurray Colleges, St. Sch. for the Deaf, one of largest in U.S., St. Sch. for the Blind, noted for music dept., & St. Hospital for the Insane. PTS. Est. in 1846 by Ill. Meth. Conference as an academy, MacMurray became college in 1909. Among many fine bldgs.

on attractive campus are Henry A. Pfeiffer Mem. Lib. (1941), MacMurray Hall (1928) & Ann Rutledge Hall (1937). (4) 1101 W. College Ave., Illinois College, 1st Ill. school to graduate a college class (1835). John M. Ellis, Presb. minister, planned the college, & 1st teachers were of "Yale Band" of theological students who helped est. many early colleges. Edw. Beecher, brother of Harriet & Henry Ward Beecher, was 1st Pres. School was closely identified with cause of abolition. In 1903, the Jacksonville Female Academy (1835) was formally inc. with it. Today, Illinois is ranking liberal arts college, nonsectarian but assoc. with Cong. & Presb. churches. Notable among its red-brick bldgs. are: Beecher Hall (1829), oldest college bldg. in Ill.; Sturtevant Hall (1857); Tanner Mem. Lib. (1929), a model of functional architecture.

The broad lower valley has been compared to tranquil landscapes of early Ital. paintings. R. winds around small Is. & past Naples, Florence, Montezuma & Buckhorn Landings. 106. J. with US36-US54, with which St.100 unites (W).

SIDE TRIP: On US36-US54 (E) 6m to Winchester, platted in 1830. Stephen A. Douglas Mon.

St.100 crosses R. & turns (S) again at DETROIT, 112. 138. KAMPSVILLE, center for hunters, fishermen & vacationers. Bartholomew Beach is one of best along R. Country around is increasingly primitive. 148. HARDIN, shipping pt. for apples. Here St.100 crosses (E) R., which parallels Miss. for several miles. 164. PERE MARQUETTE ST. PK. (f.h.pic.camp.refreshments.lodge), one of most scenic in Ill., looking down over both Rs. (see E. St. Louis Trip IV). Stone cross marks site where Pere Marquette & Jolliet made camp. 170. GRAFTON, at pt. where relatively clear stream of the Ill. enters turbid R. that Lincoln called "Father of the Waters."

US 24—ILLINOIS

ILL.-IND. LINE (4m from Kentland, Ind.) (W) to ILL.-MO. LINE (6m from Taylor, Mo.). 250. US24

Via: Sheldon, Watseka, Gilman, Chatsworth, Chenoa, El Paso, Peoria, Lewistown, Astoria, Rushville, Mount Sterling, Quincy. Accoms.: Throughout route.

US24 is straight route across prairie to Peoria, where tour turns (S) along Ill. R., then crosses Spoon R. valley, made famous by Edgar Lee Masters.

Sec. 1: IND. LINE to PEORIA. 116.

On E. half of tour are many fine farms & somewhat austere villages of Amish & Mennonite communities whose ancestors sett. here a hundred yrs. ago. Communal principle is still strong, & the various groups usually form self-dependent rural communities. 3. SHELDON, shipping pt. for grain. 12. WATSEKA, on bend of Iroquois R. Many large Hs. & bus. bldgs. remain from golden age after Civil War. Gurdon Hubbard, Amer. Fur Co. agent, 1st white settler in Iroquois Cty., married Watch-e-kee ("pretty woman"), daughter of Potawatomi chief, but after 2 yrs. he abandoned both fur trade & his opportunistic marriage. When village became city, seat in 1865, it was named for the deserted wife. 20. CRESCENT CITY. J. with St.49.

SIDE TRIP: On St.49 (S) 16m to Cissna Pk., center of large New Amish community. The men & women dress simply in dark clothes, take no part in gov. or military action. US24 passes several villages with relatively large Amish pop.

50. FORREST. 55.5. FAIRBURY. 75. GRIDLEY. 96.5. EUREKA, seat of Eureka College & Mennonite Home for the Aged. Leading industry is Libby, McNeill & Libby (O.appl.), canning plant. Eureka College, founded in 1830's by Ky. pioneers, has been recognized by Disciples of Christ Ch. since 1852. It was 1st college in Ill. to admit women on equal basis with men. Adm. Bldg. (1858.remod.). J. with St.117.

SIDE TRIP: On St.117 & St.116 (NW) 10m to Metamora. In Metamora Cth. St. Mem. (1845.Gr.Rev.wings 1884), Judge David Davis, "best stump speaker in Ill.," held court in Lincoln's time: Courtroom (rest.), on 2nd fl.; Woodford Cty. Hist. Soc. Mus., on 1st fl. Judge Davis, later Supreme Ct. Justice, was largely responsible for Lincoln's nomination in 1860.

114. EAST PEORIA, home of Caterpillar Tractor Co. (O.appl.). On St.29 (S) 2m is Ft. Crève Coeur St. Hist. Pk. (pic.) along the bluffs; game preserve. Mon. at probable Site of La Salle's Ft. (1680), wrecked by his own men while Tonti, who had been left in charge, was at Starved Rock (see Ill. Waterway Tour).

116. PEORIA

S. Adams St., near Franklin St. Bridge., Union Depot. Hamilton Blvd. & Jefferson Ave., Bus Stas. On St.9 (SW) 5m, Mun. Airport. Excursions on R. & boats for rent. All kinds of accoms. Recr. & pic facils. in Bradley, Glen Oak (Zoo) & other pks. Players Theater. Bradley Inst. & Pub. Lib. art exhibits & other events. Civic orchestra. Info.: Assoc. of Com., Alliance Life Insurance Bldg., Main St. & Jefferson Ave.

Peoria, on site of 1st white settlement in Ill., is now st.'s 2nd city, cultural & trade center for wide area rich in coal, grain & livestock; one of greatest whiskey-producing cities in world. US24 enters over Cedar St. Bridge (1933, more than a mile long without lift or draw span) or by Franklin Bridge (E), which leads into downtown Peoria. On low R. plain are most of the many industries served by Mun. River & Rail Terminal. Business & residential secs. rise on higher & older riverbed. Grand View Dr. along R. passes great estates, Grand View & other pks. (long-span bridge under const.). Leading manufactures are alcoholic, dairy & food products, sheet metal & castings & farm implements. In 1673 Jolliet & Père Marquette crossed L. Peoria. Then, in 1680, La Salle est. Ft. Crève Coeur (see) on E. bank, & after his death, Tonti (see) returned to the wrecked ft. & est. a 2nd Ft. St. Louis (see Ill. Waterway Tour), to which came the Fr. & Inds. from abandoned post at Starved Rock. The Fr. village Au Pé ("among the Peoria"), or Peoria, begun in 1730 on W. bank, was abandoned in 1796. Meanwhile New Peoria had been est. in 1779 & flourished under Brit. protection. When Clark took Kaskaskia & Vincennes (see), Au Pé was left undisturbed, but, in War of 1812, the Amers. became suspicious of the Fr. villagers. Capt. T. E. Craig landed armed boats & allowed his men to pillage & burn the town. Fr. prisoners, followed by their families, were taken to site of Alton (see E. St. Louis) & left without food or proper clothing. Some claims against Gov. were sett. later, & Gov. Edwards formally condemned the pillaging. In 1813 a new stockade was built & named for Clark, & a new city began with influx of New England settlers. When city was created in 1825, the old name, Peoria, was restored. N. Reg. Research Lab. of U.S. Dept. of Agric. was built here in 1940.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) In Cth. Sq., bet. Jefferson Ave. & Adams St. & Hamilton Blvd. & Main St., is the domed County Cth. (1876, Ital. Ren.). SIDE TRIP: On US150 (NW) 14m to Jubilee College St. Pk. (pic.), former campus of pioneer sch. Weathered golden-yellow bldgs. stand under tall elms along Kickapoo Cr. Here Philander Chase, 1st Episc. bishop in Ohio & founder of Kenyon College (see), founded Jubilee College in 1839. Bishop Chase's Grave.

Sec. 2: PEORIA to MO. LINE. 134.

US24 follows Ill. R. out of Peoria, past small mining & R. towns. 9. ORCHARD MINES. Across R., on St.9, is PEKIN, trade & transp. center. For many miles along both sides of R. are good f. & h. grounds. At c.37.5. J. with Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On Rd. (SW) 3.5m to Dickson Mounds St. Pk. (O.9-5.pic.). The mounds, acquired by st. in 1945, were explored by orig. owners of site, Dr. Don F. Dickson & his father, with help of archaeologists. More than 230 skeletons of prehist. men, women & children were discovered & left exactly as they were found, with arrowheads, pottery & ornaments around them. Exhibit, under permanent shelter, reveals much of life of agric. villages that were scattered over Ill. country 1,000 yrs. ago. The great number of burials, incl. several family groups, indicates that epidemic struck the village on river plain below.

38. LEWISTOWN, early home of Edgar Lee Masters, poet of Spoon R. valley. Maj. O. M. Ross founded town, in 1821, on land grant to soldiers of War of 1812. ROSS

Mansion, at 409 E. Milton Ave., is "McNeely Mansion" of "Spoon River Anthology." At 1127 N. Main St., Maj. LINCOLN NAT. MEM. HY.

ILL.-IND. LINE (Vincennes, Ind.) (W) to BEARDSTOWN, ILL. 246. St.181, St.1, Cty. Rd., St.16 & St.121

Via: Russelville, Palestine, Marshall, Charleston, Campbell, Decatur, Springfield, Petersburg.

Lincoln Nat. Mem. Hy. follows (marked) route of Thos. Lincoln from Hodgenville, Ky., into Ind., & then, in Mar. 1830, from Vincennes across Ill. prairie. Along trl. in Ill. are mems. & statues, st. pks. & nat. shrines, incl. restored village of New Salem & Lincoln's Tomb.

Sec. 1: IND. LINE to DECATUR. 154.

0. LINCOLN MEM. BRIDGE (1931) over Wabash R. In 30-a. pk. (camp.pic.), near Ill. approach, stands Lincoln Trl. Mon. (by Nellie Walker). Trl. parallels R. on St.181 (W).

SIDE TRIP: US50-US150 enters Ill. at bridge. 9m Lawrenceville, oil-refining center in richest oil & natural gas reg. 31.5m Olney. Near here is Larchmond (grounds O.), former estate of Dr. Rbt. Ridgway, noted ornithologist.

12. RUSSELVILLE. Ferry in operation more than 120 yrs. 26. PALESTINE, thriving settlement in Lincoln's time with land office, taverns, mills & stores. From here the Lincolns headed (W) on what is now St.33 to J. with St.1 at 30., then across open prairie. 57. MARSHALL. J. with US40, which crosses (W) Stone Bridge built for Cumberland Trl. in 1830's. Mem. Hy. follows Marked Rd. (NW) through sparsely settled reg. 85. CHARLESTON, seat of Eastern Ill. St. Teachers College. In city. fairgrounds are Grave of Dennis Hanks, Lincoln's spirited cousin & Site of 4th Lincoln-Douglas Debate, heard by 12,000. In Morton Pk. is Sally Lincoln Chapter H. of D.A.R., named for Lincoln's stepmother, in log cabin (1832) where the young circuit rider visited. Coles County Cth. has Lincoln papers. Eastern St. Teachers College, housed in attractive stone bldgs. (Norman); founded in 1895. J. with St.130.

SIDE TRIP: On St.130 (S) 7m to Fox Ridge St. Pk. (f.boat.camp.pic.), 700 as., deeply wooded, near Embarrass R.

The Lincolns' covered wagon cont. (W) from Charleston, but Mem. Hy. follows marked route (S) to 3 later homes of Thos. Lincoln. It passes Sarah Lincoln H., in CAMPBELL, 92.5., where Lincoln's mother lived after her husband's death, 1851-69. 94. LOG CABIN ST. PK. (pic.), 86 as. of Thos. Through RR. & bus conns. Capital Airport (NW) 3 8m. Hotels. Tourist camps. Theaters (stage & screen). Recr. facils. in several pks., L. Springfield & Sangamon R. (f.boat. swim.). Annual Beaux Arts Ball (Jan.); Ill. St. Fair (late Aug.). Info.. C. of C., 5th & Capitol Sts.

Mem. Hy. crosses S. side of the st. capital, which spreads out over rolling prairie. Ninth St. & Wabash RR. tracks divide W. sec., incl. gov. bldgs., bus. & residential areas, from E. half, where are industrial plants, RR. yards & homes of some 4,000 Negroes. Springfield is, above all else, the city of Abr. Lincoln. Here he lived for many yrs. & here stand his tomb, his home & other cherished mems. Carl Sandburg & the Springfield poet, Vachel Lindsay, have paid tribute to the man & the city. Elisha Kelly came here from N.C. in 1818, & by 1821 the little community became city. seat. In 1832 the "Talisman" created a sensation as it came up the Sangamon from St. Louis, but the river fell, & the steamer had to back downriver, taking with it Springfield's hopes. With opening of Erie Canal, the rich prairies attracted thousands of settlers, & agitation began for more centrally located capital. Lincoln led Sangamon Cty.'s "Long Nine" (legislators whose total height was 54') in successful effort to remove capital from Vandalia (see) to Springfield. Prosperity came with the RRs., & coal mining began late in 1860's. Since then city has grown quietly with the state.

Through RR. & bus conns. Airports (no scheduled serv.). Accomms. Golf at Kenwood Links (sm.fee). Mun. swim. pool & rink. Univ. tennis courts (O. to pub.). Dramatic, musical & other Univ. events. Info.: Champaign C. of C., 318 N. Neil St.; Urbana Assoc. of Com., 201 W. Main St.

The 2 municipalities, with Wright St. as dividing line, share one of st.'s leading univs. Urbana, older & smaller city, with most of Univ. bldgs., is much like other attractive college towns, while Champaign has large bus. dist., numerous factories & the RRs., as well as pleasant residential secs. College dormitories & houses, shops & eating places are about equally divided. Urbana, sett. in 1820's, boomed with laying of Ill. Cen. RR. tracks 2^m N. in 1854, but Depot refused to be inc. with Old Town & became Champaign in 1860. The rival cities united in lobbying for new univ. est. in 1867 as Ill. Industrial College. Under Gov. John P. Altgeld (see) in 1890's, the sch. received sufficient aid to gain recognition as ranking st. univ. PTS. OF INT. IN CHAMPAIGN: (1) Neil St. & Univ. Of special int. also are Natural Resources Bldg., Home Research Center (1940) & Smith Mem. Music Hall.

194. PESOTUM, like many prairie towns, is centered by towering grain elevator beside RR. tracks. 203. TUSCOLA & 212. ARCOLA are centers of broom industry. Much fine-leaved broom corn is grown in vic.

SIDE TRIP: On St.133 (W) 9m from Arcola to Arthur, center of large Amish community; traditional crafts, customs & speech.

227. MATTOON, one of larger towns on US45; shipping & mfg. center for prosperous agric. reg. Fish Hatchery, on L. Mattoon (SW). J. with St.16 sec. of Lincoln Nat. Mem. Hy. (see).

Sec. 2: MATTOON to KENTUCKY LINE. 203.

SHELBYVILLE MORaine, (S) of Mattoon, marks farthest reach of Wis. Glacier. Corn, hay & wheat are important crops, but fields are broken by orchards & wooded valleys of numerous streams. 7. Hy. rises over ridge of moraine. 28. EFFINGHAM, largest center in Effingham Cty., which was sett. largely by Germans in 1860's. Near town (W) is L. Kanaga (bath, cottages). J. with US40 (see). At 60, US45 unites (E) with US50 for a few miles. 61. FLORA, the big town of Clay Cty. Around it are immense beet & clover fields. 63. Tour turns (S) past some of Clay Cty. oil wells. 88. FAIRFIELD, sett. in 1819, mingles modern industry with relics of the past. J. with St.15.

SIDE TRIP: On St.15 (E) 17m to Albion, 1st of Eng. colonies founded by Geo. Flower (1788-1862), who was enchanted by Ill. prairie. He brought colonists from England & founded Albion in 1818, was prominent in antislavery movement.

109. ENFIELD (sett. 1813); mule sale on Homecoming Day (Oct.). 117. NORRIS CITY. J. with St.1 (see). From here onward, country is quite different from rest of Ill., both in its rugged contours, & in hist. & social pattern. Scenery is strikingly beautiful, especially in Ozark Range. Tulip tree, sycamore, beech, butternut & other common trees reach greater height & size in the ravines & rich bottomlands. The people keep sense of hist. importance & family kinship to marked degree. 130. EL-DORADO, sm. mining town. 137. HARRISBURG, on C.C.C. & St.L. RR., important coal-mining center. US51-US66 (Main St.) crosses W. edge of Normal, seat of Ill. St. Normal Univ., & cont. (S) through center of Bloomington, home of Ill. Wesleyan Univ. In early 1820's, settlers of Brit. stock came to trading post near grove at meeting of Ind. trls., & settlement came to be known as Blooming Grove. Jas. Allin, in 1830, took land N. of grove & offered McLean Cty. a cth. site. The new town, platted as Bloomington, prospered with est. of univ. in 1853 & laying of RR. tracks in 1854. Ill. St. Normal Univ., 2nd W. of Alleghenies, was awarded to N. Bloomington (now Normal) in 1857. Lincoln's crucial "Lost Speech" was made here at Anti-Nebraska Convention, 1856, when Ill. Republican party was org. Bloomington was home of Judge David Davis (see); Adlai Stevenson, U.S. Vice-Pres.; Govs. J. M. Hamilton & Jos. Fifer; Rachel Crothers, writer, & Margaret Illington, who honored town & state in her stage name. "Bloomington Daily Pantagraph," staunch supporter of Lincoln, has been published continuously since 1846. Spreading over wooded moraine, Bloomington looks much more a univ. town than the important mfg., commercial & RR. center which it also is. Residential & campus neighborhoods have many Vict. mansions on broad lawns, while bus. dist. was largely rebuilt after fire in 1900.

PTS. OF INT. IN BLOOMINGTON: (1) 901 N. McLean St., Adlai H. Stevenson H. (1850's.Tudor). Stevenson (1835-1914) came from Ky. in 1852, was elected Vice Pres. in 1893 & defeated Wm. J. Decatur, prairie town on Sangamon R., seat of Millikin College, is trade, cultural & recr. center for wide area; sometimes called Soybean Capital of Amer. The Sangamon, an early link bet. backwoods & Ill. & Miss. Rs., crosses town to L. Decatur, formed by dam (1923) at NE. limits. Gold dome of Staley Mfg. Co. Adm. Bldg. (14 stories) is visible for miles around. Staley Co., makers of corn & soybean products, is a leading industry, & Wabash RR. shops provide employment for thousands. Coal fields & more recently discovered oil in vic. make Decatur one of st.'s important industrial towns. It was laid out in 1829 & named for hero of Tripoli. Abr. Lincoln began to study law in Decatur County Cth. & was 1st mentioned for Presidency at Ill. Republican convention here in 1860. Lincoln went down the Sangamon in 1831, when he hired out with Denton Offutt to take flatboat to New Orleans, his 1st experience of world beyond the prairies. PTS. OF INT.: (1) W. Main St., Jas. SIDE TRIP: On US50 (E) 10m to Salem, oil center; birthpl. of Wm. Jennings Bryan (1860-1925), pacifist & defender of free silver & fundamentalism; Secy. of War under Pres. Wilson until World War I. Bryan H. (O.1852), now a Mus.

97. CENTRALIA, platted by Ill. Cent. RR. in 1853 & still very much a RR. town. Among 1st settlers were many Germans who gave it solid financial beginning, its "saengerfest," & prevailing architectural style. Coal miners, oil workers & RR. men mingle in stores, bars, banks & union halls. Scattered oil derricks rise in the fields while hillsides bloom with peach orchards. One of worst mining disasters occurred in Centralia Mine No. 5 on March 25, 1947, when 111 men were killed in explosion. Extensive underground workings of the mine, opened in 1907, made a trap for the miners. Dangerously dry & dusty state of mine had been recognized for several yrs. Centralia Coal Co. was indicted for "wilful negligence" & fined $1,000. Legislature passed resolution expressing "profound grief & sorrow" & purchased painting "The Coal Miner." Since 1938, oil in vic. has surpassed coal in importance. Strawberries are a leading product. IRVINGTON, at 106., was once strawberry capital, with migratory pickers arriving from all sides. Today its peach orchards are of greater value 117. ASHLEY. J. with St.15.

16. NAUVOO, mecca of thousands who wish to see annual Grape Festival in beautiful old town, site of Jos. Smith's Mormon community & of Cabet's Icarian village. Nauvoo extends from Flats up terraced hills & into level country beyond. Vineyards in vic. produce wines for which Nauvoo has been known since 1850's. In 1824, Capt. Jas. White traded 200 sacks of corn to Sac & Fox Inds. for their village, & by 1830 a p.o. was est. in Venus, as new settlement was called. Commerce, an older town, absorbed Venus in 1834 & was formally org. in 1837. When Jos. Smith (see) was driven from Mo., he brought his followers to Commerce City & under special charter, renamed it Nauvoo (Hebrew for "pleasant land"). A city of 20,000 grew up, & bldg. of great temple was begun in 1841 (never completed). The Gentiles feared political strength of the Saints, & charges of polygamy (never openly practiced) & other offenses were made against them. When "Expositor" was published by faction of the church "striking a blow at tyranny & oppression," Smith had the press & copies of paper destroyed. The Laws, leaders of the faction, had Smith & his brother arrested & lodged in Carthage jail (see below). A mob broke in, June 27, 1844, & murdered the Prophet & his brother Hyrum. Brigham Young took the leadership, disposed of the rich properties & led the Saints to Salt L. City (see). In 1849, the Fr. Icarians, led by Etienne Cabet (1788-1856), took possession of the deserted town. In Cabet's "Voyage to Icaria," the ideas back of this experiment are developed, similar to contemporary communism in emphasis on st. control of social & economic affairs. Colony prospered until dissension & dissatisfaction destroyed its harmony. Cabet, with some 200, went to St. Louis, Mo., while others est. colony near Corning, Ia. (see). The Cath. pastor started grape-growing with vines from St. Louis settlement, & the remaining Icarians started making wines, aided by Irish & German immigrants. Before Civil War, Nauvoo wines were shipped from 40 arched cellars to all parts of country. The industry flourished until Prohibition, when the making of a blue cheese, similar to Roquefort, was begun in abandoned wine cellars. After repeal, Nauvoo returned to wine making & at annual Grape Festival, celebrates "Wedding of the Wine & Cheese" as it is done in Roquefort, France. PTS. OF INT.: (1) Jos. Quincy, seat of Quincy College & Notre Dame Academy, has beautiful setting along bluffs in Mark Twain's country, a few miles N. of Hannibal, Mo. (see). Along waterfront are numerous large pks. & most of the industrial plants. Quincy is mfg. & trade center for large area in 3 states. In 1822, John Wood (later Civil War gen. & gov.) came to explore Military Bounty Tract. Soon soldiers & adventurers built up small settlement which they named for the new Pres., John Quincy Adams, seat of Adams Cty. For many yrs. it was st.'s 2nd city, trans. & commercial center.

Through RR. & bus conns. Accomms. & recr. facils. Golf (daily fee) at Egyptian Country Club, (N) 10^m on US51. Steamboat excursions from Ohio Levee. Info. at Assoc. of Comm., 216 7th St.

Cairo, where spring begins in Feb., has atmosphere of South, with ginkgo trees & magnolias, canebreaks, cotton patches & catfish. It is still a river town of importance, on levee-protected peninsula bet. Ohio & Miss. Rs. Long steel barges float into the terminals, replacing packets of the past when this was biggest city in S. Ill. Because of concrete wall along Ohio Levee (improved by Fed. Gov. in 1936), Cairo was only city on lower river to be untouched by flood of 1937. From the beginning, the city turned toward the Ohio, & Ohio St., now lined with deserted taverns, warehs. & stores, was once noisy with traders, steamboatmen, & travelers of all kinds. City is residential except for industrial N. sec. In S. end, houses stand close together on sm. lots sold by early promoters. In other areas, Vict. mansions on ampler estates are scattered among modern bungalows. In center of city are schs., chs., homes, bus. & professional offices of Negro residents, about a third of total pop. Principal industries are cottonseed processing, warehousing & transshipping, & lumber milling. In country around, long known as "Egypt," the fertile delta soil produces oats, corn & hay, vegetables, fruit & watermelons.

Père Marquette & other explorers noted the finger of land at meeting of Ohio & Miss. Rs. & in 1702 a Fr. colony under Charles Juchereau de St. Denys set up ft. & tannery. Juchereau & others died of a mysterious disease, & the rest joined the Fr. at Mobile. In 1817, Wm. & Thos. Bird & John Comegys, St. Louis merchant, took up land within present city limits. Comegys had city & Bank of Cairo inc. in Jan. 1818, so named because of resemblance to city on the Nile. In 1820 Comegys died & so did his plan for a diked city. A 2nd attempt was made in 1837 when the Boston Yankee, Darius B. Holbrook, helped organize Cairo City & Canal Co. Levee was built, pop. rose to 1,000 within yr. but the co. failed in 1840. Most inhabitants left, & the flood of 1842 rolled over "the breeding place of fever, ague & death" Chas. Dickens had visited that spring. When traffic began on Ill. Cent. RR. bet. Cairo & Chi., Cairo got its finally successful start, & was inc. in 1857. During Civil War, it was concentration pt. for Union Army. In postwar yrs., it was most important city in S. Ill., with superior schs. & chs., sewers & sidewalks. Both R. & RR. shipping prospered, but gradually the steel rails triumphed over the steamboat & period of growth was over, although Cairo remains an important port.

Chi., stretching 28^m along L. Mich., is 2nd city in size & importance in U.S., its greatest livestock & grain-shipping market & distribution pt. & world's leading meat-packing center. Water-borne traffic in harbor exceeds that of Panama Canal. From lake front, city rolls back across former swamplands over more than 200-sq.-mile area, a fabric of neighborhoods, sm. towns & industrial communities. Site was key pt. on portage bet. Gt. Ls. & Gulf of Mex., on edge of country's richest agric. belt & midway bet. great ore & coal fields. Thousands of pioneers & foreign born were drawn into Chi.'s expanding labor market. Present pop. is one-fourth foreign born, with Poles, Germans, Russians, Itals. & Irish among largest groups. Most concentrated Negro community in world lives within sm. area bounded by 22nd & 67th Sts. & Cottage Grove & Wentworth Aves.

The name, Chicago, comes from Ind. word for "strong, powerful," applied by Miami to the R. because of pungent garlic beds along its banks. The modern metropolis justifies orig. meaning in its vigor & bigness. It has world's largest hotel (Stevens), largest commercial bldg. (Merchandise Mart) & one of largest stockyards. It is a city of spectacular sports, mammoth conventions, fabulous fairs, mass demonstrations & riots. Chi. has been, in turn, the pride of capitalistic enterprise & capital of political corruption, gangsterism & market speculation. It has also been country's greatest melting pot, hotbed of muckraking & leader of social reform, literary capital during "Amer. Renaissance" & home of univ. of internat. repute. Columbian Exposition, 1893, celebrated Amer.'s position as world power & set architectural standards for the nation. Cent. of Progress, 1933-34, flaunted miracles of science & technology. In 1940's, Univ. of Chi. accepted responsibility for administration of atomic energy labs. at Oak Ridge.

Along lake front is series of beautiful pks. & famous Mich. Ave. & L. Shore Dr., lined with great estates. Wacker Dr. follows curve of R. around the Loop, a towering mass of stone, concrete, steel & glass encircled by elevated tracks. From Board of Trade Bldg., city's tallest structure, a gigantic aluminum "Ceres," goddess of grain, looks down LaSalle St. Branches of Chi. R. cut rest of city into so-called N., S. & W. sides.

Hist. begins with the R. (see Ill. Waterway Tour). In 1673 Joliet & Père Marquette portaged from Des Plaines to Chi. R. In 1676, Father Allouez was greeted by Ill. Inds. & sailed his canoe over the ice of frozen L. About 1690 a Miami Ind. band est. 2 villages in vic., & Count Frontenac stationed garrison & trading post. Father Francois Pinet's Mission lasted from 1696 to 1702, & then Fr.-Ind. settlement declined. Jean Baptiste Pointe du Sable, Santo Domingo Negro, built trading post in 1790's, & here 1st permanent white settler, John Kinzie, made his home in 1804. Blockhs. & stockade were erected by soldiers under Capt. John Whistler, grandfather of painter, & ft. was named for Henry Dearborn, Pres. Jefferson's Secy. of War. During War of 1812, ft. was evacuated, & soldiers, women & children on their way to Detroit were set upon by Inds. & more than half of them massacred. The Inds. burned Ft. Dearborn. It was not until Chi. was proposed as terminal for Ill.-Mich. Canal that settlement really began.

City was platted in 1830 & inc. in 1833. Settlers crowded in after Black Hawk War, & feverish speculation in land ensued. Surviving panic of 1837, Chi. became greatest grain market in the world in 1840's & 50's & by time of Civil War was world's leading lumber market & RR. center. Union Stock Yards were built & McCormick & other factories rose. Most of the 300,000 residents were flimsily housed, & sewage filtered into water supply, but mansions were rising along the L., mills, factories & distilleries were busy, & saloons, race tracks & bawdy houses flourished. In July 1871, Main Chi. R. was diverted into S. Branch; & on Oct. 8 the great fire began in the O'Leary barn. Within little more than a day, 250 Chicagoans were dead & thousands homeless & destitute. Nearly 18,000 bldgs. had been destroyed. Aided by people all over Amer. & Europe, reconstruction began immediately, & in next few yrs. a new city emerged. In 1892 the Drainage Canal was begun.

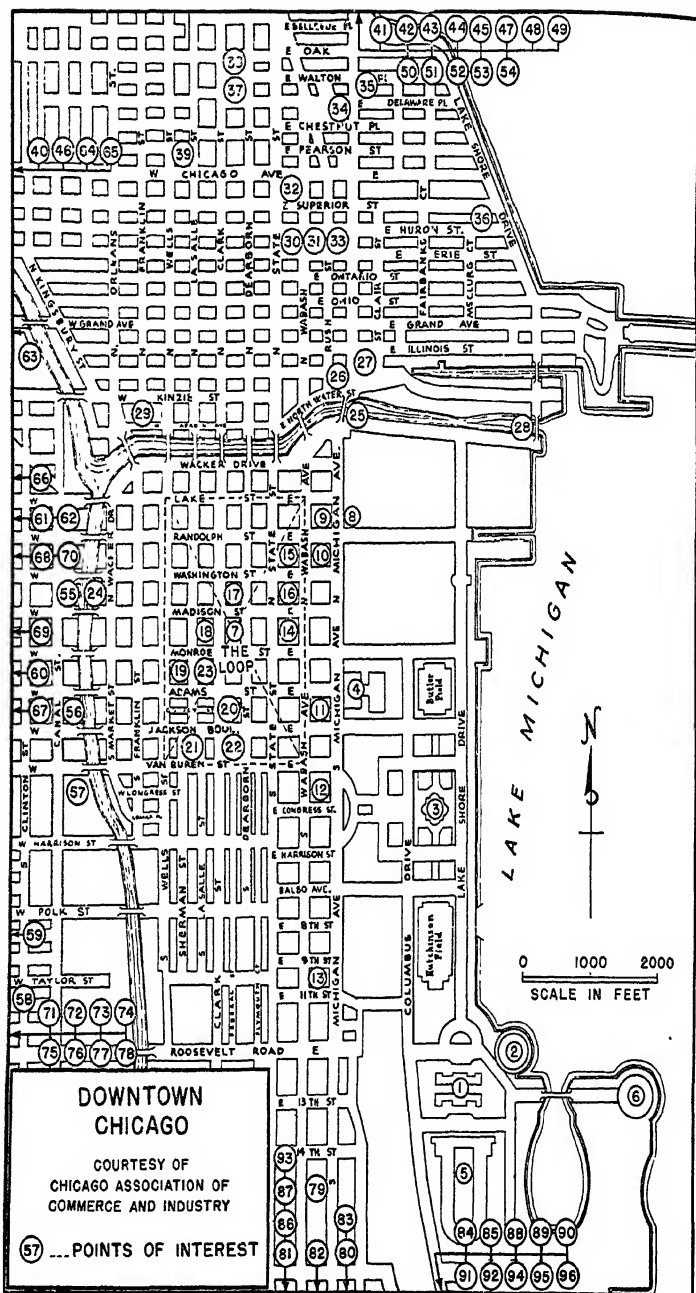

During last yrs. of 19th cent. nation-wide labor unrest found a focus in Chi. After RR. strike of 1877 was broken by Fed. troops, the struggle became more intense & bitter. Haymarket bombing & riot occurred in 1886; Alfred Parsons & 3 other leaders were hanged. Gov. John P. Altgeld, one of great figures in Chi. hist., pardoned 3 men who had been imprisoned. During Pullman Strike in 1894, Gov. Altgeld protested Pres. Cleveland's action in sending in Fed. troops. Altgeld was not reelected in 1896. During these same yrs. Hull H. was created (1889), Pub. Lib. & Civic Federation founded, Louis Sullivan & other Chi. architects developed the skyscraper, Theodore Thomas org. Chi. Orchestral Assoc., & Univ. of Chi. was opened (1892). In 1893 the "White City" on built-up marshlands (present Jackson Pk.) housed World's Columbian Exposition, & in 1896 Wm. J. Bryan made "Cross of Gold" speech at Democratic Nat. Convention. City also had gained unrivaled reputation for political corruption, organized vice & hoodlumism. With 1900's, the country's 1st juvenile court was est. & D. H. Burnham, architect of White City, drew up plan for civic development. During World War I, Wm. Hale (Big Bill) Thompson, an isolationist, was mayor, but Chi. entered the war with gusto & came out with swollen profits. Thousands of Negroes had come to replace workers drawn into armed forces, & conflict arose in congested areas. In South Side riot (1919).

22 Negro & 16 white persons were killed. In 1920's Chi. was notorious for gangsterism & corruption. Then came stock market crash, fall of Insull's empire & other financial structures, repeal of prohibition & imprisonment of Al Capone. Chi. suffered in the depression, but bravely opened Progress Exposition. Chi. still has breezy, light-hearted air, but its schs., libs., & other civic institutions are convincing evidence of maturity.

East St. Louis, important meat-packing & mfg. center, is surrounded by smaller industrial suburbs of big city across R. Reg. is assoc. with Geo. Rogers Clark, who took possession of Northwest during Rev. Bet. Cahokia at outskirts & downriver Kaskaskia were trading post & fts., Fr. missions & settlements, taken by Brit. in 1763 & then conquered by Clark ("Washington of the West") in 1778, by tact instead of bloodshed.

TRIPS OUT OF EAST ST. LOUIS

I. E. ST. LOUIS (S) to FT. KASKASKIA ST. PK. 57. St.38 Cty. Rd.

Via: Cahokia & Ft. Chartres St. Pk. St.3 crosses Amer. Bottom where Fr. colonists made 1st settlements in st. & created civilized life in the wilderness, making friends with Inds. & dealing prosperously in fur. 3.5. CAHOKIA POWER PLANT (O.appl.). 4. CAHOKIA, an islet in the industrial sea; oldest town in Ill., home of ultramodern Parks College. In 1698 Seminary of Foreign Missions est. mission here among Tamaroa Inds., & Cahokia remained only Miss. Valley settlement not under Jesuit jurisdiction. After ft. passed to Brit. in 1765, the Cahokians were undisturbed in their way of life. When 30 of Clark's Kentuckians & a multitude of Fr. who had taken oath of allegiance arrived at Cahokia one summer day in 1788, the ft. was surrendered without a shot being fired. When the Brit. & Ind. allies attacked Sp. city of St. Louis in 1780, Clark crossed R. from Cahokia to aid Don Fernande de Leyba. There is evidence that Terese de Leyba, the Gov.'s sister, was the 1 woman loved by the leader of the Big Knives. She went back to Spain, & entered a convent, where she died 2 yrs. after Clark's death (1818). In 1795, Cahokia became seat of city, covering about three-quarters of what is now Ill. PTS. OF INT.: Cahokia Cth. St. Mem. (O.restaurant.1760. by Francois Saucier). It was used as cth., 1793-1814, & then as saloon. From St. Louis World's Fair in 1904, it was moved to Jackson Pk., Chicago; then, in 1939, brought back to orig. site & faithfully rest., with vertical-log walls, falling eaves & veranda. At J. of St.3 & St.157, Ch. of the Holy Family (1799), oldest ch. in Ill. Near-by is handsome new ch. & Old Cahokia Cemetery. Est. as private sch. in 1927, it is oldest Federally-approved aviation college in U.S. (1928) & in 1946, it became college of St. Louis Univ. (see).

8.5. DUPO (Prairie du Pont). 15. COLUMBIA, an attractive German settlement. 25. LEMENS. J. with Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On Rd. (S) 11m to Renault, named for director of mining in John Law's Mississippi Bubble (1718-20) scheme, aimed to pay off Fr. nat. debt by exploiting La. Terr. Disappointed in dreams of gold & silver, the expedition became a colony with several hundred Santo Domingo Negroes, brought be Renault.

42. RUMA. J. with St.155.

SIDE TRIP: On St.155 (SW) 7m to Prairie Du Rocher, founded in 1720's by Law's Fr. colonists. 11m Fort Chartres St. Pk. (pic.facils.mus.), on Miss. R., on site of last ft. in N. Amer. to fly Fr. flag. The 1st Fort du Chartres was wooden stockade built in 1720 & rebuilt in 1727. In 1753-56, the famous engineer, Vauban, built great stone stronghold, pride of New France. In 1765 it became Ft. Cavendish, seat of Brit. gov. in Ill. country until 1772. Gateway & combined Chapel & Guardh. are reconstructed & orig. Powder Magazine restored.

55.5. J. with Rd. leading 1.5m (W) to Ft. Kaskaskia St. Pk. (pic.facils.). Kaskaskia, one of principal Fr. settlements & 1st capital of Ill., was destroyed when Miss. R. changed its course & overflowed neck of land bet. it & Kaskaskia R. Kaskaskia today lies bet. old & new channels, the only part of Ill. W. of the great R. Earthworks of ft. are on crest of the bluffs, Garrison Hill Cemetery & Pierre Menard H. (O.1802. Fr.Col.), at foot of the hill. Settlement, founded in 1703, petitioned for protection during Fr. & Ind. War, & palisaded ft. was built. In 1765 the Fr. destroyed it rather than turn ft. over to Brit.

Geo. Rogers Clark, born (1752) in Va., was 2nd of 10 children. Five of the brothers were Rev. officers, & Wm., the youngest, shared fame of Meriwether Lewis. At 19, the tall, red-haired, dark-eyed Virginian took up land in Ky. & gained a following. Ky. had always been neutral ground for all tribes, & the Inds. resented the white settlers. Clark saw necessity for defense of the frontier & in 1776, influenced Va. Assembly to org. Kty Cty. & aid the frontier. Clark conceived daring plan of possessing Fr. key fts. in Miss. Valley—Cahokia, Kaskaskia & Vincennes (see Indiana)—& eventually, Detroit (see Mich.). In summer of 1778, he had 175 frontiersmen, scouts & Ind. fighters under ruthless discipline on Corn I. (see Ky.). The men set out on June 24, 1778, marching single file over wilderness trls., each man with hunting knife, hatchet & rifle. On evening of July 4th, they arrived at Kaskaskia, & within a few minutes the ft. was taken peacefully. The Fr. awoke to find the dreaded Big Knives in their village, but Clark's handling was notable for sagacity & tact, & he could announce that France was supporting the Rev. The Kaskaskians joined in the march on Cahokia (see above). Father Gibault carried the news to Vincennes, which was "captured without an American present." Clark's dealing with the Inds. in particular reveals his extraordinary flair for leadership. The Meadow Inds., a vagrant band, tried to surprise him in his Cahokia hqs. At the council, Clark ordered that the "silly" Inds. who had "tried to catch a bear asleep" should be treated like squaws. Then the Inds. pleaded with him to smoke the peace pipe. In Feb. 1799, Clark began arduous march to retake Vincennes, which Gen. Hamilton had recaptured. Clark's men crossed the Ill. R., wading for hours in icy water, the Little Wabash, Embarrass & Big Wabash Rs. to surprise Hamilton. Beyond Vincennes was Detroit, but "for want of a few men," due to bankruptcy of Va.'s treasury, Clark was denied that victory. Neither he nor his men had been paid, & his lands were mortgaged to finance expeditions. After the Kentuckians were defeated at Blue Licks, Gov. Benj. Harrison censured Clark & demanded vouchers so that accounts could be settled. The auditor could find no vouchers. Under Jas. Wilkinson (see), the adventurer-soldier who had been in Conway Cabel against Washington, an anti-Clark campaign labeled the great frontiersman a marauder, cheat & drunkard. Clark's career was at an end. The Va. Assembly, in 1812, presented him with annual pension of $400. Half-paralyzed & old at 56, Clark died at Locust Grove, in Feb., 1818. Nearly 100 yrs. later, in 1913, more than 2,000 vouchers were found among old documents in Lib. of Congress. Clark's name was cleared of reproach & a mem. unveiled in Charlottesville (see Va.), where he was born. The noted Draper Coll. of Clark material is in lib. of Wis. St. Hist. Coll. (see Wis.).

Coal mining became chief industry, as it is now. Cty. Hist. Soc. Mus. (O.appl.), in Cth.; Ind. & pioneer relics.

26.5. ALTON, seat of Shurtleff College & an important industrial center in Miss. Valley. A few miles (NW) is confluence of Mo. & Miss. Rs. Bus. dist. spreads along

R. where steamboats collected freight at one of leading 19th cent. ports. Back among the hills are fine residential areas, with many Hs. capped by lookouts, from which merchants watched R. traffic. Close to R. are shacks & tiny gardens of many Negroes & foreign-born residents. The 1st white settler was a Frenchman in late 18th cent. In 1837, several early settlements were inc. as Alton. One of leading plants is Owen-Illinois Glass Co. Alton is famed as home of Elijah Lovejoy who fought lonely battle against slavery. Born at Albion, Me., in 1802, he went to St. Louis, Mo., as Congr. minister in 1827, became devoted to abolitionist cause & left pulpit to edit the "Times." In 1833, the "Observer" appeared, devoted to emancipation. In 1835, public sentiment forced Lovejoy to move to Alton, where "Observer" cont. until Aug., 1837. His native moderation changed to passionate denunciation of the "whip of the republican task master." Three times his presses were destroyed by mobs, & 3 times his friends rallied to his aid. Stubbornly he ordered a 4th press. An armed mob fired the wareh. & shot Lovejoy as he came from the bldg. On his grave in local cemetery is written (in Latin): "Here lies Lovejoy. Spare him now that he is buried." Last of Lincoln-Douglas debates was held in Alton.

ROCK ISLAND & MOLINE

Quad Cities area incl. Rock Island, Moline, East Moline & the larger city of Davenport, Iowa (see). The Ill. cities have developed largely on peninsula bet. Rock R. & the Miss. R., which flows (W) past their industrial & bus. dists. On the island of Rock I., in the Miss., is large U.S. Arsenal.

Through RR. & bus conns. in Rock I. & Moline. Moline Airport, 7^m (SE) on US150. Good accoms. & recr. facils. incl. mun. swim. pool & pub. golf courses. Annual Pow Wow (Labor Day wk. end) in Black Hawk St. Pk. (see below). Info.: Moline Assoc. of Com., 5th Ave. Bldg.; Rock I. C. of C., Ft. Armstrong Hotel. Miss. R. Bridges: US6 crosses Rock R. into E. Moline & then Miss. R. over Iowa-Ill. Mem. Bridge (toll) to Bettendorf, Iowa, by-passing downtown Rock I. & Davenport. US67 crosses Rock R. & W. edge of Rock I., then Miss. R. over Centennial Bridge (toll) to J. with US61 in Davenport. Gov. Bridge (fee) conn. Rock I., U.S. Arsenal & Davenport. Some distance (S) & (W) of metrop. area, St.92 crosses Muscatine Bridge (toll).

Rock I. & Moline are in many ways indistinguishable, & their history & development have been much the same. Economy of both depends mainly on the Arsenal, one of largest in U.S., & on tremendous farm-implements industry. E. Moline, much smaller, is almost wholly industrial. Moline is generally known as "The Plow City" because of century-old Deere Plow works & plants of Minneapolis-Moline Implement & Internat. Harvester Companies; but Rock I. has Farmall Works of Internat. Harvester Co. & J. I. Case Co. plants. Augustana College & Black Hawk St. Pk. are within city limits of Rock I., while to Moline belong Prospect & Riverside Pks. & large airport. Ill. Inds. had villages on Rock R. (see US20), & it was to them that Father Marquette came in 1673; but about 1680 they were driven out by Fox & Sauk. In 1815, Col. Geo. Davenport came to Ft. Armstrong, & white settlers began to claim Ind. lands. Among early settlers was a doctor at the ft. & his Negro servant, Dred Scott, who was later to ask for freedom on ground that he had lived in free states of Ill. & Minn. Rock I. Cty. was org. in 1833 & present city named in 1841. Moline was inc. in 1848. Steamboat era was at its height, & hundreds of boats docked here. John Deere brought plow factory from Grand Detour in 1847, & in 1855, Rock I. RR. spanned Miss. R. with its 1st RR. bridge, declared a "mammoth nuisance" by steamboat interests. Abr. Lincoln helped defend the bridge in suit brought by steamboat companies after several boats had crashed against the piers. During Civil War, the Arsenal (1862) was used as prison for Confed. soldiers. In decline of R. traffic & lumbering industry, which had once jammed the Miss., the Quad cities built up other industries. Their importance as trade centers has grown rapidly, & Rock I. has also become insurance center, home of Modern Woodmen of Amer., Royal Neighbors of Amer. & Bituminous Casualty Corp.

Bay City, on site of Chippewa campground, is one of the great & rough lumber towns on Saginaw Bay; now largest L. Huron port & industrial center. During World War II, Defoe Shipbuilding Co. (est. in early 1900's) built mine sweepers, rescue tugs, & PC's & then applied new methods in construction of destroyer escorts. Other large industries are Monitor Sugar Co., Industrial Brownhoist Corp., Chevrolet Motor Co., Wheeler Shipyard, which built 1st 600' steel freighter; Electric Auto-Lite Co. & Dow Chemical Co. The 20m long Saginaw R. (canoe.trl.), with largest basin in St., has always been of major importance. In 1831, traders were attracted to site, & by 1860's, Lower Saginaw (later Bay City) & other villages had grown up. In 1870's & 1880's, the great R. cut through a roaring sawmill town bet. piles of logs, while rafts, tugs & barges jammed its channel. Then pine woods virtually vanished. The booming town, mecca of lumberjacks after spring drives, was threatened, but fishing, beet-sugar refining & coal-mining kept it alive. PTS. OF INT.: (1) Water St., Defoe Shipbldg. E. Lansing, seat of Mich. St. College, merges with Lansing, st. capital. The Capitol dome & 23-story Olds Tower rise above tree-shaded city, like symbols of its hist. from "capital of the woods" to prosperous industrial, as well as political, center. Valley is entered by Grand, Sycamore & Red Cedar Rs., & bridges here & there span the winding streams. E. Lansing has grown up around the college & is entirely residential. When legislature decided, in 1847, to move capital from Detroit, a border city, Lansing had a sawmill & a log house in dense for.; but it was given the honor, tentatively, to settle a long controversy. After coming of Ransom E. Olds (in 1900's), maker of one of 1st practical automobiles in U.S., the city's development was very rapid. Present output from more than 100 industries, with automotive in lead, gives Lansing high rank. Also it is commercial & financial center for St.'s richest farm country.

From marshlands at mouth of Muskegon R., the port of Muskegon, largest on E. side of L. Mich., extends for more than 5^m along shore. With natural harbor (5^m-long L. Muskegon) & sheltering dunes, city has always been important port &, even in lumber era, a recr. center. Millions of tons of petroleum products, pig iron, coal, coke, stone & industrial products are shipped yrly.; regular sailings to N. European ports. Principal manufactures are automotive & foundry products, machine tools & dies, office furniture & billiard tables. Large oil companies operate marine terminals with capacity approx. 39,000,000 gals. Nicolet stopped here in 1634, & Father Marquette in 1675. Fur-trading began in 1810 & lasted until 1st sawmill was erected, 1837. From Civil War days until late 1880's, Muskegon was "Sawdust Metropolis." M. M. Quaife says (in "Lake Michigan"), "A single generation of furious destruction spanned the rise & fall of Muskegon . . ." Near end of cent., lumbering declined, & a fire destroyed much of the fabulously wealthy city, but mfg. plants succeeded the lumber mills.

Flint, on Flint R., is Mich.'s 3rd largest city & 2nd to Detroit as automotive center. Giant factories are spread throughout city around congested downtown area. Municipality owns waterworks, airport, fine hospital & lib., sch. & pk. systems. Community Music Assoc. offers yr.-round program, & Institute of Arts conducts series of exhibits & lectures & sch. of art. Mott Foundation has charge of Children's Health Center, Mott Camp for underprivileged boys & adult recr. & education programs. Many racial groups & large Negro pop. give rich diversity to civic life. The R., named for the flintstone, attracted Chippewa & Potawatomi, then fur traders (1819) & missionaries. Settlers ventured into the wilderness in 1830's, & tavern & ferry were est. With lumbering, village expanded & soon became "The Vehicle City," making carts & carriages. In 1900, David Buick org. in Detroit the Buick Auto-Vim & Power Co., which became Buick Mfg. Co., maker of 1st Buick automobile in 1902. A yr. later, co. merged with Flint Wagon Works, & Buick Motor Co. was

est. in Flint. W. C. Durant, who shared ownership of several vehicle companies with Jos. Dallas Dort (see Detroit Trip II), bought out Buick with aid of other Flint citizens. General Motors Co. was org. by Durant in 1908, & in 1909, he almost gained control of Ford interests. In 1910, Durant lost control of G. M., partly because bankers feared his "dashing methods & hairbreadth adventures." From experiments of Louis Chevrolet, which he had backed, Durant built Chevrolet Motor Co. &, by 1913, had controlling interest in G. M. Durant was Pres. of G. M. until 1920. Other local leaders were C. S. Mott, C. W. Nash & W. P. Chrysler. Another event in city's automotive hist. was 1st large-scale sit-down strike, in 1937.

Saginaw, 4th-largest city & 3rd-largest wholesale market in Mich., is trade center of industrial & rural valley of Saginaw R., which flows through center of town. It is an attractive place, with a host of tall old trees, 19th cent. mansions, well-designed modern bldgs. & numerous bridges. Except for street-corner pumps, few mementoes of lumbering era remain in town once nationally known for roaring sawmills & R. choked with logs. In 1818, Louis Campau built a cabin & the council h. where Lewis Cass negotiated with Inds. Ft. Saginaw was built in 1822, & Saginaw City inc. in 1857. Along with booming lumber industry, Saginaw developed its large salt deposits, coal & graphite, & by 1900, when lumbering began to decline, 70 or more mfg. plants had been est.

High among granite cliffs, the Upper Peninsula metropolis looks down on fine natural harbor picked out by Lighth. Pt., Presque Isle Pt. & Picnic Rocks; seat of Mich.'s largest city., industrial center, college town, & summer & winter sports hqs. Père Marquette landed here in late 17th cent., & earliest Fr. maps show "Rivière des Morts," still the Dead R. although full of rapids. Settlement began as shipping pt. for Marquette lodes, discovered by white men in 1830's. Ore was carried inland by sleigh & mulecart over plank Rds., & freight was shipped by sail & portaged around falls until canal was opened (1855). Following peak in 1916, mines gradually became inactive, but various industries expanded, & city's great ore docks are busy. PTS. OF INT.: (1) Presque Isle & Kaye Ave., Northern Mich. Keweenaw Peninsula tour. Through RR. & bus conns. in larger centers. Airports at Baraga, Houghton, Laurium. Boats to Isle Royale from Copper Harbor; Great Ls. cruises; deep-sea trolling. Hotels, resorts, pub. pks., pic. & camp sites.

Keweenaw Peninsula, the copper country, extends like a horn into L. Superior; cut across by Portage L. & Portage Ship Canal. This highly scenic peninsula is settled mainly by descendants of miners, lumbermen & adventurers. Ind. copper workings are still visible. Nowhere else in world has massed copper been found in this pure form. Mining began in 1844, & since then millions of tons have been unearthed.

2. ASSININS, founded by Father Baraga in 1843. Across bay was Meth. mission of Rev. John Pitezel. Baraga Mission, Ind. sch. & farm.

28. HOUGHTON & HANCOCK

Through RR. & bus conns. Airport. Good accoms. & all kinds of sports facils. Tourist pk. Info.: C. of C.

Houghton, chief shipping pt. & college town, was born of copper industry & became political & financial center in early 1850's. Overlooking canal are bldgs. of Mich. College of Mining & Technology, one of country's leading tech. schs. Engineering Bldg.; Mus. College, founded by a few mining students, now has branch at Sault Ste Marie (see). Hancock, larger of twin cities, is conn. with Houghton by only bridge bet. 2 secs. of peninsula. Quincy Mine, oldest still-productive mine in St., was est. 1848 & became one of greatest on range. City was also lumber center. Almost every racial strain in Amer. is represented in pop.; large Finnish, Scand. & Cornish groups. Louis Adamic has written much about reg. US41 leads uphill to Quincy Mine Tourist View & Quincy Mine (surface plant O.); largest hoist in world. J. with St.203.

Detroit, motor capital on world's busiest waterway, is 4th largest city in U.S., ranks 3rd as industrial center & 4th as exporting port. Metrop. area extends over 142-sq. miles, & Windsor, across R. in Essex Cty., Ont., is also an automotive center. Judge Augustus Woodward's city plan imitated L'Enfant's Washington, but geometric pattern covers orig. circular web. During phenomenal expansion in 20th cent., Detroit sprang into the air but failed, at first, to expand horizontally. Result is small & confusing downtown dist. running a few blocks (N) from R. & (E) & (W) of Woodward Ave. (US10). A block (W) of Ave. is Washington Blvd. where better shops, hotels & theaters cluster around Grand Circus Pk. Jefferson Ave. follows old shoreline (E) to wealthy Grosse Pointe communities & (W) to downriver industrial centers. The cities of Highland Park & Hamtramck (N) are completely surrounded by Detroit.

In absence of subway or elevated, traffic streams through congested sts. & over magnificent hys. Another stream of traffic pours night & day from immense functional factory bldgs. The nearly 3,000,000 residents of metrop. area (more than half of St.'s pop.) depend mainly on automotive power for their livelihood. This predominantly serious pop., from all parts of the world, gives aspect of grim automatism to city life, especially noticeable in ever-present, slowly moving lines waiting for buses. These same people give Detroit its tremendous, restless vitality. Of 20 sizable racial groups, the Polish is probably largest. Itals. form important element with considerable cultural influence, as do descendants of early Fr., German, Irish & Brit. settlers. Nearly 350,000 Negroes (1947) live in areas widely scattered from orig. nucleus around Hastings St. A few blocks (E) of City Hall are coffee shops of Arabic-speaking community. Leading the world in manufacture of automobiles, Detroit is also a growing steel center & ranks high in pharmaceuticals, adding machines, salt, varnishes, rubber goods & marine, aeronautical & television equipment. Wayne Univ., Univ. of Detroit, Marygrove College, Symphony Orchestra, Institute of Arts & other institutions give it increasing importance as cultural center. Founded by Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac for Louis XIV, Detroit began as fur-trading post, was taken by Brit. at close of Fr. & Ind. War & only relinquished after Battle of Fallen Timbers (see Ohio). Fire destroyed the settlement in 1805. During War of 1812, Detroit was again surrendered to Brit. by Terr. Gov. Wm. Hull & held until Perry's victory on L. Erie. After Civil War, the city began to develop industrially, & immigrants swarmed in from N.Y. & New England. Before the automobile, Detroit made RR. cars, carriages, & bicycles. With development of a practical motor car, expansion was fantastically rapid, & civic problems correspondingly more complex. With one of largest labor unions in the world, Detroit is important factor in nat. political & economic affairs.

HAMTRAMCK

A city of c.50,000, Hamtramck is encircled by Detroit & practically indistinguishable from it. Hamtramck Township, named for Col. J. F. Hamtramck, Detroit's 1st Amer. military commdr., was rural community until Dodge Bros., in 1914, est. automobile plant. Present pop. is more than 50% Polish, & its closely org. social life keeps it a distinct & colorful entity. Negro community was also est. in early yrs. & 1st common council incl. a Negro member. Hamtramck gained nat. attention with its Pub. Sch. Code, developed by Dr. M. R. Keyworth to aid immigrants in adjusting to Amer. 3056 Hanley Ave., Tau Beta Community H. & Pub. Lib. Forian Ave., bet. Latham & Brombach Sts., St. Florian's Ch. (Cath.), oldest & largest parish.

HIGHLAND PARK

Like Hamtramck, Highland Park is a city within a city, with Woodward Ave. as its main street. Building of Ford plant here before World War I brought thousands of workers, but since removal of plant to Dearborn (see) in 1920, Highland Park has become, again, a residential suburb. 12244 Woodward Ave., McGregor Pub. (3) Peter St. off Sandwich St., Assumption College (1855) & Assumption Ch., on site of Jesuit Mission (1750).

II. DETROIT (W) to YPSILANTI. 29.5. US112 (conn. with Willow Run Expressway).

0. DETROIT. US112 follows Mich. Ave. (NW). 9.5. DEARBORN, home of River Rouge plant of Ford Motor Co. (RR. & bus. accoms. Willow Run Airport). City has 3 distinct secs.: Fordson, "Old Dearborn" & the Ford domain, miles of factory bldgs. with symmetrical row of giant chimneys. A night view of the Rouge plant is particularly impressive. In late 18th cent., narrow Fr. farms spread along R., & the Sauk Trl. led across Thirty Mile Swamp, but by c.1835, through efforts of Father Richard (see), a stagecoach route was developed. Dort-Durant Carriage Co.'s plant (see Flint) was forerunner of G.M. Corporation. When Ford's ship plant was est. & Ford plant moved from Highland Pk. (1923), the village swelled rapidly (50,000 pop. in 1930). Present pop. is more than 50% foreign born or of foreign-born parentage.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Ford Rouge Factory covers around 1,200 ac., with its assembly plants on conveyor system. Adm. Bldg. (N.O.), Schaefer Rd. & Airport Dr., official center of worldwide interests. Rotunda, encircled by roadway made of secs. illustrating famous ancient & modern rds. Canal Slip, in River Rouge, accommodates freighters & ocean ships. From Blast Furnaces (S), white-hot ore travels by ladle cars to foundry & open hearth. Of special int. are Motor, Open Hearth, Steel & Final Assembly Bldgs. (2) Airport Dr. near Oakwood Blvd., Edison Institute of Technology, which incl. Institute, Mus. & Greenfield Amer. Village. Mus. has 5 main secs., housed in reprints. of Independence, Congress & Old City Halls, of Philadelphia; special trans. exhibit. From Institute (E) is Greenfield Village (Osm. fee. most bldgs. O.), early Amer. town with central green around which are old Inn, from Clinton, Mich.; Chapel of Martha-Mary (Col.); Brick Sch., with 19th-cent. furniture; Logan County Ch. (1840) where Lincoln practiced law; town hall, post office, & store. Other bldgs. are: Cotswolds Shepherds' Cottages (17th cent.); Edison Bldgs., incl. Menlo Pk. Laboratory; McGuffey Group, incl. birthpl., sch. & smokeh. (3) Ford & Greenfield Rds., Henry Ford Birthpl. (4) 22734 Mich. Ave., Haigh H. (1833. Col.).

13. INKSTER. 15. ELOISE INFIRMARY & HOSPITAL (mental). 17. WAYNE, residential & industrial community. 25. J. with Expressway. Hy. forks.

SIDE TRIP: On Byp. 112 (L) to Willow Run Airport & Aeronautical Research Center of Univ. of Mich. & Kaiser-Frazer Corp. Plant. From Dec., 1941, until end of Oct. 1945, Willow Run Plant was largest single mfg. operation ever housed under 1 roof. Ford Motor Co. built world's largest bomber plant in 94 working days. In Jan., 1947, Univ. of Mich. was granted deed to the properties, with portions reserved for Kaiser-Frazer & Packard companies. Airport is leased to Airlines Nat. Terminal Serv. Co. Univ.'s research program is available to students in College of Engineering; supersonic wind tunnel. Bomber Plant (tours) is leased by Kaiser-Frazer Corp.

29.5. YPSILANTI, seat of Mich. St. Normal College, oldest teacher-training institution in Midwest, & of Cleary College (est. 1883). City was named by Judge Woodward (see above) for Gen. Demetrios Ypsilanti, hero of Greek War for Independence. It is trade center for rich agric. area & has several important industries. Many 19th-cent. Hs. & 100-yr.-old trees, especially along Huron R., give city great charm. PTS. OF INT.: (1) Along Brower St. is campus of Mich. St. Normal College & (2), at Forest & Cross St., Pease Auditorium; Bach Festival (Mar.). (3) Cross & Summit Sts., Ypsilanti Mon., made in Athens. (4) 218 N. SIDE TRIP: On Lone Pine Rd. (W) 1.5^m to Cranbrook Foundation (grounds O.), widely known for Institute of Science as well as for Cranbrook Sch. (boys) & Kingswood Sch. (girls). The 300-a. estate & large endowment are gifts of Ellen S. & Geo. G. Booth, formerly pres. of "Detroit News." Except for Christ Ch. (Episc.Fr.Goth.by Goodhue) & part of Brookside Sch., all bldgs. were designed by Eliel Saarinen, eminent Finnish architect, now pres. of Cranbrook Academy of Art (O). Orpheus Fountain (by Carl Milles).

20.5. BLOOMFIELD HILLS, a city of half-acre or larger estates. Just beyond is J. with Opdyke Rd., which leads (E) half-mile to St. Hugo of the Hills (early Eng.1936. by Arthur Des Rosiers).

25. PONTIAC

Through RR. & bus. Mun. Airport. Good accoms. Many resorts, st. recr. areas & colonies on Ls. in vic.

Pontiac, named for Ind. chief, is Mich.'s 6th city & important automotive center. Settlement was begun in 1818, & by 1837 sawmills, flour mills & other industries were creating a prosperous town. Pontiac Spring Wagon Works was est. in 1880's, & in 1907, the Oakland Motor Car Co. ushered in automobile age. Among large plants are Pontiac, Fisher Body, & G.M. Truck & Coach. Oakland Cty. is famous for 400 Ls. (resorts.camp.summer & winter sports). In vic. are Bald Mt., Highland, Island L. & Proud L. Recr. Areas.

IV. DETROIT (W. & S.) to GROSSE ILE c.18. W. Jefferson Ave. & Van Horn Rd.

Via: River Rouge, Ecorse, Wyandotte, Trenton.

Downriver area is rich in hist., in geological deposits & industrial developments. It was once favored campground of Wyandotte (or Huron) Inds., & Cadillac explored reg. in 1701. Chief Pontiac held council on Grosse Ile. Stratified deposits of salt, dolomite, siliceous sand & other nonmetallic minerals are responsible for industrial developments.

W. Jefferson Ave. follows roughly the Detroit R. 5. RIVER ROUGE. Great Lakes Engineering Works. Just beyond R. is U.S. Gypsum Plant. 6.5. ECORSE, known during Prohibition period as chief port of entry for liquor from Canada, a gangsters' capital on waterfront, with bullet-proof boatwells. Great Lakes Steel Plant. 8.5. WYANDOTTE, most important downriver city; nat. center for alkali & related products. First Bessemer steel in Amer. was manufactured in Wyandotte (1884).

13. TRENTON (plotted in 1827) shared industrial development of Detroit. Elizabeth Pk. (pic.recr.facils.). Wayne Cty. Tourist Lodge (trlrs.laundry.lunchroom). 17. Tour turns (E) on Van Horn Rd. to Grosse Ile, largest I. in Detroit R.; independent township, exclusively residential. Its high, wooded shores attracted Inds., explorers & missionaries. Cadillac deeded it to his daughter, but in 1711 his lands were confiscated by Brit. Gov. PTS. OF INT.: U.S. Naval Base & Grosse Ile Airport (O.appl.). St. James Episc. Info.: C. of C., Hotel Ojibway Bldg.

Sault Ste Marie, gateway to Canada & tourist starting pt., was America's "No. 1 Military Target" in World War II, as nearly 90% of iron ore for ammunition passed through the Locks, greatest artery of marine commerce in world. Soo is also 1st permanent white settlement in Mich. & 3rd-oldest surviving in U.S. Important plants are Union Carbide & Carbon Corp., Mich. Northern Power Co., Northwestern Leather Co. & Cadillac Soo Lumber Co. Etienne Brulé (1618) & Jean Nicolet (1634) were probably 1st white men to see rush of L. Superior waters over sandstone & granite ledges in St. Mary's R. At falls, the Chippewa (or Ojibway) had one of most populous Ind. villages in U.S. area (2,000). In 1638, Radisson & Groseilliers brought fur trade to L. Superior, & in 1668 Père Marquette built 1st Christian Ch. in N.W. Terr. Louis XIV held possession from 1671 until Brit. raised Union Jack in 1761. It was 1820 before Gov. Lewis Cass hauled it down again. Ft. Brady was built in 1822. Soo was important post of Amer. Fur Co., & Fr.-Canadian voyageurs braved L. Superior in 40' canoes. Grace L. Nute (in "Lake Superior") describes these debonair & haughty men in long bright sashes, singing their paddling songs. State, in 1855, built ship canal with aid of Congress. Weitzel Lock (destroyed in const. of MacArthur Lock) was built bet. 1870 & 1881. With the RRs. (middle 1880's) & building of modern locks, "the remotest settlement in the U.S., if not in the moon" rapidly became a brisk & colorful port. L. Superior whitefish, which Mrs. Jameson (1837) called "most delicious luxury that swims the waters," the muskellunge, trout & herring make reg. inviting to sportsmen & commercial fishermen.

US 2—WISCONSIN

WIS.-MICH. LINE (at Ironwood, Mich.) (W) to MINN. LINE (at Duluth, Minn.) 106. US2

Via: Ashland, (Bayfield), Superior. Chi. & N.W. RR. bet. Hurley & Ashland; N.P. RR. bet. Ashland & Superior. Accoms.: In cities; tourist camps & cabins en route.

US2, northernmost E.-W. hy., crosses from Mich. line to Superior, where it cont. on its transcontinental route to Seattle.

0. J. with US51. 1.5. HURLEY (see US51). The Penokee-Gogebic Iron Range can be seen W. of the hy. 11. SAXON, former lumbertown. Surrounding farms belong to the poorest of st. 13.5. LAKE VIEW CEMETERY from which good view of Oconto Bay (S) & the Apostle Is. (N) in L. Superior. 18. Hy. touches BAD RIVER IND. RESERV., home for 1,375 Chippewa. Toward (N) are Kakagan Sloughs, one of largest natural game preserves in Wis. It is home of the wall-eyed pike. Wild rice gathered here provides food & income for the Inds.

39. ASHLAND (4 RR. terminals here). Its 1st settlement in 1665 consisted of crude ft. erected by 6 Frenchmen & bark chapel by Father Allouez, who labored among the Iroquois for 4 yrs. & then had to abandon mission to Father Marquette, who after 2 yrs. finally closed it. Two hundred yrs. later, town became an important shipping pt. for lumber, coal & iron ore. Geological surveys showed that entire Penokee-Gogebic Range had deposits of iron ore. By 1872 all of upper Wis. was caught in the mining fever. Boom lasted until 1887 when the crash brought down values & prices. Large paper mills ship their products to the E. & W. coasts, & millions of tons of iron ore are sent to lower lakes. Ashland is home of Northland College. In Ashland is J. with St.13.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) hy. passes coal docks & skirts Chequamegon Bay on its way to tip of Wis. At 11m, Washburn, many of whose bldgs. are of reddish-brown stone, quarried near-by. Rd. soon touches Chequamegon Bay. 23m Bayfield, named for Adm. Henry Bayfield of Brit. Navy who surveyed Gt. Ls., 1823. Its commercial fisheries rank 1st among L. Superior's ports; it ships annually about 6 million lbs. of fish. City is best known for its lake-trout fishing in 150' deep water. Strong gear is needed for these gamey fish. The harbor is usually supplied with boats that can be rented by the day, & incl. licensed pilot. Excursion boats leave Bayfield daily in summer for La Pointe on Madeleine I., largest of Apostle Is., lying off Bayfield. There are 22 Is. despite their name, ranging from Madeleine, the largest—14m long—to many small ones that are inhabited only by wild life. Intricate & grotesque carvings of the beach are striking examples of wave erosion. La Pointe, picturesque old town, once site of Fr. Fort & Cath. mission, was est. by Allouez, 1665. In 1832, oldest Wis. Protestant Mission was built here. St.13 cont. (N) 3m on gravel Rd. to Red Cliff & Red Cliff Ind. Reserv., where 689 La Pointe Chippewa subsist, past fishing villages & Finnish settlements.

As US2 leaves Ashland the cities of Washburn & Barksdale can be seen across Chequamegon Bay. A natural breakwater is formed by Long Island about 10m out, making Ashland one of best L. Mich. harbors. At 55. E. border of CHEQUAMEGON NAT. FOR., northernmost div., is reached (hqs. at Park Falls). Here are hundreds of Ls., pine, spruce & balsam fors.; famous also for muskellunge, pike & bass fishing. This is blueberry country. The Inds. & transient pickers come from far & near. 65. IRON RIVER, known to the Inds. as Medicine Springs because of mineral waters found here. First white settler arrived 1887, with fine lumber the attraction. W. of US2 Rd. passes through swampland & marshes & enters Brule River St. For. (7,750 as.; well known for its trout stream). This reg. was Pres. Coolidge's favorite fishing spot. Cleveland & Hoover also fished here & Eisenhower still does. The Brule, a famous fishing stream, is very popular for canoe trips through virgin fors. From its source one current can be seen going into the St. Croix on its way to the Miss. & another current flowing toward L. Superior, the St. Lawrence & the Atlantic Ocean. Country along shore of L. Superior was used by Longfellow as setting for his poem "Hiawatha." J. with Cty.H.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On Cty. H. (L) is Winneboujon country, named for legendary Chippewa god & his grandmother Amuk, who because of her disobedience to authority was changed into a beaver. Her descendants are still busy building dams here. (B) On Cty. H. (R) 4m is J. with side Rd. On this Rd. (L) is Wis. Co-Op. Pk., org. by Finnish people who sett. along L. Superior. It contains children's camps, community bldgs., kitchens, camp ground, also sport facils. & the "sauna," Finnish steam bath. (see Minn.)

85. POPLAR. J. with Cty.P.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 8^m is L. Nebagamon (excellent f.h. & boat.) on which is old Weyerhaeuser estate, now used as camp for Jewish boys.

94. AMICON FALLS.106. SUPERIOR

Rail, plane & bus conns. Usual accoms.

Superior is Wis.' leading port of entry, situated on S. shore of L. Superior's western tip, & on Bays of Allouez & St. Louis, into which flow the Menadji & St. Louis Rs. It has 27^m of unexcelled harbor & though ice-locked for 4 months a yr., it, together with its twin city, Duluth, is next to N.Y. harbor in point of tonnage. It has the largest group of ore docks & grain elevators in world. Superior is also a RR. center with 9 RR. systems having terminals there. First white settlers arrived c.1661. During next 100 yrs., Hudson's Bay Co., Northwestern Fur Co. & J. J. Astor's Amer. Fur Co., in turn, est. trading posts here; but 1st permanent settlement was made only c.1853. After Minn. legislature made land grants for RR. construction, Superior was overrun with speculators; but after the panic of 1857, the town of 3,000 dropped to 1,000; & after the Ind. scare of 1862, only 500 people stayed on. At this stage, it remained for more than 20 yrs. Iron ore was discovered 1883 in Gogebic Range & a 2nd boom began. Superior's prosperity dates from then. At turn of cent., Superior became Wis.' 2nd largest city. It is the Consumer Co-op. Center of U.S. The People's Co-op. Soc., begun by Finns & Scandinavians, was nucleus of what is now the full grown co-op. enterprise, incl. in its ranks not only working people, but professional & business men. Superior is internationally known for this & is considered by an Eng. Rochdale authority as "Principal center of consumer co-operatives in the world." There are 1,531,000 consumer co-op. members in U.S. doing a $260,000,000 volume of business.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) St. Louis Bay, Great Northern Elevator, rising 243', highest grain elevator in world (1 of 8 in city). (2) 1901 Winter St., Central Co-op. Wholesale plant, where Finnish language daily is published. This outstanding Wholesale includes more than 100 companies & handles 3 to 4 million dollars worth of business. (3) 1115 Belknap St., Cathedral of Christ the King (Cath. 1927 by Louis Preuss, replica of Santa Maria Maggiore, Rome). (4) 18th St. & Grand Ave., Superior St. Teachers College. (5) Foot of 35th Ave. (E), Great Northern Ore-Docks, largest group of ore-docks in world (shipments in 1947 were 25,800,000 tons). (6) Knudson Shipbuilding & Dry-Dock Co., largest dry-dock on L. Superior. City also has horse-meat factory producing dog food. A 56-mile canoe trip can be started a short distance outside Superior on the Brule R.

SIDE TRIP: On St.35 (S) 13^m is Manitou Falls (165') in Pattison St. Pk. (1,143 as.).

WIS.-MICH. LINE (at Norway, Mich.) (W) to WIS.-MINN. LINE (at Taylors Falls, Minn.). 262. US8

Via: Crandon, Rhinelander, Prentice, Ladysmith, St. Croix Falls. M., St. P. & S. S. M. RR. parallels route throughout. Accom.: In resort reg.; in central part of St. limited to larger towns.

US8 beginning at Menominee R., natural Wis.-Mich. border, it passes through vast stretches of cut-over & abandoned land, as well as through resort territory amid the beautiful L. & for. country of the "North."

US8 & US141 travel as 1 route for 14. to PEMBINE. Here US8 turns sharply (W) to cross the st. It passes deserted farms & lumber towns, & at 48. begins its cut through NICOLET NAT. FOR. (see US45), emerging near Argonne (pronounced Ar-go'-ne by the villagers who named it thus because its 7 recruits for World War I died in Argonne For., France). Hy. turns (S) & at 70. reaches CRANDON (see US45). It again turns (W), passing MONICO JUNCTION at 82., a RR. connecting sta. (A few miles in any direction from these towns brings one to fish-stocked lakes.)

96. RHINELANDER (see US45). 149. PRENTICE, both a recr. center & important dairy spot. Pastures become richer along the way. FLAMBEAU R. is crossed at 192. Here Old Abe, the Wis. eagle, was captured. He became mascot for the 8th Wis. Infantry & went into Civil War battles with it, screaming & spreading his wings as soon as he heard the bugle. The reg.'s golden age of logging was in the 70's. Fred

Weyerhaeuser, German immigrant, who became greatest of lumber kings, began operations here in 1864. Town of WEYERHAEUSER, 206., was named after him. In 1870 he org. the Miss. R. Logging Co., most important lumber syndicate of the time. He built & gradually owned the RRs. & everything connected with lumbering, & sawed his way through Wis. & Minn. In 1900 he bought a million acres of the richest timber lands in Ore. & Wash. After he left the Northwoods, activities slowed down & the lumberjacks gradually disappeared, leaving behind them a rich Paul Bunyan lore. Scandinavians who settled here gave the legendary Bunyan a logging crew of Norsemen—Big Ole, Criss Crosshaul, Axel Axelson, Hels Helson & Shot Gunderson—all were powerful & adept & became more so with each story. US8 at 215. finds itself in very rich agric. land amid the blue & purple BARRON HILLS (600'). In vic. are important butter-producing farms. Rd. runs past CAMERON at 216., sm. town that came into prominence through exploits of John Dietz, "defender of Cameron Dam." In 1906 Dietz's crop had been ruined by flooding, for which Chippewa Log & Boom Co. was responsible. After appealing to them repeatedly for redress but to no avail he & his sons kept the company's workers off the premises with shotguns. A sm. band of 60 men & the sheriff surrounded the Dietz farm for 7 days & finally besieged the cabin. Dietz & his family kept them at bay for hrs. until several on both sides were wounded & 1 deputy killed. Dietz was sentenced to 20 yrs. After 15 yrs. he was pardoned by the Gov. but died 3 yrs. later. At Cameron is J. with US53.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) 7m to Rice Lake, dairy & resort reg. (good boat. & f. ls. near-by). 31m Spooner, shipping center for large but sparsely sett. L. country. St. Fish Hatchery in vic. Wis. Agric. Experiment Sta. here is working out methods of making the surrounding sandy, jack-pine land fertile. From 1843 to 1910 John Coit Spooner, RR. & lumber baron, lived here while he dominated Wis. politics & finance. Protégé of Philetus Sawyer, he fought against restoring the immense land grants to pub. domain, & won. Three yrs. after retiring he was made counsel of the collapsing N.P. RR. How he cut expenses by cutting workmen's wages & then invoking an injunction against the striking men was a great scandal. Despite it all, & the avowed enmity of Rbt. M. LaFollette, Spooner got back to U.S. Senate on an anti-Bryan wave.

US8 passes TURTLE L. at 237. Surrounding territory is developed to the maximum, agriculturally & recreationally. At 258.5. CAMPING GROUND (L) & at 262. is ST. CROIX FALLS, lumber village, home of Ray Stannard Baker, who wrote under pen-name of David Grayson. His most famous work is biography of Woodrow Wilson. To the (L) is Interstate Pk. (780 as.; camp-pic.facils.bath.), oldest Wis. St. Pk. It contains int. geologic formations, such as Devil's Chair & the Old Man of the Dalles, thought by Chippewa to be their mythical giant hero, Winneboujou. Hy. here crosses Interstate Bridge (free) to Minn.

WIS.-ILL. LINE (2m from Richmond, Ill.) (NW) to WIS.-MINN. LINE (14m from St. Paul, Minn.). 339. US12

Via: Lake Geneva, Madison, Wisconsin Dells, Tomah, Eau Claire, Hudson. Cement Rd. Excellent accoms.

From SE. cor. of Wis. hy. makes an arc to Minn. line, incl. 2 of st.'s oldest resort areas: Lake Geneva & Wis. Dells. Hy. crosses Ill. line at 0. & hits LAKE GENEVA (resort) at 9. (see Milwaukee Trip VI). 18. ELKHORN (resort town), founded 1837. Lack of water power & main-line communication kept it from becoming prosperous until c.1900. Many retired farmers live here now. It is home of Holton Musical Instrument Co., N. Church St. Hymn, "Sweet Bye & Bye," was composed here by Jos. P. Webster & S. F. Bennett. At Elkhorn is J. with St.15.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (SW) 6m to Delavan, named for the temperance leader (1793-1871) who planned it to be a temperance colony, but plan fell through. Around 1850 Ed. & Jerry Mabie of N.Y. had their circus here & most of the villagers were in some way connected with it.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (NE) 10m to Merrimac. Here is free ferry across Wis. R. Near Merrimac on St.78, is Durward's Glen (closes at 8 p.m.). Here (L) is novitiate of Camillian Fathers consisting of log cabin & chapel (1935.O.services daily); (R) trl. leads to home & studio of Bernard Isaac Durward & his son Chas., artists.

119. J. with St.159 leading to Devil's L. St. Pk. (see Madison). 122. (3^m to (R) Baraboo, see Madison Trip III). 131. WISCONSIN DELLS (see Madison Trip III), one of most picturesque regns. in country. 164. CAMP DOUGLAS. Here is J. with side Rd. (R) to entrance of Camp Williams Military Reserv. Barracks. Rifle range & target practice can be watched from Rd. 178. TOMAH, named for Menominee chief. Fed. Gov.'s Ind. industrial school here. Beds of Amer. lotus near-by. 207. CASTLE MOUND PK. (L) (camp.trlr.facils.water; 222 as.). Mound itself is of castellated rock formation. 209. BLACK R. FALLS. One of 1st sawmills in Wis. was built here in 1819, & logging cont. throughout 19th cent. Among earliest settlers were Mormons from Nauvoo. An int. property theory was held by a Mormon deacon here. He told his "Saints" to clear land & when the owner, Spaulding, remonstrated, the deacon merely answered that the "wilderness belonged to the Lord." He urged his flock to go right on clearing & that they need not respect Gentile boundaries. Spaulding threatened to get military aid from Prairie du Chien. His strategy was successful & the Mormons finally left, but not without grumbling that their tormentors were "worse than Missourians."

266. EAU CLAIRE

Eau Claire at confluence of Eau Claire & Chippewa Rs., is a commercial & mfg. leader as well as a rich agric. & dairying center. From the tiny mills & logging operation of its lusty rivermen it became present & thriving city, with diversified industries. PTS. OF INT.: On Eau Claire R., Gillett Tire Plant of U.S. Rubber Co., whose bldgs. occupy more than 3 blocks, & whose capacity is 14,000 tires a day. Carson Pk. juts out into Half Moon L. In it is Paul Bunyan Logging Camp Mus. (O.free), fine replica of the old lumbering days of northern Wis. First caterpillar tractor to haul lumber was used in Eau Claire in 1861. Early models were steam propelled. City also has an excellent St. Teachers College. Here is J. with US53 leading (NE) 10^m to Chippewa Falls where Fr.-Canadians & Ind. lumberjacks began the 1st mill in 1836.

294. MENOMONIE is home of Stout Institute, only college in country devoted entirely to training of teachers in Home Economy, Industrial & Vocational Education. It was founded in 1893 by James H. Stout. In 1911 it was taken over by St. & made a college with right to grant degrees; in 1935 it granted the M.S. degree. At Menomonie is J. with St.29.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (SW) 18^m is Spring Valley. Another mile (W) is Crystal Cave (O.all yr.guides.fee), Wis.'s only 3-level cave. Grotesque rock formations, petrified wood, volcanic ash, 22 rooms containing rare onyx & crystals; fossils of molluscs a million yrs old; hundreds of living stalactites. (5^m from the cave is modern motel with gas heat. & baths; good trout streams in vic.)

At 339. US12 crosses MINN. LINE.

US 41—WISCONSIN

WIS.-ILL. LINE (49^m from Chicago) (N) to WIS.-MICH. LINE (at Menominee, Mich.). 224. US41

Via: Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay, Oconto, & Marinette. RRs. parallel route. Concrete Rd. Many camp sites & ample accoms.

US41 crosses Ill. Line at 0. & heads for MILWAUKEE (see) at 37. Hy. crosses city on S. 27th St. to W. Lisbon Ave. which it follows out of town. Then it runs through a reg. of rich farm land, settled mainly by Germans during 1st half of 19th cent., & reaches MENOMONEE FALLS at 48. (For Menomonee Falls, Richfield, Slinger & towns up to Fond du Lac, see Milwaukee Trip IV.) Here is J. with St.55 which travels along E. side of L. Winnebago & conn. with Neenah-Menasha & Appleton. 100. FOND DU LAC. South J. with US45, an alternate which travels along L. Winnebago for 21^m while US41 passes N. FOND DU LAC at 103. & VAN DYNE at 109. At 113. North J. with US45. The 2 hys. follow 1 route along the L.

119. OSHKOSH (RR., plane & bus conns.).

Oshkosh on L. Winnebago is an important industrial center, & home of well-known Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls, nationally-known trunks, & world famous axles. From being largest woodworking city of the reg. it developed into one of varied enterprises. It is also a resort city, noted for unexcelled fish., boat., hunt. & winter sports, especially ice-boat. & ice-fish. City has winding & irregular streets & 4 bridges that open for most tugs & freighters. Its pop. is a mixture of old-world descendants, but only German-Russians & Poles who arrived bet. 1890 & 1910 have remained closely-knit groups.

Father Jean Claude Allouez 1st landed here in 1670 to preach to Inds. Many yrs. passed until Augustin Grignon & Jacques Porlier set up trading post in 1818 near present-day Butte des Morts, which soon developed into town of Algoma. In 1837 after Inds. had given up the right to land N. of Fox R., a sm. group of Yankees started a community & called it Athens. While lumber industry was developing, Algoma & Athens were rivals. When Athens received a P.O., it was renamed Oshkosh, in honor of the Menominee Chief. Both towns grew & remained rivals until 1853 when Algoma was inc. into Oshkosh. Boat-building boomed & remained important industry. Revival of activity followed Civil War, but town was practically destroyed 4 times by fire & finally was rebuilt of brick & stone. Logging went on unabated, mfg. mills were set up, & Oshkosh became leading sash-&-door center of U.S. In 1898 a serious labor struggle took place when woodworkers struck against employment of women & children. Strike was broken by Nat. Guards from Milwaukee & leaders were arrested. Only the eloquence of Clarence Darrow got them acquitted. Oshkosh continued rough lumber mfg. long after Neenah & Menasha had to give it up for lack of timber. The Fox-Winnebago waterway, responsible for its early development, still contributes to its present-day industry & recr.

Hy. leaves town by N. Main St., turns (L) at Murdock St. to J. with US45. As 1 route they head N. 127. US41 branches (R) & at 130. reaches NEENAH & MENASHA, twin cities on both sides of L. Winnebago channel. They are noted for their big paper mills. First sawmill was built 1849. By 1857 Menasha was known as hardwood market of this reg. while Neenah became a flour-milling city. When wheat growing declined, Neenah turned to paper making. It now has 11 mills, 2 large & several smaller plants connected with the paper-making industry; also more than 60 other industrial plants. Doty I., lying in the channel bet. 2 cities, was named for James D. Doty, speculator & 1st terr. Gov. of the island he had acquired in 1830. Nicolet Blvd. now divides the island. On Neenah's half is Grand Loggery (O), loghouse in which Doty entertained prominent Inds. & other notables. On Menasha side are 3 Ind. Effigy Mounds. In 1835 Gov. built a sawmill, gristmill & houses for the Inds. here. But Menominee tore up the dwellings & built lodges instead. The next yr. they ceded the land to U.S. Not only Menominee but also Winnebago & Fox occupied this sec. when Jon. Carver passed through in 1766 & stopped over as guest of Ho-po-ko-ekan, heroine of Wm. Ellery Leonard's "Glory in the Morning." From Neenah-Menasha hy. cont. N.

138. APPLETON

RR., plane & bus conns. Ample accoms.

Appleton on rapids of Fox R. is both an industrial city & college town. It is home of Lawrence College, founded 1848 as Meth. sch. of Grand Chute, then part of Appleton. From a sm. denominational sch., it has grown to a thriving coed. college with all advantages of a mod. Univ. Appleton owes its industrial growth mainly to hydroelectric power developed by Fox R. Falls, & boasts the 1st hydroelectric plant in world (replica of the orig. O.). City had one of 1st street-car lines in U.S. Appleton's 1st 2 industries are still its most important ones. When wheat production declined, flour milling was replaced by pulp & paper industry. The Institute of Paper

Chemistry (1929) is grad. sch. for scientific work in this fairly new field, & conducts important research. Appleton was birthpl. & home of Harry Houdini (1874-1926), famous magician. Edna Ferber spent many of her formative yrs. there & made it setting for some of her novels & short stories. PTS. OF INT.: At S. end of Mason St. is Alicia Pk. where is preserved century-old mansion of Hippolyte Grignon, 1st settler of Appleton.

3. N. of Appleton, US41 turns E. 8. LITTLE CHUTE, in which are Kimberley Clark Paper Mills. 10. KAUKAUNA, former portage, used by early traders to avoid Fox R. Falls. In 1st legal transaction of the St., Dominique Ducharme bought this tract from Inds. for 2 bbls. of rum (1793). By 1875 farming was carried on extensively & now dairy products are chief income. From Tobanoir St. (R) is Grignon H. (1838.int.inter.) built by Augustin Grignon, grandson of Chas. de Langlade. 30. DE PERE, site of St. Francis Xavier Mission, 1st Jesuit mission on Fox R., est. 1671, by Father Claude Allouez, whose hqs. it became. From here, Marquette & Joliet set out on their voyage of discovery. First Gov. dam was built in 1836 & tremendous land speculation followed; however, town had a serious setback, when in 1847 a storm swept the dam down the R. Present dam which furnishes power for DePere & near-by towns, was built in 1849 as part of a project designed to conn. L. Mich. & the Miss. R. DePere is home of St. Norbert's College (non-sectarian).

31. GREEN BAY

4 major RRs. serve city. Plane & bus conns. Usual accoms.

Green Bay, oldest settlement of Wis. at S. end of Green Bay, has one of best L. harbors. It is open from Ap. to Dec. making it a key link in Gt. Ls. traffic. Jean Nicolet was Gov. of New France c.1634, but not until Father Allouez founded the Jesuit mission in 1669 did reg. around the Fox become important. Marquette & Joliet crossed the portage on their way to the Miss. La Baye, as the post then was called, became a natural meeting ground for all interested in the abundant furs of this reg., which for 200 yrs. were the accepted currency. Nicholas Perrot, one of most brilliant men in NW. history, was Gov. in 1684. He made profitable alliances with Inds., thereby raising Fox-Wis. reg. to most important in New France. Then came Fox-Ind. wars & Perrot's diplomatic policy was followed by a military policy, but by 1740, the Fox were practically subdued, & permanent settlers arrived. Among them was Augustine de Langlade, whose gentle manners & understanding of the Inds., coupled with honesty & justice brought about complete cooperation with the Menominee & gave to him & his friends control of trade & commerce during Fr. & Bri. regime.

In 1783 the NW. was officially declared U.S. territory, but Fr. & Bri. traders made fur exchanges difficult for independent Amer. traders. In War of 1812 many Green Bayers became officers in Br. Army. However, J. J. Astor started Amer. Fur Co., & soon controlled greater portion of trade. He found it politic to form a trade assoc. with the early Fr. citizens. Ft. Howard at Green Bay was built at Astor's request for protection & until 1836 peltrying flourished. Black Hawk's defeat, & the "easy water-way" from the Gt. Ls. through the bay & Fox R. to the Miss. again made Green Bay important, this time as a trading center for flour & lumber. Around 1910 dairying & paper making, building materials, & iron & steel industries were principal sources of income. Cheese is leading product of this area & is 3/5 of nation's cheese output. Next to Milwaukee, Green Bay is largest jobbing & wholesale center in st.

Eng. officers during War of 1812 gathered here. Mrs. Tank, Dutch wife of the 3rd & last owner, Nils Tank, a Norweg. Moravian, furnished the altered cottage & adds. with treasures from her Holland home, which are still to be seen. It now belongs to Green Bay Hist. Soc. (9) On W. bank of Fox R. 12^m (S) is Eleazer Williams H. (c.1820; cabin 1½ stories of squared logs; rest.) built by the self-styled "lost daughter."

Green Bay is starting pt. for a trip to Door Peninsula (see). Here also US41 unites with US141 to 54., then turns NE. & at 66. reaches OCONTO, former Ind. village & Fr. mission. Later became lumber center. Ann Arbor Car & Auto Ferry operates bet. Marinette & Frankfort, Mich. On Chicago St., Allouez Cross, comm. founding of 1st Jesuit Mission in E. Wis. (1669). The raging fire began after 3 month's drought & swept through 8 counties, destroying more than 2 billion trees (over 1,280,000 as.). Death toll was 5 times that of Chicago Fire which happened the same night & the country was hardly aware of the great disaster. While the nation's newspapers shouted about the Chicago fire, the few existing telegraph lines in the North had been destroyed. It took 5 wks. for the news to get around. Town now is a hive of resort activity.

88. MARINETTE, on Mich. line, named for a Menominee chief's daughter, who became one of most noted fur traders of the NW., was founded (1795) as a trading post by Stanislaus Chappu, Amer. Fur Co. agent. Panic of 1857 & Civil War ruined lumber business that had grown up. It was begun again, but after 1900 the timber stands were depleted. Only 2 out of 27 mills survived. City got a fresh start & rebuilt with diversified industries. Annually when the smelts run, city declares a holiday. At night, the R. banks are ablaze with bonfires. The climax of the carnival takes place at Interstate bridge (bet. Wis. & Mich.), where the Smelt Queen is crowned. Winter sports are excellent on the bay, especially skate-sailing & ice-boating.

DOOR PENINSULA LOOP TOUR—WISCONSIN

GREEN BAY (NE) to Tip of PENINSULA & Return to MANITOWOC. 171. St.57 & St.42

Via: Sturgeon Bay, Algoma, Kewaunee & Two Rivers.

Door Peninsula, a prolongation of Niagara Escarpment, juts into L. Mich. One of the great cherry-growing regs. of the world, it presents a magnificent sight when orchards are in bloom, & is summer resort & hayfever refuge. St.57 zigzags across peninsula up to Sister Bay. Here is J. with St.42 which goes (N) past Ellison Bay, to the very tip. St.42 is an alt. Rd. by which one can return via Sturgeon Bay, directly (S) to Manitowoc.

Sec. 1: GREEN BAY to ELLISON BAY, 78. St.57

0. GREEN BAY. J. with US41. St.57 follows Main St. to 4. where is J. with Cty. A leading (L) 7.5^m to Mon. comm. site of Jean Nicolet's landing in 1634, the 1st time a white man set foot on Wis. soil. St.57 then turns inland & climbs to crest of NIAGARA ESCARPMENT (fine view of Green Bay), & reaches at 27. BRUSSELS, a village sett. by Belgians in 1854. The natives retain many old Belgian customs & celebrations such as May Day & Kermis. At c.32 is TORNADO PK. comm. conflagration that swept through 7 counties. 36. J. with St.42. This Rd. can be taken (S) to Algoma c.13^m. At c.40.5, comes 1st glimpse of Door Cty.'s famous cherry orchards. Wis. ranks 6th in production of cherries. A Cherry Blossom Festival is held last week in May, & blossom time attracts thousands of tourists. Fruit is picked 1st wk. in July, by pickers from all parts of st. Many orchards permit visitors to pick their own fruit & pay for it later. 42. J. with Rd. leading (L) c.0.5^m to Entrance of Potawatomi St. Pk. (1,046 as.camp.trlr.facils.). At 42.5, hy. crosses bay to heart of Sturgeon Bay City, (resort area) at head of narrow harbor running 1,000' into the peninsula. Father Marquette landed here, 1673. Two centuries later, in 1878, a canal was blasted through the stone. Today it is center of "Cherryland" & derives its income from handling & transshipping of fruit, & from tourists. In the drydocks are preserved once famous old ships, noted for their speed & luxury. St.57 travels (N) to J. with St.42 at 46. Hy. cont. to the tip. At 51.5 is a sign reading "Cave Point" & J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On latter (R) c.3.5^m to a cave. Short walk leads to brink of 40' cliffs overlooking L. Mich. whose waters have washed out wafer-like ledges pitted with holes.

57. JACKSONPORT, a fishing village where, after Civil War, ships from Gt. Ls. used to dock. 61.5. KANGAROO L. (old resort). 63.5. BAILEY'S HARBOR, discovered in 1848 & called Gibraltar by 1st fisherman. Old Lighth. (1868) is still in use. St.57 crosses to Green Bay side again to J. with St.42 & reaches SISTER BAY at 73. Sister Bluffs (190') & Sister Is. off shore are breeding ground for herring gulls & terns. St.42 picks up St.57 & follows the shore to fishing village at ELLISON BAY. 78. GILLS ROCK at 83, is at very tip of peninsula. Here are the 170' Death's Door Bluffs, Table Bluff & U.S. Preserve for gulls & terns. The village's famous giant in the 1830's was "Old Bradley" who measured 4' around the chest. He could lift fishing boats & huge rocks single-handed. Landing Pier for Washington I. Ferry is here on St.42. (Ferry leaves twice daily both from this pier to the Is. & from there for Gills Rock.) Porte des Morts (Death's Door) is half-mile strait bet. peninsula & the I. whose name derives from its treacherous undercurrent. Here La Salle's "Griffon" was wrecked in 1679. Earliest inhabitants of Washington I. were Potawatomi.

Sec. 2: SISTER BAY (S) to MANITOWOC, 93., St.42

St.42, which can be used as an alt. in going to tip from Green Bay, returns via SISTER BAY at 0. (see above). Here is J. with St.57. EPHRAIM on Eagle Harbor at 3, is a colony settled by Moravian emigrants who had been brought over (1853) by a wealthy Norweg., Nils Tank (see US41). It is now 8th Ward of Green Bay (resort.boat.f.yacht.). Annual regatta held here for many yrs. Tank's dream of Christian Communism lasted for 1 yr. Then the colonists dispersed, some settling in Sturgeon Bay, while Tank stayed until his death. Cottage of A.M. Iverson, theological student who inspired Tank, & First Moravian Church (1857) are still standing. Old Ch. contains Iverson's journals and many old relics. To (SE) 1.5^m is Peninsula St. Pk. (3,670 as.golf.pic.f.camp.horses).

9. FISH CR. (resort.boats to Chambers & Strawberry Is. for rent). St.42 climbs up the escarpment to STURGEON BAY at 31. Here Ann Arbor RR. & Auto Ferry connects with Menominee, Mich. on its upper peninsula across Green Bay, & also with Frankfort, Mich. across L. Mich. St.42 unites with St.57 for 7^m (S), then branches off (L) & runs along crest of ridge into ALGOMA at 51, which, as its Ind. name indicates, is a long sandy beach (pic.camp.). At 63, hy. reaches KEWAUNEE, sett. in 1795, although Nicolet passed through here in 1634. Land speculation soared after a rumored gold discovery in 1836. After the boom Kewaunee turned to lumbering & today its principal industry is manufacture of school & office furniture. Coast Guard Sta. is 1 block E. of Kewaunee R. Bridge. Adj. is terminus of the Pere Marquette Auto Ferries, operating bet. here & Ludington, Mich.; also Ann Arbor Ferry to Frankfort, Mich. (frequent schedules). Decker Mus. is at Cth. At 82, is Side Rd. running (E) to Point Beach St. For. (846 as.). For. has 2^m of sandy beach (recr.pic.camp.hik.riding). 87. TWO RIVERS, home of large commercial fishing fleet (whitefish). The Hamilton Mfg. Co. & the Aluminum Goods Mfg. Co. (Mellon-controlled) are 2 largest industries. Snow (artificial) Festival in July.

93. MANITOWOC (see Milwaukee Trip III). Pere Marquette Auto Ferry across L. Mich. to Ludington, Mich. (frequent schedules). At Manitowoc is J. with US151 which turns (W) leading to Valders, Norweg. settlement, where parents of noted economist Thorstein Veblen sett. 1857. Veblen was born & lived here until family moved to Minn.

WIS.-ILL. LINE (18^m from Libertyville, Ill.) (N) to WIS.-MICH. LINE (at Land O'Lakes, Wis.). 304. US45

Via: (Milwaukee), Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Wittenberg, Antigo & Eagle River. RR.: Chi. & NW. Usual accoms.: In cities up to Antigo; N. of Antigo, at resorts.

Sec. 1: ILL. LINE to FOND du LAC. 100.

US45 crosses ILL. LINE at 0. & passes Bristol at 4.5, where P. T. Barnum's circus appeared 10 yrs. before the Civil War. 36. J. with side Rd. leading (R) c.3^m to Greendale, a Resettlement Adm. Housing development for low-income group employees. Just before US45 reaches outskirts of Milwaukee, it passes HALES CORNER, then skirts MILWAUKEE at 37. Hy. passes CURRIE PK. (pic.facils.) & in rapid succession, GERMANTOWN, WEST BEND, KEWASKUM & EDEN, all thriving little German towns. N. of KEWASKUM at 79., Kettle Moraine St. For. begins (hqs. at Mauthe L. 25,000 as. in N. unit). FOND du LAC is reached at 100. (see Milwaukee Trip IV).

Sec. 2: FOND du LAC to WITTENBERG. 99.

US45 travels along L. Winnebago shore almost paralleling US41 & at 19. reaches OSHKOSH (see US41). 43. HORTONVILLE, where larger & more developed farms can be seen from the hy. 51. NEW LONDON straddles Wolf R. at its J. with the Embarrass R. It is a lumber terminus at which steamboats, plying Wolf R. from Oshkosh, land. 67. CLINTONVILLE, home of Chet Bennett, famous woodsman & explorer of the northern Ls. country. Clintonville is most highly industrialized city in reg. It has several cheese factories & Four Wheel Drive plants (O.appl.). 99. WITTENBERG, sett. by Norweg. Lutherans toward end of 19th cent., was named for German Univ. town where Martin Luther began Reformation. A few Winnebago, subsisting on basket weaving & odd for. jobs, also live near-by. At Wittenberg is J. with St.29.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On St.29 (W) 29^m Wausau (see US51).

(B) On St.29 (E) 29^m to Shawano, Menominee Ind. village before coming of white man. This tribe on its way (W) from Green Bay, in search of better f. & h. grounds, found L. Shawano & sett. on its shores. But early white pioneers realized almost immediately that the source of timber supply & power would be the Wolf R. & sett. there. From Shawano 2 good hys. (St.55 & St.47) run into the Ind. northwoods country.

St.55 traveling (N) as 1 Rd. with St.47 reaches dirt Rd. leading (L) across Wolf R. close to Oshkosh Burial Plot, where wife of Neopit Oshkosh & 1 daughter are buried. Graves are marked with animal representations. At 8^m Keshena (see below). Here are hqs. of Menominee Ind. Reserv. (231,000 as.no overnight accoms.pic.), a wooded wilderness of virgin white pine & hemlock, through which Wolf R. flows. The quiet, shady, almost gloomy for. with its cool, musty smell is welcome relief, especially in summer, to preceding miles. Here c.2,300 Menominee Inds., wealthiest in Wis., live & work, more or less cooperatively. Each family has a subsistence farm; profits of sawmill, in which most of the men work, are paid into common fund held by U.S. Treasury, to be used for schools, hospitals, old age pensions & workmen's compensation. Older Inds. & those unconverted to Christianity, live by themselves, devoting most of their time to hunt. & fish. A secret spring festival is held here, with tribal ceremonies. In village of Keshena are Ind. agency bldgs.; school, hospital, & Cath. Mission. Most of the Menominee are Cath. Close by is Keshena Falls, trading post of Chief Oshkosh. Ceremonial lodge still stands near-by. St.55 now travels for c.22^m without a cross Rd. through the beautiful Reserv. following, in the main, the old Military Rd. that ran from Ft. Howard, to Ft. Wilkins, Mich., passing en route at 10^m Spirit Rock & at 15.5^m Beaure Place, old tavern, beyond which is a for. path to Big Smoky Falls. At 30^m hy. reaches edge of Nicolet Nat. For., crossing it from S. to N. (hqs. at Rhinelander). It encompasses a great part of northern Wis. Ls. reg., with pine, spruce & hardwood stands & has trout, muskellunge, pike & bass fishing as well as grouse & deer hunting (in season) except in wildlife refuges (clearly marked). There are 20 improved pub. camps & pic. grounds. Ranger Stas. at: Florence, Lakewood, Laona, Eagle River & Three Lakes.

Sec. 3: WITTENBERG to MICHIGAN LINE. 105.

US45 at Wittenberg starts (N) again, climbing steadily from c.800' past Birnamwood & Aniwa to J. with St.47 at 18.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) hy. turns back (SW) into Menominee Ind. Reserv., passes Phlox at 7^m & Neopit at 19^m. Here in sm. unpainted houses live the Menominee who work in near-by sawmill, which in 1924 replaced old one & now is 1 of the best in Wis. U.S.

Dept. of Agric. supervises cutting of timber to assure constant supply of logs. Pub. School (R). There is no illiteracy among younger generation. Hy. runs diagonally through the reserv. & at 23^m reaches Keshena (see above).

25. ANTIGO (1,496') is the "beginning of the Northland." Kraft-Phoenix, one of largest processed cheese factories of its kind, is located here. Antigo has flourishing co-ops, creamery, grocery, hatchery, food, & state-supervised maple syrup co-op. City is also distributing center for thousands of carloads of Wisconsin's best potatoes. Deleglise H. (1877) oldest bldg. & home of city's founder, stands on Pub. Lib. Grounds. It houses Langlade Cty. Hist. Soc. & contains pioneer documents, Ind. relics & old lumbering tools. At 41. is beautiful SUMMIT L. (1,723'), highest L. in Wis. & at 50. PELICAN L. (1,605'), large, brooding & sometimes treacherous. Hy. cont. to MONICO at 55. & J. with US8.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (E) 12^m to Crandon, near 4 Ls., a community retarded by depleted fors. & almost ruined by repeated fires. Settlers from Kentucky made "moon" here long before Prohibition. It now has the only legal distillery in Wis.

(B) On this Rd. (W) 14^m is Rhineland, "Capital of the Heart of the Lakes," one of most concentrated L. areas of the country. City is both winter & summer resort & from it most of L. reg. can easily be reached by hy., airway or RR. Though a lumbering town that began cutting timber as late as 1857 it exhausted most of the large timber in 60 yrs. & then turned to paper making. Now has some of largest paper-making plants in country, specializing in glassine, & wax paper. At 924 Davenport St. is Logging Mus. (O.daily 9-5 from May-Dec.) displaying logging implements, & relics of reg.'s early days, incl. a pair of enormous boots that only Paul Bunyan could have worn; also the "fabulous hodag beast" which, although known to be a hoax, is still a symbol of the North's old tradition. Here is J. with St.47.

NW. of Rhineland 9^m St.47 enters Amer. Legion St. Pk. (37,650 as.), a reg. of inland glacial Ls., streams & wooded country (pub.camp grounds; accoms. at resorts). At 16^m is L. Tomahawk St. Camp, rehabilitation camp for tubercular patients; in operation 40 yrs. At 39^m Woodruff (see US51). From Woodruff (W) 2^m St.70 runs into Lac du Flambeau Ind. Reserv. On 70,000 as. of cut-over marginal land, c.700 Inds. eke out an existence, acting mainly as guides, & selling hand-made trinkets to tourists.

Back on the main hy. at Monico, US45 travels again as one Rd. with St.47, cont. N. & reaches THREE LAKES at 73., resort town surrounded by wild country (accoms., from rustic log cabins to the luxury resort, Northernaire, in vic.). Ranger hqs. for Nicolet Nat. For. are at Virgin L. 5^m (E) on St.32.

US45 passes CATFISH L. at 82. 84. EAGLE RIVER, recr. center for Northern Wis. wondrous lakeland, is located on the Eagle R., at start of Eagle Chain of Lakes, one of longest & finest lake groups of the Northwoods & completely navigable. There are 27 Ls. in chain & 65 for. fringed individual Ls. Muskellunge & wall-eyed pike f. is unexcelled. Eagle R. is Vilas Cty. seat, named after Wm. F. Vilas, who was nationally prominent as Postmaster Gen., Secy. of Interior & U.S. Sen., as well as timberlord of the Northwoods. His activities in timber were Federally investigated while he was Secy. of Interior. His bequest of $30,000,000, after death of his daughter, founded fellowships & scholarships (1/5 of which were to go to Negroes). Vilas Cty. is sett. largely by Scands. Finnish Co-ops have flourished here for many yrs. At Eagle R. is J. with St.70.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (E) 0.5^m are dist. hqs. for Nicolet For. At 7^m Anvil L. Camp-ground (spring-fed with excellent beach;facils.). Anvil L. ski-trail begins here. At 10^m still in for. is Franklin L. Camp (facils.). Several Nat. For. camp & pic. grounds in vic.

(N) on US45 at 87. is J. with St.17.

SIDE TRIP: On St.17 (R) c.5^m hy. again enters Nicolet Nat. For. over gently rolling hills, deep into the pine woods. From high pt. in this vic. (1,800') North Twin L. can be seen (fine view). At c.13^m Rd. cuts through a white birch stand & leads to Phelps at 18^m on E. end of L., a lumber boomtown that dwindled into a ghost for yrs. & was kept alive by summer residents. Today, its sawmill & chemical plant are again busy at work. There are 40 Ls. & 100^m of trout streams within 10^m radius. At Phelps beyond mill (L) is Cty. E which touches S. shore of 10 mile sq. Lac Vieux Desert (resort.cabins.excellent pike & muskie f.), partly in Mich. Cty. E joins US45 c.2^m outside Land O'Lakes (see below).

From Eagle R. US45 travels directly (N). At 95. CONOVER, another lumber boomtown which in its heyday boasted 29 saloons on Main St. Now is a through-tourist place conn. by Rd. the numerous Ls. of vic. Hy. skims ahead through blueberry marshes & picturesque conifers into LAND O'LAKES on MICH.-WIS. LINE at 105., pt. of entry into one of the few "unspoiled areas in the U.S." Northern Highland State For. (126,700 as.camp.pic.Hqs. at Trout L. on US51) contains magnificent stands of stately pines, oak, birch & poplar. There are more than 150 Ls.

within boundaries of the For., many of them links of chains ideal for canoe trips. Land O'Lakes is also pt. of entry into Gogebic Cty., Mich., incl. Porcupine Mts. with L. of Clouds, Agate & Bondwater Falls. Headwaters of the Wis., Brule & Ontonagon Rs. are within a few miles. All winter sports facils. at Kings Gateway, (hotel & recr. center) on Wis.-Mich. Line.

US 51—WISCONSIN

WIS.-ILL. LINE (19^m from Rockford, Ill.) (N) to WIS.-MICH. LINE (at Ironwood, Mich.) 331. US51.

Via: Janesville, Madison, Portage, Plainfield, Stevens Point, Wausau, Merrill, Tomahawk, Woodruff. Good Rd. Accoms.: In cities; cabins in Northern Lakes reg.

This is Wis.' main S-N tour which divides st. into 2 equal parts. From the rich farmland & highly industrialized cities of the south it skirts Madison & the Univ. center, & hurries through the poor, cut-over sec. of the Northwoods, where wolves are still hunted, to the Mich. Line.

0. BELOIT, (see Madison Trip I) on Wis.-Ill. Line. 12. JANESVILLE (see). 55. MADISON (see). Here is J. with St.23 leading (W) 21^m to Ripon, disputed birthpl. of Rep. Party. 92. PORTAGE (see Madison Trip II). 162. J. with St.54 leading (R) 30^m to Waupaca, named in honor of Potawatomi chief who died after making speech to his braves urging them not to massacre the whites. Waupaca is a potato market & recr. center. Chain of 23 Ls. begins here & offers excellent German brown trout. Long leisurely canoe or launch trips may also be taken from here. (NW) of Waupaca, Rd. again enters terminal morain country.

169. STEVENS POINT. J. with US10; located at strategic center of St. It has good mun. airport & is serviced by Wis. Central Air Line. City was 1st sett. in 1838 & since then has been a trade & transport center. At one time it was known as "Potato Capital of Wis." Among its industries, the 5 fishing-tackle plants rank high, but it has primarily service trades such as insurance, transportation & education & is seat of an important St. Teachers College. Town, even today, has large Polish-speaking pop. From Stevens Point hy. traverses sandy plain & farms look as poor as the jackpine fors. through which US51 passes. Here is J. with US10 leading (L) 35^m to Marshfield. Town was completely destroyed by fire in 1887, but on its ashes a new city arose. Today it is a busy woodworking & casein center.

202. WAUSAU, an industrial city with more than 40 industries, is in the leading "Amer. cheese" producing reg. Winter Sports Area of Rib. Mt., one of finest in Middle West, lies 7^m (SW) of it, & is part of Rib. Mt. Pk. (1940', highest in Wis.; 440 as. all ski facils). Annual Winter Frolic in March. Superb view from Lookout Rock. Rib. Mt. is scene of one of Paul Bunyan tales. The mythical giant of lumber camps climbed the mt. & saw beneath him the waters of the Wis. Impulsively he took a huge leap & landed in the R., creating such a splash that the sound could be heard miles away. When last drops of water had fallen, there were Wis.' beautiful Ls. From Wausau, Rd. runs down long, steep hill, past Grandfather Falls on Wis. R. (here 80 million ft. of timber were once piled up in greatest log jam in Wis. hist.), to MERRILL at 219. J. with Cty. Rd. leading (W) 1^m to Council Grounds St. Pk. (278 as. of white & Norway pines, also hardwoods; camp.pic.bath. at L. Alexander, upper end of for.). Hy. now passes through terminal moraine formed by Chippewa lobe of Wis. glacier—main northern dairy reg. & well-to-do farms. 241. TOMAHAWK, at J. of Wis., Tomahawk & Somo Rs. As late as 1886, there was only 1 lonely tavern here. Four yrs. later, Tomahawk was a timber boomtown with pop. of c.2,000. After the collapse it turned to paper & pulp mfg. City is hqs. for st.'s for-fire protection units. US51 now runs through undulating country, past blueberry marshes, stunted jackpines, & reaches MINOCQUA at 271., center of Northern Ls. Region. Town hibernates in winter but by 4th of July, literally booms. 272. J. with St.70 running (L) through Lac du Flambeau Ind. Reserv. 273. WOODRUFF, consisting at one time mainly of saloons that catered to lumberjacks of surrounding woods; now a lively L. resort; Ls. Minocqua, Sisshebogema, Sunday & Pike are in vic. From Woodruff US51 & St.70 travel as 1 route for 2^m. Here St.70 turns (R) & leads directly into Eagle R. (see St.45).

US51 now crosses through NW. part of NORTHERN HIGHLANDS ST. FOR. (126,700 as. with 150 lakes, incl. bath.f.camp.& pic.) located in central part of Vilas Cty. (c.1,600'), primarily a wilderness area of Ls., streams & pinewood country. Summer resorts & supervised campgrounds abound. For. hqs. at Trout L. 294. LITTLE BOHEMIA, resort among the pines, where John Dillinger & his gang hid in April 1931, & from which all escaped after desperate fight with F.B.I. Personal belongings of Dillinger & fellow gangsters are on display at Little Bohemia Lodge (O). 302. MANITOWISH, near Manitowish R., whose waters are famous for muskellunge fishing. 305. MERCER, still displaying a relic of logging days, the Go-Devil—10' wheels joined by an axis, which, until tractors were used, served to "snake out" timber from the woods. The Northern Ls. Reg., of which Mercer is N. entrance, has a ratio of water to land surface equalled only by 2 other places: one in Minn., the other, the Gulf of Bothnia. For. fires have gutted much of area N. of here. Blueberry swamps, deserted mine housing & dumps make next 23^m a contrast to the for. just left behind. 331. HURLEY, lumberjacks & miners town, with former reputation for bawdiness & crime. It & Bessemer, its twin across the st. line, came into existence in same yr., 1886, rivaling each other in lustiness. "The 4 toughest places in the world are Cumberland, Hayward, Hurley & Hell, but Hurley is toughest of all," the saying goes. Hurley is locale of Edna Ferber's novel "Come & Get It."

US 61—WISCONSIN

WIS.-IOWA LINE (at Dubuque, Iowa) (N) to WIS.-MINN. LINE (at La Crescent, Wis.). 122. US61.

Via: Lancaster, Fennimore, Boscobel, Readstown, Viroqua. Accomms.: In cities.

US61, together with St.35 & US151, crosses Miss. R. over Toll Bridge into Wis., heading (N) & reaching POTOSI at 19., a mining town with an old brewery, part of which was built in 1852 & is still running. Near it is Potosi Station, river port. Lead was struck here in 1829 & was shipped down the R. 30. LANCASTER, J. with St.81 which unites with St.35 for 8^m (St.35 travels S. & N. to Prairie du Chien & from there becomes River Hy. noted for its scenic beauty along steep banks of the Miss.).

SIDE TRIP: St.81 traveling (SW) for 11^m reaches Nelson Dewey Farmstead St. Pk. (720 ac. camp. & pic. facs.), estate of 1st Gov. of Wis., U.S. Sen., & leader of Wis. Progressivism. Orig. bldgs. of the farm home & many other old bldgs. are still standing; a few are restored. Pk. embraces some of the most attractive bluff scenery along upper Miss. R. (accoms. in Cassville).

US61 reaches at 42. FENNIMORE, lying on a pt. of Military Ridge, which drains 4 ways: to the Blue, Green, Platte, & Grant Rs. Descending the 10^m escarpment, Rd. reaches BOSCOBEL (Fr.-Ind. "beautiful woods") at 53. When steamboats plied the Wis., this was an important shipping pt. Stage coaches brought travelers, ox carts, & produce from the inland. The Gideons, whose real name is Christian Commercial Travelers Assoc. of Amer., had their beginning here, when 2 traveling salesmen found themselves together in a hotel room reading the Bible as an evening's diversion. The 2 men, realizing how lonely most travelers are, thought it a good idea to supply hotels with Bibles. Hotels eagerly responded & now practically all rooms contain a Bible.

In the center of town is Residence of John J. Blaine, former Gov. of Wis. & U.S. Senator. From Boscobel 1^m is J. with St.60 which follows Wis. R. (W) for c.25^m to J. with St.35. The latter is a 100^m Miss. R. route (For pts. of int. see US61). At 55, a NEW BRIDGE, built in 1937 to supplant one of Wisconsin's last covered bridges, crosses Wis. R. This was once an important waterway, but because of its many islands & shifting channels large steamboats could not always ply it. In early yrs. of lead mining, it was thought that ore could be shipped from here up the Wis., across the portage to the Fox R. & thence through Gt. Ls. to N.Y. This did not prove feasible. Even before mining days, lumber was swept downstream & soon reg. had a class of rivermen who became experts in running the rapids & handling the difficult barges. In their stories, the mythical riverman, Whiskey Jack, who rivaled Paul Bunyan in prowess & strength, was created. Villagers still remember riotous pay-nights when rafters came to town. Sometimes 100 men would be fighting in the muddy streets while the city marshal sat, revolver in hand, "watching the affair with the enlightened eye of an expert & the enjoyment of a connoisseur."

122. LA CROSSE. (Served by 3 major RRs. Bus conns. Usual accoms.) La Crosse is at confluence of Black, La Crosse, & Miss. Rs., in a beautiful coulee country described by Hamlin Garland—a succession of high bony ridges, wooded glens & valleys, especially fine in fall & winter. The vista along the R., with its massive headlands, is impressive. The Hudson & the Rhine are the only Rs. that can compare with Upper Miss. Coulee Reg. From its highest bluff 3 sts., Wis., Minn., & Iowa, can be seen. It is the natural trading & shipping center of the rich agric. reg. around it. Town was 1st called Prairie La Crosse by the early Fr. travelers who named it for a game the Inds. played, which reminded them of the French game “la crosse.” From its 1st settlement, 1842, until coming of the RRs., La Crosse was entirely dependent on Miss. R. transportation. River packets brought settlers & freight. In winter sleds took place of steamboats. Steamboat traffic averaged c.200 boats a month during 1856-57. Two-thirds of its pop. is of foreign descent. First settlers were from N.Y., Vermont & Ohio. Then came the artisans & craftsmen of Germany & Norway, who helped it grow economically & culturally. Around 1877, as the lumbering bus. grew & RRs. created new markets, La Crosse became the most important distribution pt. bet. St. Louis & St. Paul. In 1942, the Fed. Gov. created a 9' channel in the Miss., with locks & dams, assuring a deep waterway from Alton, Ill. to beyond the Falls of St. Anthony.

La Crosse had its 1st sawmill by 1852 & logging was dominant industry. By turn of the cent., the fors. were depleted & La Crosse quickly turned to diversified industries, today producing rubber articles, agric. implements, air conditioning equipment, beer, & photographic supplies. It is also a cultural center, known for its music, social & political clubs. During Civil War, followers of Mark “Brick” Pomeroy, editor of the “La Crosse Democrat,” were Southern sympathizers & when Lincoln was assassinated, a near riot ensued among the opponents, charging that Pomeroy had instigated the murder. Geo. W. Peck, one of Wis.'s best-known humorists, was 1 of Pomeroy's editors. He was author of “Peck's Bad Boy” series & had his own newspaper, “The Sun,” which was later published in Milwaukee. Here he became mayor, & eventually Gov. of the st. PTS. OF INT.: 501 N. 3rd St., Allis Chalmers Farm Implement Plant; 4 separate bldgs. with a $2,000,000 addition (tours appl.). 912 Market St., St. Rose Chapel (Cath.), a Romanesque basilica with exquisitely beautiful inter. of marble & inlaid mother-of-pearl. It is a chapel of Perpetual Adoration. La Crosse St., E. of 17th St., Merrick St. Pk. (with facils.) in which is only known Ind. Burial Mound in La Crosse, a “turtle” effigy, & a zoo. Cor. St. Andrew, Loomis & Harvey Sts., La Crosse Rubber Mills (O.9-12 Mon.-Thurs. guides.appl.). From La Crosse 12^m (E) on US16 is Hamlin Garland H., where author lived as a boy & about which he wrote in “A Son of the Middle Border.”

MILWAUKEE

RRs.: Milwaukee RR.; Chi. & NW.; Mil. & Chi. North Shore Line. Bus: Northland Greyhound Lines. Five accredited air lines. Wis. & Mich. (Auto Ferry) Co. to Muskegon, Mich. Ample accoms.

Milwaukee, located on the crescent curve of L. Mich., the most beautiful harbor on the Great Lakes, is at the confluence of Milwaukee & Kinnickinnic Rs. These Rs. quadrisect the city. Chief industrial sec. is in the Menomonee Valley. Along Wisconsin Ave., running (W) from the L., is main bus. sec., while other bus. areas are on the N., S. & W. sides of town in many neighborly centers. Homes, of which 50% are owned by the residents, spread all over town, with the more pretentious mansions along Lake Drive. Although 13th in pop. among American cities, Milwaukee ranks 10th in value of industrial production, which leads the world in manufacture of diesel & gas engines, outboard motors & motorcycles, tractors & wheel barrows. Four of the 7 largest breweries of U.S. are here. It also leads the country in the production of hosiery, leather gloves & mittens, work shoes, tin & enamelware, saw & flour mill equipment.

Annually, Milwaukee still receives national trophies. So far, it has had more than 25 nat. awards for fire-waste reduction, health conservation & traffic safety. The Wickersham Committee cited it as “a city free from crime or where a criminal is speedily detected, tried & convicted. No other city has such a record.” Its alert police administers “24-hour justice.” Milwaukeeans enjoy a fine cultural life. City has 7 colleges & a univ., art & music schs. & galleries, exceptionally good pub. libraries & museums. It has the largest vocational sch. in the world. Milwaukee's pop. now is 85% American born, although Germans form largest part of its foreign stock, while the Poles are steadily increasing. Most of them live on the South Side, where their cultural life is centered around the parish chs. They have 2 Polish dailies. Next come the Italians who are concentrated mainly in the 3rd Ward. Their frequent fiestas lend color to the life of the city. Negroes have sett. here only since World War I. In 1 generation, the city has assimilated people of many nationalities & done it so well that its representatives participate in all major activities & hold ranking positions, particularly in politics & sports.

The land of Milwaukee was surveyed as late as 1835 & was bought by 3 men, Solomon Juneau, Byron Kilbourn & Geo. H. Walker, who immediately set up rival towns. The quarrel centering around payment for the Milwaukee bridges, became so violent that at one point the bridges were partly destroyed & cannon trained on Kilbourn's house. Controversy was sett. in 1845 when legislature decided that the cost would have to be borne equally. A yr. later, the city received its charter & Juneau became its 1st mayor. From that time on there was a great influx of Germans. Most of them were professionals & skilled craftsmen, who advanced the city's progress immeasurably. Despite Ind. troubles, depressions & epidemics the pop. increased from 21,000 to 46,000 in 1 yr. Milwaukeeans were overwhelmingly abolitionists & freed many runaway slaves, thereby troubling the Fed. authorities. Culturally as well as economically, the German element began to take over the city. Shipbuilding raced forward & by 1856, the 1st transoceanic shipment was made in a Milwaukee-built schooner. The 2nd German opera to be performed in U.S. was put on here & 3 yrs. later, 1st German opera, "Mohega, die Blume des Waldes," based on Ind. legend, was composed & produced in Milwaukee. Particularly important in the music field were the Musikvereine & choral societies, & every Turnverein had its Saengerfest. The "Wisconsin Banner," 1st German daily, was published in 1844; Byron Price had printed 1st Eng. paper in 1836. First German theatrical performance was given in 1850. Two tragedies hit the city—the sinking of the excursion steamer, "Lady Elgin," in 1860, in which 295 persons were drowned & the Newhall House hotel fire, 1880, in which 64 people died. Both events were comm. in ballad & verse. The ballads were still sung in 1892 when the famous 3rd Ward fire occurred, destroying 16 blocks of bus. & residential districts, causing millions of dollars of damage. Despite fire & panic of 1893, this was the real era of "Gemuetlichkeit." Cafés & beer gardens flourished; German theater & music were at their height. It was at this time that labor & the Socialist Party, under Victor L. Berger's leadership combined, gaining rewards for both. World War I changed a great deal of this domestic peace. German was no longer spoken on the streets, names were changed, & personal relations grew strained. Then came Prohibition which destroyed an industry & much of the city's conviviality; during the decade that followed, Milwaukee's industries became more diversified. From 1916 to 1940, Milwaukee had a Socialist mayor, Daniel W. Hoan, although its gov. was non-partisan. It was this system of checks & balances that helped to make the city solvent (it is largest debt-free city in U.S.) & to keep its civic record. World War II brought an "all-out" in production, bond buying & general participation. More than 100,000 women were working out during the war. Although there was great war-time expansion in industry, 99% of the factories were pre-war plants. Reconversion in Milwaukee, therefore, was primarily a switch to civilian goods.

His insistence on importance of air power in future wars & his scathing attacks on "the hidebound bureaucrats of the army" so infuriated his superiors that he was suspended in 1925. He continued his warnings until his death in 1936.

TRIPS OUT OF MILWAUKEE

I. MILWAUKEE (W) to MADISON. 82. US18

Heading (W) on Bluemound Rd., US18 leaves Milwaukee & reaches WAUKESHA at 18.5, former Potawatomi Village & later a famous health resort, known as "Saratoga of the West" because of its health waters; now an industrial city with well-known limestone quarries. Home of Carroll College (Presb.1841). Waukesha was an abolitionist center in pre-Civil War days & an important Underground RR. Sta. The "American Freeman" was printed here (1844-48). After the health boom, factories replaced resorts & bottled spring water is still one of its principal products. Waukesha is home of White Rock Mineral Springs. Mud Baths & Spa are still famous. At Waukesha is J. with St.59 leading (SW) 8^m to Genesee Depot. In vic. is estate of Alfred Lunt & Lynn Fontanne. At 26.5. J. with St.83 which leads (L) 1.5^m to Wales, a Welsh community that until recently celebrated Eisteddfod festival of harvest, & still observes St. David's Day. US18 now passes through kettle moraine country past GOLDEN LAKE at 36. At 56.5, a tobacco-growing area begins, beautiful in summer with flowers whose blooms are later hooded to prevent cross-fertilization, presenting strange looking as. of paper blossoms. At 80.5. J. with US14 & then (R) on Park St. to University Ave., MADISON (see) at 82.

II. MILWAUKEE (W) to MADISON. 82. St.30.

This is an alternate Rd. to US18, narrower & less traveled, but especially good for hikers, cyclists & horseback riders. At 14. St.30 branches (R) & at 25. is DELA-FIELD. Here is St. John's Military Academy (Episc.). Goth. bldgs. (dress parade Sun.4 p.m.). Near-by is Nashotah House, Anglo-Cath. mission founded 1841, now Episc. seminary. 27. UPPER & LOWER NEMAHBIN LS. (swim.boat.f.). 50. AZ-TALAN MOUND PK. 2.5^m (E) of the present city of LAKE MILLS at 52.5. In Pk. are ruins of an ancient city which stood on banks of Crawfish R., inhabited by people very advanced in civilization & arts as evinced by plan of village itself, their burnt brick & mortar construction & pottery & posts cut by sharp-edged stone implements. Although discovered in 1836, it was not presented to Wis. Archeological Soc. until 1922. Alex. Humboldt's writings suggested the name. Although it is fairly certain that Aztecs were not ancestors of these peoples, still their crafts show Mexican influence. Truncated pyramids with their plastered walls & shells from the Gulf coast identify Aztalan with the culture of the Middle & Lower Miss. rather than with Upper Miss. Milwaukee Pub. Mus. has a very fine replica of one of the bodies found. At 76.5. is J. with US51. 82. MADISON.

III. SHOREWOOD (Milwaukee) (NW) to WATERTOWN. 47.5. US16

0. SHOREWOOD, suburb of Milwaukee on L. Michigan at J. with US141. From here, on W. Capitol Dr., US16 passes Estabrook Pk. to J. with US41 at 7. 21. PEWAUKEE (resort), on whose lake sail & ice boats skim in season. 28. PINE L. (now mainly summer homes) where 1st Swedish immigrants settled in Wis. & called it New Upsala. 31. Resort village of OKAUCHEE, & L. Okauchee near-by (boat.f. cottages). 34. OCONOMOWOC, bet. Fowler & LaBelle Ls. (resorts, watering place; popular during week-ends; summer & winter sports). U.S. & Canada Skating Meets & Central States Ski-jumping contests held here. Out of town 3^m is Devil's Hollow, where ski-jumping takes place. At 39. ROCK R. is crossed. 45.5. OCTAGON H., a 4-story bldg. with many mechanical devices, such as central heating & air conditioning, that were advanced ideas 100 yrs. ago. (O.daily.May 30 to Nov.1,1849-53). 47.5. WATERTOWN, sett. c.1836 by New Englanders. Four yrs. later German professionals or political refugees began to arrive. Carl Schurz, famous political reformer, arrived in 1856, having fled the "1848 revolution" in Germany. Schurz who hated slavery joined Republican Party although most Germans in Wis. were Democrats. In 1857 he ran for Lt. Gov., but was defeated, & next yr. campaigned for Lincoln, who made him Minister to Spain, 1861. He became brigadier gen. (1862) & major gen. of U.S. Army (1863); later U.S. Senator from Mo. & Secy. of Interior under Hayes. Mrs. Schurz, a pupil of Froebel, est. in Watertown 1st kindergarten in America, 1856. Bldg. in which it began is still standing on N. 2nd St. Ralph Blumenfeld, another notable Watertowner, introduced journalistic methods into England & became editor of London "Daily Express." Watertown is nationally known for its geese & supplies N.Y. markets. It also produces cutlery, cash registers, locks, furnaces, auto linings & canned peas. It has 2 sm. colleges, Northwestern (Evang.Luth. 1865) modeled on a German Gymnasium, & Sacred Heart College (Cath.normal sch.for boys). At 70. is COLUMBUS. Here an antiquated gristmill & hotel built 1840 still stand. Near-by on James St. & among many plain bldgs. is Farmers' & Merchants' Union Bank, designed by Louis Sullivan (teacher of Frank Lloyd Wright), & considered one of his finest pieces of work. On St.60 (W) of Columbus, hillsides are covered with pea vines. It is considered some of best pea-growing land in st.

IV. MILWAUKEE (N) to MANITOWOC. 87. US141. Via: Port Washington & Sheboygan.

Leaving Milwaukee by Lake Dr. along beautiful curve of the bay & heading (N), US141 passes SHOREWOOD, WHITEFISH BAY & FOX PT., suburbs of Milwaukee, on wooded bluffs to THIENSVILLE at 5.5. For many yrs. this was home of Victor L. Berger. Milwaukee's famous 1st Socialist Congressman. Because of his anti-war publications during World War I, he was accused of violating the Espionage Act. Congress repeatedly refused to seat him, while his case was being appealed, despite the fact that his Wis. constituents re-elected him. Finally in 1921, after being completely exonerated, he served 2 more terms in the House. As far back as the turn of the cent., Berger was editor of the "Social Democrat." In 1911, after Milwaukee's gov. became socialist, Victor Berger founded & edited the "Milwaukee Leader" which became the most important Socialist paper in the country. He served as chairman of nat. executive committee of Socialist Party, from 1927 until his death in 1929. At 19. by. crosses SAUK CR., which divides city of PORT WASHINGTON, 29., important lake fishing port with an artificial harbor in an int. L-shaped setting. A great bluff on (S) side of city marks site where Ozaukee Cty. farmers fought against being drafted for Civil War. A thousand rioters ransacked Draft Commissioner Por's H. (still standing at 405 Wisconsin St.), threw him down the stairs, loaded the sm. 4th of July cannon with the only cannon ball in town & took over the bluff, until Gov. troops captured 80 men & broke further resistance. Port Washington is an industrial city. Besides commercial fishing, it manufactures office equipment, rubber goods & machinery. PTS. OF INT.: Old Pebble H. (1848) built by Edw. Dodge & his wife with pebbles from shore. Now is gate of Wis. Electric Power Co. Blong H. at 317 Pier St. is a century old. Lincoln lived in it for a short time after the death of Ann Rutledge. At 43. is JOLIET & MARQUETTE

MARKER comm. their travel along L. Mich.'s shore. 49. OOSTBURG, sett. by Dutch immigrants. It was off shore here that the ill-fated "Phoenix" in 1847 burnt with its load of immigrants. More than 150 drowned. At c.50.5. J. with Cty.KK leading (R) to Terry Andrae St. Pk. 2^m (camp sites.pic.); 120 as. of dunes, pines & sandy beach.

57. SHEBOYGAN. RR. & bus conns.

Sheboygan, on shore of L. Mich. at mouth of Sheboygan R., had 2 beginnings. One was in 1835 when lumber prospectors from the East built 20 frame bldgs. In the 1837 depression, real estate crashed & the bldgs. were torn down & moved to another town; only 1 remained. The settlement became wilderness again. Yankee traders returned next yr. to build once more, this time to take root. The town, in 1844, still known as "The Mouth," attracted, because of its good harbor, lighth. & pier, settlers who came by way of the Gt. Ls. Lake steamships, particularly from Chicago & Buffalo, made daily calls, carrying each time new settlers. Most of these were German immigrants. Many were Lutherans who objected to Prussia's attempt to unite Calvinists & Lutherans. By 1849 members of other sects settled here. The next yr., although the town had only a hotel, blacksmith shop, foundry & brewery, it boasted 3 wkly. papers. First Dutch language paper in U.S. was published in Sheboygan. The "Forty-eighters"—a generation of Germans who sought religious & political freedom in America—did much to establish a fine community spirit. They kept up religious practices & cultural activities of the homeland & org. the famous Turnvereine (1854) to provide for physical culture & at same time serve as a political meeting ground. By 1860 wheat raising was important enough to support 20 flour mills & dairying was being fostered. First cheese factory was built in 1864. Lumber from Wis.'s woodland & the skilled foreign cabinetmakers made Sheboygan famous for its furniture, particularly chairs. This industry, however, declined with Wis.'s forests. Sheboygan now manufactures enamel ware & plumbing fixtures. PT. OF INT.: N. 6th St. & Center Ave., Sheboygan County Cth. (1933.mod.W.C. Weeks).

SIDE TRIP: W. of Sheboygan 4m is Kohler Village in which the Kohler Plant (O.tours 10 a.m. & 2 p.m.June-Sept.), nationally known manufacturers of bathroom fixtures. There are 450 cottages housing about 1/4 of its employees. To (S) of town is Estate of Walter J. Kohler who had been chairman of the company & one-time Gov. of Wis.

87. MANITOWOC

Served by Chi. & NW. RR. & Soo Line; also Orange Bus & Green Bay Stage. Carferry Lines: Ann Arbor & Pere Marquette, on L. shore.

A fair-sized city, Manitowoc sprawls along its harbor, whose shipyards once built the great lake steamers. When iron vessels replaced wooden ones, Manitowoc too declined; but only till World War I, when the yards again operated at full capacity. From then to World War II, the largest & most modern carferries, tug boats, tankers, dredges & pleasure craft were built. During last war, shipyards devoted themselves almost entirely to building submarines for U.S. Navy. Manitowoc has world's largest malting & evaporated milk plants. It is also the aluminum center of the world. First Wis. pea-canning factory was built here & Manitowoc still leads in canning. It has 60 different industries, among them the largest tinsel mfg. plant. At Manitowoc is J. with St.151.

SIDE TRIP: On latter (W) 12.5m to Valders, birthpl. of Thorstein Veblen. Beyond 3m is J. with Cty.A leading (L) 2.5m to St. Nazaire, Cath. community developed from Utopian dream of Father Oswald's "experiment in Christian Communism." Land was held in common. Villagers raised their own food & manufactured all clothes & necessities. After Father Oswald's death, 1873, complications arose & the Salvatorian Fathers & Sisters, who still operate the seminary & convent, took over.

V. MILWAUKEE (N) to FOND DU LAC. 63. US41. Via: Menomonee Falls.

US41 leaves Milwaukee by way of Lisbon Ave. going (NW) & at 13. reaches ME-NOMONEE FALLS, practically a suburb of Milwaukee with most of its wage earners working in the metropolis. At 32. just outside Richfield is J. with Cty.P.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 5m to where Holy Hill (1,361') can be seen (R); 2.5m beyond, Rd. reaches top of the hill on which pilgrimage ch. & Monastery of Carmelite Fathers is. In 1855 1st little ch. was built on this spot where miraculous cures were said to have taken place, & to this shrine of "Our Lady," even today the faithful make frequent visits & pilgrimages. Stations of the Cross are along the winding footpath, at which the devout stop to pray, on their way to the crest.

43.5. THERESA, lying in kettle moraine terrain, was named for daughter of Solomon Juneau, founder of Milwaukee (see).

63. FOND DU LAC.

Fond du Lac, on farther end of L. Winnebago, Wis.'s largest L., was a trading post as early as 1785. First permanent white settlers, Colwert & Pier, came in 1836. It remained a sm. town until 1850 when logs began coming down Wolf R. to L. Winnebago, & almost immediately sawmills flourished. In a little more than a decade, 11 mills cut 61 million feet of lumber. When logs no longer were plentiful, city concentrated on transportation. Plank Rds. were built bet. Fond du Lac & Sheboygan. By 1859, a RR. was completed to Chicago & other lines & hys. converged at tip of L., helping to make transition from lumbering to present day prosperity. It now has more than 70 large industrial plants incl. leather goods, burial caskets & refrigerators. PTS. OF INT.: St. Paul's Cathedral (Episc.Amer.Goth.). The inter. is especially int. for its Oberammergau wood carvings; contains effigy tomb & death masks.

VI. MILWAUKEE (S) to KENOSHA. 36. St.42. Via: Racine.

RRs.: Milwaukee RR.; Chi. & NW.; Mil. & N. Shore Line; T.M.E.R. & L.Co. (electric). Beginning at E. State & Milwaukee Sts., St.42 runs (S) on Milwaukee & becomes the lakeshore route to Chicago.

0. MILWAUKEE (see). 4.5. SOUTH SHORE PK. (bath.). A short distance beyond, St. Mary's Academy (Cath.girls). Near-by is St. Francis Seminary (1856) whose former director, Rev. Francis Haas, is now nationally recognized labor mediator; & St. Aemilianus Orphan Asylum. Milwaukee's 1st Cath. Ch., St. Peter's (1839) was removed to seminary grounds. 7.5. CUDAHY, home of Patrick Cudahy's famous meat packing plants. John Cudahy, U.S. Ambassador, & Gilda Gray, of "shimmy" fame, lived here. 10. SOUTH MILWAUKEE, one of Milwaukee's largest industrial suburbs and economically a part of it. Noted for heavy machinery & bldg. materials. Largest producer of excavating machinery in the world. First Congr. & St. Mark's Chs. (Episc.) are more than 100 yrs. old. 14.5. CARROLLVILLE, well-known for glue & chemical plants of U.S. Glue Co.

26. RACINE. (RR. & bus conns. Usual accoms.)

Racine, port on L. Mich., is 2nd largest & most industrialized city in Wis., a big jump from 1841 when lots on Main St. sold for $2, now valued at $1,700 a ft. When founded by Gilbert Knapp (1834), it was known as Port Gilbert. After 1850 came influx of foreign-born Eng., Irish, Czechs, Germans & Scands., who founded chs., schs. & foreign language newspapers. Near turn of the cent., Racine became industrialized, freight lines crossed through it & harbor improvements were made. Case machinery & agric. implements, Nash auto-parts, Johnson's wax & Horlick's Malted Milk are internationally known & foremost among city's 129 industries. Labor is well recognized, with 90% of shops unionized. PTS. OF INT.: (1) 7th & Wisconsin Ave., Cth. (Mod.Holabird & Root.entrance reliefs by Carl Milles,Swedish sculptor). First Cth. was built 1842. (2) College Ave. & 7th St., First Presb. Today have 2,500 people, owning a quarter million dollars in assets with sales approaching the $1,000,000 mark. It incl. service stas., supermarket, insurance agency, coal & fuel yard. It is one of largest city co-ops in U.S. (11) 941 Lake Ave., H. of Olympia Brown Willis, early suffrage leader; worked with Susan B. Anthony. (12) 2109 Northwestern Ave., Horlick Malted Milk Plant (N.O.; Tudor Goth.). (13) 700 State St., J. L. Case Co. Plant (O.appl.). (14) On Northwestern Ave., Horlick Mill (1836). Orig. dam still stands.

36. KENOSHA. (RR. & bus conns. Usual accoms.)

Kenosha, highly industrialized city, is situated along L. Mich., mfg. machinery, autos, beds & hosiery. Its pop. is largely of German, Ital. & Polish extraction. New England farmers of 3rd & 4th generation settled here as early as 1835 & brought with them ideas of a free press, free schs. & the authority to tax themselves. Kenosha was then known as Southport & its progressive newspaper, "The Telegraph," whose editor, C. L. Sholes, became the inventor of the typewriter, was wont to advocate, in particular, a free public school. First free sch. in Wis. was est. here 1849. As early as 1844, the "Wis. Phalanx," a Fourierist communal colony, was founded here by 20 men from Southport, who then went to Ripon to begin their experiment. The town's name was changed to Kenosha in 1850; not until 1884 did the Fed. Gov. appropriate $200,000 for harbor improvements. From then dates Kenosha's upward swing. By 1915, Simmons Bedding, Chicago & Rockford Hosiery, & Nash Auto Co. had joined other nat. manufacturers operating here. In 5 yrs. each employed bet. 4,000 to 5,000 workers. Its peaceful labor history was interrupted in 1928 with the Allen-A hosiery workers strike, which lasted 18 months. Strike was lost & Kenosha remained open shop. In 1933 Nash & Simmons workers struck & this time gained recognition of their unions. Since then, A.F. of L. & C.I.O. act together in the Trades & Labor Council, & support a weekly labor paper. City Manager System (1st in Wis.), under which Kenosha is governed, has lowered adm. costs & greatly improved conditions. PTS. OF INT.: 55th St. & 5th Ave., Simmons Bedding Co. (O.appl.), occupying 5 sq. blocks. Sheridan Rd. to 10th Ave., Civic Center, contains Kenosha Hist. & Art Mus. (O.Sun.1:30-5); also Kenosha Cty. Hist. Mus. (O.8-5 wks.). 1118 61st St., Rev. R. H. Deming H. was a sta. on Underground Railroad in the 1850's. 1420 63rd St., Amer. Brass Co. (O.appl.), now a subsidiary of Anaconda Copper Mining Co. 57th St. & 25th Ave., Nash-Kelvinator Plant (tours 10-2; Mon.-Fri.), largest factory in Kenosha.

VII. MILWAUKEE (SW) to LAKE GENEVA. 47. St.36. Via: Greendale & Burlington.

Hy. travels (SW) & at 11. passes GREENDALE (see US45). 36. BURLINGTON, sett. 1835 by Vermonters who named it for their capital city. To the W. 2nd along riverbank is site of Voree Strang Mormon Colony, which in 1844 was known as Garden of Peace. Jas. J. Strang, its founder, was disciple of Jos. Smith until he broke with him & started his own colony at Voree. Colony was an economic failure & in 1849 abandoned Voree for Beaver L., Mich. (see). Strang's grave is in the Voree burial ground. St.36 reaches at 47. LAKE GENEVA, known as the "Newport of Chicago society," & is frequented mainly by Chicagoans who have their homes & big estates there. The influx from Chicago became especially heavy after the Chicago fire in 1871, when wealthy Chicagoans moved their families here. Town hotel, near Fontana Williams Bay, was designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Here on a hill, 190' high, is famous Yerkes Observatory (O.free.June 1-Oct.1.Sat.1:30-3; Oct.1-June 1,10-12. 1897), operated by Univ. of Chicago. It houses world's largest refracting telescope (40") set within a mammoth dome, gift of Chas. T. Yerkes. Reg. abounds in game fish & the famous cisco. In winter, fishermen set up a "town" of tar-paper shacks on the frozen L. & ice fish. Ciscos are caught at night, usually with flares & brightly-colored bait. St.36 climbs a ridge & reaches L. Como (R) & Cisco Bay (L). Further 0.5^{mi} is Williams Bay (swim.boat.refresh.f.license & guides.speedboat trips). Winter sports & carnivals during season. At W. end of lake is Fontana (swim.boat.). Here, a century before, was camp of Potawatomi Chief, Big Toe. On S. shore of lake is Northwestern Military & Naval Academy & some Ind. mounds.

MADISON

RR. Stas.: Milwaukee RR., 644 W. Washington Ave.; Chi. & NW., 201 S. Blair St. Bus Sta.: Union Bus Terminal, 122 W. Washington Ave. Airport: Municipal, on US51 6^{mi} (N), Northwest Airline. Accomms.: All types.

Madison is beautifully situated on an isthmus formed by Ls. Mendota & Monona, with Ls. Waubesa & Kegonsa to the (SE) joined by the Yahara R. The impressive Capitol rises 285' above the heights of the isthmus, its granite dome crowned by the gilt statue of "Forward" visible for miles, from any approach to Madison. It is seat of St. Univ. which occupies the wooded shoreland of L. Mendota stretching to the (S) & (NE). Fed. Judge John D. Doty saw its beauty & realized the possibilities of making this "four lakes region" the capital, when he 1st passed through in 1829. By 1836 he owned huge tracts of land on the isthmus & was able to persuade the legislature to choose it as the site of the capital & location of the Univ. From a "beautiful but uninhabitable" wilderness grew the present handsome city. In 1846 it was inc. as a village & was named after James Madison who had died 10 yrs. before. But development lagged until Jairus Fairchild from Milwaukee financed the enterprise. Soon after, although the isthmus was still a for., the town became populated, spurred on by arrival of the 1st RR. Business began, banks sprang up, mills operated continuously & public building went on furiously for a time.

The Univ. was slower in its growth. While Fairchild was mayor (1856), commercial & cultural interests vied with each other. Bayard Taylor, James R. Lowell & Horace Greeley visited the town & gave lectures. The financial panic of the next yr. slowed up business ventures & stopped the bringing in of Eastern labor. Civil War brought back the boom because Madison was a center of war activities. Camp Randall on St. Fair Grounds had 7,000-8,000 men. The Univ., however, suffered; hardly a student remained. In 1866, it was completely reorganized & from then began to expand. In 1904 Rbt. M. LaFollette was elected gov. & the Progressive movement, known as the "Wis. idea," was launched. It was backed by Prof. John R. Commons, famous political economist of the Univ. After 10 yrs. the adm. changed but the "Wis. idea" continued unaffected by alternating incumbents. In 1917, Univ. students, in a patriotic fever, burned LaFollette in effigy, because of his pacifist speeches. After the war, Madison again sett. down. In 1918, it had 35 chs. & 35 labor unions. Despite being known as a cultural center, it is also an industrialized city & ranks 4th in St. Town & Gown still form its 2 main sets of society but frequently these, too, meet on common ground.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) In Capitol Pk., St. Capitol (1906-17, by Geo. B. Post, Ital. Ren.). Its granite dome is the only one in the country & its height is 2nd only to the Capitol Dome in Washington. (22) Univ. of Wis. (bldgs. O. during sch. hours) spreads for a mile along crest of ridge bordering S. shore of L. Mendota. Univ. grounds are divided into 3 secs.: Upper Campus, Lower Campus, & Agric. Campus, with outlying centers. Bldgs. erected since 1900 are in mod. Ital. Ren. by Geo. B. Ferry & Alfred C. Clas, J. T. W. Jennings & recently Arthur Peabody. Some of the bldgs. on Lower Campus: Men's Gym. & Armory (1894. Norman fortress design); Mem. Union (1928. O. 1st Sun. of month. Ren.); Lib. (O. during univ. sessions 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; summer 8-4), contains theater, club, 2 broadcasting stas., also a famous coll. of material on Geo. Rogers Clarke, built 1900 to house the Wis. Hist. Soc. Univ. shares bldg. with the soc. & Wis. Academy of Sciences, Arts & Letters. Upper Campus: Science Hall (1888. Romanesque by A.C. Koch)—Geology Mus. (O. 8-5 wks.); Radio Hall, hqs. & studios for WHA, claimed to be oldest radio sta. in U.S.; North Hall (1851. oldest bldg. on campus) where John Muir lived as a student; Bascom Hall, on the hill (1857. mod. Roman Doric style), contains many of the general adm. offices. Agric. Campus: Studio of the Artist in Residence (1937. built for John Steuart Curry, 1st artist in residence appointed by the Univ.); Univ. Farms (841 as.) with labs., barns, & poultry bldgs.; also Animal Husbandry & Stock Pavillion (1908). Camp Randall, center of Civil War activities; later became St. Fair Grounds & now Univ. Athletic Field. Univ. Stadium (1918. with adds.), with seating capacity of 45,000.

TRIPS OUT OF MADISON

I. MADISON (S) to BELOIT. 55. US51. Via: Janesville, Edgerton, Stoughton.

At 19. (S) on US51 is STOUGHTON. Dan. Webster bought land here in 1838. City's oldest enterprise was wagon-making, hence named "Wagon City." It now manufactures auto bodies. 30. EDGERTON. Tobacco, introduced here in 1854, is grown in great quantity. ALBION, at 34. was sett. in 1841, by Norweg. & Eng. An Academy & Normal Institute begun by Seventh Day Baptists dates back to 1854. Opp. is their ch. under which is the excavated sta. of Underground RR. 41. JANESVILLE, an industrial town on Rock R., founded by Henry F. James in 1836. In 1837, he built a tavern & a ferry operating to E. bank. Soon the village grew into a trans. center. Stages passed through, boats came up the Rock R.; even steamships up from the Miss. In 1922, Gen. Motors set up Chevrolet & Fisher Body plants & city prospered, until the depression struck. The 2 plants were then shut down for 15 months & since have reached an all-time peak. Janesville is also home of Parker Pen Co. & manufactures cotton & woolen goods, shades, awnings & punch presses. The "Daily Gazette" under various names has had 102 yrs. of service. W. of the hy. 1^m is Carrie Jacobs Bond H., now Clark's Filling Sta., & 3^m (S), Frances E. Willard Home & Sch. She was founder of W.C.T.U. Grounds are now Youth Hostel. On Cty. A, 7^m (E) Ella Wheeler Wilcox (1850-1919) lived as a child.

55. BELOIT, on Wis.-Ill. line, is seat of Beloit College (1847. Georg. Col.). It has a very important anthropological & archeological dept. Roy Chapman Andrews, famous explorer & naturalist, was born & received his training here. Logan Mus. on campus (O. 1869) has more than a million aboriginal artifacts, many of which were fashioned by Cro-Magnon craftsmen 35,000 yrs. ago. Theo. Lyman Wright Art Hall (O) contains coll. of sculptures, paintings & prints; W. Grand Ave., Hist. Soc. (exhibs.). City has over 60 industrial plants & is one of the best winter-sport areas in Wis. Annually in Dec., a Winter Frolic is held. Beloit is one of the oldest settlements. Joseph Thibault, in 1824, est. here a trading post, & permanent settlers arrived in 1837.

II. MADISON (N) to PORTAGE. 37. US51

At 5. hy. passes L. MENDOTA (R). For about 16^m Rd. passes through rich agric. land with large farms, well developed through systematic crop rotation. 23. POYNETTE (R. on dirt Rd. to St. Experimental Game & Fur Farm). From 26. US51 follows old Military Rd. built in 1835 bet. Ft. Howard at Green Bay & Ft. Crawford at Prairie du Chien, into PORTAGE at 37., founded by travelers & traders of the Fox-Wis. waterway, a continuous natural water passage bet. the St. Lawrence &

Gulf of Mexico. Portage is birthpl. of Fred. J. Turner, noted historian, & of Zona Gale, a number of whose novels are based on Portage people. PTS. OF INT.: Wis. St. & Wauona Ave., Joliet-Marquette Marker, comm. 1st portage made here. Edgewater & Mac Sts., Pawkette Marker, site of 1st ferry across the Wis. Canal & Mac Sts., Curling Rink, where internat. matches are held, known here as Bonspiel, a combination of the German word "Bahn" or track & "Spiel" or game.

III. MADISON (NW) to WISCONSIN RAPIDS. 109. US12 & St.13. Via: Prairie du Sac & Wisconsin Dells. Leaving Madison, US12 & St.13 unite, going (NW). At 24.5, they cross Wis. R. & reach SAUK CITY & PRAIRIE DU SAC, twin cities. Sauk City, founded 1842 by Count Agoston Haraszthy, colorful Hungarian nobleman, who brought with him the Freethinker philosophy, started the 1st "Freie Gemeinde" & gave to Sauk City the reputation, even abroad, of the "Freethinkers' Heaven." The 2 cities, built on site of Sauk villages, have a predominantly European flavor. Prairie du Sac is mainly Protestant while Sauk City is Cath. (German), & rivalry bet. the 2 still continues. August Derleth & Mark Schorer, Sauk City's well-known novelists, have recorded & interpreted the life of pioneer Wis.

US12 crosses the prairie & climbs BARABOO RANGE at 34. 38. J. with St.159 which in 1st joins St.123 into Devil's L. St. Pk. (1,313 as.camp.free for 1st 2 wks. thereafter sm.fee.hik.bath.pic.golf.), which lies in an area of great geological interest. After the glacial age Wis. R. carved its way through quartzite rock, leaving cleft to be filled up, thus forming the L. & many odd rock formations such as Devil's Doorway, The Needle, Turk's Head, & Ancient Rock. Bluffs are 600' above sea level & densely forested. Only a hiking path around the L. Pk. is of interest not only to geologists, but also to biologists because it forms dividing line bet. Wis.'s N. & S. flora & fauna. Area has 3 Ind. mounds: Eagle Mound on S. shore; Bear & Lynx mounds on N. shore. At 40. (R) 1.5^m to Baraboo, resort city, named for Fr. trader, Jean Baribault. In 1837, the Winnebago who owned land at confluence of the Wis. & Baraboo ceded it to U.S. In center of town still stand bldgs. used by Ringling Bros. who began their circus here. In 1907 the Bros. sold their circus to Barnum & Bailey, which became "Greatest Show on Earth." Located near Baraboo are giant Badger Ordnance Works, built during World War II, $125,000,000; produced smokeless & rocket powder.

US12 again heads N. passing L. DELTON (airport & golf course) into city of WISCONSIN DELLS at 53. Town, formerly known as Kilbourn, is starting pt. for water trips up & down the R. through magic rock formations of the Dells. There are miles of weird & richly colored bluffs, & rugged sandstone cliffs, washed out by the ancient R.'s force, into amazing shapes & forms, 30,000 yrs. old (excursion boats at frequent intervals;fee). Steamers follow serpentine route & pass such whimsically named pts. as Chimney Rock, Hornet's Nest, Swallow's Nest, Turtle & Alligator Rocks, Inkstand, Sugar Bowl, Devil's Anvil & Witch's Gulch. Hundreds of caves & grottos with vari-colored mosses & flowers line the shores; waterfalls & cascades are not far inland. (All types of accoms. in town;camp.&pic.). Winnebago Inds. hold annual ceremonials at Stand Rock, a natural bowl, so acoustically perfect that the slightest whisper can be heard. Season for visiting Dells—May 1 to Nov. 1. Just N. of the city is Rocky Arbor Roadside Pk. Int. rock formations in midst of heavily wooded area. (pic.camp.excellent for overnight tenting or with trlr.). At the Dells trip cont. on St.13 which runs (N) 56^m to Wisconsin Rapids at 109., a large cranberry center. One company represents 90% of St.'s growers. Town now has modern industries of various kinds, but paper making predominates.

IV. MADISON (SE) to LAKE GENEVA. 72. US12. Via: Fort Atkinson, White-water & Elkhorn.

US12 joined with US18 travels (E), then (SE). 32. FORT ATKINSON. Here in 1832 Gen. Henry Atkinson, while pursuing Black Hawk, set up a stockade & 2 blockhs. In 1873 Wm. Dempster Hoard, who perhaps contributed most toward making Wis. the dairyland of the country, set up the paper here which later became Hoard's "Dairyman," read today by most farmers. Hoard was Gov. of Wis. (1889-91) during which time he sponsored anti-oleomargarine legislation. Besides being a shipping & trading center for reg.'s dairy farmers, Ft. Atkinson is also a mfg. town producing among its various articles, musical saws of great perfection. It publishes the annual "Sawing News of the World." On Milwaukee Ave., in Pub. Lib. is Ft. Atkinson Hist. Soc. Mus. (O.Sat.10-12 & 2-5 p.m.). 44. WHITEWATER, on whose shores stands an old Mill (1839). Whitewater is home of St. Teachers College & of Morris Pratt Institute, founded 1883, to prepare students for "the Spiritualist ministry or to develop psychic powers." 62. ELKHORN (see US12). 71. LAKE GENEVA (see Milwaukee Trip VII).

V. MADISON (W) to MONROE. 36. US18 & St.69. Via: Verona & New Glarus. On US18 (W) to VERONA at 9. Here trip cont. on St.69 (S) to NEW GLARUS at 27. New Glarus on Little Sugar R., is known as Little Switzerland because of its Swiss pop. whose parents came from Glarus, Switzerland. They lived in comparative poverty for 20 yrs., until they turned to dairying; then prosperity began. Their special type of Swiss cheese became known throughout U.S. & had a ready market everywhere. Annually on 2nd Sun. & Mon. of Sept. people of New Glarus celebrate Kilbi, a festival that originated in the old Canton. After the ch. festivities, parades, dancing & playing cont. for 2 days. S. of New Glarus, St.69 passes through a valley for 1st & reaches New Glarus Roadside Pk. (43 aspic.facils.). Mon. here comm. the "Old Lead Trail," leading into lead mines of SW. Wis. In the woods are still traces of "badger holes," as the lead diggings were formerly called. At 45. MONROE, known as "Swiss Cheese Center of the U.S." Annually a cheese festival is held with parades & pomp; even a cheese queen is selected.

VI. MADISON (W) to PRAIRIE DU CHIEN. 98. US18. Via: Platteville & Bridgeport.

On Monroe St. (W) US18 leaves Madison, runs past swamps, glacial hills & boulders (S) into the Swiss cheese area. 26. MT. HOREB, Swiss & Norweg. village. At 23.5. J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) to Little Norway (O.sm.fee), a village of sm. houses built by Norweg. craftsmen, & furnished in Scand. style to look like the Valley of Elves, with coll. of Norwegianiana incl. Grieg Mss. & 2 canes of Ole Bull.

24. J. with gravel Rd. going (R) to Cave of the Mounds, odd rock formations & well preserved fossils. At 25. US18 passes BLUE MOUNDS & joins Military Rd., a trl. used by Amer. soldiers (1835-38). 42. DODGEVILLE, metropolis of the lead region (1827-29) named for Gov. Henry Dodge, colorful Wis. character. Before coming to Wis. he was implicated in Aaron Burr conspiracy & indicted by grand jury. Infuriated at their charge he "thrashed 9 jurors & the indictment was dropped." He is said to have mined Ind. land illegally & was deaf to protests; finally Inds. gave up title to the land. He was named 1st Terr. Gov. because of his handling of the Inds. during Black Hawk War. Later his old enemy, James Doty (see US45), replaced him. He also served as U.S. Sen. At Dodgeville is J. with US151.

SIDE TRIP: On US151 (L) hy. passes through Wis.'s oldest sett. reg.—its former mining country & only part of Wis. that is unglaciated. By 1828, the mining boom swept through here. Early miners came from Mo. & Ky., but after 1832, the Cornish arrived. While Milwaukee was still a trading post, this reg. had 10,000 people. Lead mining reached its peak bet. 1856-57 & then had quick decline. The miners turned to farming as soon as the land was for sale.

92. J. With Cty.C.

SIDE TRIP: On latter (L) to Wyalusing St. Pk. (facils.for camp.pic.no bath.), lying high on Miss. R. bluffs, with caves & water falls. Marquette & Joliet traveled along the upper Miss. Waterway bet. Green Bay & Prairie du Chien was for 150 yrs. main artery of travel in NW. On Sentinel Ridge (590') is Pt. Lookout (fine view of Miss. R.) & Signal Pt., boasting 3 bear effigy mounds among its Ind. earthworks, said to be almost intact.

US18 speeds (W) through hardwood areas & past old quarries. 98. PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, named (1781) for Fox Chief, whom the Fr. called Le Chien ("the dog"), is a former Ind. & fur traders' stop-over & 2nd oldest city in st., now a leisurely R. town where the Miss. & Wis. meet. St. Friol, one of the Is. on which oldest part of city is built, is connected by bridges to other secs. of the city. PTS. OF INT.: On Bolvin & 1st Sts., Amer. Fur Co. Post was built by Rolette, 1835, & rented to John J. Astor, organizer of the fur post, 1842. (Now private residence & fur storage place.) Jos. Rollette, company's 1st agent, is buried in old Fr. Cemetery (N) of city. Hercules Dousman, Astor's most influential agent, made his fortune here. Villa Louis (O.May 1-Nov.1;fee.guides), his residence, is in Dousman Pk. (swim.pool & golf). Villa was built, 1843, on site of Ft. Shelby (remod.1872), a gracious "great house" of the North, true example of mid-19th cent. Wis. with int. furnishings. It was destroyed by Brit. at end of War of 1812 & was rebuilt by Amers. St. Mary's College (Cath.) is now on site of 1st Ft. Crawford. Jeff. Davis (see Miss.), then a young Lt. under Zachary Taylor, fell in love here with Sarah Knox, who later became his wife,

Ft. Crawford is now marked by a Military Hospital & near-by cemetery. On villa grounds is Mus. exhibiting articles found during excavation of Fts. Shelby, & Crawford (O.daily.adm.). Int. also are: Diamond Jo Steamship Line Warehouse on riverbank (1862); Northwest Fur Co. Bldg. on N. Beaumont Rd. (now a taxi office), & the former Hqs. of Capt. W. Knowlton (1842), comdr. in Mex. War (now occupied by League of Women Voters); St. Gabriel's Ch. (1839-40.Cath.), under direction of Father Mazzachellia, pioneer in Wis. religious work; Egyptian Lotus Beds in vic. are in bloom in Aug. US18 crosses Upper Miss. R. Wildlife & Fish Refuge, which extends 300^m along Miss. R. with hqs. at Winona, Minn.

VII. MADISON (NW) to RICHLAND CENTER. 64. US14.

US14 & US12 unite for 5.5^m leaving Madison going (NW). Here is J. with side Rd. leading (R) to Trailer Town, on a 48-a. wooded tract overlooking L. Mendota (all facil.s for trlr.camp.elec.laundry.store.gas sta.). 14. CROSS PLAINS. Veterans of War of 1812 sett. here bet. 1832-50 but many left for Cal. during the gold rush. Christina H., now residence, was a tavern in stagecoach days. 19. BLACK EARTH. Here is Patrons' Mercantile Co., one of oldest farmer co-ops in state. 22. MAZOMANIE. Brit. Temperance Emigration Soc. arrived here in 1843. Later German immigrants came whose bldgs. resembled Rhine castles with turrets & high gables. The Salem Kirche of handwrought stone & delicate lines is from this period. 36. TOWER HILL ST. PK. (108 as.camp.pic.no overnight facil.s.). Here in 1828 stood old village of Helena & on banks of Wis. R. still stand the remains of old Shot Tower, where shot was manufactured & shipped down the R. Lead from the mines of SW. Wis. was hauled by ox team to smelter on the hill. Then it was dropped down the shot tower 200' to solidify into balls in the cold water below. Industry cont. for over 30 yrs. until ore was exhausted. Here is J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 0.5^m to Talesin (no pic.but a conducted tour of grounds, fee), home of Frank Lloyd Wright, with roofs paralleling ridges of the hill around which it is built. Its name is Welsh, meaning "shining brow," & its history is tragic. Present structure is 3rd built on same spot. The 1st two were destroyed by fire & Talesin III was almost lost in bankruptcy. Friends rescued it. A fellowship was est. in 1933 & c.30 young men or women serve apprenticeship in the arts & architecture here.

40. SPRING GREEN. Here side by side stand the Chs. & parsonages of Caths., Meths., & Congregationalists, on land given by A. C. Daley. In the village is a sawmill run by Miss Maurice Cavanaugh, "Lady Logger," who began her work in Minn. in 1926 & has since operated 11 sawmills in both sts. 64. RICHLAND CENTER (1849). Woman's Suffrage was advocated here as early as 1882. Frank Lloyd Wright was born here (1869). He designed flat-roofed Laurence Warehouse, with Mayan ornamentation (1918).

VIII. MADISON (SW) to PLATTEVILLE. 71. US151

US151 & US18 travel as 1 route to DODGEVILLE at 41. (see Madison Trip VI). Then US151 turns (SW) 7^m to LEVI STERLING H. (1828) at 48. 51. MINERAL POINT, also known as Shake Rag town because at mealtime dishcloths were waved to call miners home from the mines. Mineral Point survived the depression of 1837, the Cal. Gold Rush, & a cholera epidemic. Alex. Hamilton's son, Wm., was 1 of its early settlers. After lead came zinc mining & when both declined, town turned to retailing & shipping. Most bldgs are more than 100 yrs. old. Among these are Trinity Ch. & Parish H.; Meth. Ch.; a row of Cornish Hs. on Shake Rag St.; best known is Pendarvis H. (now antique shop); also Polperro H. Cornish pasties are still served here upon request. At Pine & Davis Sts., Gundry H. (colonnaded porch & cupola). Although Jos. Gundry was a Cornishman, his mansion & estate recall Southern architecture. Here is housed the Mineral Point Hist. Soc. & Mus. Very fine mineral coll., old costumes & hist. relics. Commerce St., Walker Hotel (1836). Opp. here one of the few Wis. hangings took place in 1842. Wis. was 2nd st. to abolish capital punishment (1851). First Odd Fellows' Hall (O) was converted into mus.; 1 block (E) of Front St., Coturen H. At 64. is BELMONT, on a ridge. Here is J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: To the (R) 3^m is First Capitol Bldg. (1836); now a St. Pk.; 1st terr. legislature met here until capitol at Madison was erected.

71. PLATTEVILLE, surrounded by marginal mines. Here at 20 Elm St. is Wis. Institute of Technology. At 722 W. Pine St., oldest Wis. St. Teachers College. On 3rd St., 1 block (S), Major John H. Rountree H. (Georg.with Gr.pediment).

US 2—MINNESOTA

MINN.-WIS. LINE (at Duluth, Minn.) (W) to MINN.-N.D. LINE (at Grand Forks, N.D.). 268. US2

Via: Grand Rapids, Bemidji, Crookston, E. Grand Forks. RRs.: Gt. Northern RR.; N.P. RR. bet. Crookston & Grand Forks. Good Rds.: Bituminous & Paved. Accom.: In larger towns.

US2 crosses through Duluth & Upper Minn., through the Arrowhead country & Chippewa Nat. For., into Paul Bunyan land to the Minn.-N.D. Line.

Sec. 1: DULUTH to BEMIDJI 155.

0. DULUTH, nestles high above L. Superior (600-800'). A beautiful 29-mile drive runs along outer edge of the bluffs. Its streets are often steep & winding & the air has the tang of the North country, which makes Duluthians buoyant & expansive in their undertakings. The harbor, a perfect landlocked basin bet. Minn. Pt. & Wis. Pt., admits the largest Gt. Ls. ships. City is considered one of the best Hay Fever refuges of the country.

In 1630 Fond du Lac, now a part of Duluth, was an Ojibway village. Except for visit of Sieur du Luth, who tried to make peace bet. the Ojibway & the Sioux in 1679, it was known only for fur trading until 18th cent. In 1826, Lewis Cass, Terr. Gov. of Mich., negotiated treaty of Fond du Lac, & 6 yrs. later Schoolcraft passed through on his way to discovering the real source of the Miss. R. Permanent settlement began in 1852 with Geo. P. Stuntz, who was wildly excited about the possibilities in this wilderness. Next 3 yrs. were boom yrs. because of the rumor of immense copper deposits along the N. shore & iron ore at L. Vermillion. In 1854 the Inds., by treaty, relinquished their rights to the mineral tracts & the boom went on until the national panic of 1857, which reduced the as yet unnamed but prosperous town to grass roots. On its heels followed the scarlet fever epidemic of 1859, leaving only 2 occupied houses in 1865. New reports of goldbearing quartz brought on a stampede for the bonanza, made even more alluring when financier Jay Cooke decided to make Duluth terminus of the Superior-Miss. RR. But after Cooke's failure in 1873, the city was again reduced to a village & for 10 yrs. not a new bldg. was erected on the shore of the L. Lumbering, wheat & development of RRs., elevators, docks & sawmills finally put the city back on its feet & gave it another boom.

Most important to Duluth are its harbor & docks. The Duluth-Superior Harbor ranks 2nd to N.Y. in yearly tonnage. There are 46 wharves handling freight other than ore, coal & grain, 21 coal docks, 7 iron ore docks, & 23 grain elevators. During World War II the Duluth-Superior shipyards landed 355 vessels incl. every type of craft. More than 60% of the ore produced in U.S. & 25% of world production derives from N. Minn. & is shipped through its port. The labor pop., of Scandinavian & Canadian descent, is very efficient. Duluth is a popular summer resort because of its invigorating climate, scenic beauty & unsurpassed fishing & hunting. It is hqs. for U.S. Forest Service, administering area of 3,727,540 as. There are sight-seeing boat trips on L. Superior & St. Louis R. & through the harbor. Deep sea fishing boats & scheduled Gt. Ls. cruises are operated by the Georgian Bay & Northern Navigation lines.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) At foot of Lake Ave., Aerial Lift Bridge, connecting mainland with Minn. Pt. (1930). It is an elec. operated elevator bridge with an overall span of 510'. Huge freighters & passenger boats can pass through. Its lift is one of world's fastest. (2) 1st St. bet. 4th & 6th Aves., Civic Center, consisting of Cth., City Hall & Federal Bldg. (completed 1930, neo-class.). (3) 5th Ave. W. & 1st St., Soldiers & Sailors Mon. (Cass Gilbert). (4) 7th Ave. W. & Superior St., Incline Railway (1891) making a 3,000' ascent; excellent view from summit. (5) 932 E. 3rd St., St. Paul's Evang. & Reformed Ch. (belfry O.wks.exc.Sat.10-12.1872). Contains 900-lb. bell cast from cannon used in Franco-Prussian War & presented to the Ch. by Kaiser Wilhelm I of Germany. (6) 6 S. 12th Ave. E., Little Theater, est. 1914. one of 1st in U.S. (7) 1330 London Rd., Duluth Curling & Skating Club Bldg. (O.fee) among the best-equipped curling clubs in U.S. with the greatest number of indoor rinks. (8) 6008 London Rd., U. S. Fish Hatchery, (O.8-5) largest in State. (9) 3rd St. & 33rd Ave., Iron Ore Docks (O.appl.). (10) 1434 88th Ave. W., American Steel & Wire

Co. plant (O.appl.). (11) 1218 104th Ave.W., St. George Serbian Orthodox Ch. (1923.Byzantine). Liturgy in old Slavonic. (12) In Spirit L. is Spirit I. Here battle bet. Chippewa & Sioux is supposed to have been fought before arrival of white men. (13) Wrenshal St. in Chambers Grove., at St. Louis R., reproduction of a typical Astor Trading Post (O.). (14) Duluth Harbor.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On Minn. Point, reached by means of Aerial Lift Bridge (S) on Lake Ave., are following: (1) 10th & Minn. Ave., Duluth Boat Club, once private club (early 18th cent.Ital.Rococo), now pub. clubh. & dock. (2) 1225 Lake Ave. S., U.S. Coast Guard Sta. & Watch Tower (O.). (3) 12th & Minn. Ave., U.S. Naval Base (training ship O.while in harbor). (4) 43rd St. & Minn. Ave., Summer Playground (200 as.swim.beach). (5) On tip of Minn. Pt., First Lighth. at head of the Ls. Only ruins remain, but site is still used as "Zero" for marine surveys.

St. Germain Street US52 branches (L) crossing river to St. Cloud proper.

95. ST. CLOUD, a clean, thriving, industrial community which spreads out along W. side of Miss. R. Quarries lie beyond city's limits. Flanking the wide city streets are homes of Col. architecture, a style brought in by its early settlers. In the 1840's it was a fur trading post. Its fortunate geographical position on the Miss. kept it the leading outfitting post for the trade. It remained that until the RRs. took the steamboats' place, 1874. Then came the era of stone quarries. From a very small beginning in 1868, St. Cloud became one of leading building-stone & monument-producing centers of country. The stone of the reg. is fine-grained & ranges in color from black through red & pink to white. It is especially suitable for pub. bldgs., churches, bridges & memorials. Many structures in Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago & Detroit are built of it. PTS. OF INT.: (1) In Riverside Pk. is Pine Log Cabin, built 1855, used as a home, hotel, fort & jail. (2) Along the river, St. Cloud St. Teachers' College, founded 1869, 3rd largest Teachers' College in state. (3) 9th Ave.S. & 1st St., St. Mary's Church (Cath.Romanes.). SIDE TRIPS: (A) On US59 (N) 21^m to Ogema & J. with Side Rd. leading (R) 6^m to White Earth Ind. Reserv. Hqs. (1,200 sq. miles). More than 9,300 Chippewa live on this reserv., once a magnificent pine forest, now largely cut-over land. Inds. sold many of their holdings because they needed money. Ind. Agency is now buying back some land there-by adding fertile ground to help Inds. make a living. This rehabilitation began 10 yrs. ago. Near-by, St. Benedict's Mission (Cath.) est. by Bishop Ireland (1868) is one of finest in Ind. Service. In adj. cemetery, Chief White Cloud is buried. The handiwork of the Chippewa is excellent, especially their buckskin products & birchbark canoes. Inds. hold an annual festival (O) in the village, comm. arrival of 1st group. Int. because at these pow-wows a sham battle, in formal costumes, bet. Chippewa & Sioux is staged.

(B) From Detroit Lakes (S), US59 passes a group of 28 Ind. Mounds. Near 21.5^m was found, 1932, a pre-historic skeleton, estimated by anthropologists to be more than 20,000 yrs. old. Although known as "The Minn. Man," it is, in reality, the skeleton of a young Ind. girl of about 16 yrs. It was found during hy. construction, 20' deep, in an ancient lake bed.

52. MUNICIPAL CAMP GROUND (pic.facils.). Annually on County Day, youngsters trap as many gophers as they can & bring in the tails for prizes. At 75. ROCHESTER (see St. Paul-Minneapolis). 90. Kasson. Here is J. with St.57.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 3m to Mantorville. Most old bldgs. here, incl. the Ch., Cth., Brewery, & Hubble H., were built in 1850's & are still standing. Frank B. Kellogg & Rear Adm. F. E. Beatty spent boyhood here.

96. DODGE CENTER & at 104. CLAREMONT. US14 (W) of here runs in a straight line through dairy country to OWATONNA, 115. a health resort (mineral spring). Chief Wadena is said to have moved his entire village here so that his sickly daughter might drink the mineral spring waters, rich in iron & sulphur (Tourist Camp). County has 16 creamery co-ops. Carnegie Foundation & the Univ. of Minn. chose Owatonna as the typical American town. On Main St. is National Farmers' Bank Bldg. (1908.by Louis Sullivan), described by W.W.Norton & Museum of Modern Art as a bldg. of exceptional beauty principally because of its color scheme, both exter. & inter. Here is J. with US65. On S. Grove St., Pillsbury Military Academy (see US14).

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) 15m Faribault, where Alex. Faribault in 1826 had a trading post 25 yrs. before settlers arrived. Faribault H. was first frame bldg. in town; it cost $4,000 & still stands. Near it stood, until recent yrs., Episc. Bishop Whipple's home. It was Bishop Whipple who defended the Inds. & pleaded for clemency at the time of the mass execution in 1862 (see US71). His policy toward the Inds. later became that of U.S. Gov., namely to consider them as wards of the Gov. Much acreage around Faribault is incl. in Fed. soil-conservation project.

130. WASECA, important wheat-shipping point. The Anti-Horse Thief Detective Society organized here in 1864, was abandoned only a few yrs. ago. Tourist Camp on W. shore of Clear L., also Boy Scout Camp (O). 156. MANKATO (Sioux for Blue Earth). Here 400 Inds. of the Sioux Uprising in 1862, were tried & 300 were held at Mankato, to await Lincoln's verdict. He commuted sentences of all but 38. On Dec. 26, all 38 were hanged simultaneously. It was the largest legal mass execution in U.S. Mankato now is leading industrial & agric. center in SW. Minn. & parts of Iowa & S.D. It has a large hog market & produces brick, cement, flour & foods. On S. 5th St., Mankato St. Teachers College, founded 1863. Bethany Luth. College is in (S) part of town. Mankato is at J. of US169. At 182. hy. passes Old Redstone, a 2 sq.-mile hill of pink quartzite & at 185. is NEW ULM, sett. 1854, by Germans from Württemberg, who named the new home after cathedral city Ulm. New Ulm in 1862 was site of an important Sioux uprising. By using zigzag & unfamiliar tactics they so surprised our soldiers that many lives were lost. The city was evacuated & refugees fled to Mankato. Town is known for its interest in music which was kept alive by German Turnvereine. At 25 N. Broadway, New Ulm Lib. & Hist. Mus. Along a hillside path to Loretto Hospital on N. 5th St. a Way of the Cross is kept up by the large Cath. pop. At 105. AUSTIN, home of Hormel Packing & Food Products plant. The "Milwaukee Road's" roundhouse & shops are also here. Beginning at head of Main St. is Horace Austin St. Pk. (50 as.boat.bath.). Before 1841, U.S. soldiers had camped here, incl. a Ft. Snelling officer & Dred Scott, then a slave. American Fur Co. had a hunting shack here. One winter, their party shot 2,000 deer, 50 bear & some buffalo. Here is J. with US218. 119. HAYWARD, with large co-op creamery, branch of the Land O'Lakes chain. At 125. ALBERT LEA, named for Col. A. Lea, who surveyed reg. 1835. Today it is an industrial center with 4 RRs. Its dairy & oil co-ops do a million dollar business. Horse racing was & still is popular sport of the town. Its Main St. was once part of its race course. Sheriff Heath was once (c.1859) teased into running Old Tom, his shay horse for 13 yrs., against fleetest gelding of the surrounding country. Finally he did. To everyone's surprise, Old Tom won & for many yrs. was victor over such favorites as Crazy Frank, Sleepy Kate & even Itasca Fly ("fastest horse in the NW"). On Albert Lea L. is a State Game Refuge. At 137. ALDEN, est.1869. Had one of earliest Grange organizations in the state (1873). 163. BLUE EARTH, so named for the blue-green clay found on rocks of the river gorge by Inds. The municipally-owned light company uses a good part of its profit for lighting the streets with gay colored bulbs, making int. designs. One of largest pea- & corn-packing plants in U.S. is here; also an ice-cream factory & creamery co-op. Migratory Mexican workers help to weed, hoe & top sugar beets of the surrounding farms because wages are too low for local labor. At Blue Earth is J. with US169 leading (N) 37^m to Mankato (see US14). 181. FAIRMONT, 4th of a chain of 18 lakes (launch trip through 4 Ls.). Cth., built (1862) on site of Sioux uprising, houses coll. of pioneer relics. In the 1870's, a 4-yr. locust plague almost ruined the community. A newly arrived colony of Eng. farmers, most of whom were Oxford & Cambridge grads., through their persistent efforts saved the community from complete devastation. Later this group, known as the Fairmont Sportsmen, introduced fox hunting into Minn. (S) of business sec. is Tourist Camp (free camping). 190. WELCOME, & 196. SHERBURN. At 207. Town produces tow rope in great quantity from the flax of vic. Tourist Camp (cabins.mod.rates). At 240. WORTHINGTON, with one of largest co-op. creameries in reg. Town has had highly rated polo players. In City Pk. is Tourist Camp (facils.). Bath.beaches on L. Okabena. At Worthington is J. with US59. At 271. hy. crosses ROCK R. to enter Luverne, visited by Nicollet in 1839. Hostile Inds. & the 4-yr. grasshopper plague kept settlers away for 30 yrs. Now it has thriving creamery, grain, & livestock co-ops. At E. end of town, Tourist Camp (facils.). Also J. with US75 (see). At 286. US16 crosses into S.D.

US 61—MINNESOTA

MINN.-WIS. LINE (at La Crescent, Minn.) (N) to CANADIAN BORDER (42^m from Ft. Williams, Ont.). 453. US61

Via: Winona, Red Wing, St. Paul, Pine City, Duluth. Good Rds. Accomms.: N. of Duluth only in summer.

Sec. 1: LA CRESCENT to ST. PAUL. 142.

US61 passes from La Crosse, Wis. over Miss. R. to La Crescent & follows it into St. Paul. From there hy. traverses flat farmlands, & cuts through evergreen fors. (N) to Duluth. Here beautiful L. Superior Dr. begins, running past rocky pts. & wooded shores of L. Superior to the Internat. Border.

At 0. is LA CRESCENT, a town showing little of its early boom days. Rivalry with Wisconsin's La Crosse, on the other side of Miss. R., influenced settlers to name it La Crescent, after the Mohammedan emblem. The vic. lends itself to apple growing (see US14). From here US61 together with US14 head N. At 23. (L) is LIERS' TRAINED OTTER FARM (O.fee). At 29. WINONA, once a treeless prairie, now a beautifully landscaped city, on bluffs of the Miss. from which a panorama of Hiawatha Valley can be seen for 15^m bet. L. Winona & the Miss. R. Winona, unlike other areas in this vic., was not affected by the Great Glacier. It was founded 1851 by Capt. Orren Smith of the steamboat "Nominee" at the same time that Chief Wabasha's Inds. were urged to withdraw to an island beneath the bluffs. The next yr. after ratification of the treaty, the Inds. gave up all claim to the reg. By 1855 the village boomed; by '56 it had 82 industries. Lumbering, saw mills, wheat growing, flour milling, followed each other in quick succession. Steamboats & the newly introduced RRs. helped to transport flour & lumber. Later the limestone of the vic. became recognized by country's leading architects. Brickmaking vied with the stone quarrying & as each declined, agric. products filled in. Winona is still the 2nd largest hay & clover seed market in the country. The city claims to be the wealthiest of its size in the U.S. It publishes newspapers, & magazines in Eng., German & Polish, evidence of its mixed pop. It is well known for its scenic beauty (Anthony Trollope described it in glowing colors) & for its educational institutions.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) J. of US61 & St.43 near center of city, Sugar Loaf, a limestone monolith rising 500'. Can be reached only by foot trl. (2) Bay State Milling Plant (O.appl.). (3) J. R. Watkins Medical Plant (O.appl.with a 10-story tower) is the home of the famous liniment "good for man & beast." (4) Johnson & Sanborn Sts., State Teachers College, founded the same yr. Minn. became a state, 1858. Its Paul Watkins Art Coll. (O.during school hrs.) contains 4,000 paintings, etchings, engravings & sculpture. (5) Wabasha & Gould Sts., College of St. Theresa, began in 1893 as Winona Seminary, conducted by Sisters of St. Francis. It is now an accredited college & also gives B.S. degree in nursing. (6) 102 E. Third St., Merchants' Bank, good example of Sullivan & Wright's "prairie style" (1910). (7) Rd. from Lake Blvd. to Garvin Heights St. Pk. (17 as.pic.facils.) good view of city & Miss. Valley. At Winona is J. with US14 (see).

At 34. MINNESOTA CITY, a small village, where Rollingsstone Colony was supposed to have been. It was a tragic tale in Minn. history. N.Y.C. group in 1852 had planned, on paper, a Utopian communal town & enticed city dwellers to share in this "well functioning community" which did not exist. Before the news of the disappointment reached N.Y. again, more than 400 persons had landed somewhere in the uncharted wilderness & because they were unequipped in talent or means for pioneer life they perished or eked out a sad existence. Some survivors sett. in Winona; others finally returned to the East. At 35. J. with side Rd. leading (L) 3^m to Rollingsstone, near which are 50 Ind. Mounds, many 100' long. German colonists who came here 85 yrs. ago still cling to their native language & customs. At 43. JOHN LATSCH ST. PK. (350 as.) on limestone bluffs, 450' above Miss. R. Whitman Dam & Locks are near pk. A broad, panoramic view from one of the bluffs is reached by foot trl. Here Jonathan Carver came ashore in 1766, 1st white man to find the strange Ind. turf houses. 62. WABASHA, in heart of Hiawatha Valley, nestles among bluffs. It was named after 3 successive Sioux Chiefs, who actively defended their "bountiful valley" against encroachment. The Winneshiek Bottoms, sloughs & bayous, extending hundreds of miles (S), begin at Wabasha. A toll bridge across Miss. R. into Wis. is E. of town. 63. READ'S LANDING, important during Rev. when the father of Augustin Rocque was sent here to persuade Sioux from aiding Amers. In 1840 it became a trading post & in the 50's it had 17 hotels to accommodate Miss. R. travelers. At one time it also was one of the greatest wheat-shipping towns of the country.

76. LAKE CITY, on shore of beautiful L. Pepin, where it is particularly treacherous. Here the "Seawing" was wrecked in 1890 with a loss of 98 lives. Lake City was at one time a well known clamming port. 83. FRONTENAC (L), named for Fr. Col. Gov. of Canada. Near-by (R) is St. Hubert's Lodge, built by Gen. Israel Garrard in pre-Civil War style, who lived on his large estate to hunt, fish & entertain like a feudal lord, but also produced food for hungry Sioux. Christopher La Farge & Geo. Heins, architects of St. John the Divine, N.Y.C., visited here in 1883-84 & later chose the limestone found in vic. for the cathedral. Other famous visitors were John La Farge, Joseph Jefferson, & Henry Ward Beecher. Villa Maria, Cath. School, was est. 1856 by Ursuline nuns from St. Louis on part of the Garrard estate. On L. Pepin's shore is Frontenac Inn (c.1871). 88. WACOUTA STA. Here Miss. &

Chippewa Rs. rush together to form L. Pepin. Lac Qui Parle & L. St. Croix are the only other of Minn.'s 10,000 Ls. created in this way. 93. RED WING. (For sec. bet. Red Wing & St. Paul at 142. see St. Paul-Minneapolis Trip III.)

Sec. 2: ST. PAUL to DULUTH. 157.

US61 follows Arcade Ave. (N) out of St. Paul (see) past GOOSE & WHITE BEAR Ls. at 11.5. BALD EAGLE at 14.5. At 24. is J. with US8 (direct Rd. to Minneapolis). 25.5. FOREST LAKE, popular summer resort, on L. of same name. From here to WYOMING at 27.5. US61 & US8 are one route. Hy. passes through tamarack, birch & oak fors. to NORTH BRANCH at 42. Here is J. with St.95.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (E) 20m to Taylor's Falls on Miss. R., area of special interest to geologists Dalles H. (early 1850's), from which Stephen A. Douglas made one of his famous speeches against Lincoln, is in downtown sec. 54m Rush City. Here wooded secs. change to fenced fields. Hy. passes over undulating hills of sandy clay.

At 64. PINE CITY. At 73. J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 6m to Brook Pk. with mon. to those who lost their lives in forest fire of 1894.

76.HINCKLEY, center of terrible for. fire of 1894 in which 400 lives were lost. Jim Root, hero of this disaster, was engineer of N.P. RR. He backed his train through the flames over the burning creek all the way to Duluth, thereby saving 350 passengers. His hands were burned fast to the throttle when he reached Duluth. J. here with St.48.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) Mon. to the Fire Victims. At 20m St. Croix Recr. Area (21,000 as.) under Fed. Gov. Rd. leads (S) to Pub. Camp & Girls' Camp. A leisurely downstream 30m canoe trip can be started here down St. Croix R. Canoeist can cont. 40m farther to Taylor Falls.

86. SANDSTONE. Orig. settlement, est. 1885 to quarry sandstone, was completely destroyed by 1894 fire. At 91. is J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) to Askov 3m, founded by Danish People's Soc., 1887, a working co-op. community with a folk-school. Known as the rutabaga center of U.S. Town has never had or needed a jail.

109. MOOSE L. Was an overnight stagecoach stop in 1860. 115. BARNUM, important egg-raising center of Minn. 134. CARLTON, lying in an ancient glacial R. bed, surrounded by rich farms. Jay Cook Tourist Camp, near Otter & Crystal Crs. Here is J. with Skyline Pkwy. from Duluth (see). Also J. with US210.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (W) 22m Cromwell, at SW. end of Fond du Lac St. For. (see below). Tamarack at 34m. Short distance (N) is entrance to Savanna St. For. which includes L. Winnewawa (Tourist Camp, free). At 47m McGregor. J. here with St.65 which passes (N) through Savanna St. For. 61m Hassman. The hy. turns (SW) to Aitkin at 69m, center of turkey-raising reg. Every fall Turkey Growers' Assoc. makes a tour to various farms feasting on turkey dinners & listening to speeches, often by Univ. of Minn. specialists. They also celebrate, June 24, Swedish Midsummer Festival, a day of food & fun. Hy. now passes through verdant fields of wildflowers, edible berries & mushrooms. Forty-six varieties of mushrooms have been found here. Rd. also touches the Cuyuna Iron Range, most recently developed range in Minn. Ore found here contains manganese, important steel-making ingredient. US210 reaches Crosby at 84m. Besides mining, the pulpwood industry is important. Town, like many others with wealthy mines & industries, has excellent schools. Good fishing is to be had in the 365 Ls. of the vic., especially in Crow Wing St. For. (NW).

(1) From Crosby (N) on country Rd. to one of the world's few Sintering Plants at 1.5m owned by Evergreen Mine Co. (O.guides).

(2) On St.6 (R) from Crosby to Milford Mine 6m. In 1924 this mine was flooded & 42 men lost their lives. Harley Harris, hero of this disaster, sounded warning siren before the water burst into the mine, then tied the rope around his body so that the weight would keep the siren shrieking. He died in this effort, & for yrs. miners believed they could still hear the siren & see Harris with the rope tied around him.

87m Ironton, also touches the Cuyuna Iron Range. On improved Rd. (R) 4m is Riverton with ore-drying plant of Pick & Mather Co. (O.), one of largest in country, drying more than 80 tons an hr. 95.7m Brainerd, Paul Bunyan's Capital. Annually, one wk. in July, Bunyan holds sway & fun & frolic take hold of everyone. Men of vic. wear beards to add realism to the occasion. Log-rolling, wood-chopping, & canoe tilting contests are famous. As many as 80,000 visitors have been attracted. Carnival in Feb. Town was platted, 1871, when N.P. RR. reached Duluth. Largest shops of this RR. are still here at cor. A & 3rd Aves. NE. Brainerd was named for the beautiful wife of a N.P. Pres., Ann Elizabeth Brain- erd Smith. She received commission of Lt. Col. during the Civil War for her "gallant hospital service." At present it is a thriving city with especially fine grade & high schools. The Normal Dept. of Franklin School pioneered in pre-parental education. At 326 Laurel St., Crow Wing Cty. Hist. Soc. Mus., in Cth., is considered one of most complete in Minn.; coll. Ind. relics & logging tools.

134.5. CARLTON & J. with Skyline Pkwy. (see Duluth). First spike of N.P. RR. was driven here. 138. SCANLON, old lumber town. J. with St.45.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) to Cloquet 2m, a modern city built on ruins of one which was completely destroyed by fire, 1918. Five large fires merged & c.8,000 sq. miles were involved, mainly around Duluth. More than 400 lives were lost, but only 5 in Cloquet, due to quick action of town officials. When city was rebuilt it concentrated on manufacturing of wood products. Arch St. & A Ave., Wood Conversion Co. East End Arch St., North-west Paper Co. Cloquet has a very large co-op. retail association. At 1.5m (W) from Cloquet is Fond du Lac Ind. Reserv. (25,000 as.; 725 pop.) & Ind. hospital.

US61 crosses St. Louis R. 141. ESKO, small Finnish community with co-op. creamery. Old Finnish customs are still observed, especially the taking of "sauna" or steam baths. 157. DULUTH (see US2).

Sec. 3: DULUTH to PIGEON R., ONT. 154.

At Duluth are Js. with US2 (see) & US53.

SIDE TRIP: US53 travels (NW) for c.20m then turns directly (N) & at 61m reaches Eveleth, range town whose importance dates from discovery of iron. Bet. 1900 & 1910 pop. increased from 2,700 to 7,036. Valuable ore was being turned up all through the city & early pioneers had difficulty in finding an ore-free spot for a cemetery. Open-pit mining is favored process & visitors can see enormous cavities from which millions of tons of iron ore have already been taken. Town & vic. have excellent schools, as do most range towns of Minn. Eveleth is known as "hockey capital of the nation" & has produced Ching John, Frank Brimsek, & Mike Karakas. At 70m is J. with St.169 which penetrates (S) part of Superior Nat. For., incl. now 3,728,932 as. & more than 5,001 Ls. ranging in size from a few as. to 70 sq. miles. Its varied flora is fine at every season, but especially in fall when the gold & scarlet foliage of the hardwoods vies with the dark of the evergreens. Fish & wildlife abound. It is the natural habitat of the moose. For. contains hist. Ind. Villages & many Painted Rocks, most of whose scripts are still not deciphered. Matchless water hys. make this excellent canoeing country (facils.pic & housekeeping accoms.). More than 170 resorts in vic. Pts. of scenic int. & special attractions incl.: Cross R., Temperance R., Poplar R., & Cascade R. Falls, all on N. shore of L. Superior; Carlton Peak, near Tofte, Minn., Devils Cascade (N) of Ely-Buyck Rd. Rebecca, Curtain, Lower Basswood, & Upper Basswood Falls, all on Internat. Boundary. US53 travels (N) past large Pelican L., Cusson, Ray, Ericksburg to Internat. Falls on the Canadian border at 158m (see US71).

From Duluth US61 begins famous scenic drive (N) along wooded shores of L. Superior to Port Arthur in Canada. At 11. is FRENCH R. Rd. in this vic. in June is lined with arbutus, sarsaparilla & dogwood. 18. KNIFE R. 28. TWO HARBORS, called by the Chippewa "Place-to-spear-by-moonlight." It is ore-shipping terminal of the Duluth, Iron Range RR., which later combined with the Duluth, Mesabi & Northern RR. City has 3 co-ops., a U.S. Coast Guard Serv., & excellent education facils. School busses sometimes bring in pupils from 35m away. 41. CASTLE DANGER named for the wrecked boat "Castle." At 42.5. hy. enters GOOSEBERRY FALLS ST. PK. (637 as.good f.camp.& pic.facils.;hay fever refuge). Shore is here covered with igneous volcanic rock. Gooseberry R. with 2 waterfalls, 300' high, flows through pk. to L. Superior. At 46. SPLIT ROCK ST. WAYSIDE PK. (35 as.pic. facils.). At 49. SPLIT ROCK LIGHTH. (L) perched high on cliff. 54. BEAVER BAY, only lake settlement bet. Duluth & Grand Portage that survived the 1857 panic. At 61. J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) to Palisade Head (pic.80 as.) headland of volcanic rock. Beautiful view of Apostle Is. & the Wis. shore. 70. LITTLE MARAIS, site of old Crystal Bay corundum mine, now resort village. From here for 10m hy. follows birch & aspen lined roads. At 73. hy. crosses CARIBOU R., famous trout stream. 90. LUTSEN, small resort. 106. Cascade R., within CASCADE ST. PK. (2,300 as.camp.). 114. GRAND MARAIS, picturesque village on a natural harbor; center of tourist traffic. Amer. Fur Co. had fishing post here 1834, but abandoned it in 1842. In 1856 post office was opened but had to close 2 yrs. later. Finally in 1879 a lasting community was begun. Lumbering & fishing are still main industries. Coast Guard Sta. & Forestry Office are here. Grand Marais is E. gateway to Superior Nat. For. (see above). The well-known Gunflint Trl. begins here & leads through heart of the Nat. For. to famous chain of Ls. Excellent canoe trips from here on. Canoeists can begin at L. Superior & paddle to W. border of state. Moose, bear, deer, porcupine & other wild animals are found in great numbers. Camp. grounds & pic. spots are maintained by U.S. For. Serv. 134. HOVLAND (resort; 2 lakes, good trout f.). 138. RESERVATION R., northernmost of a series of trout streams. Hy. swings inward to MINERAL CENTER at 147.

SIDE TRIP: From Mineral Center (R) 5m on country Rd. to Grand Portage in Grand Portage Ind. Reserv., central depot of the Northwest Co. By 1792 it was the thriving "metropolis" of L. Superior, with shops, Fr. fashions, drinking places & police. The swagging voyageurs lived in log bldgs. & Inds., with whom they traded, in wigwams. Canoe yard itself accommodated 150 canoes. Dashing Frenchmen in their gaudy red & blue capes & sashes, & Inds. in native attire, must have presented a gay assembly. Grand Portage now has only a few cabins, one of which has a Hist. Mus.

154. INTERNAT. BORDER. U.S. & Canadian customs officers have quarters on opp. sides of Pigeon R., which marks the border. A bridge spans the canyon. The whole reg. is one of striking beauty. Hy. crosses the PIGEON R. into Canada.

US 71—MINNESOTA

MINN.-IOWA LINE (20m from Milford, Iowa) (N) to CANADIAN BORDER (at Fort Francis, Ont.). 432. US71

Via: Jackson, Windom, Redwood Falls, Willmar, Sauk Center, Wadena, Bemidji.

US71 crosses W. Central portion of the state (S-N) passing through agric. & dairying fields of the SW. & Paul Bunyan lake reg. of the NW.

8. JACKSON, twice scene of Ind. uprisings in 1862. One yr. before, the 1st tow mill was opened here. (Tourist Camp.facils.) From Jackson hy. crosses over a high plateau covered with glacial drift that has made soil drought resistant & hence very fertile. At 31. WINDOM. At 32. is J. with St.60.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. 13m (SW) is Heron Lake on L. Heron, settled mainly by Germans, Irish & a mixture of Slavs & Scandinavians.

(B) On St.60 (NE) 10m to Mountain, a Mennonite Colony, that migrated here from Russia via Germany. Town has five churches, a hospital, & a home for aged. Many old customs still exist. Borscht & porzelchen are still served at New Year's.

58. SANBORN, on banks of Cottonwood R. (Tourist Camp). Here J. with US14. At 87. REDWOOD FALLS, noted for granite found in its vic. At NW. end of town is beginning of Alex. Ramsey St. Pk. (185 as.pic.facils.playfields.foot trls.), named for first territorial Gov. of Minn. Redwood R. lies 140' below. Near here J. with dirt Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 0.5m to Ind. Agency (1,000 as.). Some Mdewakanton Sioux live here. Beyond 3m are remains of Lower Agency, famous for Ind. uprising of 1862, when within a few wks. more than 500 whites were killed. Inds., not completely understanding that they had signed over their land by treaty, continued to roam around where the white man had begun to settle. They were driven away & resented treatment. Added to this, their food supply was very low because of a bad harvest & fact that Gov. rations had been delayed by Civil War. A few "blanket" Inds. had been apprehended stealing & before argument was settled, 3 whites were killed. Fearing retaliation, the rest of the Inds., under Chief Little Crow, set out on the warpath & massacred all who got in their way. Settlers fled to Mankato for protection. Finally a punitive force under Gen. Sibley subdued them. Over 500 captured Inds. were tried; 300 found guilty & condemned to death. Lincoln pardoned all except those guilty of murder & rape, which left 38. These were hanged on Dec. 26, in the greatest legal mass execution of our Gov. Bishop Whipple, who pleaded for leniency in behalf of the Inds., was rebuked by Gov. officials & he, as well as Lincoln, suffered greatly in prestige as a result of his charitable intervention (see US14).

US71 turns (E) crossing MINNESOTA R. & at 93. turns (N) again. Near-by (R) is Birch Coulee St. Mem. Pk. (82 as.pic.trls.), site of hardest-fought battle of the 1862 uprising. At 109. is OLIVIA (Tourist Pk.camp.) & at 135. WILLMAR, sett. 1869 & named for London RR. agent. It is center of farming & dairying reg. Here is J. with US12.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) US12 leads (W) directly into Benson at 32m. For several yrs. this was W. terminus of Hill's Gt.N. RR. Here (c.1838) party of Sioux women & children on hunting expedition with missionary, Gideon Pond from Lac Qui Parle, were attacked & scalped by Chippewa. Battle of Rum R. a few yrs. later was fought to avenge this deed. (Tourist Camp.) At 75m, Ortonville at S.D. border, on shore of Big Stone L., sett. 1872, as Sioux trading post (see US75).

(B) On US12 (E) hy. reaches Litchfield 25m, from which practically every Rd. leads to a L.

At 149. is GREEN LAKE (popular summer resort). Even early explorers accustomed to beautiful scenery were struck by its exceptionally vivid green setting & lingered on for some time. 151. NEW LONDON, built around Old Mill which was begun before the 1862 uprising & was finished 1865. J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 5m Sibley St. Pk. (379 as.boat.f.swim.pic.camp.). Here are foot trails. up Mt. Tom, used by Inds. as a signal sta. Pk. is part of Mongolia Game Refuge & has 3 Ls.

181. SAUK CENTER at S. tip of Big Sauk L. (tourist camp.pic.golf.). Sinclair Lewis spent his boyhood here & used locale for many of his stories. J. with US52.

SIDE TRIP: On US52 (NE) Osakis, 13m, popular fishing resort & site of fierce Ind. battles. 25m Alexandria. The much discussed Kensington Runestone, found 1898 on Olaf Ohman's Farm near-by, is supposed to have been placed there by visiting Goths (Swedes) & is dated 1362. Its authenticity was much disputed & is still under discussion. If it is a fake, the faker had a remarkable knowledge of runic writings. The stone has now been removed to Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C., for study & exhibit. Alexandria has many rather large lakes in its immediate vic. From Alexandria (S) on St.29 to Glenwood, 17m on beautiful L. Minnewaska. Here many Ind. Mounds & Burial Grounds of Chief White Bear & Princess Minnewaska.

199. LONG PRAIRIE, was a Gov. Agency, 1848, in charge of a tribe of Winnebagoes put there to act as buffer bet. Chippewa & Sioux. (Tourist Pk.pic.cabins.)

207. BROWERVILLE. St. Joseph's Ch. (Cath.early Romanes.) in center of town has 2 very fine pieces of sculpture by local artist, Jos. Kieselewski, who later received the Prix de Rome. 238. WADENA. J. with US10 (see). 252. SEBEKA. 264. PARK RAPIDS, founded 1880. In vic. are 300 Ls. reached by good Rds. J. with St.34.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (L) 43m to Detroit Lakes (see US10).

(B) On St.34 (R) 28m to Walker on US371 & an inlet of L. Leech (1,298'). On shores of this large, beautifully wooded, inland L. the last Ind. battle in Minn. took place in 1898. Maj. Wilkinson & 6 privates were killed. Inds. were subdued but no lives were lost. From Park Rapids, hy. passes in vic. of a number of excellent fishing Ls.

286. J. with St.92. Here is Itasca St. Pk. (31,976 as.f.boat.pic.camp.swim.lodge.cabins.mus.zoo.lookout towers). In L. Itasca (1,475'), incl. in the area, is the source of Miss. R., objective of Henry Schoolcraft, 1832. It is 2,552m by stream from Gulf of Mexico. Univ. of Minn. operates a forestry school & biological sta. for summer students here. US71 turns (R) for 14m to J. with St.85 at 300. Leech L. is on this Rd. 15m (R) (see above). At 318. BEMIDJI, on L. Bemidji, named for Chippewa Ind. Chief, buried in Greenwood Cemetery near-by. At W. edge is Chippewa Nat. For. (see US2). It is the Paul Bunyan Playground, famous for more than 100 summer resorts. Equally famous for winter sports. In town is a giant statue of Paul Bunyan & his blue ox, Babe. A canoe Derby is held each July starting in L. Bemidji. From Bemidji (NE) 6m is L. Bemidji St. Pk. (205 as.pic.camp.shelters), within a splendid stand of Norway pine. 338. HINES. Luth. Augustana Synod est. a colony here. There are 14 good fishing Ls. in vic. 343. BLACKDUCK, home of thriving creamery co-op. Here J. with St.72.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) past Upper Red L. (see US2) 76m to Spooner, at the Canadian border, town almost completely destroyed in 1910 by the flaring up of an old peat fire. More than 30 lives were lost.

391. BIG FALLS at J. of Big Fork R. (good f.& deer h.). 413. LITTLEFORK, sett. 1905, surrounded by thousands of acres planted in clover for seed, a reliable yearly crop. At 421. PELLAND. Here is J. with St.11 which runs (W) along the CANADIAN BORDER to Baudette & joins with US71 (E) for 11m to INTERNAT. FALLS at 432. on S. shore of Rainy R. which forms the boundary bet. U.S. & Canada from Lake of the Woods to Rainy L., known as the "Queen of Lakes." Latter is 50m long & from 3m to 15m wide, containing 14,000 Is. (excellent f. at Black Bay). Internat. Falls is hqs. of the Border Patrol. The green, gray & blue uniforms of the various branches of the Patrol present a pleasant picture.

MINN.-IOWA LINE (18^m from Luverne, Iowa) (N) to CANADIAN BORDER (28^m from Morris, Man.). 428. US75

Via: Luverne, Pipestone, Ortonville, Breckenridge, Moorhead, Crookston, Noyes, Chi., Rock I. & P. RR. bet. Iowa Line & Pipestone; Milwaukee RR. bet. Ortonville & Moorhead; Gt.N. RR. bet. Breckenridge & Canadian Line. Good Rd. (bituminous or graveled). Accoms.: In larger towns.

Hy. runs through prosperous farming country in S., passes quarries dating back to Inds., & midway passes Ls. Traverse & Big Stone. In N. it runs through fertile Red R. Valley, bordering Detroit Lakes vacation area.

Sec. 1: IOWA LINE to ORTONVILLE. 139.

11. LUVERNE, creamery & livestock center with a thriving grain co-op. For 30 yrs., after it was explored by the scientist J. N. Nicolle, reg. was ravaged by Inds. When settlers returned again a 4-yr. locust plague invaded vic. At E. end of town is tourist pk. with camp accoms. At 17. J. with side Rd. leading (R) 1^m to Mound Springs St. Pk. (195 as.pic.) with unusual geological rock formations of Sioux quartzite. At 36. PIPESTONE on W. side of Coteau des Prairies. Many pub. bldgs. are of red quartzite mined in near-by hills. At 37.5. J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) to Pipestone Ind. Training Sch. & Pipestone Nat. Mon. (116 as.). Part of the area has outcrop of quartzite ledges. Winnewissa Falls is formed where a stream crosses outcrops. Several quarry pits are open to secure the red pipestone or catlinite, as it was called, after Geo. Catlin, famous painter of N. Amer. Inds., who sent in 1st sample to Washington & who published first account of it. Phil. Prescott was here in 1831 but never published his findings. There are many Ind. legends as to orig. of this stone. One of most common is that red pipestone was formed by blood of warring tribes. The Great Spirit stopped the strife & ordered Inds. to regard area as a neutral ground & to use the red stone only as a symbol of peace. Hence the smoking of the peace pipe made from the stone. Longfellow in "Song of Hiawatha" immortalized the lore of these quarries. Trl. connects legendary & hist. points of int. incl. Leaping Rock, Ind. Head Rock, & the Three Maidens.

56. LAKE BENTON, on S. shore of a glacial L. now almost completely dry, named for Thos. H. Benton, son-in-law of John C. Frémont, who came here 1838, with Jos. Nicolle. Here is J. with US14. 71. IVANHOE, highest land in SW. Minn. It was named for Walter Scott's hero; its streets bear names of leading characters in the novel. Here is J. with St.19, which leads (R) to Marshall at 24^m on branch of Redwood R. in rich farming area. 90. CANBY (Ind. "roots of yellow moonseed"), has well-run livestock co-ops., wool-shipping & creamery assocs. Tourist Pk., (N) of town (free camp.). At 106. J. with US212.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (W) 13^m is S.D. Line.

(B) On US212 (E) 23^m is Camp Release, St. Mem. Wayside (18 as.; granite mon.51'), 1st unit in St. Pk. System, comm. release of 269 prisoners to Gen. Sibley in 1862. Remnants of Sibley's entrenchment visible. Here also is site of Sioux village of Red Iron, friendly chief during the outbreak. Ind. breadroot, a plant with blue spikes & edible tubers used by early frontiersmen, still grows in reg. At 24^m is Montevideo, named for capital of Uruguay. Here is J. with US59. In Smith Pk., at W. edge of town, Tourist Camp (free facil.). Land is so level here that snow-sailing, similar to ice-sailing, used to be a favorite sport. Sometimes 100 miles a day could be covered. Sail-sleighting, as it is also called, is still enjoyed, but now only on shorter trips. US212 turns (SE) to Granite Falls at 33^m on a granite bluff; the stones belong to oldest era of geological hist. Town was home of Andrew J. Volstead, author of "Volstead Act" for Federal prohibition.

At 111. MADISON, founded by Jacob F. Jacobson, who led Iowa settlers here. Town has a thriving creamery co-op., a livestock-shipping assoc., several grain elevators, & greenhouse & nursery with Log Hut (O), a reprod. of owner's boyhood Norway home. At 139. traveling NE. is ORTONVILLE, at S.D. Line. The town in 1873 a trading post for the Inds. is known for its granite-quarrying & canning industry. Big Stone Canning Co. has one of largest corn canneries in the country. It is originator of whole kernel canning. Every Aug. a Sweet Corn Festival is held, at which 20,000 persons eat a free corn dinner.

Sec. 2: ORTONVILLE to MOORHEAD. 116.

At 19. TOQUA LS. ST. PK. (40 as.camp.). 19.5. GRACEVILLE, prosperous farming & dairying reg. Here is J. with St.28.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (L) 22^m to Sam Brown St. Mon. on E. shore of L. Traverse, named for head of Ind. scout patrol who, during a Sioux uprising, rode 120^m one night warning settlers. Here bet. L. Traverse & Big Stone L. is Brown's Valley, where Brown's Valley Man was unearthed. His age was estimated at 12,000 yrs.; his jaw exceeds in width even the Heidelberg man. Buried with him were artifacts which belonged to an early Ind. race that made flint tools.

(B) On this Rd. (R) 26^m to Morris, home of W. Central Agric. College, formerly Cath. Ind. Mission School, now under Fed. Gov. Near here is Pomme de Terre Reserve (363.5 as. recr.pic.facils.).

36. WHEATON, well-known for water fowl & pheasant hunting. City tourist camp (free). J. with St.27.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 17^m to Herman, model Minn. town. Near it is margin of prehist. glacial L. Agassiz. In 1926 a mastodon tooth 10½" long was found in a pit near-by.

At 70. BRECKENRIDGE, trade & shipping center of reg. Here is J. with St.3.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 26^m to Fergus Falls on Otter Tail R., named for James Fergus, the Scot, who financed the Whitford exploratory & settling expedition 1857. Town is on W. side of large, hist. L. reg. Its first Postmaster was a German who couldn't read Eng. When mail arrived he emptied sack on cabin floor & allowed villagers to pick their own letters. June 1919 tornado almost destroyed the town. It now has 17 factories, 2 mills & a power company that furnishes 175 cities with electric power. Fergus Falls has largest co-op. creamery in NW. with 37 additional co-op. creameries in vic. It is one of largest poultry shipping pts. in the NW. Its City Hall & Cth. is a reprod. of Independence Hall, Philadelphia. Otter Tail Hist. Soc. Mus. in basement (O) contains pioneer utensils. At L. Alice summer & winter carnivals are held. At 44^m is Battle L., scene of fierce battle bet. Chippewa & Sioux.

US75 now follows N.D. Line N. for 46^m to MOORHEAD at 116. Here is J. with US10 (see) which leads to Detroit Lakes Reg. (see).

Sec. 3: MOORHEAD to CANADIAN BORDER. 173.

15. GEORGETOWN, where 1st steamboat on Red R. was launched, & HENDRUM at 29. Bet. these towns hy. still follows Pembina Trl. where less than 100 yrs. ago vast bison herds were hunted by Inds. Beyond town 1.5^m, US75 turns sharply (E) to ADA at 43., dairy-products & potato-shipping center in large prairie reg. In Ada is J. with St.31 which leads (E) 28^m to White Earth Ind. Reserv. (9,377 pop.). US75 turns (N) from Ada & cont. in straight line to Crookston at 79. Here is J. with US2 (see). 110. WARREN, surrounded by land that is so flat that from hy. one can see alfalfa fields for miles & miles, a view broken only by telephone posts & isolated silos. With the exception of Snake R. there are no Ls. or streams in vic. Rain water to feed stock is collected in large pits dug by the farmers. At Warren is J. with St.1.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 29^m to Thief River Falls, formerly a camp of the Dakotas who were conquered by Chippewa. Name originally meant Secret Earth, then became Stealing Earth, then Thief Lake & finally Thief R. Old Ind. Village Ruins are near J. of Thief R. & Red L. In vic. large-scale land resettlements have successfully taken place.

At 138. is DONALDSON, where the 65,000-a. "bonanza" farm of the Donaldson Ryan interests is located. Here is J. with St.11.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (NE) 82^m to Warroad, only port on Lake of the Woods (Perry Steamers, summer only; dogsled & plane in winter) to Oak I., American Pt. & the North-west Angle, northernmost piece of land in U.S. entirely separated from mainland & favorite vacation resort (excellent h.salmon, trout & muskellunge f.). Lake of the Woods is 90^m long & dotted with piney wooded islands.

153. HALLOCK, named for C. W. Hallock, sportsman & founder of "Forest & Stream" magazine. Hy. through this area follows Pembina Trl. Some scholars believe that trl. was used by the Norse-Gothic party, which as early as 1362 was supposed to have penetrated this territory (see Kensington Runestone). Along this trl. also traveled wooden ox-carts of Norman Kittson, who carried on successful business of transporting furs for Amer. Fur. Co. Rd. bet. here & HUMBOLDT at 166. becomes more undulating. Humboldt is a J. J. Hill town, named by him for German naturalist, Baron Alex. Humboldt, as tribute to Germans who had invested heavily in his RR. bonds. Ground in vic. is very fertile & 45 bu. of wheat or 500 bu. of potatoes can be raised on 1 acre. Here is J. with terminus of US59. 173. NOYES on the CANADIAN BORDER. Here is U.S. Customs & Immigration Office. Amer. & Canadian uniformed officials, of which there are a great number, bustling about transacting their boundary jobs, present a real contrast to the quiet of the north-woods country just traversed.

ST. PAUL—MINNEAPOLIS

ST. PAUL

RRs.: Union Sta., 4th & Sibley Sts. for 6 major RRs.—Northwestern, Northern Pacific, Gt. Northern, Burlington, Milwaukee, & Rock Island & Pacific. Holman Airport, 2^m from loop, for Northwest & Mid Continent Airlines. Through bus conns.

St. Paul, on a great bend of the Miss. R., was settled by pioneers who lived in near-by Ft. Snelling & on the Winnebago Ind. Reserv. lying SW. Along the river's winding shore & high bluffs runs River Blvd. extending from Pelham Blvd. to the military fort. Elms & maples line most of the streets, many of which still zag-zag through the hilly town. Some downtown streets have been widened but only reluctantly because St. Paulites like their irregular & winding hys. They remind them of the paths that once lead from the river front to the hills beyond & give the city the appearance of being much older than its twin. The compactness of the business area, through 2^m of which runs landscaped esplanade of Kellogg Blvd. overlooking Miss. R., makes St. Paul more like an eastern city than one of the Middle West. When St. Paul was only a fur-trading post, it had far more business dealing with N.Y. & the eastern sea-board than did Minneapolis, which at that time was primarily concerned with lumbering & agric. Railroadng & banking were St. Paul's chief interest.

Father Galtier brought religion into the wilderness & gave the city its name by building a log chapel called St. Paul, 1841. In 1843 the settlement had 12 people. Six yrs. later when it became the capital of the new territory it had 642. Ideally situated at the head waters of the Miss., St. Paul received a flood of immigrants with each landing of a side-wheeler. The city itself was incorporated Mar. 4, 1854. Jas. J. Hill, RR. magnate of Canadian birth, arrived in 1856 & adopted St. Paul as "his city." His dream of making it the capital of the vast Northwest Empire almost became a reality. In 1873 he, with 2 partners, obtained control of St. Paul & Pacific RR. & from then dates his phenomenal RR. transportation saga. Archbishop Ireland shared with Hill the faith in the young Northwest & worked tirelessly to establish the Irish immigrants he had brought into the country. Through his ardent efforts one of the great Cath. dioceses in the U.S. was built up, incl. the erection of the magnificent Cathedral of St. Paul. The city is still predominantly Cath. & services are held in English & in at least 6 other foreign languages. There are about 50 other denominational churches in town. St. Paul has 7 accredited colleges & a univ. & is known as an educational center (see Minneapolis). The Univ. of Minn. School of Agric. is located here & comprises 465 as. & 72 bldgs., offering a full 4-yr. course in agric. economics & forestry.

Together with its twin, St. Paul is a great cultural metropolis. To the German element, which makes up the greater part of the city's pop., is due a fondness for music, evidenced by the enthusiastic support of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra & the Civic Opera Assoc., along with many choral societies & glee clubs. The Germans too are responsible for the rapid & highly scientific expansion of the medical profession; many of the early emigrants were skilled physicians. The numerous & good breweries are also a credit to the Germans. The Irish contributed greatly to the political development of the city & the Scandinavians, who came much later, added stability & hard work toward the building of the metropolis. St. Paul is a city of diversified industries & is recognized as a leader in transportation, wholesales & distribution. It is one of the largest rail centers in U.S. South St. Paul is 3rd among country's livestock centers & 1st as a commercial dairy cattle market. St. Paul is the gateway to an unequalled vacationland. Within a 50-mile radius are 583 Ls.; L. Como & L. Phalen are in the heart of the city. At the Winter Carnival (Feb. lasting 10 days), King Boreas & his Queen of the Snows reign in a series of torchlight parades & sports festivities, incl. Nat. ski-jumping, ice shows & ice-fishing contests in which more than 2,000 sportsmen compete, until Vulcan routs the forces of winter, the last evening.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) 15 W. Kellogg Blvd., City Hall & County Cth. (1932.excellent example of Mod.architecture by Ellerbe, St. Paul, & Holabird & Root, Chicago), has 19 stories & cost $4,000,000. Carvings around entrance are by Lee Lawrie, pupil of Saint-Gaudens; sculptoring on elevator doors by Albert Stewart; paneling of the various mun. & cty. offices is done in 28 different kinds of Amer. & imported woods; 4th St. Lobby is especially striking with its marble floor & blue

Belgian marble piers. The concealed lighting begins about 8' from the floors, gradually growing dimmer toward the ceiling, where mirrors give impression of indeterminate height. In the concourse is white onyx Peace Mem. Statue by Swedish artist, Carl Milles. It harmonizes in color & texture with the walls & stands 36' high representing an Ind. God of Peace with a group of Inds. crouching around his feet. (2) 5 W. Kellogg Blvd., West Publishing Co. Plant (O) is world's largest publisher of law books. (3) 145 W. 4th St., Mun. Auditorium (1932) one of largest & best equipped bldgs. of its type, seating in main area, 15,000; hockey arena, 8,444. (4) 5 W. 5th St., Old Customs H. (1867.mod.Roman.details) most pretentious of city's early bldgs. (5) 700 Wabasha St., Minn. St. Capitol (O. frequent tours.1896.by Cass Gilbert.Ital. High Ren.). All decorative elements were coordinated by a Board of Design consisting of famous artists & architects, & the results achieved are a harmony seldom found in public bldgs. Large dome is practically a copy of St. Peter's in Rome; the arcaded loggias & the Corinthian columns blend beautifully into the general design (very int.inter.). State Office Bldg., 425 Park Ave. (O) & Minn. Hist. Soc. Bldg., 651 Cedar St. (O) complete Capitol group. (6) 214 E. 4th St., Union Depot (1920.class.façade with Doric columns) with a block-long waiting room. All RRs. entering city use this sta. (7) Rose & Arkwright Sts., St. Michael's Grotto, miniature church 18' x 12' which Gabriel Pizzuti built in memory of his little daughter. (8) 966 Miss. R. Blvd., Ford Motor Plant (O.10-2). (9) Cherokee Blvd., Cherokee Heights Pk. & Lookout (nightview magnificent). Here Pierre "Pig's Eye" Parrant, St. Paul's 1st settler, had his cabin & cache of whiskey which he bootlegged to Inds. The caves along river front are of the proper temperature & humidity for the ripening of Roquefort cheese. Experiments with this type of cheese are being conducted by Univ. of Minn. (10) Marshall & Western Aves., St. Joseph's Academy, oldest Cath. prep. school for girls; founded 1851. (11) 9th & Franklin Sts., Ch. of the Assumption (1871.by Edw.Riedel of Munich), oldest Cath. Ch. in St. Paul & 1st ch. in which the German language was used. (12) Mounds Blvd. bet. Clermont St. & Johnson Pky., Ind. Mounds Pk. (77 as.on high bluff), permits a magnificent view of city & valley. Mounds still contain human bones, mainly of Sioux chieftains. (13) Phalen Pky. bet. Maryland St. & N. city limits incl. L. Phalen (excellent bath.beach & recr.facils.). (14) E. Como Blvd., Como Pk. with L. Como, which in winter becomes one of city's largest outdoor skating rinks. Other attractions incl. band pavilion, rifle range, conservatory & zoo. Near here is statue of St. Francis of Assisi, patron of animals, by Donald Shepard. (15) Snelling Ave. N., bet. Hewitt & Capital Aves., on the Midway, Hamline Univ., named in honor of Bishop Leonidas Hamline (Meth.). This fully accredited college is an outgrowth of the school founded in Red Wing, 1854. (16) Summit Ave. bet. N. Cleveland & N. Cretin Aves., St. Thomas College (1885), founded by Archbishop Ireland, then Rev. John. Its secondary dept. is St. Thomas Military Academy. (17) Miss. R. Blvd. bet. Summit & Goodrich Aves., St. Paul's Seminary (Cath.), endowed by Jas. J. Hill in 1892, is hqs. for Cath. Hist. Soc. (18) Randolph St. bet. S. Cleveland & S. Fairview Aves., College of St. Catherine (fully accredited.1858), named for St. Catherine, the philosopher of Alexandria, is city's only women's college & is built within what was formerly Ft. Snelling Reserv. Overlooking landscaped terrace is Chapel of Our Lady of Victory (1924.by H.A.Sullwold,early Romanes.). Inter., in polychrome tile, has Byzantine features. (19) Snelling Ave. S. bet. St. Clair St. & Grand Ave., MacAlester College (Presb.), outgrowth of Rev. Edw. D. Neill's early schools, received its present name in 1874. The old 1850 bell which, when first rung, caused great consternation among Inds., is still hanging in belfry of Ch. (20) Summit Ave. at Lexington, St. Luke's Ch. (Romanes.by J.T.Comes.fine proportions); crypt (1919) has Byzantine inter. Baptistry & triptychs are especially noteworthy. (21) Summit Ave. & Avon St., House of Hope Ch. (Eng.Goth.by Ralph Adams Cram, & Goodhue & Ferguson, Boston). (22) 240 Summit Ave., J. J. Hill H. (1887) has 32 rooms & cost $200,000; occupied today by Diocesan Teachers College. (23) Summit Ave. bet. Selby & Dayton Aves., Cathedral of St. Paul (Cath.1906-15.by E.L.Masqueray), has a general resemblance to St. Peter's, Rome. Both exter. & inter. are especially fine. (24) NW. part of town, Farm Campus of Univ. of Minn., 3rd largest in U.S. (465 as.;73 bldgs.). (25) L. from campus, Minn. St. Fair Grounds. First fair sponsored in 1854 (260 as.). The famous horse, "Dan Patch," made the mile track here in 1.55 (1906), a record that stood for 31 yrs.

(26) Take 7th St. (SW) to Mendota on (E) bank of the Miss., known until 1837 as St. Peter's & key point & meeting place of fur trappers & traders. J. B. Faribault moved his family to this site in 1822 when an ice jam threatened his cabin. At confluence of Miss. & Minn. Rs., on Main St., is Sibley Tea H. (O.1854.by H.DuPuis, Sibley's Secy.). From the hy. (L) is Home of H. H. Sibley, "Father of his State." (O. 1835.rest.1910), first stone house in Minn. Sibley used it as business hqs. of Amer. Fur Co., whose representative he was, & as a social gathering place for such distinguished guests as Frémont, Schoolcraft, Catlin & Nicollet. It has 6 rooms & an outside stairway to office, on 2nd floor, said to have been used by Inds. & trappers so as not to disturb the household. Adj. the Sibley estate is Faribault H. (1837.rest. 1935), similar in construction to Sibley H.

(27) At confluence of Minn. & Miss. Rs., just SE. of town & reached by W. 7th St. or Sibley Mem. Hy. is Ft. Snelling (O.appl.), earliest military post in NW. Father Hennepin in 1680 & Le Sueur in 1700 visited the site & in 1805 Zebulon Pike acquired the tract for U.S. Gov. In 1822 Col. Josiah Snelling began construction of Ft. St. Anthony, as it was then called. Three yrs. later it was officially named Ft. Snelling to honor his accomplishment. The Round Tower was built in 1822. In this tower, Dred Scott, then a servant of the medical Attaché, was married to a girl slave. He was in the service of Dr. Emerson at that time. In 1820 Pres. Monroe appointed Lt. Lawrence Taliaferro, as Ind. Agent for this reg. For 17 yrs. this young Virginian labored with the Inds. hoping to accomplish 2 things: prevention of the recurring conflicts bet. the tribes & his plan to establish the Inds. as self-supporting agriculturists. Traders, fur-company representatives & politicians soon found out that he could not be bribed, something that annoyed them not a little. When he left he wrote, "I have the sad consolation of leaving the public service as poor as when I first entered—the only evidence of my integrity." By 1857 the Ft. fell into disuse & all but 2 tracts of land were sold. During Civil War the Ft. was again used for assembling troops. In 1864 Count Zeppelin, then a young military attaché to U.S., tried out his lighter-than-air experiments here. His idea was laughed at, but he was not easily put off. A military tailor sewed a bag for him into which he put as much illuminating gas as the old St. Paul Gas Co. would let him have &, on a bright night in spring, made a 30 minute flight, 300' above the tower. For a few yrs. more, Ft. Snelling was used to help protect settlers against Ind. uprisings especially c.1862. Like other frontier forts, its function was not solely military but extended into many phases of pioneer life. It was then a social & cultural center.

Minneapolis, a great metropolis that rose in a phenomenally short time; where wilderness was a century ago the thriving city now stands. Its first log cabin was built in 1847 in what was then St. Anthony Falls. In 1854 the village of Minneapolis was platted & a Post Office est.; 2 yrs. later it became a city. Its big industrial builders, however, arrived only in the '70's & '80's. They were Yankees, who in order to hurry the building process, invited workers from N. Europe to settle here. The town was born beside the river & near the falls which Father Hennepin loved & named St. Anthony & which later, because of its beauty, was the main attraction for settlers. The rivalry bet. Minneapolis & its twin, St. Paul, has been one of the more enduring in Amer. city history. Although coming into existence about the same time as St. Paul, Minneapolis soon outstripped its cultured neighbor in things ordinarily considered progress. Its beginning was rather slow, but it grew up rapidly with the influx of Scandinavians who arrived during 2nd half of 19th cent. After census of 1890, when Minneapolis boasted a far greater pop. than St. Paul, the latter demanded a recount. To the surprise of everyone both cities were found guilty of dishonest enrolment. St. Paul added thousands whose addresses were Union Depot, pool halls, etc., while Minneapolis "in the interest of civic pride" added graveyard residents, copying more than 18,000 names from tombstones. In the Fed. recount, however, Minneapolis won by a safe margin. Articulate Minneapolitans demanded that their city become the state's capital but nothing came of it. Because of water power developed at St. Anthony's Falls & the rich wheat lands near-by, flour milling was 1st & basic industry of Minneapolis. City became one of largest flour-milling centers in the world & the largest cash grain market in U.S. Today it is also an industrial center & hub of important transportation in the Upper Midwest. It has become the largest distributing center for tractors & agric. implements in country. Its pk. system comprises 22 Ls. which offer fishing, boating, canoeing & sailing in summer & iceboating & skating in winter. Its winter carnival is famous, but outsiders consider the weather too brutal. Duck hunting is the favorite sport of the twins & the favorite topic of conversation at any time. City is home of the Univ. of Minn. which is 2nd largest state univ. in U.S. Univ. takes great pride in its high academic standing. It embraces 22 schools & colleges & the world-famous Mayo Clinic (see Rochester in St. Paul area). Its main campus is located above the Miss. R. near St. Anthony Falls, while farm campus is in St. Paul & Extension Div. in Duluth.

It is a mem. to Michael Dowling, who in 1881 when 14 yrs. old, while herding sheep in a blizzard, froze his legs, one arm & two fingers, all of which had to be amputated. Despite it, he became school superintendent, editor & banker. (23) 1501 E. River Terrace, St. Frances Cabrini Ch. (1948 by Long & Thorshor), excellent example of modern style.

TRIPS OUT OF ST. PAUL—MINNEAPOLIS

I. ST. PAUL (NE) to STILLWATER. 19. US212

US212 travels (NE) to STILLWATER at 19., formerly center of a logging industry. First commercial sawmill was built on St. Croix R. above Stillwater. From here logs were floated to St. Louis. Raft pilots had to be so skilled that those who qualified received salaries from $300 to $500 a month. One of most famous raftsmen was Capt. Stephen Hanks, cousin of Lincoln, who became almost a legendary figure. The revelry & rioting of the lumbermen is recalled every fall when the Lumberjack Festival is held.

II. ST. PAUL (E) to ST. CROIX (Wis. Line). 11. US12

US12 travels directly (E) to ST. CROIX R. at 11. Here a toll bridge crosses over to Wis. side.

III. ST. PAUL (SE) to WACOUTA. 47. US61 (Via: Red Wing)

US61 unites with US10 in St. Paul & follows Hastings Ave. to J. with Pt. Douglas Rd. leading (R) to RED ROCK PK. at 5. Here in 1837 was founded an early Meth. mission. In 1905 it became center of a large camp where leading evangelists held forth. These meetings drew as many as 30,000 people on a Sun. The red granite rock for which place was named was venerated by the Inds. who painted designs on it. At 15.5. US61 crosses Miss. R. & enters HASTINGS, named for Gen. H. Hastings Sibley, fur trader, governor & member of Congress, but was 1st known as Oliver's Grove because in 1819 Lt. Wm. G. Oliver & his troops camped here. At Vermillion R. is old Ramsey Mill, remains of oldest mill in Minn., built by territorial Gov. Ramsey. On Miss. R. is U.S. Dam & Lock #2, one of 26 dams built by U.S. bet. Minneapolis & St. Louis. From business district (S) 1st on US61 is Mansion of Gen. Wm. G. LeDuc (O.appl. Vict. Goth. 1860) graceful & simple, built in an age when simplicity was not the fashion. It was copied from Downing's book "Architecture for Country Houses," whose designs inspired many Hudson River estates. In Hastings is Interstate Bridge (1895), "only spiral bridge in world," built to avoid viaducting town's main street & soon (1949) to be replaced by mod. structure. At Hastings is J. with St. 55.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 3^m to J. with marked Rd. leading (R) to Nininger 5^m, home of Ignatius Donnelly, reformer & crusader. He was known as the "apostle of protest." His brilliant polemics in favor of the oppressed & his books, incl. "Atlantis" & "The Great Cryptogram" (the latter tried to prove Lord Bacon the author of Shakespeare's plays) were powerful & made Nininger the center of gay parties & lengthy political discussions. Panic of 1857 practically wiped out town & with it Donnelly's holdings. His house still stands but in disrepair. In 1860 he was made Lt. Gov.

At 43. RED WING, center of clay industry, also has diversified industries, among them marine motors for Gov. (most plants offer tours). In 1680 Father Hennipin found here an Ind. village, named for Chief Red Wing by Fr. explorers. Swiss Protestant missionaries erected a post here as early as 1836 & Luth. congregation was est. in 1855. On Miss. R. is U.S. Dam & Lock #3. Majestic bluffs overlooking R. offer magnificent views. Annual ski meet held here is largest in state. Red Wing has country's 2nd municipally owned theater. 47. WACOUTA, village at head of L. Pepin (34^m long & formed by Chippewa & Miss. Rs.). Father Hennepin & 2 other Franciscans called it Lac des Pleurs because their captors wept all night, hoping to persuade their chief to allow them to kill at least one of the padres. Present name dates back to Pepin family of Canada, 2 of whose members accompanied Du Lhut to the upper Miss. In vic. formerly stood Sevastopol, a river town, peopled by lumberjacks & raftsmen. When R. channel changed, c.1860, town disappeared completely.

IV. ST. PAUL (S) to ROCHESTER. 82. US52 (Via: S. St. Paul, Zumbrota, Oronoco)

4.5. J. with St.100.

SIDE TRIP. On latter (L) 2.5^m is S. St. Paul, not a part of St. Paul, 3rd largest stock market in country. Here are: Union Stockyards built by A. B. Stickney (1888) covering more than 250 as. with facil's. for feeding, vaccinating & caring for livestock; Armour Packing Co. (tours Tues. to Sat.), 22 bldgs. & 4^m of RR. tracks; Swift & Co. Plant (tours Mon. to Fri. Sat. a.m.).

38. CANNON FALLS. 59. ZUMBROTA. 0.5^m (N) of center of town is Minn.'s only Covered Bridge (1853). 61. PINE L., Cheese Center of Minn. 66. ORONOCO.

82. ROCHESTER. (Plane, train & bus conns.)

Rochester is world famous because of the Mayo Clinic. From an insignificant little hamlet 80 yrs. ago, it has become one of greatest medical centers of the world. The development of this institution unfolded rapidly from the time of the big cyclone, 1883, which almost wiped out Rochester, after which "Dr. Mayo & his boys," with the aid of the Sisters of St. Francis, who built for them St. Mary's Hospital, began their life work here. In 1915 the Mayos affiliated with the Univ. of Minn. & est. Mayo Foundation for Medical Research. With endowments totaling up to $2,500,000, the foundation provides for graduate medical education & research, & supplies clinic with adequate operators. Due to the genius of the Mayos, who combined professional ability with vision & capacity for organization, this means for the world's ill has been created. Sufferers from all walks of life & from every corner of the country & the world can be seen in town & in the clinic. Rochester is, therefore, a most cosmopolitan city. PTS. OF INT.: 102-10 2nd Ave. SW., Mayo Clinic Bldg. (O.1914-29 by Ellerbe & Co. of St.Paul.tours). This stately 22-story bldg. is completely modern in equipment & combines under one roof every facility for diagnosis, dressings, laboratories, meeting rooms & lib. Carillons, made in Croydon, England, the gift of the Drs. Mayo, are installed in the tower & are played daily at twilight. In pk. opp., Mayo Foundation Mus. of Hygiene & Medicine (O.wks.10-12 & 2-4; Sat.10-12; Sun.2-5); exhibits of normal & pathological tissue & organs of the human body. 3rd Ave. & SE. 12th St., Reid-Murdock Vegetable Canning Plant (O.10-10 June 15-July 15 & Aug.15-Sept.15), one of world's largest pea canneries.

V. MINNEAPOLIS (SW) to MANKATO. 76.5. US169

Via: Shakopee, Mudbaden, Jordan, Belle Plaine, Le Sueur, Traverse des Sioux & St. Peter.

US169 & US212 leave Minneapolis at 50th St. &, united, travel (SW) until US169 at 191. branches off (L). 20. SHAKOPEE, where in 1850 last battle bet. Chippewa & Dakota Inds. took place. On 1st St., Log Cabin of O. Faribault (O.1844). Carl Schurz, in 1859, called this sec. of the Minn. R. as beautiful as the Rhine. His praise of the reg. encouraged heavy German immigration. 29.5. MUDBADEN, health resort with mud baths. 39.5. BELLE PLAINE. Here the "Fanny Harris," bringing troops to St. Paul (1861), was caught in a raging torrent because of spring floods. The captain piloted the boat 10^m across the flooded plain into calmer waters before returning to channel. 55. LE SUEUR, named for 17th cent. explorer. On Main St. (L) is Mayo H. (O), residence of the two famous surgeons & their doctor father. In vic. is a Mex. Village consisting of Mex. beet workers recruited from Texas. 62.5. (R) TRAVERSE DES SIOUX ST. PK. (pic.facils.23 as.) comm. signing of treaty with Sioux (1851). 64.5. ST. PETER, which by some pioneers was expected to be state capital. A "first" capital bldg. was erected here in 1857. St. Peter was home of 5 Minn. Governors. Here is Gustavus Adolphus College maintained by Conference of Augustana Synod of N. America (Swedish). 76.5. MANKATO (see US14). 4^m (W) is Minneopa St. Pk. (110 as.pic.facils.hik.).

VI. MINNEAPOLIS (S) to FARIBAULT. 58. US65 (Via: Northfield & Bridgewater) 7. J. with St.35 leading (R) to J. with dirt Rd. On this Rd. 2.5^m (L) is Bush L. Ski Slide, making a 200' jump possible. 11. US65 crosses the MINN. R. 21.5. ANTLERS PK. on L. Marion (resort.beach.pic.golf). 28. FARMINGTON, has a milk co-op. with more than 8,000 members. 32. CASTLE ROCK. At c.41. hy. follows bank of CANNON R. on both sides of which Carleton College has its Arboretum (300 as.). 42.5. NORTHFIELD, home of Carleton & St. Olaf Colleges. Carleton was founded 1866 & functions in cooperation with various denominational churches. Thorstein Veblen, famous economist & philosopher attended Carleton & lived in Northfield from time he was 8 yrs. old. He was author of "Theory of the Leisure Class" & translator of "Laxdela Saga." St. Olaf, fully accredited liberal arts college is supported by Luth. Chs. of U.S. & is home of well-known St. Olaf Luth. Choir, which gives concerts all over the country & even abroad. O. E. Rølvaag, author of "Giants in the Earth" taught here. The School of the Air has a broadcasting sta. & gives courses in making broadcasts & in stimulating thoughtful listening. Annual Music Festival, 3rd wk. in May. Northfield was scene of a Jesse James bank hold-up, Sept. 7, 1876. Clcl Miller & Bill Stiles were killed & Bob Younger wounded. Jesse & Frank James escaped on stolen horses. On Sept. 21, after a manhunt with 1,000 pursuers, Charlie Pitts was killed & the 3 Younger Bros. were captured & imprisoned for life. US65 bet. Northfield & Faribault passes 16 abandoned mill sites of Civil War period.

46.5. DUNDAS. Here in the 1860's the Archibald Bros. pioneered in a new flour-milling method, secret process brought over by La Croix family. Collapse of the Cannon R. land boom of 1856 left a string of deserted villages in this vic. described in Edw. Eggleston's novel "Mystery of Metropolisville" 1873. 51.5. BRIDGE-WATER. 56.5. J. with St.21 leading (R) here 8^m to French L. (f. duck h.). 58. FARIBAULT, called by its horticulturists the "Nation's Peony Capital," was a fur trading post in 1826. In center of town is Alexander Faribault H., first frame house. For a long time it & the Whipple H. were the town's social meeting places. Latter, no longer standing, was home of Henry Ben. Whipple, Episc. Bishop, a real friend of the Inds., a "rational abolitionist," & a conservative Democrat & politician. His counsel was sought by Queen Victoria & the Presidents of the U.S. He lies buried in Episc. Cathedral (1st in U.S.). Faribault also has St. James Military Academy & St. School for Blind, Deaf & Dumb. Attached is School for Feeble-minded, which pioneered in that field with great success.

VII. MINNEAPOLIS (SW) to CHASKA. 31. US212

1.5. J. with St.7.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) 4^m to Minnehaha Cr. At 4.5^m is side Rd. leading (L) 2^m to Hopkins, famed for raspberries. Annual raspberry festival during picking season. St.7 passes through a reg. of lakes. At c.12^m is L. Minnetonka, the most beautiful, as its Ind. name indicates. Luxury side-wheelers such as the "Belle of Minnetonka" & the "Phil Sheridan," carrying as many as 3,500 persons plied the Minnetonka's waters, c.1867. The lake has become known particularly through Cadman's "Land of the Sky Blue Water" & Lieurance's "By the Waters of Minnetonka." Along the 50^m of St.7, dozens of other lakes abound.

27. on US12 are the SHAKOPEE LIMESTONE LEDGES & at 31. CHASKA, a predominantly German village with 3 Ind. Mounds in City Pk. & a local Mineral Springs known for healing qualities.

VII. MINNEAPOLIS (N) to TAYLOR FALLS (Wis. Line). 53.5. US8 (Via: Center City)

7. J. with Cty. D., leading (R) 2^m to Nazareth Hall, a seminary on L. Johanna. The bldgs., except the Romanes. chapel (int.chapel inter.), are architecturally similar to those in Lombardy. At 9. J. with US10 & at 26.5. J. with US61, running through lake country. 32. WYOMING & at 39. Chisago City which, together with LINDSTROM at 42. & CENTER CITY at 43.5., form nucleus of Swedish culture in Minn. in reg. sett. 1850-51 when many pioneers came from Sweden to establish here a colony & a conference of the Swedish Luth. Ch. (1854). Swedes still celebrate Mid-summer night June 24-25. US8 turns abruptly (E). TAYLOR FALLS (see US61) at 53.5. is especially interesting to geologists. To (R) is Interstate Pk. (154 as.). Here is Turbulent R. in a gorge rising 200' from water's edge. Near-by, "Glacial Gardens" (boat.f.pic.facils.). Here rock formations were created after the "Ice Age." Excellent area to study geology & Ind. petroglyphs. On both sides of river are the Dalles of the St. Croix. Int. geological Pot Holes. Lookout Mt. is legendary battleground of the Sioux & Chippewa. So bloody were the conflicts that the Inds. called it "Valley of Bones." Here still is Wm. H. C. Folsom H. (1854.Georg.), constructed of locally sawed lumber & built by Maine carpenters, & Ch. built by Folsom (1861). Taylor Falls is at S. edge of white pine stands. Along river are found wild orchids, the Minn. state flower, sometimes called Indian-shoe or ladyslipper.

THE PLAINS STATES

NEBRASKA—NORTH DAKOTA

THE PLAINS STATES

Westward from the Mississippi River in an almost unbroken sweep of prairie, gradually rising toward the High Plains area beyond which the Rockies begin, extend the Plains States: Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North & South Dakota. Until little more than a century ago, this expanse of open country—almost treeless, with little water, where the wind rippled seemingly endless acres of grass—was part of the “Great American Desert,” a barrier to westward settlement. Across it roved huge herds of buffalo, hunted by bands of nomadic Indians, horsemen & wigwam dwellers. Life was harsh for the earliest white settlers here, building their log shanties, their sod huts & dugouts along the river valleys & then across the plains: they faced blizzards & sudden floods, long droughts & parching, hot winds. Harassed at first by raiding Indians, later they were beset by frontier desperadoes—Quantrill’s “bushwhackers,” train & bank robbers like Jesse & Frank James or the Dalton brothers, & other adventurers. Law & order were precariously maintained in their pioneer towns, unlovely settlements of weatherbeaten frame buildings, against a floating population of gunmen, gamblers, prostitutes. Nevertheless settlement was pushed forward, spurred by westward traffic: steamboats on the rivers, pack trains & wagon caravans along the trails to Santa Fe and Oregon, the overland stage companies & the Pony Express, the first transcontinental railroads. Gradually, after the Civil War & the end of hostilities with the Indians, the open ranges were crisscrossed with barbed-wire, as homesteaders succeeded cattlemen, planting wheat & other crops; & the region developed into what it is today: the nation’s breadbasket. Grain elevators & stockyards became the symbols of its prosperity; & newly sprung-up cities, gathering in the harvest of the farmlands, grew to metropolitan centers, fringed with railroad yards & factories.

The level or easily rolling terrain of this trans-Mississippi region, sparsely timbered except along river bottoms & broken only by the rugged, forested Ozarks of southern Missouri & the Black Hills of western South Dakota, sweeps all the way, gently tilting, from the Mississippi to the eroded uplands of the High Plains along its western border, where the sand hills of northwestern Nebraska & the Badlands of the Dakotas appear. By far the greater part of the whole area is drained by the wide, muddy Missouri River & its tributaries, among them the James & Big Sioux in the Dakotas, the Platte in Nebraska, the Kansas in Kansas, & the Osage in Missouri. Eastern Iowa is drained by tributaries of the Mississippi, largest of which is the Des Moines; eastern North Dakota by the Red River of the North; southern Missouri, by the St. Francis, White & other Ozark streams; southern Kansas, by the Arkansas River.

This was the abode of various tribes of Indians: the agricultural, village-dwelling Arikara, Hidatsa, Iowa, Kansa, Mandan, Missouri, Omaha, Osage, Oto, Pawnee, Sac & Fox, Wichita, & others & the plains-wandering, usually more warlike Arapaho and Cheyenne, Assiniboin, Chippewa, Comanche, Kiowa & Sioux. Of these, the much-feared Sioux ranged a vast territory stretching from western Iowa through northern Nebraska, South Dakota, & southern North Dakota, to the north, south & southwest of which roved the other nomadic tribes & to the east, southeast & south of which dwelt the agricultural tribes.

The first white men known to have set foot within this region were Francisco

Vasquez de Coronado & his army of 300 Spaniards from the south, seeking fabled Quivira in 1541. They traveled north to a point somewhere near the center of Kansas or farther before they turned back, disappointed in their search for gold & silver. Other Spanish explorers ventured into the region in 1594 & 1601. In 1673, Louis Jolliet & Père Jacques Marquette, on their voyage down the Mississippi River, touched land on the Iowa & Missouri shores; & in 1682 La Salle, traveling the Mississippi to its mouth, claimed the whole valley for France. Before the end of the 17th century, French-Canadian fur traders & missionaries were exploring the region; & in 1700 Jesuits established a short-lived settlement on the site of St. Louis. By 1720, southeastern Missouri's lead deposits were being worked & French voyageurs, traveling up the Missouri & its tributaries, had penetrated into Kansas & Nebraska. Fort Orleans was established on the Missouri in 1723. In 1743 Pierre Gaultier de Varennes, Sieur de la Verendrye, visited the Dakotas, the first known white man to do so. The first permanent settlement in the region was made by some Creole families at Ste Genevieve (Mo.) about 1750, & in 1764 the New Orleans firm of Maxent, Laclede & Co., having received a monopoly of the fur trade, founded St. Louis for its headquarters. French claims west of the Mississippi had been ceded in 1762 to Spain, but Spanish officials exerted little more than nominal control over Upper Louisiana. In 1788 the first settlement in Iowa was made by Julien Dubuque, French-Canadian, who established a fort & prospered at lead mining & trading with the Indians. About 1792 Louis Lorimier established a trading post on the site of Cape Girardeau (Mo.). By this time American settlers, encouraged by liberal Spanish land grants, had begun to settle Missouri. The Louisiana Territory passed back in 1801 to the French, & in 1803, through the Louisiana Purchase, to the U.S. From St. Louis exploring expeditions were soon dispatched: one in 1804 led by Capt. Meriwether Lewis & Lieut. Wm. Clark up the Missouri River & down the Columbia to the Pacific Coast, & one in 1806 led by Capt. Zebulon M. Pike up the Osage River & across Kansas & Nebraska toward Colorado. Wilson Price Hunt led a party of fur traders up the Missouri & across Nebraska in 1810 and Robert Stewart led another party east from Astoria (Ore.) over the same route in 1812. Maj. Stephen H. Long headed a scientific expedition up the South Platte to its headwaters in 1819. Fur trading posts, missionary schools, & military forts were rapidly established along the Missouri River & in the Dakotas.

Missouri, made a Territory in 1812, was admitted to the Union as a slave state in 1821, following adoption by Congress of the famous Missouri Compromise, which forbade admission in the future of any more slave states north of 36° 30'. Rapidly settled, principally by Southerners, it prospered on steamboat traffic along the Missouri & overland trade with Mexico via the Santa Fe Trail, opened in 1821. Settlement of Iowa was spurred by the Black Hawk Purchase of 1833, opening lands of the Sac & Fox Indians: Dubuque, Burlington, Davenport, & Keokuk were quickly laid out; in 1845 the region around Des Moines was opened to settlers, and the year following, Iowa (since 1838 a Territory) was admitted to the Union. The Indian frontier had now been pushed west of the Missouri River.

By the early 1840's a growing procession of travelers had begun to follow what became by far the most important of the overland trails to the Far West, along the Missouri & Platte River Valleys across Missouri, eastern Kansas, & central Nebraska; & pioneer trading centers along the route sprang up: Independence, Westport (now Kansas City), Atchison, St. Joseph, Omaha. The first large organized group to take this trail were the Mormons, forced out of Missouri by Gentile hostility, who traveled toward their Promised Land in Utah along the north bank of the Platte in 1847. The Oregon Trail, following the south bank, was soon a heavily traveled route, pursued after 1848 for part of its length by thousands of California-bound gold seekers in covered wagons. Along it were dispatched the overland mail & freight wagons of the Russell, Waddell & Majors Freighting Co., with headquarters at Leavenworth, Kansas; it was this firm which established on April 3, 1860 the famous Pony Express, carrying mail from St. Joseph to Placerville, California, in ten and a half days. The Butterfield Overland Stage Company, at first traveling across southern Missouri on the southern route to California, transferred to the central route after the beginning of the Civil War. In 1862 the firm of Russell, Waddell & Majors, having gone bankrupt, was acquired by Ben Holladay, who expanded operations until by 1866 he had what was probably the country's biggest one-man business, with 5,000 miles of stage line.

This is a detailed black and white map of St. Louis, Missouri, and its surrounding areas. The Mississippi River is prominently featured on the left side of the map, flowing from the top towards the bottom. Major highways are shown as thick black lines with route numbers in circles. Key locations labeled include Granite City, East St. Louis, St. Louis, and various parks and landmarks like Forest Park and the Gateway Arch. A scale bar in the bottom right corner indicates distances in miles (0, 1, 2, 3). A north arrow is located in the bottom right corner, pointing towards the top right of the map.

The westward migration stimulated settlement of Kansas & Nebraska, but they were admitted as Territories only in 1854 after protracted Congressional debate over slavery, resulting in repeal of the Missouri Compromise. The resulting clash between anti- & pro-slavery settlers in "bleeding Kansas" led to guerrilla warfare along the Kansas-Missouri Border, marked by such incidents as the sacking of Lawrence by "border ruffians" (pro-slavery) & the retaliatory Osawatomie massacres led by John Brown (who later headed the raid on Harpers Ferry) until Free Staters grew strong enough to force adoption of an anti-slavery constitution in 1859, followed by Statehood in 1861. The Civil War split Missouri between pro-Union & pro-Confederate forces; the latter, retreating from the capital, Jefferson City, were defeated at Boonville, June 17, 1861 & driven southwestward, where they won a few local victories in the area around Springfield but were finally forced over the Arkansas border the following spring. Thereafter, Confederate resistance took the form of skirmishes, of which 1,162 were fought in Missouri, until late in 1864, when Confederate General Sterling Price led his troops in the three-day Battle of Westport, "Gettysburg of the West," ending in Confederate defeat. Falling back, his forces were again defeated at the Battle of Mine Creek in eastern Kansas.

The first railroads, pushed across Iowa & Missouri in the 1850's, were meanwhile being extended westward. In 1862 ground was broken at Omaha for the Union Pacific, first transcontinental line, completed in 1869, two years after Nebraska's admission to the Union. Settlement of western Nebraska & the Dakotas, under way since the late 1850's, was marked by frequent clashes with hostile Plains Indians, especially the Sioux. U.S. Army troops were kept busy in the War of the Outbreak in South Dakota (1861-65), the war with the Sioux & the Cheyenne which broke out in Nebraska in 1864, & the campaign of 1876 in North Dakota ending in Gen. George A. Custer's defeat at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Throughout these years the Plains Indians were gradually being forced south of Kansas' southern border into Indian Territory. During the 1870's the blazing of the Chisholm Trail & other famous cattle trails over which Texas cattle were driven to railheads in western Kansas & Nebraska, spurred the rapid growth of wild & woolly cow towns such as Abilene, Wichita, Dodge City, Hays, and Ogallala. The discovery of gold in the Black Hills in 1876, attracting to the new settlement of Deadwood a stampede of adventurers—among them Wild Bill Hickok, Calamity Jane, & other picturesque characters—promoted the settlement of the Dakotas (to which settlers had already been lured by the construction of the Northern Pacific as far west as Bismarck in 1870). Finally, in 1889, the only twin states in the Union, North & South Dakota, were simultaneously admitted.

The passing of the frontier, officially noted in the Census of 1890, was followed in the Plains States by a grass-roots movement for the settlement of political & economic grievances, aimed largely against eastern banking & railroad interests. The economic depression of the 1890's, aggravated in the trans-Mississippi region by prolonged droughts & grasshopper plagues, whipped up unrest, which took political form in the Farmers' Alliance or "People's Party" (as it was renamed at its second convention in Omaha, 1892). Its campaign for reforms—especially for free coinage of silver—helped bring to national prominence the "boy orator of the Platte," William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, whose "cross of gold" speech at the Democratic Party convention of 1896 won him the Presidential nomination. The unrest of this period was also reflected in such phenomena as the march from Omaha to Washington in 1894 of "Kelly's Army" of unemployed & in the half-million circulation achieved by the "Appeal to Reason," Socialist newspaper published at Girard, Kansas. Although the political revolt of the 1890's failed, it made the trans-Mississippi region a factor in national politics, whose influence was still felt in 1912 in Theodore Roosevelt's "progressive" movement & in Woodrow Wilson's nomination (with Bryan's backing) and election in that year.

The twentieth century brought increased prosperity. The intensive development of agriculture, carried on ever since the introduction of wheat growing in 1870 had begun to crowd out the cattle ranchers, made the region one of the country's richest farm areas. Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Sioux City flourished as grain & livestock markets with flour mills & meat-packing plants. Meanwhile, the older cities along the Mississippi, led by St. Louis, had grown into bustling railroad & industrial centers; Dubuque, Davenport, Burlington, Clinton, & other Iowa cities, grown prosperous as sawmill towns converting into lumber great rafts of logs floated downriver, acquired metalworking & other plants: Iowa tractors, farm machinery, & washing machines began to be produced, along with Iowa corn & hogs. Exploitation of mineral deposits—Iowa, Missouri & Kansas, coal; Iowa, gypsum; Missouri & Kansas, lead and zinc; Missouri, barite, clay, & silica; Kansas, oil & gas; Dakota, lignite & gold—brought new wealth. World War I spurred both agricultural & industrial expansion. The prosperous 1920's were reflected in the building booms & programs of civic improvement which transformed the region's urban centers; some of its smaller cities—Des Moines, Topeka, Lincoln, Wichita—grew rapidly bigger (especially Wichita, boomed to metropolitan importance by oil & aircraft manufacturing).

The economic depression of the 1930's, attended (like that of the 1890's) by disastrous droughts & crop failures, revived political unrest. The Farm Holiday Association, originating in Iowa, led farmers in struggles against foreclosures on farm mortgages & in picketing of market centers; the Farmer-Labor Party extended its political activities into the area. But gradually, after 1933, recovery began, aided by Federal & State legislation providing for mortgage moratoriums, agricultural subsidies & crop-control programs & by the growth of farmers' cooperatives. The introduction of long-needed conservation measures (whose best-known champion was Nebraska's Senator George W. Norris) began to put the region's agriculture on a sounder basis; irrigation projects, programs for erosion control, planting of shelter belts of trees (for wind protection) helped counteract the bad farming practices of the past. The building of dams, not only to impound water for irrigation but also to generate hydroelectric power, promoted industrial development. Support grew for the creation of a Missouri Valley Project, similar to the Tennessee Valley Project sponsored by Senator Norris, to aid the realization of the region's potentialities. However rich its harvest of farm & factory products—even after World War II, which boomed output to the highest level yet reached—these potentialities still remain to be fully exploited.

US 40—MISSOURI

ST. LOUIS, MO. (W) to KANSAS CITY, MO. 256. US40

Via: St. Charles, Warrenton, Columbia, Boonville & Concordia. RRs. parallel most of route. Accomms.: Tourist & trlr. camps at frequent intervals, hotels in cities.

US40 cuts across central Mo., roughly following main route taken by westward-moving settlers. It crosses Mo. R., NW. of St. Louis, & heads (W) over course of Boon's Lick Trl., once followed by stagecoaches & covered wagons. Crossing R. again at Boonville, it proceeds over rolling fertile prairie uplands.

For pts. of int. & towns on or near US40 bet. St. Louis & J. with US61 (see) at WENTZVILLE, 40., see St. Louis II. 56. WARRENTON is site of Central Wesleyan College (est. 1852), E. end of Main St. 103. J. with US54.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take latter (R) to Mexico, 17m, which calls itself "Fire Brick & Saddle Horse Center of the World," laid out in 1836. Its 1st inhabitants were horse lovers; by 1890's, town was site of many large stables. Huge deposit of fire clay was discovered beneath town site soon after 1900, leading to est. of clay refractories. A. P. Green Fire Brick Co. Plant, E. end of Breckenridge St., is one of largest plants of kind in world. Here also is Mo. Military Academy.

(B) Take US54 (L) to Fulton, 7m, seat of Calloway Cty., which since 1830 has been leading producer among Mo. counties of famed "Missouri mule." Fulton, founded in 1825, depends also on farm trade & its shoe-mfg. & clay refractories plants. Capt. Jas. Calloway Mon., cth. square, comm. pioneer Mo. settler. E. 5th & State Sts., St. Hospital No. 1 (opened 1849), was 1st institution for mental patients W. of Miss. R. Fulton is also site of Mo. Sch. for the Deaf (founded 1851), 5th & Vine Sts.; William Woods College, 12th & Nichols Sts., girls' jr. college directed by Christian Ch.; & Westminster College (opened 1853), Westminster Ave. bet. 4th & 7th Sts., 4-yr. institution supported by Presb. 124. COLUMBIA is university town of venerable lineage, garden-dotted, with well-stocked shops & department stores & farm produce wholesale houses & shoe & garment factories. It was laid out in 1821, around log cabin built earlier by Thos. Duley, & soon thrived as stopping place on Boon's Lick Trl. Its early settlers, largely from the Virginia & Kentucky reg. were strong for education: in 1829 was founded Bonne Femme Academy & in 1833, Columbia Female Academy; & when St. univ.

was projected, Columbia & Boone Cty. citizens began vigorous & successful campaign to have it located here. This, 1st St. univ. est. W. of Miss. R., was opened in 1841 in Columbia College (chartered 1835) bldg. Christian College & Stephens College, both girls' schools, were chartered later. PTS. OF INT.: At opp. ends of 8th St. stand (1) on N., Columns of Old Cth. (1848), left when bldg. which replaced 1st cth. (1824) was razed in 1908, & (2) on S., The Columns, in center of Francis Quadrangle of Univ. of Mo., 6 ivy-covered Ionic pillars which are all that remains of 1st univ. bldg. (1840, burned 1892). Main entrance to campus is through gray-stone-pillared Mem. Gateway, Elm St. at 8th St. Jesse Hall contains, on 1st fl., orig. tombstone from Thos. Jefferson's grave at Monticello & on 3rd & 4th fls., art exhibits. Jay H. Neff & Walter Williams Halls house Sch. of Journalism, 1st in world to grant degree in journalism; former contains exhibit of objects dealing with history of printing. SE. of Francis Quadrangle is Gen. Lib., Eng. Ren. style, which houses St. Hist. Soc. of Mo. coll. of more than 200,000 volumes & pamphlets; latter's 1st fl. reading room contains paintings by Geo. Caleb Bingham. Goth.-style 140' Mem. Tower, NE. of Gen. Lib., stands at entrance to E., or White, Campus, whose white-limestone structures are more recent than red-brick ones of Main, or Red, Campus centering around Francis Quadrangle. Near-by coal mining area employs one of world's biggest strip mining machines. 94.5m Kirkville, center of grain & livestock raising area, with factories & wholesale houses, was founded in 1841. Here on Aug. 6, 1862, Feds. defeated Confeds. in Battle of Kirkville, whose site is incorporated in Mem. Pk., Hickory St. bet. Mulaniz St. & Florence Ave. Pk. was also site of 1st normal school W. of Miss. R., opened in 1867; this institution, now Mo. St. Teachers College, occupies 20-a. campus on E. Normal Ave. bet. Marion & Mulaniz Sts. Kirkville College of Osteopathy & Surgery, W. Jefferson St. bet. 5th St. & Osteopathy Ave., country's 1st & largest of its kind, was founded in 1892 by Dr. Andrew Taylor Still, pioneer osteopath. 148. J. with St.5.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to New Franklin, 1.5m, laid out in 1828 along bluffs overlooking Mo. R. Scott-Kingsbury H. (1835), 3m, is surrounded by apple orchards. Lilac Hill (c.1832), 11.5m, is one of Mo.'s best examples of Fed. style. Fayette, 12.5m, was socially & politically important from time it became, in 1823, seat of Howard Cty., known as "Mother of Counties" since it included number of Mo. & Iowa counties later formed from it. N. end of Main St., Central College, 4-yr. coed. institution which began in 1844 as Howard High School. Judge Abiel Leonard H. (c.1835) was home of noted early politician. Morrison Observ., Fayette City Pk., was largest observatory W. of Miss. R., when est. in 1874 in near-by Glasgow; it was moved here in 1935. Claiborne Fox Jackson H. (c.1847), 14m, was residence of Mo.'s governor at beginning of Civil War. Glasgow, 25.5m, spilling over steep Mo. R. bluffs, laid out in 1836, prospered until R. traffic declined. Long Chicago & Alton RR. Bridge built across R. here in 1878-79 was alleged 1st all-steel Ry. bridge; it served until 1922, when new one was erected. Lewis Lib. Bldg. (1866), built by Col. Benj. W. Lewis, Sr., is supposed to be Mo.'s oldest library bldg. Former Lewis College Bldgs. (1849-50 & 1852) have Gr. Rev. facades.

At 149. are Js. with St.87 & unimproved dirt Rd.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take latter (L) short distance to Rivercene (1869), once home of steamboat owner Capt. Jos. Kinney, now mus. of early furnishings & paintings, incl. portraits by Geo. Caleb Bingham.

(B) Take St.87 (R) to Site of Old Franklin, 0.5m, designated by mon. erected by Mo. Press Assoc., comm. "Missouri Intelligencer & Boon's Lick Advertiser" (1819), 1st newspaper begun W. of Miss. R. Franklin became in 1821, 5yrs. after it had been laid out, head of Santa Fe Trl. Here Geo. Caleb Bingham, painter, & Kit Carson, trapper & trader, spent their early days. Its prosperity was short-lived, however; by mid-century, it had almost disappeared. At 2m is J. with an unmarked local Rd.; route cont. straight ahead on latter to J. at 9m with another unmarked local Rd.

(L) on this is Site of Cooper's Ft., 1m, indicated by granite marker. Here, in biggest of fts built in Boon's Lick reg., pioneer settlers, led by Col. Benj. A. Cooper, defended themselves against Ind. attack during War of 1812.

Delaware, frame Vict. mansion built by Mrs. Truman's grandfather, Geo. Porterfield Gates.

256. KANSAS CITY

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Accomms.: Plentiful & varied. Info.: C. of C., Hotel Continental, 11th St. & Baltimore Ave. Mun. Auditorium; Music Hall & Little Theater for concerts & plays; Arena for boxing & wrestling. Swim. at mun. pools in pub. pks. Mun. golf courses & tennis courts in Swope Pk. & other pks.

Mo.'s 2nd largest city, Kansas City nicknames itself "The Heart of America." Near geographical center of country, it spreads (S) from Mo. R. at its confluence with Kansas R. Its location has made it hub of vast network of transcontinental RRs., airlines & hys. It is one of Nation's chief markets for cattle, horses & mules, grain, fruits & vegetables, butter, eggs & poultry. In addition to its food processing & handling industries, it has steel, oil, aviation, automobile assembling & garment mfg. plants; & it is important wholesale & retail trading & banking center. It has skyscraper-dominated business dist. & impressive pub. bldgs.; imposing network of handsome blvds., pks. & landscaped residential areas; & variety of cultural & educational facils. In 1939, Kansas City had a major scandal when its corrupt political machine was exposed & Boss T. J. Pendergast was sent to jail for income tax evasion. The "machine" has not been able to make a comeback since.

Downtown Kansas City, centering around inters. of Main & 12th Sts., comprising largest stores, theaters & office bldgs. & Civic Center, lies in NW. sec. To W., along Mo.-Kans. Line skirting Kansas R. bottoms, lie RRs., stockyards & plants of Central Industrial Dist.; & other industrial areas extend in great semicircle along banks of Mo. R. (N) & city's outskirts (NE & E). Bet. downtown sec. & east-side industrial dist., long swathe of middle-class streets runs (S) toward planned, well-landscaped Country Club dist. in SE. Other handsome residential areas, crossed by broad blvds. & dotted with pks., lie on S. side. 1st settlement on site was est. in 1821 when Amer. Fur Co. agent, Francois Chouteau, opened trading post in Kansas R. bottoms, removed in 1830 to foot of what is now Grand Ave. Here supplies were unloaded from steamboats for hauling to town of Westport laid out in 1833 by storekeeper John Alvin McCoy at ford across Big Blue R. 4^m SE.; Westport soon thrived as outfitting pt. for overland travelers until cholera epidemic in 1849 ended its prosperity. Westport Landing, as settlement around Chouteau's trading post had 1st been known, was by this time prospering, town site having been platted by Kansas Town Co., which renamed place Kansas; here products brought by steamboats & traders following Santa Fe Trl. were exchanged. Kansas too was hit by cholera epidemic, but recovered. Town site was graded & filled & streets laid out. Kansas City "Enterprise" was founded in 1854.

By middle 1850's Kansas City was already embroiled, however, in conflict bet. pro & antislavery forces over settlement of Kans. & Neb. territories. It increasingly became base for armed bands of Southerners who launched forays into Kans. to stuff ballot boxes & terrorize Free-State settlers. When conflict culminated in Civil War, town suffered abrupt business decline. Here in 1863 after Confed. guerrilla leader Quantrill's band had sacked Lawrence, Union Gen. Thos. Ewing, Jr., published famous Order No. 11, requiring all residents of Jackson, Bates & Cass Counties & part of Vernon Cty. who could not prove Union sympathies & did not live within mile of certain towns to vacate their lands. Following yr. Gen. Sterling Price's Confed. forces were defeated in 3-day Battle of Westport, which virtually ended rebellion in Mo. Only with end of war did Kansas City resume growth. Completion of 1st RR. from St. Louis, Mo. Pacific, in 1866 opened new era. RRs. soon were bringing grain & cattle to market. In 1870 Kansas City acquired its 1st stockyards & soon afterward, its 1st packing houses. It began doing thriving business milling flour, killing hogs & distributing agric. implements. In 1877, exchange bldg. for grain trade was erected. By this time, both Kans. & Mo. RRs. had been bridged. In 1878, Kansas City acquired a great new union RR. depot. In 1900, William Jennings Bryan was nominated by the Democrats in Kansas City.

It was in 1880 that city's greatest benefactor took over the local newspaper, the "Kansas City Star": he was Wm. Rockhill Nelson. "Star" quickly became powerful journal, & it campaigned continuously for civic improvements. Kansas City began to lay out broad, tree-lined blvds. & handsome, landscaped residential areas. It finally acquired philharmonic orchestra, university of its own, & one of country's foremost art galleries. Since 1928, when new water supply system, one of country's most modern, was completed, it has launched vast program of improvements in its public bldgs., its Mun. Airport, its streets & hys. & pks.

Its 1st residents, sent out by German Settlement Soc. of Philadelphia, came here 1837. They planted vineyards, undertook wine-making & developed R. commerce, organized dramatic, choral & athletic societies & band. Among Hermann's chief landmarks are Eagle Hall (c.1852), E. 2nd St. near Market St.; Concert Hall (1878), Front St. near Schiller St.; Streibly H. (older part c.1845, addition came several years later), West 2nd St.; Gentner H. (c.1850), Market St. near Front St. W. edge of town, Stone Hill Farms, turreted, thick-walled former winery, is now devoted to growing mushrooms.

118.5. US50 bridges OSAGE R. 130. JEFFERSON CITY, capital of Mo., borders Mo. R., spreading over steep bluffs. Although St. gov. is its chief concern, it is also central Mo.'s largest city, with bustling bus. dist. & riverside fringe of factories & RR. shops. When site was chosen for St. capital in 1821, it was little more than R. landing, which its handful of settlers had named for Thos. Jefferson. 2-story brick Stateh. was completed in 1826, by which time community had acquired gristmill, distillery, tanneries. St. penitentiary was completed in 1836 & new & more lavish St. Capitol in 1842, replacing 1st, destroyed by fire. During 1840's pop. was swelled by German immigrants. When pro-Secessionist Gov. Claiborne F. Jackson defied decision to remain in Union of St. convention called in 1861 & led the militia away to Boonville to join Confed. cause, capital was occupied by Fed. troops. Industrial progress was resumed in 1880's, when printing & shoe manufacture became important.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Rising from R. bluffs, N. High St. bet. Washington St. & Broadway, St. Capitol (1917) is Ital. Ren. marble structure some four stories high with retreating 5th story, adorned with Corinthian porticoes, from top of whose lantern-surmounted dome, 262' above ground, rises bronze statue of Ceres. Flanking approach to main entrance are 2 fountains by Rbt. I. Aiken, & within, at base of grand stairway, same sculptor's symbolic figures of Mo. & Miss. Rs. Jas. E. Frazer's bronze Thos. Jefferson dominates stairway. Marble-finished rotunda, 68' high, has murals at each floor. On main fl., at east end, is Soldiers' & Sailors' Mus., containing battle flags & Govs.' portraits, & at W. end, Mo. Resources Mus., containing Ind. relics & agric., commercial & mineral exhibits. On 3rd fl., which has James E. Frazer's bronze statues of Meriwether Lewis & Wm. Clark, are chambers & lounges of Senate (R) & House of Representatives (L); lounge of latter contains murals by Thos. Hart Benton which provoked sharp controversy during mid-1930's. 5th fl. affords exit to gallery & dome. (2) Capitol & Madison Sts., Executive Mansion (1871.Fr.Ital.) is a handsome structure with portico & porte-cochère. Other official bldgs. incl. (3) Supreme Ct. US 60—MISSOURI

MO.-ILL. LINE (3.5m from Cairo, Ill.) (W) to MO.-OKLA. LINE (41m from Vinita, Okla.). 367. US60

Via: Charleston, Sikeston, Poplar Bluff, Springfield & Neosho. RRs. parallel entire route. Accs.: Chiefly in larger towns, limited elsewhere.

US60 cuts across fertile Miss. R. alluvial plain, Mo.'s cotton belt, & then through forested, hilly Ozark country, thinly settled. In SW. sec. it traverses fruit-growing & dairying reg. around Springfield & Tri-State lead & zinc mining area.

Sec. 1: MO.-ILL. LINE to SPRINGFIELD. 277.

0. US60 crosses Miss. R., which is MO.-ILL. LINE, on $3,100,000 bridge (toll). Route follows (SW) top of levee bordering NEW MADRID FLOODWAY, an overflow basin. 6.5. WYATT. J. with Cty.E.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to J. with Cty.U, 11m, & turn (L) here to Belmont Battlefield, 17m, designated by mon. where on Nov. 6, 1861, 4,000 Feds. led by Gen. U. S. Grant, shipped downstream from Cairo, debarked to attack Confed. encampment.

12.5. CHARLESTON, laid out 1837, developed as trading & shipping pt. for cotton planters, which it remains, & more recently has become shoe mfg. center.

26.5. SIKESTON is prosperous cotton-reg. community, dating back to 1860, with cotton gins & compresses, RR. loading platforms & grain elevators, and ornate post-Civil War mansions of plantation owners. Sikeston is at J. with US61 (see). 50.5. DEXTER, platted in 1873 on summit of Crowley's Ridge, is at inters. of 2 RRs.; among its products are flour & cotton, poultry & shirts. 77.5. POPLAR BLUFF, so named for poplar-shaded height overlooking Black R., on which it was laid out in 1850, is RR. division point with timberwork plants, shoe factories, produce houses & other industrial establishments. It was important lumber center until reg.'s timber supply fell off; discovery of near-by clay deposits contributed to later growth. Today it is chief trading center for 20 cities in SE. Mo. & NE. Ark. Poplar Bluff is at J. with US67 (see), with which US60 unites for 0.5^m.

US60 now enters forested, rolling Ozarks, where in clearings appear rude cabins & frame Chs. of descendants of 1st settlers, mostly of Scotch-Irish extraction from Kentucky. 120.5. J. with St.21 (See US61). 128.5. VAN BUREN, seat since 1859 of Carter Cty., is recr. center on Current R., at J. with St.103 leading (L) 3.5^m to Big Spring St. Pk. (cabins.bathh.lodge.camp.pic.boat.riding), 4,582-a. forest tract surrounding what is said to be 1 of 2 largest springs in U.S. (more than 250,000,000 gallons daily). 149.5. WINONA, at J. with St.19 (see US66), BIRCH TREE, 158.5. & MOUNTAIN VIEW, 169.5., are mt. settlements, chiefly dependent on lumbering. 187.5. WILLOW SPRINGS has, in addition to sawmills, produce houses handling eggs, poultry & dairy products. 188. Hqs. for Rangers of MARK TWAIN NAT. FOR., 210.5. US60 now cuts through fruit orchards & pastures into one of most productive dairying regs. in U.S. It also grows more fruit, berries & tomatoes than any other part of Mo. 268. J. with US65 (see) with which US60 unites to Springfield. 270. SEQUIOTA FISH HATCHERY propagates bass & bluegill in its rearing ponds & spring-fed L., back of which is lighted cave through which boat trips may be made (sm.fee). 273. SPRINGFIELD NAT. CEMETERY (est.1869) holds graves of Civil War dead, both Fed. & Confed., buried in separate plots with conn. gateway; to open gateway, bill had to be introduced in Congress.

277. SPRINGFIELD

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., Walnut St. & Jefferson Ave. Swim. at Grant Beach, Fasnigh Pk., Silver Springs Pk., Doling L. Annual Rodeo, May; Ozark Empire Fair, Sept.

SW. Mo.'s chief city, one of state's largest, Springfield spreads over rolling plateau at N. gateway to Ozark Highlands. Its prosperity is based on its RR. shops, largest W. of Miss. R., & on industries processing dairy & poultry products, livestock & grain & lumber of vic.; it has U.S.' largest milk plant & plants mfg. harness, overalls, wagons & trlrs. It has mun. owned public utilities & nationally known public sch. system.

All but 1 of 1st permanent white settlers on site, who began arriving in 1821, abandoned area when Delaware & Kickapoo Inds. were moved by Fed. Gov. to SW. Mo.; & only when Inds. were moved on farther W. did more white settlers come. Around claim staked near spring by John Polk Campbell grew settlement; & in 1833, Campbell's log cabin became city seat. After 1850, when livestock raising in vic. began to develop, Springfield, because of location at crossing of chief Rds. through SW. Mo., rose to commercial dominance. It became focal pt. in Civil War; Confed. forces took & stayed until expelled in 1862 by Fed. troops. Advent of Atlantic & Pac. (now Frisco) RR. in 1870 led to est. by land speculators of rival community, N. Springfield; in 1881, however, another RR. was run through older community, & in 1887 two towns were consolidated into one.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) City's oldest bldg., John Polk Campbell H. (1851), 975 Mary Ave., was built by its founder. (2) E. Benton Ave. bet. Calhoun & Central Sts., Drury College (est.1873), is coed. institution named for early benefactor, Sam. Fletcher Drury. (3) National Ave. bet. Grand & Madison Sts., SW. Mo. St. Teachers' College (est.1905) is 4-year coed. institution. (4) Doling Pk. (boat.bath. playgrounds) contains 1,000'-long limestone cavern & spring-fed L. (5) N. Grant St. & Norton Rd., Central Bible Institute is training sch. maintained by Assemblies of God. (6) In City Hall, is Springfield Art Mus. (O); coll. painting, prints & hist. matter. Springfield is at J. with US66 (see).

2. U.S. DEPT. OF JUSTICE MEDICAL CENTER (1933), housed in U-shaped group of brick bldgs., is prison hospital for criminally insane. 13. REPUBLIC, fruit- & vegetable-shipping pt., is at J. with local Rd.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) 4^m J. with Rd.; (L) on this & (L) again at 4.5^m to dirt Rd. (private), 5^m, & (L) on this to Wilson's Creek Battlefield, 5.5^m, where on Aug. 10, 1861 was fought one of Mo.'s chief Civil War engagements, with nearly 2,500 casualties, after which Confeds. then took Springfield.

33. AURORA, laid out in 1872, experienced lead & zinc mining boom in 1880's & afterward turned to trade with farmers & sm. mfg. enterprises. 47.5. MONETT, dating from advent of RR. in 1881, is RR. division pt. & chief shipping center in widespread strawberry-growing, dairying & poultry-raising, & diversified farming reg.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.37 (L) from Monett to Cassville, 18.5m, fishermen's outfitting pt. & farmers' shipping center. Here on Nov. 7, 1861, fleeing pro-Confed. members of Mo.'s general assembly signed ordinances of secession from U.S. Cassville & Exeter RR., 4.8m long, is shortest broad-gauge line in country; it freights farm produce. Route turns (L) from Cassville on St.112 to Roaring R. St. Pk. (hotel.lodge.cabins.camp.bridle trls. swim.boat.f. pic.), 7m, wooded 2,946-a. area in mt.-rimmed valley, whose chief feature is spring-fed Roaring R. (good trout f.).

66. GRANBY, SW. Mo.'s 1st lead & zinc mining center, now depends chiefly on farm trade. 75. NEOSHO, christened with Osage Ind. name for clear water in reference to spring around which it grew, was laid out in 1839. It had become lead mining center by 1850. After Civil War, Neosho prospered as flour milling & dairy produce processing center. In vic., 2.5m away (L), is Camp Crowder, important U.S. Army training base during World War II. Neosho is at J. with US71 (see). 89.5. SENECA, laid out in 1868, is dominated by its Barnsdall Tripoli Grinding Mill Plant, which processes U.S.' only important tripoli deposits. Tripoli is used as filter stone for water system & also in rubber manufacture. 90. MO.-OKLA. LINE.

ST. LOUIS, MO. (SW) to MO.-KANS. LINE (1m from Galena, Kans.). 314. US66

Via: Rolla, Lebanon, Springfield, Carthage & Joplin. RR. parallels route throughout. Usual accoms.; hotels in larger towns.

US66, cutting diagonally across S. Mo., traverses rolling, mostly wooded Ozark hill country. In SW. sec. it crosses important lead & zinc mining area.

Sec. 1: ST. LOUIS to SPRINGFIELD. 233.

For pts. of int. & towns on or near US66 & J. with US50, at 38., see St. Louis Trip III. US66 unites with US50 for 6.5m & SW. of ST. CLAIR, 53., sett. in 1843, US66 heads into Ozark foothills. 64., STANTON. J. with local Rd., leading (L) 4m to Meramec Caverns (fee.guides) above Meramec R., 1st of whose chambers contains parking space for automobiles & dance fl. Among natural formations within are Natural Stage, Wine Table & Echo Room. 69.5. It has many springs & more than 20 large caves, nature mus. & St. nursery. 70. SULLIVAN, rural center & shoe mfg. town, dates from 1856. 81. J. with Cty.H.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) 2.5m to Cathedral Cave (fee.guides), containing interesting formations. At 7m are Mo. Caverns (fee.guides), winding 200' to the underground Lost R. whose rock formations are colored in variety of hues. Entrance to Onondaga Cave (fee.guides), 7.5m, is by boat along Lost R.

89. CUBA, farmers' shipping pt., is at J. with St.19.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) into rough, remote Ozark mt. area. Steelville, 9m, is trading center for farmers & outfitting pt. for fishermen, sett. 1833. Ind. Trl. St. Pk. (no accoms.), 31m, is game & for. preserve of more than 13,000 as. 44.5m Salem, est. in 1851, prospered following opening of iron deposits in vic. soon after Civil War. At 50m is J. with Cty.K. Turn (R) on this to J. with Cty.E, 5m, & (R) on this to J. with St.119, 11m; (L) on St.119 to 758-a. wooded, mountainous Montauk St. Pk. (hotel.cottages.camp.pic.), 16m, surrounding spring with 40,000,000-gallon daily capacity.

St.19 bridges at 75.5m Current R., fast-running stream (good f.). Short distance beyond is Round Spring St. Pk. (camp.pic.f.), 75-a. tract surrounding spring with tremendous daily flow. The spring rises in natural rock bowl & overflows beneath natural rock bridge. 88.5m Eminence is starting place for fishermen's expeditions down Current R., at J. with St.106.

Take latter (R) to 407-a. Alley Spring St. Pk. (cabins. camp.pic.f.swim.), St.19 cont. to J. with US60 (see) at 99.5m.

102. ST. JAMES, founded in 1859, ships farm products & lumber.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.68 (L) at this point to J. with St.8, 4.5m & turn (L) on this to Meramec Springs, 7.5m, with av. daily flow of more than 96,000,000 gallons. Near-by is Site of Meramec Iron Works, marked by one of orig. open-hearth furnaces. This, Mo.'s 1st iron furnace, was est. in 1826, utilizing ore mined near-by.

112. ROLLA, founded in 1855 by St. Louis-S.F. RR. construction men, was named for home town of one of them, Raleigh, N.C., using his phonetic spelling. It became important outfitting pt. for settlers in Ozarks & fortified stronghold of Union Army during Civil War. Housed in doz. brick & stone bldgs. on 30-a. tree-shaded campus, Univ. of Mo. Sch. of Mines & Metallurgy, 12th & Pine Sts., is nationally outstanding. Mineral Mus., Norwood Hall, has best mineral coll. in Mo. US66 now climbs into wooded, rugged Ozark highlands. 140. J. with St.17, leading (L) 10m to Ft. Leonard Wood, U.S. Army training area during World War II. 143. WAYNESVILLE is trading center for hill country folk. 176. LEBANON dates from 1849. 206. MARSHFIELD, 1st sett. in 1830's, ships farm products. 233. SPRINGFIELD (see US60) is at J. with US60 (see) & US65 (see).

Sec. 2: SPRINGFIELD to MO.-KANS. LINE. 81.

15.5. J. with Cty.F.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to rural trading center of Ash Grove, 9m, sett. by Dan. Boone's youngest son. (R) from Ash Grove on Cty.V 2m is log, clap-boarded Nathan Boone H. (1837).

58. CARTHAGE, founded in 1842, is trading & mfg. center. Carthage marble is one of its best-known products; others are automobile parts & springs, clothing, flour & dairy products. During Civil War, when it was center of border warfare, 13 engagements took place here, & town was completely destroyed in 1864. Famous woman outlaw Belle Starr, who joined Confed. guerrilla leader Quantrill's bushwhackers, was one of its more colorful residents. US66 at 7th St., Mun. Pk. (160 as. swim.golf.athletic fields.pic.), is city's largest. E. Chestnut & River Sts., Tourist Pk. covers part of Site of Battle of Carthage, fought July 5, 1861. Carthage is at J. with US71 (see), which unites with US66 to Joplin. US66 is bordered with empty mine workings from CARTERVILLE, 67., to WEBB CITY, 68., est. in 1875 when Mo.'s biggest mining boom began, 2 yrs. after farmer John C. Webb's discovery of lead while plowing. Boom was spurred on by subsequent discovery of zinc. Although decline of mining later turned neighboring settlements into ghost towns, Webb City has built up trade with farmers & acquired garment factories & other industrial plants.

75. JOPLIN, chief center of Tri-State lead & zinc mining area, stands above abandoned shafts & is surrounded by mines, ore piles & processing plants. It has balanced its economy with farm trade & variety of industries. First settlers, John C. Cox & Rev. Harris G. Joplin, arrived before 1840; & soon other pioneers arrived and for them Joplin began to conduct his ch. services. By 1850, 1st lead diggings had been opened near-by by David Campbell & Wm. Tingle. When rich strikes were made along Joplin Cr., townsites were laid out on each bank—on W., Murphysburg; on E., Joplin City, whose founder was pioneer settler John Cox; rivalry bet. 2 communities ended only when they were united as 1 town by legislative act in 1873. By 1890 Joplin was roaring, overgrown town with wildly inflated economy, in which lead & zinc served instead of money for currency. By 1900, however, it was quieting down.

PTS. OF INT.: Perkins St. at Maiden Lane, Eagle-Picher Lead Co. Plant, on "Smelter Hill," owned by dominating corporate enterprise in Tri-State area, began with est. in 1874 by O. H. & W. H. Picher of lead furnaces; Joplin plant produces lead oxide, rock wool & miscellaneous metal goods & alloys. Range Line Rd. to Florida Ave., Joplin Stockyards handle livestock from Ark., Kans. & Okla., as well as from Mo.: Main, Virginia, 12th & 13th Sts., Mun. Market handles fruits & vegetables from same area. 7th St. & Schifferdecker Ave., wooded Schifferdecker Pk. (160 as.zoo.golf.clubh.) contains Mineral Mus. with exhibits from Tri-State area.

S. of town, Shoal Cr. Pkwy. (pic.swim.) is 220-a. landscaped area along scenic, winding creek bottom. Joplin is at southern J. with US71 (see). 81. MO.-KANS. LINE.

Episc. Ch. in Civil War's wrecked area. 55. J. with US24.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to Monroe City, 17.5^m, agricultural center, laid out in 1857. At 27^m is J. with St.107.

Turn (L) on this to Florida, 6.5^m, birthpl. in 1835 & for his 1st 4 yrs. home of Sam. Langhorne Clemens, who is comm. by Mark Twain Mon., center of town. At 7^m is Mark Twain St. Pk. (camp.pic.bath.f.riding), 1,185-a. rough-&-tumble tract along S. fork of Salt R. Here is Mark Twain's Birthpl., 2-room frame house moved here from orig. site in Florida, now maintained as mus., with bed in which Twain was born, his carriage & other early furnishings.

US24 cont. (W) to Paris, 39^m, laid out in 1831. Paris Mercury Bldg., Caldwell St. W. of Main St., is home of newspaper published since 1837, one of first in the state. Covered Bridge (1857), not far from the Cth., is one of 3 in vic.

At 63. is J. with US36, leading (L) 1.5^m to Hannibal, boyhood home of Mark Twain, who described it as a sleepy little Mississippi River town, now a bustling industrial city of RR. shops & factories. Hannibal, platted in 1812, acquired lumber & grist mills, tobacco factories & pork-packing plant, & grew into recognized R. port. During 1850's it became terminus of Hannibal & St. Joseph RR., whose shops were built here. Mo.'s 2nd bridge across Miss. R. was constructed here in 1871; its 1st mun. owned light & power plant, in 1886.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) 206-208 Hill St., Mark Twain Mus. & H., 2-story adj. bldgs., contain Twain relics & early furnishings; house was built by author's father, John Marshall Clemens. (2) 211 Hill St., "Becky Thatcher" H., was for time home of Twain's boyhood sweetheart, Laura Hawkins, prototype of his character, Becky Thatcher. (3) 315 N. Main St., Joseph P. Arment Printing Office. On 2nd fl. young Sam Clemens began, in 1848, 2-yr. apprenticeship as printer's devil. (4) At base of "Cardiff" Hill where prototypes of Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn & their friends played is bronze Tom Sawyer & Huck Finn Statue (1926 by Fred. S. Hibbard). (5) N. end of Main St. rises 54' Mark Twain Mem. Lighth., dedicated in 1935 on centennial of Twain's birth. (6) At opp. end of Main St. rises 230' Lovers' Leap, where in 1844 white-gowned Millerites, disciples of Wm. Miller, assembled to ascend to Heaven in expectation of end of world. (7) Mark Twain Ave., Riverview Pk., tract of more than 200 as. with winding drives through wooded dells & along picturesque crests, contains Mark Twain Statue, rising from Inspiration Pt. 300' above Miss. S. Main St. leads (R) from Hannibal 2^m to Mark Twain Cave (guides), labyrinthine limestone cavern described in "Adventures of Tom Sawyer," in which Tom & Becky Thatcher were lost.

72.5. NEW LONDON, founded in 1819, is Ralls County Cth. (1858.Gr.Rev.), one of Mo.'s handsomest old buildings. 92.5. J. with US54.

Although it still calls itself "Home of the Pony Express," St. Joseph is Mo.'s 3rd largest city, an important grain & livestock center with stockyards, packing plants, horse & mule markets, & flour mills, mfg. center with many industrial plants, & wholesale distributing center. It is brisk, modern town with a number of imposing public bldgs. Here on E. bank of Mo. R., Jos. Robidoux est. in 1826 fur trading post in what was then Ind. country. After Platte Purchase in 1836 opened surrounding area to settlement, many Southerners owning slaves took up land & began raising hog & cattle & hemp. Robidoux had town laid out, 1843. Steamboats freighted cargoes of staples upstream to be exchanged here for furs & buffalo hides. When Gold Rush to Cal. began, St. Joseph boomed as chief supply depot for wagon trains following N. route. Stockyards & slaughtering houses were est. On Feb. 14, 1859 1st passenger train arrived over Hannibal & St. Joseph Ry.; & on Ap. 3, 1860 1st rider on Pony Express left on mail run to Sacramento, Cal. During Civil War, St. Joseph became pt. for Confed. guerrilla operations until it was occupied by Union forces. Afterward it quickly recovered its prosperity, becoming important livestock center. Mo. R. was bridged in 1873 & by 1890 more RRs. had arrived. St. Joseph boasted more wealth per capita than any other city in country in latter year. It has grown steadily since.

St. Louis, country's 8th biggest city & biggest bet. Chicago & Pac. Coast, spreads (W) from great bend in Miss.; but its riverside location is no longer primary basis of prosperity, as in pioneer days; today RRs., rather than river craft, make it nation's 2nd most important transportation center. Furs were first articles of commerce and are important today; St. Louis is world's 2nd largest fur distributing & processing center. But it has evolved remarkable diversity of other industries, no one of which employs as much as 10th of its labor supply; it produces beer, shoes, boxes, wearing apparel, drugs & chemicals, stoves & ranges, & meat products, & nearly 3,300 other products. It is besides one of country's leading grain & livestock markets & one of its leading wholesale & retail distributing centers. St. Louis' 19^m frontage on Miss. is linked by 5 bridges with Ill. shore. Business center now lies mile or more (W) from R. in area bounded by Broadway on E. & Grand Blvd. on W., Delmar Blvd. on N., & Market St. on S., through center of which runs "Olive Street Canyon"; here are office bldgs., dept. stores, theatres & hotels. Downtown bus. dist. is bordered N., W. & S. by aging, mostly late-Vict. tenements & bus. bldgs. Westward, near Kingshighway, is fashionable dist. of hotels, apartment houses, & exclusive shops, & W. of this is huge Forest Pk., stretching to city limits, bordered by well-to-do residential neighborhoods & by univ. campuses. North Side & South Side are working-class & lower-middle-class residential sec's.; South Side is notable for its German community & its adj. Bohemian, Czech & Ital. communities.

First settlement on site—and probably 1st in Mo.—was est. in 1700 by Jesuit missionaries, who gathered Inds. from other side of Miss. around them, but was abandoned within 5 yrs. First permanent settlers were small party in employ of Maxent, Laclede & Co. of New Orleans, which had acquired monopoly on trade with Inds., led by 13-yr. old Auguste Chouteau; they landed Feb. 14, 1764, having poled their craft 60^m upstream from Ft. Chartres on E. bank, & set to work clearing site selected earlier by firm's jr. partner, Pierre Laclede Liguist. Settlement was named for sainted Louis IX of France. Within 3 yrs. colonists had monopolies on fur trade with 28 principal Ind. nations. Town soon became important outfitting pt. for expeditions into W. Its pop. was further swelled by Fr. settlers from E. of Miss. who wanted to escape Brit. rule, among them garrison of Ft. Chartres & its commandant, Capt. St. Ange de Bellerive, who served as 1st commandant of St. Louis until arrival of Sp. officials in 1770.

During Amer. Rev., Brit. attempt to capture outposts of colonists & their allies, France & Spain, in W. led to an attack in May 1780 by Gen. Haldimand's force of Inds. & Canadians which St. Louisans were able to fight off. St. Louis soon grew into upper Miss. Valley's most prosperous & fashionable center. But after La. Purchase, 1804, city became gateway to W.: brawling, rowdy settlement, notorious for cock-fights & gambling houses, duels & street brawls. Overland expeditions set off from St. Louis: in 1802 Jas. Purseley & his party to Santa Fe, & in 1804, Meriwether Lewis & Wm. Clark to Pacific Coast. Fur trade was consolidated with org. in 1809 of Mo. Fur Co., whose annual trade amounted to $300,000. In 1808, St. Louis acquired 1st newspaper in the st., "Missouri Gazette," & one of 1st schools. It prospered, trading with covered wagon trains of westbound settlers & shipping flat-boats loaded with farm produce downstream. In Aug. 1817 arrived 1st steamboat, "Zebulon M. Pike." St. Louis' pop., only 1,400 in 1808, had grown by 1837 to 20,000. Tanneries, tobacco factories, paint mfg. plants & other enterprises were begun.

By 1850, when pop. numbered 75,000, St. Louis was bustling commercial & industrial center—leading city of W. Along its levee hundreds of steamboats tied up. Flour mills, iron foundries, lead fabricating plants, textile factories, distilleries turned out vast quantity of goods. Heavy influx of German immigrants—30,000 before 1850—had swelled city's labor supply. Rapidly growing prosperity had brought civic improvements & cultural & religious facils.: orchestra, theaters, pub. lib., schools. Jefferson Barracks had been made U.S. Army's chief base in W. Disastrous waterfront fire & cholera epidemic—both in 1849—had led to rebuilding & street-widening program & increased attention to water supply, sewage disposal & hospital facils. During 1850's St. Louis grew rich from R. traffic & richer still as outfitting pt. for endless wagon trains to W. & as E. terminus of all but 1 of new RRs. laid through Mo. during this decade. By 1860 its pop. had grown to 160,000. At outbreak of Civil War, Gen. Nath. Lyon & Francis P. Blair marshalled Union force of 10,000 & took Camp Jackson. St. Louis became chief supply base for Fed. operations in W. War orders boomed industry; within decade value of St. Louis manufactures increased almost 300%. Civil War brought decline of steamboat commerce; but St. Louis became converging pt. for network of RR. lines. In 1874 it was linked with E. bank of Miss. by Eads Bridge & in same yr. acquired its 1st Union Sta. Later decades of 19th cent. brought expansion of recr. & cultural facils. Jos. Pulitzer merged 2 older papers to found in 1878 St. Louis "Post Dispatch," one of nation's outstanding newspapers. In 1873, Susan Eliz. Blow est. country's 1st pub. kindergarten; in 1880 Calvin Milton Woodward opened world's 1st manual training school. City became intellectual center of importance with publication of "Journal of Speculative Philosophy," founded in 1867, by one of leaders of "St. Louis movement" in philosophy, Wm. Torrey Harris, & later of "Reedy's Mirror," intellectual weekly edited by Wm. Marion Reedy, which after 1896 encouraged many younger writers. Under leadership of Halsey Cooley Ives, St. Louis Sch. & Mus. of Fine Arts was incorporated in 1879 as dept. of Washington Univ. St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, 2nd oldest in country, came into being in 1880's. Annual Veiled Prophet of Khorassan celebration with its street parade & formal ball was inaugurated in 1878. At beginning of 20th cent., St. Louis, now city of more than 575,000 people, celebrated century's growth with highly successful La. Purchase Exposition of 1904, which left city with improved water system & art mus. & presented all of America with that great innovation, ice cream cones. During 20th cent., St. Louis played notable part in development of aviation. Aero Club, formed in 1907 by Maj. Albert Bond Lambert, sponsored in same yr. 1st internat. balloon races. In 1908, 1st dirigible meet was held; in 1910, country's 1st internat. air meet, in which Wright Bros. entered planes. First air mail ever carried was flown from Kinlock Pk., N. of city, to Fairgrounds Pk. in 1911. Five yrs. later, U.S. Army's 1st aeronautic corps was organized when 5 St. Louis pilots volunteered. Chas. A. Lindbergh persuaded group of St. Louis businessmen to back his transatlantic flight in "Spirit of St. Louis" in 1927. During period bet. 2 World Wars, both of which accelerated city's industrial expansion, St. Louis began to take on its present-day appearance with civic improvement program financed by bond issues in 1923, 1934 & 1935 which gave it new broad blvds. & sewers, pks. & playgrounds, hospitals & pub. bldgs. Outstanding was its smoke abatement program begun in 1940. Another bond issue for improvements was voted in 1944. Following World War II, city went ahead with new projects.

Smelter was country's largest when it was built in 1890's. 40. CRYSTAL CITY, built near world's largest known deposit of pure glass sand (discovered 1843), which has been supplying raw material for plate glass production since 1872, is dominated by huge modern brick & steel structures of highly mechanized Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. Plant. Crystal City is planned industrial town.

US 18—IOWA

MARQUETTE, IOWA (3^m from Prairie du Chien, Wis.) (W) to IOWA-S. DAK. LINE (4^m from Canton, S. Dak.). 317, US18

Via: West Union, Charles City, Mason City, Algona & Spencer. RR. & bus lines parallel parts of route. Accoms.: Chiefly in cities.

US18 traverses scenic reg. of N. Iowa, dotted by Ls. & cut by Rs., with many St. pks. & recr. areas. W. of Mason City for 100^m it crosses prairie.

Sec. 1: MARQUETTE to MASON CITY. 127.

US18 crosses Miss. R., which is Iowa-Wis. Line, 0., on Marquette Toll Bridge. MARQUETTE, 1., named for Père Marquette, who with Louis Joliet first saw Iowa territory in 1673, is Milwaukee RR. division pt. US18 follows R. bluffs to McGREGOR, 3., in ravine edged by high cliffs, which in 1836 became terminus of ferry line from Prairie du Chien est. by Alex. McGregor. On McGregor Heights, Amer. School of Wild Life Protection, whose faculty includes naturalists & scientists from all over country, holds annual sessions in Aug. Within radius of 15^m are hundreds of Ind. village sites, cave shelters & effigy mounds, fortifications & earthworks. POSTVILLE, 29., named for Joel Post, who built house here in 1841, is cheese-producing center. At 30. is J. with US52.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to Calmar, 17^m, Czech settlement & farm shipping pt. at J. with St.24.

(1) Take St.24 (L) to Ft. Atkinson, 5^m, whose residents also are chiefly of Czech descent, at ft. of bluff on which is 5-a. Ft. Atkinson St. Pk., containing part of 2-story barracks, officers' quarters, blockh. & magazine from Old Ft. Atkinson, built in 1840 to protect Winnebago from Sac & Fox & Sioux, along with 2nd blockh. restored to orig. appearance after demolition.

(2) Take St.150 (L) from Calmar to J. with improved Rd., 5^m, & turn (R) on this 2.5^m to St. Anthony's Chapel (1885), 12' x 16', with 4 pews seating 2 each, built by John Gartner & Frank Huber. St.150 cont. to W. Union (see below), 17^m, at J. with US18. From Calmar, US52 cont. (N) to J. with St.325, 19^m.

Turn (L) on this to Spillville, 5^m, containing 2-story brick & stone Dvorak H., where Bohemian composer Antonin Dvorak lived with his family in 1893 & worked on his "String Quartette in F Major, Opus 96" & last movement of his "New World Symphony," & handsome St. Wenceslaus Ch., reprod. of cathedral at Kuttenberg, where Dvorak played organ.

US52 cont. (N) to Decorah, 28^m, on Upper Iowa R., named for Chief Waucon Decorah, who aided whites during Black Hawk War. Decorah was sett. largely by Norwegians, who made it their chief center W. of Miss. R.; here is published most widely circulated Norweg.

language newspaper in country. Luther College (opened 1861), coed. Evangelical Luth. Ch. of America institution, occupies 40-a. natural pk., whose landmarks incl. Pioneer Mem., built of honeycombed limestone, & Koren Lib., rich in Norweg.-Amer. materials. Maintained by college, Norweg.-Amer. Hist. Mus. is repository of articles illustrative of Norweg. settlement in America, housed in 3-story bldg. & group of pioneer log structures with early furnishings; among exhibits are household articles, tools & costumes from Norway, fish. boats & 4-rm. Norweg. house & such pioneer relics as ox yokes & grain cradles. Picturesquely scenic reg. around Decorah is known as "Little Switzerland" of Iowa.

US18 cont. (SW) to W. UNION, 45., seat of Fayette Cty., at J. with St.150.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take St.150 (L) from W. Union to Fayette, 9m, seat of nonsectarian Christian Upper Iowa Univ. (org.1857), which has mus. containing zoological, geological, ethnological, & hist. exhibits. Here also is Goth. cruciform Meth. Ch. (1876), beneath which, excavated from rock, are series of rooms, reproducing Franciscan cell under Cathedral at Assisi in Italy, cell in which Wm. Tyndale was imprisoned for translating Bible & Wittenberg room in which Martin Luther made his translation. At 14m is J. with St.154.

Take latter (L) 9m to 217-a. Brush Cr. Canyon St. Pk. (shelter.pic.trls.).

Oelwein, 26m, celebrated its diamond jubilee in 1948. Named for German who gave part of his property for RR. sta. & right-of-way, Oelwein is C.G.W. RR.'s central Midwest division pt., with roundhouse & shops & converging pt. for 6 RRs. Highly unionized industrial town, it has concrete, chemical & packing plants. At 27.5m is L. Oelwein (boats.swim.f. cottages). Independence, 42m (see US20 Tour) is at J. with US20 (see).

(B) Take St.56 (L) from W. Union to J. with dirt Rd., 1m; turn (L) on this to 101-a. Echo Valley St. Pk. (shelter.pic.boat.f.), 2m, so named because sounds echo & re-echo 3 times bet. its honeysuckle-covered cliffs, which overlook cedar-fringed L.

78. NEW HAMPTON, seat of Chickasaw Cty., dates back to 1850's. 96. CHARLES CITY was 1st sett. in 1850 by Joseph Kelly, in honor of whose son Charles it was named. When Chas. W. Hart & his college classmate, Chas. H. Parr, began building stationary gasoline engines here in 1896, they also started series of experiments with machines to be used in farming; because they built traction motors, their advertising manager, W. H. Williams, coined new name "tractor." Today Hart-Parr Works ships tractors throughout country & all over world. Charles City is at J. with US218 (see).

127. MASON CITY is trading center for wide area, focal pt. for large system of bus & truck trans., & RR. & mfg. town with smokestacks pouring black smoke over corn & oat fields. Its pioneer settlers were mostly Masons, whose first name for place was Shibboleth. John B. Long & John L. McMillan staked 1st claims in 1853. Ind. uprising next yr. stampeded most of settlers into flight, but gradually they returned. 1st mill & lime kiln were erected in 1855 by Elisha Randall, who patented in 1872 what was known as Randall's Perpetual Lime Kiln, adopted in many parts of country. Development of clay tile industry began in 1880's when much of N. Iowa had to be drained. Until about 1934, Iowa used more drain tile than any other area of equal size in world & Mason City is said to have produced enough yearly to reach half-way around world. Manufacture of brick, tile & Portland cement is still leading industry. Other industrial giants are beet-sugar refinery, beef & pork packing plant, sand & gravel plant & creamery; smaller enterprises produce variety of articles. City's prosperity has brought many civic improvements, incl. modern airport & fine pks.; Iowa's 1st jr. college & many handsome schools; & other recr. & cultural facils.

PTS. OF INT.: Architecturally outstanding is Mason City's new $300,000 Pub. Lib., on 7-a. wooded tract in heart of city. Severely modern in design is Wagner-Mozart Music Hall, one of few public school bldgs. in U.S. devoted exclusively to music. 15 W. State St., Park Inn, low bldg. with horizontal lines, is work of distinguished modern architect Frank Lloyd Wright, whose "prairie style" was radical innovation. E. State St. W. of Willow Cr. Bridge, Rock Glen is group of gray stone residences fitting naturally into limestone-bluff & creekbed environment, designed by Wright's disciple, Walter Burleigh Griffith. Mason City is at J. with US65 (see).

Sec. 2: MASON CITY to IOWA-S. DAK. LINE. 190.

CLEAR L., 10., named for 6m-long, 3,643-a. L. on whose shore it stands, is popular Iowa summer resort. St.106 follows shore (L) to 70-a. Clear L. St. L. Preserve (lodge. camp.pic.boat.f.bath.), 3m. 14.5. McINTOSH WOODS ST. L. PRESERVE (f.boat. pic.), wooded 60-a. tract on N. shore of Clear L. 23. GARNER is seat of Hancock Cty. At 24.5. is J. with US69.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to Forest City, 11.5m, seat of Winnebago Cty., platted in 1856. Turn (R) from Forest City 4m to St.332 & (R) 2m on this to 369-a. Pilot Knob St. Pk.

(camp.pic.), named for glacial formation rising to one of highest elevations (300') in Iowa, on which is 40' stone lookout. Around Dead Man's L. are rugged slopes heavily wooded.

30. J. with gravel Rd. leading (R) 2^m to 27-a. Eagle L. St. Pk. (boat.f.pic.). 57. ALGONA, on E. Fork of Des Moines R., was sett. in 1854 by Asa C. & Ambrose A. Call; former's wife suggested name, derived from word Algonquin. One of 5 bldgs. designed in Iowa bet. 1911 & 1914 by pioneer modern architect Louis Sullivan is Druggist Mutual Insurance Co. Office Bldg., of which Sullivan's biographer, Hugh Morrison, said: "Few buildings of that period . . . match it in quality."

SIDE TRIP: Turn (L) from Algona on gravel Rd. intersecting Main St. 1.5^m to 130-a. Ambrose A. Call St. Scenic Preserve (lodge.camp.pic.), with rolling slopes shaded by magnificent trees.

67. J. with St.44.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to W. BEND, 9^m, site of Grotto of the Redemption, religious structure whose construction was begun by Fr. Paul M. Dobberstein in 1928. Incorporated in it are rocks from every St. in Union; shells & coral from waters bordering America; & thousands of precious & semi-precious stones, ores, fossils, & bits of petrified wood. Near-by St. Peter & St. Paul Ch. contains Christmas Chapel with huge amethyst adorning its creche & Stations of Cross in mosaic.

81. EMMETSBURG, in valley of Des Moines R., was founded by Irish colony in 1856. Cty. Rd. leads (R) 2^m to 945-a. Kearny St. Pk. (pic.golf.boat.f.) near 5^m-long Five I. L., containing 5 wooded ls. 93. RUTHVEN. J. with gravel Rd. leading (R) 3^m to 32-a. Lost I. St. Pk. (camp.pic.boat.f.), adj. 1,200-a. L. 106. J. with US71 (see) with which US18 unites for 3^m. 107. SPENCER was founded in 1859 & named for U.S. Sen. Geo. E. Spencer. Its modern appearance is due to rebuilding after fire which razed most of business sec. in 1931. HARTLEY, 127., SANBORN, 135., & SHELDON, 146., are all small trading centers named for RR. officials. 161. HULL, org. in 1882, was sett. largely by Dutch immigrants. 163. J. with US75 (see). 170. ROCK VALLEY has pop. predominantly of Dutch descent. US18 crosses Big Sioux R., which is Iowa-S. Dak. Line, 190., on free bridge.

DUBUQUE, IOWA (63^m from Freeport, Ill.) (W) to SIOUX CITY, IOWA. 323. US20

Via: Manchester, Independence, Waterloo, Iowa Falls, & Ft. Dodge. RRs. parallel most of route, bus lines follow it. Accomms.: Chiefly in cities.

US20 skirts S. edge of rough, rocky reg., cut by gorges & patched by fors., to Iowa Falls, then traverses flat prairie checkered with grainfields.

Sec. 1: DUBUQUE to IOWA FALLS. 147.

0. Dubuque Bridge (toll) carries US20 over Miss. R., which is Ill.-Iowa Line.

1. DUBUQUE

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: A.A.A., Union Bus Depot. Swim.: Mun. Pool, NE. city limits near end of Thomberg Ave.

One of Iowa's oldest cities, Dubuque fronts Miss. R., its business & industrial dists. wedged in narrow riverside strip dominated by abruptly jutting bluffs. Dubuque prospers on farm trade; among its many industrial plants are sash & door mills (one of them said to be world's largest), tractor works, chemical fertilizer & sulphuric acid plants, metalworking establishments, & shipyard. 1st white man known to have sett. permanently in what is now Iowa, Julien Dubuque, Fr. Canadian, made his home just S. of city's site in 1788 & began mining lead ore in R. bluffs. He acquired great influence among Fox Inds. & when he died was given honors befitting chief. On June 1, 1833, under terms of treaty with Chief Black Hawk, territory was thrown open to white settlers; before Dubuque was yr. old, stores, saloons & cabins bordered muddy main street of rough-and-ready mining settlement. Here in 1834 Meths. erected 1st Ch. in Iowa; 1st bank was chartered & 1st newspaper est. in 1836. Although it lost to Burlington its rank as Iowa's largest city after 1840, it became site of 3 colleges & greeted arrival of Ill. Cent. RR. on opp. shore by forming Dubuque & Pacific RR. Co. to extend line across Iowa. By 1860 it was again Iowa's biggest city, doing thriving trade with many immigrants to vic. & converting huge rafts of logs into lumber & RR. ties. Lumber industry, though twice wiped out by fire, in 1894 and in 1911, flourished until 1915, & out of it grew today's woodworking factories. Salient features of economic picture today are Dubuque's curbstoned City Market, where farmers bring wagonloads of garden truck, & its barge lines terminal & harbor, where towboats & barges on Minneapolis-St. Louis run tie up. Near-by is one of country's few inland shipbuilding yards.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) River & Tower Sts., picturesque reminder of the once-important lead-mining industry is Shot Tower erected in 1855 for moulding lead shot. (2) $20,000,000 John Deere Tractor Co. Plant is biggest & newest addition to industrial scene. (3) 2050 Delhi St., Univ. of Dubuque, founded in 1852 as German Theological School, passed later into control of Presb. Ch. It occupies group of brick bldgs., chiefly Goth. in style, on 50-a. hilltop campus. (4) End of Wartburg Pl., Wartburg Theological Seminary (founded 1854). Amer. Luth. Ch. institution occupies massive Romanes. bldgs. of design based on that of Wartburg Castle in Germany. On exhibition are special Reformation coll. of rare books & documents & coll. of ethnological specimens from New Guinea. (5) Seminary & W. Locust Sts., Clarke College (founded 1843), 1st Midwest liberal arts college for women, is Cath. institution conducted by Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary; among structures on 60-a. campus are Chapel of the Sacred Heart & Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes. (6) Loras Blvd. & Alta Vista S., Loras College, Cath. men's college, traces its history back to St. Raphael's Seminary, founded in 1839 by Most Rev. Mathias Loras. Among bldgs. on hilltop campus are Romanes. Chapel of Christ the King, its int. richly marble-embellished, & Keane Hall, containing Lib. of over 100,000 volumes, including Bishop Mathias Loras' rare book coll. Mus. contains Ind. artifacts, pioneer relics, icons & religious carvings, paintings & hist. material. (7) 2419 Central Ave., Herrmann Mus. of Nat. Hist. is private mus. of Richard Herrmann, containing Ind. artifacts, pioneer relics, fossils, mineral & zoological specimens. (8) W. 11th & Bluff Sts., Carnegie Stout Free Pub. Lib. houses Mary E. Lull Coll. of Paintings, including canvasses by Iowa artist Grant Wood. (9) W. 2nd & Bluff Sts., St. Raphael's Cathedral (cornerstone laid 1857), is successor to Iowa's 1st Cath. Ch., built in 1835. In crypt lies body of Most Rev. Mathias Loras, who came to Dubuque in 1839 as 1st bishop of new diocese of the West. Beneath one of altars are remains of St. Cessianus, 2nd cent. Roman martyr, whose bones constitute Patronal Relic of St. of Iowa. (10) Kelly's Bluff, rising behind cathedral, was named for Thomas Kelly, eccentric recluse who, when he died in 1859, buried his fortune in ground; sums of as much as $10,000 have been excavated. (11) On Bluff is St. Raphael's Cemetery, 1st Cath. burial ground in St., with many ancient mons. (12) 1095 W. 3rd St., Edward Langworthy H. (1847), octagonal structure with octagonal cupola, still equipped with original ornate furnishings, was designed by John Francis Rague, architect of Old Capitol at Iowa City. (13) Grave of Julien Dubuque, 0.5^m from end of R. fork of Rowan St., is marked by circular tower of Galena limestone (1897) in medieval design. (14) At N. end of Dubuque is 133-a. Eagle Pt. Pk., overlooking Miss. R. Along natural ledges of limestone extends 790' Ledge Garden, built with 7,000 tons of native stone, near which are 3 Ind. Council Rings. In center is Log Cabin, oldest house in Dubuque & said to be oldest in Iowa. (15) Bluffs afford view of U.S. Dam & Lock No. 11, one of 26 bet. Minneapolis & St. Louis. Dubuque is at J. with US61 (see).

SIDE TRIP: Take US52 (R) from Dubuque to J. at 27.5^m with an unimproved Rd.

Turn (L) here 3.5^m to White Pine Hollow St. Pk., 650-a. tract with unusual rock formations & last remaining stand of white pine in Iowa. Among attractions are Balanced & Steamboat Rocks, Devil's Punch Bowl, & millhouse & dam built in 1850.

At 34.5^m is Turkey R. Mounds St. Mon., where Turkey R. empties into Miss., containing Ind. mounds of the effigy type. Guttenberg, 39^m, 1st known as Prairie la Porte, was later named for inventor of printing press, Johann Gutenberg (his name being misspelled) when German immigrants sett. here in 1834; many of its older structures are of German design. Opposite Guttenberg U.S. Dam & Lock No. 10 extends across Miss. At 45^m is Pioneer Rock Ch. (1858), built by 1st members of St. Peter's German United Evangelical Luth. Congr. At 60^m is J. with US18 (see).

15. EPWORTH, named for Epworth, England, John Wesley's birthpl., is site of St. Paul's Mission H. (1857), which has underground Grotto of native rock containing carved figures depicting scenes from life of Christ. 26. DYERSVILLE, sett. in 1837-38 by Eng. families, is dominated by huge twin-spired St. Francis Xavier Ch.

(1888). 39.5. J. with St.116, leading (L) 2^m to U.S. Fish Hatchery (pic.). 43. MAN-CHESTER is dairying center, whose 1st settler built cabin here in 1850.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.13 (R) from Manchester to J. with St.3 at 12^m.

Turn (R) here to Edgewood, 3^m, & (L) from Edgewood on gravel Rd. 2^m to Bixby St. Mon. (shelter.pic.trls.), 69-a. tract with waterfall, several springs, ice cave, & pioneer log cabin.

At 15.5^m is J. with St.19.

Turn (L) on this 4^m to 1,412-a. Backbone St. Pk. (bath.boat.camp.pic.auditorium.f. winter sports), Iowa's 1st & largest St. pk. Rugged limestone bluffs rising 90' to 140' above Maquoketa R. form backbone which gives area its name. Among features are L., observ., deer range, trout hatchery.

On Wapsinicon R. is INDEPENDENCE, 66., founded in 1837 at J. with St.156 (see US18).

90. WATERLOO

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., Russell-Lamson Hotel, W. 5th & Commercial Sts. Swim: At Cedar R. Pk. Nat. Dairy Cattle Congress & Nat. Belgian Horse & Stallion Shows, late Sept. & early Oct.

Waterloo, metropolis of NE. Iowa, through whose business center winds Cedar R. bet. pk.-terraced banks, is leading industrial center. Foremost among its industries are meat packing & farm machinery manufacture: it has one of country's largest independent meat packing plants & world's largest wheel tractor company. There are 3 radio stations, $100,000 baseball stadium, one of Midwest's biggest mun. airports, nearly 500 as. of pub. pks. & variety of other recr. facils. Place was 1st named Prairie Rapids by Geo. W. Hanna, who sett. on W. bank of Cedar R. in 1845; by 1848 there were settlers on both banks. It acquired its present name when Chas. Mullan in 1851, filing petition for a p.o. on which name had not been filled in, saw Waterloo listed in p.o. directory & wrote it down because he thought it had "right ring to it." Despite disastrous flood in 1858, Waterloo by 1860 was booming town of 1,800. In next decade RR. arrived, brick schoolh. & wheat elevators were built, new dam was thrown across R., & 1st pk. areas were planned. In 1892, after John Froelich of Elkader, Iowa, had harvested crop of grain with his newly invented gasoline engine, Waterloo Gasoline Traction Engine Co. was est., & from then on history of city is closely paralleled by history of tractor industry. PTS. OF INT.: (1) Eastern R. bank bet. 5th & 11th Sts., Pioneer Pk. with rock-walled pools & flower beds, contains reprod. of pioneer cabin, cyclone cellar, & old German Ft. (2) Y.M.C.A. Bldg., 152 W. 4th St., Henry W. Grout Exhibit, contains minerals & crystals; fossils; Ind. artifacts & clothing; books, coins, & domestic articles of pioneer days. (3) Rainbow Dr. at NW. edge of town, Dairy Cattle Congress Exposition Grounds, contains Hippodrome, seating 8,200, in which are held Waterloo's cattle & horse shows. (4) Rath Packing Plant, Sycamore & Elm Sts., & (5) John Deere Tractor Plant, Black Hawk Cr. & Cedar R., both employ as many as 5,000 workers; latter is successor to pioneer Waterloo Gasoline Tractor Engine Co. US20 follows Cedar R., bordered by 173-a. JOSH HIGGINS ST. PKWY. (bridle trls.pic.), to 98. CEDAR FALLS, city of wide, tree-shaded streets, lawn-surrounded homes, & pks. 1st settlers came in 1845; town was platted in 1851. From 1861 to 1869 it was W. terminus of what is now Ill. Cent. RR. & boomed as grain & livestock shipping pt. & gristmill & sawmill center. Milling declined toward end of cent. & was supplanted by industries producing farm equipment, cement block machines, seed-processing machinery, stock feed, serums, & other products. On R. banks are Island Pk. (pic.), 104-a. tract with recr. facils., & Riverview Pk., whose landscaped campgrounds provide shelter for annual Cedar Falls Bible Conference & other groups. College St. bet. 23rd & 27th St., Iowa St. Teachers' College, opened in 1876 in former home for Civil War orphans, now occupies over 2 dozen bldgs. on 244-a. campus, at center of which rises 100' campanile. Lib. houses art coll. & mus. of natural history.

SIDE TRIP: Take US218 (R) from Cedar Falls to Waverly, 14^m, which owes its name to slip of tongue made by chief speaker at its christening, who substituted Waverly for name agreed upon, Harmon, honoring town's founder, W. P. Harmon, because he had spent morning reading one of Scott's Waverly novels. Waverly is site of Wartburg Normal College, a 4-yr. Amer. Luth. Ch. institution, whose Waverly Mus. contains artifacts from New Guinea, ornithological specimens, & Roman coins.

52. FORT DODGE, bordering both sides of Des Moines R., is center of agric. & mining dist., with one of nation's biggest gypsum deposits at its SE. edge. It has hatcheries, serum & packing plants, tile factory & gypsum mills. Here bet. 1850 & 1853 Fed. Gov. maintained Ft. named for Wis.'s U.S. Sen. Henry Dodge, on whose abandoned site Wm. Williams laid out town in 1854. Through efforts of pioneer settler John F. Dunscombe, Ft. Dodge succeeded in wresting city, seat from then-thriving town of Homer in election contest which culminated in hour's pub. wrestling match bet. Dunscombe & Homer's chief advocate, John D. Maxwell. Clay resources of vic. began to be exploited in 1858. Visit here in 1869—yr. in which 1st gypsum quarries were opened—of Geo. Hull & H. B. Martin resulted in famous Cardiff Giant hoax. Out of slab of gypsum which they had carted to Chicago, German stonecutters carved 10' tall stone man who was shipped to Mr. Hull's brother-in-law. Latter, having buried giant near Cardiff, N.Y., "discovered" him. Pronounced by sculptors, geologists, & writers to be "prehist. man," giant was exhibited by P. T. Barnum to millions of people. Meanwhile gypsum bed in vic. covering nearly 30 sq. miles, was rapidly exploited. By 1890 there were 4 mills quarrying it from hill-sides. When Cardiff Mill, named for Cardiff Giant, sank shaft in open prairie, new era in industry began. Concurrently city developed as agric. center. PTS. 176. SIOUX CITY

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 520 Nebraska St. Swim.: Riverside, Lewis, & Carlin Pks. Monahan Post Band Concerts beginning in June; Swedish Midsummer Festival, June.

Iowa's 2nd largest city, Sioux City spreads over bluffs & flats where Big Sioux & Floyd Rs. empty into Mo. R. opp. Neb.-S. Dak. boundary. From lowlands rise smokestacks & tall bldgs., on bluffs are homes among trees. City is spacious. Center of rich agric. sec., it is important grain & livestock market & meat-packing center, with stockyards, creameries, & produce houses; it even has poultry & dairy farms, livestock feeding lots, & hay & grain fields within its limits, & it swarms with farmers' & stockraisers' trucks bringing in produce. Site lies on ancient buffalo trl. followed by Omaha, Oto, & Sioux Inds. & later by Fr. traders. Here in 1848 Wm. Thompson platted town of Thompsonville & during following yr. other settlers arrived: Rbt. Perry, & Fr.-Canadian trader Theophile Bruguier, with his wives, their father, Chief War Eagle, & other Sioux Inds. Joe Leonais, trapper, in 1852 bought Bruguier's claim & in 1855 sold it to Dr. John K. Cook, who platted it as Sioux City, E. Addition. Sioux City was inc. in 1857. Soon steamboats were tying up regularly at levee. Arrival of RRs. in 1868 & 1870 made place important shipping pt. By middle 1880's floating pop. of traders, miners, adventurers, steamboat crews, R. travelers, had given town of 20,000 an unsavory reputation. Rev. Geo. Channing Haddock, arriving in 1885, undertook campaign against saloons, brothels, gambling houses which led to his assassination; after that Sioux City reformed. Sinking of boatload of wheat in Mo. R. was accident that started meat-packing industry which changed Sioux City into industrial city. J. E. Booge recovered & bought water-logged wheat & began feeding hogs with it; since there was no market for live hogs, he slaughtered them & sold meat. He built small plant & hired butchers. Others followed his lead. From this activity came Live Stock Exchange, org. in 1887. In same yr. Sioux City promoted festival whose principal attraction was world's 1st Corn Palace, domed & adorned with sheaves of grain & corn. Sioux City's evolution into industrial city gave rise, in time, to labor movement. Agitation by I.W.W., otherwise known as Wobblies, in 1915, interrupted but not defeated by arrest & jailing of agitators, was followed by election as mayor of local minister Wallace M. Short on pro-labor platform. Strikes broke out in packing plants in 1921 & 1922. And in 1932 & 1933 striking farmers & their sympathizers halted trucks & trains bringing produce to city under leadership of Farmers' Holiday Assoc. Sioux City today is Nation's 6th largest livestock market & one of its largest primary grain markets. It has world's largest creamery, its largest popcorn processor & largest manufacturer of wind-propelled generators. Its products incl. flour, honey, livestock feeds & serums, batteries, tools & machinery, & many other articles. It is Iowa's biggest wholesale & jobbing center, serving 7-state trade territory, & one of its chief retail centers. It is served by 6 RRs. & large mun. airport & is head of navigation on Mo. R. It has symphony orchestra & civic art center, 3 colleges, 10 pub. libs. & 40 pks. Among institutions on which it prides itself are its Monahan Post. Amer. Legion Band & its Abu-Bekr White Horse Mounted Patrol.

US 30—IOWA

ILL.-IOWA LINE (33^m from Sterling, Ill.) (W) to IOWA-NEB. LINE (26^m from Fremont, Neb.). 343. US30

Via: Clinton, Cedar Rapids, Ames, Denison & Missouri Valley. RR. & bus lines parallel or follow route throughout. Accom.: Chiefly in cities.

US30 cuts through R. bluffs & rocky hills into rolling prairie country, with thick-growing trees, & cont. across fertile prairie to Mo. R.

Sec. 1: ILL.-IOWA LINE to CEDAR RAPIDS. 87.

US30 crosses Miss. R., which is Iowa-Ill. Line, 0., on Lyons-Fulton Toll Bridge. 3. CLINTON, industrial & RR. center stretching 7^m along Miss. R., has long avenues overarched by ancient elms & late 19th cent. mansions dating from its heyday as lumbering center, which contrast with humming factories & RR. yards. 1st settler in vic., Elijah Buell, est. ferry across Miss. in 1835. 3 yrs. later Jos. M. Bartlett laid out town & named it New York, which in 1855 was acquired by Iowa Promotion Co., replatted & renamed for DeWitt Clinton, onetime Gov. of N.Y. On what had been swampland & slough city came into being, with brick plant, boatbuilding yards, wooden sidewalks & mule drawn street cars, luxurious Randall Hotel. It grew rapidly after est. of sawmills, which reached peak of production in 1880's, when Clinton was recognized as largest lumber-producing city in world, with 17 millionaires. Sloughs & streams were filled with immense quantities of sawdust, on which additions to city rapidly rose. But lumber boom ended with last log raft's arrival in 1906; lumber people transferred their interests to railroading, & Clinton as a whole turned to mfg., trading & retailing.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Bet. S. 1st St. & Miss. R., River Front Pk., stretching almost 1^m, contains stadium, swim. pool & athletic fields, & mem. fountain & artificial waterfall. (2) End of N. 3rd St. on R. bluffs, Eagle Pt. Pk. has enormous natural stone face on limestone cliff & 35' stone observation tower. (3) Springdale Dr. & 4th Ave. N., Mt. St. Clare Academy, housed in Romanes. bldg. on handsome estate, is Cath. girls' school; its mus. houses coll. of orig. paintings. (4) 850 S. Bluff Blvd., Old Stone H. (1837), oldest in Clinton Cty., served successively as squatter's cabin, tavern & farmhouse. (5) 2517 N. 3rd St., Elijah Buell H. (1857), was erected by Clinton's 1st settler. (6) 240 5th Ave. S., St. John's Episc. Ch., in style of Eng. Goth. parish church with open timbered roof, has back of its altar Brewer Mem. Mosaic, one of finest examples of its art in America.

87. CEDAR RAPIDS

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., Mem. Bldg., Municipal I. Swim.: Ellis & Thomas Pks.

E. Central Iowa's principal industrial center, Cedar Rapids is situated in rich agric. area on Cedar R., whose swift rapids at this point inspired city's name. Its business dist. has brisk, metropolitan air; (N) & (S) are mfg. plants & RR. yards & shops, & back into rolling hills on both sides of R. extend tree-arched residential districts. "Little Bohemia," SW. end, is center of Cedar Rapids' large Czech colony. 3 yrs. after Osgood Shepherd settled E. side of R., N. B. Brown, Geo. Greene & others who purchased his squatter rights surveyed town in 1841. Dam soon built across R. furnished power for grist & sawmills. In 1852 David W. King laid out town of Kingston on W. bank, later annexed. Advent of RR. in 1858 turned city's attention toward mfg. & marketing. During 1870's oatmeal mills were established, gas for illumination installed, & horse-drawn streetcars introduced. 1880's brought opera house & bus. college; 1890's, new churches & schools & new p. o., electric cars & union sta. Cedar Rapids today is leading industrial city, producing cereals, meat products & poultry & stock feed; road bldg., mining, & milk processing machinery; radio equipment, truck parts, metal castings, pharmaceuticals; & other articles. It has a network of pks. & other recr. facils. & many cultural institutions, incl. symphony orchestra.

PTS. OF INT.: Hub of Cedar Rapids' civic plan is Municipal I., in main channel of Cedar R. (1) Here is limestone, neo-classic Mem. End of N. 3rd Ave., Riverview Pk., bordering Iowa R., contains Log Cabin Mem. (1936), with foundation & fireplace stones from surrounding farms, each of its 195 logs bearing brass plate comm. one of cty.'s pioneers. Summit & N. 9th St., Iowa Soldiers' Home, approached by vaulted elms, comprises group of red brick bldgs. in Eng. Romanes. style on 156-a. grounds.

At COLO, 89., is J. with US65 (see). 96. NEVADA, est. in 1853. 104. AMES, college town on prairie, bisected by Skunk R., has air of cleanliness & charm, with well-kept homes & wide shaded streets, a mun. utilities system & airport & well-planned street system insuring notably good traffic safety record. Here John I. Blair built sta. for Cedar Rapids & Mo. (later North Western) RR. & laid out town, which he named for one of RR.'s proprietors, Oakes Ames. 1st home was built in 1864. Soon brisk small town evolved, its growth paralleling that of adj. College Farm of St. Agric. College. Advent of rail line from Des Moines spurred development. During 1890's Ames extended its limits to include college & acquired city waterworks, lib. assoc., & mun. lighting system. Its growth has since been steady. Iowa St. College (est.1858, opened 1869), bordering US30, one of nation's foremost land-grant colleges & institutions of science & technology, occupies $16,000,000 plant comprising some 70 bldgs. on 3,300 as. of land with 120-a. campus whose broad lawn is broken by trees & shrubbery. Its normal enrollment of more than 6,000 makes it one of country's 25 largest institutions of higher learning. Best-known campus bldg. is 110' Goth. Campanile, with 36 bells. Mem. Union is social hub. College Lib. contains murals painted by Grant Wood & assistants. Other landmarks are Hist. Old Farmh., once stagecoach stop & inn; College Cemetery, one of few college cemeteries in world; Formal Garden; & L. Laverne. College farms, arboretum, herbaceous garden, horticultural orchards, & soil conservation nursery are of interest, as is 450-a. recr. area (golf.pic.hik.riding.skiing.tobogganing).

118. BOONE, on crest of expansive prairies, is mining, RR., & industrial center, with C. & N.W. shops & division office & coal mines & clay & gravel pits. Boone was laid out in 1865 by Cedar Rapids & Missouri RR. Co. on wild tract of unimproved land after citizens of near-by Boonesboro, laid out in 1851, had failed to donate to co. $10,000 demanded of them along with 20 as. for depot grounds & RR. right-of-way. Boonesboro remained city seat until 1887, when it was annexed by Boone; it is said many of old settlers of orig. community would never "set foot" in upstart city that supplanted their town as industrial center.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.164 (L) from Boone to 896-a. Ledges St. Pk. (cabins.camp.pic.f.), 4m, rugged area with big trees, named for its huge sandstone ledges rising from tributary of Des Moines R. to heights of 25' to 75'.

126. OGDEN was named for capitalist W. B. Ogden & GRAND JUNCTION, 137., for J. here of C. & N.W. & M. & St.L. tracks. 145. JEFFERSON is market town est. about 1854 by settlers who borrowed $200 to purchase town site. SCRANTON, 155. & GLIDDEN, 167. are farmers' market towns. 172. SWAN L. ST. PRESERVE (pic.f.boat.) is wildfowl refuge. 174. Via: Davenport, Iowa City, Newton & Des Moines. Route paralleled by RRs. & followed by bus lines throughout. Accomms.: Plentiful at short intervals.

US6, Iowa's most heavily traveled by., cuts (W) across S. part of state, following route of first RR.

Sec. 1: ILL.-IOWA LINE to DES MOINES. 177.

From downtown Moline, Ill., US6 follows 19th St. to J. with 5th Ave. near Miss. R. shore.

SIDE TRIP: Take 5th Ave. (L) to 16th St.; turn (R) on 16th St. & across arsenal bridge to 900-a. Rock I. Arsenal, one of most important ordnance mfg. plants, research & development centers, & storage depots of U.S. Army. Here in 1816 was established Ft. Armstrong, known as "Guardian of the Mississippi." After Ft. Armstrong was decommissioned, Rock I. became permanent arsenal for Army in W. During Civil War it manufactured weapons for Union forces & had one of largest prisons for Confed. prisoners of war. It has played major role in every subsequent war. On Grounds today are military mus., Nat. & Confed. cemeteries, & arsenal bldgs. Near S. tip of I. are Site of Ft. Armstrong, built in 1816, marked by log blockh. duplicating 1 of 3 constituting orig. ft. & by 2-story frame Home of Col. Geo. Davenport (1833.rest.). Davenport was an Englishman who served in U.S. Army 10 yrs. before coming to Ft. Armstrong site as Gov. troop provisioner; later he entered fur trade with Inds. In this home on Feb. 23, 1836 met group of 6 men to execute articles founding city of Davenport. Here in 1845 Davenport was murdered by bandits.

At 2^m main Rd. across arsenal grounds conn. with US67; turn (R) on this across Miss R., which is Ill.-Iowa Line, on Gov. (1856), marked by boulder, whose construction provoked bitter feud bet. rivermen & RR. men. 1st legal test bet. them grew out of an accident to "Effie Afton," which struck pier & caught fire; young Abr. Lincoln represented RR. Co. in case of Hurd et al. vs. RR. Bridge Co., blocking steamboat captain's charge that bridge was "a nuisance & an obstruction," but issue was not finally decided until U.S. Supreme Court refused to uphold lower court decision ordering removal of bridge & affirmed RRs' legal right to bridge any navigable R. in their westward path. At 3^m, in Davenport (see below), is J. with US6.

US6 crosses Miss. R., which is Ill.-Iowa Line, 0., on IOWA-ILL. MEM. BRIDGE (toll), $1,450,000 suspension structure 5,552' long. 1. BETTENDORF, industrial suburb of Davenport, flourished after completion here in 1910 of huge plant built by co. headed by inventor W. P. Bettendorf, mfg. all-steel under-frame & one-piece cast steel side frame which became standard on all Amer. RRs. This plant, purchased by Gov. during World War II, became Quad-City Tank Arsenal & in 1947 was converted, together with Ordnance Steel Foundry Plant, into gigantic J. I. Case Co. Plant, mfg. hay balers, elevators, corn pickers & other products. Other Bettendorf factories turn out variety of products.

Davenport, Iowa's 3rd largest city & largest of quad-city group comprising also Rock I., Moline & E. Moline, stretches almost 5^m along Miss. R. From its landscaped river front fans (W) business dist. with shops, hotels & office bldgs.—chief trading & commercial center of quad-city industrial reg., bordered on E. & SE. by riverside industrial areas. On higher ground, spreading over semi-circle of bluffs as much as 160' high & beyond, are residential dists. Its economic prosperity has brought Davenport cultural facils., incl. symphony orchestra, pub. art gallery & mus., fine pk. system & many schools, churches & hospitals.

Davenport boasts many "firsts" in its history: 1st bridge across R. & 1st RR. running W. of it, country's 1st national bank & 1st broadcasting sta. W. of R. It was founded on land (now main business dist.) given Fr. halfbreed Antoine Le Claire by U.S. Gov. at request of Chiefs Keokuk & Wapello of Sac & Fox tribes, after he had served as interpreter in negotiation of Black Hawk Treaty in 1832. Near site on which treaty was made Le Claire built home. He later acquired land adj. his reserve on W., which he sold to Col. Geo. Davenport & 6 other men; & here, in 1836, Davenport was founded. Within yr. it had sawmill, store, p.o. By 1840 pop. was 600 & by 1850, 1,848; it shot up to 11,267 by 1860, largely because of heavy immigration of German refugees from revolutions of 1848. Miss. & Mo. RR. Co. began construction of line to Council Bluffs in 1853 & Miss. R. Bridge Co. erected bridge across R. yr. after. No longer solely dependent on steamboat trans., Davenport rapidly forged ahead. It became hqs. of Gov. Sam. J. Kirkwood & his military staff at beginning of Civil War, since it was then terminus of telegraph facils.; & here in 1863 was opened First Nat. Bank of Davenport, 1st in U.S. to open after passage of Nat. Banking Act.

During yrs. after Civil War, when great log rafts were floated down Miss., Davenport became sawmill center. Sawmill industry attracted woodworking plants, especially cooperage firms. In one of these worked woodcarver Wm. H. Voss, who invented crude washing machine & in 1877 set up his 1st washing machine factory; by 1890 Davenport was washing machine capital of country. Wheels, 1st made of wood & later of metal, likewise had become leading Davenport product before end of century. Meanwhile, development of limestone quarries in 1880's had made possible establishment of today's important cement industry.

58. IOWA CITY, Iowa's 1st capital & now home of St. Univ. of Iowa, lies along both sides of Iowa R. Iowa City was founded by 1st Leg. Assembly in 1839 as capital of Terr. of Iowa. Surveyors laid out wide streets around 12-a. capitol square, & with funds from land sale held in Aug., construction of capitol was started. Furrow was plowed from Dubuque to guide influx of immigrants who rapidly built log cabins & few frame houses. Pending completion of capitol, 4th Terr. Leg. Assembly met Dec. 6, 1841 in frame bldg. loaned for temporary use. However, it was soon found that new settlement was not near St.'s pop. center, & in 1847, Monroe City was selected as capital; but public opinion did not approve choice, & Iowa City remained capital until selection of Des Moines in 1857. First RR., Miss. & Mo., completed its track to this pt. at midnight of Dec. 31, 1856, with aid of prominent citizens, who helped lay last several hundred feet of track in zero weather with light & heat provided by bonfires. For several yrs., Iowa City was RR. terminus, with large transient pop. of westward-bound travelers—among them Mormon handcart expedition of European converts, 1,300 strong, who camped here in 1856 & built wooden-wheeled pushcarts for 1,000m trip to Utah. St. Univ. opened in 1855 & in 1857 took over capitol bldg. In 1870's Iowa City acquired one of St.'s largest breweries; in 1880's, grape sugar factory; in late 1890's & early 1900's, flint glass co. & packing plant; & later, hybrid corn processing plant & advertising calendar plant. But its modern growth has depended chiefly on growth of univ.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) 727 Switzer Ave., Rht. Lucas H. (1844) was built by 1st Gov. of Terr. of Iowa. (2) 1028 Kirkwood Ave., Home of Sam. J. adm. offices of St. Univ. of Iowa, whose Bedford stone buildings, mostly in Ital. Ren. or early Eng. Goth. style, spread around it. Old Capitol is sturdy & graceful structure with Doric columns at entrance portico & cupola with octagonal base from which rise Corinthian columns supporting dome. To SE. is Schaeffer Hall, containing Leigh Hunt Coll. of rare books & mss. & Lib. of St. Hist. Soc. of Iowa (3rd fl.), with pictures, flags & relics. To NE. is MacBride Hall, containing auditorium & Gen. Lib. & Mus. of Nat. Hist. (3rd fl.), with Mammal Hall & Bird Hall. On W. side of campus, across Iowa R., are Fine Arts Bldg., which has coll. of paintings, sculpture & other art works; Dramatic Art Bldg., whose Univ. Theater, with revolving stage, is leader in western theater movement; Medical Center, one of country's largest, with 3 hospitals & laboratories; & Field H., with country's 2nd largest indoor swim. pool. There are some 60 permanent bldgs. & grounds cover 425 as. N. of westside campus, off Newton Rd., is Veterans Hospital, of advanced modern design, on which construction was begun in 1947.

SIDE TRIP: Take US218 (R) from Iowa City to J. with improved Rd., 9m; turn (R) 5m on this to 774-a. L. MacBride St. Pk. (pic.swim.boat.f.), woodland wildlife preserve with 138-a. L.

US6 cuts (W) through farming country to HOMESTEAD, 79., one of several villages of Amana Soc., or Community of True Inspiration, which grew out of Pietist movement in Germany in late 17th & early 18th cents. & in 1843 began planned emigration to America, 1st to N.Y. St. & then to Iowa. Bet. 1855 & 1862, emigrants purchased village of Homestead & est. 6 other villages. Until 1932, both spiritual & temporal affairs of communities were managed by board of 13 trustees; since then Amana Ch. Soc. has supervised spiritual affairs & Amana Soc., production & marketing cooperative, has handled economic matters. Colony flourished from beginning, since its members had practical skill to quarry stone, hew wood, build houses & mills & farm land; each member was assigned to job he did best, sharing in community profits on equal terms with least & most skilled. Homestead, like other villages, has leisurely old-fashioned atmosphere. Plain rectangular 2-story gabled houses, stores & church, built of hardwood, red brick or brown sandstone, show old German architectural influence. General store & meat market sell society's produce—woolen blankets, German bread, Westphalian-type hams.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.149 (R) from Homestead to Amana, 3m, oldest of villages, with Furniture Shop, Woolen Mill, Bakery & Main Office of Amana Soc. Turn (L) from Amana on St.220 to Middle Amana, 5m, with another Woolen Mill, Printing Shop & School; High Amana, 7.5m; & West Amana, 9m, whose red brick & hardwood Flour Mill still uses its old mill stones. 90. MARENGO, named for place in Italy where Napoleon defeated Austrians in 1800, is largest of several rural trading centers through which hy. passes. 126. GRINNELL was named for man to whom Horace Greeley made famous statement: "Go West, young man, go West & grow up with the country!" He was Josiah Bushnell Grinnell, Congr. minister of N.Y., & in 1854 he followed Greeley's advice, coming W. to found with Dr. Thos. Holyoke & Rev. Homer Hamlin, on treeless prairie, town whose articles of founding set aside land for a college campus & forbade sale of liquor. Grinnell College, product of merger in 1859 of Iowa College, founded in Davenport in 1846, & of Grinnell Univ., opened 1856, is oldest educational institution W. of Mississippi which has continuously existed as college with 4-yr. program leading to degree. It was 1st in U.S. to develop sciences as part of liberal arts curriculum, to begin Dept. of Political Science in undergrad. college of liberal arts & to adopt Eng. housing system without sororities. In recent yrs. it has operated under so-called Grinnell Plan for a Liberal Education stressing students' individual needs, broad cultural orientation & intensive study in a specialized field. Campus (90 as.) is planned with separate residence units for men & women.

145. NEWTON, mfg. city in agric. reg. with smokestacks rising above cornfields. Newton refers to itself as world's washing machine manufacturer; it also produces farm & hy. equipment, household appliances, advertising specialties, blue cheese & other goods. Inc. in 1857, it was named for Rev. soldier, Sgt. Newton. After 1898, local incubator firm undertook manufacture of ratchet-slat washers. Fred H. Bergman, co.'s owner, patented hand-power washer in 1904 & began mfg. it. Three yrs. later, Automatic Electric Washer Co. began producing electrically powered washing machines. Hand-power washer designed by Howard Snyder, inventor for Parsons

Bank Cutter & Self-Feeder Co., which F. L. Maytag introduced in same yr., was afterward equipped with electric motor; in 1917 Snyder developed for Maytag cabinet type of cylinder washer & in 1922 gyrofoam washer. By 1925 Newton was in midst of industrial boom. F. L. Maytag, "Washing Machine King," became city's benefactor, financing many improvements, among them 40-a. Fred Maytag Pk. (swim.tennis.pic.), which contains Thos. Reese Log. H. (1848). Maytag Co. Plant, 512 N. 4th Ave. W., with more than 13 as. of floor space & office bldg. of striking modern design, has one of world's largest aluminum moulding foundries. Adj. is Automatic Washer Co. Plant 155. COLFAX, named for U.S. Vice Pres. Schuyler Colfax, passenger on 1st train passing through; it grew up as a spa with mineral springs. Coal beds in vic. are now chief source of income.

177. DES MOINES

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Info.: C. of C., Savery Hotel, 14th & Locust Sts. Iowa St. Fair, last wk. in Aug.

Des Moines, capital of Iowa, is an important commercial & industrial center in rich agric. sec., spreading from both banks of sluggish Des Moines R. At its heart are gray stone bldgs. of Civic Center, linked by arched bridges. E. Side bus. center pushes up to foot of park-clad Capitol Hill with its gold-domed Capitol & St. bldgs.; beyond spread bus. houses & homes with mfg. area to (S). (W) of Civic Center, skyscrapers of main bus. dist. rise from valley floor. Farther W. is once-fashionable residential dist.; to NW. are Drake Univ. campus & newer residential areas. City, covering 66 sq. miles, is spaciouly planned, with wide streets, broad yards & large pk. areas. Name Des Moines is probably traceable to moundbuilders who long ago lived near R. banks; Inds. called stream "Moingona" (river of mounds). After explorations of site led by Col. Stephen W. Kearny in 1835 & John C. Frémont in 1841 at behest of War Dept., military garrison was est. here at confluence of Raccoon & Des Moines Rs. in May 1843. Wilson Alex. ("Aleck") Scott had preceded Capt. Jas. Allen & his company of First Dragoons; & when ft. was est., he obtained permit to settle near-by & raise corn & hay for garrison. At midnight Oct. 11, 1845, after Sac & Fox had relinquished their rights, terr. was thrown open to white settlers, who rushed in to stake their claims when ft. cannon boomed out zero hour; Capt. Allen & his men cont. to occupy ft. until Mar. of following yr. "Aleck" Scott, securing 500 as. on E. bank, est. ferry & built bridge.

Settlement which grew up soon prospered as stopping place for Cal.-bound gold seekers. Steamboats made their precarious way upriver to drop anchor here. In 1858, place became St. capital, when 10 yoke of oxen hauled into town two bobsleds of archives from Iowa City. News of Civil War aroused struggle bet. northern & southern sympathizers, but city made substantial contribution to war effort. In spring of 1894 "Kelly's Army" of nearly 1,000 men en route from Omaha to Washington to plead their cause before Congress descended upon city & refused to move on until provided with 150 flatboats to cont. journey down Des Moines R. During World War I, & again during World War II, pop. reached new peak as thousands of friends & relatives & war workers were attracted to city while soldiers were trained at near-by Camp Dodge & Ft. Des Moines.

Modern Des Moines is city of diversified activities in which mfg., jobbing, retailing, banking, insurance & publishing contribute economic support. Its mfg. plants turn out over 500 different products: airplane parts, automobile accessories & tires, tools, machinery, wearing apparel, chemicals, medicines, cosmetics, food products & others; among important big new plants added since World War II are tire & rubber, agric. implements, farm equipment & furnace factories. Rich coal fields in vic. have promoted industrial growth.

PTS. OF INT.: Des Moines' Civic Center occupies both river banks in center of city, comprising (1) City Hall (1910), E. Riverbank bet. E. Locust St. & E. Grand Ave.; (2) New Fed. Walnut St., lifts 275' gilded dome, resembling that of Hotel des Invalides in Paris. Bldg. is eclectic in style. At main entrances on 4 sides Corinthian columns support ornamental pediments. Principal feature of inter., finished in marble, granite & finely carved native woods, is grand rotunda, colonnaded, with statuary, mural by Edwin H. Blashfield & mosaics by Frederick Dielman. On main floor are battle flags of Iowa. On 2nd fl. are Senate Chamber & House of Representatives Room. Steps lead up to dome. On Capitol grounds are several mons.: Soldiers & Sailors Mon. (1879; Harriet A. Ketchum, sculptor); Allison Mem. (1913; Evelyn B. Longman, sculptor), comm. Sen. Wm. B. Allison of Dubuque; & The Pioneers (1893; Carl Gerhardt, sculptor). Grave of Wilson Alex. Scott, SE. cor. Capitol grounds, is marked with tablet; Scott donated part of Capitol site. (6) E. 12th St. & Grand Ave., Ionic-columned, dome-topped, St. Hist. Mem. & Art Bldg. (1899-1900), houses some of St.'s most valuable colls. In W. wing of main floor are Hist. Lib., Aldrich Autograph Coll., Grenville M. Dodge Mem. Room & Emerson Hough Mem. Room. In E. wing on main fl., mezzanine & 2nd fl. is General Division of Iowa St. Lib. Portrait Gallery on 2nd fl. contains portraits of State's Govs. & prominent citizens; Mus., adj., contains pioneer relics & mounted animals. Third fl. Mus. is devoted to prehist. & early Ind. objects. Also on 3rd fl. are Archives Division & World War Room. In basement is Industrial Exhibit of carriages & automobiles & pioneer implements.

(7) University Ave. bet. 25th & 28th Sts., Drake Univ. (est. 1881), named for one of its founders, Gen. Francis Marion Drake, is coed. institution occupying group of brick buildings on 3-block campus. Cowles Lib. houses valuable special colls. Drake Stadium, block N., seats 18,500. (8) Outstanding for its advanced modern design, Des Moines Art Center, Greenwood Pk. facing Polk Blvd., completed in 1948, was designed by Eliel Saarinen; it serves both as mus. with coll. of paintings & as art study center. (11) 18th St. S. of Raccoon R. bridge, Waterworks Pk., 1,500-a. tract with bird sanctuary, scenic roadways, horseback & hik. trls., greenhouses, fountains & lagoons. (12) 6th Ave., just N. of Des Moines R., River View Pk. (boat, dancing, amusements), is city's amusement center. (13) Greenwood Pk. & (14) Ashworth Pk., adj. each other at Polk Blvd. & Grand Ave., have hundreds of acres of natural wooded grounds, sunken flower gardens, shelter houses & tennis courts. (15) E. 9th St. & Mattern Ave., Union Pk. (pic.), has flower gardens, green lawns & stately old trees. (16) E. end Grand Ave., Iowa St. Fair Grounds are setting during last wk. of Aug. of one of world's largest agric. expositions, attracting more than 500,000 visitors, with livestock, poultry, garden, dairy, cooking & canning, art, industrial & other exhibits. (17) Army Post Rd. & SW. 9th St., Ft. Des Moines, opened as cavalry post in 1903, was "Home of the WACs" during World War II, serving as 1st training center for Women's Army Corps. (18) 30th St. & Euclid Ave., U.S. Veterans' Adm. Facility occupies oak-wooded 48-a. hilltop site. Des Moines is at J. with US65 (see).

SIDE TRIP: Take St.163 (L) from Des Moines to Pella, 43m, sometimes called cleanest city in Iowa, sett. by Dutch immigrants in 1847. Local products incl. bologna, cookies, flour, canned goods, wagons & overalls, Venetian blinds. Annually in May, when thousands of tulips bloom, inhabitants don Dutch costumes for festival. Pella Hist. Mus., reprod. in architecture & furnishings of Dutch home, displays relics, documents & home wares. Central College, founded in 1853 as Bapt. Ch. institution, has been conducted since 1916 by (Dutch) Reformed Ch. of America; among bldgs. on 20-a. campus are Goth. Douwstra Chapel & Ludwig Lib. Oskaloosa, 60m, is quiet college town & farmers' marketing center, sett. in 1843 by Quakers & later by Welsh coal miners. It was named for wife of Chief Osceola, Oskaloosa ("Last of the Beautiful"). 1st coal mines in St. were developed near-by about 1870 & worked until about 1910. W. side Market St. at N. edge of town, Wm. Penn College (opened 1873) is 4-yr. coed. liberal arts college, conducted by Iowa Yearly Meeting of the Religious Soc. of Friends, notable for emphasis on democratic community living & student work program. Modern brick bldgs. on 30-a. campus incl. Wm. Penn Hall, containing lib., astronomical observ., mus. with coll. of African relics, Ind. artifacts, geological & natural hist. specimens & hist. materials & white-columned Spencer Mem. Chapel (Georg. Col.) Near campus is Friends' Meeting H. (1913.Gr.Rev.), 656 N. C. St. University Park at E. edge of town, Kletzing College (org. 1905), coed. liberal arts institution, supported by members of various Protestant evangelical churches, with several brick bldgs. in wooded setting. Edmundson Mem. Pk. (pic.swm.) is 60-a. tract in S. part of city. Near E. entrance is log Morgan Cabin (sm.fee), 1221 S. F. St., built in 1840's & furnished in pioneer style. Cont. (R) from Oskaloosa on US63 to Ottumwa, 89m, spreading from both banks of Des Moines R., whose name is white man's version of Ind. word meaning "rippling waters." N. Ottumwa is hilly sec. of fine homes, churches, pub. bldgs. & schools, seemingly remote from bustling industrial dist. that covers R. bottoms. Ottumwa is site of world's largest independent pork processing plant & largest hay machinery plant; it has variety of other industries. Settlement here sprang up almost overnight when site was thrown open May 1, 1843 & hundreds of pioneers made midnight dash across country to stake out claims. It developed slowly until est. of John Morrell & Co. packing plant & opening of bituminous coal beds in 1870's & 1880's. In 1890 "Coal Palace"—medieval-looking structure, much turreted, veneered with glittering jet—was built above reprod. of coal mine; & visitors flocked to Mardi Gras & fair. Coal mining industry soon declined, however, & Ottumwa has since depended chiefly on meat-packing. Outstanding feature of Wapello County Cth., 4th & Court Sts., is statue of Chief Wapello of Fox Tribe surmounting apex over entrance. 129 N. Court St., Ottumwa Pub. Lib. has coll. of Babylonian tablets dating as far back as 2350 B.C. End of Hayne St., John Morrell & Co. Plant has more than 100 bldgs. covering 100 as. At 102m is J. with St.273.

Sec. 2: DES MOINES to COUNCIL BLUFFS. 135.

US6 goes (W) from Des Moines through several small rural trading centers to J. with US71 (see) at 79. 83. ATLANTIC was thought to be halfway bet. 2 oceans, & coin was flipped to decide whether its name should be Pacific or Atlantic; Pacific won, but when it was learned that other Midwest towns already had that name, decision was reversed. Among chief industries are meat packing plants, factory producing folding stoves & Army cots, & huge corn & pumpkin cannery.

135. COUNCIL BLUFFS

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 4th Ave. S. & S. 1st St. Swim: River Front Pk.

Council Bluffs, stretching from high bluffs across lowlands to Mo. R. bank opp. Omaha, is converging pt. of 8 RR. lines & one of nation's largest mail transfer pts. It is important farm market with huge grain elevators, drawing trade from dist. checked not only with corn & grain fields but also with vineyards of one of Midwest's chief grape-growing areas; & it is biggest flower-growing center W. of Miss., with more than 100 greenhouses. Its industries turn out variety of articles. But in residential dists., removed from bustling RR. yards, it has air of peace & quiet.

Inds. first met along R. bluffs here to sell furs to Fr. traders, & explorers Lewis & Clark camped near-by in 1804. Itinerant traders & trappers later designated whole bluff territory along this part of Mo. as Council Bluffs. Francis Guitart took up residence on site in 1827 as agent of Amer. Fur Co. In 1837, Potawatami Inds. were moved into reg. & Fed. troops were est. in temporary camp to protect them from other tribes; year following, Father Pierre Jean De Smet arrived & for 3 yrs. conducted mission, using camp blockh. as a church. Following arrival of Mormons led by Orson Hyde in 1846, settlement known as Kanesville in honor of Thos. L. Kane, friendly Army officer, grew up. It became stopping place for travelers during Cal. gold rush of 1849, attracting gamblers, traders, thieves & desperadoes. Departure of whole Mormon pop., numbering nearly 8,000 in this vic. by 1850, to Utah in 1852 left town without gov.; remaining 1,000 residents reorganized & renamed community Council Bluffs. In same yr. Grenville M. Dodge came to survey Platte R. Valley for RR.; it is said that conversation about RRs. held here in 1859 by Dodge & Abr. Lincoln influenced latter's choice in 1863, as Pres. of U.S., of Council Bluffs as E. terminus of U.P. By 1870, 5 RRs. had made conns. with U.P. here. Development of trading & mfg. followed.

Sec. 2: DAVENPORT to IOWA-MO. LINE. 124.

At 18. is J. with St.160, leading (R) 2^m to 322-a. Wild Cat Den St. Pk. (camp.pic.), forested area with cavern & unusual rock formations, containing old Grist Mill & Dam (c.1848). On E. edge of FAIRPORT, 21., fish-rearing ponds of U.S. Fish Hatchery stretch for half a mile bet. hy. & R.

29. MUSCATINE, mfg. & trading city, calls itself "The Port City of the Corn Belt." It spreads out from riverbank with old brick bldgs. lining narrow, brick-paved sts. that slope away to dip bet. hills. Name is derived from that of Mascoutin Ind. tribe, who camped near-by. Trading post was est. here in 1833. Jas. W. Casey staked claim in 1835 & began cutting timber to fuel steamboats. Site was surveyed & place named Bloomington in 1836; name Muscatine was adopted 13 yrs. later. New settlers, many of them German, flocked in. Muscatine soon became important steamboat landing. Sawmill & pork packing plant were set up in the 1840's. Muscatine has since gone through 3 eras of industrial development. First, beginning about 1860, was dominated by lumber industry & later by sash & door mfg. About 1890 began manufacture of pearl buttons from Miss. R. mussel shells; Muscatine soon claimed rank of "Pearl Button Capital of the World." Present era is one of diversified industry. Sash, door & other millwork products & pearl buttons still are important products: Muscatine produces more of last than any other city. But other industries produce pulley & pumps, saddles & harness, tools & toys, canned vegetables, meat & poultry products, & other articles. PTS. OF INT.: 304 Iowa Ave., Pub. Lib. houses coll. of hist. materials & early pictures & relics. 211 W. 8th St., oldest of city's surviving early bldgs. is Old First Mathias Ch. (1842), on grounds of present Mathias Ch. 109 Walnut St., Mark Twain H. was home during 1853-54 of Mark Twain, who lived with his widowed mother & brothers, Henry & Orion, latter part owner of Muscatine "Journal." Washington St. just off River Rd. at NE. edge of town, Weed Pk., with natural amphitheater, 2 artificial Ls. & wildflower preserve, overlooks R. from a bluff. It affords good view of U.S. Dam & Lock No. 16 across Miss.

51. WAPELLO, chartered in 1856, is peaceful town sprawling along Iowa R. 79. BURLINGTON is scattered over 4 hills along Miss., its sts. climbing slopes from riverside docks & bus. dist. at irregular angles. Descendants of early German, Irish, & Swedish settlers still predominate, clustering in their own distinctive settlements: Dutchtown (German), West Hill (Swedish), & Hibernia (Irish). Burlington is important mfg. & distributing center; it turns out electric motors, auto trailers, bags, fertilizer, building materials, clothing, & other products. Its 23,000-a. Iowa Ordnance Plant, built in 1941, manufactures ammunition. Site was known as Sho-kon (Flint Hills) to Inds., who valued it for flint found there, & Ind. village was est. here temporarily in 1820. After Black Hawk Treaty opened terr. to settlement in 1833, white families staked claims; in Aug. of that year Dr. Wm. R. Ross opened 1st store. John Gray, native of Vermont, arriving in 1834, was allowed to name place for his home town. Here, in temporary capitol bldg., 2nd legislature of Terr. of Wis. convened in Nov. 1837; & when Terr. of Iowa was created in 1838, 1st Legislative Assembly met & appointed commission to choose permanent capital. During next decade town grew rapidly as hundreds of steamers docked to discharge freight & load pork, lard, & farm produce. Burlington's 3 pork packing plants made it "Porkopolis of Iowa." Completion of 2nd continuous railroad from Chicago to Miss. R. opp. Burlington in 1855 & beginning of operations on Burlington & Mo. RR. in 1856 soon made town bustling rail center. Miss R. bridged in 1868. By 1871 Burlington had 7 RRs. During 1870's it thrived as sawmill center & lumber shipping pt., handling logs rafted down Miss. As lumber industry declined toward end of cent., other mfg. enterprises were est.

PTS. OF INT.: S. end Main St., Crapo Pk. (camp.playground.swim.), overlooking Miss., has boulder memorial marking spot where Zebulon M. Pike is said to have landed Aug. 23, 1805, & unfurled Amer. flag, & bronze plaque near Black Hawk Spring, comm. Ind. chief, who hunted here. Bronze plaques mark Site of Old Zion, 1st Iowa Terr. Capitol, W. side of 3rd St. bet. Columbia & Washington Sts., & Site of 1st Masonic Hall in Iowa, SE. cor. Main & Columbia Sts. 311 Washington St., Hawk-Eye Gazette Bldg. houses St.'s oldest newspaper in continuous publication, with files running back to 1837 (avail. at pub.lib.). 2700 West Ave., weatherboarded Log Cabin (1833) at Hay homestead, built by Jeremiah Smith, Jr., is thought to be oldest house in Des Moines County.

SIDE TRIP: Take US34 (R) from Burlington to West Burlington, 3m, dominated by its C.B. & Q. RR. repair shops. Here in small pk. at W. edge of town is Our Lady of Grace Grotto, dome-shaped structure whose exter. walls contain stones from every St. in Union & almost every country in world. Mount Pleasant, 28m, was site of Iowa's 1st cth., built in 1839. Iowa Wesleyan College, 4-year coed. Meth. college occupying 25-a. wooded campus in heart of town, had its beginning here in 1844. At N. end of Main St. is imposing old Harlan H., former residence of Jas. Harlan, pres. of Iowa Wesleyan, U.S. Sen., & Abr. Lincoln's Sec'y of the Interior, whose daughter Mary married President's son Robert.

Turn (L) from Mount Pleasant on St.133 to 110-a. Oakland Mills St. Recr. Reserve (camp.pic.f.), 4m, forested & rocky, with L.

At 45m is 25-a. Woodthrush St. Mon. (pic.), abounding in bird life & wild flowers. Fairfield, 51m, is an agric. trading center with several small mfg plants. Pub. Lib. Mus. contains archaeological, Ind., pioneer, & nat. hist. exhibits. Old Settler's Pk. surrounds Bonifield Cabin (1836). Parsons College (opened 1875), N. edge of town, on 65-a. rolling, wooded campus, is Presb. institution.

97. FORT MADISON covers flatlands near Miss., hemmed in by high hills & steep bluffs. It derives name from Ind. trading post est. here in 1808 just after inauguration of Pres. James Madison, which was abandoned in 1813 when Chief Black Hawk & his allies laid siege to it. Town grew up around lone chimney which remained standing. Here in 1833 John H. Knapp est. another trading post. By 1847 S. D. Morrison was making plows by hand for local trade, beginning farm tool industry that still flourishes. Later, flour & lumber mills were erected. Steamboating & lografting added boisterous notes to life of town. Another growing period followed Santa Fe's est. here of freight & passenger division pt., at W. end of its bridge across Miss. Paper mills were opened in 1879, & manufacture of plows was begun on large scale. In early 1900's pearl button & wax-paper bread-wrapper factories began production. W. A. Sheaffer Pen Plant, founded here in 1913, one of 1st to use bar & lever filling device in fountain pens, is today Fort Madison's largest industrial enterprise. PTS. OF INT.: Ave. H & 4th St., Lone Chimney Mon., marks site of ruins of old ft. for which city was named. Design of Lee County Cth., 7th Ave. & Ave. F, oldest in use in Iowa, is attributed to Father Samuel Mazzuchelli, pioneer priest & architect; it is distinguished by immense Tuscan columns. Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe RR. Drawbridge across Miss. is largest drawbridge in world. At E. end of Ave. E is Iowa St. Penitentiary. At 100.5. is J. with St.2.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) to Farmington, 20m, platted in 1839, in fertile Des Moines R. Valley, with coal mines & stone quarries near-by.

(L) from Farmington 0.5m on gravel Rd. is 127-a. Farmington St. Pk. (camp.pic.f.), with L.

St.2 cont. to J. with St.1, 33m.

Take latter (R) 3m; turn (L) here 1m to 2,216-a. Lacey-Keosauqua St. Pk. (cabins.lodge. camp.swim.boat.f.golf), largest of St. pks., in great horseshoe bend of Des Moines R., heavily wooded, with 30-a. L. St.1 cont. to Keosauqua, 4m, whose Ind. name means "great bend." Van Buren County Cth. (1842-43) has solid oak timbers more than foot square & thick brick walls. Bonneyview (1839), overlooking R., is town's oldest H.

110. MONTROSE, close to Miss., is site of one of 1st permanent settlements made by white men in Iowa. Here, Louis Honore Tesson, Fr.-Canadian, est. in 1799, trading post & planted apple orchards—1st in St., comm. by plaque in Montrose schoolyard, 3 blocks (L) from US61. Around 1st Ft. Des Moines (its site marked by plaque half block from RR. sta. near tracks), est. here in 1834 & maintained until 1836, grew up settlement. In 1837 D. W. Kilbourne laid out town later called Mount of Roses, for wild roses growing on near-by hillsides, which was contracted to Montrose. Steam ferry connects Montrose with Nauvoo, Ill.

SIDE TRIP: Take Lake Shore Dr. (L) from Montrose to Galland School St. Mon. 3m, replica of Iowa's 1st schoolh., opened here by Dr. Isaac Galland in 1830.

122. KEOKUK, rich in hist. associations, lies at mouth of Des Moines R. on Miss. Keokuk trades with farmers, manufactures variety of goods, & exports hundreds of tons of fish. 1st white man to settle here was Dr. Samuel C. Muir, who erected log cabin in 1820 for his Ind. wife & family. Moses Stillwell & Mark Aldrich opened trading post in 1829 for Amer. Fur Co.; & that same year, at July 4th celebration, it was proposed that settlement be named for Chief Keokuk of Sac & Fox. In 1837 town was platted by Isaac Galland, agent of New York Land Co. During next decade Keokuk became mfg. & jobbing hqs. for pioneer Middle West. Its position at foot of Des Moines rapids on Miss. made it pt. at which all steamboat passengers & freight had to be unloaded & lightered or forwarded by land. This obstacle to navigation was bypassed after 1856 by RR. running 12m upriver, & finally solved by Gov. canal opened in 1877. PTS. OF INT.: (1) 3rd & Main Sts., Pub. Lib. (1881) houses coll. of curios, incl. city's 1st directory (1856) & menu set in print by Mark Twain when he was working in Keokuk job-printing plant of his brother, Orion. (2) 2nd & Main Sts., Old Iwins H. (1850.now Hawkeye Hotel) was Twain's boarding house; here he made his 1st after-dinner speech. (3) S. 7th St. at city limits, Rees Pk. contains old Rees Homestead, weatherboarded log cabin built by Thomas Rees, who printed Mark Twain's 1st paid articles in Keokuk "Saturday Post." (4) 15th St. & Grand Ave., Rand Pk. contains mon. & statue marking Grave of Chief Keokuk. (5) At W. end of Cedar St. is Iowa's only Nat. Cemetery, est. in 1861. (6) Foot of Orleans & Franklin Sts., Keokuk Dam (1910-13), nearly mile long, is gravity type, containing approximately same amount of masonry as one of great pyramids of Egypt. It forms 100-square-mile lake extending 65^m (N). Gov. Drydock & Gov. Lock, near Iowa shore, are among largest ever built. (7) Hydroelectric Plant (conducted trips hourly 9-11, 1-3), farther out in stream, was equipped with turbines which, at time of construction, were 4 times size of any previously built. 124. US61 crosses Des Moines R., which is Iowa-Mo. Line.

6. KANSAS CITY, Kans.

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 727 Minnesota Ave. Swim. at pub. pks. Amer. Royal Livestock & Horse Show, Oct. or 1st of Nov.

Kansas' 2nd largest city & Wyandotte Cty. seat, Kansas City, Kans., preserves its own identity from its Mo. neighbor, together with which it makes up Greater Kansas City. Spreading over hills & bluffs N. & S. of Kansas R., it has irregularly patterned network of sts., having grown out of merger of 8 independent towns; it has 5 "main" streets, each centered on its own business & industrial district. "Kaw Point," neck of land bet. Kansas & Mo. Rs., where Lewis & Clark camped in 1804, became in 1818 part of reserv. granted Delaware Inds., from whom in 1843 it was purchased by Wyandot tribe, emigrating from Sandusky, Ohio. In same year Wyandot, who were farmers, educated, & more white than Ind. through intermarriage, laid out Wyandot City, which within year had church, council house, communally-owned store, & 1st free school in Kans. When Cal. gold rush of 1849 brought white emigrants, Wyandot began to demand territorial status for Kans.-Neb. reg. They were granted in 1855 rights of citizens with their lands in severalty, & promptly disposed of their property. White settlers who succeeded them renamed place Wyandotte & est. p. o. & 2 banks in 1857. Rival town of Quindaro, founded a little to N. & W. on bank of Missouri R. in 1856, soon offered competition. Both towns built Rd. to Kansas R. & est. free ferry. In 1859 Wyandotte was inc. & erected on levee block of business bldgs., in one of which was written in July 1859 constitution of Kans., est. Wyandotte Cty. & making Wyandotte its seat.

Est. in R. bottoms of a slaughter house in 1860 & a packing house in 1868 laid basis for place's best-known industry. Charles F. Adams, descendant of Pres. John & John Quincy Adams, persuaded Plankinton & Armour to remove in 1871 packing house they had set up in Mo. to site near his stockyards. Around what is now Armour packing plant grew up new town, Armourdale, inc. in 1871. Around other packing houses & RR., completed to Topeka in 1866, grew up other towns: Armstrong (1871); old Kansas City, Kans. (inc. 1872); Riverview (1879). In 1880 Wyandotte absorbed Riverview; in 1886, Armstrong, Armourdale & Kansas City. Name of latter was then adopted for consolidated city. Two other settlements est. across Kansas R. to S.—Rosedale (1872), which received impetus from rolling mill opened in 1875, & Argentine (1880), which grew up around Santa Fe Ry. shops & yards &

Consolidated Kansas City Smelting & Refining Co. plant—were later absorbed, latter in 1909, former in 1922. Quindaro, having rescinded its inc., was absorbed by natural expansion.

During last quarter of 19th cent., thousands of "Exodusters," freed Negroes from S., swelled population, settling along Jersey Creek in "Rattlebone Hollow" & in old Quindaro or along levee in scrapwood shanties of "Mississippi Town." During same period there was great influx of European immigrants of peasant stock—Croats, Czechs, Slovaks, Poles, Germans, Russians—who settled around packing houses. City developed into important industrial center. Today its stockyards & meat-packing houses are 2nd only to Chicago's; & not even Chicago has all of "Big Four"—Armour, Cudahy, Swift & Wilson—with complete processing plants, as Kansas City has. Hay market & grain storage facilities are world's largest; animal serum plants, largest in nation. Soap factories, fabricating steel mills, flour mills, oil refineries, RR. shops & yards, & other enterprises contribute to economic stability.

Latter, with graves of many Wyandot chiefs dating from 1844 on, was reserved by Wyandot in treaty of 1855; when business interests in 1906 pushed bill through Congress authorizing its sale, Wyandot descendants carried litigation to Supreme Court, where Lydia B. Conley of Wyandot Zane family pleaded case, being 1st woman to appear before court. Although Supreme Court upheld Congressional bill, Congress in 1913 was persuaded by aroused public sentiment to repeal its statute & convert cemetery into city pk., extending sepulchral rights to Wyandot. 14^m Leavenworth, 1st inc. town in Kans., claims to be best known city of its size in U.S. because of its 2 famous gov. institutions, Ft. Leavenworth & Fed. Penitentiary. On W. bank of Mo. R., it spreads over high bluffs & rolling hills. Retail trading center of rich agric. area, it is also industrial center. Here in 1827 Col. Henry H. Leavenworth erected Cantonment Leavenworth, now Ft. Leavenworth, to protect traffic on Santa Fe Trl.; farmers & missionaries attached to post were Kansas' 1st white settlers. After passage of Kans.-Neb. Bill (May 30, 1854), meeting of pro-slavers at Weston, Mo., projected settlement here; town company, 1st in Kans., platted 320-a. tract, which by end of June was covered by squatters' tents & shacks. In 1855 Leavenworth became Territory's 1st inc. town. Early elections were corrupt, marked by ballot-box-stuffing tactics of dominant pro-slavery element. Business prospered, however, as industrial enterprises were est. in 1856, among them Abernathy Furniture Co. plant, today Leavenworth's biggest; in same year Russell, Majors & Waddell made Leavenworth hqs. for their vast transportation system. By 1860 Leavenworth with population of 8,000 was metropolis of Kans. It remained until 1880 State's largest city—gay place, with theaters, baseball team, fine mansions—but ultimately fell behind when Kansas City was preferred to it as RR. terminus.

Leavenworth's command erected in 1827 log & bark huts of Cantonment Leavenworth. Post became outfitting pt. for Mex. War troops & later for Cal. gold seekers. It was designated by Congress as temporary capital of Territory in 1854 & for time served as Gov. Reeder's residence. In all subsequent wars it has played important role. (4) S. end Scott Ave., Command & General Staff College, housed in consolidated group of yellow brick bldgs. surmounted by a clock tower, ranks 1st among Army officers' training schools; it was est. in 1881 by order of Gen. (11) 13th & Metropolitan Sts., Fed. Penitentiary is towering city of gray stone & red brick on 1,000-a. grounds. Built in 1895, it houses about 3,000 inmates, who work in factories producing brooms, brushes, shoes, clothing & furniture or on 1 of the 2 prison farms. 38m. Atchison lies on bank of "Great Western Bend" of Mo. R. in hill-fringed glacial amphitheater. Important as retail trade & wholesale & jobbing center, it ranks 10th in U.S. in flour milling industry & has 3 big iron foundries, as well as RR. shops, feed mills, seed concerns, industrial alcohol plant & many other enterprises. Town was organized & platted July 27, 1854 by 18 men, all but 2 from Platte Cty., Mo., who named town for Mo.'s pro-slavery Senator David R. Atchison. Inc. in Aug. 1855. Atchison had active pro-Southern faction, who published vehement pro-slavery paper, "Squatter Sovereign," & were likely to tar & feather Free Staters. In 1859, 1st telegraph from W. to E. was dispatched here & city became 1st W. of Mississippi to secure direct connection with St. Louis & E. when it decided to issue bonds for RR. With good steamboat landing & best wagon road to W., Atchison leaped ahead when in 1862 Ben Holladay bought bankrupt Russell, Majors & Waddell Freight Co. & moved its hqs. here from Leavenworth & in 1864 Butterfield's Overland Dispatch was est. here to do million-dollar business carrying mails W. Atchison, Topeka & Sante Fe Ry. was another local enterprise, outgrowth of mun. bond issue; its 1st unit, to Topeka & Wichita, was opened in 1872.

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 746 Vermont St. Swim. at Jayhawk Plunge, 6th & Michigan Sts.

Kansas' chief education center, Lawrence, with many fine old houses on broad lawns on its hilly W. side, is for most part an average-looking prosperous Kans. town. Founded in 1854 by Charles H. Branscomb & Dr. Charles Robinson, agents of New England Emigrant Aid Co., & named for Amos A. Lawrence of Boston, prominent member of co., Lawrence by Mar., 1855, was center of Free State activities in Territory, with Free State newspaper, "Kansas Tribune." In May, 1856, pro-slavery force led by Sheriff Jones attacked Lawrence, plundering town's newspaper offices, stores & homes & burning Dr. Robinson's house. Incident precipitated 2 yrs. of open warfare, ended only when pro-slavery party was shorn of power with adoption of Wyandotte Constitution (1859) & election of Dr. Robinson as Gov. Lawrence was sacked & burned again Aug. 21, 1863 by pro-Confederate Wm. Clarke Quantrill's band of 450 mounted guerrillas, who left 150 dead. Advent of Kans. P. RR. in 1864 made Lawrence prosperous trading & shipping point & it later acquired various industries.

74.5. TOPEKA

Through RR. & bus conns. Accomms.: Plentiful. Swim. at mun. pools in Gage, Garfield & Ripley Pks. Annual events: July, Mex. Fiesta; Sept., Kans. Free Fair.

Capital of Kans. & 3rd city in pop., Topeka straddles Kansas R. & spreads over R. bottoms & up slopes N. & S. Factories, flour mills, & meat-packing plants of industrial dist. extend along R. in oldest part of town. Along Kans. Ave., bisecting city from N. to S., lies retail business & professional dist. To S. & W. are chief residential sections, with tall shade trees. Topeka is important distribution & trade, insurance & printing industry center. Biggest single industry is Santa Fe Ry. with world's largest repair shops & car-building facils. Dominant in Topeka's economy are meat packing, flour milling, poultry & dairy products & other food-processing plants; new $12,500,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant, producing tractor & heavy-duty tires; & city's metal-working industries, which supply national markets. Nationally-known Menninger Foundation, U.S. Veterans Adm. Winter General Hospital (specializing in neuro-psychiatric cases) & St. Hospital for Insane make Topeka "Rochester" of psychiatric treatment & training. Also important are city's permanent army installations: Army Air Forces Supply Depot & Topeka Army Air Base.

First white settlers were 2 Fr.-Canadians, Joseph & Louis Pappan, latter an ancestor of late Vice Pres. Charles Curtis, who married Kaw Ind. half-breeds & sett. here in 1842; they est. 1st ferry across Kansas R. Col. Cyrus K. Holliday, young Pennsylvanian interested in RR. building, & partners bought land & org. town company. At meeting in log cabin Dec. 5, 1854, they chose name Topeka, Omaha Ind. word meaning "good place to dig edible roots." Heavy influx of New England immigrants followed. Here, in 1855, convention of Free Staters framed 1st Kans. constitution; but "Topeka Government" was speedily overthrown when U.S. troops arrested legislators. In 1857 city was inc. & in 1858 became city. seat. Following adoption of Wyandotte constitution, it was selected as St. capital. Topeka grew to town of more than 5,000 in 1870. Holliday's RR., Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Ry., began building W. in 1869 & in 1878 est. its general offices & machine shops here. During 1880's Topeka passed through hectic real estate boom which ended abruptly with ruin of many investors in 1889; but it retained doubled pop. & was able to weather depression of 1890's. Introduction of bridges, parks, blvds., motor busses, hotels & office bldgs. early in 20th cent. made Topeka modern city.

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., Ash & 5th Sts. Accomms.: Plentiful. Metropolis of central Kans., Salina lies in basin W. of confluence of Saline & Smoky Hill Rs., is trading & recr. center for thousands of farmers. Wheat is all-important hereabouts; Salina is dominated by grain elevators & flour mills. It also produces milling machinery, agric. implements, & other goods. Townsite was staked out in 1858. Settlement began to thrive in 1860 as "jumping off" place for gold-hunters traveling to Pike's Peak. Extension of U.P. RR. here in 1867 brought settlers. Great crops of wheat began to pour into Salina in 1870's. Meanwhile alfalfa, first introduced to Kans. by Dr. E. R. Switzer of Salina in 1874, also became important crop in reg. By 1880 Salina had 3 flour mills, 6 grain elevators, carriage & wagon factory, & agric. implement works; & during succeeding decade, 3 RRs. were built through community.

To them Kans. owes its ranking place as wheat-growing State, for they brought variety of hard wheat known as Turkey Red which they had grown on Russian steppes & which proved adaptable to Kans. climate & soil. Known as "Cathedral of the Prairies," St. Fidelis Ch. (Romanes.) rears its twin 141' towers above town, an imposing structure seating 1,700 persons. Victoria was first settled, however, by English immigrants: shipload of sons of wealthy families who came bringing horses, sheep & cattle to settle townsite platted by Sir George Grant & named for Queen Victoria. Colonists lived with joyous abandon, galloping in red coats over prairie in pursuit of jack rabbits & coyotes & impounding waters of Big Cr. to float steamboat brought overland partly by oxcart. Colony was failure, & its site was taken over by German-Russians.

300.5. HAYS, gateway & chief trading & educational center of NW. Kans., is wheat-milling & oil-field center. Founded in 1867, soon after est. of Ft. Hays, frontier military post, it was in early years gathering place for scouts, cattlemen, soldiers, & desperadoes. W. F. ("Buffalo Bill") Cody during 1860's is said to have killed 4,280 buffalo near Ft. Hays within 18 months, whose meat he sold to RR. workers' camps & ft. commissary. Ft. Hays, directly S. of city, was abandoned in 1889 following end of Ind. wars & its 7,000 as. given to St. of Kans. Within this area today is Ft. Hays Kans. Via: Ottawa, Emporia, Newton, Hutchinson, Dodge City, & Garden City. RR. parallels route throughout. Accoms.: In larger towns.

Paralleling route of old Santa Fe Trl., US50 cuts through farm country of E. Kans., bluestem pastures of Flint Hills, & Gt. Bend wheat belt, traverses irrigated Arkansas R. bottom lands & then enters barren upland country near Colo. line.

Sec. 1: KANS.-MO. LINE to HUTCHINSON. 234.

At 0. is Kans.-Mo. Line.

SHAWNEE CEMETERY, 1., one of Kans.' oldest white burial grounds, contains graves of Rev. Thos. Johnson & his wife (see below). Just beyond is J. with Mission Rd. leading (R) 0.3^m to Shawnee Meth. Mission, twice territorial capital of Kans. In 1838 Mo. Conference of Meth. Episc. Ch. directed Rev. Thos. Johnson, missionary among Shawnee, to build manual training sch. for Ind. children. School opened in Oct., 1839. Two-story former Dormitory and Boarding Sch. (1845) on Nov. 24, 1854, was occupied by Territorial Gov. Andrew H. Reeder, who moved his executive offices here from Ft. Leavenworth. Later he selected Pawnee (see US40) as territorial capital & convened 1st territorial legislature there in 1855; but proslavery faction passed law transferring capital back to Shawnee Mission. Legislature occupied big barracks-like Schoolh. (1839), adopting statutes of Mo. virtually in their entirety & legalizing slavery in Kans. until Lecompton was chosen as capital Aug. 8, 1855. Chapel is now mus., containing hist. furnishings & documents. Afterwards, mission declined rapidly, as Inds. moved away; finally abandoned in 1864. 3rd of remaining bldgs. is former Home of Superintendent (1839).

20. OLATHE was founded in 1857 & named with its founders' inaccurate version of Shawnee Ind. word for "beautiful" (wes-see). Here is Kans. School for the Deaf (est. 1866). Just E. of bridge over Cedar Cr., 22.5. is SANTA FE & OREGON TRL. MARKER. Baldwin City is dominated by yellow limestone bldgs. of Baker Univ. (est. 1858), Kans.' oldest Meth. college, whose Old Castle Hall was territory's 1st college bldg. Case Lib. houses Wm. A. Quayle Coll. of Bibles, one of world's finest.

51. J. with US50N, alternate route (W) bet. this pt. & Garden City.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) through upland farming country. At 23^m is J. with US75 (see). US50N traverses soft-coal mining reg., passing through Burlingame, 32.5^m. At 39^m is J. with St.31 leading (L) 2^m to Osage City, market center of coal-mining & farming area. Council Grove, 76^m, inc. in 1858, on edge of Flint Hills in fertile Neosho R. valley. It grew up about old campground in oak grove near ford, supposedly used by Coronado & his expedition in search of Quivira in 1541; here in 1825 Fed. commissioners signed treaty with chiefs of Kansa & Gt. & Little Osage tribes to permit surveying of trl. to Santa Fe. 1st large caravan, led by Josiah Gregg, forded R. here in 1826; & in 1827 Kit Carson is said to have carved his name on a tree. By early 1840's, campground was most important sta. bet. Westport, Mo. & Santa Fe. Later, town sett. down to slow growth as agric. center; with advent of RR. in 1883, it became livestock shipping pt. Union & Main Sts., Madonna of the Trl. Mon., represents frontier mother with children. Treaty of Aug. 10, 1825 was signed under Council Oak, 210 E. Main St., opp. which is mon. containing hist. documents in metal box sealed in its cement foundation. 112 N. Main St., former Hays Tavern (1847), successively home, saloon, supply house, cth., & hotel; it was built by Council Grove's 1st white settler. Main & Chautauqua Sts., Last Chance Store (1857) was in Santa Fe Trl. days last place to buy supplies for journey to Santa Fe. Huffaker & Mission Sts., Kaw (Kansa) Mission (1849), opened by Meth. missionary Thos. S. Huffaker, began as Ind. mission school, but attracted so few pupils it was closed until 1854 & then reopened as 1st school for white children in Kans. Herington, 102.5m, laid out in early 1880's on 40 as. of Monroe D. Herington's 2,000-a. ranch, is RR. division pt. & farm shipping & shopping center. City Pk. (swim.) contains shaft erected in 1904 as Mon. to Father Juan de Padilla, soldier-priest who explored this reg. with Coronado in 1541. Marion, 128m, sett. in 1860, is shipping pt. for produce of fertile Cottonwood R. valley. Hillsboro, 138.5m, at J. of Cottonwood R.'s N. & S. branches, is center of large Mennonite community extending into neighboring ctys. & site of Tabor College, 2-yr. coed. Mennonite institution. Hillsboro has Mennonite publishing plant. McPherson, 165.5m, is shipping & refining point for central Kans. oil fields & site of 2 colleges: McPherson College (O.1888), Dunkard (Ch. of Brethren) coed. liberal arts institution, & Central College and Academy (founded 1914), Free Meth. secondary school & jr. college. McPherson is at J. with US81 (see). Lyons, 196.5m, laid out in 1876 on land owned by Truman J. Lyons, is salt-mining & wheat-growing center. 1st salt mine in vic. was opened in 1890; in 1920's oil fields were also discovered near-by. Rice County Cth. houses coll. of relics believed to be of Coronado's Quivira expedition of 1541, plowed up on near-by farm.

Turn (L) from Lyons on St.14 to Sterling, 10m, founded 1872, site of Sterling College (est.1886), 4 yr. coed. institution conducted by United Presb. Ch.
Near Cow Cr., 205m, is Santa Fe Trl. Marker. Ellinwood, 218m, founded 1871, has become since 1930 center of one of leading Kans. oil fields. Take Rd. (R) from Ellinwood short distance to Robt Birdbanding Sta., 16-a. private refuge where in 1928 Frank Robt began banding migratory birds so that their flights could be studied. Gt. Bend, 229m, named for sweeping curve of Ark. R. on which it lies, sett. in 1871, is shipping, wheat, & oil center. In 1874 it became railroad on Chisholm Trl. from Texas, crowded with saloons & dance halls. Later its chief industry was flour milling. During 1930's it went through an oil boom. At 242m is J. with improved Rd. leading (R) 0.5m to 5-a. Pawnee Rock St. Pk. (shelter H.pic.), formerly rendezvous for Plains Inds. & scene of many savage battles. Pawnee Rock, mass of Dakota sandstone about 80' high, commands sweeping view. Pawnee Rock Mon. (1912) is 30' shaft of Barre granite. Larned, 250m, at confluence of Pawnee Cr. & Ark. R., grew up following est. near-by of Ft. Larned (see below). At 255m is J. with dirt Rd. leading (L) 0.5m to Site of Ft. Larned, est. in 1859 to protect travellers on Santa Fe Trl. from Ind. attacks. Adobe structures built in 1860 were replaced bet. 1864 & 1868 by present ones of sandstone, facing parade ground. Ft. Larned was supply base & agency for Arapahoe & Cheyenne, who sometimes besieged it when supplies ran low. It was abandoned in 1878. Jetmore, 299m, was founded in 1879. At 322m is J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) 9m to 853-a. Finney Cty. St. Pk. (camp.boat.f.), surrounding 324-a. L. impounded by one of Kans.' largest dams. Garden City, 358m (see below), is at J. with US50S.

63.5. OTTAWA, lying in saucer-like valley around Marais des Cygnes (pronounced locally "merry deesen") R., is farm trade center with RR. shops & division hqs. & several mills & factories. It had its origin in 1832 when Ottawa Inds. ceded their Ohio lands to U.S. in return for 34,000 as. in Franklin Cty. Here in 1837 Rev. Jotham Meeker & his wife opened Ottawa Ind. Baptist Mission. They were aided by Gov. agent on reserv., John Tecumseh (Tay) Jones, half-breed Potawatomi & staunch abolitionist, who welcomed Free State settlers, bldg. hotel. Town was laid out in 1864. After removal of Ottawa to Okla. in 1867, white settlers flocked in; in 1872 town acquired its RR. shops & in 1888 an electric plant. 9th & Cedar Sts., Ottawa Univ., Bapt. Ch. 4-yr. coed. institution, occupying heavily wooded 33-a. campus, was inc. in 1865 as result of agreement bet. Kans. Bapts. & Ottawa Inds., under which Ottawa gave 20,000 as. of land & Bapts. provided teachers, bldg., & special dept. for education of Ind. children. Oldest of bldgs. is Tay Jones Hall (1869), housing mus. of fossils, minerals, Ind. artifacts, & Kans. memorabilia. W. end Tecumseh St., Forest Pk. (180 as.sports facils.swim.).

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take Wilson St. (L) from Ottawa to J. with Rd., 2m.

Turn (L) on latter 4.5m to stone, 14-room, two-and-a-half-story Home of Tay Jones (c.1865), with 34-inch-thick walls, built entirely with pegs.

Near Rd. at this pt. is Ottawa Ind. Burial Ground, containing graves of Jotham Meeker & his wife, Tay Jones & his wife, & Ottawa Chief Compehau, among others.

(B) Take 9th St. (L) from Ottawa to Chippewa Burial Ground, 6m, in cedar grove on grassy hill above Marais des Cygnes R. Most of graves are covered by thick slabs of red sandstone, many of them elaborately carved.

At 65.5 is J. with US59.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to J. with Osawatomie Rd., 6.5m, & cont. (L) on this. At 15.5m is J. with gravel Rd.

Take latter (R) to J. with dirt Rd. & turn (R) on this to timbered pasture, 4.5m, in which c.20 rods (R) from Rd. are Graves of James P. Doyle & His Sons, Wm. & Drury, who, with Wm. Sherman & Allen Wilkinson, were victims of Potawatomi massacre conducted by John Brown & his followers on night of May 24-25, 1856, in retaliation for sacking of Lawrence by proslavery "Border Ruffians."

At 22.5m on Osawatomie Rd. is Mon. to Frederick Brown, son of John Brown, killed near-by at age of 26 on morning of Aug. 30, 1856 by Rev. Martin White, proslavery fanatic accompanying advance guard of force of Border Ruffians led by Brigadier-General John W. Reid who were on their way to attack Osawatomie. About 200' NW. of mon. is Foundation of John Brown Cabin (so-called), built by Brown's brother-in-law, Rev. Samuel Lyle Adair; cabin has been removed to Osawatomie (see below). Just W. of homestead, following shooting of his son, John Brown rallied force of about 30 Free Staters in fringe of timber along Marais des Cygnes R. on morning of Aug. 30, 1856 in unsuccessful attempt to hold back Reid's 250 Border Ruffians. Osawatomie fell to attackers, who reduced it to ashes. Osawatomie, 23.5m, on Marais des Cygnes R., founded in 1855 & said to have been named for Osage & Potawatomi Inds. living in vic., derives its income from neighboring farmers, near-by oil & gas fields, its State Hospital for the Insane, & shops of Mo. Pacific RR. (on which it is division pt.). W. end of Main St., John Brown Mem. St. Pk. (pic.swim. sports facils.) contains life-size bronze John Brown Statue (by George Fite Waters) &, on its highest elevation, so-called John Brown Cabin, removed here from Adair homestead (see above); log structure furnished as it was in 1850s, with many John Brown relics, protected by glassed roofed enclosure. Also in pk. is John Brown Mem., 9th & Main Sts., marble shaft above graves of Fred. Brown, David Garrison, Geo. Partridge, Theron Powers & Chas. Kaiser, all killed during raid at Osawatomie Aug. 30, 1856. Osawatomie is at J. with US169.

Take latter (L) to Paola, 9.5m, est. in 1855. Here in 1860 prospectors digging with pick & shovel found oil at depth of 275'; this was 1st oil well W. of Mississippi R. Oil in commercial quantities was 1st found in 1889, when well was sunk 6m E. Discovery of gas field near-by in 1884 had already led to Paola's becoming 1st gas-lit town in Kans.

Main side route turns (R) from Osawatomie on US169 to J. with St.7 26m, & (L) on this to J. with St.35, 39m, then (L) on this to J. with US69, 51m, & (R) on US69.

At 58.5m on US69 is Marais des Cygnes Massacre Mon., comm. massacre on May 19, 1858 of 11 Free St. men taken prisoner by 50 Missourians led by Capt. Chas. Hamilton. Massacre inspired John G. Whittier's poem, "Le Marais du Cygne." Trading Post, 60m, where as early as 1839 Michael Gireau est. an Ind. trading post, was thriving town in days of border warfare. Pleasanton, 66m, founded in 1869, was named for General Pleasanton, whose Feds. defeated Gen. Sterling Price's Confeds. near-by in Battle of Mine Creek, only decisive engagement fought in Kans. during Civil War, Oct. 24, 1864, involving nearly 25,000 men.

US50 cont. Through RR. & bus. conns. Info.: C. of C., 6th Ave. & Merchant St. Accomms.: Plentiful. Trading & RR. center of farming & dairying reg., Emporia lies on low ridge bet. Neosho & Cottonwood Rs., shaded by elms & maples. At gateway to Kans. bluestem pasture reg. where half million head of cattle are fattened yearly, it becomes cattle town during grazing season, celebrating with Blue Stem Round Up Picnic. Its industries center mostly around processing of farm products; among them is 1st soy bean mill of Kans. Emporia was est. in 1857 by Emporia Town Co., on land bought from an Ind. for $1,800. It was named for an ancient city in N. Africa. First issue of "Kanzas News," June 5, 1857, published town charter, which forbade use & sale of "spirituous" liquor; thus Emporia was Middle West's 1st "dry town." After Civil War it attracted cattlemen, who brought gaunt Texas steers to graze on bluestem grass of vic. 1st train on Mo.-Kans.-Texas RR. arrived in 1869; 1st on Santa Fe, in 1870. Gaslights were installed in 1880; st. cars, in 1881; electricity, in 1885; stock-yards, in 1887. "Emporia Gazette," bought by Wm. Allen White in 1895, became under his editorship perhaps nation's most famous small-town newspaper.

234. HUTCHINSON

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 203 W. 1st Ave. Swim. at Carey Mun. Pk. Sept., Kans. St. Fair.

Kans.' 4th largest city, Hutchinson is nation's largest salt mining & processing center, city of mills & factories spreading over level valley land from N. bank of Ark. R. Known as "Salt City" for its mine & evaporating plants, which exploit rich beds underlying city & extending miles in all directions, it is also important wheat storage & shipping center & oil refining & shipping pt. Named for its founder, C. C. Hutchinson, city was platted in Nov. 1871. Lot offered builder of 1st house on townsite as prize was won by A. F. Horner, who had already won similar prizes offered in Brookville, Florence & Newton, moving his 20' x 60' house from place to place. Promoters plowed wide furrow around settlement to protect it from prairies fires & marked off streets with buffalo bones. Churches, schools & opera house were soon built. By 1885 Hutchinson had begun to thrive as shipping & trading pt. & milling center. Discovery of natural gas led in 1887 to drilling of well on near-by farm, in course of which city's underlying salt deposits were discovered. During 1920s, discovery of oil & gas in neighborhood added to prosperity.

US50 cont. (S) across vast prairie. 44.5. STAFFORD, sett. in 1870s, became oil boom town when gusher came in near-by in 1938. 54.5. ST. JOHN, founded in 1879, is trading & shipping center for reg. producing corn, wheat, barley & oats. 94. KINSLEY enjoys comfortable living from wheat, corn, alfalfa & poultry products. 133.5. DODGE CITY, metropolis of (SW) Kans., lies on Ark. R., its modern business & pub. bldgs. breaking monotony of Kans. short grass country. Dodge City has been called "the buckle on the Kans. wheat belt"; it is supply center for rich farming & cattle-raising area. Near site in 1864 was est. Ft. Dodge, named for Col. Henry

I. Dodge & commanded by his nephew, Grenville M. Dodge; it was one of most important of frontier posts & several Army officers of note—among them Miles, Custer, Hancock & Sheridan—served here. In 1871, sod house, first bldg. on town-site, was erected 5^m W. of Ft., near ford across Ark. R., to serve as stopping place for freighters & buffalo hunters. Townsite was laid out in 1872 & in Sept. of that yr., 1st Santa Fe Ry. passenger train arrived, bringing advance influx of immigrants, buffalo hunters, card sharps, gamblers & adventurers. Buffalo hunting soon became important pursuit; before depot could be built, buffalo hides by thousands were awaiting shipment. Before end of 1875, great herds of shaggy animals, estimated to number 25,000,000 or more in Dodge City territory, were practically exterminated. For some yrs. afterward, buffalo bones were collected & shipped E. for fertilizer; it came to be said that in Dodge City buffalo bones were legal tender. Soon after, Tex. longhorns driven by hundreds of cowboys & trl. bosses began arriving over Tex. Trl.; in 1882, Dodge City took its turn as cowboy capital of SW. Shooting frays became frequent; long & colorful succession of marshalls & sheriffs were hired to keep peace. Gradually Dodge City became less important as cattle center, as other shipping terminals were est.; & in 1884, increase of cattle disease known as Tex. fever brought legislation forbidding importation of Tex. cattle. Dodge City brought cattle era to resounding close with 4th of July celebration which incl. bull fight—first & probably only one held in U.S.; advance announcement of it prompted St. & Fed. authorities to wire that show could not be given in U.S., but Mayor A. B. Webster merely wired in reply: "Dodge City is not in the U.S." Dodge City, thereafter, turned to agric. as surrounding land was sown to wheat & other crops.

Dodge, two of whose adobe barracks built in 1864 still stand, now veneered with native stone.

152. CIMARRON became seat of Gray Cty. after bitter fight with INGALLS, 158.5., whose promoters dreamed of it as capital of great irrigated empire. Embankments of abandoned canal still line hy. 185. GARDEN CITY lies on Ark. R. in irrigated belt producing sugar beets as chief crop. Metropolis of W. Kans., Garden City was founded in 1878. Wild boom of land speculation sent pop. up to 6,000 in late 1880's. Surrounding area was plowed & planted to corn, & in 1886 great crop was raised—1st & last ever achieved in this reg., for droughts followed. During World War I, new settlers poured in to raise wheat, but post-war collapse of prices led to decline in wheat production; & reg. has since turned to cultivation of sugar beets, alfalfa seed & maize & to livestock raising. Today Garden City has Kans.' largest sugar beet refinery & one of its largest alfalfa mills & dehydrating plants; in 1948, Standard Oil Co. of La. picked it as site of revolutionary $80,000,000 synthetic gasoline plant, 1 of 2 in U.S. using Amer. adaptation of German chemical process for making gasoline from natural gas, oxygen & water. In SW. corner of city on Ark. R. is Frederick Finnup Mem. Pk. (250 as.pic.sports facils.racetrack), containing Kans.' largest zoo & swim. pool, 220 x 330', which is said to be world's largest free mun. pool. Garden City is at J. with US50N (see above) & US83 (see US40).

SIDE TRIP: Take US83 (L) from Garden City to 3,600-a. St. Buffalo Pk., containing largest herd of buffalo in Kans. At 29m is J. with US160.

Take latter (R) to world's largest Carbon Black Plant, 20.5m, where carbon black, used in manufacture of paint, is produced by incomplete combustion of natural gas. US160 conts. (W) through center of what became Kans.' dust bowl in 1931-37 to Ulysses, 28m, founded in 1885. (L) 12m from Ulysses on US270 is Jedediah Smith Mon., marking pt. where in 1831 one of most renowned of early explorers—1st to cross Sierra Nevada into Cal., 1st white man to lead expedition overland from Cal. into Ore., & 1st to lead party over S. Pass in Rockies—was scalped by Inds. after losing his way on Santa Fe Trl.

At 35m on US83 is J. with St.45.

Take latter (R) 37.5m to Hugoton, which has remained prosperous, although it lies in dust bowl, because it is center of world's largest natural gas field, developed since 1927. Pipe lines carry Hugoton gas to Denver & other Colo. cities & as far as Minneapolis & Detroit. Hugoton, founded in 1885 & named for Fr. poet, Victor Hugo, waged bitter fight with neighboring Woodsdale to be made city seat; it culminated in violence & several assassinations.

US83 cont. to Liberal, 67m, founded in 1886. It was long terminus of Rock I. Ry. & thus became freight distributing center for ranchers in Okla., Tex., New Mex. & Colo. Cowboys came with their herds, often to spend year's wages in wk-end carousing. Today Liberal has flour mill, gasoline-extracting plant & factories manufacturing farm implements. It has well-paved streets & modern schools & houses, mun. landing field & city pk. with swim. pool.

US50 passes through several small rural shipping & trading towns on its way to SYRACUSE, 238.5., one of most favored towns on High Plains because its plentiful trees make it green oasis. At 256. is Kans.-Colo. Line.

US 66—KANSAS

KANS.-MO. LINE (6m from Joplin, Mo.) (SW) to KANS.-OKLA. LINE (14.5m from Miami, Okla.). 11.5. US66

Via: Galena & Baxter Springs.

US66 cuts across SE. cor. of Kans., passing through lead & zinc-mining reg. At 0. is Kans.-Mo. Line. GALENA, 1., pioneer lead & zinc-mining town, is surrounded by smelters, mills & chat piles. Galena Smelter, E. of town, is one of world's largest. When lead was discovered here in 1877, rival mining camps sprang up on both sides of Short Cr. Two communities were merged in 1911. At 5.5. are Js. with improved Rd. & with St.26.

SIDE TRIP: (A) Take former (L) 0.5m to Power Dam of Empire Dist. Electric Co., whose hydroelectric plant furnishes power to 80 communities in Kans., Mo., & Okla. Dam forms 400-a. L. Powell (boat.swim.f.cabins).

(B) Take St.26 (R) to J. with US69, 7m, & cont. straight ahead on US69. Pittsburg, 22.5m, coal metropolis of Kans., founded in 1870's as mining camp. Zinc smelter was est. here in 1878, & town became leading zinc-smelting center of U.S. Pittsburg dist. produces 50% of coal mined in Kans. Open pit method of mining, employing some of world's biggest electric shovels, is used. Pittsburg manufactures variety of industrial products, but confines its soot-producing industries to outskirts; it has long clean main st. & well-kept homes, variety of pks., golf courses & swim. pools, network of schools, churches, & civic organizations. 17th St. & S. Broadway, Kansas St. Teachers' College (est.1903) occupies 55-a. landscaped campus. On 3rd fl. of Porter Lib. is college mus., containing geological & paleontological specimens, Ind. artifacts, insects & stuffed animals. Crawford Cty. St. Pk. (f.boat. camp.pic.zoo), 26m, is 418-a. tract surrounding 60-a. L. Site, one of most attractive in Kans., is result of strip mining; rain filled the canyons dug by shovels, trees & other vegetation grew on mounds of dirt heaped beside them, & finally in 1926 St. landscaped area. At mining town of Franklin, 29m, is J. with St.57; turn (L) here 7.5m to Girard, where in 1890's J. A. Wayward founded "Appeal to Reason." Socialist weekly which achieved circulation of half million. When it ceased publication in 1922, its current editor & owner, E. Haldeman-Julius, began publishing abridged editions of classics at 5 cents per copy & achieved, through these "Little Blue Books," one of greatest outputs in Amer. publishing history.

9. Trees, grass & flowers of Spring R. Valley, entered here, are in sharp contrast to barren mining area.

10. BAXTER SPRINGS, surrounded by lead & zinc mines, has more attractive homes with lawns and gardens than most small Kans. towns. It was named for A. Baxter, first settler, who built sawmill & tavern here after arrival in 1850 & here on Oct. 6, 1863, Confed. guerrilla leader Wm. Clarke Quantrill's band attacked Fed. garrison & killed 96. In 1860's Tex. cattlemen began to drive their longhorns here to pasture; when RR. was built in 1870, Baxter Springs for more than decade was wide-open cow town—"the toughest town on earth." Expansion of industrial, agric. & resort possibilities came later.

11.5. Kans.-Okla. Line.

US 75—KANSAS

KANS.-NEB. LINE (29^m from Auburn, Neb.) (S) to KANS.-OKLA. LINE (8^m from Copan, Okla.). 239.5. US75

Via: Sabetha, Topeka, Yates Center, Neodesha, Independence & Caney. RRs. parallel route bet. Kans.-Neb. Line & Topeka & bet. Yates Center & Kans.-Okla. Line. Accoms.: Chiefly in larger towns.

US75 crosses two of Kans.' chief agric. areas &, near Okla. Line, its earliest developed oil & gas belt.

Sec. 1: KANS.-NEB. LINE to TOPEKA. 75.

At 0. is Kans.-Neb. Line. SABETHA, 7., an agric. trading point, was allegedly so named by Cal.-bound Biblical student because one of his oxen died here on day he calculated to be Hebrew Sabbath. At 11. is western J. with US36.

SIDE TRIP: Take US36 (R) to Seneca, 14^m, founded in 1857 as stopping place on Ore.-Cal. Trl. & later Pony Express & Overland stage routes.

St.63 leads (L) from Seneca to Nemaha Cty. St. Pk. (705 as.f.swim.boat.pic.camp.), 5.5^m, with 356-a. L. Marysville, 45^m, on Big Blue R., center of prosperous grain, stock-raising & dairying area, was named for Mrs. Mary Marshall, wife of early tavern-owner Frank J. Marshall, who sett. here in 1846. City Pk. (pic.sports facils.) at S. edge of town contains Ore. Trl. Marker.

At 15. is eastern J. with US36.

SIDE TRIP: Take US36 (L) to Hiawatha, 11^m, one of Kans. prairie's most beautiful towns, dominated by Brown County Cth. (Gr.Rev.). Mt. Hope Cemetery at SE. edge of town contains unusual Davis Mem., consisting of vault, pavilion & 11 life-size portrait statues, erected for retired farmer John M. Davis & his wife.

Take US73-159 (R) from Hiawatha past 170-a. Mission L. (boat.f.pic.) at 12.5^m to Horton, 13^m, founded in 1886 after RR. came through.

US36 cont. (E) to Highland, 26^m, quiet town among green hills, whose Highland Jr. College is one of Kans.' oldest educational institutions, chartered in 1857. At 28^m is J. with St.136 leading (L) 0.5^m to one remaining bldg. of Iowa & Sac & Fox Mission, now mus. in St. hist. pk., east by Presb. Ch. in 1837. US36 cont. to Troy, 37^m, surrounded by 10,000 as. of apple orchards, which has annual Apple Blossom Festival in late Ap. & Apple Harvest Festival in early Sept.

At 27. on US75 is J. with graded Rd. leading (L) 0.5^m to Kickapoo Reserv., tract originally comprising over 76,000 as., but now less than tenth as large, assigned by treaty in 1832 to Kickapoo Inds. Today's reserv. inhabitants participate in ancestral rituals—New Year's, Spring, Corn & Harvest Dances, held 1st wk. in Jan., Ap., July & Oct. respectively (visitors welcome). 42.5. HOLTON, sett. by Free Staters from Milwaukee & during 1850's & 1860's sta. on Underground Railroad. 50. J. with improved Rd. leading (R) 0.5^m to 7,040-a. Potawatomi Reserv., Kans.' largest Ind. reserv., inhabited by tribe called Potawatomi of the Prairie, who came here in 1837 but still, unlike other Kans. Inds., have not lost all their identity through assoc. with white men. At 5^m on side Rd. is 70-a. Ind. Fairgrounds, site annually in July or Aug. of fair. At 72. is J. with US40 (see) with which US75 unites to TOPEKA, 75. (see US40).

Sec. 2: TOPEKA to KANS.-OKLA. LINE. 164.5.

US75 now traverses highland prairies of Osage Plains, so called because they were inhabited by Osage when white men came to Kans. At 18.5. is J. with US50N (see US50). 30.5. LYNDON, seat of Osage Cty., was founded in 1869. At 46. is J. with US50S (see US50), which unites with US75 for 2m. 61. BURLINGTON, is prosperous-looking town centering around cth. & long main st. Runt Pk., 1 block N. of Main St., contains unusual group of concrete statues depicting Runt, diabetic dog once locally famous; King Alcohol, skeleton with whiskey bottle; & Eve, being tempted by serpent. 83. YATES CENTER, important hay-shipping pt., was laid out in 1875 on crest of divide bet. Neosho & Verdigris Rs.

SIDE TRIP: Take US54 (L) from Yates to Iola, 20m, built around spacious Allen County Cth. square, its broad sts. lined with elms. Following discovery of natural gas here in 1890's, zinc smelter, acid plant & several smaller concerns were built; diminution of gas supply forced shut-down of industries. Today Iola has foundries, brickyard & cement factory, dress & overall factory, & milk condensery. US54 cont. (E) to Ft. Scott, 62.5m, on S. bank of Marmaton R., city of "jogging" sts. & fine old trees, with bldgs. older than Kans. sandwiched bet. modern structures. At J. of 3 RRs., it serves SE. Kans. as shipping & distribution pt. & manufacturing center. Its creameries & ice cream factories make it best known as dairying center, & it holds annually Kans. Dairy Show; it also has foundries & RR. shops, overall factory, brick plants & hydraulic cement plants. Town grew up around Ft. Scott, founded 1842. Garrison was withdrawn in 1855. Ft. was abandoned in 1855, but surrounding settlement carried on, trading with soldiers, settlers & Inds. Ft.'s officers' quarters became Free St. Hotel, hqs. for Capt. Jas. Montgomery & other determined anti-slavery leaders; term "Jayhawker" is said to have originated here when Pat Devlin, one of Montgomery's band, returning from raid on proslavery farmers, reported that he had been "jayhawking" & went on to explain: "The jayhawk is a bird in Ireland that catches small birds & bullies the life out of them like cats do mice." Name "Jayhawkers" came finally to be applied to all Kansans. After outbreak of Civil War, Ft. Scott again became military post. By beginning of 20th cent., Ft. Scott turned to trading & manufacturing. Carroll Plaza, Marmaton, Blair, Fenton & Lincoln Aves., is grass-grown square, once old ft.'s parade ground; on square & facing it are remaining ft. structures. Ft. Blair, near SE. entrance, is Civil War blockh. of sawed slabs, spiked. 103 Blair St., Ft. Scott Mus. (O.9-5), occupying 1 of 3 remaining officers' quarters (1842), contains souvenirs of ft., Ind. relics, & other pioneer articles. E. Nat. Ave., Ft. Scott Nat. Cemetery, est. 1862, covers 10 as. enclosed by stone fence.

At 102. on US75 is J. with St.39.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to Chanute, 12m, RR. center in rich agric. dist., named for Octave Chanute, RR. engineer & pioneer aviation authority. Town was formed in 1872. It has oil refineries, brick & cement plants, garment factories, hatcheries & poultry packing plant, & livestock sales pavilion.

121.5. NEODESHA (pronounced Nee-o-desh-ay'), at confluence of Verdigris & Fall Rs., is refining center for near-by oil fields opened in 1892. 136. INDEPENDENCE, seat of Montgomery Cty. & pioneer city of S. Kans. oil fields. Here in 1869, on 640 as. of Osage Reserv. bought from Osage Chief, Chetopah, Independent Town Co. built cluster of huts. Opening of reserv. to settlement in 1870, when Osage agreed to move to Okla., brought new inhabitants. Independence boomed after discovery of natural gas in 1881 & opening of 1st oil fields in 1903. Today it manufactures cement, plastics, alfalfa meal, washing machines, prefabricated buildings & other products. Riverside Pk. (pic.swim.f.) is 113-a. tract in canyon-like Verdigris R. valley with zoo, shelter Hs., athletic fields & swim. pool.

SIDE TRIP: Take US160 (L) from Independence to Cherryvale, 10m, founded by Kans. City, Leavenworth & S. Kans. RR. in 1871 & for some yrs. its terminus. Discovery of natural gas here in 1889 led to establishment of zinc smelter, brick plant & other industries, which operated until gas supply diminished about 1912. US160 cont. to Parsons, 31m, Mo.-Kans.-Tex. RR. division pt. with shops & roundhouses, shipping & distribution pt. for grain & dairy farmers & stockyard center.

164. CANEY began as trading pt. for Ind. Territory (Okla.) & became oil boom town when Mid-Continent oil fields were opened in 1890's.

SIDE TRIP: Take US166 (L) from Caney to Coffeyville, 20m, in sandy basin bordered by low hills & Verdigris R., leading industrial city, producing flour, stockfeeds, oil & gasoline, chemical products & pigments, roofing tile & structural steel, tank cars & machinery. Here in 1869 Jas. A. Coffey built house & trading post, around which settlement grew up when RR. came through following yr. Saloons, dancehall & gambling joints multiplied to serve visiting cowboys; riots, brawls & shootings prevailed. Dalton family sett. near-by in 1882 & on Oct. 5, 1892 occurred Dalton raid, during which Bob & Grat Dalton, having killed 3 citizens & Marshall Chas. T. Connolly, were themselves killed, along with fellow bandits Jack Moore & Wm. Powers, & their brother Emmett was wounded in gunfight following attempted bank robberies. Coffeyville boomed in 1903 with development of gas & oil fields in Kans. & near-by Okla. so that by 1910, with pop. of about 20,000, it ranked 6th among Kans. cities, & by 1915 had acquired its present leading position as an industrial city. It has been since 1930 center of org. labor activities in Kans. 8th St. at (E) edge of town, Forest Pk. has fairgrounds, pic. & campgrounds, athletic fields & children's playgrounds. Pfister Pk. contains swim. pool & tennis courts, scenic drives & airport. At 164.5, is Kans.-Okla. Line.

US 81—KANSAS

KANS.-NEB. LINE (13.5^m from Hebron, Neb.) (S) to KANS.-OKLA. LINE (16^m from Medford, Okla.). 237.5. US81

Via: Concordia, Salina, Newton, Wichita, & Wellington. RRs. parallel route at intervals. Accoms.: In larger towns.

US81 in N. Kans. crosses Blue Hills uplands, gently rolling, sown to corn, wheat & alfalfa, & after winding through rough pasture land, emerges on Great Bend Prairie, center of vast wheat belt, which it crosses to Wichita, & from latter, follows old Chisholm Trl. (S) to Okla. Line.

Sec. 1: KANS.-NEB. LINE to WICHITA. 175.

0. Kans.-Neb. Line. 5.5. J. with dirt Rd.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) 11^m to Pike-Pawnee St. Mon. (16 as swim.pic.) on mesa where on Sept. 29, 1806, Zebulon M. Pike is said to have persuaded Pawnee to raise U.S. flag (see US81, Neb. for site few miles away (NW) where same incident is said to have occurred).

13. BELLEVILLE, founded 1869 & named for settler's wife Arabelle Tutton.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take US36 (L) from Belleville to Washington, 30^m, agric. shipping & trading center founded in 1860's. At 41^m is J. with St.15E; take latter (L). Hanover, 45.5^m, founded 1869. City Pk. contains Pony Express Mon. St.15E cont. to former G. H. Hollenburgh Ranch H. (1857), 47^m, which served as stagecoach depot & Pony Express sta. on Ore. Trl., preserved in 7½-a. St. pk.

(B) Take US36 (R) from Belleville to Mankato, 33.5^m, market center of grain & livestock area. At 51^m is J. with US281.

Take latter (R) to Lebanon, 1.5^m, nearest town to Geographical Center of U.S., designated by marker in pasture of Meade's Ranch in White Rock Township 2^m NW.

US36 cont. to Smith Center, 63.5^m, Smith Center Lib. houses hist. mus. of pioneer relics. On E. Beaver Cr. near-by stands cabin in which Dr. Brewster Higley wrote (1873) words of song, "Home on the Range." At 64^m is J. with dirt Rd.

Take latter (R) 1.5^m to Site of Sitting Bull's Ft., where in 1867 Sitting Bull, having leagued many Midwestern Ind. tribes for last stand against whites, converted hollowed-out soapstone mound long used by Inds. as trading pt. into ft. On site now stands unfinished Plaster's Castle, built by Wm. A. Plaster, homesteader of 1872.

Phillipsburg, 93.5^m, & Norton, 127^m, were both platted in 1872. Oberlin Cemetery, 159.5^m contains granite Mon. Comm. Last Ind. Massacre in Kans., which occurred in 1878. Oberlin, 161^m, is a prosperous hillside city seat town.

Take US83 (R) from Oberlin to 92-a. Decatur Cty. St. Pk. (f.boat.camp.), 1^m, with 47-a. L. & 481-a. Oberlin Sappa St. Pk. (f.boat.swim.camp.), 1.5^m.

32.5. CONCORDIA, RR. J. on Republican R., is farming & dairying trade center with creameries & mills, sett. in 1860's. At 47.5, is eastern J. with US24.

SIDE TRIP: Take US24 (L) to Clay Center, 32^m, on Republican R., founded 1862, which ships hay, corn, wheat, dairy & poultry products.

At 49.5, is western J. with US24.

SIDE TRIP: Take US24 (R) to Beloit, 28^m, dating from 1868, with several small industries, of which flour milling is chief. At 44.5^m is dirt Rd.; turn (L) here to health resort of Wacona Springs (hotel.hospital), 45.5^m. Great Spirit Spring, largest of three, 50' in diameter, brims to level surface of rock mound 42' high separated by chasm from Solomon R.

65.5. MINNEAPOLIS, trading & shipping pt. for grain, livestock & poultry & dairy products.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take improved Rd. (R) from Minneapolis 3.5^m to Rock City, grotesquely eroded area with more than 50 balanced rocks, toadstools, pyramids, spheres, castle-like structures & other formations, thought to be unique in world.

(B) Take improved Rd. (L) from Minneapolis 6.5^m to 711-a. Ottawa Cty. St. Pk. (f.boat. swim.cabins) with 138-a. L.

US81 now crosses rolling prairies to SALINA, 87.5, at J. with US40 (see). At 104.5, is J. with improved Rd.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) 2^m to Coronado Heights (pic.shelter), southernmost of Smoky Hill (or Spanish) Buttes. Here Coronado is reputed to have camped during his search for Quivira in 1541; fragments of chain mail have been found near-by.

108. LINDSBORG, in valley of Smoky Hill R., its pop. composed almost entirely of persons of Swedish birth or descent, was sett. in 1868 by Chicago Swedish Co. & took its name from 1st syllable of surname of 3 members—S. P. Lindgren, S. A. Lindell, A. P. Linde—and from word "borg" (Swedish, castle). Its Bethany College Annual Messiah Festival has been drawing thousands of visitors during wk. from Palm Sunday to Easter since 1882. Bethany College (founded 1881), Swensson & 2nd Sts., is Swedish Luth. coed. institution occupying elm-shaded campus. Presser Hall (1927-30), whose auditorium, with pipe organ, seats 2,750, is scene of music festival. Old Main (1886), contains Bethany College Mus. of nat. hist., archaeology, ethnology & numismatic exhibits. W. W. Thomas Pavilion, designed in style of Swedish manor house, was Swedish pavilion at La. Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904; it houses Sch. of Art, which holds annual art exhibition during festival wk. & coll. of paintings by Kans. artists. Steeped gray stone Bethany Ch., org. 1868, was site of 1st "Messiah" concert.

SIDE TRIP: Take US4 (R) from Lindsborg 22^m to Kanapolis Dam & Reservoir (boat.f. swim.). Dam, 131' high & 15,810' long, with spillway 700' wide, impounds Smoky Hill R. to form L. 12^m long.

122. McPHERSON (see US50) is at J. with US50N (see US50). 150. NEWTON (see US50), is at J. with US50S (see US50). Southward are oil derricks & broad wheatfields.

175. WICHITA

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Info.: Kans. Motor Club, 153 N. Market St. Swim. at S. Riverside Pk. Nov., annual pageants & stock show.

Wichita, Kans.' largest city & chief manufacturing center, spreads over tablelands at confluence of Ark. & Little Ark. Rs. Its business dist., centering around Main St. & Douglas Ave. E. of Rs., more metropolitan than that of any other Kans. city, is dominated by 10-to-17-story office & department store bldgs. N. & S. extend tree-shaded residential avenues. To E. is low-income residential sec. of frame houses. NE. are stockyards, RR. tracks, flour mills & grain elevators, oil tanks & refineries. Farther E., beyond drainage canal which bisects city, are exclusive residential secs. interspersed with pks., cemeteries & college campuses. On tongue of land bet. Ark. & Little Ark. Rs. is Riverside dist., terminating in Sim & Central Riverside Pks., latter containing one of rare stands of virgin timber remaining in this part of Kans. W. of Ark. R., repeated pattern of lawns, houses & neighborhood shopping dists. is broken by more college campuses. Entire terrain is nearly flat, varying only few feet from bed of Ark. R. to summit of so-called College Hill; it was, until after 1920, almost devoid of shade, but has since, in course of vigorous campaign of tree-planting, become thickly forested. Despite its industrial concentration, Wichita is noticeably clean & smokefree city, because it uses gas for fuel.

City got its name from Wichita Inds. who, having been driven into Tex. by Osage's invasion of Kans. returned to their native reg. in 1863 & built village near mouth of Little Ark. Jas. R. Mead, aided by Jesse Chisholm, half-breed Cherokee, set up trading post near-by in 1864; Wm. Greiffenstein set up another. In 1865 Mead sent Chisholm into SW. with wagonload of goods to exchange for buffalo hides; returning, Chisholm encountered storm but pressed on, his heavily laden wagon cutting deep tracks, & thus blazed Chisholm Trl., up which herd of 2,400 Tex. longhorns was driven in 1867 on way to U.P. RR. at Abilene. Removal of Wichita Inds. to Okla. in this yr. cleared way for growth of white settlement around Mead's trading post. Munger H. & "First & Last Chance Saloon" were built to accommodate herd-driving cowboys from Tex. In 1870 Wichita was platted & inc. When in 1872 RR. was extended to Wichita, it boomed as new "cow capital." Shops, saloons, & dance-halls were hastily built; scouts, Inds., gamblers, cowboys, Mex. ranchers & homesteaders milled in sts. Rev. Luther Hart Platt, known as "fiddlin' preacher," strove to improve moral tone by singing hymns in saloons & then when crowd had gathered, preaching sermon. Property values soared as settlers flocked in; by 1880 Chisholm Trl. was virtually oversown with wheat. Shifting of cattle trl. farther W. to Dodge City brought period of decline; in 1886 land values crashed. Within few yrs., however, settlers who had fenced off prairie more than atoned for Wichita's loss of cattle trade. Wichita took on new lease of life as trade & milling center; soon lines of wheat-laden wagons blocks long were drawn up before mills. Where cattle had built dance halls & gambling houses, wheat built churches & schools: 3 colleges were est. bet. 1888 & 1898 & Wichita began to foster art, music & literature.

By 1900 pop. exceeded 24,000; thereafter, it all but doubled in each succeeding decade. Discovery of oil in so-called "door-step pool" near city shortly after World War I brought flood of wealth which built huge business structures & palatial residences; there are now 5 major pools within 10 miles of city, & although Wichita's oil boom days ended in 1930's, petroleum & natural gas still yield steady income. During 1920's Jake Moellendick invested oil earnings in small plant & began building "Laird Swallow," one of best commercial planes of time; Wichita's business men built factory after factory until by middle 1920's, 15 had been erected, which in 1928 produced 25% of all country's output of planes. Depression of 1929 brought crash, but 4 companies survived. During World War II, aviation industry boomed again, rising to peak employment of 60,000; Wichita's aircraft plants together turned out 10% of nation's planes. Meanwhile, other industries expanded, especially flour-milling & meat-packing. Important industries today incl. manufacture of gasoline-burning household appliances & oil field equipment, farm machinery & implements, textiles & leather goods, food products & bldg. materials.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) 920 Back Bay Blvd., Old Munger H. (1868), believed to be Wichita's 1st house, built by E. S. Munger, justice of peace, postmaster & innkeeper, who made 1st plat of Wichita. (2) Douglas Ave. E. of Santa Fe St., Carrie A. Nation Mem. Fountain, comm. militant prohibitionist who raided Carey Hotel barroom with her hatchet in 1900. (3) Hist. Mus. of Sedgwick Cty. Pioneer Soc., exhibiting early pictures, Ind. weapons & utensils & pioneer relics, is on 2nd fl. of Mun. Forum, Water & English Sts., whose auditorium, seating 4,800, houses conventions, political rallies & expositions. (4) Adj. is Exposition Bldg., whose Arcadia Theatre is used for concerts & road shows. Other pub. bldgs. incl. (5) Sedgwick County Cth. (1890), Central Ave. & Market St.; (6) U.S. P. Zoo (O.9-5), River Blvd. & Nims Ave. (16) 21st & Hillside Ave., Mun. Univ. of Wichita, overlooking city from 117-a. campus, is outgrowth of Fairmount College, founded by Congr. Ch. in 1895. It became mun. institution in 1926 by referendum vote. Science Hall houses natural science mus. & Ark. Valley Hist. Soc. colls. (17) Univ. & Hiram Aves., Friends Univ., founded 1898 by Soc. of Friends, occupies 20-a. tree-shaded campus. Adm. Bldg. houses Mus. which contains mineral & fossil specimens, moundbuilder & Ind. artifact coll., Henry Wear & Chilson-Hoyt colls. of African relics & coll. of Aztec & Inca pottery & carving.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take St.15 (L) from Wichita to Wichita Mun. Airport, 3.5m, one of country's best, from & to which B29's were flown in World War II & around which cluster many of Wichita's aircraft plants.

(B) Take US54 (L) from Wichita to J. with improved Rd., 18m.

Turn (L) 1.5m on latter to Santa Fe L. (swim.boat.f.cabins.pic.), where sailing regattas are held.

Angusta, 20m, surrounded by rich farm lands & productive oil fields, refines petroleum & manufactures automobile trlrs. Eldorado, 37m, surrounded by for. of derricks, is in center of Kans.' largest oil fields. Its business dist. is mixture of sturdy plain limestone bldgs. of pioneer days & ornate structures built since oil boom. Founded in 1860's, it developed as trading point & cattle town. Oil was discovered near-by in 1915. Today 2 large & many small refineries operate here.

Take St.13 (L) 5m from Eldorado to L. Eldorado (pic.boat.f.).

Eureka, 69.5m, founded soon after Civil War, developed as stopping pt. on early cattle trls. &, with coming of RR., as shipping center. After 1915, it became busy oil distributing pt. US54 cuts across bluestem-grass Flint Hills reg., where great herds of cattle are pastured. At 92.5m is J. with improved Rd.

Take latter (L) 5m to Woodson Cty. St. Pk. (445 as.f.boat.camp.swim.) in so-called Kans. Ozarks, surrounding 179-a. L.

Yates Center, 104m (see US75) is at J. with US75 (see).

(C) Take US54 (R) from Wichita to Kingman, 43m, founded 1872, on Ninnescah R. in good farming country. At 52m is improved Rd. leading (R) 0.5m to 1,562-a. Kingman Cty. St. Pk. (1,562 as.f.boat.swim.camp.) with 80-a. L. At 74.5m is gravel Rd. leading (L) 1m to St. Fish Hatchery, with aquarium, & St. Pheasant Farm, with mus. coll. of mounted birds & animals. Pratt, 77m, farmers' town, has smart shops & hotels, though overalls are usual costume. Founded in 1884, it is wheat-shipping pt. & site of Rock I. RR. repair shops.

Sec. 2: WICHITA, KANS. to KANS.-OKLA. LINE. 62.5.

At 21. is J. with St.55, leading (L) to Belle Plaine, 3m, on outskirts of which is Bartlett Arboretum (16 as.), with more than 4,000 varieties of trees, shrubs & plants. Here in Ap. 200,000 tulips bloom. 32.5. WELLINGTON, old-fashioned plains town gradually assuming modern aspect, was founded in 1871 at pt. where travellers on Chisholm Trl. often paused to rest their teams. It went through real estate boom in 1880's & in 1930's felt quickening effects of oil discoveries in vic.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take US160 (L) from Wellington to Winfield, 23m, founded by town company org. in 1870 on land leased from Chief Chetopah of Osage for $6. On site, Coronado & his band are believed to have camped during their Quivira expedition of 1541, as indicated by unearthing of rusty piece of sword & other Sp. implements. R. crossing was later used by travellers on Santa Fe Trl. Today Winfield is supported by agric., oil & manufacturing. 7th Ave. & College St., St. John's College (est.1893) is Luth. Ch. institution; Adm. Bldg. contains hist. mus. College St. & Warren Ave., Southwestern College (est.1885), Meth. Episc. Ch. coed. institution, occupies 35-a. campus. At 37m is St.15; take latter (R) here to Dexter, 44m, one-street village at whose S. limits is Helium Plant, built in 1927. Helium, nonflammable & less than a seventh as heavy as air, was discovered here for first time in natural gas in 1903.

(B) Take US160 (R) from Wellington through wheat fields & grazing lands. Argonia, 21.5m, inc. in 1885, claims to have had 1st woman mayor in U.S.—Mrs. Susanna Salter, elected 1887. Harper, 37.5m, wheat town, bustles with activity during harvest early in July. Medicine Lodge, 72.5m, trim little town overlooking timbered valley of Medicine R., laid out in 1873, is wheat & cattle country trading & shipping pt., & has gypsum mill for plaster. Once every 5 yrs. since 1927 it has presented Peace Treaty Pageant comm. Medicine Lodge Peace Treaty negotiated here by U.S. Gov. representatives & chiefs of 5 plains tribes in Oct. 1867. Site was believed by Inds. of reg. to be under protection of Gt. Spirit; & representatives of all SW. tribes met in peace at medicine lodge here, to fast, pray & bathe. Here Oct. 1867, 15,000 Inds. met with 600 Gov. representatives in what is said to be largest gathering of Inds. & whites in history of U.S. Council meetings were held in large tent on R. bank. After 2 wks. negotiations treaty was signed, providing that area S. of Kans.' S. boundary should be Ind. Territory "as long as grass grows & waters run." Town founded shortly after by white settlers depended chiefly on cattle business. Robbery of Medicine Valley Bank & killing of its president & cashier in 1884 by gang led by John Henry Brown, former companion of "Bully the Kid," was followed by lynching of culprits. Here in 1890 "Sockless Jerry" Simpson, Populist leader, campaigned successfully for election to Congress against Jas. R. Hollowell, whom he attempted to discredit when they appeared on same platform with statement: "My opponent wears silk stockings," whereupon Hollowell stooped to pull up Simpson's trouser leg, revealing bare ankle, & retorted, "My opponent wears no socks at all."

N. end Main St., Peace Treaty Mon. (1929) is marble statue of frontiersman & Ind. clasping hands. E. side of town on US160, Mem. Peace Pk. is wooded area with recr. facilis, network of foot trls. & natural amphitheatre in which Peace Treaty Pageant is held. Fowler Ave. & Oak St., Home of Carrie Nation, is marked by bronze plaque. Mrs. Nation's first pub. demonstration occurred in Medicine Lodge in 1899, when she attempted unsuccessfully to storm saloon, brandishing big black umbrella.

60. CALDWELL, on almost treeless plain, surrounded by scattered oilwells, draws trade from both Kans. & Okla. Building of branch line by Santa Fe from Wichita in 1880 made it cattle shipping pt. & Caldwell's saloons & gambling houses welcomed spurred & sombreroed cowboys. Early in Sept. 1893, following Pres. Cleveland's proclamation opening Cherokee Strip to homesteaders, thousands of covered wagons converged here, until 15,000 "boomers" were gathered, packing sts., until at noon of Sept. 16, with firing of gun, "Cherokee Run" across border into Okla. began. At 62.5. is OKLA. LINE.

US 20—NEBRASKA

NEB.-IOWA LINE (across Mo. R. from Sioux City, Ia.) (W) to NEB.-WYO. LINE (23^m from Lusk, Wyo.). 439. US20

Via: Winnebago, Blair, Valentine, Cody, Chadron, Harrison. RRs. parallel route bet. South Sioux City & O'Neill & bet. O'Neill & Harrison. Bus serv. bet. Page & Crawford. Accom.: In larger towns.

US20 runs through undulating prairie farming reg. of E. Neb., across vast hay fields of central plateau, along edge of treeless sand hills reg. of NW. Neb. & into pine & butte-dotted mt. reg. extending into Wyo. & S.D.

Sec. 1: NEB.-IOWA LINE to CHADRON. 378.

From (S) limits of Sioux City, Ia., toll bridge crosses Mo. R., which is NEB.-IOWA LINE, 0.

At 0.5. SOUTH SIOUX CITY, overlooking Mo. R. from wooded bluffs, was inc. in 1889. At 2.5. is J. with US73-77.

SIDE TRIP: (L) 4^m to Dakota City, quiet country town platted in 1855-56. Luth. Ch. (1860) was first of this denomination in Neb. Around Winnebago at 17.5^m extends 97,497-a. Winnebago Ind. Reserv.; permission to visit may be obtained at Winnebago Ind. Agency, 18.5^m. Winnebago, originally from Wis., migrated here in 1864. At Howard Pk., (R) 0.5^m from Ind. Agency, is held annual Winnebago Ind. Powwow (early Aug.). SIDE TRIP: Take latter (R) 8^m to Ponca, one of Neb.'s oldest towns, platted in 1856.

Turn (R) 3^m from Ponca to Ponca St. Pk. (260 as.pic.camp.shelters;lookouts.foot & bridle trls.), for.-covered, overlooking Mo. R.

At 13^m on St.12, J. with unimproved Rd.

Take latter (R) 8^m to so-called Ionia Volcano, steep bluff by Mo. R., whose clays & shales contain iron sulphide, which produces heat & therefore smoky vapor when acted on by water.

60.5^m Crofton (see US81) is at J. with US81 (see).

40. LAUREL, is at J. with St.15.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to Wayne, 17^m, laid out in 1881, where in 1891 was est. Neb. St. Teachers College, occupying 51-a. campus.

58. J. with US81 (see). US20 passes through several small rural trading centers on way to O'NEILL at 123., named for Irish immigrant John J. O'Neill, who helped lead armed Fenian invasion of Canada & after imprisonment for infraction of neutrality laws, founded here the 1st of 3 Irish-Amer. colonies. O'Neill is shipping pt. for butter, livestock, hay & grain; it has pk., playgrounds, & fairgrounds.

US20 now traverses vast hay-producing reg. The towns—among them ATKINSON at 143. & BASSETT at 175.—are chiefly hay-shipping pts. Bassett's blood-red stucco Whiton Hotel was once hangout of fast-shooting, hard-riding, hard-drinking Pony Boys, outlaws led by David C. ("Doc") Middleton & Kid Wade; Wade was caught E. of Bassett & hanged by vigilantes in 1884. 183. LONG PINE is at boundary bet. Central & Mt. Standard Time Zones. 192. AINSWORTH has log cabin mus. of old relics on its cth. sq. Through level, sandy, treeless country, US20 cont. to J. with US83 at 232.5.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) to J. with dirt Rd. Turn (R) here past chain of Ls. in sand-hill reg. in most of which f. is permitted, but not h.; almost all are within Valentine Nat. Wildlife Refuge (see below). 10^m Pelican L. & 12^m Beaver L., latter within Rat & Beaver L. Recr. Grounds; accoms. & supplies are avail. Marsh L. at 16^m is largest in Neb. US83 cont. (S) into 66,448-a. Valentine Nat. Wild Life Refuge, abounding in bird & animal life.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.7 (R) from Valentine 2^m to St. Fish Hatchery, est. 1912. St.7 cont. to Niobrara Game Reserve (18,719 as.O.daily.8-2.guides), comprising picturesque site of Niobrara Military Reserv., est. 1879 to control Sioux Inds. on Rosebud Reserv. in S.D., which was set aside after 1908 as nat. reserve to perpetuate Amer. bison & other wildlife incl. antelope, bobcat, beaver, civet cat, coyote, deer, elk, mink, muskrat, possum, raccoon, skunk, weasel & numerous birds. On site of old Ft. Niobrara, near main office bldg., is small Mus. of nat. hist. exhibits. Truck & horse trls. make most of refuge accessible. Niobrara R. flowing through N. sec. has carved out 100' banks.

For nearly 100m, US20 now runs through sand-hill country, treeless & sparsely sett.

275. CODY, resembling movie set for western thriller, is at J. with country Rd.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) 10m to Boiling Springs Ranch, one of famous ranches of the early cattle era, whose Boiling Springs, E. of ranch bldgs., are one of reg.'s natural wonders.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.27 (L) from Gordon to Home of "Old Jules" Sandoz, 25m, well-known because of Mari Sandoz's spirited biography of her father. Sandoz was pioneer horticulturist of sand-hills reg.

342.5. RUSHVILLE & 355. HAY SPRINGS are farmers' trading centers.

SIDE TRIP: Take gravel Rd. (L) 7m from Hay Springs to Walgren L. Recr. Grounds (130 as.camp.pic.f.swim.).

Country through which US20 passes now becomes semi-mountainous, with yellowish hills & buttes & occasional pine trees.

376. CHADRON is typical western college town at edge of White R. Valley, surrounded by buttes & canyons. It has RR. shops, warehouses, & storage yards; industries incl. flour milling, oil refining, & processing of dairy products. Chadron, named for Fr.-Ind. "squaw man" who lived & trapped in reg., was sett. in 1880's; in its early yrs., cowboys often came into town to shoot up the saloons. Chadron St. Teachers College (est.1911), (S) edge of town, occupies 213-a. campus.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.19 (L) from Chadron to Chadron St. Pk. (800 as.inn.cabins.pic.swim.f.boat.horses.), 8.5m, Neb.'s first St. pk., an area rich in natural rock formations, towering pines, deep canyons & high bluffs. St.19 cont. (S) to 59m Alliance in reg. raising seed potatoes. Alliance was sett. in 1888. City Pk., one block E. of 9th St., contains Sod. H. Mus., copy of pioneer houses in vic., housing pioneer relics. Panhandle Stampede, held annually last wk. in June, is rodeo characteristic of Old West. At 97m is J. with US26 (see US30).

Sec. 2: CHADRON to NEB.-WYO. LINE. 61.

US20 now heads into rough country dotted with pines. 3. TRUNK BUTTE (L) is large natural formation whose shape suggested its name. 24. CROW BUTTE, according to legend, once served as a retreat for a band of Crow Inds. hard pushed by a Sioux war party. 25.5. CRAWFORD, on White R. bet. two ranges of Pine Ridge, trading center for stock ranches & irrigated farms of vic., was founded in 1885 & in early yrs., was frontier boom town, wide-open, with flourishing red-light dist. City Pk. (golf.swim.racetracks.pic.) was once part of Ft. Robinson Military Reserv. (see below).

SIDE TRIP: Take St.2 (R) from Crawford, winding into Neb. Badlands, 21m to Toadstool Pk., field of gigantic stone mushrooms, produced by erosion of soft clay from under stratum of sandstone & gumbo soil.

29. FT. ROBINSON, unit of U.S. Army Remount Serv., raising horses & mules in its fenced pastures, lies in NE. cor. of 36,000-a. Ft. Robinson Military Reserv., est. in 1874, immediately before last great Ind. uprising. Ft. is cupped in deep valley of Pine Ridge; behind it rise 1,000' cliffs. In old post Cemetery lie soldiers, civilians, & Inds. of Ind. war period.

US20 ascends Smiley Canyon to top of Pine Ridge, & then reaches HARRISON at 52., ranch center.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.29 (L) from Harrison 23m to Agate Springs Fossil Beds where Niobrara R. has eroded Box Butte Plateau to depth of 400', exposing rich deposit of Miocene fossils. Cook Mus. of Nat. Hist. contains many of finds. Fossils of prehist. rhinoceros, dinohyus, moropus, camels, alligators, hawks & oreodonts have been found.

At 61. is NEB.-WYO. LINE.

US 30—NEBRASKA

NEB.-IOWA LINE (11^m from Mo. Valley, Iowa) (W) to NEB.-WYO. LINE (0.8^m from Pine Bluffs, Wyo.). 447.5. US30

Via: Fremont, Columbus, Grand Island, Kearney, N. Platte, Ogallala, Sidney. RR. parallels route throughout, busses bet. Fremont & Neb.-Wyo. Line. Accoms.: At short intervals.

US30, chief E-W. hy. across Neb., closely follows Mormon Trl. for two-thirds of its way, roughly parallels Ore. Trl. for one-third. Former route, following N. bank of Platte R. (W) from Grand I., was first blazed in 1813 by fur traders traveling (E) from Ft. Astoria, Ore. Mormons on way (W) to Utah in 1847 were first large org. group to take it. Ore. Trl. along S. bank of Platte was most traveled route in major period of Ore. emigration, following 1841, & became route of Ben Holladay's stage line (1859), Pony Express (1860-61), & U.P. RR. (1868). Terrain is almost unbroken prairie with steady rise from E. to W.

Sec. 1: NEB.-IOWA LINE to GRAND ISLAND. 136.

At 0., US30 crosses Mo. R., which is Neb.-Iowa Line, on Abraham Lincoln Mem. Bridge (toll). BLAIR, 3., sett. beginning in 1869 by Scands., is trade center for rich agric. area. N. of town is Dana College, 0.5^m, outgrowth of Trinity Seminary, founded 1884 to train ministry of United Evangelical Luth. Ch. FREMONT, 25.5., lies on N. bank of wide, muddy, bluff-fringed Platte R. RR. center & distributing pt. for rich Elkhorn Valley farmlands, it has agric. processing & other industries & is hybrid seed corn & soybean center & cattle market. First claim stake was driven on town site, named for western pathfinder, John C. Frémont, on Aug. 26, 1856. Frémont Town Assoc. offered 2 lots to anyone erecting hewn log house & offered to furnish timber. Pawnee, resenting settlers' inroads on their timber, demanded place be evacuated, but were intimidated with aid of soldiers from Omaha. Settlement's first yrs. were time of near-starvation, but gradually prosperity came from trade with travelers. In 1866, U.P. RR. came through. Beginning to thrive, Fremont acquired flour mills, canning factory, sand & gravel works. Midland College, 720 E. 9th St., moved here from Atchison, Kans., in 1919, was founded in 1887 & is conducted by United Luth. Ch.

SIDE TRIP: Take US77 (L) from Fremont to Wahoo, 21^m, whose name was derived from Ind. word for red berry bushes. Wahoo's chief industries process farm products & produce farm equipment. Luther College, N. end Washington St., is Luth. Ch. Jr. College. US77 cont. (S) to Lincoln, 51.5^m (see US6) at J. with US6 (see).

U. P. PITTS RECR. GROUNDS, 29.5., & adj. FREMONT RECR. GROUNDS (SE), together comprise 307 as. with 15 sandpit Ls. (camp.pic.f.). SCHUYLER, 55., was named for Schuyler Colfax, Vice-Pres. of U.S. in 1869, when town was platted. COLUMBUS, 73., founded in 1856 by group from Columbus, Ohio, developed as supply pt. for wagon caravans on westward trl. It has several industrial plants & is hqs. for Loup R. Pub. Power Dist. Project, sometimes called "little TVA," extending 200^m across central Neb. along lower valley of Loup R., with 35^m canal tapped by two power houses. Columbus is at J. with US81 (see). At DUNCAN, 81., is J. with gravel Rd. leading (L) to Kuenzli Mus. (sm.fee), 2.5^m, developed by Swiss immigrant & veterinarian Dr. Frank Kuenzli, which exhibits curious articles from all parts of world; reptiles, octopi, Australian birds & butterflies, pioneer & Ind. relics, military equipment. 114. CENTRAL CITY, busy community served by two RRs., grew up around sta. of U.P. named Lone Tree, for lone giant cottonwood on bank of Platte R. which became travelers' landmark.

136. GRAND ISLAND

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 315½ N. Locust St. Accoms.: Plentiful. Swm.: The Pier, 500 S. Pine St.

Spreading over Platte R. bottomlands, Grand I. is RR. distribution pt. & manufacturing center which owes its prosperity largely to its position near center of St. & Nation—especially its popularity as convention town & as horse & mule market. Grand I. was laid out by U.P. RR. in 1866, assuming name of earlier settlement founded in 1857 on R. bank (S) opp. island known to Fr.-Can. trappers as "La Grand Ile." Early settlers of latter place, mostly Germans, thrived by selling farm products to west-bound travelers. When RR. came through, stores & houses were removed to new townsites by tracks. By 1880's Grand I. had become prosperous enough to boast horse-&mule-power streetcar system. Toward end of same decade, when soil of vic. was found adaptable for sugar-beet culture, one of first beet-sugar factories in U.S. was est. here: Amer. Crystal Sugar Co. Plant (guided tours during season, late summer & early fall), end of W. Koenig St. Livestock Commission Co. Market, E. 4th St. bet. C.B. & Q. & U.P. tracks, is meeting place for mule buyers of Deep South & mule raisers of NW.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Take US281 (L) from Grand I. to J. with St.70, 1.5m; turn (R) on this to Stolley St. Pk. (43 as.pic.no camp.), 2.5m, comprising grove set out by German immigrant Wm. Stolley, who arrived in 1857 & in 1860 planted here in sandy shallows of Platte R. 6,000 trees of more than 50 varieties. For protection from Inds., Stolley built log Ft. Independence, which stood 150 yards (S) from well-preserved Farm Home of Stolley Family. Other extant bldgs. incl. Frame Schoolh., first in Hall Cty., & Log H. with orig. slough-grass roof.

(B) Take St.2 (R) from Grand I. to J. with gravelled Rd., 5m.

Take latter (R) to U.S. Central Monitoring Sta. of Fed. Communications Commission, est. here in 1930 near geographical center of U.S. to check frequency of both Nat. & foreign broadcasting stas. 60-a. grounds are dotted with antennae.

Ravenna, 30m, first called Beaver Cr., was later renamed for city in Italy, & some of its older streets have Ital. names; first settler took up residence in 1874. Broken Bow, 80m, platted in 1882, is shipping center for livestock, hay, & grain & has cigar & broom factories. At Merna, 89m, is J. with St.80.

Take latter (R) 10m to Victoria Springs St. Pk. (60 as.cabins.pic playgrounds.boat.swim. f.), comprising mineral springs, groves, & L. No two of many springs, rising along Victoria Cr., are chemically alike; waters are impregnated with chemicals from different sandstones. Within pk. are two log cabins built in 1873.

At Halsey, 132m, is J. with gravel Rd. Take latter (L) 1m to Bessey Div. of Neb. Nat. For. (90,388 as.pic.swim.sports facil.), est. 1902 here in sand-hills reg. Bessey Div., with 115,638-a. Niobrara Div. (NW), comprises largest man-made for. in U.S., incl. some 27,000 as. of plantations of coniferous trees.

Sec. 2: GRAND I. to NORTH PLATTE. 136.5.

US30 cont. (W) along N. bank of Platte R. through several small towns. 42. KEARNEY (pronounced Kar-nee), named for famous frontier gov. outpost est. here in 1848 to guard travelers on Ore. Trl. Town was platted in 1871 at J. of Burlington & Mo. (now C.B. & Q.) & U.P. RRs. Efforts of promoters to have it made capital of Neb. &, afterwards, of U.S. came to nothing; & Kearney, after boom period in 80's & 90's, became agric. trading center with several small industrial plants. 3 blocks off US30 is Harmon Pk. (pic.rock gardens.swim.open-air theater). At W. end of town is Neb. St. Teachers College.

SIDE TRIP: Take St.10 (L) from Kearney to Ft. Kearney St. Pk. (80 as.camp.pic.), 7m, where still are rifle pits & other earthworks. Ft. was begun here in 1848 & by 1852 comprised two blockhs., powder & guard hs., lookout & officers' quarters. It was abandoned in 1871, when no longer needed to protect wagon trains from Ind. attacks.

45.5. J. with gravel Rd. leading (R) 0.5m to Cotton Mill L. Recr. Grounds (160 as. lodge.camp.trlrs.pic.f.), with 50-a. L. 77. LEXINGTON, is offspring of trading post & Pony Express sta. on S. bank of Platte R. on Ore. Trl., whose settlers moved across R. here when RR. came through & named their new town for Battle of Lexington. 91. COZAD, in sec. noted for alfalfa & hay fields, has several feed & alfalfa mills & ships quantities of hay. City pk. of GOTHENBURG, 101., contains Fur-Trading Post erected in 1854 near Ft. McPherson (see below) on Ore. Trl. & used at various times as Pony Express sta., overland stage sta., & ranch bldg. (moved here in 1931). At MAXWELL, 123.5., is J. with Ft. McPherson Nat. Cemetery Rd.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) across Platte R. to Ft. McPherson Nat. Cemetery, 3.5m, where in 1863, Gov. ft. was built in reserv. 16m sq. on bluffs to guard overland stagecoach travelers from Ind. attacks. Burial ground became nat. cemetery in 1873, to which bodies were transferred from other frontier posts after Ind. wars. Ft. McPherson itself was abandoned in 1887.

US30 crosses N. Fork of Platte R. to N. PLATTE, 136.5., RR. town & trading center on narrow delta at Fork of Plattes, on boundary of Central & Mt. Time Zones. Here, Nov. 9, 1866, Peniston & Andrew J. Miller opened trading post near U.P. RR. construction camp. First newspaper, "Pioneer on Wheels," was begun same yr., printed in box car. Within few months, there were more than 300 bldgs.

& pop. exceeded 2,000—consisting chiefly of RR. laborers, gamblers & “toughs.” Removal westward of RR. construction camp in June 1867, reduced pop. to about 300 & number of bldgs. to 20; everything was moved that could be. But U.P. picked N. Platte as division pt. & built shops, roundh. & hotel. Law & order was est. by vigilante action in 1870, mun. gov. was formed in 1875. Its chief growth has followed settlement of W. Neb. sand-hills reg. after 1904. Mem. Pk., Tabor Ave. bet. E. 2nd & E. 4th Sts., contains Log Cabin Mus., housing pioneer relics. Other pioneer articles are exhibited in 2nd-fl. Relic Room of Lincoln County Cth., Jeffers St. bet. E. 3rd & E. 4th Sts. Cody Pk. (pic.f.athletic facils.), N. Jeffers St., 4 blocks N. of 12th St., 120-a. landscape riverside area, was named for Wm. Frederick (Buffalo Bill) Cody, long town's most noted citizen, who came here with his family in 1870, when already nationally famous as scout, guide & buffalo hunter.

Sec. 3: N. PLATTE to NEB.-WYO. LINE. 175.

At 2. is J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) 0.5^m to Scouts' Rest Ranch, former home of “Buffalo Bill” Cody. OGALLALA, 50.5., was named for Ogallala (also spelled Ogallala), band of Teton Sioux. Ogallala developed as one of 1st cattle shipping pts. on U.P. RR. when Texas cowboys began arriving with their herds in 1867. For nearly 3 decades, its history was typical cowtown's, peppered with shooting frays.

SIDE TRIP: Take US26 (R) from Ogallala, following Mormon Trl. along N. bank of N. Platte R. & paralleling Ore. Trl., which ran along S. bank. At 2.5^m is J. with St.61.

Take latter (R) 7^m to Kingsley Dam, world's 2nd largest earth-filled dam, costing about $36,000,000, which impounds N. Platte to form L. McConaughy, 23^m long, largest body of water in Neb.

Oshkosh, 43.5m, seat of Garden Cty., first sett. in 1855. Bridgeport, 90.5m, holds annual celebration known as Camp Clarke Days (1st wk. in Sept.), comm. Camp Clarke across N. Platte R. where soldiers were stationed to guard Camp Clarke Bridge used from 1876 to 1900. Bridgeport is at J. with St.19 (see US20).

Take St.88 (L) from Bridgeport to Cth. Rock & Jail Rock, 5m, two weathered sandstone buttes of unusual formation.

US26 cont. (NW) from Bridgeport to Chimney Rock, 105m, hist. landmark on Ore. Trl., described by almost all early explorers, conical mound of reddish sandstone rising to narrow 150' pinnacle. Here is J. with St.86.

Take latter (L) to Gering, 20m, RR. division pt. with beet-sugar refinery, packing plant & stockyards, dating back to 1887, which celebrates Ore. Trl. Days yearly in wk. in which July 17 falls; July 17, 1830 was date on which first wagon train to cross plains to Rockies camped here. St.29 leads (L) from Gering to Wildcat Hills Recr. Grounds (1,000 as.camp.pic.), 10^m, extremely rugged, wooded tract of cliffs & canyons, which is St. game reserve containing elk, deer, antelope & buffalo. From Gering, St.86 cont. to Scott's Bluff Nat. Mon. (2,292 as.no pic.or camp.), 22.5m, comprising first butte of dominating height to greet plains-weary eyes of Ore. Trl. travelers, named for fur trader Hiram Scott, abandoned by his companions to die here in 1828. First white men known to have seen Scott's Bluff (4,662'), which rises 750' above N. Platte R. plain, were Rbt. Stuart & companions, bearing dispatches to John Jacob Astor from Ft. Astoria, Ore., in 1812-13. Past it came first wagon train to follow Ore. Trl., in 1830; it subsequently became landmark for thousands of emigrants. After 1852, when Mitchell Pass, which divides bluff in half, was excavated for traffic, they passed through it, as did riders of Pony Express in 1860-61; & through it was strung first transcontinental telegraph line. To protect lines of communication, Ft. Mitchell was est. NW. of bluff in 1864. At base of bluff is Ore. Trl. Mus. containing relics, water-color drawings, dioramas & geological exhibits. Automobile rd. (toll) leads (R) from mus., passing through 3 tunnels, to summit, 1.5^m, where observation pt. serves to locate hist. landmarks & to trace route of Ore. Trl. St. 86 cont. to Horse Cr. Treaty Mon., 41m, on site where in Sept., 1851, gathered more than 10,000 Inds. of plains & foothill tribes from Arkansas R. to Canada, in council with Fed. Gov. representatives, to agree on reserv. boundaries & privileges of whites in crossing them.

From J. with St.86 (see above), US26 cont. (N) across N. Platte R. & then turns (E) to Scottsbluff, 132m, whose site in 1899 was an irrigated alfalfa field, is now chief trading center for N. Platte Valley area of Panhandle Neb. & E. Wyo., locally known as “America's Valley of the Nile,” which produces alfalfa, sugar beets, beans, certified potatoes, all grown with aid of irrigation from several storage reservoirs. Within 30^m radius are 7 beet sugar refineries. Packing, canning, & dairying are leading industries. Mitchell, 141.5m, which has sugar factory & markets honey, is site of Scottsbluff Cty. Fairgrounds; annual fair here is one of Neb.'s leading events. At 155.5^m is Neb.-Wyo. Line (32^m from Torrington, Wyo.).

60.5. PONY EXPRESS MON. 64. ORE. TRL. MARKER. 90. CHAPPELL, in Neb.'s largest wheat-raising area, was named for U.P. RR. official John Chappell, who laid out town. Chappell Mem. Gallery has coll. of etchings & Jap. prints. 117. SIDNEY, named for U.P.'s N.Y. solicitor, Sidney Dillon, lies in Lodgepole Valley. Town developed around Ft. Sidney, est. here to protect RR. workers against Ind. attacks & maintained until 1894; surviving remains incl. Ammunition Storeh., now part of residence, 2 blocks S. of J. of Burlington & U.P. tracks; two Barracks, now dwellings, one block S. of US30 on 6th Ave.; & adj. latter, large well-preserved Officers' Quarters. Sidney, being nearer Black Hills than any other RR. pt. of consequence when 1876-77 gold rush began, did roaring business in its stores, dance-halls & saloons. Shootings were so frequent that U.P. is said to have warned through passengers not to step off train if they wanted to leave Sidney alive. 131. PT. OF ROCKS, once observation post for soldiers protecting RR. builders, affords broad view of craggy, pine-dotted country. Trade center of extensive potato-growing reg., 154. KIMBALL is noted for quantities of wheat it ships. 175. NEB.-WYO. LINE.

1.5. OMAHA

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Info.: C. of C., 14th & Farnam Sts., Accoms.: Plentiful. Swim. at pub. pks. Sept.; Ak-Sar-Ben Festival & Livestock Show.

Spread out along (W) bank of Mo. R. for 12^m & rising far up into hills (W), Omaha is industrial & commercial city, Neb.'s largest, in heart of farm belt. Beginning as river town, it became RR. center, country's 4th largest. Its RRs. bring Colo. lead to one of world's biggest smelters; hogs, sheep, & cattle to world's 2nd largest meat packing center & livestock market; wheat & corn to one of world's largest grain markets, equipped with elevators, flour & feed mills & world's biggest industrial alcohol plant of its kind. Omaha makes more butter than any other city in world & ranks high as poultry processing & egg drying center. It has not altogether lost sense of surprise at becoming big city: overalls & straw hats may still be seen on its sts., & it cont. to take small town's int. in local boys who have made good elsewhere. Life here has more variety than is usual in Neb.: dancehalls, community art mus., livestock shows & formal banquets, folk festivals of European tradition & annual coronation of King & Queen of Ak-Sar-Ben.

Omaha's chief sources of civic pride are its pks., nearly 50 of them covering 2,500 as., & its schools, incl. many fine high schools, mun. univ., & one of America's ranking Cath. univs. It is also proud of its cultural center, $4,000,000 Joslyn Mem.; its municipally owned pub. utilities system; its 900-a. airport. Its fine shops, its hotels & theaters, its exclusive residential districts all lend it metropolitan air. Along flats & bluffs of Mo., which forms Omaha's W. boundary, spread RR. tracks & factories; much of river-bottom area has been filled, & channel has been improved in recent yrs., with object of making Omaha once again R. port. Westward stretches downtown business dist., where grading & filling have levelled off mounds & ravines of once-rugged terrain. S. Omaha is working-class residential dist. To N. is Omaha's Negro quarter, extending along 24th St. Far to W., where Omaha's characteristic hills remain untouched, are city's "exclusive" secs.

As far back as 1820's, few cannery fur-traders lived just N. of site of Omaha: Manuel Lisa, Spaniard; Jean Pierre Cabanne, Frenchman; & man named Royce or Royce. In 1852 land sharks, speculators, & settlers began to congregate across R. in Council Bluffs, Iowa, awaiting treaty bet. Gov. & Inds. that would open Neb. for settlement,

& a few impatient ones crossed over to stake claims on lands still belonging to Omaha Inds. Signing of treaty on June 23, 1854, launched Omaha's first boom. Council Bluffs & Neb. Ferry Co. had town platted, naming it for dispossessed Omaha; by end of yr., newspaper had been est. & about 20 bldgs. erected—1 of them brick, in which 1st Territorial Legislature convened Jan. 16, 1855, although no Territorial capital had been officially selected. First settlers, mostly sons of farmers or common laborers, were hardy lot who seized on money-making opportunities. They org. Claim Club to protect allowance of 320 ac. per settler, as against Gov.'s 160, & to forestall Gov.'s requirement that each man improve his claim & live on it, they built house on wheels, which could be moved from one claim to another; Claim Club proceeded to deal in summary fashion with claim jumping & claim quarrels. Lawlessness flourished, & now & then there were lynchings. City council, holding its first meeting in 1857, considered regulation of bowling alleys, liquor sales & gambling. By this time, smithy, sawmill, & brickyard had been est. & by 1858, capitol erected. Emigrants & gold seekers made city their outfitting pt., & Omaha merchants carried on thriving trade; at times arrivals at Omaha levee averaged steamboat daily.

Then RR. came. Abraham Lincoln selected Council Bluffs as terminus of U.P., but engineers & Douglas Cty. bonds brought it across R. to Omaha; in 1863 construction formally began, & 2 yrs. later 20 leading citizens led by Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, riding on flat cars with nail kegs for seats, took first train to Salings' Grove. Omaha boomed, stealing business from Council Bluffs. From Mo. R. to Capitol Hill, streets were filled with pack-carrying men in frontier garb, loitering Inds., businessmen & gamblers, & all characters common to frontier towns. Omaha Horse Ry. Co. laid its first track & first gas works was built. By 1870, there were 100 street lamps. Shortly thereafter, U.P. shops opened & 1st meat-packing plant was est. New high school, pub. lib. & Creighton Univ. all appeared during 1870s, along with smelting plant, grain elevators, more meat-packing plants & RR. bridge across Mo. Most important development of 80's was establishment of Union Stockyards. With establishment of great packing houses, thousands of immigrants, majority S. Europeans, thronged city. This was heyday of Cudahys, Kountzes, Paxtons, John A. Creighton, J. L. Brandeis, & others who brought Omaha into limelight. Omaha's underworld grew: fortunes were made in gambling. On crest of real estate boom, city acquired opera house, 1st waterworks, 1st asphalt paving, electric light company, electric street ry., 1st skyscraper, & Univ. of Neb. Medical College. 1890s brought panic, grasshoppers & drought. Undaunted Omaha businessmen org. Trans-Miss. Exposition.

Omaha's modern development began in 1910. City rapidly attained distinctions which school children learned to count off on their fingers: "Omaha macaroni is sold in Italy! . . . Omaha pig lead is sold all over the world." Second crop of famous characters took limelight: Joslyns in their castle listened to music & debated endowing a concert hall; Tom Dennison, driven into politics to protect his gambling interests, became (& remained until 1934) city's political boss. 1929 depression, followed by yrs. of drought & frozen credit, hit Omaha hard. City tried to take it lightly: when farmers picketed Rds. into city, overturning milk trucks, during milk strike of 1933, city people were unsympathetic; but sentiment turned: streetcar strike of 1934 was backed by surprising pub. solidarity. World War II brought vast expansion as city responded to war needs for its food products & even turned to assembling & testing B-29 airplanes at $30,000,000 Glenn L. Martin-Neb. Co. plant.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Omaha's Fed. Bldg. (1933), 15th & Dodge Sts., an 11-story structure of granite, limestone & brick in modern design, stands on site of its 1st U.S. Cth. & P.O. (1872). (2) Near-by is Capitol Hill, 20th & Dodge Sts., site of 2nd Territorial capitol bldg. (1857-58), now occupied by Central H.S., at whose S. & E. entrances are comm. tablets. 60.5. LINCOLN

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C., 208 N. 11th St. Accomms.: Plentiful. Swim. at Mun. Pool, 23rd & M Sts. Neb. St. Fair, Sept.

Lincoln, Neb.'s capital, lying in shallow, creek-traversed basin, is completely dominated by white stone shaft of St. Capitol, visible from hilltops on all approaching hys. Central business dist. has modern store fronts, office bldgs. & hotels. Civic beauty & cleanliness are major concern: Cornhusker capital, handsomely provided with pks., has been locally christened "The Lilac City" for one of its most popular species of decorative vegetation. It was at one time, when it had one church for every 700 people, known as "Holy City." It is largely occupied with ministering to large pop. of students & civil servants. Its schools & colleges & its gov. bureaus were its econ. mainstay, along with its farm trade & agricultural processing industries, which made— & still make—crops & weather perennial topics of conversation, until after World War II. Lincoln's only prewar industrial enterprise which approached 1,000-employe mark was its C.B. & Q. RR. car shops; but its new motor engines & "scooters," telephone equipment, rubber belting, & watch-making plants, alone now employing nearly 7,000, have converted it into industrial center of consequence.

Lincoln's history goes back to 1856, when Capt. W. T. Donovan sett. on site—then expanse of salt-crusted creek flats bordered by marsh & prairie—as representative of salt company; he was followed few yrs. later by two salt boilers, Cox & Peckham. Town had been laid out to serve as cty. seat, on paper at least, as early as 1859; but it acquired permanent residents only in 1864, when members of Elder J. M. Young's Meth. colony built cabins & female seminary. Still tiny settlement in 1867, it was raised to prominence by replacing Omaha as St. capital. Legislature's removal act changed its name from Lancaster to Lincoln. In Dec., 1868, St.-owned books, documents, & furnishings were brought here from Omaha by covered wagon in dead of night for fear their transfer would be resisted by armed Omahans. By end of 1868 pop. had increased from 30 to 500 & town had acquired bank, jail, newspaper, lumberyard, livery stable, barber shop, tailoring establishment, & drug, harness & clothing stores. Legislature, meeting in new capitol in 1869, authorized land grants for RR. construction & est. Univ. of Neb. By 1870, when first RR. reached Lincoln, pop. was 2,500.

Depression yrs. from 1871 to 1876 brought hard times, yet Lincoln grew. Its growth was more rapid in 1880's, during which its pop. increased from 14,000 to 40,000: sts. were paved & new RR. lines extended to city; small industries flourished; stockyards & 2 packing plants were built; telephone exchange, water & sewer systems, & street ry. were est. During 1890s, schools & colleges, churches, & temperance societies multiplied; & Lincoln took pride in most ornate Romanes.-style opera house W. of Chicago. Electric trolleys replaced horse-drawn streetcars; city boasted 11 banks, 70 factories, 80 wholesale houses. During this period, Lincoln acquired several of its most famous residents: Chas. G. Dawes, John J. Pershing, Wm. Jennings Bryan. Bryan, after 2 unsuccessful campaigns for U.S. Presidency, returned to city in 1900 to est. his weekly journal "The Commoner," & to speak often at local church gatherings, pics., & banquets. World War I's end ushered in prosperity period. Little touched by labor unrest of the time, Lincoln boomed, erecting new bldgs. & annexing suburbs. New blvds. & drives, pks. & playgrounds, restricted residential areas, tree-plantings & landscaping lent city new beauty. Tower of new Capitol & soaring office bldgs. altered sky-line. 1930s were disastrous interruption in city's progress, marked by unemployment & bus. failures & by workers' & farmers' demands for gov. assistance, & recovery was retarded by successive yrs. of drought; but Fed. relief & pub. works program helped tide Lincoln over crisis, & World War II brought revival of prosperity.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Rising 432', its height emphasized by vertical lines & massive corner pylons, & by 32' bronze "Sower" (by Lee Lawrie), symbolizing Neb. agric., central tower of Neb. St. Capitol (1919-32 by Bertram Goodhue. O.8-5-guided tours 10.2 & 3:30), 14th & K Sts., is Lincoln's chief landmark. Fifth capitol erected, this bldg., radical departure in capitol design, is designed in form of vast square divided by cross into 4 inner courts. On W. lawn is Lincoln Mon. (by Dan. Chester French). Before main entrance pavilion bronze Statue of Wm. Jennings Bryan was provisionally placed in 1948, 60 yrs. after Bryan sett. in Lincoln, later to be removed to another site. Hist. Soc.'s Mus. & Picture Gallery on ground floor, contains one of Nation's largest & most important archaeological colls., Ind. & pioneer relics, & many early photographs, mss., newspapers, & documents. On 2nd floor, N. Vestibule leads from main entrance to arched foyer, which in turn leads to 95' high domed central rotunda, with colonnaded promenade gallery. To E. is Senate Chamber & to W., House Chamber. Only 1 of these is now in use, however, for traditional 2-house legislature was replaced in 1937 by unique 43-member unicameral (1-house) body. To S. of rotunda is Supreme Ct. Chamber. Reached through rotunda gallery is Neb. St. Lib., one of nation's leading law libs. On 14th floor, beneath dome of tower, is richly decorated Mem. SIDE TRIP: Take US77 (L) from Lincoln to Neb. St. Penitentiary (1867), 3^m. Beatrice (pronounced be-at'-ris), 40^m, seat of Gage Cty., spread out in scattered, spacious fashion on either side of winding, sluggish Blue R., is both farm town & industrial city. Beatrice was named for girl who saw town only once or twice—daughter of Judge John Kinney, president of Neb. Assoc., which selected townsites; she came with her father from Neb. City to read some of her own verses at christening ceremony in 1857. In 1871, Burlington RR. extended line here. Pop. doubled in 1870's & doubled again in 1880's. Industries were attracted by availability of electric power & even electrically driven street cars appeared as early as 1890. Community's growth continued into 20th cent. Gage County Cth., 6th & Lincoln Sts., houses on 3rd floor Beatrice Mus., which contains pioneer relics. Largest of city's pks. is 31-a. Chautauqua Pk., S. bank of Blue R. from 6th St. E.; & 2nd largest is Riverside Pk. (baseball, swim, ice skating, dance pavilion).

(1) St.4 leads (R) from Beatrice to Homestead Nat. Mon. of America, 4.5^m, comprising former Dan. Freeman farm, first claim entered in U.S. under Homestead Act of 1862. Freeman, Union soldier on furlough, had staked out his claim but on Dec. 31, 1862, day before act became effective, received orders to proceed to St. Louis next morning. He was enabled to file his claim shortly after midnight, however, by lucky accident of meeting land office assistant at New Year's dance. He & his wife are buried near E. boundary. Place was made Nat. mon. in 1936.

(2) St.3 leads (R) from Beatrice to Fairbury, 27^m, seat of Jefferson Cty., platted in 1869 & spurred toward prosperity by advent of RR. in 1872 & sett. of large Russian-German colony on RR. land near-by in 1874. It has creamery & packing plant & manufactures windmills, pumps, pipes & other articles.

81. US6 crosses Blue R. & at 89.5. passes St.-owned BLUE R. RECR. GROUNDS (camp.f.) on (S) bank of W. Blue R. Route cont. through series of small rural trading centers, dating back to 1870s, to U.S. NAVAL AMMUNITION DEPOT, 159.5., one of largest installations of its kind in world, covering over 48,000 ac. with more than 1,900 bldgs. devoted to loading, filling & storing all kinds of naval ammunition.

162.5. HASTINGS, Neb.'s 4th largest city, seat of Adams Cty., is situated in heart of Kans.-Neb. wheat belt & depends largely on agric. & stock raising for prosperity but also manufactures food products, brick & tile, farm implements, pumps, windmills, air conditioning equipment & many other articles. Its skyline is accented by huge smokestacks & grain elevators. Mun. power plant, auditorium & airport are sources of civic pride. First settlers in vic. were group of Englishmen, lured by propaganda of immigration societies. On homestead of one of them, Walter Micklen, town was laid out in 1872 & named for man who graded last sec. of St. Joseph & Denver RR., which ended here; it later became Burlington RR. division pt. After becoming city, seat in 1877, it grew rapidly &, surviving periods of recession during drought & panic-ridden 1890s & 1930s, has kept on expanding.

Hastings' mun. mus., House of Yesterday (1938), NW. cor. Highland Pk., houses one of biggest colls. of plains reg. Among thousands of exhibits are fossils & mounted birds & animals in natural habitats; Ind. artifacts & Ind. ossuary; pioneer articles, incl. relics of Ore. Trl., women's apparel, glass & china, old vehicles & farm machinery; relics of Rev. & Civil, Sp.-Amer. & World Wars; & firearms, lamps & coins of ancient & modern times. Highland Pk. (pic.sports facils.), 12th St. bet. Burlington & St. Joseph Aves., Hastings' oldest, is 40-a. landscaped tract containing Jacob Fisher Rainbow Fountain, 1 of 2 electrically illuminated fountains in Midwest. Prospect Pk. (camp.pic.bathh.), 3rd St. bet. Laird & Woodland Aves., has rock garden & pavilion. Hastings College, Univ. & Turner Aves., coed. liberal arts institution founded in 1882 & still supported by Presb. Ch., occupies 85-a. campus. Lib. bldg. houses Kent Mus. of Nat. Hist.

0. GRAND FORKS

Rail, plane & bus conns.

As its name indicates, this city is at confluence of Red R. of the North & Red Lake R., & is gateway to one of world's largest wheat-growing centers. Its $3,000,000 State Mill & Elevator (O) dominates the skyline. Along Univ. Ave. are its architecturally int. residences. City has a privately owned flour mill, a potato dehydrating plant & a good-sized candy factory. Capt. Alex. Griggs, sent by James J. Hill to explore the Red R., & Geo. Winship, later publisher of the "Herald," were its first settlers. In 1871 Griggs built 1st frame house. River trans. was practically supplanted when the Gt.N. RR. reached town. In 1874 the "Plaindealer" was founded by Geo. Walsh, & 5 yrs. later Winship's "Herald" made its appearance. For the next 5 yrs. there was continual bickering bet. the 2 papers. In 1884 the "Herald's" plant burnt down & Walsh generously shared his with Winship, but the editorial attacks continued until the 2 papers finally merged.

There is a considerable Norweg. pop. in Grand Forks; sufficient to support a Norweg. paper. They live for the most part in sec. called Little Norway, & celebrate Norweg. Independence Day (May 17) with pomp & oratory. PTS. OF INT.: The city has 5 pks. On Red R. bank is Central Pk., a beauty spot & playground. (No pic.but winter sports facilis.) Lincoln Pk. on Belmont Rd. has famous Ski Slide. It is on (S) edge of town & in it is part of Old Red R. Oxcart Trl. On Univ. Ave. 2^m from center of town to Univ. of N.D. which opened in 1884. It is fully accredited, & numbers among its alumni Maxwell Anderson, playwright, & Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer. The Univ. has Schools of Liberal Arts & Sciences, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Commerce, Mines & an Extension Div. Since 1910 the bldgs. are all mod. Coll. Goth. Affiliated is Wesley College (adj.Univ. campus). Courses are offered here in Religion, Music & Expression. All denominations participate. The State Univ. is a vital part of city's cultural life. Musicals & dramatic performances are the social events of the yr. enjoyed by most of the townfolk. College athletics attract visitors from entire (NE) sec. of the state. In Jan. is the All-American Turkey Show. At Demers Ave. & 5th St. is J. with US81, (see), important nat. N-S hy.

95. DEVILS LAKE. On what was once the shore of Devils L., remnant of glacial sea, whose orig. depth was 56', once 2nd largest saltwater lake in country. Shore line is receding steadily. It has dropped 26' since 1883, the time of last U.S. survey. On the (S) shore is Ft. Totten; now Ft. Totten Ind. Agency, c. 1,000 Sioux & a small number of Chippewa are under its jurisdiction. The steady shrinking of Devils L. is one of arguments for the Mo.-Souris Diversion projects, & the $200,000,000 Garrison Dam on Mo. R. This project would again raise level of lake, & place more than a million as. of land under irrigation. Lakeshore is skirted by Burness Scenic Hy., through a reg. delightfully wooded, passing Sully's Hill Pk., Fed. Game Refuge. Ft. Totten was est. 1867, & named for its Chief Engineer. Ft. Totten troops took part in Dakota & Montana campaigns & also acted as escorts for surveyors for the N.P. RR. & the Internat. Boundary Line Commission (see US281). On St.20 (N) of Devils L., is Sweetwater L. whose shore line has also receded. 114. J. with US281.

(RR.: Gt.N. RR. & Soo Line. Accoms.: All types)

Minot, in the Souris R. Valley, was known as Magic City because of its mushroom growth. Erik Ramstad was its first settler in 1885. In its first yr. it numbered more than 5,000 people. It soon became trading center of (NW) N.D. & now is medical center surrounded with fine hospitals & has excellent transportation. Minot in its early days had a reputation for lawlessness & iniquity. A favorite call of one RR. conductor when he reached the town was "Minot, M-I-N-O-T, end of the line. Prepare to meet your God." The Souris R. overflowed many times before the dam & dykes were built, but worst flood was in 1904 which lasted 3 wks., & the town's only means of travel through streets was by boat. Minot has become a natural shipping point for lignite mined in vic. Truax-Traer Co., with hqs. here, is one of largest lignite strip mining companies in the country. PTS. OF INT.: Roosevelt Pk. (swim.pic.tennis.tourist camp.85 as.). Not to be confused with Nat. Pk. in the Badlands. Beautifully landscaped, with bronze equestrian statue of Theo. Roosevelt. St. Teachers College here is fully accredited & has liberal arts courses. Here is J. with US52.

It incl. Crow Flies High Butte. (565'; named for Hidatsa Ind. Chief.) Verendrye & his son were first white men to go into this territory in search of a route to "The Great Sea of the West," 1738. Lewis & Clark camped here 60 yrs. later. Ft. Berthold Ind. Reserv. was est. with 2,000,000 as. in 1870; now has only 625,000. Its pop. is divided among 782 Arikara, 849 Gros Ventres & 389 Mandan. Latter 2 tribes were very friendly to the white men who lived at Ft. Berthold & were harassed by hostile Sioux. Graves of Arikara chiefs are marked by mon. Because of their lofty ideas of justice & gentleness they ranked high among both white & red men & their graves are still sacred to the Inds.

282. The little town of ROSS, where in 1902 a group of 20 Moslem families sett. After 1929 they became naturalized but still cling to their Syrian customs & food. 347. WILLISTON. Named by J. J. Hill for his friend S. Willis James, lies on the Mo. lowlands, & is a RR. center in midst of a mining, farming, & stockraising reg. Until coming of the RR. it was only a tent colony but after 1887 homesteaders flocked in. Story is told about Geo. Grinnell, one of the early hunters, who lived here. Like many other pioneers he mistreated the Ind. women with whom he lived. On one occasion, in 1888, while drunk he wanted to strike Josephine Manuri, his half-breed woman, with the butt of his gun. A tussle followed. Onlookers were afraid to interfere because of his loaded gun when suddenly he fell back limp, having been strangled to death by a leather thong with a sliding knot which he wore around his neck & to which she had clung. The coroner's verdict was that Grinnell "... came to his death through an act of Almighty God, by the hand of His agent, Josephine Grinnell." The Gt. N. RR. has its roundh. & car repair shop in Williston. Millions of bu. of grain are handled annually in city. It is also an important turkey market. Two annual events of note: Old Fiddlers contest (Jan.) & Upper Mo. Band Tournament (1st wk. in June). 369. Hy. crosses MONT. LINE.

Fargo is N.D.'s largest city & also its largest distributing pt. for farm implements, autos & accessories, as well as an important shipping center for grain, potatoes, dairy & poultry products. It leads the nation in production of grain & ranks very high in production of poultry. Until 1927 it was world's 3rd largest farm-implement distribution pt. At present it is considered the largest wholesale distribution center for a reg. extending 900 miles (W) & 150 miles (E). Fargo is known as the transportation hub of the NW. Starting with a few huts along Red R. of the North in 1871, Fargo developed into a thriving metropolis of 10,000 homes & c.36,000 people. It is a sportsmen's heaven with h. & f. within an hour's drive in any direction. Two of N.D.'s 4 skyscrapers are in Fargo. City is named for Wm. G. Fargo, director of N.P. RR., & founder of Wells Fargo Express Co. Pioneers, in their eagerness to know where the RR. would build a bridge, patrolled the shore line in relays, so that at the first indication, they might turn over sod, build a hut & make a land claim. Naturally there were many claims & counter claims. During first winter settlement was divided into Fargo-on-the-Prairie, home of RR. workers & surveyors, & Fargo-in-the-Timber, occupied by rivermen, a hard-drinking, rough group, that continuously disturbed the other community. Fed. Troops dispersed most of them the next yr. & took many to jail at Pembina, not only for poaching on Ind.-claimed property but for selling them liquor. Eventually those not guilty of any other offense had their claims returned to them. From wild prairie land the country surrounding Fargo soon became a rich farming reg. Bonanza farms were responsible for the enormous acreage increase & with it came an influx of settlers from N. European countries, with great energies, ambitions & a real community spirit. In 1889, N.D. State Agric. College was opened, although private colleges had existed 2 yrs. before. By 1893 the city built an Opera House seating 1,000 people. It became a favorite stopover for leading theatrical companies. Fargo at turn of the century also became a divorce colony, granting divorces in 90 days, & many wealthy people traveled here to est. residence. Business was good. Adding to the color of city, even at the present day, are the Norweg. holiday-customs & foods introduced by its early settlers.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) At 13th St., immediately adj. city is 100-a. campus of N.D. Agric. College with 35 bldgs. College maintains an Extension Div. & an Agric. 338. MEDORA

Medora, a little town on E. bank of Mo. R. 0.5^m (S) of US10, was named for the beautiful red-haired Amer. wife of Marquis de Mores, dashing young Frenchman, who came here in 1883 to set up meat-packing plant at source of supply. By using refrigerated railroad cars, he hoped to cut cost of meat, thereby capturing eastern markets. The Badlands fascinated him & he chose this country as site for his plant, as well as for the town. He also built De Mores Chateau, an enormous ranch house of 28 rooms, 2 stories high, with red-plush interior. Here he & his charming wife with their staff of Fr. servants entertained distinguished visitors from the E., incl. Theo. Roosevelt, who had come to the Badlands for his health & built himself a cabin in vic. By 1884 de Mores was shearing 14,000 sheep & grazing many thousands of cattle. Hundreds of animals were slaughtered daily & shipped East. Within 3 or 4 yrs., however, the venture failed; partly because de Mores, on account of his lavish living & unfriendly acts had antagonized neighbors with whom he often got into violent quarrels, especially when he began fencing in his property, something not customary in these parts. In one encounter an outsider was killed & the marquis was held for murder although later acquitted. He decided to abandon his dramatic project & returned to Europe. In 1896, at age of 43, he was killed by native in N. Africa. The meat-packing project failed & nothing but a chimney remains of the plant, but the idea was a practical one & at present there are several similar plants in existence in W. Fargo & Grand Forks. The Chateau, still intact, was given over to N.D. Hist. Soc. in 1936, by son of de Mores. All bldgs. survive & are now incl. in St. Pk., known as De Mores Hist. Site (128 as.tours.fee). Tom Mix was married to Olive Stokes, in Medora, 1909. On Main St., Athenais Chapel (1884), built for the marquise by her husband. Here also is Rough Riders Hotel, built by de Mores; formerly hqs. for cattlemen. Teddy Roosevelt spent a good deal of time here, & doubtless took its name for his Spanish-Amer. War Regiment. 339. J. with graveled Rd. On this (R) is W. Entrance to Theo. Roosevelt Mem. Pk. (see above). 344.5. FLAT TOP BUTTE (L). On its slope occurred skirmish bet. Sitting Bull's men & Amer. soldiers. Inds. kept up constant firing during the night, but when morning came, they withdrew & went hunting. 352. Rd. now passes through prairie land, with Sentinel Butte (3,350') (L). 361.5. BEACH, grain shipping pt. almost at Mont. Line. Cartoonist John M. Baer was Postmaster here (1913-15) & later became N.D. Congressman. At 364. hy. crosses MONT. LINE.

St. Mill & Elevator (O.wks.9-5;conducted tours). This state-owned enterprise is product of Nonpartisan League (1922) & plays important part in N.D. politics (see US10). The St. Industrial Comm. successfully governs mill & elevator, consisting of 6 steel & concrete bldgs. with capacity of 1,659,600 bu. On gravelled Rd., (L) Northern Packing Co. (O). Near here is marker showing sec. of Red R. Oxcart Path which extended from Ft. Gary, Winnipeg, to Ft. Snelling, St. Paul.

168. MANVEL, formerly Turtle R. Sta., one of six stops on Ft. Abercrombie-Ft. Gary trl., 1860. It consisted of a one-windowed log hut with fireplace. Crude though it was, to overland travelers who paid 50¢ for a meal & privilege of sleeping on the dirt floor it was a very cheery place. 180. ARDOCH, completely Polish community. 187. MINTO, Czechoslovakian & Polish sett. where Feast of St. Wenceslaus, Sept. 28, & Czech Independence Day, Oct. 28, are celebrated with pomp. Near Forest R. is a pk. (recreational pool). 198. GRAFTON, proud possessor of 1st Pub. Lib. in St.; also 1st city in that part of NW. to have a mun. power plant. At Grafton is J. with St. 17.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (W) 21^m is Park R. Here lived Wm. Avery Rockefeller, father of founder of Standard Oil Co. He was known as Dr. Livingston, no real physician, but a seller of patent medicines.

226. HAMILTON, settled by Canadians. Here is oldest St. Bank in N.D., est. 1886. Pembina Cty. Fair, started 1894, is held here annually, June or July. Here is J. with St. 5.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (W) 9^m to Cavalier, 35^m to Langdon. Became Cty. seat through efforts of a dozen bachelors, who by changing names & apparel often on election day, voted for all absent voters. Here is Children's Haymow Theatre, barn used for 30 yrs. to present plays for the young.

US81 now turns (R) 10^m to unite with St. 44 running directly (N) again for 13^m.

252. PEMBINA, a town of rococo architecture at confluence of Red & Pembina Rs. Around 1800, first fur posts were built here, but 2 yrs. later disappeared. It was then that the rival Hudson's Bay & the XY Cos. set up their posts. First white child born here was illegitimate baby of "Orkney Lad," a woman, who for yrs. had been disguised as a man. Only at birth of child was her imposture generally known. After 1812 colonization began here by Selkirk Scots, who returned to Canada (1818) when internat. boundary was fixed. By '51 Pembina had become an important river port. Town was starting pt. for the famous Pembina buffalo hunts. Followers traveled in Red R. carts. Pembina Hist. Site is (R) here (camp.pic.) incl. site of 1st trading post of North West Co. In Masonic Pk. flag of U.S. & Canadian Union Jack fly together July 4, & July 1, Dominion Day. 254. Via: Ellendale, Edgely, Jamestown, Minnewauken, Cando, Hansboro.

US281 crosses S.D. LINE at 0. 6. ELLENDALE, in heart of pheasant country. Seat of St. Normal & Industrial School. When this school opened (1889), it was 1st in U.S. to offer free manual training. 18. J. with Cty. Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) to Whitestone Hill Battlefield, Hist. Site. (66 as.mus.shelter & other facils.). Here in 1863 most severe battle bet. whites & Inds. in N.D. was fought. Gens. Sully & Sibley had been sent from Minn. on punitive expedition against the Inds. because it was believed they participated in the Minn. massacre of 1862. Sully's men, in a bloody 3-day battle, drove the Inds. across Mo. R.

32. EDGELEY. 70. JAMESTOWN (see US10). J. with US10. On outskirts of town is Ft. Seward Hist. Site. Beyond town (N) on St. 20 near Kensall is Arrowwood Natural Wildlife Refuge (16,044 as.). Area incl. 3 Ls. & is breeding ground for ducks, pheasants, grouse, & a large number of shore & water birds. Hy. passes BUCHANAN at 83. & PINGREE at 91., named for Hazen Senter Pingree, who in 1880 arrived here with a rack & wagon to start a potato plantation. He failed in this undertaking, went to Mich. (see) where he became a successful shoe manufacturer; also was mayor of Detroit, & twice Gov. of Mich. 97. EDMUNDS. J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 6^m to Arrowwood L., largest of a chain of Ls. through which James R. flows. Inds. came here from great distances to pick Juneberry shoots for arrow shafts. It is also summer breeding place for pelicans.

103. MELVILLE. 113. CARRINGTON (tourist camp). 129. NEW ROCKFORD. 140. SHEYENNE. Here is beginning of Ft. Totten Ind. Reserv. (137,000 as.). About 10^m (N) is J. with St. 57 which turns (R) & touches Devils L. at Ft. Totten. Orig. bldg.

was a log cabin, still to be seen (S) a half mile. Next to Ft. Lincoln, Totten is best built fort in St. Reserv. was named for Gen. Gilbert Totten, then chief of U.S. Army Engineer Corps. Est. in 1867 by treaty, it now houses c.1,142 Sioux (see US2).

161. MINNEWAUKAN, former steamboat landing. Beyond (S) is dry bed of part of Devils L. 183. J. with Cty. Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 4.5^m to Lac Aux Mortes (named thus by Fr. trappers). After a severe smallpox epidemic, surrounding trees were filled with dead bodies (a tribal burial custom). The trappers burnt entire woods to prevent spread of the disease.

190. CANDO. J. with St.17.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 8^m to a Dunker Colony (German Bapt.). Sect was founded in Germany (1708) & this branch arrived in N.D. (1894) with Gt.N. RR. to help colonize the reg. In early Oct. is annual harvest feast.

200. J. with Cty. Rd. leading (R) 3^m to Snyder L. (recre.swim.pic.). 214. ROCK L., lying on edge of Rock L. U.S. Biological Survey has migratory waterfowl sanctuary here. 219. J. with St.5.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 17^m to Rolla. Here lived John Burke, 3 times Gov. of N.D. & Chief Justice of Supreme Ct. Town is also hqs. for Internat. Peace Garden (see below). Directly beyond (W) is Turtle Mt. Ind. Reserv. lying in valley of these mts. It is home of mixed Chippewa Inds. (7,856) who hold here annual sun dance (June). St.5 passes Belcourt in the reserv. & at 40^m reaches Dunseith. Here is J. with St.3.

On St.3 (N) 13^m into Internat. Peace Garden, a tract of land (2,220 as.) astride the internat. boundary. Both Canada & U.S. contributed the land (880 as. in U.S. & 1,300 as. in Canada), part of which is already developed into a beautiful formal garden. Conceived in 1929, it was dedicated in July, 1932, as a "symbol of everlasting peace bet. the 2 countries." A simple cairn of stones gathered from both sides of the border has inscribed on it the lines:

"To God in His Glory
We two Nations do pledge ourselves
That so long as men shall live
We will not take up arms against one another."

Each July, site is rededicated & people flock from both countries to the peaceful spot in fertile Turtle Mt. Valley, in which are many small & one large L. Wild life is abundant. A spacious lodge is avail. for pub. use, & so are overnight cabins, amphitheatre & pic. areas.

229. HANSBORO, named for 1st Representative to U.S. Congress from N.D. who later became Sen. Here is U.S. port of entry & customh. 236. Hy. crosses CANADIAN BORDER.

US 83—NORTH DAKOTA

N.D.-S.D. LINE (34^m from Selby, S.D.) (N) to CANADIAN BORDER (5^m from Coulter, Man.). 271. US83

Via: Linton, Bismarck, Washburn, Minot, Westhope.

US83 in northwesterly course bisects state, first through hilly uplands, then central Drift Prairie, & finally fertile fields around former L. Souris.

9. US83 crosses S.D. LINE. 6. HULL, Dutch community. 15. STRASBURG, settlement of Russo-Germans, whose great annual celebration is feast of St. Peter & St. Paul (June 29). 27. LINTON. Most of pub. bldgs. are of N.D. sandstone.

SIDE TRIP: From Linton (L) 0.5^m to country Rd. (R) on this 1.1^m to Ind. Turtle Effigy Mound, almost perfect example. Outlines of turtle can be clearly seen. Rd. passes over turtle's neck.

43. HAZELTON. 57. MOFFIT, U.S. migratory waterfowl refuge. 67. STERLING. J. with US10 (see). As one Rd., the 2 hys. run into BISMARCK (see) at 91. 116. WILTON (see Bismarck). 132. WASHBURN (see Bismarck). 144. US83 turns sharply (L) to UNDERWOOD at 149. Beyond Underwood (N) at 157. is J. with Riverdale Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) c.13^m to Garrison Dam & Reservoir (see Bismarck). The town of Riverdale in 1948 was still prairie land & the bridge across Big Muddy was not passable.

160. COLEHARBOR. 165. J. with St.37, leading (L) 5^m to Garrison, named for Garrison Cr. Lignite is mined in vic. 177. MAX, another Russo-German community.

Hy. now climbs Plateau du Missouri & at 205. reaches MINOT (see US2). At Minot is also J. with US52 which cuts diagonally across state from Fargo to Portal, Internat. Airport of Entry, at Canadian border, 68^m. Much traffic to Canadian N.W. passes through this Custom & Immigration Office.

US83 runs directly (N) to J. with St.5 at 242. The 2 hys. unite to 259.

SIDE TRIP: On St.5 (R) 26^m to Bottineau, named for one of most famous N.D. personalities, Pierre Bottineau. He was guide who walked with J. J. Hill from Winnipeg to St. Paul, the scout who headed Jay Cooke's first N.P. RR. survey, the gambler who staked Nicollet I. & lost. Inds. in this vic. were very hostile to the whites. After the Gt.N. RR. passed near orig. town, site gradually moved about a mile away. In 1886, huge prairie fire almost destroyed all bldgs. Today there is St. School of Forestry in the NE. part of town, & plantings from it supply all ctys. of state. Dunseith is 22^m farther (E). Here is J. with St.3.

(1) On this Rd. (N) 13^m to Internat. Peace Garden (see US281). Near Dunseith, at edge of Turtle Mts., a buried treasure may still be hid, for the loot of notorious bank robbery of 1893 was never found & bank was forced to close. St.5 leads directly (E) into Turtle Mts. Ind. Reserv. (72 sq miles) into which 7,586 Inds. are crowded. These Chippewa have intermarried with Fr. settlers & the Algonquim tongue has practically died out, contrary to practices on other N.D. reservations. Gov. has recently built new school & hospital for Inds. near Belmont.

(2) St.3 leads (W) to Bowbells 45^m named by Eng. stockholders of the Soo Line, for St. Mary-le-Bow. Its tall water tower is visible for miles across flat prairie land. Crosby at 111^m (W) is strategic rail center & focal point for trade in NW. sec. of state. From Crosby 36^m, St.5 reaches Mont. border.

259. US83 turns (N) again, passing WESTHOPE at 265. & reaches INTERNAT. BORDER at 271.

N.D.-S.D. LINE (23^m from Buffalo, S.D.) (N) to CANADIAN BORDER (58^m from Weyburn, Sask.). 258. US85

Via: Bowman, Amidon, Belfield, Watford City & Fortuna.

US85 passes through the majestically beautiful Badlands, crosses Coteau du Plateau du Missouri & then heads directly (N) to Saskatchewan.

0. Rd. crosses S.D. line. 16. BOWMAN, near sandstone-topped Twin Buttes. Here is J. with US12 (see). At 34. is J. with country Rd. leading 1^m (L) to Black Butte (3,468'), highest elev. in St. On (S) side of butte is Snow Cave where winter snows often remain till Aug. 35.5. Hy. passes Chalky Butte (R) & Black Butte (L). 39.5. J. with graded dirt Rd. (bad curves & choppy hills).

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 2^m, then (R) descending into the Badlands to J. with a trl. On this trl. (L) 1^m to Burning Coal Mine, which toward evening gives off red glow, with coal gas becoming annoying. Inds. called this "burning ground." Although coal has burned for hundreds of yrs., it has spread only few hundred ft. in the last 50 yrs. Visitors can peer down crevices, but it is advisable to approach from downhill side lest earth crumble beneath. In valley below grow columnar cedars, bright green conical trees 15' high.

40. AMIDON. Good view (SE) of Chalky Butte, outlines of the Badlands (N) & Black Butte (W). At 46. MIDWAY. J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) 6^m to Chalky Butte. Along its fossilized slopes teeth & bones of prehist. animals have been found, among them skull & bones of an oreodon (prehist. hoofed animal). At 49. is J. with St.21.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 16^m to New England, today predominantly Scand. although founded by New Englanders. At S. end of Main St. is Shrine to Virgin Mary made of slabs of petrified wood & rock formation from the Badlands.

75. BELFIELD. J. with US10 (see).

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (W) 19^m, is Medora in heart of the Badlands; also De Mores Hist. Site & Entrance to Roosevelt Pk.

107. J. with St.25. 113.5. US85 passes GRASSY BUTTE founded in 1913 by 10 Russian laborers. Little Russians or Ukrainians inhabit surrounding country. They have retained most of their old customs & are still Greek Cath. 127.5. Hy. crosses Little Mo. R. & in distance (R) Killdeer Mts. can be seen. 131. Main entrance to N. Roosevelt Reg. St. Pk. (see US10), also called N. Roosevelt Recr. Demonstration Area, incl. petrified forests & Grand Canyon of the Little Mo. On both sides of river are the N.D. Badlands, strangely beautiful stratas of earth piled into fantastic shapes & fringed by brilliant green spruce & cedar trees growing on the hilltops. Hy. passes through weirdly colored buttes & suddenly dips into a grassy plateau at 134. 146. WATFORD CITY, called "Island Empire" because it is almost entirely surrounded by Mo., Little Mo. & Yellowstone Rs. Mus. is in W. A. Jacobson law office (O.wks. 9-5) containing exhibits of gems, fossils, Ind. artifacts & a Bible printed in 1535. In Watford City is J. with St.23.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (L) is excellent tourist camp.

(B) On St.23 (R) 4m is Schafer, named for Geo. Schafer, whose son became Gov. of N.D. 1929-32. On his homestead are Schafer Springs (near-by are fine campgrounds) which have a flow of 6,000 gal. per hr. even in dry season. St.23 E. & N. of Watford City reaches Ft. Berthold Ind. Reserv. (see US83 & US2) in c.29m. At 10m (R) on an incomplete Rd. is Sanish. Near-by is Verendrye Bridge spanning Mo. It used to be called "Old Crossing" by Inds. because huge buffalo herds crossed here as they annually migrated (S). Beyond town (S) is Verendrye Nat. Mon. (see US2). Here is Crow Flies High Butte, named for Hidatsa chief. On it is mon. to the Verendryes, father & son, who are supposed to have visited the "agric. Ind." here in 1738 while on their exploratory trip. Ft. Berthold Ind. Reserv. at present has c.2,018 Inds. (Arikara, Mandan & Gros Ventres). Because Inds. on this reserv. belong to agrarian tribe their economic status is better than others. Years of training in the fields has made them better adjusted to life on reserv.

From Watford City US85 turns sharply (L), passing en route ARNEGARD, certified seed potato market, to 154. J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) From here (L) 14m to N. Entrance of Roosevelt Pk. (see).

(B) From here (R) 3m to L. Pescheck (summer recr. ground).

166. ALEXANDER, named for Alex. McKenzie, political boss of early N.D. (see).

168. J. with St.23 leading (W) 13m to Cartwright & at 17m passing Yellowstone R. The irrigated land in vic. is now planted mainly with sugar beets. Mex. labor is used for cultivation. 185. Hy. crosses Mo. R. over Lewis & Clark Bridge (1927). 189. J. with US2 (see). Montana border is 23m (L) from here. 194. WILLISTON (see US2). US85 cont. (N) from Williston for 34m to J. with St.50 past Zahl, small town named for a buffalo hunter of the 70's. 251. J. with St.5.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On this Rd. (L) 3m to Fortuna, Scand. community (sett.1913). It is an immigration office & port of entry to Canada.

(B) On this Rd. (R) 18m to Crosby. Its City Recr. Pk. has all facilis.

258. Main hy. touches CANADIAN BORDER.

BISMARCK

BISMARCK

RR. Stas.: N.P. RR., Main Ave. bet. 4th & 5th Sts.; Soo Line, 117—7th St. Bus Sta.: Greyhound Lines & Interstate Transp. Co., 618 Broadway. Airport: 2m (SE) of city, for Northwest Airlines.

Bismarck, on (E) bank of Mo. R. is the spacious capital city of N.D. Long before arrival of white men Mandan Inds. considered this spot most desirable for camps & homes. This thought was shared by most Dakotans when they moved the capital from Yankton to Bismarck. Present capitol grounds are surrounded by sites of Ind. villages. Originally Camp Greeley, later known as Camp Hancock, was situated here in 1872. About this time the N.P. RR. reached Bismarck, then known as Burleightown. Being a railroad terminus & head of navigation gave the town double advantage. In 1883 it became capital of Dakota Territory. Bismarck is in center of wheat-growing reg. & has become supply depot to surrounding grain-growing, stock-raising & diversified farms. From earliest days, however, it was hqs. of political parties, which still is true today. Among city's exciting political experiences were: exposé by the Gov., in 1889, of the lobbyists of Louisiana Lottery; maneuverings of Alex. McKenzie & his railroad connections; & the rapid succession of four Governors in five months.

Pop. of Bismarck is largely German & Russo-German. Its name was given to it by an overseas steamship agent, who hoped thereby to attract many German-speaking settlers.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) High on Capitol Hill, dominating both the city & the prairie as well, is the State Capitol, a modernistic skyscraper, designed by 2 N.D. architects, Jos. B. de Remer & Wm. F. Kurke, together with Holabird & Root of Chicago. The vast unused prairie lands around it hardly justify a skyscraper, but the dignity & beauty of its lines have given N. Dakotans, even those who originally objected to it, a feeling of pride. Its outer walls are of Bedford limestone, & the base is trimmed with a broad band of Rosetta black granite. The Senate Chamber is considered one of the most beautiful in U.S. The 18th fl. of the tower is designed as observation spot from which panoramic view of entire Mandan-Bismarck area, incl. Ft. Abr. Lincoln St. Pk. & Ft. Lincoln, can be seen. (2) Near Capitol, (SE) Liberty Mem. Bldg. (O.wks.9-5;1921 by Keith & Kurke), 4-story structure of Class. design. It houses St. Hist. Soc. Lib. & Mus. Latter contains excellent coll. of N.D. material & Ind. artifacts, also Emil Krauth butterfly coll. Plaster model of equestrian statue of Theo. Roosevelt by A. Phimister Proctor, & a desk used by him during his stay in the Badlands are on 3d fl. On lawn outside is bronze statue of Sakakawea, the Shoshone Bird Woman, (1910) by Leonard Crunelle (see Bismarck); also prow of Battleship "North Dakota" stands near-by. (3) On (E) side of Memorial Bldg., Roosevelt Cabin (O.June 15-Sept.15,wks.10-5;Sun.2-5). It was his home from 1883-85, while rancher in N.D. The cabin contains a few orig. items belonging to "Teddy" & many copies. Cabin had been taken apart & displayed at St. Louis World's Fair for Lewis & Clark Exposition (1905) & later set up here on Capitol grounds. (4) Near cabin is replica of an ancient Circular Lodge, built under supervision of an old Mandan woman, Scattered Corn (Mrs. Holding Eagle), daughter of last Mandan corn priest, Moves Slowly, & her niece Mrs. Sitting Crow. Mandans learned how to build earth lodges from their tribal hero, Good Furred Robe. (5) 320 Ave. B., Governor's Mansion (1893) typical architecture of Territorial days. (6) 722 5th St., Home of Alex. McKenzie (1856), N.D.'s arch-politician & RR. magnate whose intrigues prompted Rex Beach to write his novel, "The Spoilers." (7) 300 Main St., Marquis de Mores' Storage Plant, dilapidated bldg. used by the marquis for his meat-packing industry. It has 14" walls of planks & brick. (8) 101 Main St., U.S. Weather Bureau (O.1874) one of oldest bldgs. in Bismarck, formerly hqs. of Camp Hancock. (9) 700 Main St., Bank of N.D. (O.wks.8:30-4:30) created by special referendum in 1919. It is managed & controlled by St. Industrial Commission to promote agriculture, commerce, & industry of the state, & is only state-owned bank in U.S. It was an important accomplishment of the Nonpartisan League. St. Regulatory Dept. Lab. (O.) on 4th fl. inspects food, fertilizer, water & oils.

TRIPS OUT OF BISMARCK

L (Loop Tour) BISMARCK (S) to FT. YATES c.150. US10, St.6, St.24 & Unmarked Rd.

Via: Mandan, St. Anthony & Selfridge.

At 0. US10 crosses Missouri R. Here Central changes to Mountain Time. Bet. Bismarck & Mandan are a number of tourist camps & night clubs.

4. MANDAN

City was named for agric. Ind. tribe that occupied the ancient site. It grew so rapidly that some of its orig. bldgs. are still standing. In 1881 the RR. entered town & was chiefly responsible for its rapid growth. Early ranching soon gave way to grain raising, diversified farming & dairying. The N.P. RR. is town's chief economic support, because it maintains here a division point & railroad yards with up-to-date facils. for handling large locomotives, incl. a 126' turntable. In SW. part of city is Chautauqua Pk. (pic.tourist camp.recr.). At Mandan is J. with gravel Rd. (continuation of 6th Ave.).

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 4.5m to Ft. Abraham Lincoln St. Pk. (750 as.) incl. Mandan village & 2 old military posts. In Slant Village, as it was called, are 5 lodges (rest.). More than 68 have been found along river valley. Pk. is developed by St. Hist. Soc. in cooperation with Nat. Pk. Service. Ft. McKeen, opp. village entrance, has also been restored. Orig. was built in 1782. Site of old Ft. A. Lincoln is near here. Pk. also has mus. containing archeological material & Ind. relics.

At Mandan is J. with St.6 on which route continues. Just (S) on this Rd., high on the bluffs, is U.S. Northern Great Plains Field Sta. (guides avail.). At 8. is U.S. NORTHERN GREAT PLAINS DAIRY STA. At these 2 Gov. experimental stas. methods of farming & breeds of cattle are tested for adaptability to the Missouri Slope. At 13. CZECH SOCIAL CENTER where semi-annual folk dancing of "Sala Naninka De Zeli" (Annie Went to the Cabbage Patch) is especially interesting to watch. Around 19. Rd. passes ST. ANTHONY, tiny German-Hungarian community (sett. 1887 by Catholics). At 36. is J. with BREIEN. Here Rd. reaches Standing Rock Ind. Reserv. Agency hqs. at Ft. Yates. Reached by following St.6 to SELFRIDGE at 59. At 65. is J. with St.24 on which tour cont. (E) & (N) to FT. YATES at 76. Opp. Agency is famous Standing Rock, a metamorphic stone resembling a seated Ind. woman. It belonged originally to the Arikara but came into possession of the Sioux & was carried along with them on their travels. Legend has it that a chief's squaw became jealous of his second wife & refused to move with camp, remaining in front of the fire with her child. The chief missed her & sent her brother to look for her. They found her sitting before the old campfire, petrified. From that time on, the stone occupied a prominent place in Sioux camp. Just S. of Ft. Yates is Grave of Sitting Bull, prophet, medicine man & onetime chief of the Sioux, whose lifelong aim was to save his people from the invading white men. Accounts differ as to his actual greatness as a warrior, but as prophet & medicine man he held undisputed ground. His rival chieftains, Gall & Crazy Horse, tried to minimize the respect accorded him by white generals, especially after Battle of Little Big Horn; he then fled to Canada. For one year he traveled with Buffalo Bill's Show, & being a born showman, enjoyed it. In later yrs. he never made an appearance or told a story without demanding remuneration. In N.D. Constitutional Convention parade he appeared in a Prince Albert. In 1890 the Messiah craze took hold of the Sioux. They expected a Messiah to deliver them from white men. Sitting Bull heard of this in Canada & secretly returned to his people, whipping them into a frenzy. To forestall an uprising, Ind. police were sent to arrest him. A struggle followed during which Sitting Bull & several police were killed. The great Ind. leader was buried without ceremony in cemetery of Ft. Yates. His grave is marked, but neglected. To return to Mandan cont. (N) on St.24 to 104. & J. with gravel Rd. leading to CANNON BALL at 111. Cont. (N) past HIST. SITE OF FT. RICE (est. by Gen. Alfred Sully. 1864) at c.119. & several Ind. Villages at c.136. Ruins of houses & a large dry moat with bastions are still visible. Rd. now leads (SW) into MANDAN c.150.

II. BISMARCK-MANDAN (NE) to STANTON. 47. US10 & St.25

5. from Mandan on US10 is J. with St.25.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (N) over Square Butte Cr. to Center at 30.5m. Granite marker here comm. 16-yr. old Hazel Miner, who froze to death during blizzard in 1920, protecting her little brother & sister with her own body. The small children were still alive when found after storm. Rd. begins to follow Mo. R. at 40.5m where there is J. with dirt Rd. leading (R) 1m to Ft. Clark St. Pk., site (1829) of American Fur Co. trading post (S) of Mandan village. Only burying-ground depressions are left.

At 46. J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 1.5m to Stanton. Straight ahead from here on country Rd. 2.5m to Scattered Village. Here Charbonneau, Frenchman, & his Shoshone wife, Sakakawea (Sacajawea) were living when Lewis & Clark engaged them as guides on their hazardous journey across the country. Sakakawea, known as the Bird Woman, was captured by the Gros Ventres (Hidatsa) c.1796. It was on her trip with them, as captive, that she learned about paths & trls., which later stood her in good stead. She became the squaw of trader Toussaint Charbonneau, who shortly after was employed by Lewis & Clark as guide, although it was really Sakakawea, & her practical knowledge of the countryside, her patience, & heroic bearing, who was their real help. The party reached Bismarck c.1804.

Sioux Falls is largest city in S.D. & important processing center of farm products. Orig. falls in Big Sioux R. have been reduced to rapids by altering for power production. Especially noticeable in city is the wide & varied use made of locally-quarried pink quartzite. City was est. by an act of Minn. Territorial legislature of 1856-57 as rival town site companies manipulated for possession of the falls but combined their efforts against marauding Sioux Inds. Publication of newspaper, "The Democrat," was started in 1859. In 1862, hostile Sioux destroyed the hastily-vacated village, threw press into the river, & carried away the type to decorate themselves & their peace-pipes. Fort Dakota was est. at town site in 1865 & the village took on new life to such a degree that by 1890's it was best known as a divorce colony patronized by wealthy Easterners. An expanding farm market, coupled with revision of divorce laws, turned Sioux Falls into a merchandising, distributing, & processing center. It is also the cultural & medical center for a large territory. During World War II an Air Force technical school that almost doubled pop. greatly accelerated business & entertainment activity.

381. RAPID CITY, E. gateway to Black Hills & major city of the reg. During gold rush of 1876, this foothill town sprang up as a central supply pt. for booming mining camps. Dubbed "Hay Camp" by gold seekers, it was laid out with a pocket compass, so that present business sec. is on a bias with true north. Impetus to growth of the town built along banks of Rapid Creek came in 1907, when the rival Milwaukee RR. & the Chi. & N.W. RR. raced to extend their lines across S.D. to the Black Hills. Twenty years later the bustling city became tourist conscious when Pres. Coolidge est. his Summer White House in the local high school & Gutzon Borglum began monumental carvings on near-by Mt. Rushmore. Local industries, reflecting the economic pattern of the reg., produce flour, lumber, cement, gold jewelry & leather goods. In 1948 the city limits were extended toward Canyon L. to take in new subdivisions of fast-growing city which doubled its pop. in 10 yrs. Annual Events: Range Days (mid-July). Sports: trout fish., Rapid Creek; horseback riding, various stables. PTS. OF INT.: E. St. Joe St., S.D. School of Mines & Technology has mus. Sec. 2: RAPID CITY to S.D.-WYO. LINE. 84.

US16 begins ascent immediately (S) of city & enters Harney Nat. For. at 11.5. At 12. J. with dirt Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this steep, twisting Rd. (R) is Stratosphere Bowl, 1m from which record altitude flight of 72,395' was made. Balloon & gondola carrying Capt. Orvil A. Anderson (now Maj. Gen.) & Albert W. Stevens took off on Armistice Day, 1935, to study stratosphere. Findings formed basis for planning high altitude operations during World War II.

12.5. ROCKERVILLE, a ghost town relic that once boasted a lively newspaper. At 18. is J. with a tarvia Rd. which is a shortcut to US85A (see), (N) of Hill City. KEYSTONE, mining village, is at 22. The Feldspar Mill here crushes rock finer than flour for use in making glass & porcelain. Back along the creek lies old town where fabulous Holy Terror Gold Mine which once produced $70,000 a wk. has resumed operations after yrs. of being flooded underground. Here also are Etta & Ingersol Mines, leading producers of lithium & beryl, respectively. 23. Boundary of CUSTER STATE PK., (128,000-as. wildlife sanctuary) in which herds of buffalo, elk, & deer roam. 24. J. with Mt. Rushmore Mem. Hy.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) is Mt. Rushmore Nat. Mem., 2m. Faces of Geo. Washington, Thos. Jefferson, Abr. Lincoln & Theo. Roosevelt have been carved on mt. side by Gutzon Borglum as "America's Shrine of Democracy." Figures are fashioned to men 465' tall. This world's largest sculpture was begun in 1927 & is unfinished. Behind the faces a Hall of Records has been started. A studio, in which scale models can be seen faces the mem.

24.5. begins a series of 3 Pigtail Bridges & 3 Tunnels focused on Mt. Rushmore. 27.5. is SUMMIT OF IRON MT. (5,500'), from which is a remarkable view of mts. & prairie. 40. US 16 Alternate—SOUTH DAKOTA

J. with US16 (W. of Kadoka) (W) to J. with US16 (at Wall). 49. US16 Alt.

This route follows St.40 & Badlands Nat. Mon. Hy. Accoms.: At Cedar Pass Lodge. A scenic route through the most fantastically eroded portion of the 150,000-a. Badlands Nat. Mon. This region is best viewed in early morning or evening when shadows add to the eerie beauty, rather than during heat of day. It is especially effective under a full moon. Area was set aside by Pres. F. D. Roosevelt in 1939 & is supervised by Nat. Park Serv. It was described by Gen. Custer as "a part of Hell with the fires burned out."

At 13. freak formations & jagged peaks loom on either side of Rd. From crest of the wall, Rd. begins a descent through CEDAR PASS, 16. Stunted cedar trees & yucca plants point up the soft hues. To the (L) is Dante's Inferno, huge natural bowl of chaotic desolation. At 16.5. is VAMPIRE PEAK, capped by two teats. 18. CEDAR PASS LODGE, spread out on the grassy floor of the Badlands. Here are exhibits of fossils of prehist. creatures & stones peculiar to the region. Bet. lodge & wall are patches of wild flowers, inc. prickly pear cactus with clusters of brilliant blooms & the Mariposa Lily. Rd. turns (R) from lodge & plunges into heart of the Badlands. Layers of delicate purple, white & olive are more pronounced. Some 40 million yrs. ago when the Black Hills were being formed, great Rs. gouged this area. Centuries of erosion left new deposits & carried away others. Bones & teeth of prehist. creatures lie exposed after heavy rains & scientists come here each yr. to explore. 28. BIG FOOT PASS, through which Chief Big Foot & his band eluded Capt. John J. Pershing during the Messiah War in 1890. At 40. THE PINNACLE POINT (refresh.). From here, atop the wall, is view again of the bewildering maze of grotesque formations. 49. J. with US16 (see).

US 18—SOUTH DAKOTA

S.D.-IOWA LINE (6^m from Inwood, Iowa) (W) to S.D.-WYO. LINE (48^m from Lusk, Wyo.). 460. US18

Via: Canton, Lake Andes, Winner, Hot Springs. Rd. is hard surface $\frac{3}{4}$ of way; rest is gravel. No. RR. parallels route. Accoms.: E. of Winner & in Black Hills.

Sec. 1: S.D.-IOWA LINE to HOT SPRINGS. 420.

At 1. is J. with gravel Rd. leading (L) here to Sioux Valley Ski Slide, 0.5^m, scene of ski tournaments. In summer hills are used for motorcycle contests. At 3. is CANTON, founded in 1860. It is setting for Rølvaag's "Giants in the Earth." In 10 yrs., this country was struck with series of disasters: blizzard of 1880, flood of '81, prairie fire in '85, another blizzard in '88. Augustana Academy, a Luth. sch., is housed in bldgs. made of Sioux Falls quartzite. 10. J. with US77 which leads (N) into Sioux Falls. US18 & US77 are joined to 15. Hy. passes through fertile Vermillion R. valley where livestock from range country is brought for fattening before being shipped to market. At 49. is J. with US81 (see). 57. MENNO, a village started by Mennonites. At 62. is OLIVET, on listless James R., longest unnavigable R. in U.S. 77. TRIPP, with its Russo-German pop. A Cty. Fair climaxes harvest season. 88. DELMONT. At 114. hy. follows shore of L. ANDES. U.S. Fish & Wildlife Serv. maintains waterfowl refuge here. There is also a St. Fish Hatchery near. 116. LAKE ANDES, trade center of reg. & gathering place for Sioux Inds., who live here (S) along Mo. R. In 1946 town experienced a boom as U.S. engineers moved in to begin work on FT. RANDALL DAM project. Here is J. with a gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this rd. (L) is Pickstown, 6m. This construction camp & town was built in 1948 by Fed. Gov. for workers at near-by Ft. Randall dam. Town was named for Maj. Gen. Lewis Pick of Burma Road fame & co-author of the Pick-Sloan plan for Mo. R. basin development. Site of old Ft. Randall, built in 1856 to protect emigrants, disappeared in bldg. of dam to provide electricity, irrigation, flood control, & recr.

At 133. is WHEELER & J. with US281 (see). Here is bridge (free) over Mo. R., the history of which is really history of S.D. The R. roughly bisects the St., & its traffic in the 1830's was principal means of trans. At one time as many as 40 steamers plied the R. Quite frequently R. overflowed, leaving destruction in its wake. Beyond the Mo. R. (N) is rolling country, sett. by homeseekers when the Rosebud Ind. Res. was opened. 146. BONESTEEL, patronized by farmers, ranchers, & Inds. 167. BURKE, named for Chas. Burke of Pierre, who once served as Commissioner of Ind. Affairs. 175. GREGORY, a town that has preserved its Western flavor. 179. DALLAS. 189. COLOME & J. with US183 to Springview, Neb. 200. WINNER, trade center of the Rosebud Country. Each fall it attracts hundreds of pheasant hunters, particularly sports figures. Town is noted for its hospitality. Founded in 1908, it is important shipping pt. for turkeys, rabbit skins & cattle. The Outlaw Trading Post, which covers a block, is known throughout reg. 218. CARTER. At 219. the E. boundary of the Rosebud Ind. Reserv. begins. It covers Todd Cty. & has an Ind. pop. of 6,362. Tribal councils & Ind. police have jurisdiction over most affairs. Great part of land is unproductive. Log houses & tents provide most of housing. 227. OKREEK, a trading post. Haystack Butte, habitat for rattlesnakes, is visible (R). At 240. is GOV. IND. BOARDING SCH. for about 200 children. 243. MISSION, with Luth., Episc., & Cath. schs. & chapels. At 243. is J. with US83 (see). At 245. is J. with a hard-surf. Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) is Rosebud Agency, (7,221 pop.) 8m. Here are gov. offices & trading posts featuring brightly-colored beads & calico. Grave of Spotted Tail is atop hill (R). This chief was distrusted by his followers because of his friendliness with the whites. To decide who should kill him, lots were drawn.

At 274. is W. boundary of Rosebud Reserv. 305. MARTIN, the major town of this thinly-settled country. A real Western town, it at times takes on rough & tough character. During 4th of July & Cty. Fair celebrations, Inds. add color to festivities. Here is J. with St.73.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) is La Creek Teal & Migratory Waterfowl Refuge, 12m.

At 326. is village of BATESLAND. Here hy. enters PINE RIDGE IND. RESERV. in which 10,090 Inds. live; 85% use Sioux language. There are 33 separate Ind. communities. Tribal life is best studied in these spots, which are rather difficult to reach. At 332. (R) is PORCUPINE BUTTE. At 345. is J. with graded Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this rd. (R) is Wounded Knee Battle Ground, 6m. A white church on the hill overlooks site where U.S. soldiers massacred 200 Inds., incl. women & children. On Dec. 29, 1890, last major stand of Inds. vs. whites occurred here. This ended the Messiah War, a craze that had taken hold of the Inds. in their last attempt to rid themselves of white men. They whipped themselves into a frenzy through a "Ghost Dance" & frenzy spread like wildfire. Sitting Bull had just been killed in northern S.D., & Yellow Bird took up the mission. When soldiers were sent to take him into custody & to disarm his followers, he feigned compliance while exhorting his braves to resist. The fire of the Inds. was returned by soldiers & then a Hotchkiss gun turned the affair into carnage. Dead Inds. were left along Wounded Knee Cr. for 2m. Frozen bodies of Inds. were later put into a common grave, indicated by large marker in churchyard.

355. PINE RIDGE, agency hqs. Gov. maintains a modern sch. plant designed to develop agric. & keep arts & crafts alive. Home of famous Chief Red Cloud was here. At 370. is OGLALA, with Ind. boarding sch. Hy. passes through wasteland, with clumps of pine trees & frequent creeks along route. At 413. hy. crosses CHEYENNE R. This is part of Augustura dam project, a phase of vast gov. reclamation program. In 1945 work was begun a few miles up the R. to form a reservoir that would hold back the spring watershed. At 414. hy. enters FALL R. CANYON & passes the falls. 420. HOT SPRINGS (see below).

Sec. 2: HOT SPRINGS, S.D. to S.D.-WYO. LINE. 40.

HOT SPRINGS is health center & S. gateway to Black Hills. Inds. had long used hot mineral waters both externally & internally before 1st white settlers arrived in 1879. Within a few yrs., promoters were advertising a cure for rheumatism, & special trains were run from Chicago. As other spas were developed throughout the country, this one dropped into the background & became a peaceful center for hospitals & soldiers' homes. It is a picturesque town. Fall R. winds through center of business dist., with Main St. on one side & steep banks on other. The tepid waters of Fall R. do not vary in temperature & visitors are attracted by huge gold fish that inhabit the R., summer & winter. The Evans Plunge, fed by a hot spring that pours 5,000 gals. of water in swim. pool every hr., is open yr. around (fee). Other springs used for both health & recr. are Hygeia, Mammoth, Minnekahta, & Hot. Battle Mt. Sanitarium, a huge Vet. Admin. hosp., overlooks town. It is built of native pink sandstone. St. Soldiers' Home & 2 hospitals are maintained here, latter being polio centers for a 3-St. area. Quarrying of varicolored sandstone is major local industry, but shipping is problem as RR. lines have been abandoned, due to washout floods. Major annual event is Water Carnival held 2nd wk. in July. Pari-mutuel horse races & St. Beauty Contest are features. Race track has ideal setting with Saw Tooth Range for backdrop. Here is J. with US85A (see). US18 & US85A join (W) & pass Parker Peak (L) at 11. At 12. is hamlet of MINNEKAHTA & J. with dirt Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) is Fossil Cycad Nat. Mon. 1m. This area was set aside by Pres. proclamation in 1922, but has not been developed. It covers deposits of fossilized plants of Mesozoic period. Fossils resemble trunks of tropical trees & fruit similar to pineapple. Specimens are exhibited at Hot Springs C. of C., Sch. of Mines Mus. in Rapid City (see US16), Yale University, & Smithsonian Institution.

27. EDMONT, small RR. town. A well here produces hot sulphur water at 115° for a sanitarium. Town provides night life for military ammunition depot near-by. Here is J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) is Black Hills Ordnance Depot, 8m. This huge war-born ammunition storage area has a civilian village & P.O. called Igloo. To enter the area, pass is required.

At 40. is the WYO. LINE.

S.D.-IOWA LINE (at Sioux City, Iowa) (N) to J. with US12 at MILBANK, S.D. 211. US77

Via: Sioux Falls, Brookings, Clear Lake. Rd. hard surfaced. Bus lines follow most of route. Accoms.: In larger towns.

US77 parallels E. border of S.D. through rich, level farmland.

At 0. hy. crosses Big Sioux R. bridge at outskirts of Sioux City. Here is Stevens, village of night spots. 7. JEFFERSON, dating back to 1859. It retains some of French flavor of its early settlers. 15. ELK POINT. Hunters with Lewis & Clark Expedition of 1804 shot their 1st deer in this vic. At 27. is JUNCTION CITY, road house. Here is J. with St.50.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) 9m to Vermillion, on the bluffs of the Vermillion R., trading post as early as 1835. In 1863 it was settled, but destroyed by flood of 1881. To avoid recurrence, present city was built on the bluff. Vermillion is seat of Univ. of S.D. It was est. by Territorial Legislature (1862) but no provision for funds was made. Twenty yrs. later $10,000 was provided & work began with 1 faculty member, Dr. Ephraim Epstein, Russian Jew who had become a Bapt. minister. From then until present, Univ. has been great influence & real help to the people of S.D. On S.Dakota St., is Audubon Pk. In it is replica of first schoolh. in S.D. On E.Main St. is Prentiss Pk. (O.daily,summer,large mun.swim.pool). W. end of Main St. is J. with St.19, leading (R) to Spirit Mound. Lewis & Clark stopped here (1804) to discover whether the Sioux story that the hill was inhabited by mysterious small folk who shot arrows at anyone approaching, was true. 10.5m Rd. crosses Vermillion R. 17m Meckling, home of one of largest consolidated schools in S.D. 23.5m Gayville Cemetery. At 31.5m hy. crosses James R. Here is Wildwood (resort). 35m Yankton, 1st capital of S.D. (see US81). At 51m Tabor, all-Bohemian settlement in which all business & social transactions are carried on in native language. Particularly int. are the Sokols, their "setting up exercises" & gymnastic competition, as well as weddings at which great quantities of excellent food are consumed. 98m Wagner, trading center for Inds. who live on Yankton Ind. Reserv. (2,170 pop.). Here is mod. Gov. Ind. Hosp. (1937) built with Ind. labor. Surrounding country has many fine Ind. homes & also some int. "squaw coolers" 4 posts with branches & leaves forming the roofs. 108.5m Ravinia. At 109.5m Rd. joins US18.

48. BERESFORD, busy town named for Brit. Adm., Lord Charles Beresford. 49. BETHESDA HOME, Luth. welfare institution. 60. J. with US18 (see) to 65. At 82. is SIOUX FALLS, largest city in St. & J. with US16 (see). 102. DELL RAPIDS, picturesque town on Big Sioux R., with a popular pub. pk. along hy. (swim.facils.). At edge of town are the Dells, series of purple quartzite gorges featuring Pulpit Rock, used for outdoor religious service. 114. J. with St.34.

SIDE TRIP: On this paved Rd. (R) is Flandreau, 11m. Here is Fed. Flandrean Ind. Voc. high sch. Native arts & crafts exhibit.

134. MEDARY MON. which marks site of 1st town in Dakota Territory. It was started in 1857. 141. BROOKINGS, home of St. College, & J. with US14 (see). 176. CLEAR LAKE, typical country town. The L. has recr. facils. Along hy. are numerous sloughs popular with duck hunters. 186. J. with US212 to 191. 211. MILBANK, thriving trade center & entrance to lake reg. (N). Here is J. with US12 (see).

US 81—SOUTH DAKOTA

Via: Yankton, Madison, Watertown, Sisseton. Allweather Rd. Fair accoms.

At 0. US81 crosses the NEB. LINE over Meridian Hy. Bridge (fee for car & passengers). 0.5. YANKTON, oldest city & capital of Dakota territory. In 1858 1st fur trader pitched his tent here & next yr. site was opened to settlers after an agreement had been reached with Smutty Bear, Sioux Chief, who protested against having his band moved to a reserv. First tavern was opened on Dec. 25, 1859. The Territorial Council Chamber has been restored. The "Weekly Dakotan" appeared as early as June 1861. Yankton College (Congr.) is oldest institution of higher learning in S.D. Its Conservatory of Music ranks high in the Middle West. On attractive campus is an out-door theatre with balcony & arbor. On Capital & 4th Sts., Carnegie Lib. with a 900-vol. S.D. coll. At 27. is J. with US18 (see). 49. STANLEY CORNERS & J. with US 16. 61. SALEM in the early 80's was an important RR. center & prosperous town. 91. J. with graded Rd. leading (R) 1m to Lake Herman (popular resort. cabins.f.boat.).

94. MADISON, so named because it reminded its founders, in 1875, of the capital of Wis. It is seat of Eastern St. Normal Sch. (1881), situated near ? Is. (especially fine in summer). Town is built on former Ind. camping ground, refuge of Black Eagle, who fled here after being ostracized by his people for having killed his brother, a favorite of the tribe. (S) of Main St. is J. with St.19 leading (R) to L. Madison 2m (popular resort). 101. J. with graded Rd. leading (L) here 1m to Lake Badus, Swiss settlement that lives & works on cooperative principle. 116. ARLINGTON. Here J. with US14. 125. 155. WATERTOWN, on Big Sioux R., in beautiful lake country near L. Kampeska, which is vacation spot for Watertowners, both summer & winter. Duck & pheasant hunting is favorite fall sport. Instead of a long Main St., as most Middle-western towns have, the business area here is concentrated in one sec. Though treeless prairie land when founded in 1873, it now has scores of tree-shaded blocks. Town is industrial & commercial center, principally concerned with processing & distributing of agri. products & farm machinery. Great impetus for settlement in & near Watertown came in 1892 when Sisseton Reserv. was opened for homesteading. Pop. has since increased steadily to an estimated 14,000 (1948). PTS. OF INT.: 5th St. & 5th Ave., NW, Mellette Home, residence of 1st territorial Gov. (1889); rambling H. with block towers. On River St., along Gt. N. RR. tracks is Swift & Co. plant, 1st St. bet. Maple & Broadway, Codington Cty. Cth. (1928, 1st cth. in st. of modern design). On Kampeska Rd. & Lakeshore Dr., Old State Capitol, but was never used as such because Pierre became the capital. On Shore Line Dr. (R) from Kampeska Rd., City Pk., 140 as. along L. Kampeska (boat.bath.f.pic.). On Dr. at outlet is St. Pike Hatchery (O.daily). 168. J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this rd. (R) 6m to Punished Woman's Lake. About 2m beyond is effigy of Ind. maiden who spurned the love of 60-yr. old chief Chemoki. Enraged by her resistance, he killed her lover & had her bound to a tree. While berating her, he was struck by lightning. Later his effigy was placed at the feet of the 2 lovers.

180. J. with US12 (see). For 2m US81 & US12 are one Rd. 189.5. HURRICANE L. 193. J. with graded Rd. leading (R) here 2.5m to abandoned Ind. Church of the Ascension. 198. J. with gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) 4m is Renville Mon. Gabriel Renville, chief of Sisseton Tribe from 1862-92, worked continuously for a closed reserv. for his tribe. Renville joined Gen. Sibley's troops during Minn. Massacre & was made chief of scouts in 1864. About 2m beyond is abandoned Sisseton agency hqs.

210. SISSETON. Ind. Reserv. Hqs. on top of hill E. of Main St. (reserv. O.; boundary not marked). Sisseton & Wahpeton who lived in this vic. were peaceful & welcomed most of the whites, but misunderstandings kept occurring. Friendly Inds. asked whites to dress in Ind. attire to keep from being massacred. After Minnesota Massacre troops from Ft. Snelling marched against Sisseton. These fled, but turned about-face often so they could see how the cannonballs, a new kind of weapon for them, worked. In 1863 Inds., who had fled to Canada, returned & made a treaty with the whites. At present, there are 2,658 Inds. on reserv.; only 775 full blooded. Each family has a tract of 160 as. of land for his own. There is no tribal property. Social life is carried on in their churches, Cath., Episc. & Presb. Series of mounds in vic. are burial grounds of the Mound Builders, but their artifacts have been removed. In High Sch., one block E. of lower Main St., a coll. of Ind. relics are on display. A modern hospital was built for the Inds. (1936). One of the recent colorful Ind. characters was Asa Sweetcorn, football player with Jim Thorpe. He was giant sized & wore a 21 collar. Sisseton is at J. with St.10. 239. ROSHOLT, small town founded as late as 1913. 243.5. TRAVERSE-BOIS DE SIOUX GOV. DAM, controlling flow of water from L. Traverse 3m beyond. Hy. runs along N. end of L. Traverse which is 30m long, & crosses through the last 4.5m of Sisseton Ind. Reserv., to N.D. LINE at 249.

S.D.-WYO. LINE (2^m from Buckhorn, Wyo.) (NE) to S.D.-N.D. LINE (18^m from Bowman, N.D.). 164. US85

Via: Lead, Deadwood, Spearfish, Belle Fourche, Buffalo. Rd. is hard surface in Black Hills; gravel in N. No RR. parallels route. Accoms.: In Black Hills.

US85 passes through part of N. Black Hills & then through vast, desolate prairie broken by ranges of buttes & occasional ranches.

0. Hy. enters Black Hills Nat. For. For several miles it crosses the Limestone Country, uninhabited wilderness that comes to life during deer hunting season. Crook's Tower (7,114') dominates the skyline (R). 18. CHEYENNE CROSSING, where old Cheyenne Trl. crossed Spearfish Cr. Here is J. with Spearfish Canyon Hy.

SIDE TRIP: On this scenic Rd. (L) are numerous pools & rapids for trout fishing. At 5^m Latchstring Inn, (summer resort & h.lodge). Canyon walls here are 1,000' high. Within easy walking distance is Roughlock Falls, beautiful cascade (pic.facils.). 7.5^m Maurice, hydroelectric plant of Homestake Mine. At 8 5^m is Bridal Veil Falls (R), Rim Rock Lodge & Community Hall. Rd. cont. to Spearfish, 20^m (see US14).

At 21. Rd. enters ICE BOX CANYON with Terry Peak (7,071') (L). 28. LEAD, a mile-high city built around fabulous Homestake Mine, largest gold mine in western hemisphere. When gold-bearing quartz veins were discovered here in 1877, a Calif. syndicate headed by Geo. Hearst bought the mining claim for $77,000. It produced more than $500,000,000 in gold. The company owns or controls all property in town & operates a hospital, recr. center, & gen. store. Much of town is undermined & subject to cave-ins. Lower Main St. has been abandoned, causing town to move up Gold Run Gulch. (Tours through the Homestake's surface workings are avail.). Underground shafts go as deep as 5,200'. Unlike most mining towns, Lead has no night life. Winter sports are popular. Indoor ice skating rink is operated in an old cyanide plant. Here is a 4-mile ski run with tow facils. Town's maj. annual event is Labor Day celebration. At 29.5, is PLUMA & J. with US85A (see).

31. DEADWOOD, historic mining town & playground. It was here that Calamity Jane, Wild Bill Hickok, & other frontier characters cavorted. Deadwood Gulch was center of gold rush of '76. Within a few wks. after John Pearson struck pay dirt, the gulch swarmed with 25,000 gold-seekers & adventurers. Boom lasted several yrs. until most of the gold was exhausted. For 70 yrs. Deadwood clung to its reputation of being "wide open." Since World War II, however, games of chance have been outlawed & only bars & brothels remain. "The Days of '76" are reenacted in a three-day celebration 1st wk. of Aug. each yr., incl. dramatic portrayal of the Trial of Jack McCall. PTS. OF INT.: Sherman & Deadwood Sts., Adams Mem. Mus. (free) houses excellent coll. of pioneer mining devices & mementoes. 620 Main St., the No. 10 Saloon, where Wild Bill was shot in the back while holding a poker hand of aces & eights, since known as "dead man's hand." Van Buren Ave. & White Rocks Rd., Mt. Moriah Cemetery where graves of Wild Bill, Calamity Jane, Seth Bullock & others are marked. Shine St., up Mt. Rd., Roosevelt Mon., a tower dedicated to Theo. Roosevelt, whose Rough Riders were recruited here.

At 32, is J. with US16. US85 & US16 are joined through Spearfish to J. at 48. (see US16). US85 runs (N) through Spearfish Valley irrigated area of orchards & truck gardens. Roadside markets along route. 60. BELLE FOURCHE, trade center of far-flung cattle & sheep empire extending into Wyo. & Mont. Here 10-gal. hats are the genuine thing. Stockyards & wool markets are primary shipping centers. A 75,000-a. irrigation project surrounding town produces sugar beets for Black Hills Sugar Plant. Bentonite, gelatin-like mineral, is mined here for shipment E. for use in steel foundries. There is also a brick plant. Black Hills Round-Up, annual rodeo, is always held July 3, 4, & 5. Summer event designed for vacationers is an 8-day horseback & chuckwagon round trip through the Bear Lodge Mts. US85 passes (N) through broad area known as The Gumbo. The soil sticks like gum when wet. Herds of cattle & bands of sheep & a few herders' wagons are likely to be only signs of life. 107. REDIG, lonely p.o. 134. BUFFALO, a typical prairie town 50^m from nearest RR. Town was born during homestead days & has changed little since. At Buffalo is J. with St.8.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (R) are Slim Buttes & Custer Nat. For., 23^m. Unusual & picturesque range of pine-crested limestone cliffs. Site of stalemate Battle of Slim Buttes fought in 1876 bet. troops of Gen. Crook & Crazy Horse's band. Area abounds with antelope.

US85 passes through fringe of the Cave Hills & parallels another portion of Custer Nat. For. (L) to N.D. LINE, 164.

US 85 Alternate—SOUTH DAKOTA

S.D.-WYO. LINE (2m from Mule Creek, Wyo.) (NE) to J. with US85 near Deadwood, S.D.). 116. US85 Alt.

Via: Edgemont, Hot Springs, Wind Cave Nat. Pk., Hill City. Rd. is hard surface. C. B. & Q. RR. roughly parallels route from Edgemont to Deadwood. Accomms.: good in towns & lodges along Rd.

US85 Alt. is scenic route that cuts through heart of Black Hills. From 0. at S.D.-Wyo. Line route is same as US18 to HOT SPRINGS, 40. (see US18). Here Rd. turns (N). 46. High fence & gate of WIND CAVE NAT. PK. game preserve (no adm.). Herds of buffalo, elk, deer, & antelope roam at large. Buffalo often stop traffic on hy. 53. Hqs. bldg. & cave entrance (tours every hr.). Wind Cave is a limestone cavern. Elevator takes visitors to floor of cave & from there several miles of lighted routes pass through galleries of fantastic formations. Temperature is a constant 47 degrees yr. around. US85 Alt. cont. (N) through buffalo pasture. Along Rd. are prairie dog towns where animals perch beside their holes. 55. N. boundary of pk. Here hy. enters Harney Nat. For. 60. PRINGLE, bldgs. of which have provided artists with material to illustrate western stories. 67. SANATOR, a St. sanitarium for treatment of tuberculosis. Altitude here is 5,340'. At 72. CUSTER & J. with US16 (see). From Custer, Rd. begins gradual ascent into Harney Range. 79. SYLVAN LAKE HOTEL, luxurious St.-owned lodge overlooking mountain L. The large, rambling bldg. blends with landscape of pine & granite atop a cliff (6,300') facing Harvey Peak. On walls of dining room are Ind. murals painted by Erika Lohmann of New York. A flagstone terrace affords delightful view. Here is J. with Needles Hy., scenic Rd. to US16 (see). There are several hiking & horseback trls. from the L. & hotel. Most popular is 3-mile climb to summit of Harvey Peak, highest pt. E. of Rockies (7,242'). From ranger station is view of mt. reg. & frequently mt. sheep can be seen scrambling on near-by crags. US85 Alt. descends in series of hairpin turns to HILL CITY, 87. This town was developed by Eng. firms interested in mining tin; gold & tungsten are the main minerals mined here now. Sawmills provide much of locality's industry. Hy. follows Spring Cr. which has trout pools & fast water. 81. J. with For. Serv. Rd., which is a cut-off to US16 & Rapid City (see US16). At 84. SHERIDAN L., also called L. of the Pines (recr.facils.). It is largest L. in the mt. region & is stocked with fish. Speedboat races are held here during summer. Beneath waters of this artificial lake lies hist. town of Sheridan. Old town was stage station on Denver-Deadwood line & the 1st term of Fed. Court W. of Mo. R. was held here in 1878. At 86. is boundary bet. Harvey & Black Hills Nat. Fors. 90. PACTOLA, recr. center. Here is J. with graded Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) is Silver City, 4m, old ghost town where a $300,000 offer for a silver mine was turned down because owners were unfamiliar with large figures. Surrounding area is called Unknown Land because it is so inaccessible. At 5m is Camp Wanzer, summer camp for children.

96. J. with a gravel Rd.

SIDE TRIP: On this Rd. (L) is Rochford, 12m, one of most picturesque villages in Black Hills, having changed little from gold rush days. It is an excellent f. & h. area (camp.facils.).

108. J. with gravel Rd. leading (R) to Roubaix, 2m, a ghost town that was revived briefly when the price of gold doubled in 1934. 109. TOMAHAWK GOLF COURSE, tricky 9-hole layout built around a mt. At 112. the hy. begins steep descent down Strawberry Gulch to J. with US85 at PLUMA, 116.

THE SOUTH

VIRGINIA — NORTH CAROLINA
SOUTH CAROLINA — GEORGIA — FLORIDA
ALABAMA — MISSISSIPPI — LOUISIANA
KENTUCKY — TENNESSEE — ARKANSAS

The boundaries of the eleven states here considered are not to be taken too literally as the exact boundaries of what has come to be known as the South. Maryland & Delaware have much that is southern, just as Birmingham & Atlanta have much that is not "typical south." The Ozark section of Arkansas & some of the mountain regions of Kentucky & Tennessee, it might be argued, belong to another category. Texas is not here included, although it was a "rebel" state, & Miami, Florida is about as southern as the Bronx.

Also, it should be pointed out, there are many Souths: the eastern seaboard region—Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, & Georgia—settled by the English & part of the original thirteen colonies; Florida, settled by the Spanish, & now boasting a large floating population of tourists from all parts of the United States; the Gulf Coast region of Alabama & Mississippi & all the Louisiana territory, settled by the French & sold to the United States by Napoleon. And, from another point of view, there is the South of the large plantation owner, who once worked slaves & now employs sharecroppers, the South of the small independent farmer, whose ancestors were not slave-holding, & the South of the poor white & the Negro.

The states included in this region are bordered on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico. All of them lie east of the Mississippi River with the exception of Arkansas & Louisiana. The broad Atlantic Plain extends along the border of the states from Virginia south, including all of Florida, & its continuation, the Gulf Coastal Plain, extends through much of Alabama, Mississippi, & Louisiana & part of Arkansas. Beyond the plain, running southwest, from above Virginia into Alabama, is the Piedmont Plateau, part of the Appalachian Highlands & beyond the plateau, the mountains proper, including the Great Smokies, the Blue Ridge, the Cumberland, & the Black, reaching their highest point in eastern United States at Mt. Mitchell, N.C. In Kentucky & Tennessee are interior plains centering around Lexington & Nashville, & in northwest Arkansas are the Ozark Mountains. In western Kentucky & western Tennessee, eastern Arkansas, Mississippi & Louisiana is the Mississippi Alluvial Plain, drained by the Mississippi River & its branches, one of the great river systems of the world, with a drainage area of one & a quarter million square miles (about $\frac{5}{12}$ of the United States). The Mississippi enters the Gulf of Mexico, some 100 miles south of New Orleans.

The total area covered is approximately 525,290 square miles & here live some 28,261,000 people. Yet, in spite of great diversity, these states have so much in common that they constitute perhaps the most homogeneous section of the United States:

(1) In the South, much more than any other region in the country, the white population is native born & primarily of English-Scotch-Irish stock. There are, to be sure, foreign-born groups in the seaports, Florida has Spanish cigar-makers & Greek sponge divers, & South Louisiana is Roman Catholic & French (though most of the French are of native-born parents). But the percentage of population with American born parents is as high as 98.7% (Arkansas) & it is 90% or more in all the states except Florida & Louisiana.

(2) This Anglo-Saxon stock is also principally Protestant (mostly Baptist & Methodist) & sometimes militantly so. The cotton belt & the Bible belt are frequently identical. At Dayton, Tennessee, in 1925, occurred the famous Scopes or "Monkey" Trial & Tennessee passed a law (still on the statute books) making it illegal to teach the theory of evolution in state schools. Mississippi & Arkansas followed suit. The South, though it consumes a great amount of alcoholic beverages, is also a stronghold of the W.C.T.U.

(3) In the South are concentrated between nine & ten millions of the country's thirteen million Negroes, constituting the United States' greatest minority group & one of its most pressing problems. Although intermarriage is illegal in all southern (& some northern) states, about six million of the thirteen million are mulattoes.

Early explorers took Indians as slaves but the first Negroes were brought by a Dutch ship to Virginia in 1619. And, although much of the early labor on the plantations was done by white indentured servants, by 1790 Virginia alone had some 200,000 slaves. There is ample evidence that many owners were kind to their slaves, but there is also ample evidence of great cruelty. Most advertisements for runaways indicated that the slave had been branded or otherwise physically marked; pregnant slaves who had annoyed their masters were made to lie down over a shallow hole so they could be lashed without injury to unborn property; & a dinner guest in South Carolina passed, on his way to the plantation house of his host, a slave suspended in a cage for buzzards to pick at. The Quakers early attacked slavery, the northern states freed their slaves in 1777, & importation became illegal in 1808, though an estimated 2,000,000 were imported illegally. Eventually a strong abolitionist movement (that included colonization in Liberia) grew up even in the South, though the latter was completely dependent on slaves to work the cotton plantations that constituted the basis of its economy. In 1831, Virginia failed to pass by one vote only, a bill encouraging private freeing of slaves.

When slavery was abolished in 1863, there were some 4,400,000 Negroes in the United States of whom an estimated 95% were illiterate. In 1930 the percentage of illiteracy was decreased to an estimated 16.3% & there has been considerable progress since in various directions, in spite of Jim Crow laws, revivals of Ku Klux Klan terrorism, control of the franchise by poll tax, etc. Yet, although the thumbs of lynched Negroes are no longer exhibited in butcher shops, as they were not too many years ago, the southern bloc in Congress has consistently (on the basis of state rights) prevented the passage of an anti-lynching bill. Among the most encouraging signs of better race relations in the South may be listed the work of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare in Nashville & the Southern Regional Council in Atlanta.

(4) The South alone among the United States has suffered a devastating war on its own ground within the memory of men still living & it has still to recover from an even more devastating peace. The basic cause of the Civil War (which the South calls the War between the States & whose official name is the War of the Rebellion) was the sectionalism that developed from two essentially different economic & social orders—the free, industrial & commercial North & the agricultural South with its large plantations & its slaves. Tariff questions & the doctrine of state rights were contributing factors.

There is no space here to describe the desolation wrought by the war. The destruction of Atlanta has been compared to the destruction of Warsaw & Sherman's terrible march to the sea, which brought the war home to the civilians, is well known. The Reconstruction that followed was a period of almost unparalleled corruption & misrule. The franchise was given to newly freed & completely untrained Negroes & taken away from those who served in the Confederate Army. "Carpetbaggers" from the North (so called because of the kind of bag in which they carried their belongings when they arrived in the South) & "Scalawags" (Southerners who aided them) shamelessly manipulated Negro votes, the Freedmen's Bureau degenerated into a Republican political machine & legislatures composed of Negroes & carpetbaggers helped complete the economic & social ruin of the South. Eventually vigilante committees, which were to become known as the Ku Klux Klan, restored white supremacy, made true citizenship for the Negro even more difficult, & created the Solid Democratic South.

(5) The South is, to a very great extent, rural. Approximately 43% of the farmers in America live in 10 of these 11 states. The lowest proportion of city dwellers in the United States is in Mississippi, with Arkansas & South Carolina not far behind. The main crop for more than a century has been cotton, of which the South raises 40% of the world's supply. Much of the farming is done by tenant farmers (those who own tools & perhaps some livestock but no land) & sharecroppers (who have only their labor to sell). Both work on shares, however, usually paying the landowner $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ of the crop. Tobacco is the second crop in cash value. Corn, peanuts, sugar cane, rice, & citrus fruits are all important. But more & more the tendency has been toward diversification & away from one-crop economy, & the raising of livestock is becoming increasingly profitable in many sections. All this is to the good. For it has been estimated that the mechanical cotton picker alone will displace 1,000,000 families in the next ten years.

In the last decade the manufacture of paper from the rapidly growing slash pine has become of considerable importance. And the South has a surprising amount of other industry, though it suffers from absentee ownership & discriminatory freight rates.

(6) The South is the poorest section of the United States & has the lowest general standard of living. It is at the bottom of the list in public education, public health & housing. In 1942 it was estimated that some 11 million Southerners had annual cash incomes of $250 or below. The chief reasons for this poverty in so potentially rich an area are: the Civil War & the Reconstruction that followed, the impoverishment of the soil (through erosion, the careless cutting down of forests, & the one crop system), a large population (both white & black) unskilled in any trade other than farming, & the continuance of segregation that produces the necessity of two schools, two hospitals, two insane asylums where one might have sufficed. To these, perhaps, should be added a climate frequently conducive to lethargy rather than to activity.

Virginia, the northernmost of the southern states bordering the Atlantic, is made up of a tidewater section in the east, the Dismal Swamp in the southeast, a Piedmont Plateau region to the west & then the forested hills & valleys of the Blue Ridge. Named for Elizabeth, the Virgin Queen, it was here that the first permanent English settlement in North America was made at Jamestown (1607). Here, too, the first representative assembly in the English colonies met (1619) & the first Negro slaves were sold. Virginia was the scene of much fighting during the Revolution, & in the framing of the Constitution, played a leading rôle. More presidents (8) have come from Virginia than any other single state. It was the chief battleground of the Civil War, its capital, Richmond, became the capital of the Confederacy, & it was at Appomattox that Lee surrendered. John Rolfe, who later married Pocahontas, introduced the cultivation of tobacco (thereby becoming the savior of the colonists) & tobacco today is one of Virginia's chief sources of income. Richmond is the biggest cigarette manufacturing center in the world. Diversified agriculture (especially apples), fisheries & the shipbuilding & naval yards at Norfolk & Hampton Roads are also important, as is textile manufacturing (rayon & cotton). Immensely proud of its aristocratic tradition & comparatively wealthy, Virginia is also immensely conservative. It has not had a lynching (1949) in 20 years, but it has still not abolished the chain gang. It has enacted restrictive labor laws including anti-picketing & anti-closed shop statutes. It has such distinguished colleges as William & Mary, the University of Virginia (1693) & Hampton Institute, one of the leading Negro schools in the country. But the school system ranks forty-third among the states & its one-room school houses are as bad as any in the United States.

North Carolina lies south of Virginia & into its northeast corner extends the Great Dismal Swamp. Its shoreline is much broken by lagoons & lakes & the land rises in the west to the Great Smoky Mts. & the Black Mts., in the latter of which is the highest point (Mt. Mitchell) in eastern United States. As early as 1584 explorers, commissioned by Sir Walter Raleigh, landed at Roanoke Island, where in 1587 a small colony was set up. Here Virginia Dare was born, first child to be born of English parentage in America. But by 1591 the colony had mysteriously disappeared & later settlement was not made until 1656. The frontiersmen were early in conflict with their governors & North Carolina was the first to direct her representatives to vote for complete separation from England. There was a strong feeling in the state against the importation of slaves & North Carolina opposed secession until Lincoln's call for troops. Its casualties in the war were, however, greater than that of any other state. Since the 80's, with the aid of cheap labor (in average annual wage per wage earner in all manufactures, North Carolina, South Carolina & Georgia are the three lowest states) & water power, its industrial development has been more rapid than that of the rest of the South. There have been many labor troubles, however, notably the Gastonia strike of 1929. Today tobacco & cotton are among the chief sources of income. North Carolina is first in value of manufactured tobacco (notably the Duke interests) & cotton goods, & second in rayon. Furniture manufacturing & fisheries are of considerable importance & the state is a chief source of felspar & mica. North Carolina has become probably the most liberal state in the South. The State University at Chapel Hill is one of the best in the United States & near-by is the new & very rich Duke University. North Carolina is the only southern state where Negro schools are comparable to white & where Negro & white teachers receive the same pay.

South Carolina is almost evenly divided in geography & temperament between the "low" country of the coast with its beach resorts & historic plantations & the "up" country of the western part of the state with its mill towns. It was explored by the Spanish in the 1520's & the French Huguenots established a settlement at Port Royal in 1562, later destroyed by the Spanish. Charles II granted land that included both North & South Carolina to a group of his favorites, & in South Carolina the Lords Proprietors attempted to establish a feudal system with a constitution drawn up by John Locke. In spite of difficulties with the French, Spanish, Indians & pirates, Charleston was found by the traveler Crèvecoeur, just before the Revolution, to be one of the most sophisticated cities in the country, exhibiting "a display of riches & luxury far superior to what are to be seen in our northern towns." At Fort Moultrie the first victory of the Revolution was won & in that year (1776) South Carolina adopted the first independent constitution in the colonies. In the 19th century its wealth & the influence of its statesmen, especially Calhoun, made it the leading slave state. It became the first to secede & the firing on Fort Sumter was the first engagement of the Civil War. South Carolina was in the line of Sherman's march; the capital, Columbia, was partially fired. The state remained under the rule of carpetbaggers & Negroes until 1874, while the public debt was multiplied by three & taxes by six. With an early economy based first on naval stores, then indigo, & then rice, South Carolina became a cotton state in the early 19th century; cotton remains its chief crop & textiles its chief industry. Tobacco, fruit & vegetables, lumbering, & fishing are also important. But South Carolina remains one of the poorest of the states & one of the most stubborn. It has been called the white supremacy state, par excellence, though it is also the only state in which Negroes have attempted to form their own party (1944).

Georgia, separated from South Carolina by the Savannah River, has a sea coast that extends about a hundred miles & is edged by low sea islands. In the southeast is the 600 square-mile Okefenokee Swamp. From the coast the land rises to a plateau region broken by outcroppings such as Stone Mt., said to be largest exposed granite body in the world, to the impressive ridges & valleys with which the Appalachians come to an end. De Soto was through this region (1540), as was the French explorer Ribaut, & Spanish Franciscans established missions in 1566. But Georgia remained the last of the thirteen original colonies to be settled by the English. In 1732 a land grant, named in honor of George II, was made to a group seeking to find a haven for English debtors & European Protestants. The first colonists, headed by James Oglethorpe, arrived the following year. Among other restrictions, slaves & the sale of rum were not allowed. Georgia signed the Declaration of Independence, though it had less cause for grievance than the other States & Savannah was taken by the British during the Revolution. Later there was much trouble with the Creeks & the Cherokees until both tribes were expelled to the West in the 30's. During the Civil War, Georgia was the scene of much destructive fighting & on September 1, 1863, Sherman took Atlanta & began his devastating march to the sea, laying waste town after town. Today cotton remains the leading crop & textiles the leading industry. Peanuts & lumber are next in importance. Georgia has the largest timber acreage east of the Mississippi, & is second only to California in peach production. It also has a wide variety of clays & its mineral deposits include gold which is still mined on a small scale. Its capital, Atlanta, a financial & industrial center, comes, perhaps, closer to being the capital of the South, than any other city, though it has many characteristics that are more middlewestern than southern. A leading industry is Coca-Cola. Atlanta has the only Negro daily in the country, but it was in Georgia that the new Ku Klux Klan movement, which has become nationwide, originated in 1915.

Florida, the southernmost of the states, is a peninsula with a coastline of 3,751 miles separating the Atlantic from the Gulf of Mexico. Key West, at the end of a series of keys or small limestone & coral islands, now connected by an overseas highway, is only 100 miles from Cuba & is the only town in the country that has never had a frost. The Atlantic Coast of Florida is fringed with long, narrow, barrier beaches & such world-famous resorts as Miami & Palm Beach. The coast bordering the gulf is indented by bays. Inland the highest points seldom rise above 300 feet & the estimated number of lakes is 30,000, including Lake Okeechobee (733 square miles). South of the lake are the Everglades, an immense sub-tropical swamp area of some 5,000 square miles where live Seminole Indians who have still to make formal treaty with the United States. Parts of the Everglades have been drained for farming & part is now a national park. Ponce de Leon, in search of gold & the Fountain of Youth discovered Florida in 1513 & was followed by other Spanish explorers & by the French. The colonists of the latter were massacred "not as Frenchmen but as Lutherans" by Menéndez de Avilés who established a fort, 1565, at St. Augustine, which thus became the first permanent white settlement in the United States. Florida remained in the hands of the Spanish until 1762, when England took over, but was reconquered by Galvez in 1783. Andrew Jackson twice invaded the region during the war of 1812 & in 1820 Spain sold Florida to the United States. Then followed the expensive war with the Seminoles. In 1845 Florida became the 27th state. During the Civil War, Tallahassee was the only southern capital not taken by the Federals. Florida's great growth started in the 80's through two rival railroad builders, Henry M. Flagler & Henry B. Plant & the state experienced a tremendous boom & an equally tremendous crash in the 1920's. Its principal sources of income today are citrus fruits, cattle, naval stores, fisheries, & tourists. Florida presents an interesting example of the deep South with a tremendous overlay of people from the East & Middle West. "In winter," says the Florida cracker, "we live on tourists; in summer on fish."

Alabama lies north of the western arm of Florida & only a small portion of it, in the vicinity of Mobile, its only port, touches the Gulf. The southern half of the state lies in the coastal plain, the northern part in the foothills of the Appalachians. Alabama has more miles of navigable rivers—including the Tennessee, the Tombigbee, the Alabama, & the Chattahoochee—than other Southern states. The Spanish were through this region first—Narváez, Cabeza de Vaca, & De Soto—and Trista de Luna made the first unsuccessful attempt at colonization (1559). A hundred years later the region was being claimed by the English but the French made the first permanent settlement at Dauphine Island in 1702, later moving up the Mobile River & in 1711 establishing a fort on the present site of Mobile. French, English & Spanish fought over the region. The English held Mobile during the revolution. The Spanish next seized it & held on until 1813 when the United States sent General Wilkinson to take over. Alabama became a state in 1819 & Montgomery was the first capital of the Confederacy. Here on February 18, 1861, Jefferson Davis was inaugurated President. After the war the Republican Party was in control until 1874 & bankrupted the state. Cotton, iron, & steel are the leading sources of income, though there are also cement & clay products, diversified farming, lumber, & fishing. The region around Birmingham, the leading iron & steel center of the South, is one of the few places in the world where the three essentials necessary in the production of steel—iron, coal & limestone are found in close proximity. But Birmingham steel workers average about 17 cents an hour less than northern workers & the state ranks 48th in retail sales & school property value per pupil. Alabama ranks high as a textile producing state. The most important development in the last decades in Alabama has been the Muscle Shoals development on the Tennessee River. The state is the home of Tuskegee Institute of which Booker T. Washington was the first principal & one of whose teachers was George Washington Carver.

Mississippi, lying west of Alabama, has as its own western boundary the Mississippi River & much of the state lies in the Mississippi flood plain. In the northeast are the Tennessee Hills & in the far south the lowlands of the coast, separated from the Gulf by long, narrow sand bars. De Soto is said to lie buried in the river near Natchez & in 1682 La Salle passed this way on his journey to the mouth of the Mississippi. The first permanent colony was established in 1699 at Ocean Springs (Old Biloxi) by Iberville. But it was only after 1763, when the region was ceded to England, that colonists (chiefly from the Carolinas, Virginia & Georgia) began to arrive in any number. The invention of the cotton gin (1793) & the improvement of the Natchez Trace brought more & more colonists through Alabama, Mississippi & Louisiana. Times were becoming prosperous & soon a Natchez planter was writing: "For a young man just commencing in life, the best stock in which he can invest is, I think, Negro stock. When cotton can command twenty to thirty cents per pound, Negroes will yield a much larger income than any bank dividend." Even after the Louisiana Purchase the Spanish held parts of what is now Mississippi on & off until 1813 when the United States finally took over. Mississippi became a state in 1817. Led by Jefferson Davis, who spent his childhood here, it took an active part in the events leading up to the Civil War & was the scene of important & devastating engagements. "When Vicksburg fell," said Grant, "the fate of the Confederacy was sealed." Reconstruction was particularly bitter in Mississippi & there were violent collisions through 1875.

The state has suffered several severe floods, the worst, in spite of expensive levees, occurring in 1927. Since then spillways & other methods of control have been adopted. The United States Waterways Experiment Station is located at Vicksburg. One half of the annual crop in Mississippi is cotton & Mississippi ranks as one of the chief lumber producing states. Other crops include tung oil & peanuts. Ninety percent of the population is rural & forty-nine percent, Negro. Mississippi has the worst statistics of any state in the U.S., being highest in illiteracy (& lynchings) & lowest in public health & per capita income.

Louisiana, bounded on the north by Arkansas & on the south by the Gulf of Mexico, is separated from Texas by the Sabine River & from Mississippi by the Mississippi River, the last 300 miles of which lie wholly within Louisiana. There are hills near the Arkansas border, but most of the state is low level land comprising the flood plains of the Mississippi, the Ouachita & the Red rivers. Swamps & marshlands border the coast & there are many lakes & sluggish streams known as bayous. Narváez & De Soto both crossed the Mississippi. La Salle in 1682 descended to its mouth claiming all the lands drained by it from Canada to the Gulf for Louis XIV & naming the entire region Louisiana. Jean Baptiste le Moyne, Sieur de Bienville (brother of d'Iberville who founded the first "capital" of Louisiana near Biloxi, Mississippi), founded New Orleans in 1718. In 1762 all of the Louisiana territory west of the Mississippi & "the island of New Orleans" was ceded to Spain. The present descendants of these original French & Spanish settlers constitute the oldest aristocracy of the state & are called "Creoles." The word does not in Louisiana indicate mixed blood, as it does in some other places, though there are Creole Negroes (i.e. usually mulatto descendants of slaves of French-speaking families). Many of the French Acadians expelled from Nova Scotia also settled in south Louisiana. Their descendants are popularly called Cajuns & there are "parishes" (the local word for county) in Louisiana today where French is still heard more often than English. In 1800-01 Spain ceded the Louisiana Territory back to France & in 1803 Napoleon sold it to the United States for 80,000,000 francs. Out of the territory were carved all or part of thirteen states, from Arkansas to Montana, & the Territory of Orleans became the State of Louisiana in 1812. In the War of 1812, Andrew Jackson defeated the British in the Battle of New Orleans. Farragut took New Orleans during the Civil War & after the fall of Vicksburg much of the state came under control of the Federals. Louisiana, today, is about evenly divided between a Protestant North, which raises cotton (the state's most valuable crop) & a Catholic South which produces sugar cane & rice, in both of which Louisiana leads the nation. It also has valuable salt, sulphur, & oil deposits. New Orleans, the South's largest city, is also the third ranking seaport in the United States, & has been noted for more than a century for its gaiety, its Mardi Gras—the most spectacular festival in the United States—and for the excellence of its food.

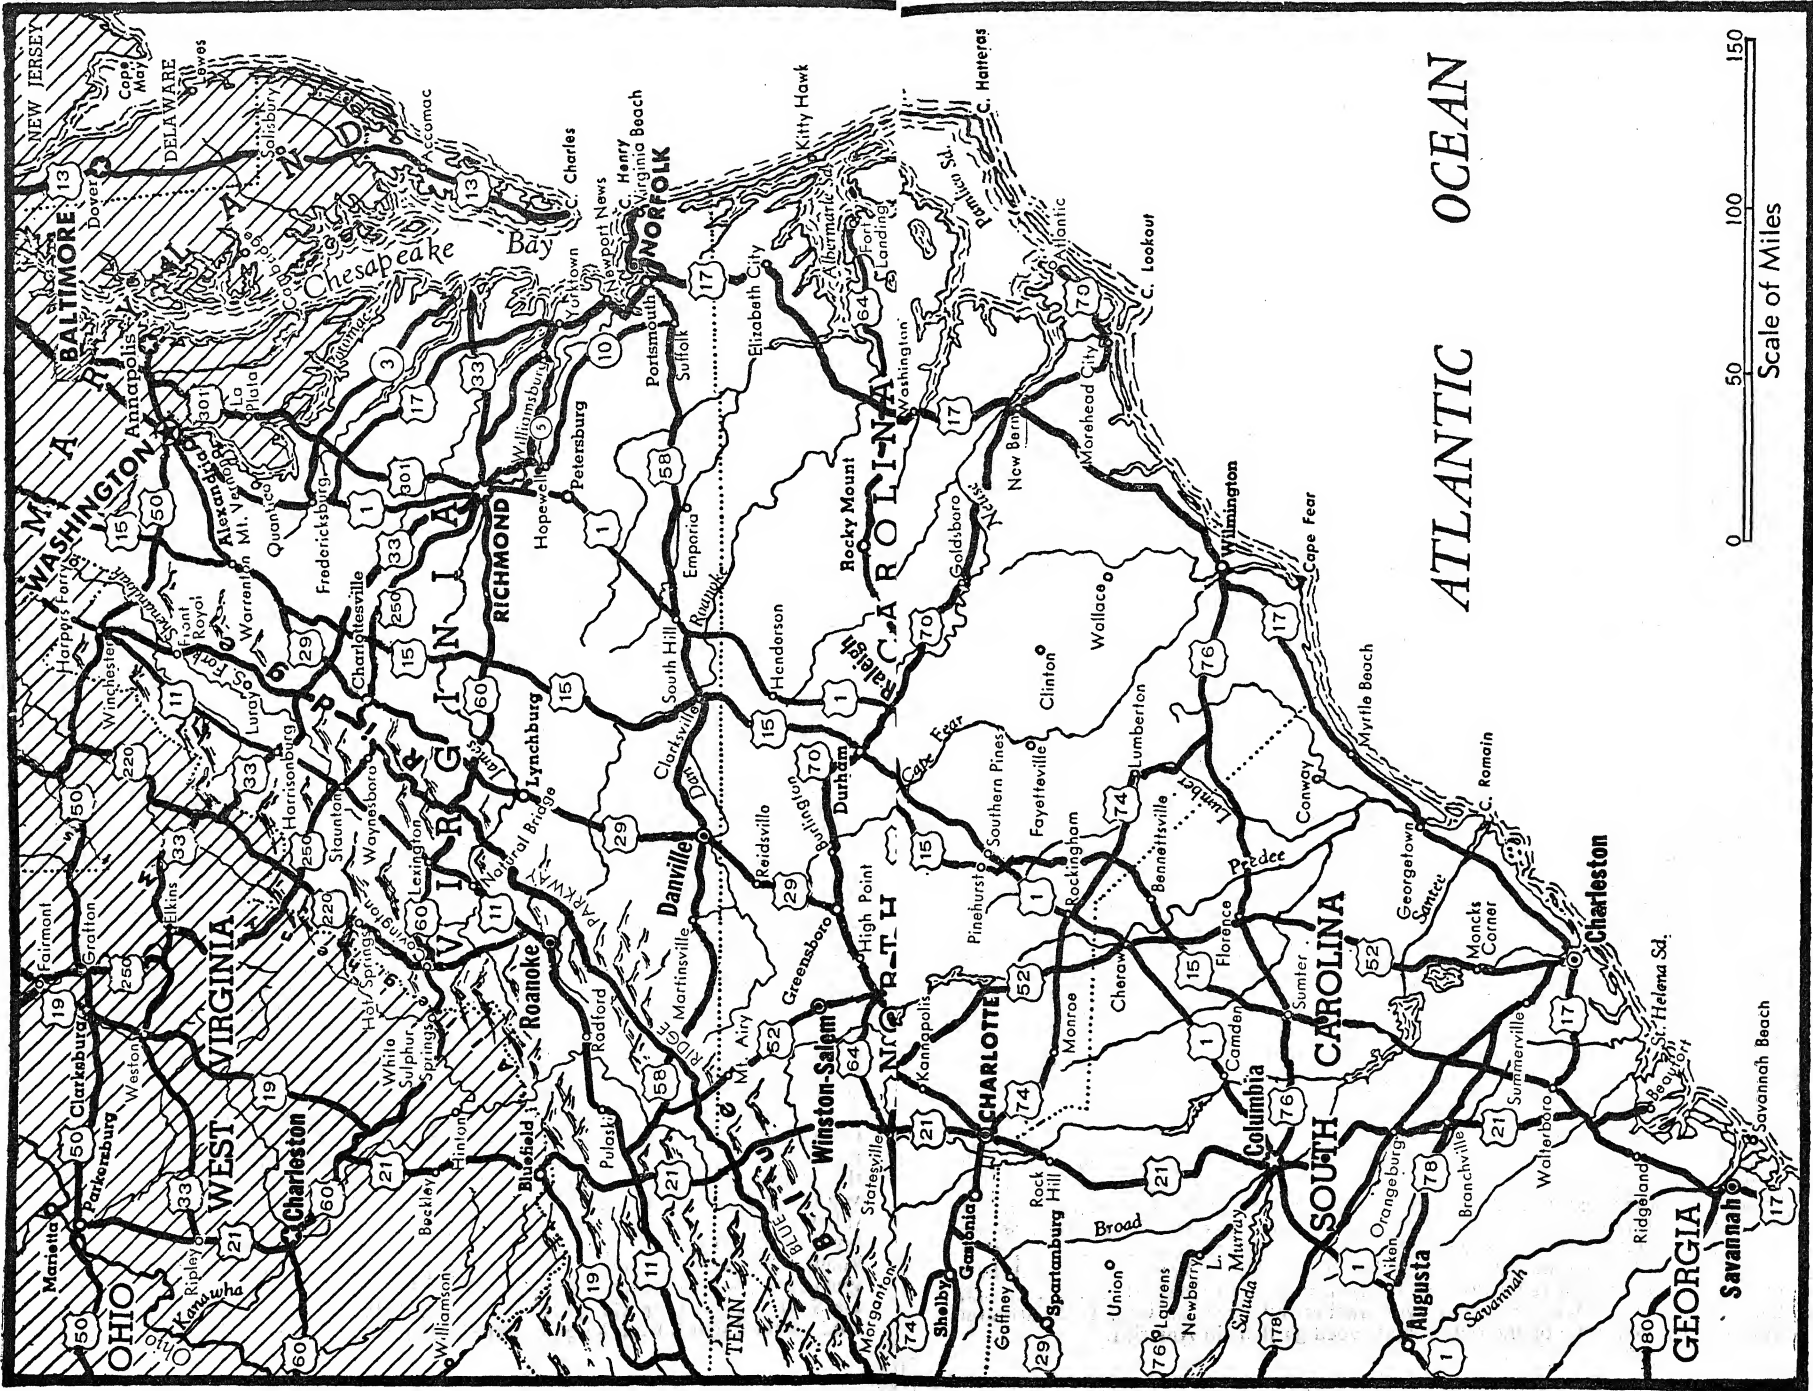

Arkansas is separated by the Mississippi River, which forms its eastern boundary, from Tennessee & Mississippi & on the south borders Louisiana. The eastern & southeastern parts of the state lie in the alluvial plains of the Mississippi & the Ouachita rivers, the land rising to the scenic Ozark highlands in the northwest. Bisecting the state & flowing southeast to the Mississippi is the Arkansas River whose valley separates the Boston Mountains of the Ozarks from the higher but less rugged Ouachita Mountains. The Spanish De Soto & the French Marquette & Joliet explored the region & De Tonti established in 1686 what became the Arkansas Post, first permanent white settlement in the lower Mississippi Valley. After the Louisiana Purchase, Arkansas became part of the Missouri Territory & in 1836 a state of the Union. A state convention first decided not to secede but changed its mind after Lincoln's call for troops. Several battles were fought on Arkansas soil & the capital, Little Rock, fell September 10, 1863. Today more than eighty percent of its population is rural & cotton & cottonseed account for more than half of the state's agricultural income. Petroleum & lumber & natural gas are also of importance. Arkansas ranks first in the production of bauxite & has titanium deposits containing both thorium & uranium, which may become of increasing importance in atomic energy development. Its mineral springs are famous, especially in Hot Springs National Park, it has the only diamond mines in the United States & at Hope raises the largest watermelons in the world. But Arkansas is one of the poorest states in the Union & near the bottom statistically in other categories. Some of its backwoods areas are unusually inaccessible & primitive.

Kentucky, the first state to be organized west of the Appalachian Mountains, is bounded on the east by Virginia, on the north by the Ohio River, on the west by the Mississippi & on the south by Tennessee. It divides into three principal sections: the scenic mountains of the east, the limestone region of the southwest, with its many holes & caverns, the most famous of which is Mammoth Cave, & the bluegrass region centering about Lexington, where in May the blue anthers of its blossoms give the grass a steel-blue tint. La Salle was probably the first white man to reach this area & explorers from Virginia, of which Kentucky was originally considered a part, were through here as early as 1671. But it was not until 1750 that Dr. Thomas Walker came through the Cumberland Gap & built the first cabin. Daniel Boone arrived in the 60's & in 1775 the first permanent settlements were made at Boonesboro & Harrodsburg. During the Revolution the frontiersmen were much harassed by Indians inspired, & frequently led, by the British. For a while, distrustful of the Federal Government, Kentucky considered becoming an independent nation & making an alliance with Spain. But in 1790 it was admitted into the Union. In the Battle of New Orleans one fourth of Jackson's men were Kentucky "dirty shirts," as the red-coated British called them. Henry Clay was the political leader of the state in the 40's & Kentucky was the birthplace of both Abraham Lincoln & Jefferson Davis. The state did not formally secede through its regularly elected governing body & its citizens fought bravely on both sides. This division on political issues has marked the state throughout its history. "If Jesus Christ were running for sheriff," said a recent political candidate, "he'd get opposition in Kentucky." Civil War was almost precipitated in the state in 1900 when two men claimed to have been elected governor, & again in 1906 when there were difficulties between tobacco buyers & producers. Today at Fort Knox a large part of the gold reserve of the United States is stored. Except for Louisville (which next to New Orleans is the strongest Catholic town in the South), Kentucky has no large industrial center. It is the second state in tobacco production & the fourth in coal. It manufactures 40% of the whiskey made in the United States & is world famous for its thoroughbred horses. The Kentucky Derby is one of the most popular sporting events in America. Kentucky is second only to Mississippi in the number of illiterates & the forty-sixth state in death rate from tuberculosis.

Tennessee is a long narrow state stretching westward 432 miles from North Carolina to the Mississippi River. It is bordered on the north by Virginia & Kentucky & on the south by Georgia, Alabama, & Mississippi. In east Tennessee are the Unaka & the Great Smoky Mountains, the latter so-called because of the veil-like mist which hovers over the blue peaks. West of the mountains lies the valley of the Tennessee River & beyond, the Cumberland Plateau, affording such notable viewpoints as the Cumberland Gap & Lookout Mountain. In middle Tennessee, centering around Nashville, is the Great Basin, constituting the bluegrass region of the state & along the Mississippi is a strip of alluvial cotton land. De Soto camped near Memphis in 1540, La Salle built Fort Proud'homme about 1682. & the English from Virginia established Fort Loudoun, 1756, claiming the region as part of the Carolina grant made by Charles II. During the Revolution the settlers fought in the Battle of Kings Mountain. After the Revolution, North Carolina ceded the region to the United States & the colonists, angered, set up an independent state which lasted four years. In 1796 Tennessee became the sixteenth state of the Union. During the Civil War it was second only to Virginia in the number of engagements (including Shiloh & Chickamauga) fought within its boundaries, but Tennessee was the first of the southern states to be restored to the Union. In the twentieth century Tennessee has had a strong Republican element. Tennessee remains an agricultural state with corn, hay, cotton, wheat & tobacco leading the list. Livestock raising is also important & Columbia has the world's largest mule market. Industries include textiles (rayon, cotton, & wool), light metal, lumber & electricity. Mineral products include coal, cement, & phosphate rock. Nashville is the home of Vanderbilt University & has in Fisk University one of the three best Negro schools in the United States.

At Knoxville, Tenn., are the headquarters of the Tennessee Valley Authority which has been called the "greatest development in large-scale social planning in the United States." Servicing seven southern & bordering states, TVA's object has been the economic & social development of the whole watershed & includes development & distribution of electric power, flood control, improvement of navigation, afforestation, removal of marginal lands from agricultural use, development of fisheries, & diversification of industry. How successful the program has been is indicated by the fact that in a ten-year period, it raised the income level of more than three million people by 75% as compared to the general United States increase of 56%. The work of the community at Oak Ridge in the development of the atomic bomb is well known.

In spite of great & obvious advantages, TVA has met with considerable opposition, mostly from the power & light interests & from disgruntled politicians. The political picture throughout the South, indeed, has been far from a bright one in the past few decades. There have been notable cases of corruption & most of the states have, at one time or another, been machine controlled. The Talmadges of Georgia, the late Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, the recently deposed Ed Crump of Memphis come readily to mind. Perhaps the best known, however, was the Long machine in Louisiana, which enabled Sen. Huey P. Long to become virtual dictator of that state before his assassination in 1935. The South has, to be sure, produced many admirable & liberal public servants during this period. One of the most heartening recent developments has been the active interest in liberal government taken by returned G.I.'s. And there have been other indications that the solid South is no longer as hopelessly dominated by the one party system as it used to be. Yet the southern representation in Congress remains extremely conservative, if not downright reactionary. So much so, that in 1948 John Gunther could refer to the southern bloc as "the chief single factor in the United States militating against the progress of the nation as a whole."

In architecture the South can boast true distinction. As early as the 17th century the Spanish in Florida were building in stone—and building well. The missions of wood & rock, except for some crumbling ruins near New Smyrna, have disappeared. But the Castillo de San Marcos, built of native coquina rock & begun in 1672 at St. Augustine, remains an excellent example of the military architecture of the time; & there are other interesting (though later) Spanish types in that city.

Pioneer architecture in most of the southern states, beginning with crude log cabins, evolved two indigenous types: the dog trot & the planter's cottage. The former, also known as the saddlebag, the breezeway, or the three P's (two pens & a passage) consisted of two separate units linked together by a roofed-in passage-way open at both ends & providing space for washing, storing firewood, etc. The latter, in its simplest form, was a one & one-half story frame structure with a wide "gallery" or porch & an overhanging roof supported by slender colonnettes. Such a house became a "raised" cottage when it was set on a high brick "basement" to avoid inundation, elevate the sleeping quarters above the miasmas rising from swamp lands (& thought to be the cause of malaria), & provide working quarters.

Georgian Colonial, including designs by Sir Christopher Wren, is seen at its best in Virginia, notably in reconstructed Williamsburg & in Charleston, S.C., though the latter shows Dutch, French & West Indian influences as well. In Charleston also may be seen some of the oldest landscaped gardens in America.

In the French Quarter of New Orleans a combination of French & Spanish influences, characterized by galleries ornamented with lacelike ironwork, the use of the courtyard or patio, etc., produced a distinctive "Creole" style, examples of which may also be seen in Mobile, Alabama & in Natchez, Mississippi.

Just before the Revolution, Jefferson, bored with the Georgian manner, ushered in the Federal Period with his Monticello, & his designs for the University of Virginia. Buildings in the Jeffersonian Palladian manner sprang up in many sections of the country & his architecture also helped pave the way for the Greek Revival. In the plantation houses of the South, the latter found a true functional expression. A plantation group often consisted of a "big house" flanked by two smaller houses (garçonnières) of similar design, for the bachelors of the family or for visitors, with these in turn flanked by ornamental dovecotes. Frequently there was also an outdoor kitchen &, down the road to the side of the big house, a row of slave quarters. In general the big house was set back from a river & a road, lined on both sides with overhanging trees, stretched from its front door to the levee. Many plantation homes have burned or fallen into the rivers they once faced, but excellent examples remain in every southern state & there are notable concentrations in Natchez, in the vicinity of Charleston, S.C. & Augusta, Ga., in the Feliciana country of Louisiana & along the river road between Baton Rouge & New Orleans. In the Garden District of the latter city may be seen examples of the Greek Revival as applied to the town house. Among the distinguished architects who worked in this style were Robert Mills of Charleston, designer of the Washington Monument, & Gideon Shryock of Kentucky. The latter was a pupil of Strickland, whose work in the South is well exemplified in the State Capitol at Nashville.

The Gothic Revival & what Mark Twain called the "Walter Scott disease" also affected the South. Interesting examples are the Old Richmond Academy in Augusta, Georgia, & the old State Capitol at Baton Rouge. But, because poverty after the Civil War prevented new building, many old towns escaped the worst excesses of the General Grant period, though "Steamboat Gothic" may be enjoyed in a number of river towns & there are some homes of retired captains of paddlewheelers that have the definite appearance of steamboats coming round the bend.

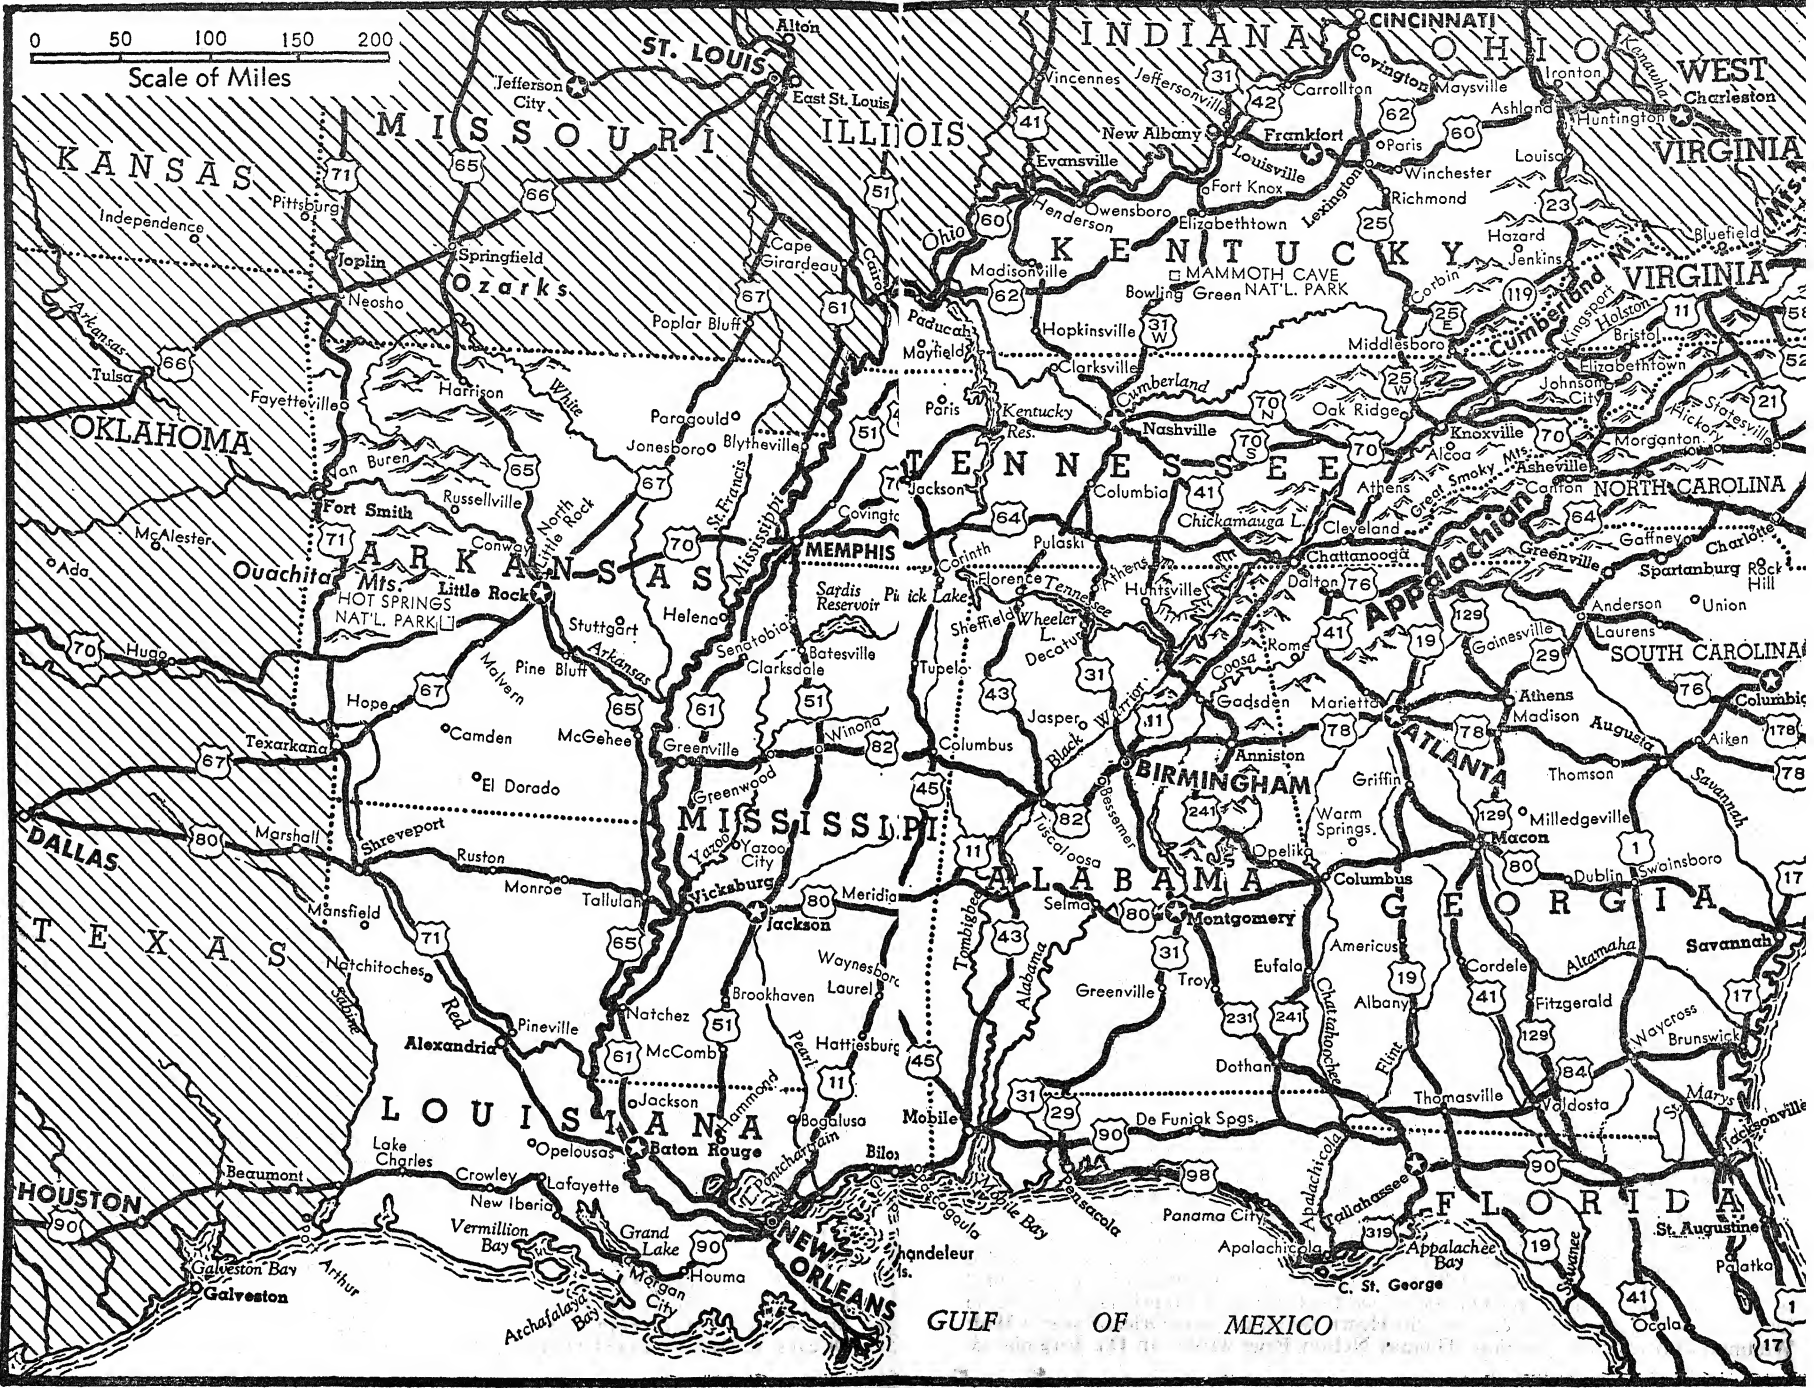

Henry Hobson Richardson was born in Louisiana, though most of his building was in the East & Middle West. The old Howard Memorial Library in New Orleans (now a radio station), built after his death from plans found among his papers, is in the Richardson Romanesque tradition. The promoters of Florida introduced Spanish Renaissance & Moorish motifs in the elaborate hotels they built in the 80's, & the Florida boom of the 20's produced a rash of Florida-Mediterranean architecture in stucco of every known color. Today the South has fewer skyscrapers & examples of "modern" architecture than some other sections of the country, but there are notable exceptions, such as Frank Lloyd Wright's chapel for Florida Southern College at Lakewood, Florida.

In many parts of the South, house & garden pilgrimages are held, usually in the spring, at which time private homes of architectural or historical significance are opened to the public.

The South has produced few native painters or sculptors of great distinction & today it has no art museums comparable to the great ones of the East, though there are numerous small collections of considerable interest.

Audubon traveled through much of the South, from Kentucky to Louisiana & Florida, making sketches for his "Birds of America," as did Catlin, painting his Indians. Gilbert Stuart & Charles Wilson Peale painted in Virginia. Sully, born in England, spent his youth in Charleston, & Washington Allston, later a teacher of Samuel F. B. Morse, was also born in South Carolina, a state that claims in Henrietta Johnson, who was painting pastels before 1708, America's "first woman artist." Rembrandt, Raphael, & Titian Peale, sons of Charles Wilson, worked in Georgia & Alabama, & George Inness & his son both had studios in Florida. Later, Winslow Homer was to spend much time in the vicinity of Key West. Frank Duveneck, painter & sculptor & typical exponent of the Munich School who became extremely influential as a teacher in late 19th century America, was born in Kentucky, as was Matthew H. Jouett (1787-1828) known in his day as "the best painter West of the Appalachians." Gari Melchers, portrait & landscape artist from Detroit, lived for many years in Falmouth, Va. & among the sculptors, Edward V. Valentine & Sir Moses Ezekiel were both from Virginia. Many artists have had studios in New Orleans, & Degas painted his relatives there in "Le Bureau de Coton à Nouvelle Orléans." In that city, free people of color also practiced the arts in the 19th century, & the sculptor Eugene Warburg represented Louisiana at a Paris exhibition. Throughout the South are interesting examples of the work of slave craftsmen many of whom were particularly adept at the carving of mantels & the production of ornamental wrought iron. Until the 20th century, however, the Negro, for obvious reasons, remained a subject for artists rather than a creative artist himself.

THE SOUTH II

The largest collection of European art in the South is to be seen at the Ringling Museum in Sarasota, Florida. Other museums of special interest are the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts at Richmond, the Gibbes Memorial Art Gallery in Charleston, the High Museum of Art in Atlanta & the Cabildo & the Isaac Delgado Museum of Art in New Orleans. Tuskegee Institute has a small Museum of Negro Art. The Brookgreen Gardens in South Carolina have an unusual outdoor exhibit of American sculpture.

In the 18th century there was little literature other than political literature in the South (though the French of Louisiana did try their hands at poems & histories in verse). Of this political literature Virginia produced the most distinguished contributions in the speeches of Washington, Madison & Patrick Henry & in the various writings of Thomas Jefferson, who was almost wholly responsible for the phrasing of the Declaration of Independence. From Virginia also came Parson Weems, whose "Life & Memorable Actions of George Washington" (c.1800) started the legends of the "cherry tree" & the dollar across the Potomac & other Washington myths.

In many sections of the South before the Civil War, fiction writing was, indeed, considered a rather vulgar pursuit & beneath the dignity of a gentleman, though the latter might occasionally indite a verse or write historical or political prose for patriotic motives. And throughout the first half of the 19th century the South continued to prefer "hearing a book" to reading one. The oratory of such famous speakers as John Randolph of Roanoke, Calhoun, Clay, Hayne, & Yancey was the most powerful literature of the time. Even today many Southerners would prefer a second-rate speech to a first-rate library & will go miles to hear one political candidate call another "a willful, obstinate, unsavory, obnoxious, pusillanimous, pestilential, pernicious, & perversable liar."

An early Southern humorist was Augustus Longstreet, whose "Georgia Scenes" appeared in 1835, & William Gilmore Simms of South Carolina wrote romances of the frontier & the Revolution of which the best known is "The Yemassee." "I am a Virginian," Poe once declared. "At least I call myself one." The "Southern Literary Messenger" (1834-64) of Richmond published many of his reviews & some of his stories & poems. Poe edited the magazine briefly but was discharged because of his drinking.

Few books of fiction have had a greater impact on their times than the New Englander, Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" (1852). After the Civil War, Mrs. Stowe lived in Florida & wrote "Palmetto Leaves" (1873) while tourists (for a small fee to be sure) streamed past her desk & observed the great lady at work.

"De Bow's Review" published variously in New Orleans, Columbia & Nashville was influential in molding Southern opinion before the Civil War, as were "The Southern Review" & "Russell's Magazine," both published in Charleston. The latter had among its contributors Henry Timrod, later called the poet laureate of the Confederacy. Father A. J. Ryan was also known for his Civil War poems, especially "The Conquered Banner." After the war a South Carolina genius at bad verse was to sing:

Alas, for the South! her books have grown fewer
She never was much given to literature.

The 60's produced Augusta Jane Evans' tremendously popular novel, "St. Elmo," & the 70's, the first poetry of Sidney Lanier who was later to write "Song of the Chattahoochee" & "The Marshes of Glynn." With the 80's came the local color school. Joel Chandler Harris of Georgia, influenced by the earlier Mississippi, Irwin Russel ("Christmas Night in the Quarters") wrote his "Uncle Remus" stories in Negro dialect, which remain today among the very best in the school of Negro folk literature. Longfellow had celebrated the Acadians of Louisiana in "Evangeline" in 1847. George Washington Cable described the Creoles of Louisiana ("Old Creole Days"), as did Grace King, & Lafcadio Hearn wrote of New Orleans where Walt Whitman also found inspiration. Thomas Nelson Page wrote "In Ole Virginia" &

James Lane Allen, "A Kentucky Cardinal." Mark Twain also wrote of the deep South in "Life on the Mississippi" (1883) & "Huckleberry Finn" (1884). Thomas Dixon, born in North Carolina (as was O. Henry) was the author of "The Clansman" from which the famous motion picture "The Birth of a Nation" was made. Mary Johnston of Virginia wrote the romantic "To Have & to Hold" & Mrs. Mary Murfree (Charles Egbert Craddock) of Tennessee wrote historical novels.

After World War I the South witnessed a surprising renaissance of literature aided by such "little" magazines as "The Fugitive" (Nashville) & "The Double Dealer" (New Orleans) & such quarterlies as the "Sewanee Review," now the oldest critical & literary quarterly in the U.S. Among the many Southern writers who have since appeared, the two most famous are the late Thomas Wolfe of North Carolina & William Faulkner of Mississippi. Others include—Virginia: Ellen Glasgow, James Branch Cabell, Francis Newman & Douglas Southall Freeman; North Carolina: James Boyd, Jonathan Daniels; South Carolina: Dubose Heyward, Julia Peterkin, Josephine Pinckney; Georgia: Erskine Caldwell, Caroline Miller, Margaret Mitchell & W. E. Woodward; Florida: Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings & George Dillon; Alabama: William March & Octavus Roy Cohen; Mississippi: William Alexander Percy, Stark Young & David Cohn; Louisiana: Lyle Saxon, Roark Bradford, Harnett Kane & Robert Tallant; Kentucky: Elizabeth Madox Roberts, Irvin S. Cobb, Jesse Stuart; Tennessee: T. S. Stribling, Caroline Gordon, Evelyn Scott, John Crowe Ransom, Allen Tate; Arkansas: John Gould Fletcher. More recent writers include Katherine Anne Porter, Robert Penn Warren, Eudora Welty, Carson McCullers, Lillian Smith & Truman Capote.

Of all the southern states it is probable that only in Louisiana did Negroes (& they were of the free colored group & French-speaking) express themselves in printed literature before the Civil War. Here they published a review as early as 1843 & two years later 17 poets contributed love songs to an anthology called "Les Cénelles" & dedicated "au beau sexe louisianais." Southern Negro writers have since included Booker T. Washington ("Up from Slavery") & James Weldon Johnson ("Autobiography of an Ex-colored Man") & such recent writers as Zora Neale Hurston of Florida & Richard Wright of Natchez, Mississippi.

Before 1600 religious brotherhoods presented plays to support Santa Barbara, the first hospital of St. Augustine, Florida, & there is record of strolling players in Virginia offering "Ye Bear & Ye Cub" in 1655. Williamsburg, Virginia, had a theater & actors from England as early as 1716 & here, in 1752, the citizens saw a performance of "Othello" also witnessed by "the Emperor of the Cherokee Nation, his Empress & their son, the Prince." Charleston had its first theatricals in 1730 (when one Tony Aston, shipwrecked near-by, turned player & wrote a play about the country) & in 1736 opened its Dock Street Theatre (since reconstructed) with Farquhar's "Recruiting Officer." Wilmington, North Carolina, claims first production of a tragedy written by an American & produced professionally on an American stage—Thomas Godfrey's "Prince of Parthia" (1767). New Orleans witnessed an amateur production of an amateur play "Le Père Indian" in 1753 & saw its first professional players, refugees from Santo Domingo, in 1791. By 1806 it had its first English drama & continued to have both French & English theaters throughout most of the 19th century.

The 19th century was the heyday of the American Theater throughout the South. Robert Edeson, Minnie Maddern Fiske & Edward Sothorn were born in New Orleans; Adah Isaacs Menken, the "naked lady" of Mazeppa fame, at near-by Milneburg. Edgar Allan Poe's mother acted on the stage at Richmond & Junius Brutus Booth made his first appearance in America there. In 1818 Sam Houston was Secretary of the Thespian Society of Nashville.

The 1830's saw the beginnings of the "Negro Minstrel Show" (a native American form which soon became traditional & widely popular in Europe as well as in the U.S.) when T. D. Rice, a white comedian did a blackface performance in Pittsburgh, inspired by the "Jim Crow" song of a Negro stage driver. The minstrel show was important in the development of jazz & helped shape the theatrical conception of the Negro. Show boats, floating theaters that "made" the river-front towns & presented variety shows & melodramas, such as "Lena Rivers" & "St. Elmo," were also popular throughout the 19th & on into the 20th century.

Today the South like all of the U.S., other than New York & its immediate vicinity, has little professional theater & relies on an occasional road show & on the little theaters. Of the latter there have been some especially notable ones including Le Petit Théâtre du Vieux Carré of New Orleans, the Barter Theater of Abingdon, Virginia, which has become the country's first state-subsidized theater, with an active professional repertory company that in 1949 went to Elsinore, Denmark to play "Hamlet," & the Carolina Playmakers at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. The latter, under the direction of Frederick H. Koch, produced many original folk plays & the early works of a number of successful playwrights, notably Paul Green. A southern playwright who has more recently achieved international fame is Tennessee Williams ("The Glass Menagerie," "A Streetcar Named Desire"). Possibly the best known southern actress of the 1940's is the flamboyant Tallulah Bankhead of Alabama; the best known Negro entertainer, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson of Richmond, Va.

Jefferson wrote of his slaves: "In music they are more generally gifted than the whites," & it is in music that the Negroes have made their greatest contribution to the cultural life of the nation. The origins of jazz have been carefully traced from the redlight district of New Orleans' Storyville to Beale Street in Memphis & beyond. (It is an interesting sidelight that W. C. Handy's "Memphis Blues" was composed as a campaign song for boss Ed. Crump & originally called "Mr. Crump."). In addition to Handy, a great many other jazz musicians & singers have come from the South, including such famous practitioners as Louis Armstrong (New Orleans) & the late Bessie Smith (Tennessee). The work songs, the "sinful" songs & the spirituals of the Negroes have been many times collected & the white people of Charleston have even organized a Society for the Preservation of Spirituals—specially those sung by the Gullahs of the sea island region. Famous Negro choirs such as the Fisk Jubilee Singers & that of Hampton Institute have built up their colleges by way of concert tours. The Fisk choir toured Europe as early as the 1870's & Roland Hayes was at one time a member. Dorothy Maynor comes from Virginia.

Among the whites of the Southern Appalachians many survivals of old English & Scottish popular ballads are to be found. Cecil J. Sharp, the English collector, wrote of a certain isolated mountain region: "I found myself for the first time in my life in a community in which singing was as common & almost as universal a practice as speaking." Ballad making here continues as a living folk art & along with "Barbara Allen" & "Lord Randal" are to be heard more modern compositions such as "The Death of Floyd Collins" &:

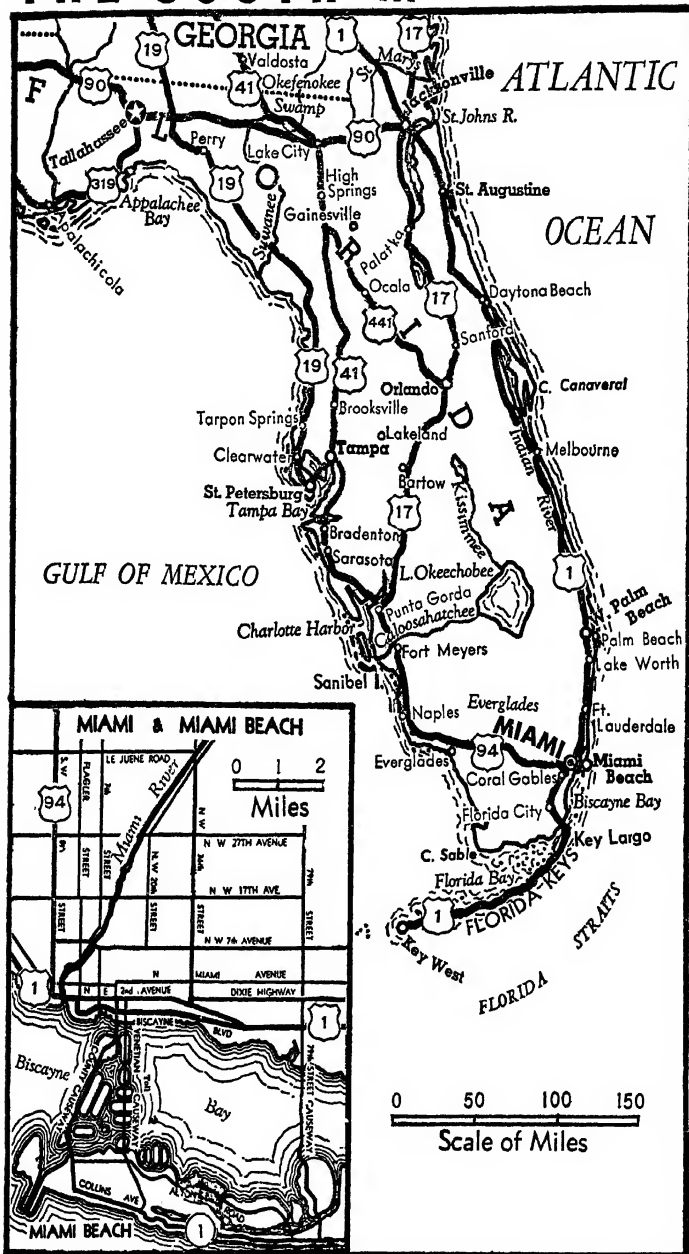

My name is William Edwards
I live down Cove Creek way
I'm working on the project
They call the T.V.A.

Variants of the songs have been popularized over the radio as "hillbilly" music, which since World War II has had such a vogue that in 1949 "Down Beat" magazine found it "just about pushing popular tunes, jazz, swing, bebop & everything else right out of the picture."

Throughout the South other country folk sing, especially hymns in the Wesleyan tradition, & "all day sings" or festivals are held during "lay by" seasons. The groups are sometimes called "fasola" or "shape note" singers because the songs are marked for reading with a triangle for "fa" & circle for "so" etc., or "sacred harp" singers after one of the most famous of the shape note song books. The tombstone of "Singing" Billy Walker in Spartanburg, S.C. reads: "In memory of William Walker, A.S.H. (i.e. Author Southern Harmony). . . . A consistent Baptist 47 yrs. Taught music 45 yrs. The Author of 4 Books of sacred music. He rests from his labors. He died in the triumphs of faith. Sing praises unto the Lord." More than one southern candidate has sung (with the aid of a mandolin or guitar) his way into public office. Jimmie H. Davis, elected Governor of Louisiana in 1945, was a crooner & the author of "I'm Gonna Write Myself a Letter."

The South's most popular song was "Dixie" written by Daniel Decatur Emmett, a member of a black-face minstrel troupe, in 1859 & sung by Confederate soldiers. The origin of the word "Dixie" is uncertain though it is possibly a corruption of Dixon, name of one of the two surveyors who surveyed the Mason & Dixon line which later separated slave & free states. Stephen Foster, author of "Old Folks at Home (Swanee River)," "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," "Old Black Joe" & "My Old Kentucky Home," was born in Pittsburgh & wrote many of his famous songs before he ever visited the South.

THE SOUTH III

The South was an important center of more formal music in the days of the old French Opera in New Orleans where more than a dozen operas, including Meyerbeer's "Les Huguenots" & Gounod's "La Reine de Saba" had their first American presentation. But today the South has no top-ranking symphony orchestra or opera company, though North Carolina has the only state-supported orchestra in the U.S. And the South has continued to offer inspiration to modern composers. Gershwin studied Gullah chants while composing "Porgy & Bess." It was in Florida "through sitting & gazing at Nature," Delius wrote, "I gradually learnt the way in which I should eventually find myself."

It may be that it has been from sitting in the sun & gazing at nature that the South has acquired its famous charm. There is delightful mountain country in the Appalachians & the Ozarks, the coast from Virginia to Key West & up along the Gulf to New Orleans is lined with famous beach resorts & the South offers all sports except those suited to very cold climates. It has lush vegetation, unbelievable flowers, & romantic & historic old houses. But most of all it has an ease & graciousness, an ability to enjoy itself, that has been, perhaps, its most important contribution to the cultural life of the country.

John Randolph, by Jane Bollings descendant of Pocahontas, belonged to the famous Randolph clan. Bachelor, noted for his excesses & eccentricities—in his later life bordering on insanity—he nevertheless occupied prominent place as member of House & Senate. A bitter hater of the Adamases, whom he dubbed the Amer. Stuarts, he eventually cut loose from his own associates, opposed Clay, with whom he fought a duel, & the Missouri Compromise, & became main exponent of State's Rights, preparing way for Calhoun. He often retired to the primitive log huts on this plantation.

There are also Confed. balls & tableaux & Negro spirituals.

Natchez, on bluffs that rise some 200' above the Miss. R., won approval even from the acid Mrs. Trollope (1827): "Natchez is beautifully situated . . . The contrast that its bright green hill forms with the dismal line of black forest that stretches on every side, the abundant pawpaw, palmetto, & orange, the copious variety of sweet-scented flowers that flourish there makes it appear like an oasis in the desert." Natchez has remained an oasis (you still can't get there by RR.) & has become the most extraordinary museum of ante bellum houses & Miss. R. culture in the South. "Never have I seen a community like this," John Gunther said ("Inside USA"—1947) but added, of this center of a reg. where the Negro pop. is greater than 50 per cent, here, "more than anywhere else in the South or the Nation, I heard expressed in their most extreme form the basic issues of the white-black conflict."

Natchez is named for Natchez Inds., a tribe of Muskogean linguistic stock who practiced head flattening & indulged in complicated form of sun-worshipping. La Salle visited area in 1682. In 1716 Bienville est. Ft. Rosalie, named for Duchess of Pontchartrain, & in 1729 the Natchez massacred entire settlement. Fr., with aid of Choctaw, drove Natchez from reg. following yr. At close of Fr. & Ind. War, area was taken over by Eng. (1763) & remained a kind of 14th colony, more or less neutral during Rev. In 1779 Galvez took settlement for Spain. Much of previous bldg. had been along R. banks & Sp. engineer, Collel, designed town on the bluffs, so that today the Sp. influence still remains in heart of city. In 1798 U.S. took over in accordance with Treaty of Madrid (1795).

Then, with opening of Miss. R. & the Natchez Trace (see below), the great days of Natchez began. Down the R. came flatboats & keelboats, their crews boasting of

RICHMOND (W) to W. VA. LINE (4.5^m from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.). 194. US60

31. J. with St.13. [Turn (L) here 1^m to Powhatan. Cth. & Clerk's Office (1817).] 49. CUMBERLAND. Cth. & Clerk's Office (c.1818). Just off US60 is Bear Creek R. Recr. Area (pic.swim.May to Labor Day). 68. BUCKINGHAM. Maysville Hotel

(mid-19th cent.) & opp., old Buckingham Hotel where Lee, after Appomattox, couldn't get a room. 71. J. with St.24.

SIDE TRIP: Take latter (L) here, passing Holliday L. Recr. Area (pic.swim.May-Labor Day) to Appomattox Cth. Nat. Mon. (9,700 as.est.1940) at 20m; may also be reached by US460 from Lynchburg or Petersburg, or by US15 (see). Info.: Pk. office in village. Free guide serv. After Battle of Five Forks & abandonment of Petersburg & Richmond, Lee planned retreat to Danville from which he might have been able to join Johnson's army in N.C. But Grant encircled starved & ragged remnants of Confed. army who were forced to concentrate around Appomattox Cth. (Ap. 8, 1865). At daybreak, Palm Sun. (Ap. 9), Confeds. made last effort to break through, but failed. About 1:30 p.m., Lee & Grant met at McLean H., Lee carefully dressed in brand new uniform, Grant in mud-spattered outfit of a private, bearing merely shoulder straps of a Lt.-Gen. After reminiscences of Mex. War & old army days, Grant wrote out his generous terms providing that only public property should be handed over. Later same day, both generals signed surrender agreement, by which more than 28,000 Confed. troops in vic. were paroled. Lee reviewed his troops for last time, riding bet. solid walls of soldiers who cried out that they would fight on if he wished them to & wept as he passed. There are various markers—on sites of Grant's & Lee's Hqs., respectively, & spot where Lee issued farewell order. Village is being restored. McLean H. is being reconstructed. Patterson-Hix Inn (1819), Plunkett-Meeks H., an old store, Peers H., & Isbell-Bocock H., home of presiding officer of Confed. House of Reps. are being restored. Old Cth. to be reconstructed.

Joe Sweeney, famous banjo player, born at "The Surrender Grounds," was buried here. He was "Jeb" Stuart's unofficial court musician & traveled with him through the latter's cavalry campaigns. Other Confed. commanders complained that Sweeney's playing & singing lured their troops to desert & join Stuart's command.

134. LEXINGTON, named for Battle of Lexington fought year before town's establishment, 1777. Earliest settlers were mostly Scotch-Irish, belonging to yeoman rather than cavalier class. What the Secy. of Province of Pa. said in 1724 of this alien influx, has a strangely familiar sound: "The common fear is that if they continue to come they will make themselves proprietors of the Province. It is strange that they thus crowd where they are not wanted." Before Rev., Shenandoah Valley's Scotch-Irish were devout & strait-laced—banning dancing, cards, horse racing, etc. But among less orthodox characters was Mary Greenlee, who offered to rescue a child kidnapped by Inds. on condition that she should be allowed to keep horse, bridle & saddle lent her for the undertaking. Mary had to go as far as Mammoth Cave, Ky., to make the rescue. After Rev., manners grew freer with accumulation of wealth. It was complained that intemperance increased (whiskey being only 37¢ a gallon), until in 1850's, people said no self-respecting woman would be seen abroad on court days. Nevertheless the little city had already become a considerable cultural center. Washington College (Washington & Lee Univ.), Va. Military Institute & an academy for young ladies had been established. The James & Kanawha Canal did not arrive until 1852. "Stonewall" Jackson's body was brought by canal boat in 1863 for interment. In 1864, Fed. Gen. D. Hunter attacked city & occupied it for 3 days. It is alleged that Hunter held some ladies of Lexington as hostages for good behavior of their men-folk. In environs were born Sam. Houston, Texas hero, Cyrus McCormick, inventor of mechanical reaper, & J. E. A. Gibbs, inventor of improved sewing machine.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Behind Modern Cth. is Old Jail (oldest part 1779.rest.) in old Lawyers Row. (4) Washington & Lee Univ. had its origins in Augusta Academy (est.1749) whose name was changed, just before Decl. of Ind., to Liberty Hall. Later, when Washington gave endowment of 200 shares of James R. & Kanawha Canal Co., worth $50,000, name was again changed to Washington Academy. After Civil War, Rbt. E. Lee became College Pres., an office he held till his death, when name was again changed—to Washington & Lee. Bldgs. are classic in design, enhanced by columned porticos, reminiscent of Univ. of Va., at Charlottesville. Univ. has undergrad. school & schs. of law, commerce & administration, & journalism. The Washington Group of bldgs. (1824, rest.) has fine colonnaded porticos. Central bldg. of group is Washington Hall (O), in whose foyer are coll. of portraits; on 2nd fl. is Old Washington Chapel (rest.). Lee Mem. Chapel built by Rbt. E. Lee (1867). Recumbent Statue of Lee by Valentine. In crypt are buried Rbt. E. Lee, his wife, his father, "Light-horse Harry" Lee, his mother & other members of family. Beneath Chapel & near Mausoleum is room, preserved in orig. state, that served as Lee's office. Adj. is Lee Mus.; hist. relics & material & Lee coll. of Amer. portraits. In Chapel are portraits, incl. one of Washington by Rembrandt Peale & another by the same, of the young Lafayette. In McCormick Lib. is Bradford Coll. of oils. incl. examples of many European & Amer. masters. On campus is H. built for his own occupancy by Lee. The sec. that reaches Washington St. housed his horse, Traveller. Stall is still to be seen. Traveller's skeleton is preserved in Lee Mus.

(5) Adj. to Washington & Lee Univ. is campus of Va. Military Institute (est.1839), known as West Pt. of South. "Stonewall" Jackson & Comdr. Maury served as professors. Jackson is reported, because of his austerity, not to have been popular with students. School, closed for a time at Civil War's outbreak because its entire personnel & student body enlisted, was reopened in 1862 to train officers for Confed. armies. In June, 1864, Gen. Hunter's troops wrecked most of bldgs. At Battle of New Market, May 15, 1864, Institute cadets earned immortal fame when they charged Union lines. In front of The Barracks (dormitories.1850.adds.rest.) is Replica of Houdon's Geo. Washington (see Richmond Capitol). In Gen. F. H. Smith Room (O) of Preston Lib. is coll. of hist. relics & materials. In front of Nichols Engineering Hall is Seated Figure, by Sir Moses Ezekiel, mourning cadet dead of New Market. Ezekiel fought at New Market, as member of the corps. In Auditorium of Jackson Mem. Bldg. is large painting by Clinedinst depicting the famous charge. On N. side of Parade Ground, H. formerly occupied by Comdr. Maury. Across front of Cooke Hall is Mem. Garden with shrubs & mementos from famous gardens, battlefields & hist. places—marked by tablets. In Lexington are Js. with US501, St.39 & US11 (see Lynchburg Trip I & US11).

CHARLOTTESVILLE

CHARLOTTESVILLE

Through RR. & bus conns. Accomms.: All types. Swim.: Rivanna R., McIntire Pk. & Fry's Springs, & Albemarle L., 12m (W) of city. Riding to Hounds: Keswick Hunt Club. Sports: Univ. of Va. Stadium. Fish. in vic. In summer, Institute of Public Affairs at Univ. of Va. To (E) on US250, at Rockfish Gap, 25m, J. with Skyline Dr.

Charlottesville (est. 1762) is situated at foot of Blue Ridge, close to Rivanna (orig. Fluvanna) R. Among early 18th cent. patentees of land near city's site, were Nicholas Meriwether & Abr. Lewis, both forefathers of Meriwether Lewis, of Lewis & Clark Expedition fame, John Henry, father of Patrick Henry, & Peter Jefferson, Thos.' father; the latter bought Shadwell tract for price of bowl of Henry Wetherburn's famous Arrack punch (see Williamsburg). Thos. Jefferson was best-known citizen of Albemarle Cty., of which Charlottesville is seat. But city also claims Meriwether Lewis & Wm. Clark, of Lewis & Clark expedition, & Geo. Rogers Clark (see Ill.). Jas. Monroe est. his home at Ash Lawn, within sight of his friend Jefferson's at Monticello. Va. Assembly met in city after fleeing Richmond. Its stay was brief, because Brit. Col. Banastre Tarleton raided city, hoping to capture Jefferson & other Rev. leaders. Forewarned by Jack Jouett, son of host of the Cuckoo Tavern, where Tarleton paused en route, they all escaped. Today city is a Univ. town, & center of fine estates, fox hunts, great apple & peach orchards, dairy, cattle & stud farms.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) At 5th & Jefferson Sts., Albemarle County Cth. (O.wks.1803 & 1860.adds.1860 & 1870's.Jefferson Class.rest.enlarged 1938). Part of bldg., designed by Jefferson, was used as Ch. where Jefferson, Madison, Monroe & other notables worshiped. General Assembly held sessions in an earlier Cth. near site of this one (1781). Around the Sq. are some old bldgs. formerly used by lawyers & court officials. Pillory, stocks & whipping post were set up in front of older Cth. In Cty. Office Bldg. is Jefferson's will. (2) Opp. Cth., Swan Tavern (N.O.1773) which probably incorporates secs. of old inn owned by John Jouett, father of Jack who warned of Tarleton's approach. (3) E. end of Jefferson St., The Farm (part of Nicholas Meriwether's orig. plantation); main H. (c.1831), very similar to Edgehill (see Charlottesville Trip II); near-by is Old H. (pre-Rev.) where lived Col. Nicholas Lewis, descendant of orig. patentee. Here Tarleton stayed overnight, sleeping in his cloak on the floor. (4) At Lexington & E. High Sts., Tarleton's Oak, under which Tarleton is supposed to have pitched his tent. (5) Mons.: At 4th & Jefferson Sts., Stonewall Jackson (equestrian), by Chas. Keck; at 2nd & Market Sts., Lee on his famous horse "Traveller"; Ridge & W. Main Sts., Lewis & Clark, by Chas. Keck; W. Main St. & Jefferson Ave., Geo. Rogers Clark, by Rbt. Aiken. (6) On W. side of 9th St., (S) of Main St., Oak Lawn (c.1818.Jeff.Class.).

(7) Near last-named Mon. is Univ. of Va., at W. end of town, occupying beautiful campus shaded by fine old trees which do not, however, hide the white, columned porticoes. Jefferson designed older structures grouped around The Lawn. The Rotunda closes in N. end of The Lawn & modern Cabell Hall by Stanford White, harmonizing with general classic style, closes in S. end. Univ. was founded by Thos. Jefferson, who, after years of agitating, finally, in 1816, saw his dream come true when legislature authorized founding of Central College. In 1819, Assembly authorized Central College to become a university. Jefferson was chosen director of board of visitors & remained dominating force in institution till death. "The institution," he said, "will be based on the illimitable freedom of the human mind. For here we are not afraid to follow the truth wherever it may lead, or tolerate error so long as reason is left free to combat it."

Entrance Gate (by H. Bacon, designer of Lincoln Mem., Wash., D.C.) at W. Main St., near its inters. with University Ave. To (L) are Medical Sch. & Hospital Bldgs. Among distinguished alumni was Walter Reed, discoverer of cause of yellow fever. Long Walk leads past Brooks Mus. (R) (O.Mon.-Fri.Sat.a.m.); geological & mineralogical colls. Facing Mus., Washington Hall, NE. cor. of Jefferson group & N. end of E. Range. Long Walk follows the Serpentine Wall, built in this way manner to add strength, since it is only one brick thick. At end of Long Walk is The Lawn, already referred to. E. & W. Lawns, enclosing it, are composed of pavilions with columned porticoes, connected by colonnades. Back of E. & W. Lawn are the E. & W. Ranges, respectively. In W. Range, No. 31, is room occupied by Woodrow Wilson (O.appl.) & No. 13, Poe's Room (O.appl.). In central section of W. Range, "Rowdy Row," is Jefferson Soc. Room. Madison & Monroe were members & Poe is supposed to have read an essay at a session, 1826; portrait of Jefferson by Trumbull. At N. end of Lawn is The Rotunda (1826.rest.1898.by Stanford White), Jeffersonian version of the Pantheon. In front of N. side of bldg. is Liberty Bell Statue of Jefferson, by Sir Moses Ezekiel, replica of Mon. in Louisville, Ky. In Rotunda, Marble Statue of Jefferson, by A. Galt. Closing in Lawn at S. end, is Cabell Hall with figures above portico by G. J. Zolnay. To (R) & (L), respectively, are Mechanical Lab. & Rouss Physical Lab., all designed by Stanford White (1898). To (W) & (E) are Statues of Jefferson, copy of one by Karl Bitter, & of Washington, replica of Houdon's statue in Richmond. In front of Cabell Hall is Statue of Homer, by Sir Moses Ezekiel. To W. of the Commons is Monroe H., home of Jas. Monroe for several years. Other notable bldgs. are: Clark Mem. Hall (Law Sch.) with murals by Allyn Cox; Dawson (1859), dormitories; Alderman Mem. Lib. (O.wks.Sun.p.m. 1939.Class.) behind which is McConnell statue, by Gutzon Borglum, in memory of J. R. McConnell, student killed while with Lafayette Escadrille, World War I; on Carr's Hill, President's H. (mod.Class., last bldg.designed by Stanford White before his death), & Fayerweather Hall (Class.1893.by Carpenter & Peebles) housing Sch. of Art & Architecture; fine arts Lib. (O.Mon.-Fri.). Behind Fayerweather Hall, Bayly Art Mus. (O.Tues.-Sat.Sun.aft.1935.by E.S.Campbell); 4 galleries devoted to permanent & 2 to loan exhibits. Among permanent exhibits are portraits of Jefferson by Sully & of Washington by Rembrandt Peale.

(8) (E) of city, 5^m on US250, is Site of Shadwell (R), birthpl. of Thos. Jefferson (1743), marked by fenced-in enclosure (near present H.). When H. burned down, 1770, Negro reported to Thos. Jefferson that fortunately they had saved his fiddle. (9) Take St.53 (SE) from Charlottesville Cth. At 2.5^m, Michie Tavern (O.fee.c.1735. 18th cent.adds.reconstructed) removed here from orig. site. Supposedly oldest sec. was Patrick Henry's boyhood home; antiques. (10) At 3^m on St.53 is Entrance to Monticello (L). Drive climbs to hilltop where, on plateau affording a magnificent view, is Monticello (O.fee). This was favorite haunt in their boyhood of Jefferson & his friend, Dabney Carr. In 1770 Jefferson began bldg. Monticello, & in 1772, in middle of snow storm, which compelled them to finish journey on horseback, he & his young bride arrived at the half-completed H. Jefferson built Monticello in Graeco-Roman manner, inspired by Palladio; it is an outstanding example of class. style. The fine portico & the balustrade around the upper story are features that have been much copied. Circular windows in base of dome are unusual. H. has 35 rooms. Inter. is beautiful; woodwork, all designed by Jefferson, especially so. There are a number of amusing gadgets, invented by author of the Decl. of Ind.—narrow, hidden stairways, because Jefferson disliked the grand stairways of European palaces, specially devised dumbwaiters, a clock operated by cannonball weights & pulleys, recessed or disappearing beds, folding doors similar to those used today in streetcars & unusual lighting & ventilating arrangements. Old dependencies have been restored. Near H. is shaft on Jefferson's Grave, inscribed by his direction: "Here lies Thomas Jefferson, Author of the Declaration of Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom & Father of the University of Virginia." (11) Cont. on St.53 to J. with Cty.795. Take latter (R) to J. with Cty.627, & then latter (R). At 5^m Entrance (R) to Ash Lawn (O.fee.oldest sec.1796-98.rest.). Rear part was built by Jas. Monroe, who wanted to be near his friend, Jefferson. Monroe returned to Ash Lawn on & off till 1820. Statue of Monroe by Piccirilli. Fine view.

FREDERICKSBURG

Through RR. & bus conns. Accomms.: All types. Info.: C. of C.

Fredericksburg, on Rappahannock R., & vic. are crammed full of hist. landmarks as Williamsburg is of reconstructed history. First settlement was made c.1671. At head of navigation, city became important shipping pt. Interrupted temporarily by Rev., Fredericksburg's prosperity grew steadily, with influx of tobacco, grain, flax, etc., brought in by huge Conestoga wagons for shipment abroad, & of imports for wealthy planters. During Civil War, 4 bloody battles were fought for possession of city, which changed hands 7 times; but Union armies were halted & Grant switched to attack Richmond from (S), via Petersburg.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) On Princess Anne St., County Cth. (O.1852), hist. documents—among others, Will of Mary Washington, George's mother. (2) Opp., Presb. Ch. (1835.Gr.Rev.) which has 2 cannon balls imbedded in its portico column. Ch. was hospital for Union troops who were nursed there by Clara Barton, of Red Cross fame. (3) At George & Princess Anne Sts., St. George's Ch. (Episc.O.1849); in earlier Ch. on this site, members of Washington family & Jas. Monroe worshipped. In Cemetery are buried John Paul Jones' brother, Wm. Paul, & Martha Washington's father, John Dandridge. Under front steps is buried Col. Fielding Lewis (see below). First Battle of Fredericksburg (Dec.1862). Gen. A. E. Burnside made 2 unsuccessful attacks on Lee's forces at Spotsylvania Heights. Some of bitterest fighting took place along the stone wall of the Sunken Rd. Burnside withdrew Dec. 15-16, after losing 12,652 of his army of 142,000, as against Lee's losses of 5,309 out of 91,000. Battle of Chancellorsville at Chancellorsville (on St.3) took place (May 1-3, 1863) when Lee decisively defeated Gen. Jos. Hooker. It was during this battle that Jackson was mortally wounded by his own men. Lee was forced to divert troops to support Jubal Early, who had been imperiled near Fredericksburg in the 2nd Battle of Fredericksburg, & Hooker escaped. Lee lost 12,821; Feds., 17,278.

Battle of the Wilderness (May 5-6, 1864), centered around area where St.3 & St.210 intersect. Grant had been put in command after Hooker's disastrous defeat at Chancellorsville. Battle of the Wilderness was 1st in which Grant opposed Lee. Feds., after bloody fighting, were unable to dislodge Confed. army from its positions on the Rapidan-Rappahannock line. Fed. losses were c.15,387 out of 118,000; Confed. losses, 11,400 out of 62,000.

Battle of Spotsylvania Cth. (on St.210) lasted 13 days, beginning May 8, 1864. Lee with his meager force of 51,000 successfully blocked Grant's army of about 110,000. It was here that Grant said he intended "to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer." Fed. losses were about 17,500; Confed. unknown.

HAMPTON ROADS PORT AREA

HAMPTON ROADS AREA: Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton & Environs.

Hampton Roads is chief artery through which commerce of SE. Atlantic coastal reg. flows. Cities located on it aggregate an import & export tonnage 2nd only to that of N.Y. The 4^m strait connects Chesapeake Bay with James & Elizabeth Rs. by a deep channel, which in turn is conn. by a broad strait, bet. Cape Charles & Cape Henry, with the Atlantic Ocean. Newport News, on N. side of the Roads & Norfolk & Portsmouth on the S. side have harbors capable of berthing largest vessels. Huge Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co.'s plant, & U.S. Navy Yard at Portsmouth, give reg. paramount importance as shipbuilding & reconditioning center. Great Naval Operational Base at Norfolk, Army's Langley Field, near Newport News, several fts. guarding the Strait's entrances, an army base & naval & marine hospitals, make it focal pt. for armed services. During both World Wars, reg. hummed with military activities, & the Roads cities experienced tremendous industrial & pop. expansion.

Ferries ply from Newport News & other pts. on the N. side to Norfolk, Portsmouth & pts. on the S. side of the Roads. A ferry connects Norfolk with Cape Charles on Delmava Peninsula & a bridge spans James R. from (W) of Portsmouth to a pt. near Newport News. James R. runs (NW) inland to Richmond from the Roads, & Elizabeth R. cuts in bet. Norfolk & Portsmouth. This R. has, since early times, been crowded with cargo vessels. It was said, formerly, you could cross from Norfolk to Portsmouth, from deck to deck, without getting your feet wet. Important export commodities are coal, scrap-iron, tobacco, grain, peanut products, fish & fish products. The metropolitan area, besides shipbuilding & reconditioning yards, has more than 243 industrial plants. Peanut products bulk large, due to fact that this is center of a great peanut-growing area; also sea food. Port cities are starting pts. for some of outstanding hist. shrines of the country & are located at heart of fine bay & ocean resort reg.

In 1607 the "Sarah Constant," the "Goodspeed" & the "Discovery" stopped over at Pt. Henry, (NE) of Norfolk, on way to Jamestown (see). In 1610, at Hampton, was made, it is claimed, 1st permanent Eng. settlement (Jamestown was eventually abandoned) on N. Amer. continent. Norfolk was est. 1682 on 50 as. whose purchase price was 10,000 lbs. of tobacco. Gosport, now part of Portsmouth, was sett. early, & almost from beginning, ships were careened for repairs on its beach where today sprawls great Navy Yard. Newport News, although sett. as early as 1621, remained mere crossroads until late in 19th cent. Collis P. Huntington made it tidewater terminal of Chesapeake & Ohio RR.; the great shipyard was built there soon after.

Commerce in early days was troubled by pirates, eventually eliminated when Teach, better known as Blackbeard, was caught & hanged, in 1718, by a native of Hampton. During Rev., War of 1812 & Civil War, the Roads reg. saw considerable fighting. Va. Gov., Lord Dunmore, established himself & a small horde of Tories at Gosport in 1775, but fled, after defeat at Great Bridge, to Brit. fleet which in 1776, bombarded Norfolk & reduced it to ruins; most of Hs. surviving Brit. guns were destroyed by patriots to "clean out the nest of Tories." After Rev., commerce had to face inroads of privateers during "undeclared" war with France. After that, Jefferson's Embargo Act & finally War of 1812 nearly wiped out what commerce was left. But full-scale attacks by Brit. were driven off; in 1813 a force of 4,000 from Brit. Adm. Cockburn's fleet was routed at Craney I. by 735 raw farmer lads & 150 sailors from USS "Constellation." After treaty of Ghent, Roads ports suffered equally from closing of W. Indies to America & Amer. retaliation by closing of Amer. ports to Brit. shipping. Va. commerce, in 1790 equal to N. Y.'s, by 1832 had dropped to $1,000,000 annually, as compared with N. Y.'s $57,000,000. But building of Dismal Swamp canal made the Roads ports natural outlet for N.C.'s agric. In 1855, yellow fever was imported from Danish W. Indies & killed off 2,000 in Norfolk & nearly as many in Portsmouth. Then came Civil War & destruction of Portsmouth Navy Yard which, however, was rehabilitated by Confeds. & turned out the armored ram, "Merrimac," that fought drawn battle with the "Monitor" off Norfolk on Mar. 9, 1862. Position of Confed. forces becoming increasingly precarious, Norfolk was evacuated, 1862, & Feds. moved in. But people of little Hampton, across the Straits, burnt down their homes rather than see them occupied by enemy.

After Civil War, with arrival of RRs., est. of great shipyard at Newport News & development of Portsmouth Navy Yard, Roads reg. recaptured importance & especially in last 4 decades, has developed as outlet for a great inland empire extending as far (W) as Ohio Valley.

LYNCHBURG

LYNCHBURG

Through RR. & bus conns. Info.: C. of C. & Auto Club of Va. Accomms.: All types. Swim. (fee) in city pks. Community Market (int.on Sat.). Oct. Farm Show.

Lynchburg, located near st.'s geographical center, in foothills of Blue Ridge, straggles along bluffs above the James; its streets climb from R. bank, through shipping, factory & bus. secs., to residential districts. Quakers in 1750's, among earliest settlers, held 1st meeting, 1754, at Sara Lynch's farm, Chestnut Hill. & soon after built Meetingh. John Lynch, Sara's son, when only 17, est. ferry (1757) & it was on his "40 acres contiguous" to ferry that Va. Assembly est. the town in 1786. John's brother, Chas., during Rev. set up with his cronies a court at his home, Green Level, & imposed savage penalties, incl. flogging, on Tories & criminal elements alike, giving us the expression "Lynch Law". Lynchburg early became a shipping center, with upwards of 500 batteaux plying bet. it & Richmond on James R. After Rev., town was a lively social focus for neighboring plantations. Yet conditions were still primitive. Hogsheds of tobacco, rolling down the streets to the river, got stuck in mud, & little girls, to avoid being mired, hobbled to school on stilts. When St. Paul's Episc. Ch. introduced a pipe organ (1826), community was deeply shocked by such a popish innovation. Townsfolk for years tried to get James R. & Kanawha Canal through to Lynchburg. Abortive booms based on hopes deferred, drove price of certain Lynchburg real estate in 1818 as high as lots on Broadway, New York. Canal finally arrived, not much before 1st RR., & was used until after Civil War. Its noblest & most tragic freight was the body of "Stonewall" Jackson carried by canal boat from Lynchburg to Lexington (1863) for interment. During Civil War town became Confed. base; Union Gen. David Stone tried to take it but was thrown back by Jubal Early (June 1864).

Tobacco has always been backbone of city's economy. Today Lynchburg claims to be largest "dark" tobacco market in country. But its 75 plants turn out many articles, notably shoes, in addition to tobacco products. Theodore Presser who first brought out widely circulated periodical "The Music Etude," in Lynchburg, & Carter Glass, co-author of Fed. Reserve Act, U.S. Secy. of Treasury & Senator, were natives.

PETERSBURG

PETERSBURG

Through RR. & bus conns. Accomms.: All types. Info.: C. of C.

Petersburg, the "Cockade City" situated at Falls of Appomattox R. spreads along S. side of river at pt. where a long peninsula, site of early Pocahontas settlement, splits stream. In 1646 Gov. Berkeley ordered building of Ft. Henry at the Falls &, near-by, Capt. Peter Jones built his trading post. River below city was constantly being improved; at one time as many as 125 batteaux plied up & down it. A canal built around the Falls enabled boats to navigate 100m up-river. In colonial era Petersburg had one of earliest theaters, succeeded by more pretentious ones in which Junius Booth, Poe's mother &, later, Edwin Booth & Tyrone Power (the 1st) played. There were numerous taverns, one of them, Haines', where Poe & Virginia Clemm, his 13-year-old bride, honeymooned. In 1781 city was occupied by Brit. Gen. Philips & shelled by Lafayette's troops from across R. In June, 1864, Union Gen. Kautz's cavalry was halted at city's entrances by a company of old men, boys & convalescent soldiers from the Confed. hospital, until arrival of Beauregard's regulars. But Grant soon concentrated all his forces here & then ensued bloody siege which wrecked more than 800 Hs. & ended in Lee's surrender at Appomattox. Today Petersburg is lively R. town, tobacco market & center of peanut growing reg. Its 57 factories turn out a variety of products. It claims to have world's largest luggage factory.

Perched on her 7 hills, overlooking island-strewn James R., where navigation ends just below the "Falls," Richmond at 1st glance appears to be completely modern city. But there is the older Richmond, of Col., Rev. & Civil War hist. landmarks; the city of literary & art shrines—of Poe, Thos. Nelson Page, Mary Johnston, Ellen Glasgow, Jas. Branch Cabell, John Powell, composer, & Edw. V. Valentine, sculptor. Bill Robinson, Negro tap dancer, earned his keep as a boy in Richmond tending horses & his nickname of "bojangles" by dancing for pennies in beer gardens. Another noteworthy Negro native was Maggie Walker, founder of St. Luke's Penny Bank, now Consolidated Banking & Trust Co., to help Negroes save & build their own homes. The 1st settlement, 1609, was made by Capt. Francis West, on land purchased from Powhatan. Richmond became hotbed of sedition at Rev.'s outbreak. In 1779, capital was removed from Williamsburg to Richmond, as safer from Brit. attack, but in 1781, St. gov. was forced to flee at approach of Brit. led by Benedict Arnold. With building of great canals (the James R. & Kanawha Canal in particular, westward to Buchanan), great Hys. & RRs., to link it to transmontaine reg., Richmond became center of st.'s bus. & social life in 19th cent. After shot fired on Ft. Sumter, Ap. 13, 1861, St. convention sitting in Richmond passed Ordinance of Secession. Richmond, as capital of the Confederacy, became focal point of bloody tug-of-war. For 4 yrs., Union armies tried in vain to batter their way into city, which was only evacuated when Lee's armies had become so depleted that he could no longer hold his extended lines against Grant's forces coming up from Petersburg. Before capital was abandoned, fire was set to a wareh., at Lee's orders, & spreading, reduced most of city to ashes. Today Richmond is important commercial & industrial city. By R. improvements, it has become a port for R. traffic. Its 325 plants produce $375,000,000 worth of goods per annum. It is one of chief tobacco markets & cigarette mfg. centers of the country.

Jefferson, while minister in Paris, with aid of Fr. architect, Clarisseau, after Maison Carrée, ancient temple at Nîmes, France. Home of oldest representative legislature in America, it has witnessed many important events—trial of Aaron Burr, 1807; adoption of Secession Ordinance, 1861, & deliberations of Confed. Congress. In Hall, where his statue now stands, Lee accepted command of Va.'s forces, 1861. In 1870, balcony of Hall gave way, causing death of 63 persons. In Rotunda is Houdon's statue of Washington. In wall recesses are busts of Va.'s other sons who achieved presidency, & Houdon's bust of Lafayette.

TRIPS OUT OF RICHMOND

I. RICHMOND NAT. BATTLEFIELD PK.

700 as., covering main battle sites, in separate secs. Pk. Hqs. reached most directly by St.5 (S) from Richmond to J. with St.156 (Battlefield Route), then (R) to Ft. Harrison area. Pk. Hqs.: Info., maps, etc. Small Mus. & Lib. From (N) Pk. is reached by US360 to Mechanicsville, & then (R) on St.156. US60 makes J. with St.156 at Seven Pines, in Pk., (E) of Richmond. Info.: Superintendent, Richmond Nat. Battlefield Pk., R.F.D., Richmond, Va. Specially conducted tours, appl. in advance. St.156 (Battlefield Route) makes circuit of battlefields; 55m. Markers identify main pts. which are reached by Pk. Rds. & tris. Horses avail.

Richmond Nat. Battlefield Pk. tells story of 4-yr. struggle for Richmond. First attempt to take Richmond (spring & summer of 1862) made by McClellan's peninsula campaign, brought Union armies within sight of city at Seven Pines, where they were checked by Gen. Jos. Johnston. Lee now took over Confed. command & in the series of clashes that followed culminating in "the Seven Days' Battles" McClellan was forced to end menace to Richmond by retreating across James R. Confeds. lost more than 28,000 men & Feds. more than 23,000. Confeds. now set about building up system of defenses encircling city, which proved well-nigh impregnable.

After Battles of the Wilderness & Spotsylvania Cth., in which Lee blocked off Grant in Fredericksburg area, latter brought his army, by June 1, 1864, to vic. of Cold Harbor, only 8^m NW. of Richmond. Here his 117,000 men, attacking Lee's 60,000, were repulsed with terrific losses. Within 30-min. period, killed & wounded mounted to 7,000. Grant said of Cold Harbor in his memoirs: "I have always regretted that the last assault at Cold Harbor was ever made." During period June 2-15 his losses were 12,737, while Lee's are said to have been less than 2,000.

WILLIAMSBURG

WILLIAMSBURG

RR. Sta. on Boundary St; Bus Sta., through bus conns., College Shop, Duke of Gloucester St. Reception Center, S. England St. Also at C. of C., Duke of Gloucester St. Christmas Celebration & unscheduled events at various restoration bldgs. Garden Wk., end of Ap. & beginning of May. Common Glory, hist. drama, beginning July 2, during summer, at Mataoka L. theater. Accoms.: Williamsburg Inn & Lodge & rest. or reconstructed inns. Six outstanding "exhibition" bldgs.—The Governor's Palace, The Capitol, Public Gaol, Raleigh Tavern, Geo. Wythe H. & Ludwell-Paradise H.—are open to public. Combination tickets for these bldgs. are avail. (fee). Tours of rest. gardens not otherwise open to public (fee). For special rates for groups, guides, inquire Reception Center. A number of restored or reconstructed bldgs. are open without adm. fee. Six old gardens are open free. Reprod. of some of furnishings in Exhibition bldgs. may be purchased at the Craft H. Swim. near Williamsburg Inn.

The orig. inspiration for restoration of Williamsburg came from the late Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of Bruton Ch., who suggested project to Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The old town offered an ideal location. Many 18th cent. Hs. were still standing & needed only to be restored. Williamsburg had been 18th cent. capital of colony & st., & center of Va.'s cultural & social life for almost 100 yrs. Restoration began in 1927. Houses erected since 1800, some 590, were torn down or removed. Patient research & excavation brought to light data concerning orig. plan of city & 18th cent. bldgs. which had disappeared. More than one hundred 18th cent. bldgs. still standing were restored & 231 completely reconstructed, among them the beautiful First Capitol, The Palace of the Governors, Raleigh Tavern, the Public Goal & Ludwell-Paradise Hs., all now maintained as "exhibition" bldgs. Program contemplates restoration or reconstruction of more than 100 additional structures.

Williamsburg was est. as Middle Plantation (1633), located on stockade built across the peninsula for protection against Inds. "The Massacre" of 1644 by Inds. caused considerable havoc. Bacon's Rebellion brought a meeting of the rebels to the town in 1676 &, as aftermath, the hanging of Wm. Drummond of Jamestown for participation in the Rebellion, a reprisal ordered by bitterly hated Gov. Berkeley. When Jamestown was burnt down by Bacon's followers, capital was temporarily removed to Middle Plantation, which, after burning of stateh. at Jamestown, was renamed Williamsburg, in honor of William III, & became permanent seat of gov. (1699). A "noble great street," called Duke of Gloucester St., 6 poles (99') wide, was laid out extending from the College at its W., to the Capitol, at its E. end. About half-way bet. was Palace Green, extending (N) to Gov.'s Palace. Old Bruton Parish Ch., which has survived vicissitudes of 250 yrs., stands at NW. cor. of Duke of Gloucester St. & Palace Green. Several streets paralleled Duke of Gloucester St., to the (N) & (S). Cross streets connected the E.-W. thoroughfares. Restoration has recreated the colonial city according to the orig. plan. Although never very large—pop. probably never exceeded 2,000—18th cent. Williamsburg became center of Va.'s political, social & cultural life. When House of Burgesses & courts were in session, pop. more than doubled. Taverns & public houses sprang up in great number. Shops exhibited latest London fashions. Balls, routs & banquets (at one of these, reported to have rivalled in elegance similar London functions, there were 400 guests), fairs, horse-races, gambling, slave auctions (auction block was in front of Raleigh Tavern), cock-fights, plays, kept little city humming.

From 1765 on Williamsburg became focal pt. of revolt against Britain. It was in that year that Patrick Henry rose in House of Burgesses & cried "Caesar had his Brutus, Charles the First his Cromwell—and George the Third"—here being interrupted by cries of "Treason," he continued—"& George the Third may profit by their example. If this be treason, make the most of it." In 1775 Lord Dunmore was forced to flee city. Authority now devolved on the Convention of Delegates which directed its representatives to declare for independence at Philadelphia. But even before Decl. of Ind., Williamsburg convention had adopted Geo. Mason's Decl. of Rights. In 1778 the capital was removed to Richmond, since Williamsburg was too open to attack. City suffered during Rev. from occupation by both Brit. & Amers. & after war ended, it cont. to shrink in importance. Some of its finest bldgs. either fell into decay or were destroyed by vandals or by fire. In 1781, Gov.'s Palace burnt down. By 1832 only the E. wing of the Capitol was left which was wiped out by a fire in that year. Civil War took further toll of town's distinguished architectural monuments.

PTS. OF INT.: Tour begins at Wm. & Mary College, at W. end of Duke of Gloucester St., & follows N. side of street. (1) Wm. & Mary College (chartered 1693.coed). Construction of its permanent bldgs. began 1695. College sided with patriots during Rev. & provided many leaders of that conflict & early years of the Republic: Thos. Jefferson, Rich. Bland, John Tyler, Sr., Benj. Harrison, Geo. Wythe, Jas. Monroe, John Marshall. Geo. Washington, although not a grad., received his surveyor's commission from college & served as its chancellor. In 1779, college est. the honor system. Bet. 1880 & 1888 college was forced to suspend for lack of funds; reopened with st. support & became st.-sponsored. College has branches at Norfolk & Richmond. Wren Bldg. (O.1695), facing Duke of Gloucester St., said to be oldest academic structure in U.S. & to have been designed by Sir Christopher Wren; destroyed by fire (1705), but rebuilt & thereafter repeatedly damaged by fire.

Restoration began under Rockefeller auspices, 1928, using orig. walls, on the basis of an old drawing of its ground plan & an old print, as well as other sources. The Chapel (1729) in the building has been rest. to its orig. state. Tombs of several notables, incl. tomb of Gov. Botetourt, are beneath the floor. In front of Wren bldg. is Statue of Gov. Botetourt, best-loved of Va.'s govns. (1768-70). Flanking Wren bldg. are: To (L) Brafferton Hall (O.academic season.1723.restored), built by funds left college by Rbt. Boyle, Irish-born scientist, & (R) President's H. (1732.allegedly by Henry Cary, Jr.) which was occupied for a time by Cornwallis, & during siege of Yorktown, by Fr. surgeon-general; it was at this time that it suffered serious damage by fire, which was made good by rest. whose costs were defrayed by Louis XVI. The Lib. (O.1908.early Col.); coll. of portraits, among them one by Lely & another by Wollaston, & rare portrait print of Washington. Among Lib.'s documents is the so-called Frenchman's Map which was one of chief sources for reconstruction of the Palace of the Govs. & other bldgs.

Tour now proceeds (E) along N. side of Duke of Gloucester St., both sides of which are lined with new shops in style of old Williamsburg. (2) John Blair H. (pre-1770. not rest.) & Kitchen, former home of John Blair, Jr., signer of the Constitution, near NW. cor. of Nassau St. (3) Opp. Blair H. is Old Armistead H., also on Nassau St. (4) At NW. cor., Duke of Gloucester St. & Palace Green, Bruton Parish Ch. (O.1711.steeple 1769.rest.), venerable brick structure. Ch. has ancient communion service vessels & marble font brought from Jamestown. In octagonal steeple hangs "Liberty Bell," so-called because it announced Decl. of Ind. Most of Va.'s great worshiped here: among them Washington, Jefferson & Monroe. Tour now follows (L) W. side of Palace Green. (5) Geo. Wythe H. & dependencies (O.fee.c.1755.fine exte.r. & inter.rest.) to (N) of Ch. on same side of street, said to have been built by Rich. Taliaferro for his daughter, Elizabeth, who married Wythe. Latter was prominent patriot, signer of Decl. of Ind.; became prof. of law at Wm. & Mary, probably 1st law prof. in America (see Litchfield, Conn.); died in 1806 after lingering illness due to poison administered by his ne'er-do-well grandnephew, whom he had the satisfaction of disinheriting before he died. H. furnished with antiques in period; fine garden. (6) Just N. of Wythe H., across Prince George St., Deane H. (reconstructed.frame), also facing Green, former home of Elkanah Deane, fashionable coach-maker; fine garden. Next door, on Prince George St., Deane Blacksmith Shop & Forge, one of Craft Shops of the Restoration. (7) At NW. cor. of Green, facing Palace, is Carter-Saunders H. (pre-1746.rest.) & lovely garden. The famous Va. planter, Rbt. "King" Carter, of Nomini, bought the H., 1761, & later sold it to Rbt. Saunders, Pres. of Wm. & Mary.

(8) The Governor's Palace (O.fee.1706-20.by Henry Cary.reconstructed 1930). Many splendid entertainments were given in the Palace & on these occasions "plenty of liquor was given the populace, & city was illuminated." In Dec. 1781, when the Palace was being used as hospital for wounded soldiers, it caught fire & burned down. In reconstruction of the bldg. perhaps most useful were an engraving found in the Bodleian Lib., of the structure, a floor plan of it drawn by Thos. Jefferson, & the Frenchman's Map already mentioned. Palace dependencies have been reconstructed & at least 10 gardens planted in 18th cent. manner. Inter. has been reproduced with fine paneling, lovely wall-coverings, & period furnishings. There are a number of old portraits, among them one by Lely & one by Van Dyke. (9) At NE. cor. of Palace Green, Brush-Everard H. (1717-19); fine garden (O), of John Brush, gunsmith & keeper of the Powder Magazine. (10) On E. side of Green, bet. Nicholson St. & the Palace, is site of First Theater (1716), to be reconstructed. (12) On Nicholson St. is St. Geo. Tucker H., one of handsomest in town, whose owner became Prof. of Law at Wm. & Mary, as Wythe's successor. Tucker was also poet & dramatist.

(13) On Nicholson St., facing Market Sq., are Archibald Blair H. (c.1716-18) & Randolph-Peyton H. (pre-1723); home of Peyton Randolph, 1st Pres. of 1st Continental Congress. (14) At SE. end of Palace Green is Geddy H., built by Jas. Geddy, gun & gold smith. Adj. is Geddy Garden (O). Tour now turns E. on Duke of Gloucester St. (15) Just (E) of Geddy H., on Market Sq., is Norton H., acquired (1778) by John H. Norton, representing London firm from which the tea thrown overboard in Yorktown's tea-party was commissioned. (16) (E) of Norton H. is Courth. of 1770 (rest.1932), at Market Sq.; Mus. of relics uncovered during restoration. (17) (E) of Old Cth., Market Sq., is Chowning's Tavern (O.reconstructed.

meals); furnished in period. (18) NE. cor. Duke of Gloucester & Queen Sts., is Blair's Brick H. (reconstructed), now antique shop. Behind it, Dr. Blair's Garden (O). (19) Next to Blair H. is Ludwell-Paradise H. (O.fee.c.1700-17.Georg.Col.rest. 1931), built by Philip Ludwell II. H. is among oldest in Williamsburg. Paradise part of H.'s name derives from John Paradise & his wife, Lucy Ludwell Paradise, who owned it in latter part of 18th & early 19th cents. Lucy was noted for eccentricities, such as pouring boiling water on gentlemen she disapproved of during a London tea-party. When she returned from abroad, 1805, as a widow, she had the habit of receiving her guests in her coach, while servants rolled it back & forth. Finally she was committed to an asylum. H. contains outstanding Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. coll. of Amer. Folklore Art, mostly 19th cent. items. Behind Ludwell-Paradise H. is fine garden. (20) On Nicholson St., facing garden of Ludwell-Paradise H., is Taylor H. (18th cent.not rest.), very fine example. (21) Cont. (E) on Duke of Gloucester St., several old shops & houses are passed, incl. the Wig-maker Shop, on Colonial St., (E) of Ludwell-Paradise H., & "The Sign of the Golden Ball," now the Pewterer's, formerly Dr. Geo. Gilmer's Apothecary Shop (both Restoration Craft Shops). (22) (E) of the Pewterer's is Raleigh Tavern (O.fee.pre-1742.reconstructed 1928), frequented by a host of notables (Geo. Washington was a frequent guest). Thousands of slaves were sold on block in front of Inn. One of tavern's proprietors, Henry Wetherburn, was famous for his hard liquor brews; Jefferson's father bought land on which he built Shadwell (see Charlottesville) for the consideration of "Henry Wetherburn's biggest bowl of Arrack punch." Among its public rooms were the Apollo, the Daphne, the Bar, which was so arranged that the bartender could pull down wooden wicket while he went to the wine-cellar, & Gaming & Dining Rooms. During Rev., Tavern became center of "sedition," & the Assembly, dissolved by Governor, met in the Apollo Room, which also saw founding of Phi Beta Kappa Soc. (1776) by Wm. & Mary students. In Dec. 1859 the Raleigh was destroyed by fire. Inn is beautifully furnished with antiques & the famous rooms reproduced.

(23) (E) of Raleigh Tavern, on Duke of Gloucester St., are several fine col. Hs., incl. the Nicholson Shop (Lee H.). Tour now follows (N) through garden of Raleigh Tavern, passing Public Records Office (18th cent.), to Nicholson St. (24) The Public Gaol (O.fee.1704.adds.rest.1933) on Nicholson St., (NW) of the Capitol. In the old days rations were bad in the prison & during winter prisoners suffered intensely from cold. Some of Blackbeard's band were shut up here before being hung, & during Rev., gaol was crowded with traitors, Tories, deserters & spies. The foot-tour now circles around the Capitol, from Nicholson via Waller St. past Waller H. (middle 18th cent.) to Francis St. (25) Facing S. side of the Capitol, on S. side of Francis St., is handsome Semple H. (early Fed.), home of Judge Jas. Semple, prof. of law at Wm. & Mary's in early 19th cent. (26) Also on Francis St., near Capitol, Robertson-Galt H. (c.1709.not rest.), one of oldest in city. (27) To (SE) of Semple H., in fine grounds & gardens, is Bassett Hall (pre-1753.frame.rest.), occupied by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. (28) (S) of Capitol, facing Francis St., is Ayscough H., built with funds given by Gov. Fauquier to his cook, Anne Ayscough, & husband; now The Cabinet-Makers, one of the Restoration's craft shops. (29) The Capitol (O.fee.1701-05.reconstructed 1934) is reproduction of 1st Capitol destroyed by fire in 1747. Second Capitol on same site was built 1753, in which, during Fr.-Ind. Wars, Washington received vote of thanks for his services, & stammered in embarrassment while attempting speech of thanks. He was told by the Speaker: "Sit down, Mr. Washington, your modesty is equal to your valour; & that surpasses the power of language that I possess." In the 2nd capitol developed the struggle of Va. against Brit. Crown, during course of which Patrick Henry made his famous "If this be treason" speech. After removal of seat of gov. to Richmond, 1780, bldg. fell into disrepair & its last remaining sec. was destroyed by fire, 1832. When restoration was being considered, the authorities decided to reconstruct 1st bldg. because of its great architectural distinction. Both exter. & inter. have been faithfully reproduced as well as orig. furnishings. Particularly noteworthy are: The Council Chamber, where the Gov. & his Council met; the Office of the Clerk of the H. of Burgesses, where hangs portrait of Washington by Chas. W. Peale; the Court Chamber & chamber of H. of Burgesses, in which is orig. chair used by the Speaker.

Tour now turns (W), along S. side of Duke of Gloucester St. (30) At E. end of this

St., at inters. with Blair St., is handsome Kerr H. (early 18th cent.adds.Gr.Rev.) & dependencies. (31) Next comes charming little John Coke Office, facing Raleigh Tavern. (32) Next, Charlton H. (rest.) Adj. is Site of King's Arms Tavern, due for reconstruction. (33) Next is Bland-Wetherburn H. (early 18th cent.not rest.), home of noted patriot, Rich. Bland, & bought by Henry Wetherburn (see above). (34) Old Brick H. Tavern (accoms.rest.), comes next; then (35) Jas. Anderson H. (pre-1770. reconstructed). (36) Charming Mary Stith Shop (reconst.). After passing other int. Hs., on S. side of Duke of Gloucester St., tour reaches (37) Lightfoot H., int. for its unusual, projecting gambrel roof, (E) of Queen St. Tour now turns (S) on Colonial St. to Francis St., which parallels Duke of Gloucester St. (38) On this St. are a number of int. old Hs., bet. Botetourt & Queen Sts. (39) Turning (S) on England St., from Francis St., tour passes handsome Williamsburg Inn (L) & Lodge (R) Reception Center and Craft House near Williamsburg Inn, containing reprod. of antiques. (40) Further (S) on England St., is Old Tazewell Hall, to (W), erected by Sir J. Randolph, father of Peyton Randolph and of John Randolph, the Tory. Tour returns via England St. (N) crossing Francis St. (41) To (R) is Powder Magazine (O.fee.1716.rest.1935). At outbreak of Rev., Lord Dunmore roused popular resentment by removing powder from magazine to prevent its falling into patriot hands (1775). (42) The old Guard H., where soldiers guarding the magazine were stationed, was recently reconst. (43) At SW. cor. of Duke of Gloucester & Queen Sts., is Market Sq. Tavern (O.accoms.c.1749.restored), fine garden (O). Tour now follows S. side of Duke of Gloucester St. (W) & passes, in succession: (44) Greenhow-Repton H. (18th cent.), one of whose owners was John Greenhow, merchant who aroused considerable protest because of his outrageous prices, & next to it the Boot & Shoemakers' Shop of the Restoration. (45) Travis H. (accoms. restaurant.c.1765); Gardens (O). (46) Jas. Galt H., adj. to 1st garden. (47) Cole Shop which today houses an interesting book & print store. (48) At inters. with Nassau St., Taliaferro-Cole H. (18th cent.), former home of Chas. Taliaferro, fashionable coach & sedan-chair maker. TRIPS OUT OF WILLIAMSBURG

I. WILLIAMSBURG (SW) to JAMESTOWN. 6.5. ST.31

Take St.31 (SW) to JAMESTOWN I. (O.sm.fee.c.1,559 as.) at 6.5.; can also be reached by St.10 (see) from Richmond & by US17 (see). I. is owned in part by Fed. Gov. & in part by Assoc. for Preserv. of Va. Antiquities. Jamestown I. is site of 1st Eng. settlement in N. America. On May 13, 1607, 3 ships, the "Sarah Constant," "Goodspeed" & "Discovery," arrived offshore with company of 105 adventurers. In 1st yrs. settlement managed to survive under leadership of Capt. John Smith. The story of Pocahontas, who came with Powhatan's ambassador to Jamestown & amused settlers by turning cart-wheels in front of the ft., & Smith is known to every school-child—how she fell in love with Smith, rescued him from death at hands of her Ind. relatives, was induced to marry John Rolfe, went to England, was presented at court & died in England in 1617. She had 1 child, Thos., whose descendants became prosperous Va. planters. After Smith left for England, colony passed through terrible "starving time," due in part to ineptness of the "cavaliers" at planting corn, which therefore they had to procure from Inds., & disease, with malaria chief menace. John Rolfe worked out a method for curing native tobacco & this assured colony's prosperity. Indentured women servants were imported, from among whom settlers purchased wives at price of 150 lbs. of tobacco per wife. By 1619 Jamestown had become capital of colony. Burgesses met in the ch., 1st representative legislature of the New World. Jamestown suffered many vicissitudes—attacks by Inds., destruction by fire during Bacon's Rebellion, destruction of the last st. house, 1698. Finally capital was moved to Williamsburg, & Jamestown gradually declined, until today only ruins of ch. tower & Ambler H. remain. Extensive excavations have been conducted to uncover whatever remains there are underground.

PTS. OF INT.: Within grounds of Assoc. for Preserv. of Va. Antiquities: Tower of Ch., 4th on this site. In 2nd Ch. Pocahontas was married to John Rolfe. In 3rd Ch., Burgesses met, and adj. is Mem. Ch. (1907). Gravestones of Rev. Jas. Blair & his wife, Sarah, are separated by a huge sycamore, fulfilling curse of Sarah's father, Col. Ben. Harrison, who tried to prevent marriage. Lady Berkeley, wife of Gov. Berkeley, against whose tyranny Bacon rebelled, also is comm. by tombstone. (W) of Ch. is Relic H.; objects uncovered in excavations. (W) of Relic H. are excavated foundations of several of town's former bldgs. Adj. is Yeardley H., hqs. of Assoc. Mons.: House of Burgesses Mon.; Statue of Capt. John Smith by Wm. Couper; Mon. to Pocahontas, by Wm. O. Partridge; Hunt Mem. comm. Rbt. Hunt, who in June, 1607, administered 1st communion service in America.

PTS. OF INT. IN NAT. PK. SERVICE AREA: Tercentenary Mon. comm. founding of Jamestown, is bet. Assoc. grounds & Mus. Mus. & Archeological Lab.; material uncovered during excavations. Back of Mus., marle walk follows course of "Back Street" of the "New Towne" sec. of old Jamestown. "The High Way," another street of "New Towne," is similarly indicated. Here foundations of 1st st. H. have been uncovered. Along "Back Street" are Ruins of Jacquelin-Ambler H. (18th cent.).

IV. WILLIAMSBURG (NE) to YORKTOWN. 13. COL. NAT. PKWY.

Take Col. Nat. Pkwy. (NE) out of Williamsburg to YORKTOWN NAT. MON. on York R. at 13. J. with US17 (see). Ferry to Gloucester Pt. Free guide serv. at Pk. Hqs. Near-by is York Beach (bath.sm.fee). Yorktown (est.1691, formerly thriving port, is today chiefly notable as site of the concluding act of Rev.

In summer of 1781, Brit. Gen. Cornwallis transferred his whole army to Yorktown, from Portsmouth, Va. Meanwhile De Grasse, Admiral of Fr. Fleet, moved up to cut Brit. off by sea. At end of Sept., Washington, with combined Amer. & Fr. armies (latter under Rochambeau's command), numbering 16,000, marched down peninsula to Yorktown. Allied armies soon silenced Cornwallis' guns & gradually narrowed encirclement of Brit. Cornwallis attempted to escape across York R. to Gloucester Pt. but was prevented by bad weather. On Oct. 17 he asked for a truce & in Moore H. (see below), terms of surrender were agreed upon. Brit. army laid down its arms, ending War for Independence.

PTS. OF INT.: (O.sm.fee): On Main St. are: Customh. (1706.rest.), where Edw. Ambler was collector of the port; he was member of the "tea party" (1774) which dumped the "Virginia's" tea-cargo into the R.; York Hall (Nelson H.) (1740.fine garden); during siege, Cornwallis lived here; house was home of Thos. Nelson, signer of Decl. of Ind.; a cannon ball, perhaps from a battery commanded by Nelson, himself, is in one wall; Digges, Somerwell (Pk.Hqs.), Sessions & West Hs. (all Col.). A block distant from Main St. is Grace Ch. (1697.rest.), used by Brit. to store powder. In cemetery are graves of Thos. Nelson, his son & grandson. Near Ch. are 2 other Col. bldgs.—Smith H. & Pearl Hall. Swan Tavern is reconstruction of orig. inn (1719) & dependencies on foundations of 1st structure; kitchen & stable contain coll. of hist. items. About 1^m out of Yorktown, on side Rd., is Moore H. (probably pre-1750.rest.) (see above), furnished in period. On the Battlefield, close around Yorktown, are remains of Brit. earthworks, & beyond them, reconstructed portions of Allied defenses which Washington ordered levelled after the siege. Guns, some of which were used at siege, have been set up. Throughout Battlefield & encampment areas are identifying markers. Near Yorktown is a Nat. Cemetery where Union troops are buried.

Raleigh, capital city of N.C., is one of few planned capitals in country; 6-a. Capitol Square, shaded by great oaks & strewn with mons., has broad aves. which radiate from its 4 sides, & is surrounded by St. dept. bldgs. Two pks. survive of orig. 4 planned for new capital in 1792. When orig. Stateh. was completed (1794), so raw was this capital carved out of a wilderness that it was accused of being "a city of streets without houses." Raleigh's atmosphere, usually that of a settled community of tradition & charm, changes perceptibly during biennial sessions of the Legislature, though town is always aware of its numerous St. & Fed. workers. Raleigh is a publication & educational center. PTS. OF INT.: (1) On Capitol Sq., Capitol (1833-40.Doric.by David Patton & Ithiel Town) said to have no nails, iron pillars or rafters. Longleaf pines along winding Rds. & Drs. run past great estates, hotels, inns & smaller residences & cottages. There is harmony in the modified Georg. Col. style in which most of them are built; architectural style of colony was planned by Aymar Embury, II. The Pks., Drs., open spaces & all landscaping were planned by Frederick Law Olmsted, landscape architect of N.Y. Pinehurst is not an inc. town, but a private business enterprise operating under N.C. corporate laws. The owners exercise police powers & village regulations prohibit locomotives from operating at night, dogs from howling, & roosters from crowing. Envisioned first by the Tufts, founders, as a health resort, it has developed instead into a recr. & sports center. Golf Tourns.: Mid-South Prof. (mid-Nov.); Seniors, (2nd wk.in Mar.); United N. & S. ASHEVILLE Southern RR. System; excellent air & bus conns. Accomms., recr. & sports facils. of all types; golf courses (O.yr.-round). Info.: C. of C, Booth on Pack Sq. or in City Hall. Annual events: Land of the Sky Open Golf Tourn. (Mar.or Ap.); Men's Invitation Golf Tourn. (2nd & 3rd wks.in Aug.); Women's Spring Golf Tourn. (3rd wk.in Ap.); Easter Sunrise Service; Rhododendron Festival (2nd or 3rd wk.in June), Negro Fair (Sept.); Mt. Folk & Dance Festival (Aug.); Kennel Club Show (Oct.); Big Game Hunts (Nov. & Dec.in Pisgah For.).

One of the South's cosmopolitan cities, it lies on a plateau ringed by ranges of the Blue Ridge, & is the economic & cultural center for 18 mt. counties. It is both tourist & health resort, as well as industrial center. Near the E. entrance to Great Smoky Mts. Nat. Pk. & close to Nat. For. lands, it gives access to recr. areas of more than million as. The site of Asheville was once Cherokee Ind. hunting ground. Traders were in the reg. as early as 1673, & there was a flourishing barter trade by 1700, but no settlers came across the Blue Ridge until after the Rev. Buncombe Cty. was formed in 1792, & named for a Col. Edw. Buncombe. The definition of "buncombe" (spelled also bunkum & bunk), as meaning anything spoken, written or done for mere show, derives from a speech made by Felix Walker in the 16th Congress. When the gentleman made a pointless long-winded speech & was asked by one of his colleagues what he meant, Walker replied, "I was just talking for Buncombe." With the opening of the Buncombe Turnpike in 1824, the reg. became more accessible to S.C., Ga. & other Southern states. Tourists & health seekers came in great numbers. With completion of 1st RR., more visitors came, & industrial plants increased. Textile mills were est. & other factories for mfg. wood & mica products, foodstuffs & other commodities. The coming of Geo. Vanderbilt, N.Y. capitalist, in 1889, & of E. W. Grove, St. Louis manufacturer, in 1900, greatly accelerated the city's growth & development. The spread of Fla. real estate boom to Asheville in the 1920's nearly wrecked the city's economy when it collapsed.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Pack Sq., Civic Center, landscaped plaza dominated by Vance Mon. & city. & city bldgs. (2) E. of Pack Sq., City Hall (1927.by D.Ellington) contains Sondley Reference Lib. For sec. from Asheville to L. JUNALUSKA at 27., see US23. 35. MAGGIE, near dude ranch. 49. CHEROKEE (good accoms.), adj. Qualla Boundary (O), which comprises 50,000 as. in Swain & Jackson Counties & isolated tracts of 13,000 as.

in Graham & Cherokee Counties. Here lived the East. Band of Cherokee Inds., descendants of group who eluded Gen. Winfield Scott's soldiers in 1838 removal of Inds. to Okla.; they hid in the Smokies while defying capture. Scott agreed to let the fugitives remain if they would surrender Tsali & his kinsmen, who had slain a soldier. Tsali & all but his youngest son were shot when they surrendered, but remnant of the tribe remained. This is largest organized Ind. reserv. (E) of Wis. (guides avail. for reserv. tour). The women still carry their children slung on their backs. The Cherokee Ind. Fair (1st wk. in Oct. sm. fee) features archery, blowgun contests, primitive games, dances & Cherokee Ind. ball, similar to lacrosse. The Green-Corn Dance, ancient ceremonial celebrating coming of the harvest, is Ind. Thanksgiving. J. with St.107.

SIDE TRIP: 4m Ravensford, once thriving lumber village. Ranger Sta. hqs. for the Pk. (R) 3m on dirt Rd. to Big Cove, Ind. settlement that has more Ind. atmosphere & tribal solidarity than any other reserv. town. Here are preserved ancient folklore, songs, & legends; they occasionally dance the Dance of Friendship & the Beaver Dance, as well as Dance of Thanksgiving.

GREAT SMOKY MTS. NAT. PK.

Half in N.C. & half in Tenn., the Great Smoky Mts., greatest mt. mass (E) of the Black Hills of S. Dak., are among the oldest land areas on earth. They are a portion of the Appalachian Range, & are survivals of earliest geological times. The Great Smoky area is also celebrated as one of the richest sources of Eng. folklore & song found by Cecil Sharp when he toured the S. Appalachians for his famous coll. of Eng. ballads & folk songs. The Smokies, for 36 consecutive miles in the Pk., are more than 5,000' high; 16 peaks are more than 6,000' high. The Pk. is 54^m long; greatest width is 19^m. It will eventually comprise 440,000 as. or 687.5 sq. miles. The Pk. offers unique opportunity for preserving frontier conditions of a cent. ago, & several mt. communities remain intact within its boundaries. There is in process of development a mus. of mt. culture, which should interest all tourists. The most extensive for. of virgin red spruce & unspoiled hardwoods to be found in the U.S. is in the Pk., with nearly half the area in its orig. forested condition. There are some 129 native tree species, 18 other varieties not native, & most trees as well as shrubs attain giant size. The variety of plants is amazing. More than 1,200 flowering plants, 1,000 fungi, 300 mosses, 200 lichens & 100 liverworts have been found. As in all Nat. Pks., wildlife is given complete protection & no hunting or trapping is permitted. More than 50 species of fur-bearing animals, some 200 birds, 34 reptiles, 36 amphibians, & 60 fishes have been identified. Feeding, touching or molesting of bears is prohibited. There is nothing to fear from unmolested bears, however. There are 56.5^m of high standard Rds. in the Pk., 25^m of secondary Rds., & 675^m of bridle & foot trls. (O). All trls. are carefully marked. There are 8 trailside shelters along the 71^m Appalachian Trl. which runs from Davenport Gap to Newfound Gap (31^m), & from Newfound Gap to Deal's Gap (40^m). These are nearly equally spaced for easy 1-day hik. trips. Shelters, Adirondack type, enclosed on 3 sides & provided with 6 bunks, always have both fireplace & spring near-by. Camp. is restricted to 1 day unless weather is inclement. There is also an organized Youth Hostel movement. (Inquire Asheville C. of C., Pisgah Nat. For. Serv., Asheville & Nantahala Nat. For. Serv., Franklin.)

Through RR. & bus conns. No scheduled air serv. Accomms.: All types. Season: Oct.-May.

Camden, cty. seat in Piedmont sandhill & long leaf pine reg., at head of navigation of Wateree R., has long been popular as winter resort & is now favorite center for horse lovers. Large stables of hunting horses, steeplechasers, trotters, pacers & polo ponies are trained here. There are 200 miles of bridle paths; 3 polo fields (games Sun. Dec.-Ap.); the Springdale Course, one of finest steeplechase plants in country, with the Carolina Cup Classic (last Sat. in Mar.); the Marion Dupont Scott mile flat course; the Va. Horse Show (Feb.); & the Camden Horse Show (Mar.). Golf (by invitation), football, basketball, hunting & fishing avail.

Brit. pioneers were here as early as 1730's & were soon followed by Irish Quakers. Settlement was called Friends' Neck, then Pine Tree Hill, & then Camden, in honor of 1st Earl of Camden. Early industry was shipping local clay to Eng. potteries. Cornwallis est. garrison here (June 1780) & 14 Rev. battles were fought within 30m-radius, 2 within town limits: Battle of Camden (Aug. 16,1780) in which Amers. under Gates were routed & Baron DeKalb (see below) mortally wounded; & Battle of Hobkirk Hill (Ap. 19,1781) when Amers., under Nathanael Greene withdrew & Eng. under Lord Rawdon fired town (May.) After Rev. wealthy settlers est. estates. Because of fires & a malaria outbreak, residential district moved (N) to Hilly Kirkwood. Camden was birthplace of 6 Confed. gens. (see below) & was again burned by Sherman (Feb. 24,1865).

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Accom.: All kinds. Info.: C. of C., De Soto Hotel. Usual sports facils.; h. & f. in vic. Recent sport development is training of thoroughbreds for flat racing. Convention city. S.C. Legislature (convenes Jan.); Music Festival, Ap.; 2 State Fairs (one for Negroes) Oct.

Dominated by dome of capital bldg., always called St. House, Columbia, political & convention center of S.C., is at head of navigation of Congaree R. c.3^m from geographical center of St. It is agric. & industrial center with one of largest free farm markets in SE. Textile mfg., ceramics & clay products, lumbering, printing & quarrying are important. C. of C. emphasizes availability of labor that is almost 100% native born (1/3 Negroes) & comparative absence of labor disputes. Univ. of S.C. & 5 other colleges (2 for Negroes) are located here, as are many Fed. & St. agencies & institutions, incl. hqs. for Sumter & Francis Marion Nat. Fors. Ft. Jackson, on outskirts, est. during World War I, became in World War II largest infantry training post in U.S.

Area was settled as early as 1718 when Ft. Congaree was garrisoned just (S) of Columbia at Granby. In 1786 General Assembly decided to move capital from Charleston to site "near Friday's Ferry . . . including plain of hill whereon Thomas & James Taylor Esquires now reside," & an area 2 miles sq. was platted. Legislature met here 1st time in 1790. In 1805, S.C. College (now Univ.) opened its doors. A few yrs. later factories were started with slave labor. Soon steamboats were coming up river from Charleston & in 1842 1st engine-drawn train, "Robert Y. Hayne," arrived. Dec. 17, 1860 Secession Convention met here, voted unanimously to secede, & then adjourned to Charleston because of smallpox scare. During most of Civil War, Columbia acted as supply & refuge center. Feb. 16, 1865, Sherman began to shell city, whose pop. was almost entirely made up of women & children. Accepting surrender from mayor, Sherman promised no further damage. But following night fires destroyed much of city. Reconstruction was particularly difficult in this area. On one occasion prisons were almost opened because legislature had provided no money for their upkeep. White supremacy was restored with election of Gen. Wade Hampton, aided by white Democrats known as Red Shirts, to governorship (1876) in contest so disputed that President Rutherford B. Hayes proposed another election.

Columbia's metropolitan area, including suburbs, now covers c.75 sq. miles. Its wide streets, suggested by orig. planners, are well planted with oaks, elms, hackberries, magnolias, mimosa, & variety of shrubs. Hist. marker program has made it easy to identify hist. sites.

Aiken, a famous center for polo players, has many large, beautiful estates, set along magnolia, oak & pineshaded Rds. frequently unpaved for comfort of horses & their riders. Town offers 15 polo fields, miles of scenic bridle paths, a mile trotting track, a flat racing track, 2 18-hole golf courses, field trials, kennel shows, foxhunts, drag hunts, trap shooting, & dove & quail hunting. Nation's outstanding polo players take part in Sun. aft. games during season, when Aiken becomes training center for some 2,000 polo, steeplechase, trotting & riding horses. In Mar. a pro-amateur golf tournament is held; a little later the gardens reach their brilliant best; & soon thereafter the wealthy & famous depart for other playgrounds. There were few settlers in this vic. before Rev., though Two Notch Rd. & Whiskey Rd. date from this time. Town was laid out, 1834, as terminal on Charleston-Hamburg line. In 1865, Gen. H. J. Kilpatrick, on his way to destroy mills at Graniteville (see below), was defeated by Confed. Gen. Joe Wheeler in skirmish on main street. During Reconstruction city was scene of 2 bloody riots. With introduction of polo in 1882, Aiken soon became famous as resort. Today tourist trade remains most important industry though many townspeople are employed in textile mills, kaolin mines, lumber mills, & granite quarries.

130. BEAUFORT

Through RR. & bus conns. On Intracoastal Waterway. Deep water harbor, sheltered yacht harbor, & yacht club. Round trips by boat to Savannah avail. Good accoms. Golf, tennis, beach, swim., boat. Fish: bass, cobia, sea trout, sheephead. Hunt: deer, doves, quail. S. Atlantic Sailing regatta (July). St. Helena I. Fair (fall).

Beaufort, surrounded by network of rivers & inlets, situated on a deep natural harbor on Port Royal I., 1 of 65 Sea Is. of Beaufort Cty., is charming & hist. port town. 2nd oldest in S.C., that preserves to unusual extent atmosphere of another age. Old homes, deep in gardens, line winding oak-shaded streets with cabins of Negroes scattered among them. Negroes far outnumber whites in cty. as a whole.

Sp. were here as early as 1521, naming harbor "Punta de Santa Elena." Ribaut & his Fr. Huguenots attempted settlement on Parris I., 1562, & were responsible for name Port Royal. Brit. Lords Proprietors believing that here "would be the most proper place . . . to take in masts, pitch, tar, turpentine, & other naval stores" settled at Port Royal, 1670. Scotch followed in 1684 but were wiped out by Sp. & Inds. Beaufort proper was founded 1710 & almost destroyed by Yemassee Inds. in 1715. During Rev. post was est. here by Brit. to penetrate inland waterways, & in 1812 Brit. warships sailed into harbor but did not damage town. In next decades Beaufort became a fashionable summer home for neighboring planters. Bishop Asbury & John Wesley both visited here & Parson Weems, author of famous "Life of Washington," died here. When Feds. took possession in 1861, only 1 white man remained in town "and he had recently come from the North." Property of planters was confiscated & later sold to Northerners or divided among newly freed slaves. After the war persistent efforts were made by Northern groups to educate the free-men, some successful, some exceptionally visionary—as an attempt, in 1 case, at an all-classical curriculum. These efforts cont., notably in Penn Sch. But many of the educated Negroes move away. Others still cling to mores & customs that marked their life in ante bellum times. Doors are still painted blue to ward off evil spirits & graves are still covered with objects which deceased used just before death. Primitive methods of cultivation, induced by poverty as well as by custom, continue. Plows are drawn by oxen or marsh tackies (believed to be degenerate horses left over from Sp. occupation). Transportation is by the 2-wheeled cart. Of special interest are the Gullahs, whose largest concentration is on St. Helena I. Descended from W. African tribes, their dialect & the strange music of their spirituals have received much attention.

Cty. supplied Eng. with sea island (long staple) cotton for almost a century until crop was wiped out by boll weevil, 1918. Today principal sources of income of reg. are fishing (oysters & shrimp incl.), canning, & tourists. About 1/3 of cty. land is now taken up by private hunting preserves. There is also a large Naval Hospital & a Marine Training Sta.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) At entrance of US21 into town, National Cemetery, est. 1863, has some 12,000 graves of Feds. removed from Fla., Ga. & parts of S.C. & sm. number of Confed. graves. (5) Carteret & Duke Sts., Old Beaufort College Bldg. (1852, Gr. Rev. adds.) now grammar sch., served as college (1st inc. 1795) & was once used by Freedman's Bureau. (6) Carteret & Craven Sts., Beaufort Lib. (1918). First lib. was organized 1802 & its books taken by U.S. Treasury Agents (1861) to N.Y. where part of them were auctioned off until Secy. of Treas. Chase stopped sale, saying: "The library was forwarded . . . with the intention of restoring it to the people of the town whenever the authority of the Union should be re-established in S.C. . . . We do not war on libraries." Remainder, forwarded to Smithsonian Inst., was burned in fire of 1865 & Beaufort remained without pub. lib. until Clover Club organized one, 1902. In 1940 U.S. Senate voted $10,000 to repay town for books. Cooper. Near-by is Mon. to Prof. T. S. C. Lowe for whom Mt. Lowe Observatory in Los Angeles is named. In Ap. 1861 he landed in vic. in sand ballast balloon, having made trip from Cincinnati to conduct air current experiments. He was almost lynched by natives who thought him a Yankee spy but was rescued by a fellow Mason.

20. On US29, THICKETTY, so-named because of thick growth of shrubs & trees. On Thicketty Mt. (R) are abandoned iron mines. 25. COWPENS, so-called because of pens maintained here for cattle owners driving herds to market in the Low Country. 27. CLIFTON, textile mill town.

35. SPARTANBURG

Through RR., bus & plane conns. Accoms.: All kinds. Spartanburg Music Festival, usually in Ap.; Mid-Dixie Tennis Tournaments, July.

Spartanburg has 42 textile plants & claims to be "largest producer of cotton fabrics in world." There are usual supplies & service institutions—cotton brokers. machinery sales & maintenance companies—and town is also center of St.'s peach production. White pop. is primarily of Scotch-Irish descent, some of whose ancestors settled in reg. as early as 1761. Town & cty. take their name from the "Spartan Regiment" that fought throughout Rev. The 1st Cth. was erected 1787 on present Morgan Sq. & town was inc. 1831. An early industry was iron mfg. During Civil War, Spartanburg became a sort of supply station for clothes, food & arms for Confeds., & it suffered less during reconstruction than many S. towns. It was also a boom town in World War I when Camp Wadsworth, one of largest training camps of time was est. In World War II, Camp Croft, an Infantry Replacement Training Center, was located here.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Textile Mills. Guided tours may be arranged in a number of mills by making appointments ahead of time. (2) Center of town, Morgan Sq., has Statue of Gen. Dan. Morgan, hero of Battle of Cowpens (see above). (3) 429-509 N. Church St., Wofford College, for men (Meth.Episc.) had its origin when Rev. Benj. Wofford, Spartanburg's Meth. minister, willed $100,000 for founding of a college (1850). In Main Bldg. (1854), 1st classes were held. (4) E. 65. GREENVILLE

Through RR., bus, & plane conns. Accomms.: All kinds.

Bisected by Reedy R., broken up by 15 pks. (4 for Negroes), & with the Blue Ridge Mts. in the background, Greenville belies, at 1st glance, its essential character as an industrial center. There are 38 textile mills (incl.silk & worsted—the latter one of the few in the South) bleaching, printing, & dyeing plants, & factories mfg. textile machinery & peanut, tobacco, & wood products. The Southern Textile Exposition is held here every other year, usually early in Oct. Among 1st settlers in vic. was an Irishman named Rich. Pearis who married a Cherokee, acquired a large land grant from her tribe, juggled offers from both Amers. & Brit. during Rev., finally sided with Brit. &, after Rev. retired to the Bahamas. Lemuel Alston, brother-in-law of Theodosia Burr, laid out Pleasantburg, on part of Pearis' former plantation, in 1797, & town became Greenville, 1831. Cotton & iron mills, with power supplied by Reedy R. falls, were soon flourishing, & the RR. arrived in 1853. During Civil War town was supply & hospitalization center for Confeds. & near-by mountains a hideout for deserters.

93. GREENWOOD

Through RR. & bus conns. Airport. Good accoms. Two golf courses (1 mun.). Usual sports facilis.

Served by 5 RRs., 4 U.S. hys. & 12 St. hys., Greenwood lies in hilly reg. (S) of Saluda R. & is trading center for area producing cattle, dairy products, small grains, peaches & cotton. RR. tracks extend through heart of bus. district. Station is in center of main sq. near mons. to Confed. & World War dead. Greenwood boasts 11 major classifications of industry but particularly of the complete cycle of textile manufacture from "boll to boll" & then to finished garment. Greenwood Mills have worked on a 3-shift basis since end of World War I & in 1948 were operating "the largest single unit manufacturing spun rayon cloth mill in the world." One of more unusual industries is a bell carillon foundry, a branch of the Dutch foundry that produced the Callie Self Carillon (see below). Greenwood had its beginnings in late 1820's when the plantation of Judge John McGehee was divided into lots. RR.

from Columbia reached town in 1852 & 20 yrs. later citizens, with the aid of convict labor, completed a line to Augusta, Ga. During Civil War Greenwood was supply center for Confeds. Cty.-owned Buzzard Roost Hydroelectric Power Plant (see below) built by PWA has been an outstanding development.

In order "to avoid a too numerous democracy," the Lords Proprietors, who received a great land grant in this reg. from Charles II, had a charter drawn up for their 1st settlement by the later famous philosopher, John Locke (at the time, secy. to Lord Ashley Cooper). It provided for 3 orders of nobility: barons; caciques & landgraves. Even today an avoidance of a too numerous democracy is to be found among Charlestonians. Among some groups indeed, only those whose ancestors were here before 1720 (when the settlement ceased to be controlled by the Lords Proprietors & became a royal province) can be considered proper Charlestonians. Those who came bet. 1720 & the Rev. are new Charlestonians, those before 1865, green Charlestonians & all those thereafter merely visitors. The late Alex. Woollcott, commenting on this clannishness, said that at the end of the garden season in Charleston the tourists depart, leaving the natives "with no one to despise but themselves." Yet Charlestonians can be the most gracious of people (even their servants, as one Negro butler remarked, are "all broke out with behavior") & Charleston as much as any city in the U.S. retains the cardinal quality of grace.

Charleston is S.C.'s largest &, since the beginning, most important city. It is also the official St. port, situated on a narrow peninsula with an excellent landlocked harbor, "an untarnished jewel shining regally at that sacred spot where the Ashley & the Cooper join their majestic waters to form the Atlantic Ocean." It is one of Amer.'s most hist. & architecturally int. cities. The oldest & most fashionable sec. is that (S) of Broad St. especially in vic. of the Battery. Here twisting sts. & narrow alleyways retain their 18th cent. charm. Bldgs. are mostly Eng. Georg. of brick or stuccoed brick but showing Fr., West Ind. & Dutch influences. An unusual development is the Charleston "single" house which presents its side to the street, its front, lined with from 1 to 3 piazzas, to a brick-walled garden entered by elaborate wrought-iron gates. The gardens of Charleston & the outlying plantations have been world famous for more than a century & offer an unbelievable succession of wistaria, japonicas, azaleas, freesias, magnolias, banksia roses, crape myrtles, & oleanders. Charleston was the home of Dr. Alexander Garden (for whom the gardenia was named) & Joel R. Poinsett, Minister to Mexico (1825-29), who introduced the poinsettia to this country.

First settlement was made by Eng. under Wm. Sayle, 1670, at Albemarle Pt. & moved across Ashley R. to present location, 1680. Other groups of pioneers soon joined the colony—Scotch, Irish, Fr. Huguenots, Palatinate Germans, Fr. Acadians. Despite attack by combined fleet of Sp. & Fr., 1706, & usual troubles with Inds. & Lords Proprietors, settlement continued to prosper on an economy based successively on Ind. trade, naval stores, indigo, rice & cotton. Pirates preyed on this prosperity &, in 1718, 49 were executed in a single month (22 in one day). Charleston had the 1st public lib. in country, 1698, a free sch. in 1710, a theater in 1735. In 1740, Eliza Pinckney was teaching "a parcel of little Negroes to read," an act that was to become a felony 100 yrs. later. By 1775 Charleston was one of most important seaports in colonies & Crèvecoeur found it to exhibit "a display of riches & luxury far superior to what are to be seen in our northern towns . . . its inhabitants . . . are the gayest in America." On his way to dinner at one plantation, however, he saw a slave, suspended in a cage in a tree, being picked to death by vultures.

Charleston withstood Brit. attacks of 1776 & 1779, but in 1780 was captured by Sir Henry Clinton from the landside & held for 2½ yrs. After Rev., prosperity again returned & 1st cotton shipped from an Amer. port went to England from here, 1784. In 1822 a Negro insurrection led by Denmark Vesey, a free West Indian mulatto, ended with 34 of the insurrectionists condemned to death & 44 to transportation. At Charleston was signed 1st Ordinance of Secession (Dec. 20, 1860); 1st hostile shot of Civil War was fired on Ft. Sumter & 1st submarine used effectively was Confed. "Hundley" which blew up USS "Housatonic." In spite of repeated attacks Confeds. did not evacuate until Feb. 17, 1865, burning pub. bldgs. & cotton & other supplies as they left. Charleston never recovered its pre-war importance. The earthquake of 1886 damaged 90 per cent of bldgs. many of them since strengthened with iron tie rods.

World War II brought Charleston the usual boom. In 1948 Charleston Cty. had some 229 ind. & mfg. concerns, incl. U.S. Naval Base & Naval Shipyard, which can be classified as major industry of area. Among others of importance were power, paper, pulp, asbestos, creosoting, lumber, tobacco & fertilizer plants. Situated in a prolific trucking reg., with annual crop-growing period of 280 days, & with waters that provide shrimp, crabs, oysters, & many varieties of salt-water fish, Charleston is also distribution & canning center for garden truck & seafood. Principal imports incl. petroleum, gasoline, & fertilizer materials; exports incl. coal, petroleum products, phosphates, cotton, tobacco, & lumber.

Of gardens John Galsworthy said: "Nothing so free & gracious, so lovely & wistful, nothing so richly colored yet so ghost-like exists, planted by the sons of men." 16. MIDDLETON GARDENS (O.Dec.-May.fee), oldest landscaped gardens in U.S., begun 1741 by Henry Middleton, later Pres. of Continental Congress, who imported gardener & worked 100 slaves 10 yrs. on project. At Middleton, peace terms for departure of Brit. from Carolinas were arranged. Another Middleton, signer of Decl. of Ind., is buried here in family tomb. Present house is rest. right wing of orig. fired by Feds. Fr. botanist, André Michaux, planted here 1st camellia japonicas in U.S. Of 4 plants set out by him, more than 150 yrs. ago, 3 still thrive & bloom. 18. MATEEBA GARDENS (O.Mar.1 to mid-Ap.fee.25 as.), part of old Ashley Barony, planted with azaleas, dogwood, etc. At 22.5. is J. with St.65.

26.5. SUMMERVILLE, winter resort (golf.f.h.horse racing meet in spring & fall) is famous for its flowers. Mun. Azalea Garden (28,000 azalea plants). Pinehurst Gardens started 1890 as experiment to grow tea commercially.

US 76 & ST. 2—GEORGIA

Via: Clayton, Hiawassee, Young Harris, Blairsville, Morganton, Blue Ridge, East Ellijay, Chatsworth, Dalton, Ringgold, Rossville. RR. & bus lines easily accessible from towns & resort centers. Numerous St. pks., resort & tourist areas. Nat. For. (see below) covers about three-fourths of N. Ga.

US76 crosses Chattooga R. into Chattahoochee Nat. For. (camp & pic. grounds. swim. boat. f.h. ranger stas. at Clayton, Woody Gap, Blue Ridge & LaFayette. hqs. in Gainesville), a prime recr. area with nearly 800^m of for. Rds. & 170^m more of trls. Blue Ridge & Cohutta ranges of the Appalachians roll across most of this narrow upper end of Ga: The Blue Ridge forms St.'s major watershed, & many swift Rs. rise here & descend in clear streams & waterfalls to the Piedmont Plateau. Appalachian Trl. (see) follows crest of ridge to Mt. Oglethorpe (see below). The extreme NW. corner lies within Appalachian Plateau, separated from rest of St. & until fairly recently, accessible only from Ala. & Tenn., via US11 (see end of tour), which cuts down steep-walled valley bet. Lookout & Sand (or Raccoon) Mts. Chickamauga & Chattanooga Nat. Military Pk. covers more than 5,500 as. near St. border, incl. c.3,000 as. in Tenn. (where Battle of Lookout Mt. was fought). Most common trees are the massive red oak, scrub pine, chestnut & hemlock; rhododendron, laurel, arbutus & other flowering shrubs & vines. Deer, bear & wildcats are scarce, but smaller animals & birds of many species are plentiful. Trout, bass & other freshwater fish are found in mt. Ls. & Ls. formed in development of hydroelectric power. Before Calif. Gold Rush most of gold in U.S. came from Ga. (see Dahlonega below); coal, talc, marble & granite are also important. Back in the hills are the weathered, ramshackle homes of mountaineers, descendants of early settlers. Their Old English word forms & primitive customs are appealing, but isolation has also bred poverty, corruption & fanaticism. Today radio, chain stores & mass production are eliminating picturesque dilapidation along with misery & loneliness; paved hys. replace red-clay Rds.; & the Berry & other schs. are helping adults as well as children.

10. CLAYTON, resort center (good accoms. ranger sta.), was est. in 1823 on former Cherokee lands. Rabun Cty., of which it is seat, has pop. descended from New Englanders who came from Va. mts. SIDE TRIPS: (A) On US19 (NW) 10m along L. Nottely to Nottely Dam, (W) 2m from hy.; this is a TVA storage project which forms 4,200-a. L. (B) (S) 3m on US19 to Mountain Experiment Sta., under Univ. System. 9.5m US19 crosses boundary of Chattahoochee Nat. For. 11.5m Vogel St. Pk. (O.Ap.-Dec.cottages.inn store, pic.f.boat.swim.rec.facils.). At S. edge of Pk., at Neel Gap, US19 crosses Appalachian Trl., which leads (SW) to Woody Gap (f.h.camp.permits at ranger sta.rec.area.lookout). 2m (S) is Blood Mt., highest peak on Ga. sec. of Trl. Just S. of Neel Gap is trl. (W.3m) to De Soto Falls (400'). 19.5m Chestatee Knoll, for. camp (free.huts.camp sites.water). 26.5m Porter Springs, summer resort since 1870's. J. with St.60, which runs (NW) to Noontooty Nat. Game Refuge. 35.5m Dahlonega (bus serv.hotel), where gold occasionally shines in streets after heavy rain; seat of North Ga. College. Dahlonega (Ind.: "yellow metal"), set among Blue Ridge foothills (1,500'), is known for pleasant climate. After gold was found in 1829, the Cherokee lands were invaded by prospectors, gamblers & swindlers. In 1830 the lands were acquired by the St. & eviction of the Cherokee began. Lumpkin Cty. was created & Dahlonega est. in 1833. A Gov. mint, opened in 1838, struck off gold coins valued at more than $6,000,000 before it was taken over by Confeds. in 1861. Fed. Gov. deeded land to Ga. in 1871. Numerous mines are active in vic. (O), & mountaineers still dig & pan among hills. Total output of Dahlonega fields has been est. at $40,000,000. Lumpkin County Chh. (1836). North Ga. College, unit of Univ. System; founded in 1871 as land-grant college. Emphasis is laid on military training for men students, leading to reserve commission. Price Mem. Hall, on site of Gov. Mint.

70.5. MORGANTON. From here, US76 follows crest of earthen dam on Toccoa R. which has created the bright-blue L. Toccoa (f.hunt.swim.boat). Wildfowl & white-tailed deer are common. 75.5 BLUE RIDGE (ranger sta.), mining & lumbering center & resort. US76 unites with St.5, scenic hy. 91. ELLIJAY, shipping pt. for fruit.

SIDE TRIP: On St.5 (S) 21m to Jasper, trade center, resting on bed of marble. Belt extends (S) for many miles, & even modest little Hs. are dressed with marble. J. with St.108, which runs (E) 8.5m to Mt. Oglethorpe, terminus of Appalachian Trl. On this spectacular peak is marble Oglethorpe Mon. 26m Tate, center of marble industry. Near Tate is solid vein of pure, beautifully colored marble nearly half a mile deep & 4 miles long, of which only top layers of some few as. have been cut. Ga. marble was used in Lincoln Mem. in Washington, Field Mus. in Chicago, & other important bldgs.

Bet. Ellijay & Chatsworth, US76-St.2, one of St.'s finest hys., traverses area of unusual beauty & int. 111. J. with Rd. (R) leading up to Fort Mt. St. Pk. (O.Ap.-Dec.pic.f.lookout). Old Stone Ft., a low wall, 12' thick at bottom, encircling crest of steep mt. (2,832'); whether built by prehist. or hist. Inds., followers of De Soto, or the Brit. during Rev., is not known. Mountain L. (f.2,850'). 116. CHATSWORTH, center of talc-mining reg. 119. SPRING PLACE (see US41). Hy. rounds tip of W. sec. of Chattahoochee Nat. For. (ranger sta. at Lafayette), an area of lofty ridges & many streams cutting through densely wooded valleys. Route runs close to path of Sherman's men. 129. DALTON (see US41). J. with US41 (see). At 138. TUNNEL HILL, est. in 1851 after Western & Atlantic RR. Macon, spreading out along muddy Ocmulgee R. in heart of Ga., is college town, textile-mill & market town, RR. & military training center. Pop. has increased to nearly 100,000 since 1940, & Macon stands high among cities likely to hold gains. Cherry St., main thoroughfare, is barren of shade, but side streets are arched by oaks, elms, & other fine old trees. Many Gr. Rev. Hs. are guarded by glossy-leaved magnolias, & all over city are pkys. & center plots of crape myrtle, palmettoes & roses. Across R. is E. Macon, a concentration of mills, factories & mill villages. Negro pop., about half the total, lives in back streets & hollows scattered about town & in well-kept suburbs of Unionville & Pleasant Hill. Wesleyan College for Women & Mercer Univ. are old & outstanding institutions; Ga. Academy for the Blind was est. in 1862; & Ga. Bapt. (jr.) College, Beta Etta (jr.) College & Memorial Trade Sch. are schs. of accepted standing for Negroes.

In 1703, Col. Jas. Moore came from S.C. to get help of Creek Inds. against the Sp.; & Oglethorpe, in 1739, passed through on way to conference with Inds. at Coweta Town (see Columbus below). Benj. Hawkins, in 1804, effected treaty in which Inds. deeded all lands bet. Oconee & Ocmulgee Rs. except 100 as. to be kept as trading grounds. Here Ft. Hawkins was built in 1806. After 1821 (Treaty of Ind. Springs), Newtown grew up around ft.; then Bibb Cty. was formed & Macon laid out & named for N.C. statesman, Nath. Macon. During Civil War, Gen. Howell Cobb had hqs. in Macon, & Pres. Davis & Gov. Brown aired their unhappy quarrel here. When Gen. J. H. Wilson advanced toward Macon in Ap., 1863, Gen. Cobb surrendered without resistance, having prudently destroyed all liquor in town. During Reconstruction, Macon Negroes held important offices & est. homes & business places. Camp Wheeler, est. in World War I, became great training ground during World War II, & U.S. Naval Ordnance Plant & Warner Robins Air Tech. Serv. Command were made permanent installations. Cochran Field trained thousands of Amer. & Brit. airmen. Today, with impetus of increased pop., new industries & diversified farming, Macon is 4th city in Ga.

Columbus, at foot of falls on Chattahoochee R., is St.'s 2nd city in industry & trade & runner-up with Greenville, S.C., as South's leading textile center. It is a planned city, with pkys. & flowering trees along main streets & residential areas that spread out into beautiful suburban developments. Class. Rev. influence shows throughout the town in older Hs. & bldgs. Along R. are most of textile mills & other plants that give Columbus nat. rank in industry; known also as iron & woodworking center & shipping pt. for dairy products, livestock & other produce. City is nat. known for Columbus Plan of sch. architecture & for Ga.-Ala. Sacred Harp Singing Society. In 1828 a town was laid out, & log cabins arose under giant pines. The "Steubenville" came up Chattahoochee R. that same yr., & RR. was extended from Macon in 1853. During Civil War, Columbus had large munitions works. After Reconstruction, textile industries, meat-packing & beverage plants spread out along R., & shipping & retail trade increased enormously. Ft. Benning had one of largest small-arms schs. in country during World War II.

US 17—GEORGIA

GA.-S.C. LINE (10^m from Hardeeville, S.C.) (S) to GA.-FLA. LINE (31^m from Jacksonville). 135. US17.

Via: Savannah, Richmond Hill, Midway (St. Catherines I.), Darien, Brunswick (St. Simon & Jekyll Is.), Woodbine, Kingsland.

US17 runs close to broken, low-lying Atlantic shoreline through country of haunting natural beauty, where tantalizing evidences remain of human hist. before Oglethorpe's Utopia & less ambiguous relics of Brit. occupation & ante bellum plantation life. Here also, in millions of reforested as., in gigantic paper mills, & in steamships laden with naval stores, is proof of radically changing economy. Ind. canoes flashed among the Golden Isles before De Soto came (N) from Fla. in 1540. In 1562, explorers under Jean Ribault named the Rs. "Somme" & "Seine" & "Gironde." Then after Menéndez massacred the Fr. settlers & founded St. Augustine (see Fla.), Sp. presidios & missions were est. in "Guale," the Ga. country. In 1606 (before Jamestown was founded), the Bishop of Cuba confirmed 1,000 Ind. Christians. When Sp. began settlement farther inland, Charles I of Eng. handed out to his Eight Lords Proprietors a strip of land that incl. the Sp. missions. Blackbeard & other pirates plundered the "Uninhabited Land," & soon the missions were a heap of rubble & Spain had withdrawn to Fla. In 1732 the Colony of Ga. was founded by Gen. Oglethorpe at Savannah on land generously, but probably illegally, granted him by the King. At Battle of Bloody Marsh in 1742, the Sp. were defeated, & in 1763 they ceded Fla. to Brit. Large Negro pop. has contributed much to cultural development in the reg., especially around Savannah. It is believed that there were Negroes on the coast before Oglethorpe landed, to est. a colony in which slavery would be prohibited. With growth of cotton & rice plantations, however, slavery began (1749). More than 500 free Negroes were in Savannah in 1840, & more than half of these left for the "Promised Land" in Liberia. In 1864 a convention of Negro & white men in Savannah planned for Negro schs. in Ga. & by Dec. 1865, Savannah Negroes had opened several. Oldest hospital for Negroes in U.S. is Savannah's Ga. Infirmary (1832), & one of St.'s oldest Negro papers is "Savannah Tribune" (1875). In the political & economic picture, Savannah shows its remarkable flexibility, tranquilly preserving traditions, but granting city franchise to Negroes & replacing slums with model housing.

Annual events: Emancipation Day Parade (Negro. Jan.1); Coastal Empire Paper Festival (Ap.); Dog Show (Ap.); Interstate Sailboat Regatta (July). Info.: C. of C., 137 Bull St.

Savannah, Ga.'s 2nd city & said to be 1st planned city in N. Amer., is outstandingly beautiful, fronting landlocked harbor & backed by live oaks & pine that made it the "Forest City." While expanding rapidly, the city keeps its Old World charm & cosmopolitan flavor of a port city, its Southern customs & individualistic ways. It is notably interested in art, music, literature, amusements & sports; its schs. & libs., incl. those for Negro children, maintain high standard. Aided by Col. Wm. Bull, Carolina engineer, Gen. Oglethorpe laid out Savannah on plan sketched in "Village of the Ancients," by his friend Rbt. Castell, who died in debtors' prison. At intervals along Bull St. & in other parts of city, are spacious squares planted with evergreens, magnolias, oleanders & azaleas. Bay St. runs length of the bluff overlooking Savannah R., & extending for miles along riverfront below are paper plants, sugar refineries, wharves & docks. Downtown Savannah crowds close to the Bay.

With Oglethorpe came 120 chosen colonists who were to produce silk, drugs & wine under the Trustees' direction. Rum, slavery & land ownership were prohibited. In May, 1734, Oglethorpe took his benefactor, Tomochichi, & other Ind. chiefs for visit to England, & John & Chas. Wesley & a group of Salzburgers & Moravians sailed with him on return. The "Father of Ga." provided for defense & followed conciliatory policy with Inds., but agitation against "our Perpetual Dictator" arose, & in 1743 Oglethorpe returned to England to stay. He died on June 30, 1785, at the age of 89. The colony that had failed to prosper became a Royal Province when charter expired in 1753. During Siege of Savannah in Rev., the Amers., aided by Count d'Estaing's Fr. forces, were repulsed in battle in which Count Pulaski (see below) & Sgt. Wm. Jasper were killed. After surrender of Cornwallis, Savannah again became seat of gov. in Ga. It was inc. in 1789 & had 1st disastrous fire in 1796 & a 2nd in 1804. City was not attacked during War of 1812 & development in transportation & commerce was rapid. In Dec., 1860, a secession flag was raised in Johnson Sq., & Gov. Brown ordered occupation of Ft. Pulaski, which fell to Fed. forces in Ap., 1862. News of Sherman's approach came Dec. 11, 1864. Ft. McAllister, which had withstood attacks in 1862 & 1863, was captured in spite of gallant defense under Gen. W. J. Hardee. Savannah was evacuated over pontoon bridge to Hutchinson I., & Sherman presented the city to Pres. Lincoln as Christmas gift. Gradually, the pinewoods were made basis of lumber & naval stores industries, & the gay 90's found Savannah prosperous. After 1900, other new industries were est., especially the making of paper & refining of sugar. Pres. Roosevelt visited Savannah at Bicentennial Celebration in 1933, & Internat. Monetary Conference was held at Gen. Oglethorpe Hotel in 1946. Growth since World War II has been record-breaking, but industrialization has not noticeably altered tempo or temper of Savannah, the world's leading port for naval stores & most important cotton port on S. Atlantic.

TRIPS OUT OF SAVANNAH

I. SAVANNAH (SE) to SAVANNAH BEACH. 20. US80

Via: Thunderbolt (Bonaventure), Whitemarsh, Wilmington (Ft. Pulaski), Lazaretto, Ft. Screven.

On Bull St. (N) to Victory Dr. (US80), which crosses principal residential areas. At Waters St. is Daffin Pk., leading amusement & recr. area. Mun. Stadium. 4. THUNDERBOLT, fishing village around shrimp-canning factory. Shell Rd. leads c.1^m (L) to Bonaventure, somberly beautiful burial ground on Site of Tattnall Plantation, on Wilmington R. About 1760, Col. John Mulryne, of Charleston, S.C., created Bonaventure in the wilderness, surrounding his big brick H. with terraced gardens & avenues of oaks. His daughter Mary married Josiah Tattnall, of Charleston, in 1761. Loyal to the King during Rev., the family went to Eng. & Bonaventure was confiscated. Josiah Tattnall II, at 18, came back to Ga. & served under Nath. Greene, & part of estate was restored to him. For 18 yrs. he lived at Bonaventure, became Ga. Congressman & Gov., & he & members of his family are buried here. In 1847 estate was bought by Capt. Peter Wiltberger & in accord with his wish, made city cemetery in 1869.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Along shell Rd. (S) 2^m is Greenwich, one of most beautiful plantations. The wounded Count Pulaski was carried here, & his supposed grave is marked. It is also claimed he died at sea on Fr. warship.

(B) Paved Rd. leads (S) 1^m to GA. STATE COLLEGE (Negro), part of Univ. System & an outstanding institution under Pres. B. F. Hubert.

8. WHITEMARSH I., where several Civil War encounters took place. 10. WILMINGTON I., another battleground. Now has many estates & palatial Gen. Oglethorpe Hotel. 16. LAZARETTO, once a quarantine sta. incl. slave hospital where sick Negroes were taken from traders' boats. Those who lived were sent to Savannah for sale, & the dead were buried here. Negroes living here today support themselves largely by fishing & crabbing. Many are gifted in woodcarving & weaving. Boats leave Lazaretto for FT. PULASKI NAT. MON. (sm. fee), on McQueens I. & Cockspur I., at mouth of Savannah R.; reopened to pub. on Pulaski Day, Oct. 11, 1947, after use in World War II as Navy & Coast Guard sta. The fortress, built 1829-47 at cost of nearly $1,000,000, is 5-sided mass of fine masonry surrounded by 2 dry moats. It was believed impregnable, since nearest high ground was Tybee I., a mile away. Fed. batteries of rifled cannon were set up early in 1862 on Tybee I., & on Ap. 11, after 30-hour bombardment, Col. C. H. Olmstead surrendered. This was 1st demonstration of superiority of rifled cannon to masonry. Ft. was made Nat. Mon., Oct. 15, 1924, in pageant ending with lowering of Stars & Bars. US80 crosses Tybee I., to the ocean. Ft. Screven (1898), active Army Post. Savannah Beach (swim. boat, f. recr. facil. hotels, cottages, restaurants).

II. Circle Tour (E. & S.) from SAVANNAH to COFFEE BLUFF. 43. Victory Dr. (US80), Moore & Ferguson Aves., & White Bluff Rd.

Via: Isle of Hope, Wormsloe, Bethesda, Beaulieu, Montgomery.

Victory Dr. runs (E) to J. with Moore Ave. 0. on which trip turns (S). 10. ISLE OF HOPE, village & resort on curving shell bluff. Barbee's Diamondback Terrapin Farm (O. sm. fee), started in 1893. From here shell Rd. takes sharp turn (S) to WORMSLOE PLANTATION (gardens O. fee), for more than 200 yrs. in continuous possession of family to whom orig. grant was made. Noble Jones leased 500 as. from Trustees in 1733 & est. mulberry plantation; in 1756 Crown confirmed grant & gave adj. tract to older son, Noble Wimberly Jones, & Long. I. to 2nd son, Inigo Jones. Capt. Noble Jones served Colony as soldier, surveyor, treas. & chief justice, & Noble Wimberly Jones was 1st pres. of Ga. Med. Soc. & one of founders of Sons of Liberty. Geo. Wymberly Jones, who added mother's family name "DeRenne," bequeathed lib. of Ga. hist. to St. (in Capitol). Wymberly Jones DeRenne followed tradition, & his coll. is in Lib. of Univ. of Ga. Wormsloe H., rambling mansion with many wings & porches, was built before Civil War; famous gardens. Beyond Wormsloe, Rd. turns (W) at 1st cross Rd. 15. BETHESDA ORPHANS HOME (boys), oldest existing orphanage in U.S. Chapel (1924), reprod. of Whitefield's chapel in Eng. Bethesda was Colony's most successful sch. until 1791; reorg. in 1801 as orphanage. Route turns (S) on Ferguson Ave. 17. BEAULIEU, on bluff above Vernon R., where Count d'Estaing landed Fr. troops in 1779. Trip turns (W) again at 1st cross Rd. 21. MONTGOMERY, waterside resort. Trip follows Montgomery Rd. (N) to Montgomery Cross Rd., then (S) on White Bluff Rd. 33. COFFEE BLUFF, overlooking Forrest R. (ideal for pic.). Return to Savannah, (N) c.10^m, on White Bluff Rd., one of city's most beautiful drives.

Sec. 2: SAVANNAH to DARIEN. 62.5.

0. SAVANNAH. 6. Subdivision on Site of Silk Hope Plantation (1756), noted before Civil War for mulberry fields & beautiful gardens; later a rice plantation. 11. LITTLE NECK PLANTATION, now a farm known for Irish potatoes. Rd. leads (L) to Wild Horn, Grove Hill & Vallambroso plantations. c.13 BAMBOO FOREST, plant lab. where seedlings from all over world are tested for commercial & ornamental purposes. Dense grove of feathery bamboo has nearly 200 varieties; orig. part of Chapman Plantation, it is now under U.S. Dept. of Agric. US17 crosses Ogeechee R. over King's Ferry Bridge, near site of Rev. engagement. 18. RICHMOND HILL, community developed by Henry Ford. St. Fish Hatchery (R). Along Ogeechee R. is Ford Estate, made up of Old Cherry Hill & other plantations. H. built of Savannah Grey brick from the Hermitage. 31. MIDWAY, village under towering oaks; sett. (1752) by Puritans who named it for Eng. Medway R. Church (1792). Abiel Holmes, father of O. W. Holmes, & Jedediah Morse, father of S. F. B. Morse, were early pastors. J. with St.38.

SIDE TRIP: On St.38 (SE) 14^m to Yellow Bluff, St. Catherines Sound & St. Catherines I., 1st of 6 Golden Isles of Guale claimed by Sp. in 16th cent. On Sapelo I., (S) Thos. Spalding built tabby mansion on one of most extensive plantations along coast (rest. by Howard Coffin). Near center of I. is a sawmill village, & at either end are scattered settlements of Negroes who have always lived in isolation. The coastal Negroes, sometimes called Gullahs or Geechees (for Ogeechee R.), retain customs, beliefs & religious rites of their ancestors. Their dialect, intermingling African survivals & words & phrases of mixed origin, has a peculiar charm.

RR. & bus. Airports. Good accoms. Tourist Club. Info.: Bur. in C. of C. Bldg. Causeway to St. Simon & Sea Is.

Brunswick is busy seaport in midst of well-developed naval stores, lumber & cotton-producing reg.; also shrimp & crab-packing center. Since opening of Jekyll I. St. Pk. (see below), it has become important resort & tourist town. Brunswick was founded & named in honor of Royal House in 1771; evacuated in 1862 but reoccupied in 1863 by Confeds., who repulsed the only Fed. attack. By 1900, it had become leading port city. Large turpentine & resin & paper pulp plants. Oglethorpe Hotel (1885. remod. by Stanford White). Oglethorpe Mem. In Wright Sq., Graves of Benj. & Nancy Hart (see), Rev. patriots.

US 1—GEORGIA

GA.-S.C. LINE (16m from Aiken, S.C.) (S) to GA.-FLA. LINE. (38m from Jacksonville, Fla.). 222. US1.

Via: Augusta, Wrens, Louisville, Swainsboro, Lyons, Baxley, Alma, Waycross, Folkston. US25 is alternate route (E), ending at Brunswick Accomms. in cities.

US1 crosses Savannah R. into old plantation belt. There are many graceful 18th & 19th cent. Hs. & modern farmsteads, but more numerous are the unpainted shacks of tenant farmers. In midsummer, the fields of cotton are alive with Negro pickers, trailing long burlap sacks.

6. AUGUSTA

800 block Walker St., Union RR. Sta. 700 block Broad St., Bus Terminal. Wheelless & Wrightsboro Rds., Daniel Field (airport). Info.: 712 Telfair St., & Municipal Aud., C. of C. Good accoms.; mun. golf course & polo field; beaches. Road shows in season. Masters Invitation Golf Tournament (early spring). Garden Club Tours (spring).

Augusta, a friendly city, has long been known for its gardens, pkys. & golf course, & as popular winter resort. It is also one of world's great cotton markets, center of textile mfg. & clay-products industries, leader in livestock business & inland port with assured future. The $45,000,000 Clark Hill project on Savannah R., 21m (N), 1st of 11 dams approved by Congress, will make Augusta a yr.-round port & protect it from dangerous floods. Augusta is seat of Univ. of Ga. Medical College, Richmond Acad., Haines Institute (Negro) & Paine College (Negro). Camp Gordon, Oliver General (Army) Hospital, Bush Field & U.S. Arsenal keep it a military center, as it was in Confed. when it had South's largest powder mill. Augusta has leisurely old-time charm even in downtown streets. In contrast are wharves & warehouses on 14m waterfront & some 100 mfg. plants. More than a 3rd of pop. lives in Negro "territory" in (SE) sec.

First white man to reach reg. was De Soto, 1540. In 1735, Gen. Oglethorpe ordered a town laid out across R. from Savannah Town (see S.C.), to be named Augusta, for mother of George III. Ft. Augusta was built in 1736, & Augusta soon became S.'s most important fur-trading post. Great Conference of Governors & Inds. was held here in Nov., 1763. In 1781, Augusta was delivered from Brit. occupation by "Lighthouse Harry" Lee, & Ft. Cornwallis (Ft. Augusta) was surrendered. Fed. Const. was ratified in 1788 while Augusta was capital (1786-96). When Pres. Washington came in 1791, it was a city of some elegance & a busy tobacco market, but cotton gradually supplanted tobacco. Augusta suffered from floods in 1796 & 1840, earthquake in 1811, fire in 1829 & yellow fever epidemic in 1839-40. In 1862 the Arsenal was taken over by Confeds. Surviving war & reconstruction, Augusta grew rapidly. A disastrous fire in Nov., 1916, caused $2,500,000 damage & destroyed many fine Hs. & hist. bldgs., but whole new residential dists. were soon created. PTS. OF INT.: (1) (E) of US1, Mun. Atlanta, capital city, in Chattahoochee R. Valley among Blue Ridge foothills, is an almost aggressively modern metropolis; distribution & financial center of SE. & commercial center of nat. importance. Located here are U.S. military & naval training sta., Fed. hospitals, prison, Reserve Bank & more than 100 other Fed. agencies. Atlanta is also becoming a leading educational center. Despite strong ties with Eastern capital & atmosphere of commercialism & efficiency, it is still fundamentally a Southern city, & as in rural Ga., entertainment & sociability are largely home affairs. The Ku Klux Klan persists, but the city has registered official disapproval & leading chs. have denounced bigotry. Atlanta has world's largest educational center for Negroes, & "The World," one of the very few Negro dailies in U.S., is published here. Peachtree St. (US29) bisects the irregular downtown, where narrow streets, massive bldgs. & tall towers surround Five Points, hist. heart of financial dist. St. Capitol stands in what was fashionable sec. of 1880's. Many early chs. & Vict. Hs. survive, but this is now largely domain of Greek, Syrian, Ital. & other foreign-born groups. Markets, pushcarts, peanut & fruit vendors give color & animation. To (N) are Druid Hills, Ansley Pk., Buckhead & other luxurious suburbs. Along Auburn Ave. is quiet Negro business dist. & around Atlanta Univ. are more prosperous Negro neighborhoods.

First white settlement in area was a ft. erected, 1813, at The Standing Peachtree, an Ind. town on Chattahoochee R. When stake was driven in 1837 for J. of Western & Atlantic & Georgia RRs., Hardy Ivy was lone inhabitant of what is now downtown Atlanta. On Christmas Eve, 1841, the engine "Florida" arrived by mule-team at Five Points, where a few Hs. had been built. Settlement was chartered as Marshesville in 1843, in honor of Gov. Wilson Lumpkin's daughter, but 2 yrs. later the Ga. RR. was completed & town's name changed to Atlanta, for W. & A. RR. After Southern Agric. Fair, 1851, Atlanta's place as market town was assured. During Civil War city was placed under martial law & became hospitalization, supply mfg. & storage center. After battles of Lookout Mt. & Missionary Ridge (see Tenn.), Grant turned toward Lee in Va., & Wm. T. Sherman became principal general in the West. His admitted mistake was the attack on Kennesaw Mt. (see Trip III below), where Union troops were repulsed with heavy losses. Sherman recommenced flanking movements, & Confeds. retreated toward Atlanta. At this crucial time, Gen. Johnston was replaced by Gen. John B. Hood. Four major battles were fought around Atlanta. Thousands were killed & wounded on each side & of 3,800 bldgs., only 400 were left standing. By Sept. 7, some 80,000 Union men occupied the city. Before destroying stores, factories & pub. bldgs., Sherman asked that civilian pop. be evacuated, & his soldiers helped remove citizens & loyal slaves. On Nov. 15, torches were applied to Atlanta. A Fed. soldier's account ends thus: "All the pictures & verbal descriptions of hell I have ever seen never gave me half so vivid an idea of it, as did this flame-wrapped city tonight." On May 3, Ga. troops were surrendered to Maj. Gen. J. H. Wilson, & Gov. Brown & other principal leaders were arrested.

Almost immediately after Fed. troops departed, families began to come back to Atlanta, living in shanties, freight cars & ruined bldgs. In May, 1865, city was turned over to Fed. Gov. & like the rest of Ga., submitted to conditions for readmission to Union. The St. Constitutional Convention met in Atlanta, Dec. 9, 1867, & Atlanta was made capital (the 5th). In Sept., 1868, Negro legislators were expelled & Gov. Bullock began movement for return of military rule. Ga. rejected 15th Amendment in 1869, & Fed. troops were once more in the city. In July, 1870, Ga. was again admitted to the Union, & Fed. troops were finally withdrawn in 1876. Atlanta became prosperous center of the "New South," of which Henry W. Grady was the brilliant prophet. In 1881, H. I. Kimball secured for the city the World's Fair & Great Internat. Cotton Exposition, attended by some 350,000. Pres. & Mrs. Cleveland attended Piedmont Exposition in 1887. At Cotton States & Internat. Exposition in 1895, Booker T. Washington was 1st Negro in S. to address white audience on important occasion. Training camp was est. in Atlanta during Sp.-Amer. War. In 1906 occurred a bitter race riot along Decatur St., in which mob of 5,000 participated. Racial tolerance group was org. & lasted until forming (in Atlanta) of Nat. Commission on Interracial Co-operation in 1919. Southern Commercial Congress met in the "Convention City" in 1911. In May, 1917, a fire caused some $5,000,000 damage. During World War I, Camp Gordon was est.; airport & hospital were built here in 1941.

Unlike the rest of Ga., early Atlanta had few slaves, & most of work was done by white settlers & freed Negroes, but after Civil War, thousands came into city. The leasing of convict labor also brought general lowering of wages. In early 1870's workers began to organize, growing more courageous with necessity during 1880's when about half the pop. lived below minimum standard. The Women's Industrial Union was formed in 1884, & internat. brotherhoods in various trades in 1888-89. Following campaign made by "Atlanta Constitution," a child labor law was enacted in 1906, & a much more advanced law in 1925. As in rest of country, many strikes occurred in 1930's. The 2nd Ku Klux Klan was org. on Stone Mt. (see Trip I below) in 1915, & the Black Shirts was founded in Atlanta in 1930, to drive Negroes out of industry. Rise of C.I.O. in 1930's & consequent rivalry among unions resulted in widespread labor organization. Atlanta began early to est. theaters, chs., schs. & other cultural facils. The recently organized University Center, aided by Rockefeller funds & millions of dollars raised by cooperating units, is designed to regain for Ga. its prestige in educational field. It is composed of Univ. of Ga. (Athens); Atlanta's Emory Univ. & Ga. Sch. of Tech. & High Mus. Sch. of Art; & near-by Decatur's Agnes Scott College & Columbia Theol. Seminary.

US 90—FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. (W) to FLA.-ALA. LINE (44.5m from Mobile, Ala.). 399. US90

Via: Jacksonville, Lake City, Live Oak, Tallahassee, Marianna, DeFuniak Springs, Pensacola. RRs. parallel route bet. Jacksonville & River Junction & bet. River Junction & Pensacola. Accomms.: All kinds.

US90 traverses N. Fla. from Jacksonville (Fla.'s largest city) through swamp & pine lands to rolling red hills where cotton & tobacco plantations date from ante bellum times. It passes Tallahassee (st. capital) in a reg. of sm. Ls., proceeds (W) through area producing sugar cane, pecans & satsuma oranges & reaches Gulf of Mexico at Pensacola.

Sec. 1: JACKSONVILLE to LIVE OAK. 84.

0. JACKSONVILLE

Through RR., plane & bus conns. Accomms.: All kinds. Info.: Tourist Bureau, Hemming Pk. Some 30m of bath. & motor beaches. Boat. Canoe trips to central Fla.'s lake route, Miami, & Okefenokee Swamp (see Seminole Canoe Club). Salt water (tarpon, sea trout, whiting) & fresh water (black bass) f. Quail, deer, dove, turkey & duck. 6 golf courses. Dog races.

Jacksonville, largest city in Fla. (Miami is runner-up & is larger in "greater area pop.") is also financial, commercial, & industrial center. A deep water world port, it is situated on the St. Johns R., which is navigable for most of its 200m & is only major R. in U.S. that runs from (S) to (N). R. separates Jacksonville from S. Jacksonville &, except for 8m devoted to docks, warehs. & piers, is bordered by pks. & residential sections. Jacksonville is largest naval stores market in U.S. (its naval stores yard is said to be 2nd largest in world) & largest lumber market on Atlantic coast. It has cigar factories, pulp & paper mills, glass, dry ice & fertilizer factories, shipyards, & large Naval Air Sta. Jacksonville is also yr-round tourist resort & plays host (though in many cases only overnight) to more tourists, as they journey (S) at beginning of season & (N) at end, than any other Fla. city. But its atmosphere is much closer to that of a commercial town of Middle West than to that of a S. Fla. resort town. Jean Ribault & his Fr. Huguenots arrived in vic. in 1562 & René de Laudonnière followed 2 yrs. later. The Fr. were massacred by Sp. 1565, & avenged themselves 1568. But Sp. returned & in 1740 built Ft. St. Nicholas, which was burned by patriots defending St. Augustine, 1812. In 1822 land platted in area to which English had given name Cowford was called Jacksonville in honor of Andrew Jackson, Fla.'s military gov. Town suffered considerably during Seminole War & was taken on 4 different occasions by Feds., who left most of it in ruins when they departed in 1863. Before Sp.-Amer. War Cuban patriots sought refuge here & during war town was site of an Amer. encampment. In 1901 much of city was destroyed by fire which gutted 148 city blocks. Since then Jacksonville, because of diversified sources of income, has suffered less than many Fla. cities from depressions & seasonal changes.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Hogan & Monroe Sts., Hemming Pk.; concerts in winter. (2) Main & Hubbard Sts., Confed. Pk., on site of Confed. trenches; Mon. to Confed. women. (3) 459 E. 16th St., King Edwards Cigar Factory (O.wks.guides), "largest cigar factory in world under 1 roof." (4) (S) from 44th St. on Wigmore St. & then on Talleyrand Ave., River Front; oil terminals, mun. electric plant, pulp mill, mun. docks & terminals, naval stores terminal & Ford plant. (5) Bay & Liberty Sts., Marker comm. site of Cowford, where cows once swam across R. (6) Ocean & E. Adams Sts., Pub. Lib.; coll. of Floridiania. (7) Stuart & 19th Sts., Ch. of God & Saints of Christ, Negro "sanctified" ch.; white visitors welcome.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) From Jacksonville (N) on Main St. (US17) across Trout R. Beyond bridge c.1m is J. with Hecksher Dr. (R) on Hecksher Dr. c.400 yds. is grove (R) leading to Mun. Zoo. Cont. on Hecksher Dr., which becomes private toll Rd. winding 17m along N. bank of St. Johns R. to its mouth. At 1m beyond toll house is highest pt. on SE. coast, offering excellent view of R. & city docks. At 3.5m beyond 2nd toll house is Observation Tower. Beyond tower, 2m, St. Johns Bluff across R. comes to view with ruins of ft. built during Sp.-Amer. War. Near-by is Site of Ft. Caroline, long since washed into R., est. 1564 by Laudonnière & Fr. Huguenots, who following yr. were massacred by Sp. Menéndez. Eng. est. settlement here in 1782, which disappeared some time after 1817. At Sisters Cr. (f.), 2m beyond, Intra-Coastal Waterway joins St. Johns R. At 15m is Pilot Town (f. boat.guides) where Ribault & his Fr. Huguenots are said to have knelt for 1st Prot. prayer in N. Amer., May 1, 1562. 17m Ft. George L. Here (1568) Fr. attacked Sp. outpost est. before 1567, mission of San Juan del Puerto flourished with many Ind. converts in 1600, & Jas. Oglethorpe (1736) & John McIntosh (1815) both encamped. Ft. George Club (N.O.) occupies plantation house of Zephaniah Kingsley, who brought back from Africa daughter of a Senegal chief he married in native ceremony.

(B) From Jacksonville (S) across Main St. Bridge. (L) on Miami Rd. which conn. with St.A1A, through S. Jacksonville. (L) at sign indicating Keystone for short drive to Keystone Live Oak, one of largest & oldest of kind. Return & cont. on St.A1A (Atlantic Blvd.) to Atlantic Beach, 18m. If tide is low, driving on beach is excellent (use tide table in newspaper). (S) of Atlantic Beach 1m is Neptune Beach; 2m Jacksonville Beach & Recr. Area; 6m Ponte Vedra Beach. (N) of Atlantic Beach 4.5m is Seminole Beach. Entire area is famous recr. center. (NW) of Seminole Beach on Mayport Rd. 4.5m to Mayport, old fishing village (boats guides). Here is Ribault Mon. comm. Huguenot arrival (1562).

(C) From Jacksonville (S) across St. Johns R. Bridge & along St.13 past fine riverfront homes. At 2m (S) of bus. dist., bet. San José Blvd. & St. Johns R., Oriental Gardens (O. fee), with whole sections given over to irns, amaryllis, hydrangeas, gardenias & ornamented with arches, bridges & fountains. 4m Epping Forest, estate of late Alfred I. du Pont. 11m J. with side Rd. (R) here 2m to Mandarin, dating to Eng. occupation (1763-83) & so named after orange brought from China. As bustling little river port, it was shelled by Feds. There are orange, grapefruit & kumquat groves & an orchid farm. Stowe Lodge was (1867) winter home of Harriet Beecher Stowe who wrote "Palmetto Leaves," "Our Plantation" & other works here. R. steamers docked near-by & tourists, for a sm. fee, went through house & past her desk while she worked. The author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was one of most popular sights of trip. Chapel has Stowe mem. window. At 4m beyond Mandarin is Julington Cr. (f.boat.pic.).

(D) From Jacksonville (S) on Riverside Ave., which becomes US17 (see). At Post St. is the Women's Club & 1 block beyond, Dickson H. (int.antiques). At Margaret St. is Mem. Pk. with excellent view of R. Hy. next crosses Ortega R. to U.S. Naval Air Sta. At 13m is Orange Pk. with Moosehaven, home for aged maintained by Loyal Order of Moose. Yerkes Labs. of Primate Biology (O. only to qualified scientists with prior arrangement by mail) are conducted by Yale Univ. & Harvard Univ. Research covers problems in medicine & many biological sciences, working mainly with monkeys, apes & chimpanzees.

19. BALDWIN, J. with St.200.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On St.200 (N) through cattle & hog-raising reg. where razorback hogs with notched ears instead of brands abound in piney woods. In 1937 legislature passed law to make wild razorbacks "legally nonexistent," to prevent hog thieves pleading that they thought their stolen hogs were wild.

(B) On St.200 (S) to Starke, 27^m, distributing center for strawberries, corn, peanuts, sugar cane & scuppernong grapes. Naval stores are also important. (Good f. & h.—quail & deer.) On St.16 here (L) 8^m is Kingsley L. (cottages) & Camp Albert H. Blanding, military training center.

31. GLEN ST. MARY with large shrubbery, flower & citrus nursery (O). (R) here 12^m on St.125 is Burned Blockh. (1837), on St. Mary's R. in Taylor. 45.5. OLUSTEE ST. MON., on site of only major Civil War battle fought in Fla. Also known as Battle of Ocean Pond because near-by pond has a distinct current (f.swim.boat. lodge). Here Confeds. under Gen. Jos. Finnegan defeated Feds. under Truman Seymour (Feb.20,1864). 48. OLUSTEE, naval stores center in Osceola Nat. For. (161,813 as.;hqs.Lake City), flatlands ranging from well-drained sand to swamp, producing pine, cypress & hardwood. Here is Fla. For. Serv. Nursery. (O). 60. LAKE CITY, J. with US41 (see), surrounded by Ls. (f.swim.), has tobacco market active in Aug. Town, important in early Fla. hist., was called Alligator (corruption of Seminole Chief's name, Allapattah) until 1858.

SIDE TRIP: (N) from Lake City on St.47 through huge Okefenokee Swamp, most of which lies in Ga. (quail,deer,turkey,wildcat,bear).

84. LIVE OAK, largest "bright-leaf" tobacco market in Fla., takes on carnival atmosphere in Aug. when thousands arrive for auctions. Town also has cattle auction & is shipping pt. for watermelons, cotton, corn, pecans & peanuts.

Sec. 2: LIVE OAK to TALLAHASSEE. 85.

13. Hy. crosses SUWANNEE R. 14. ELLAVILLE, named for a Negro servant. Just (N) is Suwannee R. St. Pk. (1,651 as.), as yet (1949) undeveloped. 29. MADISON, est. 1830's by S.C. planters of sea-island cotton.

SIDE TRIP: (N) from Madison on St.53 is Cherry Lake Farms, 8^m, planned community est. by Resettlement Adm. near Cherry L. (f.boat.swim.).

49.5. Hy. crosses AUCILLA R. 59. MONTICELLO, J. with US19 (see), sett. early 1800's. Cth. modeled on Thos. Jefferson's home. The Mahan pecan produced by nursery here is unusually large variety.

SIDE TRIP: (N) from Monticello on St.146, past a series of plantations that date from ante bellum times. On Lynhurst Plantation, 16^m, is only large ante bellum house remaining in reg. (1850).

68. Hy. passes LAKE MICCOSUKEE, which Andrew Jackson crossed (1818) in spite of Ind. attackers & on opp. shore destroyed village where scalps of 50 whites were discovered.

85. TALLAHASSEE

Through RR, plane & bus conns. Accom.: All kinds (difficult to secure when legislature is in session, Ap.-May of odd yrs.). Good f. & h.—quail, duck, deer, turkey. Swim. Golf. Tennis. Ga.-Fla. League professional baseball.

Tallahassee (Ind. "Old Town"), capital of Fla. since 1824, lies in a hilly country surrounded by Ls. & springs & by large plantations. Town is dominated by St. Capitol bldg., Florida St. Univ. & Agric. & Mech. College for Negroes, each situated on a hill. Main streets, noisily active when legislature is in session, the colleges celebrating, or farmers in for market day, are crossed by magnolia-shaded lanes. There is some Fla.-Mediterranean architecture but Tallahassee has more appearance of ante bellum Southern town than of Fla. boom town. Occupied by Apalachee (& later Seminole) Inds., region was visited by De Soto (1539). Franciscans (1633) set up mission & fertile lands supplied food for St. Augustine. In 1824 arrangements were made with Ind. chiefs who occupied lands, & town, 0.5^m square, was laid out halfway bet. St. Augustine & Pensacola (then capitals of E. & W. Fla. respectively) to be terr. capital. Legislators arrived on horseback for assembly (Nov.8,1824). Soon planters were growing rich on cotton & giving town a reputation for hospitality & gaiety. Saved by defense of old men & cadets at Battle of Natural Bridge a month before Lee's surrender at Appomattox, the Capitol floated the Stars & Bars until last shot of Civil War.

Pensacola, port of entry on Pensacola Bay, natural land-locked harbor, is industrial & shipping center & yr-round resort. City has had turbulent development under 6 flags; its government has changed 17 times. In history, architecture, & atmosphere, Pensacola is more closely related to Mobile & New Orleans than to most Fla. cities. The bay was entered by Maldonado, commander of De Soto's fleet (1540). Settlement was 1st made by Tristan de Luna (1559) with some 1,500 colonists, but was abandoned after bad storm 2 yrs. later. In 1698, Don Andres d'Arriola erected wooden ft. on site of present Ft. San Carlos. This was taken by Fr. (1719), retaken by Sp., then surrendered to Fr., & again to Sp. who took over in 1723 & est. new settlement on Santa Rosa I. Sp. moved on to Vera Cruz when Brit. took over (1763). Tories moved in during Rev. Sp. under Gálvez attacked & took over town (1781) & 2 yrs. later Fla. was ceded back to Sp. Brit. used harbor as base against U.S. in 1814 & Andrew Jackson, having attacked town in 1814 & again in 1818 (as hqs. of Brit. agents, Ind. raiders, runaway slaves), accepted transfer of W. Fla. to U.S. (1821). Abolitionist Jonathan Walker was tried & branded with letters "SS" (slave stealer) here in 1844 (see Muskegon, Mich.). The Confederate forces occupied town (although Ft. Pickens remained in hands of Feds.) until 1862. Pensacola was largest city in Fla. in 1860 & 2nd largest, 1900. Today, industries include Naval stores, wall board & furniture mfg.; mun. docks & terminals handle annual business in excess of $50,000,000. Pensacola is said to be world's largest red snapper fishing port.

Sec. 3: FT. PIERCE to MIAMI 123.

18. STUART, on St. Lucie R., E. end of S. Fla. Cross-State Canal (which extends through L. Okeechobee to Ft. Myers on W. Coast), important fishing center (boats. guides). Here is Shark Industries. 31.5. HOBE SOUND. 39.5. JUPITER (f.boats. guides.tackle). Lighth. is on site of Ft. Jupiter (1838) where Inds. & Negroes were held in Seminole War before removal to West. Mon. to Celestial RR. (S) of town, so-named because it once ran from Jupiter to near-by villages: Neptune, Mars, Venus & Juno.

58. PALM BEACH & WEST PALM BEACH

Through RR., plane & bus conns. Accomms.: All kinds. Fish: From beaches, piers, bridges, barges. Charter boats avail. Pks. incl.: Flagler, Howard, Bethesda, Phipps & Flamingo. Beach adj. Palm Beach Pier; Lido Pools near-by. Sailfish Derby (Jan.1-Feb.15); S. Fla. Golf & Tennis Matches (Feb.); Jaycee Rodeo (Mar.); Philadelphia Athletics (Mar.). Polo. Greyhound & harness races.

Palm Beach, one of most fashionable winter resorts in U.S., is a narrow island 18^m long & never more than ¾^m wide. Gulf Stream is 3^m offshore. In 1873 there were few families in vic. Shipwrecked cargo of coconuts, 5 yrs. later, took root & gave place exotic flavor that has since been carefully cultivated. Harry M. Flagler began to build Royal Poinciana Hotel in 1893, & the wealthy (1st from Philadelphia) began to est. winter homes. Today Palm Beach is a place of fabulous estates (hidden behind gardens), elaborate hotels & clubs. Along Ocean Blvd. are private beaches & one public beach. Much of architecture is in "Fla.-Mediterranean" style introduced by Addison Mizner, with pastel stucco, courtyards, arcades & galleries. There are no tourist camps or public parking lots. The resort comes alive in Dec. when servants arrive to make ready. W. Palm Beach, separated by L. Worth from Palm Beach & conn. with it by 4 bridges, was est. by Flagler as commercial sec. of Palm Beach. It is now an important commercial & trading center & resort in its own right. Hibiscus, oleander & other exotic shrubs & 50,000 palms line its streets.

PTS. OF INT. IN PALM BEACH: (1) Royal Poinciana Blvd., lined with royal poincianas, in late spring covered with flame-colored flowers. (2) N. County Rd. & Sunrise Ave., St. Edward's Ch. (Cath.Sp.Ren.). (3) Wells Rd. & N. County Rd., El Mirasol (N.O.), E. T. Stotesbury estate; bldgs. designed by Addison Mizner. Airport; cargoes of rare animals are flown from S. America.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) On US1 just (N) from W. Palm Beach proper is Riviera Beach, seaport of Palm Beach area.

(B) On US1 (S) 4m is L. Worth (bath. casino. golf). On North B. St. & 10th Ave., Baker's Aquarium (O), tropical fish farm with ¼ million fish of c.175 varieties. Just (S) of L. Worth on Military Trl. is Plue Cr. Tropical Fish Hatchery. At 6m on US1 is Lantana with Lyman's Shell Coll. (O.free.wks.Jan.-May) in roadside shop, & Waites Bird & Animal Farm (fee) on Boynton Beach (casino) in vic. At 9m is Hypoluxo with Hydroponic Farms (L) on Miner Rd. 12m Boynton with Boynton Beach reached by causeway over Intracoastal Waterway. In vic. are Rainbow Tropical Gardens (O.daily 8:30-dark.fee.refreshments).

(C) From Palm Beach (W) St.80 passes through Everglades & past S. border of L. Okeechobee to Ft. Myers, 126m (long intervals without service stas. Accomms.). (W) of W. Palm Beach hy. is paralleled by canal (f.), one of series which conn. L. Okeechobee with Atlantic & Gulf & part of project to drain Everglades, of which an important problem was to check overflow from L. Soil is extremely rich & 3 crops a yr. are frequently raised. Hy. passes through saw grass prairies broken by thickets of pine, cypress or palms. At 42m, Everglades Experiment Sta. (O) conducts dairying & agric. experiments incl. trials of great variety of tropical & subtropical plants. Belle Glade, 43m, est. 1925 & wrecked by hurricane in 1928, center of winter vegetable producing area. All along S. shore of L. Okeechobee, 2nd largest fresh water L. wholly within U.S. (40m long, c.25m wide & 15' deep), camps & h. & f. equipment are avail. (black bass, catfish, perch; duck). A high levee hides water from view along most secs. of hy.

(N) from Belle Glade on St.15 to Pahokee, 11m, crowded from Dec. to Ap. with itinerant pickers come to harvest vegetable crops.

(W) of Belle Glade St.80 passes sugar cane fields where cane sometimes grows 20' tall. At 47m South Bay, RR. terminus. In hurricane of 1928, 1,810 lives were lost, mostly in overflow from L. Okeechobee. Commercial fishing is important in vic. 63m Clewiston, est. 1921, has "largest raw sugar mill in continental U.S." (O.Nov.-Ap.free) with a daily grind of 6,000 tons of sugar cane. (W) of Clewiston, hy. passes through cattle country. Harvesting of buds of cabbage palm for eastern market (menus list it as hearts of palms) is carried on though it kills palm. Fronds are marketed for use on Palm Sunday. 95m La Belle has 4th of July rodeo with cowboys from neighboring ranches.

(S) from La Belle on St.29 to Immokalee, 25m, where, in 80's, Women's Nat. Ind. Assoc. est. sawmill, ch. & sch. but failed to entice Inds. who came to inspect but returned to swamps. At c.39m hy. enters Big Cypress Swamp sec. of Everglades, wilderness seldom explored except by hunters & Seminoles who have reservations in area.

(W) of La Belle hy. parallels Caloosahatchee R. through turkey & citrus-raising country. Trapping (otter, muskrat, wildcat, raccoon, opossum) is another source of income. 126m Ft. Myers. J. with US41 (see).

74. DELRAY BEACH, est. as resort 1901, is center of trucking area. (Excellent beach.f.sports facils.polo by well-known teams.) Annual winter season f. tournament had entries from 25 states (1948). There is also a gladiola festival. 82. BOCA RATON (Sp., "rat's mouth"), home of Boca Raton Club, designed as hotel by Addison Mizner; good example of Sp. & Moorish architectural style he introduced to Fla. 90. J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIP: (R) here to Pompano, 1m, once f. settlement. Moved after 1928 hurricane, it now has large Farmers' Vegetable Market (especially peppers & green beans) at height in Feb. & Mar. Burry's Sea Shells on Pompano Beach has int. coll.

99. FT. LAUDERDALE

Annual fish. contest & sailfish rodeo (Dec.1-Apr 15). Charter boats avail. In near-by Everglades, turkey, quail, duck, dove, deer & wildcat. Surf & pool bath., boat., golf, tennis, bowling, shuffleboard. Collegiate Aquatic Forum, with U.S. & foreign univs. competing, during Christmas. Boston Braves have spring training here. Sailing regattas. Midwinter horse show. Cty. fair (Feb.).

Ft. Lauderdale, on site of ft. est. 1838 during 2nd Seminole War, is resort & shipping center of citrus & vegetable-producing reg. It was not until drainage of Everglades was started in 1906 that town showed much growth; but during boom times of 20's it was scene of many fabulous promotions. One resident, who bought 2 lots for $6,000, was offered $110,000 before 6 months had elapsed & settled for $100 by end of yr. New R., with natural & artificial connecting canals, gives Ft. Lauderdale some 90m of navigable waterways (incl. Intracoastal Waterway) within city limits. One tenth of entire city is water surface. Tarpon, robalo & snapper have been taken in heart of bus. dist.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Tarpon Bend (near 1st Presb. Ch.), Colee Plaque comm. massacre by Seminole of wife & children of one of 1st settlers. (2) Broward Blvd., Hydroponic Gardens, where crops are grown in chemicals circulated through gravel-filled troughs without aid of soil. (3) Las Olas Beach, former U.S. Coast Guard Base, now purchased by city for development, on site of one of Fed. refuge shelters constructed (1888) in vic. as protection against hurricanes. (4) S. border of city, Port Everglades, deepest harbor bet. Norfolk & New Orleans, was conceived in 1926 & now has bulk of its traffic with foreign ports. Here is N. terminus of F.E.C. Havana Car Ferry. From City Docks boats offer trips up New R. past elaborate homes, into Everglades where tropical flora & fauna, Seminole Inds. & alligator wrestlers may be seen. (5) Pks. incl.: Davis Pk., Andrews Ave. & 7th St.; Birch St. Pk. on beach; Pan American St. Pk. up New R. (6) at 3m (S) of Las Olas Blvd., proving ground for paint products of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. where c.10,000 test panels are exposed to sun. (7) At 3.8m on E. side of US1, Wyldwood Tropical Nurseries (O).

SIDE TRIP: (W) from Ft. Lauderdale 4m to St.7, (S) here 2m to St.84, (W) here 2m to side Rd. (S) here 3m to Davie, in Everglades, which has an Orange Festival (Feb.) & rodeo (spring).

(W) of Davie 5m on marked Rd. to Flamingo Groves (O.free.guides avail.) where grow c.400 varieties of tropical plants. Citrus experimental groves & lab. Among unusual fruits grown in quantity are the pummelo & shaddock in demand by Chinese for New Yr.'s festivities & citron or essric used in Jewish ceremonial rites.

104. DANIA has Annual Tomato Day Celebration. Hy. here is lined with royal palms. Denis-Roosevelt Chimpanzee Farm (O.sm.fee) on outskirts of town raises chimpanzees & monkeys for research work & motion pictures.

SIDE TRIP: (W) on Davie Rd., 4m is Seminole Ind. Reserv. (with vocational sch.) where ind. affairs of Fla. are administered.

106. HOLLYWOOD, founded 1921 by group of Cal. business men during real-estate boom, widely advertised & ballyhooed, is now yr.-round resort with 6m of mun.-owned beach, 2 yacht basins, 2 golf courses & 5 pub. pks. Taylor St. & 18th Ave., Tourist Club Pk. offers shuffleboard & other recr. facils. Polk & 19th Aves., Fireman Pk., has int. gardens. At Hollywood Blvd. & 19th St. is Grove of Cajeput Trees which produce a pungent greenish oil used in treatment of skin diseases. Town serves as winter quarters for Baltimore Orioles. F. Tournament (Jan.-Ap.); Tropical Fiesta (win.). 108. At HALLANDALE is Gulfstream Pk. race tracks. Infield has shallow L. on which fleet of sm. sailboats with vari-colored sails maneuver on racing days; pk. is landscaped with palms & tropical shrubs (O.except Sun.). 123. MIAMI (see).

Sec. 4: MIAMI to KEY WEST. 157.

22. J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIP: (R) here a short distance to Monkey Jungle (O.sm.fee) where visitors pass through caged-in walk while monkeys run wild in thicket of gumbo limbo trees (sm.tropical Amer.trees yielding aromatic resin called cachibou). Wild monkeys were orig. imported from Singapore & allowed to go native. There is caged coll. of other monkeys, apes & baboons.

25. J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIP: (R) short distance to Fennell Orchid Jungle (O.fee) where orchids are grown outdoors, many in trees as in their native jungles.

28. HOMESTEAD, center of reg. producing winter vegetables, Persian limes, avocados & mangos. Sub-tropical Experimental Sta. of Univ. of Fla. does research work on such fruits as avocado, mango, papaya & guava. Sta. has more than 1,000 "economic" plant species. Avocado Rd. & Krome Ave., Palm Lodge Tropical Groves (O.free), has many varieties of tropical plants incl. Jack-fruit tree. 30. FLORIDA CITY. J. with St.27.

SIDE TRIP: (R) on St.27 (no gasoline sta. beyond Florida City) to Royal Palm St. Pk., 14m, a 4,000-a. wild life sanctuary, sec. of Everglades Nat. Pk. where magnificent royal palm is found in greatest numbers. On Paradise Key, 300-a. hammock overgrown with W. Ind. vegetation, is Royal Palm Lodge (meals & rms.;pic.free). Unimproved hy. cont. (SW) paralleled by drainage canal, through mangrove swamp to Cape Sable. There are occasional camp sites but no accoms. Food & water should be taken along. At c.49.5m (off hy. on Fla. Bay) is Flamingo, southernmost settlement on mainland, a sm. f. village named for W. Indies bird once plentiful here but now found only in captivity. Excellent beach at Cape Sable, 57.5m but Rd. conditions should be checked.

Everglades Nat. Pk. covers 500,000 as. which is to be increased to c.1,300,000 as.—8th largest Nat. Pk. in U.S. The Everglades themselves constitute c.5,000 sq. miles of swamp land covering most of Fla. (S) & (SW) of L. Okeechobee (see). A saucer-like reg., subject to heavy rainfall, its saw grass prairies & jungle-like hammocks are cut by endlessly intricate waterways. This is new land, much of it muck & marl still forming under the roots of mangroves (which here grow taller than any other place in world) & 89 other species of trees & 100 of shrubs, mostly of W. Indian types (cypress, 8 types of palms, gumbo limbos, stranger figs, cacti, c.37 varieties of fern & numerous airplants incl. c.30 species of orchids). Here are some of greatest concentrations of bird colonies in world incl. the white ibis, snowy & reddish egrets, green & small blue herons & the roseate spoon-bill. There are 700 varieties of marine life, giant sea turtles, crocodiles as well as alligators, the manatee or sea-cow, & bear, panther, wild cat, & deer.

Much of area is accessible only by boat & known to few except Seminole Inds., who travel in dugout canoes. The Seminoles, a branch of the Creeks, migrated from Ga. in 18th cent. In 1817-18 Jackson invaded Fla. to punish them for assistance given Brit. in War of 1812 & in 1832 it was arranged for them to be moved to W. But group led by Osceola refused & thus began the Seminole Wars, the most costly of our Ind. Wars, which lasted until 1842 when most of Inds. consented to move. Of descendants of those who remained, Mikasuki branch live in the Big Cypress Swamp & (E) to Miami, the Muskogee in reg. (E) & (N) of L. Okeechobee. Seminoles live in villages of palm-thatched huts, some of which may be seen along Tamiami Trail (see US94). Other villages are near resort areas & cater to tourists. Traditional costumes are extremely colorful, the men wearing multi-colored shirts, & the women blouses, long skirts, capes & many strings of beads with their hair gathered in a net in a kind of pompadour style.

(S) of Fla. City US1 passes through desolate mangrove swamps & at c.43. crosses CARD SOUND BRIDGE which conns. mainland with KEY LARGO at 51. Key Largo (Sp., "long") is c.30m long & 1.5m wide & is 1st of a chain of reefs or narrow Is. that extend (SW) to Key West & separate Fla. Bay from Atlantic. Keys are divided into 2 groups: N. half coral reefs, S. half limestone: Few of them rise more than 6' above sea level. Here grow such exotics as roseapples, eggfruit, Chinese dates, tamarinds, loquats & Surinam cherries but limes are main crop. There are some 27 varieties of hardwood, including mahogany, black ironwood & lignum vitae, & such oddities as torchwood tree & soapberry tree. Sponging & f. are important industries & keys are famous among sportsmen. Lodges, cabins, boats, supplies & guides avail. at frequent intervals. Sailfish, tarpon, barracuda, Sp. mackerel, bonito, bonefish, kingfish, tuna & many other varieties abound. US1 conn. entire chain by series of bridges (bus trips out of Miami). Hurricane-proof houses have been erected at various places on keys.

SIDE TRIP: (N) of Key Largo are a number of Is. (accessible only by boat) incl. Black Caesar's Rock, hqs. of Black Caesar, escaped slave turned pirate.

59. ROCK HARBOR has observation tower. 65. TAVERNIER, named for member of pirate Jean LaFitte's crew who hid out in near-by creek. 70.5. WINDLEY I. quarries produce coral limestone. 73. UPPER MATECUMBE KEY, famous among anglers for bonefish. 74. ISLAMORADA has Fla. Keys Mem. to World War I vets who were killed in 1935 hurricane while working on overseas hy.

SIDE TRIPS: (A) Reached (L) only by boat, are Teatable Key, naval base in Seminole War, & Ind. Key. On latter, Calusa Inds. once slaughtered shipwrecked mariners, notably some 400 Frenchmen c.1755.

(B) Reached (R) by boat, Lignum Vitae Key, with ruins thought to date from Sp. occupation.

84. OVERSEAS RD. & BRIDGE TOLL STA. for (S) traffic. 99.5. CRAWL KEYS, so-called because of turtle pens called "crawls." 108. MARATHON, only settlement of any size on Key Vaca. 111. PIGEON KEY, named for white-crowned pigeon of W. Indies, painted here by Audubon; called "world's smallest inhabited I." (S) of here geology of keys changes from coral to oölitic limestone formations. Old Is. are held together by mangrove trees & new ones built up by deposits bet. their roots. Topsoil is thin but various crops thrive. Tarpon f. good in this reg. At times hordes of land crabs march across hy.; their shells can puncture tires.

126. BIG PINE KEY has groves of Caribbean pines & great variety of cacti. Big Pine Key Toll Sta. for (N) traffic on Overseas Hy. 133.5. LITTLE TORCH KEY & MIDDLE TORCH KEY were named for torchwood tree whose wood burns twice as long as pine. (S) of here hy. passes through mangrove & buttonwood swamps, a reg. once haunt of bootleggers & smugglers of aliens.

157. KEY WEST

Through plane, bus (from Miami) & SS. conns. No RR. Accom.: All kinds. F., swim. & sports facils. & 2 free beaches. Charter boats avail. Cock fights, Sun. afsts.

Key West, southernmost & only frost-free city in U.S., 90^m from Havana, lies on a coral I. c.1.5^m wide & 4^m long. Its deep water harbor is fringed with fisheries but most of its coast is lined with gov. property. Majority of homes are of wood, frequently unpainted, with broad sloping roofs designed to collect rainfall which furnishes drinking water. They show West Ind., Southern Col. & even New England influences; some were built by ship carpenters. Chimneys are rare. Vegetation is primarily tropical: Banyan tamarind, frangipani, coconut, & avocado trees, bougainvillea, coral, & bignonia vines, hibiscus, oleander & poinsettia. About ¼ of pop. is of Sp. or Cuban ancestry. Other elements incl. "Conchs," descended from Eng.-Cockney groups, & Negroes, originally from Bahamas. Latter's speech shows marked cockney influences. Cuban lottery is much in news & Duval St. frequently resembles a Sp. promenade. Afternoon siestas are respected. Coffee shops serve Cuban coffee with hot "bollos" (cakes of black-eye pea flour). Ice-cream parlors offer soursop, sugar apple & sapodilla ices along with green fried plantains. Some 600 varieties of fish, of which at least 100 are edible, abound (guides advertise "no fish, no pay"), & Key West is famous for green turtle soup, turtle steak, conch chowders. Industries incl. marketing of fish (4 million lbs. annually), crawfish, turtles, conchs, sponges & shells, as well as cigar-making & boat building.

Ponce de Leon (1513) & Menéndez (1566) may have visited I., but 1st evidences of white settlement date from c.1700. Name is said to be corruption of Cayo Hueso (Sp. "I. of bones"), so-called because Sp. found I. strewn with bleached bones of Ind. tribe pursued down keys by rival tribe & killed in last desperate battle. Don Juan de Estrada, Gov. of Fla., gave I. to a young officer, Juan Pablo Salas, "in consideration of several services" & Salas sold it to John W. Simonton of Mobile, Ala. U.S. took over (1819) & Commodore David Porter est. Naval depot (1822) in successful campaign to rid W. Indies of pirates. Frigate "Constitution" was sent to protect I. during Ind. massacre of 1835. In 1820's & 30's important industry was salvaging of wrecks, & fortunes are said to have been made by those who purposely led vessels astray. Parson Egan walked from pulpit to door of his ch. while preaching sermon on text, "Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize?"; then, off to a head start, cried, "Wreck ashore! Now we will all run a race & see who receiveth the prize." Throughout Civil War,

I. remained in hands of Feds. Cuban pop. began to arrive with movement for Cuban independence & est. of cigar industry. Fire of 1886 drove industry to Ybor City (see). Henry M. Flagler brought 1st train to city in 1912, at a cost of $50,000,000 & 700 lives. During prohibition, town was center for rumrunners. Hurricane of 1936 destroyed miles of RR. & hy. was built on its foundations, opening 1938 as "longest overseas highway in world." Today Key West is center of submarine & anti-submarine development work.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) US1 & N. Beach Dr., Bayview Pk., city's principal recr. center; Mon. in pk. to José Martí, Cuban national hero. SIDE TRIP: (W) from Key West by boat or plane (no scheduled serv.) 68m to Dry Tortugas (no accoms.), a group of 7 sm. keys or is. that now comprise Ft. Jefferson Nat. Mon. (hqs. Key West). Is., so-called by Ponce de Leon (1513) because his crew caught 160 tortoises in one night (Sp. "tortugas," turtles), have long been famous for bird & marine life & have attracted such naturalists as Audubon (1832) & Louis Agassiz (1858). Tropical fish & huge sea turtles may easily be observed in the clear water. Noddy & sooty terns arrive every spring. On Bush Key alone some 130,000 terns nest annually. Keys were also hideout of pirates who descended on Sp. ships laden with treasure from Mexico. U.S. built lighth. on Garden Key (1825) & present one on Loggerhead Key (1856) & believing that a military base at Tortugas "could control navigation of the Gulf," began construction of Ft. Jefferson in 1846. Construction cont. 30 yrs. Ft. is 6-sided, 0.5m in perimeter, with walls 8' thick & 45' high, & intended to garrison 1,500 men & 450 cannon. There are 3 gun tiers & a breakwater moat. One of largest brick fts. in U.S., invention of rifled cannon made it obsolete & it was never completed. Feds. held ft. throughout Civil War. Later it served as prison; most famous prisoner was Dr. Sam. A. Mudd, convicted of conspiracy because he set broken leg of John Wilkes Booth, Lincoln's assassinator. Mudd's heroism in a yellow fever epidemic that broke out in ft. eventually won him pardon. Battleship "Maine" sailed for Havana from Tortugas harbor. As early as 1903 Navy conducted wireless experiments at ft. & it was equipped as a seaplane base during World War I.

in Tampa & Hillsborough Bays. Greyhound Racing (Nov.-Feb.); horse racing (Jan.-Mar.), Cincinnati Reds spring training; Fla. St. Fair incl. Gasparilla Carnival (c.11 days in Feb.); Noche de Mantilla, Ybor City (Nov.); Davis I. yacht races & tennis tournaments (Jan.); Convention of Tin Can Tourists of World (Jan.-Feb.); Pistol Tournament (Mar.); Latin-Amer. Fiesta (Ap.).

Tampa, on excellent harbor at head of Tampa Bay & extending (S) on peninsula that separates Hillsborough Bay from Old Tampa Bay, is W. coast Fla.'s largest port & industrial center & a yr.-round resort noted for fishing. Hillsborough R. flows (N-S) through center. On (E) are principal business & industrial secs. incl. Ybor City, with its large Sp., Cuban & Ital. pop., its Sp. & Cuban restaurants & its hand-made clear Havana cigars in which Tampa leads U.S. Many Negroes speak patois of Eng., Sp., Cuban & other dialects & work in cigar factories. Tampa also produces canned citrus fruits, phosphates, lumber, cement, ships & packing cases. Narváez sailed into bay in 1528 & Juan Ortiz, one of his men captured by Inds., acted as interpreter for De Soto in 1539. For Sp., vic. remained primarily place to catch slaves. Bay was also used by pirates in 18th cent. Small settlement, Spanish-town, was here when Amers. arrived c.1820 & 3 yrs. after built Ft. Brooke. Fed. shelled city in 1863 & later occupied it to try to stop trade with Cuba. Cigar industry was est. 1886, & a million cigars manufactured 1st yr. Henry Plant built fabulous Tampa Bay Hotel (1889) in attempt to outdo Henry Flagler's enterprises on E. Coast. In Orange Grove Hotel, razed 1945, Sidney Lanier wrote "Tampa Robins" & J. A. Butterfield wrote music for "When You & I Were Young, Maggie." With sinking of the "Maine" thousands of troops were encamped here. Col. Teddy Roosevelt drilled his Rough Riders in backyard of the great hotel. Rich. Harding Davis came to report, & Frederic Remington to draw, the war. Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross in U.S., est. hqs. in city. Gandy Bridge (1924) & Davis Causeway (1934) gave Tampa short cuts to St. Petersburg & Clearwater, respectively, & to Gulf beaches. Today Tampa is int. combination of southern background & politics, northern industrial enterprise & Latin gaiety, best illustrated, perhaps, in Fla. St. Fair with its Gasparilla Carnival when "pirates" yearly invade city & convert it into a place of parades, masked balls & other revels.

Greyhound racing (Dec.-Mar.). Shuffleboard Tournament (Feb.). Trapshooting Tournament (Mar.). N.Y. Yankees & St. Louis Cardinals (spring training). Kingfish Derby (Mar. & Ap.). Festival of States (1 wk. Ap.). Regatta (Ap.). Tarpon Round-Up (May 15-July 31).

St. Petersburg, founded in 1880's "with climate its principal commodity," boasts 360 days of sunshine a yr. Its afternoon paper gives away entire edition whenever sun has not appeared before press time (3 p.m.) & has had to do so fewer than 5 times annually in 31 yrs. Climate is main attraction to annual ¼ million visitors, many of whom are beyond middle yrs. Streets are lined with thousands of green benches on which they sit, curbs are provided with ramps for convenience of wheelchairs, & there are such "athletic & social" clubs as Half-Century Club (membership limited to those bet. 50 & 75 & Three Quarter Century Club (75 or over). St. Petersburg, whose city limits include several inlets & fresh water Ls., is on S. end of Pinellas Peninsula. There are bridge conns. with Port Tampa & ferry conns. with pts. (S) on mainland. Narváez crossed peninsula in 1528 but 1st white settler is thought to be one Antonio Maximo (1843) whose fishing camp stood at Maximo Point. Feds. shelled village that sprang up & most settlers then moved to Tampa. In 1876 John C. Williams, of Detroit, bought land here & Russian Peter Demens Piotr Dementieff, who gave town its name, built RR. that reached here 1888. Today there is a variety of sm. industries but tourists remain only large industry. Next to sitting in the sun, fishing is most popular pastime. Every saltwater fish of Gulf of Mexico is plentiful at one season or another incl. speckled trout or weakfish (Jan.), mackerel (Feb. & Mar.), kingfish (Ap.), tarpon (Mar.-July), redfish (Aug.), shark (Sept.) & sheepshead (Nov.).

MIAMI

Through RR., plane & bus conns. Accomms.: All kinds. Info.: C. of C., Shoreland Arcade. Horse & dog racing (3 tracks each, Dec.-Ap.). Jai-alai nightly (Dec.-Ap.). Winter (Jan.-Ap.) & Summer (July-Sept.) F. Tournaments. Miami-Nassau Yacht Race, Sir Thos. Lipton Cup Race, (winter); other sailing events in season. Open Golf Tournament (Dec.). All-Amer. Air Maneuvers (Jan.). Orange Bowl Football Game & Festival (Jan.1). "Fiesta de las Americas" (spring). Poinciana Festival (June). Nat. Audubon Soc., 311 E. Flagler St., conducts 2-day Everglades tours.

Greater Miami includes municipalities of Miami, Miami Beach, Coral Gables, Hialeah, Miami Shores, N. Miami, S. Miami, Miami Springs, Opa Locka, N. Miami Beach, Surfside, Biscayne Park, El Portal & Golden Beach. It is the commercial & tourist center of S. Fla. & one of the great resort areas of the world. In 50 yrs. it has grown from pop. of 260 to one of c.400,000 & it entertains some 2 million visitors annually. As an international airport it is 2nd only to N.Y. as U.S. port of entry & 1st as gateway to S. America. Its 1945 income from horse racing (Hialeah, Tropical Pk., Gulfstream) was c.$100,000,000, 5 million of which went for old age pensions. It has miles of ocean & bay beaches, a mun. yacht basin, 10 golf courses, 50 tennis courts, a full concert season & high-priced stars in high-priced nightclubs. The ocean & Biscayne Bay afford sailfish, marlin, tuna & hundreds of other varieties.

MIAMI: Menéndez de Avilés first visited site in 1567 & found large Ind. town. Ft. Dallas was est. 1836 but modern development of area did not begin until 1895 when Henry M. Flagler made it RR. terminus. Today Miami is city of "ultra-modern" hotels, clubs, cabanas & office bldgs., surrounded by fantastic estates & houses that make use of every known architectural variation & every color of rainbow. Extravagant skies, sands, waters & vegetation add to general carnival spirit. Streets are lined with shops & vendors selling everything from Paris gowns to baby alligators & it is possible to spend $15,000 for a single necktie. Much of the social life centers around (though not necessarily in) spectacular swim. pools. Each winter playboys, movie stars, labor leaders, haireesses, professional gamblers & whoever else happens to be in the money descend to acquire a sun-tan. For here, perhaps even more than in California, the sun shines every day. Winter remains important season but tourists are also now being attracted by reduced summer rates. At Miami is J. with US94 (see) which leads across Everglades to Gulf of Mexico.

MIAMI BEACH, a sandbar separated from mainland by Biscayne Bay & conn. to it by 3 causeways, was once mangrove swamp inhabited by Tequesta Inds. As early as 1567 Sp. tried to est. port of call here but place remained a wilderness until 1882 when Harry B. Lum of Ohio & associates attempted a coconut plantation. Rabbits ate young shoots & project failed. In 1907 J. S. Collins of N.J. had somewhat better luck with avocados. By 1913, with financial aid of C. G. Fisher, he built 1st bridge & town was inc. 2 yrs. later. Today it has no factories or industries but boasts ¼ of all hotel rooms in Fla. & an immense annual tourist trade. It has 12 mun. pks., 8^{mi} of well-lifeguarded beach, 91 salt water pools, 5 golf courses (2 private), 20^{mi} of winding inland waterways, polo grounds, kennel clubs & facils. for all diversions suitable for climate. PTS. Pk. when completed will have accoms. for 20,000 autos, 2m of excellent beach protected from undertow by reef, many recr. facils. Lower sec. of Key is expected to develop into resort area similar to Miami Beach. An aquarium & beach for Negroes are planned for Virginia Key.

CORAL GABLES, adj. Miami on (SW), had its origin in 1921 when Geo. E. Merrick began selling lots in his father's orange grove. Entire town was planned on paper before construction started & during boom days busses traveled through N. bringing back buyers. Ital. gondolas & gondoliers were imported for fabulous Biltmore Hotel (now veterans' hospital). Wm. Jennings Bryan lectured on & Rex Beach wrote a book about Coral Gables. Many bldgs. incorporate Sp. or Mediterranean motifs, sts. are lined with royal & coconut palms & royal poinciana trees. A waterway (8' channel) emptying into Biscayne Bay, runs through S. part of town. Residential & business areas are both rigidly zoned.

ST. AUGUSTINE

ST. AUGUSTINE

Through RR. & bus conns. Feeder air lines conn. with Jacksonville & Orlando. Accomms.: All kinds. Info.: C. of C., San Marco Ave. (N) of City Gates. Excellent beaches (swim. beach driving, f. boat.). Mun. Pier. 2 golf (1 mun.) courses, fee. Sp. Fiesta (Fri. & Sat. before Palm Sun.). Pilgrimage to Our Lady of the Milk (Sun. after Easter). Nat. Sea Trout Derby (Oct.-Feb.). Internat. Black Drum Rodeo (Mar.-May). St. John's Cty. F. Tournament (June-Oct.).

St. Augustine, oldest city in U.S. (1565) & yr.-round resort, offers many hist. & architectural pts. of int. & preserves to an unusual degree the flavor of its Sp. origins. Oldest sec. of town centers around Plaza de la Constitucion from which narrow sts. (one block is only 6' wide) radiate, lined with overhanging balconies & walled gardens or patios, bright with scarlet hibiscus, oleander, pomegranate, golden allamanda, bignonia, bougainvillea & coral vines. Oldest remaining bldgs. are local adaptations of Sp. village types, usually 1½ to 2 stories high & employing coquina stone & wood construction. Brit. influenced later houses by introduction of fireplaces & steep roofs. St. Augustine occupies sandy peninsula bordered on (E) by North & Matanzas Rs. (parts of Intercoastal Waterway whose union forms Matanzas Bay) & by San Sebastian R. on (S) & (W). All 3 are really salt water lagoons. City is separated from ocean by Anastasia I. In addition to tourist trade there are RR. shops, boat yards, shrimp fishing, & cigar mfg.

In Mar. 1513, Juan Ponce de Leon, looking for gold & the fountain of youth, first sighted Fla. "And," wrote the royal Sp. historian, "believing this land was an island, they named it 'La Florida,' because it has a very beautiful view . . . & because, moreover, they discovered it in the time of the Feast of Flowers." On Apr. 3, he landed, a little (N) of present town. In 1565 Don Pedro Menéndez de Avilés, sent to destroy Fr. Ft. Caroline (see) some 40^m (N) est. here (Sept. 8) 1st permanent settlement in U.S. & named it St. Augustine after saint on whose day he first sighted land. St. Augustine became Sp. military & mission hqs. & was sacked by Eng. under Sir Francis Drake (1586) & under buccaneer, John Davis (1668). In 1672 construction of Castillo de San Marcos (see below) of coquina stone quarried in vic. was begun. (Coquina is a soft, whitish limestone formed of broken shells & coral cemented together.) Castillo has been called "finest example in U.S. of military architecture of its day." Runaway Eng. slaves were given refuge at near-by Ft. Moosa & in 1702 & 1728 Eng. from S. Carolina plundered town & took as slaves Inds. belonging to Sp. But Castillo withstood attacks, as it also did 27-day siege under Gov. Oglethorpe (1740) during "War of Jenkins' Ear," so-called after ship-master Rbt. Jenkins exhibited before parliament his bottled ear, sliced off by a Sp. officer.

After Fla. was ceded to English (1763-83), large plantations were est., producing indigo, cotton, naval stores & citrus fruits. Slave-owning Royalists sett. here during Rev. & Sam. Adams & John Hancock were burned in effigy. Three signers of Decl. of Ind., Heyward, Middleton & Rutledge, were imprisoned in ft., & attacks on Savannah & the Bahamas (which won latter for Britain) were launched. In 1777, a large colony of Minorcans from New Smyrna (see) arrived. Again under Sp. rule large land grants were made avail. to Amers. On July 10, 1821, Amer. flag was raised. Six years later Ralph Waldo Emerson on a visit wrote: "What is done here? Nothing. It was reported in the morning that a man was at work in the public square, & all our family turned out to see him. What is grown here? Oranges, on which no cultivation seeks to be bestowed. . . . The Americans live on their offices; the Spaniards keep billiard tables, or, if not, they send their Negroes to the mud to bring oysters, or to the shore to bring fish, & the rest of the time, fiddle, mask & dance." Confeds. seized ft. (Jan. 7, 1861) but surrendered to Feds. March 11, 1862, after which women of town cut down flagpole. In 1880's Henry M. Flagler, a retired founder of Standard Oil, rediscovered St. Augustine & it became, & remains today, hqs. of Florida E. Coast RR. & Hotel System. As the oldest city in the U.S. St. Augustine has been more than generous with the superlative. It now boasts the "oldest" wooden sch. house (not true), the "oldest" orange grove (possible), the "oldest" alligator farm (probable) & "the most historical religious spot in the U.S." The Hist. Soc. tries hard, however, to correct some of the wilder exaggerations (there is considerable disagreement bet. its members & some local promoters) & the touring public is perhaps not quite, as Henry James once described it: "so placidly uncritical that the whitest thread of the deceptive stitch never makes it blink . . . it fairly goes upon it knees to be humbly humbugged."

PTS. OF INT.: (1) San Marco Ave., C. of C. & Civic Center, incl. Tourist Club with card & game rooms. (2) San Marco Ave. & Orange St., Old Prot. Cemetery (sometimes called Huguenot though there are no records of Huguenot burials), est. just outside City Gates during yellow fever epidemic (1821). (3) St. George & Orange Sts., City Gates (1804), once guarded drawbridge & were part of defense system that incl. coquina-rock wall, a moat, & earth breastworks planted with thicket of Sp. dagger ("Yucca gloriosa"). They replaced earlier gates dating from 1745. (4) 14 St. George St., Old Wooden Schoolh. (12) Matanzas Bay, N. end Bay St., Castillo de San Marcos Nat. Mon. (O.8:30-5:30.fee.free guided tours), built 1672-1756 & now also known as Ft. Marion, was Sp.'s northernmost military fortification on Atlantic Coast & is oldest masonry ft. existing in U.S. A symmetrical, 4-sided & bastioned structure with moat & drawbridge, it is built of coquina blocks cemented with oyster lime & contains guardrooms, dungeons, living quarters, storerooms, & chapel, almost all of which open on 100' sq. court. Stairway, once gun ramp, leads to roof which provides excellent view. Hot shot oven was once used to heat cannon balls, effective missiles for firing wooden ships. Brit. unsuccessfully besieged ft. in 1702, 1728 & 1740 but secured Fla. in Treaty of Paris (1763) & renamed stronghold Ft. St. Marks. Amers. renamed it in honor of Gen. Francis Marion. Ft. served as prison for Seminole leaders (1835) & some of Geronimo's Apaches (1887). Confeds. held it 14 months during Civil War. It was last used to confine court-martialed soldiers during Sp.-Amer. War. (13) Ponce de Leon Circle, with replica of statue of Fla.'s discoverer erected in San Juan, Puerto Rico. (25) 14 St. Francis St., the "Oldest H." (O.9-6.fee), with low ceilings, huge fireplaces & crushed coquina fls., is thought to date to late 1500's & hence to be oldest H. in U.S. It is also believed that Franciscan Friars took refuge here after 1599 fire. From here one may enter modern bldg., housing St. Augustine Hist. Society's Webb Lib. & Mus., & House of the Cannonball, also a mus., walls of which held cannonball from Eng. siege of 1740. Among exhibits are Ind., whaling, armor & St. Augustine rooms. (26) 108 Marine St., St. Francis Barracks (State Arsenal). Orig. Franciscan Monastery dates to c.1580 & was burned by Gov. Moore of S. Carolina (1702) though some of Friars' cells remained. Restored as barracks it was used by Eng., U.S. (during Seminole Wars), & Fed. troops. It was almost entirely destroyed by fire again in 1915 but some of orig. walls were incorporated in present structure. (27) Marine St. & Cemetery Lane, Nat. Mission style erected 1918 on site where 1st Holy Mass was celebrated (Sept.8,1565), marking spot where Menéndez landed (Aug.28,1565); 1st chapel was destroyed 1728; 2 others preceded present one. (40) Magnolia Ave. & Myrtle St., Fountain of Youth Pk. (21 as.O.7-7.fee), deep ancient well enclosed in mission-like grotto of coquina rock, is advertised as fountain Ponce de Leon may have visited in 1513. Modern "discoverer" was Louella Day McConnell, said to be orig. of Rbt. W. Service's "Lady whose name was Lou." Asked by authorities to stop fooling public with her "rejuvenating waters," she replied: "But there is iron in that spring! I know, because I threw an old cookstove in it." Near-by is excavated Ind. burial ground revealing skeletons in positions (crossed arms, etc.) that may indicate Christian interment.

US 11—ALABAMA

ALA.-GA. LINE (c.13^m from Trenton, Ga.) (SW) to ALA.-MISS. LINE (19^m from Meridian, Miss.). 266. US11

Via: Ft. Payne, Attalla, Springville, Birmingham, Bessemer, Tuscaloosa, Eutaw, Livingston. Southern RR. parallels route. Accoms.: All kinds.

US11 enters Ala. in reg. near Lookout Mt. where streams, falls, caves, springs & forested ridges, covered with undergrowth of rhododendron, azalea, mountain laurel & dogwood, attract visitors. Mountaineers here retain ballads, old forms of speech & customs of their Elizabethan ancestors. Hy. next cuts across mineral belt of central Ala., whose rich deposits of coal, iron-ore & limestone have made Birmingham leading iron & steel producing center in South. It then cont. through series of mining towns to Tuscaloosa, home of Univ. of Ala., into fertile "Black Belt" lands of Warrior & Tombigbee Rs.

Sec. 1: GA. LINE to BIRMINGHAM. 126.1. SULPHUR SPRINGS; mineral springs once used by Inds. (tourist cabins). 10. J. with St.58.

SIDE TRIP: (L) here through sec. of the Blue Ridge, known locally as "Little Alps." Hill folk, many of whom are descendants of abolitionists who during Civil War fought guerrilla warfare against the rich planters, follow a life in many ways similar to that of early settlers. At 1^m is Valley Head. Winston H. (1836), built around a "dog trot" log cabin, is surrounded by mulberry trees planted in unsuccessful attempt to est. silkwood industry. It was hqs. for Union Col. Jefferson C. Davis, once asked by mountaineer: "Jeff, which pays you the most? Colonelin' the Bluecoats or Presidentin' the Confederates?" 5^m Mentone, on mt. crest, a summer resort. Boat trips from here down Little River offer mountain scenery & bass & bream. Tour cont. on Mentone Pky. (R) from St.58. From Sunset Rock, c.6^m, is view of Ga. & Tenn. At 10.5^m J. with side Rd.

(L) here 9.5^m to River Pk., summer resort. Bass, bream & trout avail. 11^m J. with side Rd.

(L) here 1^m De Soto St. Pk. (4,650 as.f.hik.pic.golf.cabins.Ap.1-Oct.31.hqs.:Ft.Payne) offers 28^m of rugged country incl. Little R. with its many cascades & falls. May's Gulf, one of largest gorges (E) of Rockies, De Soto Falls (120' drop), old mills, Ind. caves & blossoms of laurel, azaleas, dogwood & jasmine are also to be enjoyed.

22. FT. PAYNE, trading center of reg. mostly inhabited by descendants of Anglo-Saxon pioneers. There are few Negroes. In vic. are deposits of clays, fuller's earth, coal & iron. Near-by is site of Will's Town, Ind. village where Sequoyah (George Guess, c.1770-1843), Ind. half-breed silversmith & trader, lived in early 1800's & later invented Cherokee syllabary, principal of which was later used in other Ind. languages. He was tried by tribe for witchcraft in 1821, but convinced them by sending messages to his daughter, aged 6, & soon whole tribe was learning to read & write. Lt. John Payne, who was in charge of removal of Cherokee to W. territory, had his hqs. here. 54.5 J. with side Rd.

SIDE TRIP: (L) here 3^m to Noccalula Falls (100') which, depending on rain, varies from trickle to torrent.

59. ATTALLA, industrial & shipping center for coal, cast iron & steel products, is J. with US11 Alt. & US241 (see). 64. GADSDEN (see US241). 85. ASHVILLE, N. seat of St. Clair Cty. of which Pell City, 23^m away, is S. seat. This arrangement, once necessary because there were no adequate Rds. over Beaver Cr. Mts., has been cont. although good Rds. now exist. Ante bellum Cth. (rest.1938) has int. records

Through RR. & bus conns. Airport. Accomms.: All kinds.

Tuscaloosa, seat of Univ. of Ala., is a quiet old town with streets shaded by water oaks planted more than a century ago. It lies on banks of Black Warrior R. & both city & R. take names from Chief Tuscaloosa (Ind. "tusko," warrior & "loosa," black) who fell in battle with De Soto. Area was explored as early as 1781 & in 1809 Creek Chief Ocochemolta received permission from U.S. to est. settlement at falls in R. In 1813, during Ind. uprising, Gen. John Coffee (aided by Davy Crockett) destroyed village & in 1816 whites started settlement c.2nd (N). Town was inc. 1819 & became st. capital (1826-46). It also became a rich cotton center though it lost much of its other business when capital was transferred to Montgomery. On Ap. 4, 1865 Fed. Gen. Croxton took over town & burned Univ. Montgomery, st. capital & 1st capital of the Confederacy, is Ala.'s 3rd largest city. De Soto passed through this reg. in 1540. Site was once occupied by 2 Ind. villages. When Ala. lands were put up for sale (1817) 2 groups started rival settlements which merged (1819). Village was then named in honor of Maj. Gen. Rich. Montgomery of Rev. In 1821 1st steamboats arrived & town that yr. boasted a dancing sch. as well as a day sch. In 1846 it was voted new st. capital & 1st legislature met following yr. Seceding sts. met here Jan. 6, 1861 & set up provisional gov. of Confederacy. Jefferson Davis was unanimously elected pres. & inaugurated Feb. 18. "The man & the hour have met," said the famous orator, Wm. L. Yancey, & a granddaughter of former Pres. Tyler raised Confed. flag. Capital was soon moved to Richmond, Va. In Ap. 1865 Gen. Jas. Wilson took Montgomery, finding 100,000 bales of cotton burned by Confeds. & burning, in turn, RR. stock, steamboats, & arms factory. During Reconstruction, Sidney Lanier wrote: "On our streets Monday is like Sunday. . . . Our whole world here yawns in a vast & sultry spell of laziness." In 1890's lumber, textile, & fertilizer mills were est. Today Montgomery is important cotton market handling hundreds of thousands of bales each yr. & one of largest livestock markets in SE. Hydroelectric power development has in recent yrs. brought added industries.

Decatur, whose industrial activities have been considerably stimulated by T.V.A., is center for cotton factors (dealers in actual staple) & mfg. center—textiles, fertilizer, steel barges. Town is situated on high plateau on S. bank of Tenn. R. & many plants parallel R. which is 2m wide here & has a 7' channel where vessels from Cincinnati & other northern ports dock. Townsite was ordered reserved by Pres. Monroe in 1820 & named in honor of naval hero, Stephen Decatur. Later an adj. municipality, Albany, originally New Decatur, grew up but combined with old Decatur in 1927. During Civil War, after occupation by both armies, only 3 bldgs. remained intact. 120 Sycamore St., Hinds-McEntire H. (1835.Class.Rev.), used as hqs. by both Feds. & Confeds. Through RR. & bus conns. Adj. airport services Florence, Sheffield & Tuscumbia. Accoms.: All kinds. Fish.: In Wilson & Pickwick Ls. Hunt.: Duck, goose, snipe, quail, dove, rabbit & squirrels. Nat. Fox Hunters' Assoc. Field Trials have been held here. N. Ala. St. Fair, fall.

Florence, in a rolling plateau land backed by hills, lies on N. bank of Tenn. R. in heart of Muscle Shoals area of which it is largest of "Tri-Cities" that incl. Sheffield & Tuscumbia. It is immediately adj. to Wilson Dam, 15m (W) of Wheeler Dam & 38m (E) of Pickwick Dam, all part of Tenn. Valley Authority program that has turned Tenn. R. into a series of long lake-like reservoirs connected by locks for R. traffic over a 630m channel & has become one of nation's great regional experiments in navigation, flood control, power development & conservation. Florence is seat of Lauderdale Cty. that produces cotton, corn, hay, livestock & wide variety of timber. Some 41 minerals incl. coal, iron, bauxite, asphalt rock, nitrates, phosphates, kaolin & ochre are to be found within 50m radius. Area was fought over by Chickasaw & Cherokee Inds. & whites (c.1799) est. trading post which later became flatboat base called Muscle (or Mussel) Shoals, either because of mussels to be found in waters or because of muscles needed to navigate them. Before completion of Wilson Dam, Tenn. R., in 30m sec. above Florence, fell more than 130' in series of practically unnavigable rapids. In 1818 Cypress Land Co. headed by Gen. John Coffee bought land & laid out town which was named by Italian surveyor, Ferdinand Sanona, for Florence, Italy. Investors incl. Presidents Jas. Madison, Jas. Monroe & Andrew Jackson, & a $30,000 tavern was erected. A canal around shoals was completed 1836, improved 1840 & again in 1876 but never used commercially. RR. bridge across Tenn. R. was wrecked & town invaded by Feds. (1865). In 1916 Pres. Wilson authorized construction of hydroelectric dam & 2 nitrate plants to mfg. supplies for World War I. After war it was thought U.S. would turn project over to private industry, principal bidder being Henry Ford (1922). Instead T.V.A. was created (1933) with David E. Lilienthal, director. Wilson Dam & T.V.A. both produced booms in Florence & it is said that here, perhaps more than any other part of Ala., Negroes have had cultural & financial advantages. Wm. C. Handy, composer of "Memphis Blues" & "St. Louis Blues," is a native of Florence.

PTS. OF INT.: (1) Head of Court St., highest pt. in town, Courtview (O.appl.1854. Gr.Rev.) built for Geo. BIRMINGHAM

BIRMINGHAM

Through RR., plane & bus conns. Water transportation to Gulf of Mexico from Birmingham, 18m W. Info.: C. of C.; Ala. Motorists Assoc., 1723 N. 6th Ave. Accom.: All kinds. 48 pks., 8 playgrounds, 3 mun. golf courses. Fresh water f. & duck & quail h. in vic. Civic Symphony. Little Theater. Dogwood trl. & garden pilgrimage (Ap.-May).

Birmingham, Ala.'s largest city & 1 of most important industrial centers of the S., has largest steel furnaces (S) of Pittsburgh, a city to which it is often compared. Here is the new industrialized S. with almost no "before the war" antecedents & a tempo decidedly different from that of Montgomery or Mobile. City extends c.15m along Jones Valley in 1 of few regions of world where the 3 essentials for mfg. steel—iron, coal, & limestone—are found in close proximity in commercial quantities. Some mills & furnaces are in city proper, others in adj. Ensley, Fairfield & Bessemer. Birmingham district boasted (1949) some 761 industries incl. steel & iron & their products, heavy machinery, stoves, cement, chemicals, castings, textiles & furniture. It is said to lead world in production of cast iron pipe.

Some of the most fashionable estates (with gardens esp. notable for roses & dogwood) are on Red Mt., a mt. of iron ore whose red rock furnished Inds. with face & weapon paint. There was once a Creek trading post, Mad Town, a short distance (SE) & in 1813 John Jones & a few settlers est. Ft. Jonesborough at Bessemer. Wm. Ely, who came to sell land in area given to a New England deaf & dumb asylum by U.S. Gov., est. Elyton (1820's), now incorporated in Birmingham. Red Mt. ore was 1st used commercially in 1860 & Confeds. later used it for munitions. In 1871 Elyton Land Co. sold lots at new RR. junction that was to be Birmingham, 1st lot bringing $100. A cholera epidemic & a national financial panic followed almost immediately. But in Dec. 1873, Chas. Linn, a seafaring Finn, helped break local depression with a "Calico Ball" at his new bank to which guests from all parts of Ala. were invited. Since then iron & coal industries have continued to boom, though Birmingham has been scene of several long strikes.

I. BIRMINGHAM (NE) to SPRINGVILLE. 28.5. US11 & Side Rd.

At 8.5. on US11 is J. with side Rd. on which cont. (L). 11.5. SPRING LAKE FARMS, fenced by climbing roses. Incl. as part of present house is log cabin built by "Silver Billy" Reed, land speculator who drove around in a wagon loaded with kegs seemingly full of silver dollars & would only do business with silver. 19.5. CRYSTAL CAVERNS (O.sm.fee) with c.1^m of electrically lighted caverns, with stalactites & stalagmites, discovered 1840 & used as source of saltpeter during Civil War. At 25.5. side Rd. rejoins US11. 28.5. SPRINGVILLE. In center of town is walled spring stocked with tame fish that eat from the hand.

II. BIRMINGHAM (E) to ANNISTON. 65. US78

18. LEEDS, founded 1881, has large cement mfg. co. 29. COOKS SPRINGS offers inviting pic. places near its mineral springs. 37. PELL CITY, a textile mill town. 65. ANNISTON (see US241).

III. BIRMINGHAM (SE) to SYLACAUGA. 51. St.91

St.91 crosses 3 ridges—Red, Shades & Double Oaks Mts.—through a residential sec. of large estates & then to a truck & dairying reg. At 2, beyond Red Mt. is LANE PK. (203 as. bridle paths, pic. fish hatchery). The steep roadside in the Shades Mt. area is bright with violets, daisies, wild azaleas & dogwood in season. At 11, is J. with side Rd. (L) here 2^m to L. Purdy (f. duck h.). At 39, on St.91 is CHILDERSBURG, with Mon. marking De Soto's route. A short distance (L) is Site of Coosa Town described by De Soto's secy. Ranjel as capital of a large area. Ind. graves containing Sp. relics have been uncovered in vic. At 51, on St.91 is SYLACAUGA (Ind. "Buz-zard Roost") whose quarries have supplied marble for U.S. Supreme Court Bldg., Lincoln Mem. & Presidential Palace, Havana. Cotton States Tennis Tournament held here in June. Sylacauga is at S. end of Talladega St. Pk. (see US241) & its Sky-way Hy. which offers almost 100^m of some of most striking Mt. scenery in Ala.

MOBILEMOBILE

Through RR., plane & bus conns. SS. lines conn. with most world ports. Intracoastal canal conns. with Fla. & Texas. Accom.: All kinds. Info.: C. of C. & A.A.A. 15 pks.; 3 golf courses; beaches on E. & W. shores of Mobile Bay. Fresh & salt water f. Mardi Gras (Feb. or Mar.), 5 days ending with Shrove Tues. Azalea Festival (Feb. or Mar.); 18^m Azalea trl. Ala. Deep Sea Rodeo (July or Aug.).

Mobile, on W. side of Mobile Bay, Ala.'s only seaport & 1st permanent white settlement in st., offers an int. combination of old & new. Early 19th cent. houses, some with iron lacework balconies, stand side by side with modern structures. A 5-day Mardi Gras, with balls, parades & other revels, that can be traced back to Bien-ville's institution of the "Masque de la St. Louis" in 1704, vies with azalea festival (org. 1929) that boasts 18^m azalea trl. beginning in heart of city. Fish. & boat. have made Mobile a popular winter resort. Ala. State Docks, 1st complete st.-owned & operated plant of its kind in U.S., services more than 40 regular & 20 other SS. lines to ports all over world & have given Mobile (1949) claim of being 4th port in vol. of imports, 14th in vol. of exports.

Mobile Bay appears on the Waldeseemüller Map of 1505 & on Pineda's map of explorations in 1519. Narvaez was here (1528) & De Luna est. short-lived Sp. settlement in reg. (1559). In 1702 Bienville est. Ft. Louis de la Mobile (honoring Louis XIV & Mobile Inds.) 27^m up Mobile R. In 1711 settlement moved to present site, Ft. Condé was erected & Mobile became capital of Fr. colonial empire until 1719 when transfer was made to Biloxi. Fr. ceded Mobile to Brit. 1763, & ft. was renamed Ft. Charlotte. Sp. fleet under Galvez took it from Brit., 1780, & Sp. held on until Amers. under Gen. Wilkinson forced them out, 1813. Confeds. occupied Mobile 1861 & held it for 3 yrs. though Fed. blockade considerably reduced its importance. In Battle of Mobile Bay, Aug. 5, 1864, Adm. Farragut sank Confed. ram "Tennessee." Ft. Gaines & Ft. Morgan soon fell & Gens. E. R. S. Canby & F. Steel took Mobile Ap. 12, 1865, 3 days after Lee's surrender at Appomattox. In Reconstruction Mobile cont. as important cotton port & experienced less hardship than other secs. of Ala. World Wars I & II both brought large booms, especially in shipbuilding & repairing; 3 shipyards are still maintained & U.S. Maritime Commission has selected Tensas Basin near Bay Minette as anchorage for laid up fleet of 1,000 ships. Mobile is one of nation's most important producers of pulp, paper & paper products. Other industries incl. textiles, iron & steel, cement, timber products, naval stores, alumina & oil-refining. Commercial fishing is also important.
